MEETING OF APRIL 27, 1983)

Mr. Stone, Chairman Committee on Finance:

I would like to do something that is not ordinarily done. Mr. Woods has a resolution and Members of Council, it was one that should have come up on Monday and he's asked to leave it in this agenda so that we cover it now and if there's no objections, we will permit it to be done now.

Mr. Givens:

Ben Woods and myself — he has been gracious enough to look into this and the fact that I have been working with DER to read this resolution which can be adopted today and then present it to our legislators in Harrisburg.

Mr. Givens and Mr. Woods presents

Bill No. 2967 WHEREAS, the Pittsburgh Regional Laboratory of, the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Resources (DER) is responsible for the testing of water quality, the monitoring of pollutants in our rivers and streams and the provision of other environmental quality services necessary for the protection of health, safety and welfare of the residents of the City of Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Resources has recently announced its intention to close the Pittsburgh Regional Laboratory; and

WHEREAS, the closing of DER's Pittsburgh Regional Laboratory will result in the loss of six existing jobs and the loss of thirty potential new jobs to be created from federal funds allocated to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the purpose of monitoring water quality, coal operations, and other possible contaminants in this region; and

WHEREAS, the decision to close DER's Pittsburgh Regional Laboratory will needlessly aggravate an already desperately serious unemployment problem in this area and make important environmental quality services inaccessible to the residents of this area.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the members of City Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby call upon the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to intervene on behalf of the citizens of the City of Pittsburgh and to reverse the unwise and unjustified decision of the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Resources to close its Pittsburgh Regional Laboratory.

Mr. Givens:

I might say here, Mr. President, that 40 percent of all homes in this country that are located within 100 miles of the City of Pittsburgh would apply to this.

Mr. Stone:

Before we take any action on this and so that we don't create Wednesdays for resolutions, the request that I did not mention was that this be incorporated in Monday's meeting. So, with that in mind, —

Mr. Givens moved to adopt the resolution.

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. There's an error. Paragraph Three.

Mr. Stone:

Of the "Whereas's"?

Michelle Madoff:

Yes. The closing "for the purpose of monitoring coal operations in this region" that is not their purpose. The purpose is to monitor all contaminants or all possible problems in the areas. They also monitor our drinking water.

Mr. Givens:

That has been granted.

Michelle Madoff:

And as this Council may recall, five years ago when I first got to Council, about six weeks after I was here the whole East End of Pittsburgh was without water at all.

Mr. Givens:

Michelle, are you asking for an amendment?

Michelle Madoff:

I want to change that to water and other contaminants.

Mr. Givens:

We have water.

Michelle Madoff:

Where do you have water?

Mr. Givens:

Right in the first "Whereas".

Michelle Madoff:

Yes, but in Paragraph Three you say "for the purpose of monitoring coal operations in this region", but they are not here just for the purpose of monitoring coal operations. I think you have to repeat it there.

Mr. Givens:

Are you putting that motion in?

Michelle Madoff:

Yes.

Mr. Givens:

I second the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

I am sure there are other things that they monitor, etc.

Mr. Stone:

I think the makers of the motion intended to cover their multi-faceted —

Michelle Madoff:

That's my point. They do asbestos, they do water, they do many other things.

Mr. Stone:

With that in mind, on the motion?

Mr. Givens:

So moved.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Stone:

Mike, part of that motion is to be added to Monday's meeting.

(END - EXCERPT FROM WEDNESDAY'S STANDING COMMITTEE MEETING OF APRIL 27, 1983)

Mr. Stone moved to approve the minutes of Monday, April 11, 1983.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Stone

Council adjourned.

Also,

Bill No. 2900

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution amending Resolution No. 1352, approved December 22, 1982, effective December 31, 1982, entitled, 'Providing for an Agreement or Agreements with a Consultant or Consultants for the Inspection of Fabricated Structural Steel in connection with the P.J. McArdle Bridge, Phase II; and providing for the payment of the cost thereof,' by increasing the project allocation by Fifteen Thousand ($15,000.00) Dollars."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

On Bill 2900, we're talking about increasing dollars for inspection of the McArdle Bridge fabrication of steel. As you know, I spent two days doing nothing more than talking to the present builder on the site, Gino Ciachetti, who is the design engineer, and American Bridge Division who is making our steel. We can be ordering the steel for the next phase of the bridge immediately now that the emissions control dollars have been released. I think the minute those dollars are released, rather than dragging the bridge out for three or four years or two years or six months extra, eight months extra, we ought to start ordering that additional steel and testing the steel. We're going to test what we have available right now but they haven't made it yet. And they could be making the steel for the second part because the design is already available. Gino Ciachetti has already designed the third phase - Third phase steel has been approved and ready. If it goes out to be fabricated as is the existing steel on phase two, we should be testing and perhaps saving some dollars testing it all at once but I think we have to expedite and move to get things rolling. There may be a tendency on the part of the Administration and what I'm hearing is we'll go back to having one road coming down in the morning and one lane going up in the evening.

Mr. Givens:

No, no. Once the emissions control was passed, it was so described by the Chairman of the Department of Public Works and our engineering staff that they could start on both of those -

Michelle Madoff:

I just said that.

Mr. Givens:

Okay. I thought you said one way traffic each way.

Michelle Madoff:

I just said that if we do it as presently designed, we'll have one way going up and one way going down. But if we move expeditiously and start the steel for the other part of the road, they can be working underneath, there can be four contracts issued at the same time.

I'm concerned that the Administration is not going to move as expeditiously as they can. They can be issuing four contracts at once for the four different phases. It can all be going on at the same time. They cannot work at night; they cannot have triple shifts, but they can have double shifts. I spoke to the builder and he would give us a special rate on the overtime. The only thing holding it up at that point was the emission control dollars when I tried to get Council to come up with $2 million of its own dollars. Well, now the emission control dollars should be released shortly. We should go to the same plan as if we had come up with the $2 million. Let's move rapidly and somebody better watchdog that.

The Chair:

I think we are moving rapidly. At least we're inspecting the steel, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

But we can't inspect steel that isn't build yet. It won't be ready until June.

The Chair:

Until that's done we can't approve it. I don't really follow you.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. DePasquale, the steel that you're talking about that they're going to inspect will not be ready until something like June 7. I don't have the figure with me. We could be ordering the steel for the second portion and have it ready at the same time. The design is finished. It just needs to be ordered.

Mr. Givens:

My question to that, Mr. President, is the fact that we're moving as expeditiously as possible. We even had all that emergency legislation before us in case the auto emissions did not come through. I can assure you there are many projects going on at the same time. McArdle Roadway is one of our high priority projects as well as the Bloomfield Bridge and some other bridges that we have here where we're cutting communities off from communities, etc.

There are certain things. You know, the Judge only released I think $90 million of that for some $6 billion. So, the Judge is being kind of cautious in his releasing of the various funds even at this stage. And I think he wants to look at this thing a little bit further before he releases all the funds.

So, we still have constraints and limitations. What they are, I really don't know at this time but I can assure you as the Chairman of Public Works and as the Director that I have spoken with along with the Mayor — we've had numerous meetings with the people from Mount Washington. I think now they know where we're coming from. Eight of us were on target. One was not on target. I regretfully say that we're doing everything possible to get that road open.

Michelle Madoff:

I think the one was right on target and it was me and I spoke to the design engineer, I got it from the horse's mouth. In private industry you can go out on all four phases with four different contractors if you hire an over-viewing consultant firm to overview the whole project. If we do a piecemeal it will take forever. Remember that, folks.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bills?

And on the question, "Shall the bills pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Which was read.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President if you can recall, this past Wednesday I had to step out during my committee deliberations. There is one bill that I would like to put back into Committee, both Eddie Albert and I. Eddie if you can recall had to go into the hospital. That's Bill 2901. I'd like to put that back into Committee because I need some review on it.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

What's the subject matter before we recommit it?

Mr. Givens:

It's Saw Mill Run. They increased the new consultant that was on that particular rock slide fall from some $25,000 increase up to $65,000. Most of it deals with the plans of the original and I have to compare what the original consultant plans were compared to the second consultant plans and why weren't the first ones used. I didn't see visually by my looking at them very quickly that there was much difference between one and the other. Eddie Albert would also like to look into this a little bit further.

Mr. Stone:

Dick, I only have one suggestion for you if I may. As you're well aware, that's into a lawsuit and the Administration has asked for that thing.

Mr. Givens:

I know that.

Mr. Stone:

I would suggest that you let it through and then you try to work with them to see where it's going.

Mr. Givens:

I just have to justify the cost overrun on this particular reason. I would not like to discuss it here because of that lawsuit but I would like to look into it as to the additional cost. Period.

Mr. Stone:

The only point I'm making is that since that's a slide thing and since it's a lawsuit, they may want to do it immediately. So, I would suggest as I've suggested to you. Let it go through and then look into it rather than hold it for another ten days.

Mr. Givens:

We started looking into it but we just haven't had time to really sit down with the people from the Department of Public Works and get into it in detail. Both of us wanted to do that. Both of us did not have an opportunity last week. I just want it held for one week.

The Chair:

Is that considered an emergency, Mr. Stone?

Mr. Stone:

The whole thing is an emergency. That's the reason I'm suggesting to him to let it go through and then try to see where the problem is.

The Chair:

We tell the people on one hand we want to help them and on the other hand we're holding something.

Mr. Givens:

I have no problem approving anything. It's just that Eddie Albert has looked into this. We've started preliminary discussion but we never finalized our discussion. All I'm asking is that we have an opportunity to finalize that discussion.

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

Michelle Madoff:

You don't want it untabled?

Mr. Stone:

He wants to send the bill back to Committee.

Michelle Madoff:

He said he wanted to untable it.

The Chair:

He wants to recommit a bill.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm confused.

The Chair:

He wants to recommit 2901, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, I'm a little confused. We want to recommit the bill or we want to —

The Chair:

He wants to recommit it.

Michelle Madoff:

One week? Aye.

Mr. Stone:

I vote no and it's not being anti. I understand what he wants to do but I think that's a unique situation. I think we should go forward with it.

Michelle Madoff:

Will one week make that much difference, Mr. Stone?

Mr. Stone:

It might because there's a legal battle there.

The Chair:

Michelle Madoff:

On those bills, we had a bill on Zama Road in the 14th Ward. I wasn't sure whether it was off of Anita and I did get a message, a report — Mr. Flaherty, I've been trying to see you to report to you, you were as concerned as I was.

It turns out that it's right over the Squirrel Hill Tunnel and it is a place where we have assigned a police car. It's in the 2900 block of Fernwald, near the 2900 block of Fernwald, and the sector car is patrolling that area because it's being used as a dump.

Now, we don't know whether the people buying it plan to use it as a dump because they'll be going by a lot of residential homes. The names of the people, which is public record, who have hand money are James and Elaine Stalfa on Coltart Street in the 4th Ward. I wonder, Councilman Flaherty, would you check to find — I have a phone number but I have not been able to reach anybody there.

Mr. Flaherty:

Do you want me to hold it for a week?

Michelle Madoff:

I think it's been held. There was a move to hold it until today to find out if we could get the information today.

So, my question is, let's start watching those bills a little more carefully and —

Mr. Perry:

Excuse me, Michelle. The bill was not held. The item was still in this legislation.

Mr. Stone:

Item D on 2859.

Michelle Madoff:

It's still in there, is that right? Then I move to hold it until we find out whether that lot is going to be used as a dump, whether it's going to be in violation of what the City is trying to stop or whether they're going to use it to build something on and we don't know and let's find out before we approve it.

I move to hold that bill.

Mr. Flaherty seconded the motion.

Mr. Stone:

What are you doing, Mike? The whole bill or one —

Mr. Perry:

The whole bill.

Michelle Madoff:

Just that one item.

Mr. Perry:

We have to recommit the whole bill or delete Item D.

Michelle Madoff:

Then let's delete the one item. Is that alright, Mr. Flaherty?

Mr. Flaherty:

Yes. I move to delete Item D.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Givens:

What does that mean, Mike? Do they have to re-submit that?

Mr. Perry:

They submit new legislation on just D.

Michelle Madoff:

May I respectfully request, Mr. Perry, I've been trying to reach these people evening and daytime and I've had no answer. Could we send a night letter, a telegram or something, to ask the people to please contact us. We'd like to know what the property is going to be used for. The City is very concerned. The Police Department is concerned. They're patrolling that area. It will be wonderful if they're going to build a house. That would stop the dumping. That would be tremendous. But if they're buying it as a dumping site we need to know that and perhaps not permit it.

The Chair:

It's immaterial but Zama Road was named for a godfather of mine.

Michelle Madoff:

You certainly wouldn't want them dumping on your godfather's road.

The Chair:

He won't care where he is in Calvary.

Michelle Madoff:

But you would care.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to share with this Council that while we get answers, they're not always accurate answers. I think many of us have felt that way in this Council that we're sort of stonewalled with just any kind of an answer.

I have been getting dozens and dozens and dozens of complaints which I can document. I sent most of them to Brother Richard on Warner Cable. Brother Richard has tried to expedite, and some things he can do and some things he can't do.

Now, Mr. Eddie Steinfeld came to me and gave me a check for $10 which I have previously shared with Council. Saying he did not order —

The Chair:

Can't we get this Steinfeld thing resolved?

Michelle Madoff:

May I finish it please.

The Chair:

I'm just curious three weeks ago —

Michelle Madoff:

And you're going to find out. He's where your uncle is. Not he is but the person that supposedly ordered it. Anyway, Mr. Steinfeld got a check for $10, I respectfully gave it to Councilwoman Masloff. She checked it out and she was told that the reason Mr. Steinfeld got a $10 rebate is while he didn't order Warner Cable he got a check back because his mother ordered it. Well the other evening on the trail, Mr. Steinfeld came over and said jokingly, "Where's my $10 check?" and I said, "Eddie, Sophie Masloff pointed out that you have not ordered it but your mother order it and they were respectfully returning your $10." Well, he was a little stunned and said, "My mother has been dead since 1946" and somebody standing nearby said, "Well, maybe she made a long-distance call and ordered it."

Obviously, we have a little problem with getting facts out of Warner and I think this is rather humorous but really get to the point. I had several calls over the weekend, which I will share with Councilwoman Masloff, on Warner where they bought a bar and a lounge right next to their business and won't put it in and a lot of people are calling my house saying, "We've ordered it, we can't get it because one person doesn't want it."

I'm just making a point that we're not getting information. We just don't get accurate information.

Sophie, may I honor you with this $10 check to return to Warner?

Mrs. Masloff moved to excuse Mr. Robinson for absence from the meeting.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Stone moved to approve the minutes

Mrs. Masloff	Mr. DePasquale
Mr. O'Malley	(Pres't)

The Meeting was opened by the recitation of the pledge of allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

The Chair:

If I may, ladies and gentlemen, I want to elaborate in regards to the moment of silent prayer we just had. Mr. Givens made a motion a few weeks ago to have a prayer in general for the conditions of the world. Thank you.

PRESENTATIONS

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, if I might, I'd like to call forward from the audience Suzanne Sunseri and Rosemary Palmer.

Mr. Givens presented

Bill No. 3048 WHEREAS, on May 4, 1983, a group known as Legal Advocacy for Women participated in a march from Point State Park to the steps of the City-County Building in protest of the high occurrence of delinquent child support payments; and

WHEREAS, the group presented Common Pleas Court's Family Division with a petition bearing the signatures of over 6,000 persons, calling for stricter enforcement of support payments; and

WHEREAS, there were over 3,800 civil contempt hearings last year, and the local courts have certified that there have been 2,561 cases amounting to $7 million in unpaid support monies; and

WHEREAS, many of these mothers have to work two jobs to support their children and most of these women can qualify only for minimum training jobs that do not provide medical benefits; and

WHEREAS, these absent fathers must be made to realize the importance of paying their obligation, and the serious consequences of failing to do so.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOVED, that the Members of Pittsburgh City Council hereby recognize May 16 to May 21 as "Support Your Child Week" to draw attention to the serious problem of delinquent child support, and to urge the courts to impose stricter enforcement of these laws.

Mr. Givens moved to adopt the resolution.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Givens:

If you can recall several years back, there's one Judge who now sits on Supreme Court of the State of Pennsylvania who was in the Family Division who had, in fact, done this. And when people did not pay child support he threatened them with going to the County jail. At that time I think he had about a 95 or 98 percent batting record. When he left this particular Common Pleas Court and went to the Supreme Court of the state of Pennsylvania that, to some degree, has demised.

I would like to call on Mrs. Sunseri and Rosemary Palmer to say a few words on the impact and the significance of this and that this resolution will go to the Family Court Divisions as well as to our State Legislative body to see if anything can be done.

Mrs. Palmer:

My name is Rose Palmer and I am the president of LAW mother's group. We have been a support and educational group for women facing separation and divorce for four years now. Seventy-five percent of daddies are not paying child support. Our children are hurting, really bad. Mothers are out there working anywhere from twelve to sixteen hours a day and our children are raising themselves. My two children raised themselves while I went to school and worked at a job as well. I come home and I'm exhausted and I'm tired. I don't have time for them. All I want to do is sleep. It's not fair. They're out there by themselves. These are our future adults of tomorrow. We have a couple of them coming in right now. Their daddy owes them in arrearages of over $3,000. He has not paid child support for two years. The children's mother goes into court every three months and they review the case and nothing is being done. My ex-husband is a doctor. There's no reason for it. A lot of these men are attorneys, businessmen. Why? The only thing we're asking is that the courts enforce the law that's there.

Judge Sweet in Washington County, every third Thursday has deadbeat day. These men pay twenty percent of their arrears and make payments. Otherwise they go to jail. Washington County has not faced what we have here in Allegheny County. This is a national problem. I know it's not just here in Allegheny County. But if one judge can do it in one county, why can't our judges do it also? Why must our children suffer? Look at those little kids. It's not right. They're raising themselves while their mother is out there working and it's just not fair.

Mrs. Sunseri:

I guess my case is a little different because I have my own business, I work out of my own home. I also tend bar on the weekends. I'm probably one of the more lucky ones because I can choose the hours that I work.

I personally don't see how women can go out, make minimum wage, pay sitters — if they have two children it's an average of $1.25 or $1.50 per hour per child — and go to work and have taxes taken out of their pay. They're probably living on seventy-nine cents an hour.

In my case I can wait until the middle of the night until my children are sleeping and work until 2:30 or 3:00 in the morning. So, I consider myself one of the more lucky ones. I have two children. I guess that's all I have to say.

Mrs. Ostroff:

My name is Shelly Ostroff and I live in West Elizabeth. What has happened to me is my husband is an independent trucker. He was working for somebody before and then when the court decided to put a wage attachment on him, he quit that job. First he was working under the table and I brought his boss into court, I subpoenaed him to come into court, and he did state that he was working for him. After that, we had the wage attachment put on his pay and he said that he wasn't going to work for him any longer. So, his dad retired and now he has his dad's truck. He's still an independent trucker and he's saying that he's not making any money. Meanwhile, I took and I followed him for a month and I brought it into court. She showed the paper to my husband and he said, "Well, I'll just have to check my records to make sure this is right", but he didn't deny it because he knew that I had been there. I took down his loads as he had them and he was working. He got a tarp that said Jay Ostroff across it and I said, "How can you afford these things and not afford child support?" And his answer was that he took it off his expenses.

I just think it's pretty sad. He's living in an apartment with his girlfriend and one of her children and he's able to support them. I think he should be supporting his own children. I think this is why there's so much divorce today because men can go on their way and start another family and not pay for their first family that they had.

When I got married I planned on staying married. I think if you don't want marriage you shouldn't get married. We didn't have our kids as an accident, we planned them both. We waited four years before we had our first child to make sure that our marriage was going to work. I thought it was going to work. And then we had our second child and he decided he wanted to be free after she was born. I had both kids. I want to raise my kids and I said if he would just support the kids until they both got into school and then I would get a job while they were in school. But he is making money and he's not supporting them.

At first when he went to court he was afraid of the court. After his first couple times in court, I'd say about the third time, he came out laughing. He was with a lawyer at that time and he said, "When was the last time you saw a man put in jail for not paying child support?" My lawyer walked over and said, "Well, it has been done." But it is kind of a joke because guys don't go to jail for not paying child support and I think it's a sad thing. Right now, I think if my husband was told he was going to go to jail if he didn't pay child support and he believed that he really was, he would pay child support. My husband is over $3,000 in arrears and right now he would come up with $3,000. Tomorrow, if he knew that he was going to go to jail. And I know that.

The Chair:

Thank you and good luck.

Mr. Givens:

Thank you, ladies, and you can be sure that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh will follow through on this and ladies and gentlemen of the audience, I think it's a very serious situation. When they say there's $7 million outstanding for unpaid child support in Allegheny County, I think that's of very serious nature. How much can these ladies take? That's the question that we must answer and that's why that resolution was so adopted and that's why they were down here demonstrating on the City-County Building steps, to draw attention to their plight. It's one that I have great sympathy with.

Thank you very much, Mr. President.

The Chair:

Thank you, Councilman.

Mr. O'Malley:

It seems to be a very sad day today in City Council. I'd like to call Ann Pride up, Carmen Anderson and Marlene. Come up to the microphone please.

This is a resolution commending Pittsburgh Action Against Rape for the excellent work they've done in Pittsburgh for the past number of years. It's one of the few places that women and children who have been sexually abused can go for counseling and for help. In the article that was passed out to my colleagues, it shows where their funding has been cut.

Mr. O'Malley presents

Bill No. 3049 WHEREAS, for ten years, Pittsburgh Action Against Rape has provided services within Allegheny County to adults and children who were victims of sexual assault, sexual abuse, and incest; and

WHEREAS, the number of sexual crimes has been increasing rapidly, and the number of sexual assaults against children under ten has increased ninefold in the past five years; and

WHEREAS, Pittsburgh Action Against Rape has established a comprehensive counseling program for sexually abused children; and

WHEREAS, despite the increase in sexual crimes against children, the Pennsylvania Coalition Against Rape, which funds Pittsburgh Action Against Rape, has cut its appropriation by more than $55,000.00; and

WHEREAS, the organization's therapy program for child victims faces cutbacks and possible extinction unless administrators can raise thousands of dollars by this summer, and PAAR'S director indicated that unless $100,000.00 is raised by July, ALL of their programs will be cut; and

WHEREAS, there is no other program in the Tri-State area that offers the same quality of therapy as Pittsburgh Action Against Rape.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Members of Pittsburgh City Council hereby commend Pittsburgh Action Against Rape for its fine services to victims of sexual abuse, and strongly urge the Pennsylvania Coalition Against Rape to continue funding this worthy and much-needed service.

Mr. O'Malley moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Givens seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'd like to offer this to Ann Pride and I'd like to have Ms. Pride who is the Director of Pittsburgh Action Against Rape say a few words.

Ms. Pride:

Thank you very much. I am delighted to be here before you. I want to tell you a little bit about Pittsburgh Action Against Rape. I'll be brief but I wanted to tell you a little more specifically about some of the people who are coming to see us.

We're now in our eleventh year. When we first started as an all volunteer group eleven years ago, about 100 people came to us over the first couple of years. We thought that was a lot of people. Most of those people were rape victims. They were all residents of the City or some of them from the County. Last year, in 1982, over 1,462 individuals sought either crisis intervention or counseling from Pittsburgh Action Against Rape. One thousand twenty-nine of those individuals were victims - victims of sexual assault, rape, incest. Four hundred thirty-two of those individuals were family members of those victims also who came to us for support and for counseling. Five hundred and thirty-seven of those were victims of rape, but another four hundred ninety-two were children. They were victims of child sexual assault. Forty-seven were under the age of four years old. Sixty-two were at least five but under the age of eight. Another eighty-three were between nine and twelve and another one hundred nine were either thirteen or fourteen.

We have seen an incredible increase in our statistics. We had a twenty-three percent rise in clients last year. We had a fifty-seven percent rise in clients the year before. Unfortunately due to that, our budget has grown. It's grown rather radically as we have had to add new volunteer services and counselors to be able to afford the services that these clients need.

We appreciate the support that we've had from City Council before through your resolutions. I appreciate the opportunity today to say thank you to all of those who joined us on Saturday at a very successful walkathon that brought in people from all over the City and potentially has raised almost $10,000 for us. We thank you for your support. We thank you for your support of us and particularly of the women and the children and the hundred men that we supported through our service last year.

Michelle Madoff:

Ann, how much money are you going to be short in order to stay alive?

Ms. Pride:

We have traditionally raised about $60,000 which we had planned on raising before. We were cut an additional $56,000. So, at this point we have cut our budget back to the point. Everyone on our staff has taken a salary cut. Some people have been left go. We need to raise $100,000 to stay operational and to be able to offer just about all of the services that we had before.

Michelle Madoff:

Where do you traditionally get your money?

Ms. Pride:

A great deal of our money comes from individuals, from things that our volunteers provide like the walkathon, bingos, tag days and also from corporations. Pittsburgh's corporations and foundations have been very good to us.

Michelle Madoff:

How much do you think you're going to need to get through the rest of this year other than what your commitments are from industry at this point? Or do you have any commitments?

Ms. Pride:

At this point we're working on commitments now.

Michelle Madoff:

I see this bill that Councilman O'Malley has. That is being introduced today and will come up on Wednesday. We'll waive Rule 8 and then we can vote on it Monday. You've checked with the Finance Department to be sure that the money will be there? I want to be sure this is funded as I know you do.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'll explain that when Ms. Pride is through.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you.

Ms. Anderson:

In addition to the direct services that we provide our clients, we also work very hard at prevention and education in the community. We offer a wide variety of programs to do this. We have several programs for adults that we do from personal safety for adults to personal safety to senior citizens. As an example of that we recently conducted a series of eleven seminars in the senior citizens facilities under the auspices of the City of Pittsburgh. We're presently participating in Renaissance East at the health fair each day this week. A variety of efforts such as that in terms of prevention, community education. It's our belief that a well informed community is a safer community. And that's one of our goals in that area.

We also offer a variety of in-service type training programs for professionals, mental health professionals, law enforcement professionals, programs of that nature. Probably our greatest demand, however, is for our educational programs for children. We do literally hundreds of those and speak to literally thousands of children in the City of Pittsburgh. We do programs just about daily in this area. We speak to kindergarten through high school through college, on the level that they are, about personal safety. And then as we progress with age and mental ability, we get into things like sexual assault. But our main emphasis is personal safety and things that individuals, from the youngest to the oldest, can do in terms of being safe. We do see a large number of very young people who are sexually abused. We also see a large number of older people and just about every age range in between.

PAAR also has a very strong commitment to community outreach. By that we mean that we want to make sure that our services are available to anybody in the Pittsburgh area that might be in need. We want to be seen as a viable alternative in a time of stress or in a time of crisis. We also want to be called upon for educational programs so that we can talk about prevention and being safe.

Thank you.

Marlene:

I'm here, not as a worker for PAAR but as a victim, not me but September of last year, I found out that my fourteen year old daughter had been sexually abused by her father for nine months prior to that. The psychological damage, the emotional physical damage can't be measured. The damage that it did to the complete family can never be measured. At the time, my ex-husband and I were separated and in the process of being divorced. He is also an alcoholic and we were coping with his alcoholism, the family being torn apart, and my fourteen year old had to cope with her father jumping into bed with her when I was out working. We also had to cope with my ten year old son not being able to accept that the father that he loves and worships could do something like this to his sister.

I don't know today where I would be — probably in jail because my first instinct was to kill him. I can truthfully say that my second instinct today is I'm a little better but I still would like to kill him.

Please, I don't ask, I beg of the Council to please consider the funds. The organization has truly saved my family and saved my children's lives and put them back together where psychologically they're better, emotionally they're better, and because of PAAR we're going to be alright.

Thank you.

Mr. O'Malley:

When I first read that PAAR's funding was being cut in the newspaper, which I cut out and passed out of copy to all the members, I just begin to wonder sometimes if our priorities are in the wrong place. When the funding from a program whose primary goal is to help and support sexually abused women and children then I begin to wonder that sometimes this Council is the last resort that people have. This Council has always been responsive to the needs of people and I think it's our duty here today to be responsive to the needs of people who can at least help themselves — that's our young children. I just urge my colleagues to read over the legislation that I'm going to introduce today and the legislation reads, "That the Mayor and the Director of the Department of City Planning are hereby authorized to enter into an agreement or agreements approved by the City Solicitor with Pittsburgh Action Against Rape for professional service in connection with their counseling program for sexually abused children in the amount not to exceed $50,000 chargeable and payable for the 1983 Community Development Block Grant Funds."

We've checked with our Finance Department and the money is available. We've put it through the Solicitor's Office and it is legal. So, I just urge my colleagues to give this a great deal of thought and hopefully we'll support this and pass it in the next ten days. Thank you.

The Chair:

Good luck, ladies, and I think we should commend that one young lady for having the courage to say what she said. I know I couldn't do it.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President and members of Council, it's a distinct pleasure and honor today to offer a resolution on behalf of the Chadwick Civic League and if the President of the League, Mr. James Williams would come forward, I'd like to read this resolution and ask that Council so adopt it.

Mr. Robinson presents

Bill No. 3050 WHEREAS, The Chadwick Civic League has devoted its energies and resources to the development and improvement of the Lincoln-Lemington community of Pittsburgh since 1955; and

WHEREAS, the Chadwick Civic League has been in the forefront of the City of Pittsburgh's commitment to improve its neighborhoods, and especially those with active, resourceful community organizations; and

WHEREAS, the Chadwick Civic League has initiated and participated in numerous civic and cultural activities in the Lincoln Avenue area and was primarily responsible for raising more than $300,000.00 to construct a multi-purpose recreation center in the Lincoln-Lemington community and strongly supported the development and expansion of the Lemington Home for the Aged; and

WHEREAS, the Chadwick Civic League is the organized expression of the community's will to survive and prosper.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED that the Council and the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh does recognize and honor the Chadwick Civic League on the occasion of their 28th Anniversary and offers the encouragement and resources of the City of Pittsburgh in the development of the Lincoln-Lemington community.

Mr. Robinson moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Stone seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Robinson:

Right before Mr. Williams makes his presentation, I'd just like to indicate that the gentleman you see standing here today, Mr. Doc Fielder, Father McIlvane and Mr. Williams, I think represents a true spirit of cooperation that we don't often find in many of our communities. While we often times here complaints from communities, I think the people who live in the Lincoln-Lemington area have demonstrated a dedication to work together, have always come to this Council as a solidified community and have always been able to present to us very clearly and concisely what their concerns are. I think these three gentlemen are to be commended for being able to work together on behalf of their community. This 28th anniversary of the Chadwick Civic League is just one more testament to some of the great organizations we have in this community and some of the dedicated people.

Mr. Williams:

President of City Council, members of Council and friends, I'm here this evening to bring you greetings from Chadwick and to say thank you to this Council for I have always found a friend here. I've been coming to Council since Mayor Barr was mayor and I have found people sympathetic to our needs and our desires all of this time. One of the finest ladies that ever served on this Council was Mrs. D'Ascencso and God knows she was a friend to us.

I thank you all this evening for this resolution and bless you all.

The Chair:

Thank you, Mr. Williams.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, if I might, I'd just like to indicate that there is a history of the Chadwick Civic League that I have in my hand and I'd like to have this included in the record following the resolution. Thank you.

The Chair:

Thank you, gentlemen and Councilman Robinson.

HISTORY OF CHADWICK CIVIC LEAGUE

The history of the Chadwick Civic League is living proof of the adage that the strength of Pittsburgh is in the strength of its neighborhoods. Founded in the spring of 1955 by concerned residents of the Lincoln-Lemington area of the City of Pittsburgh, the League has steadily built on its twenty-eight year commitment to the improvement of this neighborhood.

The League has remained true to the words of its 1964 Common Pleas Court Charter that it exists "... to maintain and foster in the community an interest in civic, social and cultural affairs and to work with public and private agencies and with individual residents for community betterment." From a handful of citizens who met in a garage in 1955, the League has grown to an organization of over 300 members. Operated as a nonprofit community organization the League enjoys the status of a tax exempt organization under section 501-c3 of the Federal Tax Law.

The Lincoln-Lemington community has been a neighborhood in transition over the last twenty-five years and the activities of the League over this period reflect its determination to insure that this transition not become the deterioration of this neighborhood. Street crime can spell the doom of a community. The Chadwick League has fought a continuous battle with City Hall to guarantee adequate police protection in the neighborhood.

The League has insisted that the physical assets of the community should not crumble from neglect. Street repair and repaving, the installation of better lighting and the removal of debris from vacant lots have been an ongoing agenda for the League. One of the earliest victories was to get the City to install a concrete stairway between Lemington Avenue and Somerset Street across from Oberlin Street. This stairway provided a safe pedestrian access where none existed before.

Sometimes to save a neighborhood it is necessary to prevent certain types of development. The Chadwick Civic League achieved the near impossible when it prevented the opening of a State Liquor store at the corner of Lemington and Lincoln Avenues. The League has also blocked the opening of additional taverns in this area.

The League received the Citation for Excellence by the Tuberculosis League of Pittsburgh for its sponsorship of a community chest x-ray project. A favorite of the community was the Annual Community Picnic sponsored by the League which featured an enjoyable day of rides, free ice cream, milk, a host of games, contests and prizes for the children.

The work of the Chadwick Civic League has not been confined to large scale projects. The League has shown its true spirit when it has rallied to aid a family recently burnt out of their home or another neighbor faced with a sudden misfortune. The League has worked on the principle that first and foremost a neighborhood is its people.

The crowning achievement of the Chadwick Civic League has been the construction of first, the playground that is bordered by Oberlin and Mingo Streets and then the community recreation center on that property. The League first petitioned the City to build the Belmar playground in 1959. After nearly a decade of work and the support of City Councilwoman Irma D'Ascencso, the Belmar playground was dedicated on September 24, 1968. An unused ravine, marked by sewage, had converted into a magnificent recreational area for the entire community.

The League recognized that the community needed more than simply a playing field. To truly involve the community a facility that all could use was needed. The Chadwick League took upon itself the task of raising the funds necessary for this noble project. In spite of the tremendous odds against success, the League pressed forward appealing to individuals, foundations and anyone who would listen. Years of hard work yielded one of the true miracles of community activism in modern Pittsburgh. Over $320,000 was raised and construction of the recreation center was completed. It stands today as a symbol of what a community can do if it organizes and remains steadfast in its objectives. The League turned the Center over to the City of Pittsburgh which named the park and the facility the "Chadwick Park and Center" in honor of the organization that realized its dream.

The Chadwick League, however, did not fade into the background after this extraordinary feat. The work of defending and improving the Lincoln-Lemington community goes on. Recently, the League has been involved in several community projects: it worked to insure that the Lemington Home for the Aged expansion project enhanced the community's values; representatives of the League have attended zoning board hearings to prevent conversions of single family dwellings into apartments; and the League worked closely with the management of the new Open Pantry at Lemington and Lincoln Avenue to insure that this establishment would operate for the maximum benefit of the community. The task of achieving "community betterment" is never ending.

The Chadwick Civic League is the organized expression of the community's will to survive and prosper. Yet even such an organization as this could not have succeeded without exemplary leadership. The League has been blessed with truly exceptional leadership over the years. From its inception it has had only two presidents: James Williams, now a retired postal worker, was president from 1955 to 1978 when Jack Kelly served a one year term. Jim Williams resumed the presidency in 1979 and still serves in that capacity. The inspired leadership of Jim Williams stands as a testament to the rewards of vision.

Payable from C.A. No. 1064, Supplies and Materials, Department of Finance. Prior approval granted by Council Bill No. 2886, dated May 4, 1983.

Also,

No. 3033 Resolution providing for the issuance of a warrant in favor of James L. Smith Insurance Agency, Three Parkway Center, Pittsburgh, PA 15220, in the amount of $3,000.00 in payment of Self Insurer's Bond for Workmen's Compensation for the period April 26, 1983 to April 26, 1984 and providing for the payment thereof. Payable from C.A. No. 44, Worker's Compensation, Department of Finance.

Michelle Madoff:

What is a self-insured bond, Mr. Stone?

The Chair:

It's self explanatory.

Mr. Stone:

It's self-insured. We're insuring it.

Michelle Madoff:

For what bond? For what item?

Mr. Perry:

Workmen's comp for $200,000, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

Who are we paying this to?

Mr. Perry:

James L. Smith Insurance Agency.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm a little bit confused. Aren't we putting our own money into paying off the workmen's comp debt? What is this bond insurance for? I have some real concerns about it. It appears that our workmen's comp is no longer $40 million, it's now $60 million.

The Chair:

We'll discuss it Wednesday in Committee.

Mr. Stone:

We have the bond at $200,000, Mike?

Mr. Perry:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm sorry, I didn't hear that.

Mr. Stone:

We're going to bond $200,000.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm sorry, I still did not hear what you said, Mr. Stone. We're going to go out on a bond for $200,000?

Mr. Stone:

We're going to bond the $200,000 commitment.

The Chair:

That will be in Committee on Wednesday, Michelle. We'll discuss it then.

Michelle Madoff:

Is it coming up this Wednesday? Did you waive Rule 8 on it?

Mr. Stone:

No, we did not waive Rule 8.

Michelle Madoff:

Mike, would you get me an explanation on that bill, please, so that I can deal with it and ask the rights questions at the meeting?

Mr. Perry:

Okay.

Mr. Givens presented

Bill No. 3041

Report of the Committee on Public Works for May 11, 1983 transmitting two ordinances and two resolutions to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 2207

An Ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance amending and supplementing the Pittsburgh Code, Title Six, Conduct, Article III - Dogs and Other Animals by adding Section 633.15 which establishes a City low cost spay, neuter, and vaccination clinic."

Which was read.

Mr. Flaherty:

In regard to Bill 2207 which provides for a contractual agreement for a municipal low cost spaying and neutering clinic, I wish to officially amend the bill. It was my understanding that the amendments were not officially enacted at Wednesday's Committee Meeting. So, to correct that oversight I offer the amendments which are in front of you now which essentially would be to delete Section A of the original which would read, "The City will maintain a low cost spay, neuter and vaccination clinic with a veterinarian and a technician" and to add the following three sections: "The City shall enter a contractual agreement with a recognized Pittsburgh animal shelter equipped with a surgical clinic for the purpose of utilizing these facilities for a low cost spay, neuter and vaccination service." Also, the section, "The City shall employ a state certified veterinarian and veterinary technician to provide the spay, neuter and vaccination". And also to include the final section, "The total cost of this program shall not exceed $60,000." The date of this ordinance is January 1, 1984.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Robinson:

I have a question on the amendment. I'd like to comment on the amendment. I think all members of Council received a communication dated May 16, 1983 relative to Council Bill 2207 from the Western Pennsylvania Veterinary Medical Association. I don't want to read the total document but I do think it should be included in the record. I think that perhaps at the public hearing in perhaps our haste to address this issue animal control, all the parties that wanted to speak and explain their positions did not have an opportunity to do so and I believe that the members of the Western Pennsylvania Veterinary Medical Association feel that there are some points that perhaps Council needs to address prior to any final action.

I'd just like to relate if I could two points. One is that they believe if there are any government funds going to be made available to operate a spaying and neutering program, these services should be made available only to the truly needs and they emphasize that experience has shown that many pet owners that use the services of neutering clinics are in the income groups which can afford the services of private veterinarians. I agree with that statement and I think unless we are very careful in how this program is administered, those people who need the program the most will not be served by it.

Also, they indicate that even with the creation of a City operated clinic, the budget for animal control would not decrease. It has been shown in other cities that neutering clinics do not have a majority or major impact on animal population control. Such clinics do not reach a wide enough segment of the unwanted animal population to be effective. I think there's a lot of merit in that comment.

While I basically agree with some of the concerns that the Veterinary Association has raised, I think the attempt here is positive and I think we can put some effective controls on our program so that it reaches the target population and so that it becomes one more tool, just one more tool, in our ever increasing attempt to control the animal population in this City.

Just one other comment on the amendment, if I might. I have raised some concern before about the cost of the clinic. I still believe that $60,000 is not enough money and that we may find ourselves spending $60,000 per year on this project and I think Council ought to be aware that this is not $60,000 today, this is $60,000 today, next year and the following year and that amount will probably be increased because we're talking about hiring a veterinarian and a technician --

The Chair:

Excuse me, Mr. Robinson, if I may. I thought the intent of the bill was $60,000 per year. We're not talking about one shot.

Mr. Robinson:

Well, that was not my understanding from what Councilman Flaherty said last Wednesday. I'm simply saying that if Council is not aware of what you said, they need to be aware now that we will pay at least $60,000 a year for the technician, for the veterinarian and any other related services. So, it's not just $60,000 on a one shot deal. I think we need to be cognizant of that.

The Chair:

I thought we were all aware of that.

Mr. Flaherty:

It's also important to keep in mind that I believe that the sum of $60,000 is the most that it will cost the City for quite a few years to come because the majority of that appropriation is going to be offset through the fees that individuals are going to pay to have their animal either spayed or neutered.

I would also just care to respond in regard to the Western Pennsylvania Veterinarian Association that they had the opportunity to testify at the public hearing. In fact, the president, the state president of the Association spoke and there were two other individuals who spoke from the Western Pennsylvania Association. As far as the criticisms that they have outlined, I believe that I have statistics to refute some of those arguments. Granted, some of their arguments may have some validity but I believe that there are other arguments that overwhelm them.

Michelle Madoff:

I was going to say that many people such as myself who had two dogs that lived to fifteen and fourteen years old and died, had I needed to have them spayed, and I did, I would take them to my own private doctor and many people will still do that. All we're going to do is raise consciousness and I think that the doctors are going to do much better. It reminds me of when Medicare came out and there were certain people who fought it and fought it and fought it who were doctors. Try to take it away today and they fight equally as hard. It is only going to make the situation in the City much more livable.

Mr. Stone:

The only question I have is are we going to address the issue that Mr.

Robinson mentioned about need. Rather than just permit anyone no matter how much money they make to have their dog neutered, are we going to set a limit of some sort to the needy, not the greedy?

Mr. Flaherty:

I believe that as far as putting a income restraint on it, that certainly has its points but since this is a program that will be starting up, I think we could more accurately judge the need for having the income limitation on perhaps after the clinic is in operation for a year. Granted, there will be some people that are greedy that will probably take advantage of the program, but perhaps it would be worthwhile if we accepted some of that greed if this would be a measure for that individual to care for their animal and not having it out repopulating the animal population in the City, perhaps twenty fold over the lifetime of that animal.

I would certainly support it if there was a need for it. Perhaps if in a year we were just flooded with pet owners who were utilizing the clinic then I think we would have to put some kind of restraints on. But we are not aware now as to what the acceptance of the public will be toward the clinic.

Mr. Stone:

I don't want to give a long dissertation on this thing but I still think that that point on need is an important one for two reasons. First of all, it takes business away from veterinarians who otherwise may get that business and I don't think we should create anything in competition with the legitimate professional availability.

Secondly, I don't think we should be putting out City monies for those who don't need it and I think we ought to somehow have some restriction here that restricts it to those who need it rather than those who don't. If they have the money they ought to be able to go to a veterinarian and have it don't on their own no matter what the cost. But for those who can't afford it I think we obviously should address it.

The Chair:

I agree with you, Mr. Stone, with the exception that it would be rather difficult to regulate it.

Mr. Flaherty:

I would just care to respond to that. I think that if we were to put a cap as to what individuals could utilize the program in my mind, and if I'm wrong please correct me, I think this would be the only program that the City would offer which would not be uniform for the utilization of all the residents of the City. I think also if we get into the idea of trying to put a cap on it, I think we are going to be getting into more paper work, we are going to be requiring individuals to bring an income tax statement and I think for the time and effort that would go into that I think that it would perhaps cause a great deal of embarrassment to people and it would be opening the way to a certain invasion of an individual's privacy.

The Chair:

Any further comments on the amendment?

The motion carries.

And on the bill itself?

Mr. Robinson:

I have a comment on 2207 which addresses the issue of the spay, neuter and vaccination clinic, I'd just like to remind Council that last Wednesday we asked the City Solicitor and the Director of the Department of Environmental Resources to address the issue of our contractual relationship with the Animal Rescue League and how that relates to monies that are due us for animals that are housed and fed that City employees take to Animal Rescue League under contract and how this relates to the potential of us enacting 2207 and possibly contracting with the Animal Rescue League.

I think that there's a very serious problem relative to whether or not the City of Pittsburgh is receiving the monies that it is due for what is called poundage. The law is very specific, the Controller's Office has a line item and we have not been collecting poundage. To my knowledge, for five and one half years the Animal Rescue League has not collected poundage, the Department of Environmental Services has not collected poundage. That's the money that is due to the citizens of the City of Pittsburgh and the only explanation that we have ever received, and this is by way of testimony from the Animal Rescue League is that they do not feel it's in their best interest to collect poundage because it's inconsistent with their program of trying to help pet owners and making pets available free of charge to the public. I think if there is a conflict of interest, or if there is some difficulty, that we need to get that straight before we anticipate a possible contract with Animal Rescue League, particularly in light of the fact that we increased their budget by twenty-five percent. Mr. Flaherty brought that information to light that it certainly is well known that we have increased our financial obligations to Animal Rescue League yet we have taken no legal or administration actions to make sure that they are collecting the poundage or that we collect the poundage. I don't know if the City Clerk ever got that information. I did see a copy of a memo he forwarded but I would hope that Council would take this into consideration before voting on 2207 and even if we do not feel that it's important enough to hold 2207, that we certainly get some answers from the Animal Rescue League and the City Solicitor because if Animal Rescue League is selected as the animal shelter to carry out the spaying and neutering program, not only do I think we're going to run afoul with the law but I think it's going to be publicly embarrassing for this City to continue to contract with an agency that does not feel it's in their best interest to obey the law and for a City to contain a contract where they themselves will not obey their own law. If we're going to reduce the animal population, if we're going to help people become responsible pet owners, we certainly should ask them to live up to their obligations. If you animal is picked up and you go to Animal Rescue League to retrieve it, the law said you're supposed to pay poundage. You pay room and board. People are not paying room and board for their animals when they are returned.

The second point relates to the issue on, I think Mr. Stone succinctly addressed my concern about serving those who are the most needy with the spaying and neutering clinic. I think that depending upon how this program is administered, we can go right to the problem or we can go around it. The animal problem in the City of Pittsburgh is concentrated in two areas and it's been concentrated there for five and one half years. In the eastern sections of the City, the 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th, 14th Wards and our Housing Authority units, which are scattered into eighteen different neighborhoods of this City, that's where the stray animals are, that's where the animal control problem is and if you check the records of animal control, if you check the citations, if you check with the root foreman, you will see that's where the problem is. I would hope that Mr. Flaherty would impose upon Director Walker to structure this program in such a way that those areas of the City get a good treatment and that we also make sure that people in those areas become aware of this free spaying and neutering program.

Mr. Flaherty:

I wholeheartedly agree with what Councilman Robinson has said. The first point that he brings up in regard to the Animal Rescue League I feel that we certainly should hold them accountable if they are not collecting the City's due as they have been contracted to do. I myself earlier attempted to receive the information from the City Solicitor's Office and I am expecting a call from them.

It's important to keep in mind that the bill spells out a contractual agreement with a recognized animal shelter. There are a few that are equipped with the essential surgical equipment. We are not specifying that we are going to contract specifically with the Animal Rescue League. For example, we could contract with the Humane Society.

As far as Councilman Robinson's second point on working closely with Director Walker as to areas of the City that perhaps we should concentrate on perhaps through an awareness program as to the existence of the clinic, I agree wholeheartedly and will certainly work closely with the Director on that point.

The Chair:

Thank you.

(MEMO REGARDING BILL NO. 2207)

Western Pennsylvania Veterinary Medical Association
6742 Reynolds Street,
Pittsburgh, PA 15206

TO: Members of Pittsburgh
City Council
RE: Bill No. 2207
DATE: May 16, 1983

The following are the reasons for our opposition to Bill No. 2207 relating to the spay-neuter clinic:

1. Such a clinic would violate the free enterprise system by creating unfair competition between privately owned tax paying businesses and the government subsidized veterinary clinic.
2. Even with the creation of the city operated clinic, the budget for animal control would not decrease. It has been shown in other cities that neutering clinics do not have a major impact on animal population control. Such clinics do not reach a wide enough segment of the unwanted animal population to be effective.
3. The most effective approach to controlling the number of stray dogs and cats is to educate the public to become responsible pet owners. In addition, there should be better enforcement of the existing leash and license laws.
4. If there are government funds available to operate a spay-neuter program, the services should be available only to the truly needy. Experience has shown that many pet owners who use the services of neutering clinics are in income groups which can afford the services of private veterinarians.

For the above reasons, we urge that no final action be taken regarding Bill No. 2207 without consultation with our association.

(END OF MEMO)

Also,

Bill No. 2208

An Ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance amending and supplementing the Pittsburgh Code, Title Six, Conduct, Article III - Dogs and Other Animals by adding provisions, by amending Section 633.04 to provide that all duly authorized mammal kennels be required to have the owner purchase and place a license on every dog placed from that kennel: by adding Section 633.14 to provide that the City maintain a Central Mammal Informational Service."

Which was read.

Mr. Givens:

I'd like to make a comment for the record on Bill 2207 and 2208 why I'd ask my fellow Councilmembers to pass on this bill. On two different occasions, while walking through the city streets of Pittsburgh, I have been personally attacked by, in one case five dogs, three of them I'll call canines meaning the larger variety, shepard dogs, etc., and on one other occasion by one canine and one small dog.

Had I not had expert training within the field of canines within the U.S. Military Air Force, I'm afraid I would have come out of the one situation in a very serious condition because the six dogs that attacked me were in a park. There was absolutely nothing around —

The Chair:

You mean six dogs attacked you at one time?

Mr. Givens:

Six dogs. That's right. To be attacked by six canines at one time that are —

The Chair:

Dick, was one of them a Doberman pinscher?

Mr. Givens:

Don't make fun of it, Jeep. It's not funny.

The Chair:

I know it's not funny.

Mr. Givens:

When you're the victim of six dogs that are attacking you at one time, it's very frightful and fearful. Just one dog is bad enough, let alone six. And I had to back up to a tree to defend myself and only by using an obstacle that I tore from my body to use it as something for them to work with because without that, then they start working on your hands and your face and your feet and I don't know if any of you have even seen a child that has been bitten by a dog.

For that reason and that reason only I would go for this particular case because it has a positive control of the number of animals that we'll have within the City of Pittsburgh and that alone will hopefully reduce some of these circumstances that I have personally been involved in.

Mr. Stone:

I think the bill would better serve the City of Pittsburgh if it did not compete with other veterinarians and I think it's an unfair competition the way it's now couched without some controls and I don't think lightly about using City money for those who don't need it.

In short, I have no objections to taking care of the needy but the greedy I do. If we were to save but half of this money, we could use the $30,000 and go to Pittsburgh Action Against Rape or some other worthy organization.

On those two bills, because of it's lack of restriction, I vote no.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, I apologize. I just came in and I heard Mr. Stone talking about Action Against Rape. What was that with reference to?

Mr. O'Malley:

What he was saying was that he was against the neutering bill because if we save half of that $60,000, save $30,000, you could put it towards a better cause such as Pittsburgh Action Against Rape.

Michelle Madoff:

Is everybody aware that we came into another windfall, Mr. Stone, is that correct, with the sale of One Oliver Plaza? Something like $700,000? Is that correct, Mr. Stone?

Mr. O'Malley:

Just vote on the bills, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, I think it's all tied to the bills. We've got a $700,000 windfall coming in, why couldn't we have both items?

The Chair:

Please vote aye or nay on the bills.

Michelle Madoff:

I vote aye.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bills?

And on the question, "Shall the bills pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Givens	Mr. Robinson
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. DePasquale

Which was read.

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. Robinson
Mr. Givens	Mr. Stone
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. DePasquale
Mr. O'Malley	(Pres't)

AYES 9 NOES none

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bill passed finally.

Also,

Bill No. 2901

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution amending Resolution No. 216, approved March 23, 1983, effective April 11, 1983, entitled, 'Providing for an Agreement or Agreements with D'Appolonia Consulting Engineers for Engineering Services in connection with the Route 51 Rockfall; and providing for the payment of the cost thereof,' by providing for a Supplemental Agreement or Agreements and by increasing the total allocation by Forth Thousand ($40,000.00) Dollars."

Which was read.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, on Bill 2901 within my committee that deals with that landslide problem out on Saw Mill Run, the engineering company was to provide additional information that we've wanted for a couple of weeks and it still has not been provided to our finance staff. As a result, reluctantly, I must ask that this bill be recommitted. Hopefully, it was to be here today but I did not receive it. Eddie Albert would still like to review it. That's Bill 2901 to be recommitted.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, before we vote on that - I think it's important. I don't think we can hold up this money. This is a crisis situation.

Mr. Stone:

I was just going to ask that very question myself. You know, we have an important thing there on 51 and I think we ought to get to doing the investigation on time, Mr. Givens. It's up to you if you want to accept responsibility for that but I think that that one has a lot of potential liability to this City. We ought not to be moving slowly with it.

Mr. Givens:

Well, I know there are pending court suits but I'm sure it would be many, many months before that will ever come before the courts. I sympathize with your position, however, I feel that when one of our staff members from our Finance Department wants to review it, the fact that he was in the hospital and the fact that I want to review that particular information, I feel that holding it one more week will not jeopardize our position. If I felt so I would approve it today.

Mr. Stone:

The only thing, Mr. Givens, is that I think you're going to get more information in the first three days or the first three weeks than you'll get in the next three months or the next three years. Those are important moments when you're close to what actually happened.

Mr. Givens:

The City has all that information at their hands. The individual hasn't been paid. I agree. This was one of the quicker payments that I've seen made and I'm sure he'll represent this City when and if it does come to court. But again, I'm talking about the payment of the bill itself. We had asked for certain information. That information has not been provided and until it is, I don't think we can make a true evaluation of the cost overruns on this particular job.

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, if I may, we don't know when Mr. Albert is coming back. This is very critical as Ms. Madoff and Mr. Stone have pointed out. Obviously you have raised a good question in regards to the cost but they're staying out doing the work and they're going to blame us if it's not done..

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, what is the procedure to move to not hold the bill, to proceed with it?

Mr. Stone:

Before you do that, Mr. Givens, this is providing for agreements and if you're concerned about it after, you can still do that. This is providing for an agreement, not payment.

Mr. Givens:

It's to increase the cost of that particular agreement.

Mr. Stone:

Correct.

Mr. Givens:

It's asking for us to approve a supplemental agreement or agreements by increasing the total allocation. That's what is in question.

There's a motion on the floor.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Robinson, on Bill 2949 and 2950, they're companion bills, correct?

Mr. Robinson:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

What is the total amount now since we're adjusting one bill to lower the amount from $150,000 to $115,000 and we're going up on the other? What will be the total allocation from this Council to the Clean City Committee for this year, for the year '83?

Mr. Robinson:

I don't have that figure available.

Michelle Madoff:

Ballpark it for me.

Mr. Robinson:

I wouldn't want to venture a guess.

Michelle Madoff:

Would Mr. Buckley know that? Well, it's probably at least $163,000 — I think it's a million and a half, isn't it? Mr. Stone, do you recall?

Mr. Stone:

There's some mixed funds in there. You're talking —

Michelle Madoff:

But altogether, the act of actually cleaning up, whether it's for jobs or equipment or summer employment. We're talking about a substantial number of dollars. Is that correct?

Mr. Stone:

We put some nice sized dollars there and we've gotten our dollar's worth.

Michelle Madoff:

I didn't say we weren't. I think they do an outstanding job, but I'm just trying to get a number. Do you have a number?

Mr. Stone:

Off hand I don't.

Michelle Madoff:

Alright now, my point in bringing this up is that I had a call today from someone in Mount Washington thanking us for contacting the Clean City Committee to clean up the Burma Road and clean up a couple of the other roads up there and some of the streets and some of the lots. But a one shot effort is not the answer. It is my understanding that where the Clean City Committee is presently very weak is in enforcement. I would like to see this City Council consider some kind of a bill that would authorize meter maids on their rounds to issue citations for locks, particularly facilities, stores. It is outrageous when you drive down the street and there's a broken beer bottle and garbage being thrown into sewers that are swept off the street. Someone says, "Well, I cleaned it up, I swept it into the sewer." That does further damage to the taxpayers' dollar and that we have to clean up the sewers.

I don't think just saying we're pouring this money in, and I think the Clean City Committee would agree, is the answer. Enforcement on the long term is going to be the answer and we've got to look for a way to do that.

I understand there's something like twenty or forty cases to be heard before the magistrate. Well, there isn't a member of this Council or the media sitting here that couldn't go down the street today and find forty in an afternoon. If we're going to make this money meaningful, not just creating jobs, I think we really have to deal with the enforcement issue. And I would hope, Mike, that we'd start off by preparing, if you would for me, an ordinance to authorize meter maids, it would have to go to the Law Department, to be able to issue citations on litter.

Mr. Robinson:

If I might on Council Bill 2949 and 2950, I think that it's important to recognize that the Clean City Program in the City of Pittsburgh is relatively new and one of the major objectives has been to educate the public. Certainly Mrs. Madoff's concerns are well known and I think well taken. It should be noted that the law enforcement officers in the City of Pittsburgh do presently have the power to enforce all laws in the City of Pittsburgh. Our police officers who both walk the beat and ride in the cars have authorizations to issue citations.

Recently I made a trip to Toronto, Canada, and while I was there I was able to observe what is perhaps one of the most effective Clean City programs anywhere in the world. A city that is basically clean, and one thing I noticed in Toronto, you don't see people winding down the windows of their car and throwing litter on the street. You do see that here in the United States, you do see that here in the City of Pittsburgh. I think that certainly the effort in Toronto, and they don't have a Clean City Committee, they carry out their program through the Public Works Department, but I think the educational aspect of it does have to be turned inward and I agree with you. Enforcement is a problem. Part of the reason that it is a problem is because it is not emphasized by the Administration, it's not emphasized by this Council.

Littering is not considered serious enough for our police officers to address it. It's not considered serious enough for us to indeed make it most unattractive for people to litter.

I would hope that Mrs. Madoff's concerns go beyond simply the legislative stage but that we indeed send a letter to our Police Superintendent requesting his cooperation in working with the Clean City Committee to see what can be done to get our police officers more involved in the enforcement of our litter laws and more involved in this whole issue of keeping our City clean.

If the City Clerk would be willing to prepare that kind of letter on behalf of Council, I think we would be doing ourselves well and also the citizens of this City to ask for that kind of cooperation.

The Chair:

The meter maids definately have the power to cite and they have been citing in the past.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, may I comment? This was not just something that I took lightly. This concern grew out of a very specific dialogue that I had with Miss Maribeth Salley. It appears that our refuse collectors are very diligent and when people are violating the garbage ordinance, scattering the garbage, they are indeed citing them. And they're doing an outstanding job. That has been a really marked improvement.

However, in the business areas, in the City's concentrated areas where say BFI or other companies would be picking up the litter, what the plan is at the moment, according to Maribeth Salley's conversation with me, is to have them turned into community groups. Well, I plan to do that with arcades, but I don't think that's exactly how we want to enforce in our business districts by turning it over to community groups and having the company chastised. I think they have to be cited. And I don't think anybody would disagree with that. We've been talking about it for five years. Laws without enforcement are an exercise in futility. I think perhaps one of the best ways, since we don't have enough policemen, we're talking about better garage protection and so on, and the police are perhaps overburdened with crimes in progress, perhaps the meter maids, while they're walking the beats, might be a good way to start. That's just a first step, Mr. Robinson, perhaps having the meter maids do it. Would you prepare that bill for me?

(LETTER REQUESTED BY MR. GIVENS)

President and Members
City Council
City of Pittsburgh

Dear Council Member:

On March 15, 1983, Council held an open hearing on proposed Ordinance No. 2360 which contains recommended Code changes regulating helicopter facilities within the City. This meeting was heavily attended by opponents of this legislation who presented much misleading and erroneous testimony which was left essentially unanswered due to the structure of the meeting. We would like at this time to present some background and explanation for support of this ordinance.

It was obvious when we began to enforce the present helicopter code that some sections which applied to "roof top" helicopter facilities could not in fairness be applied to "ground level" facilities. Through the Board of Standards and Appeals the Fire Department worked with users to modify the standards so that they would be more cost effective and realistically applied. It then became evident from this experience that the codes should be amended to allow separate code provisions for ground level helicopter facilities.

After researching the National Fire Codes, the FAA regulations and other input on the subject, a proposed amended Code change was presented to the Code Review Board for their consideration. An open hearing was conducted by the Board at which time extensive testimony was heard from the Helicopter Pilots Association, experts on helicopter construction, and others in the field. The Fire Department was also given an opportunity to present their case before the Board. The Board, after due consideration, and after making minor changes, approved the Code changes relating to helicopter facilities and sent the amendments to Council as an Ordinance. It must be emphasized that the Code Review Board is composed of architects, engineers, building managers and owners in addition to representatives of the public and the Fire and Building Departments.

Since there seems to be no controversy regarding the "Roof Top" sections of the proposed amendments, we shall point out only that these regulations have been extracted almost intact from the National Fire Code, NFPA #418.

Provisions for "ground level" installations were developed using the guidelines from the National Fire Codes (NFPA) Standard No. 403 which we have attached and the pertinent sections highlighted for reference. This standard is written and maintained by an "Aviation Correlating Committee" and a "Sectional Committee on Aircraft Rescue and Fire Fighting". It is noted (Page 3 of Attachment #1) that the committee membership is heavily weighted with aviation people with only a few Fire Department representatives. As noted on Page 11, (Attachment #1) "Location of Accidents", that "the greatest potential for saving life and property is at the vicinity of the heliport itself." Pages 13 thru 19 cover the types of extinguishing agents. Particular attention should be paid to the summary of agents which states that foam is the "principal extinguishing agent upon which reliance is placed for service." Therefore, foam was selected as a requirement in the recommended Code.

It is far superior than dry chemical for this purpose. The advantages are many:

- *Quenching and cooling effect
- *Prevents re-ignition of flammable liquid fires from heated metal
- *Can approach fire from a distance up to 50'
- *Does not obscure fire scene
- *Better potential for rescue
- *Provides application over long period of time
- *Requires less skill and effort to use

Dry chemical does have a quick effect but, compared with foam has the following disadvantages:

- *No cooling effect
- *Must be used very close to fire, 8 - 10'
- *Sends up large clouds of powder which obscures fire scene and rescue attempt
- *Very short application time (as little as one minute)
- *Possibility of re-ignition with no agent left to extinguish fire
- *Requires practice and skill to use effectively

There are basically 3 sizes of helicopters referred to and described on Page 24, H-1-H2-H3. When determining the largest aircraft to be protected consideration should be given to factors such as probable future expansion of traffic, introduction of larger aircraft and frequency of operation (see page 24, 3-1.3.2). This aspect was carefully considered and because of experience with expansion at existing heliports and because of the close proximity of most heliports to nearby buildings, such as hospitals and congested built-up areas it was determined to base requirements to a minimum of the H-2 size helicopter. The foam production for this category is listed on Page 26 as indicated.

The requirement for automatic alarm system is listed on Page 27 (3-1.4.7).

Because of the inherent danger of fuel spill on the heliport facility, and again consideration was given to the very close location to large buildings, a system of fuel collection was included in the Code. This simply means that the pad must be slanted to a collection trench where flammable fuel is separated and collected in a holding tank. Contrary to testimony presented at the Council hearing, much of the helicopter fuel is Jet A type and although it is largely kerosene, much of it can be reduced with other fuels which can perceptively lower its flash point. Attached you will find the National Fire Protection Association comment on the safety of this fuel. (See Attachment #2)

Helicopters can range in price from $300,000 to upward to over a million dollars for those which carry many passengers and yet some operators seem unwilling to spend even a small amount for proper fire protection. Helicopters again contrary to what we are told, are dangerous and experience a high volume of accidents. Their own statistics indicate that in 1978, which 5,395 helicopters operating, there were 310 accidents. (See Attachment #3)

Also attached are news items of just some recent accidents. Particular attention is directed to a recent article from Time Magazine (Attachment #4) which shows that within the past few years broadcast crews have died in helicopter crashes in Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Boston, Miami and Denver. Not a very good record.

Actual costs involved in construction of a heliport can vary greatly according to the site and intended use. In testimony before Council, a representative of Channel 11 stated they will spend a total of $27,000 for their proposed heliport while Mercy Hospital intends to spend several hundred thousand. In a recent survey of the costs of the controversial items provided for in the proposed Code, we found the following nominal costs were projected for a typical ground level facility.

Foam Agent Innovator	$2,000
Foam Agent	$ 850
Fuel Separator System	$2,700
Chemical Extinguish Unit (150 lb.)	$1,200

Underground landing lights which are required by the FAA will cost more on the average than any of the fire protection items and usually will run about $4,000. We believe these costs are not excessive, especially in view of the fact that helicopter service fees run about $375-$400 per hour.

We feel that the proposed helicopter code is not repressive or restrictive, but does represent adequate fire protection for helicopter facilities which are located generally in high density areas of the City. The Fire Department and the Review Board have no axe to grind and nothing to gain from this Code change except the realization that we are providing the City of Pittsburgh with realistic standards which will serve the City for the present and into the future.

(LETTER FROM COUNCILMAN ROBINSON)

Mr. Thomas K. Garesche, Vice President
Real Estate Investments
Metropolitan Insurance Company
One Madison Avenue
New York, New York 10010

Dear Mr. Garesche:

I am writing in reference to your letter of May 10, 1983 to Mayor Richard Caliguiri in regard to the proposed Liberty Center project (Hotel Office Complex) for the City of Pittsburgh.

I am pleased that Metropolitan has joined with Grant Liberty Development Group Associates in what will be an important step in the future development of Pittsburgh.

Equally important is the necessity to involve minorities and women in this venture at a fifteen percent participation level. This issue has been discussed with the Grant Liberty Development Group Associates, and to date, a comprehensive and substantive plan and procedure has not been developed.

Prior to an agreement being signed with the Urban Redevelopment Authority, this issue should be resolved.

If I can be of any service, please don't hesitate to call or write.

Yours respectfully,

William Russell Robinson
Chairman,
Planning, Housing and Development

(END OF LETTER)

Mr. Robinson:

I'd just like to mention that this issue is, I think, of utmost importance. It speaks to this City's consistency in terms of involving minorities and women in all of our major developments. Hopefully, this new joint venture will be able to address this concern prior to any arrangements being made with the Urban Redevelopment Authority for the transfer of the land and prior to any complete plans being revealed to the public. Thank you.

The Chair presents

No. 3051 Communication from Richard S. Caliguiri, Mayor, City of Pittsburgh, reappointing Walter R. Little of 8522 Dersam Street as a Magistrate of City Court for a term to expire December 1986.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also,

No. 3052 Resolution for the reappointment by the Mayor of Walter R. Little of 8522 Dersam Street as a Magistrate of City Court for a term to expire December 1986.

Which was read.

Also,

No. 3053 Communication from Richard S. Caliguiri, Mayor, City of Pittsburgh, reappointing Joseph James of 6375 Ebdy Street as a Magistrate of City Court for a term to expire December 1986.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also,

No. 3054 Resolution for the reappointment of Joseph James of 6375 Ebdy Street as a Magistrate of City Court, for a term to expire December 1986.

Which was read.

The Chair:

Members of Council, can we waive the two week waiting period? These are reappointments; they're very good magistrates.

Mr. Stone:

Unless anyone has any objections, I'll move for adoption.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Mr. O'Malley:

Mr. Little I'm familiar with. The other magistrate, I'm not. Is it a reappointment?

The Chair:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

Joe James is a magistrate for the City? I never knew that. I thought he worked for the University of Pittsburgh. Unless that's another Joe James.

The Chair:

Joe will be happy to hear that. He's the one who pushed this drunken driving law.

Michelle Madoff:

Is there another Joe James that's with the University of Pittsburgh?

The Chair:

Yes, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

Okay. I've got the wrong Joe James. No problem.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, in view of the pending situation with our Chief Magistrate, Mr. Penkower, and the requirements of the law that a Chief Magistrate be appointed to our City courts, I think it might be appropriate to hold these reappointments for the customary two weeks until Mr. Penkower's situation is resolved, until this Council is a little clearer as to who is going to be the Chief Magistrate in the City of Pittsburgh. It is a very important position as spelled out in the City Charter —

The Chair:

If I may, Mr. Robinson, Mr. Penkower's position may not be clarified until November.

Mr. Robinson:

I understand, but I think you're speaking to my point that until we get some clearer clarification as to what the status of our present Chief Magistrate is going to be, I think it's kind of presumptuous to waive the normal two week period. That's my concern. That we have an uncertainty that I think impinges upon the renomination of these two gentlemen.

The Chair:

Well, obviously two weeks isn't the end of the world but they've done a good job and I just wonder what the election of Penkower has to do with this.

Mr. O'Malley:

I just want to ask one question. If we approve the nominations, couldn't this Council come back and approve, if one of them were to be appointed Chief Magistrate?

Mr. Stone:

Yes. All this is doing is extending their term on the —

The Chair:

We still have the final say on it.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, if I might. This Council, to my knowledge, does not have any power to appoint the Chief Magistrate. That power is held exclusively by the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh.

The Chair:

We have the right of approval.

Mr. Robinson:

For the Chief Magistrate?

The Chair:

Oh, yes. Definitely.

Mr. Robinson:

Just one other comment on the situation with our City Magistrates. I would just like to reiterate my interest in seeing a minority female serve on our minor judiciary in anticipation that there will be a vacancy in November. I hope that this Council would give some serious consideration to the approval of a minority female and I would hope that the Administration would take this opportunity to include minority females in our minor judiciary.

I raise this concern so that as we begin to consider people that we take into consideration that there are many groups that do not have an opportunity to be represented and there certainly are a number of fine female attorneys in our community and I think some that could serve this City well.

I just want to share again with Council my interest and the interest of many in seeing a minority female serve on our minor judiciary if the opportunity presents itself.

Mr. Stone moved for adoption of the reappointments.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I think all of us read the Sunday paper, "Must Hike Taxes or Cut Services, City Says". As you know, I came to this Council saying that I had heard about a report that existed and sure enough the report did exist. I'm sad to report that much of what's in that secret report, that fiscal report, is not even reported in the story. It is much more serious than eluded to. I have great concerns about what is going to happen to the City.

I would like to point out, and this is not self-grandiosement, but when we had that fiasco, the voluntary head tax, and we opened the account and there was a little joking going on, a little game-playing here in Council which I thought was in good spirit and fun, unfortunately I learned that you cannot take a serious matter at a time when people are jesting about clock. However, the Los Angeles Times bid four cities in the country and they wondered why I was going out to look for voluntary head tax, did not understand that we did not have an enabling act. They did almost three-quarters of a page in the Los Angeles Times on the plight of Pittsburgh and its fiscal problems, dated March 24, 1983. Now the Mayor is coming up with what is very obvious in that report, and leaving out some of the major concerns.

I think we've got to deal with the issue and the issue is very simple. We are not going to get, in my opinion, 102 legislators to support a raise in commuter taxes to suburbanites. And the only other alternative is one in which I wrote to Mr. Pease, dated January 24, he also asked me to contact Justin Horan of the Chamber of Commerce and what I said to them essentially was, "Dear Bob, Nothing meaningful happens in the community without the leadership stepping forward and motivating the public. It is my sincere hope that the Allegheny Conference will join in the efforts of Mayor Richard Caliguiri and City Council to bring the financial plight of our City to the forefront so that we can have an enabling act passed by our State Legislator." But I go on to say, "If the City cannot meeting its financial obligations, if the City goes under, the jobs will disappear. Gulf, Alcoa, U.S. Steel, etc. are not likely to put their buildings on wheels and move them elsewhere." And I think the issue is very simple. In other communities where they've had a commuter tax or gone to metropolitanism, the leadership has taken place through corporate leadership and if we are going to have a commuter tax or metropolitanism and we're going to take the monkey off the backs of the City taxpayers who just can't afford to pay one more dime in taxes, somebody better start meeting with the corporate leadership.

If you recall, we had a meeting here on land tax versus property tax. At that time, one of the representatives of all the department stores said that he's be happy to meet with me. I have talked to some of the major corporation presidents and they agree that something has to be done and one major president had the audacity to say to me, "Well, Michelle, if the City's going down the tubes, when it happens we'll bail them out." Well, that's what U.S. Steel was told and that's what a lot of people were told and then it became too late. Cleveland couldn't bail out any more. You've got to do it now before things are worse. And we better start addressing that issue and we better start addressing it now.

The Chair:

Thank you, Michelle.

Mr. Stone moved to approve the minutes of Monday, April 25, 1983 and Monday, May 2, 1983.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Stone

Council adjourned.

Discussion. I'll do it for nothing, Danny.

Mr. Pellegrini:

Will it look like nothing?

No, it will look like my house, which is very lovely. Why do you need $1,500.00, or will you use the full amount? Is the $1,500.00 just for the design?

Mr. Pellegrini:

Just for the design.

Michelle Madoff:

And, what do you plan to do after the design, do you plan to—

Mr. Pellegrini:

We want to see what the design is and how much money we have available to do it. We told them that we'd like to have a simple design so it looks nice and serves the public.

Michelle Madoff:

How do you feel about that having a priority before Council members having adequate facilities?

Mr. Pellegrini:

I don't set the--

Michelle Madoff:

I will vote no on this bill.

The Chair:

All in favor signify by saying aye.

Michelle Madoff:

Opposed.

Mr. Robinson:

Opposed.

Michelle Madoff:

Roll call vote, please.

The Chair:

So far, the Chair sees two people opposed, Michelle and Mr. Robinson. Everyone else is for.

Michelle Madoff:

May I comment before we vote, or is that out of order?

The Chair:

Go ahead.

Michelle Madoff:

I think all of us know that we need more space. Thanks to Councilman O'Malley we are getting a little more space for some of the Council members, but not everybody is being treated equally. I cannot see spending $1,500.00 just for the architectural design, then money to put in the space for the Law Department, then the equipment for the Law Department—we're not even going to buy it from repossession where you can buy it 20 cents on the dollar for the finest equipment. I think we have got to have space to serve our constituency. I would say no until Council members have adequate space.

Mrs. Masloff:

That Law Department looks like a dungeon.

Michelle Madoff:

So do some of the offices, some of them look like holes in the ground.

Mrs. Masloff:

I think that Law Department needs updated, it is a disgrace. I don't think it has been touched for 9,000 years.

Michelle Madoff:

Sophie, you're absolutely right. Have you been into Councilman Givens' office? It is so tiny you can barely turn around. He had to get another room down the hall for somebody else. Mr. Woods moved in and, because he is big and brawny he took over our board room. If I did it they would have had me evicted with the police.

The Chair:

On Bill 3013, a communication from—

Michelle Madoff:

We haven't voted on Bill 3012, have we?

The Chair:

Yes, we have.

Michelle Madoff:

What is the vote on that? May I hear the vote please.

The Chair:

Seven for, two against.

Michelle Madoff:

Does that vote stand?

The Chair:

Yes.

(END OF MICHELLE MADOFF'S REMARKS ON BILL NO. 3012)

Michelle Madoff:

For the benefit of the reporter who said that I was worried about my office not being large enough and being second only to Mr. DePasquale's, my office is not only large enough, but I have another office. I was concerned about the rest of my colleagues, and I have subsequently learned from a number of design people and builders that anybody doing the work will do the design, a $1,500 design for nothing.

On Bill 3012, to design a doorway for the Law Department will be done gratis by anybody doing the actual physical work and putting in the equipment; and for us to spend $1,500 just for a design, not even for the work, when my colleagues don't have adequate space, I think it's irresponsible, and that's my reason for voting no. First things first.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. Robinson
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. Woods
Mr. O'Malley	Mr. DePasquale (Pres't)

Mr. Flaherty:

I have a question in regard to the bills that pertain to appropriations from the Community Development Block Grants.

Michelle Madoff:

Which bill is that, Councilman?

Mr. Flaherty:

Bill No. 2838 through — well, there's about eight of them, I believe, 2838, 2988, 2989, etc; and I want to direct my question to Councilman Robinson, who chairs the Planning, Housing and Development.

Is Council going to receive any more proposed appropriations from CDB Grants in the near future, or is this the only group that we will be accepting?

Mr. Robinson:

There are approximately three or four additional requests that the Administration has made that have been held for various reasons. Of our total appropriation for Unspecified Local Options, which was $991,000, in fact, Council at my request added an additional $250,000 to the original amount, which brought us up to $991,000. Of that total amount the Administration has recommended that all but $170,000 be spent. Out of that $170,000, Councilman O'Malley introduced legislation today for $50,000, so that $170,000 is down to $120,000.

In addition to that $120,000, the City is to receive another $7.1 million, which the Administration has made some recommendations on, and a public hearing will be held on Wednesday, at 6:30 in Council Chambers; so I would anticipate that, other than the $7.1 million, that the Administration to-date has made all of the requests that they're going to make, that the bills before us plus the three or four that we're holding represent what they would like to see us do with our Community Development Block Grant money in 1983, and that we have left right now $120,000.

Mr. Flaherty:

I have another question, Bill. Do you know the number of total requests that were received at Community Development?

Mr. Robinson:

Approximately 200 requests were made, some in 1982, some in 1983. I spoke with Mr. Young, our Director of Community Development, concerning the process that was utilized. If Council will remember, about a year or so ago I had recommended that we establish some process by which we could get a better handle on the types of grants we would like to make, some deadlines in terms of submission, and some review process. The Planning Department did forward to Council some recommendations, and it is my understanding that they carried out those recommendations in 1983 in terms of guidelines.

One of the difficulties seems to be that organizations and groups that previously had submitted a request and had been turned down perhaps were not considered again in 1983, that the practicality of the situation dictated and those organizations that applied in '83 probably are the ones that received the most consideration.

Now, I think it is fair to indicate that I did discuss very extensively with Mr. Young the recommendations that he was making and what I thought we should do relative to our Community Development funds. It's rather obvious in the responses that Mr. Young gave me both verbally and in writing that the Administration, the Mayor's Office made the final determination as to which project should be submitted to us for our evaluation and our final approval or disapproval.

In that regard, the process has remained the same that is the Administration, the Mayor's Office has had the final say in terms of which projects are recommended to this Council, regardless of when an organization applied and regardless of what kind of process was utilized. I don't think there's any doubt that that occurred this year. I'm not suggesting that there's anything improper with that procedure, but I think that basically what has occurred is that the Administration has identified those projects that it thinks are worthy of funding through Unspecified Local Options, has forwarded those recommendations to us, and hopes that we will approve them.

Mr. Flaherty:

Okay, am I correct in saying that Council will only have the opportunity to weigh approximately 12 of those requests out of approximately 200 and that the others or that the remaining 188 requests were either preempted through the Mayor's Office or through the City's Department of Community Planning?

Mr. Robinson:

Most of the projects for funding are directed towards the Planning Department. This is another recommendation I have made to Council that we request groups and organizations to go to the Planning Department first, find out what the procedures are, what the requirements are, that Planning then make some recommendations to us; and I indicated that I thought that was the best way to go, because regardless of the worthiness of an organization or how much we might want to help certain individuals, if the projects don't fit into the guideline, and if all the necessary paperwork isn't done, we can't fund the project.

Council always has the option of rejecting any project that is recommended for funding. We're under no obligation to fund any of the projects that the Administration has recommended to us. We also can entertain at any time projects that are submitted directly to us. If we want to say that people can give up proposals, fine, but we still have to make sure that they meet the guideline. We have the final approval.

Of those organizations that were not funded, I looked at the total list. There were many worthy groups and organizations. I'm not quite sure of the exact criteria that the Administration used except that they excluded, as I understand it, organizations that were providing a public service. They obviously did not exclude all organizations that were providing a public service. There seems to be an interest on the part of the Administration, at least stated by Mr. Young, not to fund any type of activity that is identified as a public service. Some activity that they perceive should be funded by some government agency, some other governmental agency, some community group or organization, the United Way, etc. I don't think there is a lot of clarity on that point, and I think there are some public services that we have funded and some public services that we have decided not to fund.

The $7.1 million is coming in to the City, the new Community Development funds. To my knowledge, we could take a portion of that money and fund some of the other organizations. We could fund all of them, because with $7.1 million we literally could fund everyone who's requested funds to-date. I'm not recommending that, but I'm just saying that we do have a lot more say-so in this process, and we certainly can set requirements for how those proposals are to be received, and we can certainly determine how much of our CD funds we want to specify from Local Options.

One last comment, if I might. During budget time when we receive the Community Development Budget from the Administration, the recommendations, particularly this year I think it would be very wise for Council to look at how the Administration is proposing that we spend the CD moneys. What usually happens is that those projects that are not included in what you might call their hardbudget are then recommended for funding under Unspecified Local Options. Unspecified Local Options is the money that Council has set aside for itself to fund projects, yet we are not directly and substantively involved in that process. The Administration uses that money to fund those groups and organizations that they didn't put into the hardbudget. I don't think that's fair. I don't think that's right. I don't think that Council should continue to go along with that. We're the ones that are squeezed and harassed in some instances by community groups and organizations that feel they have a worthy cause; and when we look for money to fund them, we find that the Administration has already allocated the money or the money's no longer available.

I would hope that my colleagues would look very carefully at the CD budget proposal for 1984 and that we would take a larger portion of the Community Development dollars for our own Unspecified Local Options.

Mr. Flaherty:

Yes, I just have one more question. Had all members of Council received the names of the 200 organizations that had submitted requests?

Mr. Robinson:

To my knowledge, all of the material that was forwarded to Mr. Young's office was available to any member of Council, but there was no distribution of that information. The only indication that Council as a body had of how this money was to be allocated was when Mr. Young sent to me an official memorandum outlining that information and asked that I share it with other members of Council, so there was no knowledge on the part of Council as a body that 200 or some organizations had applied for CD funds.

Mr. Flaherty:

But did he send to you the 200 organizations?

Mr. Robinson:

No, what Mr. Young sent to me was a listing of those projects that the Administration felt they wanted to fund. He also sent to me a list of those organizations that the Administration did not want to fund. That list contained approximately 25. It was at that point when I got the information and sat down with Mr. Young to talk to him about it I asked him how many groups and organizations applied. He said, "There's about 200 because we have some from last year", and I said, were any of those groups considered this year?" He said some were, some weren't, but when I looked down the list it was obvious that most of the groups and organizations had submitted their applications this year, and most of those groups and organizations were ones that we had had some previous dealings with. Either they had come in at budget time and requested a grant or donation, or they're organizations that traditionally have requested help from Council, but there are a lot of organizations that I know of personally that were not even considered this year for whatever reason. Certainly their name was not on that list of 25.

Mr. Flaherty:

Had they supplied the criteria for either accepting or rejecting any of the request? For example, was there the reasoning beside each of the requests or no? Did they just say accept it, reject it?

Mr. Robinson:

The ones that were rejected, there was a column which indicated why it was being rejected. Most of the organizations that were denied funding were identified as organizations providing a public service. I discussed this issue extensively.

Michelle Madoff:

What do you mean by public service?

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. Young indicated to me that it was his understanding that a public service was some type of service that was provided by an agency such as the United Way or should be provided by them and was something that government, at least our government, should not be funding. I disagreed with him because I told him I did not think we had a valid criteria or definition for public service and that many of the groups and organizations that we were funding indeed were providing a public service. I mentioned last Wednesday that Pittsburgh Action Against Rape provides a public service, and if we followed Mr. Young's line of reasoning, we would not be funding it, and there's several other organizations that perhaps we'll fund today that are public-service oriented. Very specifically, Councilman Flaherty, I have not received from Mr. Young the written criteria by which the groups and organizations were selected, but the vast majority that were rejected were rejected because they provided a public service. I did indicate to Mr. Young that I felt that we needed Council and the Administration to sit down and very carefully identify what types of projects we were willing to fund and that we should be very forward and very honest with the public if we did not want to fund public services, but there was no doubt in my mind that with the cut-backs at the state and federal levels, many worthy groups and organizations were going to ask us to fund programs. Pittsburgh Action Against Rape is a prime example. There will be more, not fewer, and unless we have a good solid criteria, we will simply be making political decisions on each and every group, and we'll be back to where we were before, with literally no criteria except what organization can muster five votes, and I don't think that that's the way we ought to be operating.

Michelle Madoff:

May I add to that, Councilman Robinson? The other day I went to the CTAC reception, and I was delighted to be introduced to a gentleman who is now in charge of disbursing and gathering funds from private corporations, their charitable dollars; and as you know, during the budget time last year many groups came to us, and they were unprepared, they don't even know how to prepare a proposal; and this Council has been very — in the past not been too happy with the CTAC Community Technical Assistance Center. It seems to have got its act together and is doing a much better job, and much of their projects are being funded through this private sector dollars and through this gentleman is handling, I don't have his name, handling the dollars, but I think your point is so well taken that we're damned if we do and damned if we don't.

Who is going to vote against giving money to cerebral palsy? Who is going to vote against an elevator for the handicapped people, cerebral palsy, people who can't get into an elevator? There are many causes just as worthy, and I think that what we need to do is to start exercising the power of this Council, and that is with six votes we can veto what the Mayor may or may not propose; and I think your position that we take a large portion of the dollars and decide how that money is going to be spent and go beyond that to help groups that don't even know how to prepare proposals, see that they know that CTAC is available to them and see that on a priority level we don't accept one and turn another down. For example, what bothers me the most right at the moment is the CAPI group that came to us, couldn't even get a hearing before this Council, because they are cut off with CAPI dollars; and they are in the middle of a course to learn how to be computer technologists. They're almost through their course, and there's all kinds of jobs for those people, but there's no money to finish their training. Now, that would be something that would be so productive. It would create jobs and tax base and so on; and I think that what is in order, if you might accept a suggestion, Councilman Robinson, is a public hearing. You know this business of your saying, and I have done it with the Mayor repeatedly and others have, and I know, Mr. DePasquale has tried, that we ought to sit down with the Administration and talk is a lot of rhetoric. It's like hitting your head against a stone wall. They're not going to do it. What we need to do is schedule a hearing and invite the Administration and the Planning Department and say, "Now here is our concerns. We want to come up with legislation, and this is how it's going to be, and we're going to stick together as a body on Council, and you're going to have to deal with us." We're not going to be windowdressing.

Mr. Robinson:

If I just might remind Council that every year since we've had Community Development Block Grant funds in the City there has been a mandated public hearing at which time the Administration does come in and make their presentation as to how they think these funds should be spent. That hearing is preceded by a number of community hearings, so there is lots of opportunity for us to do it. What has happened in the past is that members of Council when they attend those hearings and participate very seldom make the kind of suggestion that you just made; that is, in terms of saying we are going to introduce legislation. If Council will remember several months ago, I introduced a bill into Council to specifically earmark how our Community Development Block Grant funds would be spent; and the Administration indicated they did not think that the procedures that I suggested made very much sense, so unless we will support Council-drafted legislation as to how these CD funds will be spent and unless we speak up at these hearings, we will always be in this bind where the Administration will make the sole decision as to who gets the money and doesn't; and then we will be left with the responsibility of trying to make excuses to those groups and organizations that don't receive the money.

I'll say it just one more time. There is enough money in the City of Pittsburgh for us to equitably distribute it among worthy and needy groups and organizations. If we set up an orderly process, everyone can, in fact, get an opportunity for some CD money.

Mr. O'Malley:

I have just a couple of quick questions. Out of $991,000 that we received on Council as Unspecified Local Options and $821,000 been spent, were any of those programs initiated by members of this Council? Were they all from the Administration?

Mr. Robinson:

To my knowledge, the only project that was recommended by a member of Council where a member of Council actually sponsored legislation was the bill that Councilman Givens sponsored to provide $22,500 for the Bloomfield-Garfield Corporation. In fairness to the Administration, many members of Council are in correspondence and in communication with the Administration and Mr. Young of the Planning Department relative to organizations and groups they think should be funded, so I am not sure if all the groups and organizations that have been recommended for funding are groups and organizations that solely were picked by the Administration. In fact, I know that the Administration does get some input from individual members of Council; and when the legislation comes through, it comes through from the Administration.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me. Wasn't the Women's Shelter one of the groups?

Mr. Robinson:

The Women's Shelter proposal, if I'm not mistaken, was submitted by the Administration.

Michelle Madoff:

No, sir, I think it came from this Council.

Mr. O'Malley:

I think what Bill Robinson is saying, Tom and Michelle, is that Unspecified Local Options held by City Council is money to be appropriated by members of this Council; and what he's saying is out of $991,000 that's used for our discretionary fund the Administration has already spent $821,000.

Mr. Flaherty:

I agree.

Mr. O'Malley:

Now, when you come up with a program or Michelle comes up with a program, I came up with Pittsburgh Action Against Rape, which I think is a worthwhile program, the Women's Shelter, when we come with our own programs, there's not going to be any money left, and a lot of the times this Council is the last resort a lot of people and a lot groups have; and I think what Mr. Robinson is saying is we better start taking a closer look at what the Administration sends over here, and if need be vote it down.

One more quick point, Bill. We always say that these programs are picked by the Administration. Now, when you say the Administration, are they picked by Mayor Caliguiri or are they picked by Mr. Young? I mean, who is the Administration? I would rather have a program picked by Councilman Robinson, Councilman Flaherty, and Michelle Madoff so we know we can define who picked that program. By sending over a blank 30 programs to be funded, I don't think it's right, and I think we ought to certainly look into approving those bills a little more closely.

Mr. Robinson:

I think that if Council thinks back to the Monday session when I recommended that we delete $250,000 from an Administration proposal and add that $250,000 to our Unspecified Local Options Fund, you will see even more clearly our dilemma. If you now subtract $250,000 from our Unspecified Local Options, you will be subtracting $250,000 from $120,000. I mean literally there was not going to be any Unspecified Local Option money for us to utilize. That $250,000 took us up from $771,000. That's all the Administration had made provision for, and I remember during budget saying to this Council let's take 10 percent of the Community Development dollars and put them in Unspecified Local Options, which would have given us approximately $2.2 million.

The Administration recommended $771,000. I indicated we should take another $250,000, so while we are now aghast at the fact there's only $120,000 left, if the Administration had had their way, there would be absolutely nothing.

Michelle Madoff:

Aye, and I would just like to point out there is a hearing coming up, is there not, Mr. Robinson, scheduled on exactly the subject? I think it's June something.

Mr. Robinson:

Hearing on which subject?

Michelle Madoff:

Exactly what we've been discussing now. There's a public hearing on appropriation. It was advertised in the paper.

Mr. Robinson:

If I'm not mistaken, that hearing is this coming Wednesday at 6:30 in City Council Chambers. That's on the $7.1 million in additional money.

Michelle Madoff:

That's correct, and I think we ought to be here.

Mr. Robinson:

Yes, I think Council should always keep in mind that regardless of what the Administration is proposing to us, we still have the ability to determine how we want the money spent; and I would suggest to Council that of that $7.1 million that we take a good portion of it for projects that we want to see funded and that we make some recommendations to ourselves and that we be courageous enough and straightforward enough to indicate that we want to have direct input into how that money is spent.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the bills?

And on the question, "Shall the bills pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. Robinson
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. DePasquale
Mr. O'Malley	(Pres't)

AYES 7 NOES none

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bills passed finally.

Mrs. Masloff presented

Bill No. 3103

Report of the Committee on Parks and Recreation for May 18, 1983 transmitting two resolutions to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

The cost of the program is not to exceed $30,000.00 and is chargeable to and payable from Code Account Special Parks Program Trust Fund (SPPTF), in the Department of Parks and Recreation."

Which was read.

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Members of Pittsburgh City Council, hereby welcome Avraham Shifrin to our City, and honor him for his courageous stand in the face of oppression, and for drawing our attention to the importance of human rights and the dignity of life.

Mrs. Masloff moved to adopt the resolution.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I have two quick items. Mr. Perry, the Shady Lane Improvement Council sent a petition in with reference to the Giant Eagle parking situation. Have you scheduled a hearing for that?

Mr. Perry:

Tuesday, June 28.

Michelle Madoff:

May I suggest that before Tuesday, June 28, you have the appropriate agency, Planning, meet with Mr. Porter. He has told me that he is prepared to take care of the problem.

Mr. Perry:

We'll still have that hearing.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, what I'm saying is that you may not want to have a hearing. He may just take care of it.

Mr. Perry:

We have it by law on the zoning.

Michelle Madoff:

Fine. But I'm just telling you it would be a good idea, a) to let Mr. Porter know I've got his address and his given me a promise that he's going to take care of the problem. That's item one.

Item two - Do you recall, Mr. President, the other day I questioned a piece of property because the name sounded familiar to me, on Zamma Road and we took it off and it's like, you know, unless you live in the area, you don't know about it. I'm familiar with only two pieces of property that have come before this Council that registered with me. One was on Belfont Street that we were asking $2,300 for and I put in a bid to prove that there was property available that was good property and I bid, I think $6,000, and gave it to the two young people who wanted it and didn't charge them a penny just to make the point that the properties were available.

Well, this Zamma property, I've been trying to buy it for fifteen years. I was confused. There were two properties. Zamma sounded familiar and there's another road down the street behind the Beechwood fence, you know where the Beechwood Gardens used to be, the part that just sort of overlooks, and there's another road behind that where they do the dumping. And I couldn't believe when they said $500 for Zamma Road, I said I've got to be mistaken, it's got to be the wrong piece of property. Well, I went over and looked at the property yesterday and I'm going to be checking it out. The information I have is that they're asking $500 and that the reason for that is that they bought it for, I don't know whether it was a taking or a tax problem, in 1946. The people who lived there, a physician and his wife, have been trying to buy that property because it abuts their property, so they had called me about it.

I understand that Howard Hannah said it's only worth $460. Well, I want to speak to Howard Hannah about that. Presumably, there's no water or sewage on the property but the property is less than a quarter of a block from Beechwood Boulevard. It is one back yard lot from houses on one side and across the street from houses on the other side. So, we're not talking about going far to get sewage, electricity and utilities.

I want that one check very thoroughly and I will personally be looking into it. That gets back to my point of giving everybody equal access. Somebody went down, as I understand, the people who are interested in buying this property said, "We'd like to buy a piece of property to buy a house" and somebody went through and showed them this nice piece of property. Well, that's very nice but I would like to know that every person out there, people maybe wanting to build their own homes or maybe the reason they're not building it is the cost of the property would offset the cost of the interest and mortgage rates. If you could buy a piece of property like that for $500, even $5,000, it is a steal.

Mrs. Masoff:

Michelle, wasn't that property always there, available for anybody to go and look and bid on it?

Michelle Madoff:

No, because I tried to buy it and I couldn't get any information for fifteen years.

The Chair:

If I may, Sophie and Michelle, I wanted to say that over a year ago this party that put the money down on the property showed interest. And it's just been over a year. So, I mean, it's no secret that that property was available and people were interested. This party here, I know over a year ago, called me about it. All I told them was to go down there and see the people in Lands and Buildings and find out what they had to do.

Michelle Madoff:

The last time I heard about a piece of property on Zamma Road, I was told it was a steep cliffside with hills. I will hold a press conference on that site. It is level and beautiful and right off of Beechwood Boulevard. And as Mr. Stone said, you don't buy anything in Squirrel Hill for $500.

I have one other item of business, please. Mr. President, I need some guidance on an issue. What is the ruling or the wish of this Council when it comes to attending hearings that relate to City business? There's going to be a hearing in Washington coming up on July 13 and I don't believe there's any fee for it as far as I understand, it's a technical workshop on organic chemicals and how to treat our water system, which certainly would interest me. And I would probably drive down and it might be an overnight stay and there's a hotel room involved. But what is the ruling of this Council --

The Chair:

Michelle Madoff, it's strange me telling you this because you're the one who always hollers junkets, but any business pertaining to the City of Pittsburgh, any Councilmember can attend.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't think it's exactly a junket. But that was not my question.

The Chair:

Well, I'm just saying, if you want to go, you're entitled to go.

Michelle Madoff:

That's not my question. May I complete my question?

The Chair:

Your question was that somebody should go or you want to go.

Michelle Madoff:

No, my question is I will probably go. But my question is, what is the policy of this Council on administrative assistants going, because I would like my administrative assistance who represents me with the Water Department to be well versed in the clean-up of water.

The Chair:

I'm not sure but I think you have a problem.

Michelle Madoff:

Department heads send --

The Chair:

A Councilmember can go but I doubt if you can send someone --

Michelle Madoff:

The reason I'm asking is that department heads send other people who work for them. There may not be any money involved at all.

The Chair:

I would check it out with the Law Department. I know that the Mayor permits anybody from the Administration to go. I don't know if it's Council's prerogative to designate a research assistant.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't either and that's why I'm asking. Could we get a legal opinion?

Mr. O'Malley:

I think what Michelle Madoff is saying is that our administrative aides are just as important to us as some department heads' aides are to them.

The Chair:

I'm not arguing that, Mr. O'Malley. I just don't know if they're allowed to go. It's alright with me, I couldn't care less. I'm just saying that we want to do it the right way.

Michelle Madoff:

I want to do it the right way.

The Chair:

If it's that important and a member can't attend, I think they should send somebody to attend. But are we allowed? That's the thing.

Michelle Madoff:

That's what I want to find out.

Mr. O'Malley:

I think we're allowed. I don't think the press is going to agree that this Council has a right to go away and when you vote on a $22 million project —

The Chair:

If you're going to worry about the press then don't bring it up. They're not going to agree to any trip that Council or any of Council's aides take.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, there's a tremendous amount of money that's going to have to be spent in the Water Department, as we all know, we're talking about millions of dollars in treatment, and today there was a bill that came up on a spectrometer for $10,000 stating that the one we have now is obsolete and cannot adequately measure the safety of our water.

For the benefit of the media, I have a given allotment, as everybody else does in Council, of X dollars for a staff. I divide that money up among two people so that my aide can basically be here when it's important in Council to know what's going on. In the same way, she can deal with Mr. Richard Cosentino when there's a water problem. She was the one who brought to my attention a) this seminar, and also brought to my attention some things that are going to be discussed at the seminar. For her to be of value to me, I think it is terribly important that she should be at this meeting. I don't know what the ruling is. As a matter of fact, I don't think there's any money involved in it, but there may be a hotel room if circumstances are such that we have a hearing the next day and we have to fly or fly back, I would like a ruling, Mr. Perry. Can we get a ruling on that?

Mr. Perry:

Sure.

Mr. Woods moved to excuse Mr. Givens and Mr. Stone for absence from the meeting.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff moved to approve the minutes of Monday, May 9, 1983.

Mr. Flaherty seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mrs. Masloff:

I move to adjourn and meet again next Tuesday, May 31, 1983, at 2:00 p.m.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mrs. Masloff

Council adjourned.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

The Chair presents

No. 3131 Communication from Richard S. Caliguiri, Mayor, City of Pittsburgh, returning with his veto of Council Bill No. 2940 entitled, "Resolution authorizing and directing the Mayor to form a committee consisting of heavy equipment operators and mechanics to inspect, operate, and evaluate used equipment for purchase by the City in order to obtain the best buy based on condition, prior use, maintenance, and price."

Which was read, received and filed.

(MAYOR'S VETO LETTER)

May 27, 1983

Honorable President and Members
City Council
City of Pittsburgh

Dear Mr. President and Members:

I am returning Council Bill 2940 which establishes a committee of heavy equipment operators and mechanics to inspect, operate and evaluate used heavy equipment for purchase by the City.

The Director of Supplies informs me that individuals who have heavy equipment experience participate in the formulation of specifications for the purchase of heavy equipment and evaluations of the bids received in response to those specifications. He has further informed me that he has no objection to purchasing used heavy equipment where it is in the best interests of the City to do so. It must be realized, however, that the purchase of used equipment does not always result in true cost-savings. Used equipment costs less because the free market finds that it is worth less.

Attached is the opinion of the City Solicitor in which he held that Council Bill 2940 is an infringement upon my executive powers and is illegal. For the foregoing reasons I am returning this Bill to Council as vetoed.

Very truly yours,

Richard S. Caliguiri

/aml

(END OF LETTER)

Michelle Madoff moved to override the Mayor's veto.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. I would like to state on my oath that the Mayor and I have talked, I have talked to Mr. Schmeiser and I talked to our former Supplies Director and the present Supplies Director and they've all given me their word that they were going to look into buying not "used" necessarily, in the sense of being worn out, but repossessed equipment. Mayor Caliguiri told me as long as two years ago when we sat down and talked about whether I was going to run for Mayor in our little discussion that he had no objections to buying used equipment, at being innovative.

I've said before and I'm being redundant, the Government can no longer run by bureaucracy, it's going to have to run by innovation. We don't have money. When you go out and buy new desks for CETA jobs, we put $1,500 into just doing a door, designing a doorway for the Law Department when the people doing the work will design it for nothing. The Water Department tells me they're going to need close to $1 million just to survive. We had one back-hoe that I had to plead and beg to get $50,000 out of last year's budget to buy one, I believe, new back-hoe. The men are working.

I just came down from Greenleaf and the equipment that we're using and the roads are block off. We're having men with shovels when we could be using equipment. We're not cost effective, we don't have the equipment for the people, and one of the ways, unfortunately because of the economy, is to buy repossessed equipment that could still be under warranty. You can buy $70,000 back-hoes for $17,000 yet we're taking back-hoes, and I have the figures on them, that have been repaired. They're seventeen years old. We've paid almost as much in repairs as what we paid to buy them. We're renting them to replace equipment. We're renting equipment that we could be buying repossessed. I'm not talking about buying something that's falling apart. The line from the Mayor, "used equipment cost less because the free market finds it is worth less", I don't think that an executive's desk that cost $5,000 that you can buy for pennies on the dollar costs less because it's used, it's because they went out of business. And it is irresponsible for him not to think in terms of the millions of dollars that we spend in equipment a year and that we ought to be looking to be buying some of this equipment, not all of it, certainly we don't want to buy fire trucks or paramedic trucks, we don't want to do anything illogical.

My office desk for my aide, every time she opens the drawer it falls out. It's the cheapest of the line. We could have bought for half that money something that would last twenty times as long if we bought repossessed equipment. I don't understand. It is simply a matter of not working with Council and taking the attitude you're not going to tell me I am the Mayor and again we don't have our own fiscal advisor and we're right back to the same old situation. I think it is really shocking. I hope that Council will move to override. I don't expect it but I would hope and urge my Councilmembers.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President and members of Council, I'd just like to make reference to the opinion that Mr. Pellegrini sent to us which is attached to the Mayor's letter. My reason for supporting the motion to override is that I don't believe that Section 201 of the Home Rule Charter applies to Council Bill 2940. I don't believe there's anything in the bill which suggests that in any way the committee that the bill recommends or any actions to be taken by this Council in any way would supersede any of the powers that are vested in the Mayor by way of the Charter and in no way would stop the Mayor for being accountable for the operation of the executive branch of government.

So, my reasons for supporting the override are based, in my belief, that Section 201 of the City Charter does not apply to this particular bill.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, if you will indulge me for a moment. I am not feeling too well and I forgot two points that I wanted to mention.

I brought this bill up several times and I attached a print out from a magazine and I just don't recall, I think it's in Arizona, Scottsdale, Arizona, they're already doing this and they've found it is saving hundreds of thousands of dollars on top of which I don't want to embarrass the department head but one of our department heads, head of one of our major divisions, called me last week and asked whether I could possibly introduce a bill because they had been at an auction and had seen all this marvelous equipment they could use and it was so reasonable they couldn't believe it and in such marvelous shape. And I said, "We found out we cannot go to auction because we have to go in the bid system. We have to put it out for a bid. The lowest bid gets the contract." And what I'm suggesting is that we send our bids out, our requests for proposals or items, to the repossession houses like Allis Chalmers, etc., etc., and we make an effort to let them know what our needs are.

Other cities are already doing it. Why are we always followers and why are we not leaders?

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, if I may address Michelle. George Jacoby has assured me that he is going to start doing it immediately.

Michelle Madoff:

Then why is the Mayor vetoing it?

Mr. Woods:

Well, he's vetoing the bill but I spoke to George a number of weeks ago and they're already looking into it, they're setting up a mechanism to go into it now. They are going to do it.

Michelle Madoff:

Ben, you gave me your word that you agreed and I trust your word and I was having a Miss Williams who represents Allis Chalmers come to see you but she has not had the opportunity yet, and I will have other people get in touch with you.

However, when the Mayor gives his word, I find his word is not always a binding situation. I find when Dan Pellegrini's law opinions are not always necessarily -- If Scottsdale can do it, we can do it.

I'm giving the Mayor his own suggestion back. All I'm doing is taking what he said to me and putting it in writing. He said to me, "What we ought to do, Michelle, is set up a body of people who know how to go out and evaluate the equipment and then we could know whether it's qualified, whether it's good to buy. We would be pre-assessing it." I'm only taking what he said and what, and I want to be lady-like, but what that gentleman is doing, and I use the term loosely, is just deliberately saying, "If it comes out of Council -- I rule this City and I'm King Tut, and that's the way it's going to be and nobody is going to tell me how to run this Administration." And we're not saying we want to run it but, darn it, we'd like to work with him and I wish he'd give us an opportunity.

Mr. Woods:

But I can assure you that it's going to start happening through the Supplies Department.

Michelle Madoff:

But that's not really good enough, Ben, because we need a committee to look at this equipment. Do you want the responsibility?

The Chair:

Let's not get into a discussion about the relative merits of buying used equipment, okay?

Mr. Woods:

As soon as these people get in touch with me, I'll have them meet with George Jacoby and a few of the other people in the Supplies Department and we'll get this thing rolling. But they've already started doing it themselves.

Michelle Madoff:

But, you see, the point I'm making, Mr. Woods, is that you and I and I think every logical, sensible person realizes that with today's economy, with what's happened to the steel industry, there are executive offices and places and we can buy lots of back-hoes and what have you. There's no doubt, even in the Mayor's mind, that we can do that. But he suggested, and I agreed with him, that we ought to have a body of people who are skilled in knowing whether the equipment is good. You and I aren't qualified to judge that. And the thing will rebound and say, "See, you went out and bought something and it didn't last." Of course we could always put it back up for auction and get our money back. But that isn't the point. The point is that we need this body of people even if they're saying they're going to give it to us second hand, we need someone to evaluate.

Mr. Woods:

They have people to evaluate.

Michelle Madoff:

They why don't we set up a commission to do it?

Mr. Woods:

I can't answer that but all I'm saying is --

Michelle Madoff:

You can't answer why the Mayor is ornery and neither can I.

Mr. Woods:

Let me finish. Your suggestion has been well taken and you've been on it for a number of months and I give you credit for it and now they're going to do it.

Michelle Madoff:

I sometimes think if you had an original idea you get a headache.

The Chair:

Question called for on the motion. All in favor, aye to override the veto and nay to sustain the veto.

Michelle Madoff:

How many votes do we need?

The Chair:

You need six votes to override.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, it's going to be tough.

Mr. Given:

I wish Mr. Flaherty was here because there was a time when Ben was making some comments on his remarks that we formed this authority. We went out and floated a bond for $10 million. We've really upgraded our fleet throughout the City of Pittsburgh, some 1,300 pieces of equipment down there. Our Department of Public Works does the same type of work generally as far as the Department of Water, as far as digging up the streets and sewers, etc.

We don't seem to have that problem down there. We have a budgetary time of the year and I think this has come up previously but in my 28 years of experience, Michelle, I'd have to go against any company that would have the purchasing power to go out and try to purchase second hand equipment because you do not know what you're getting and you can get a pile of junk. When you buy something new, you generally have a warranty on that particular product and as a result you have technicians that can come in and help you out plus we have a considerable investment in our City garage to rebuild any of our equipment and we should not have to go out and buy second hand equipment and start rebuilding it. We should have it new. We keep that force as low as possible and the City of Pittsburgh generally gets rid of its equipment as soon as it becomes cost effective.

So, I vote no to sustain the Mayor's veto.

Michelle Madoff:

For exactly the reasons that Mr. Givens has stated, and that is that we have equipment but we do not have the equipment in the Water Department, that is my department, I've already spoken with Mr. Stonea and even he realizes, as Finance Chairman, that we have some real problems. We're four years behind in water leaks. We just don't have the equipment to do the job and much of the equipment, Mr. Givens, is already in warranty that we can buy. It's just because people went bankrupt. I'm not saying to go out and buy a piece of junk. I'm saying hire people who can tell us what's good and what's bad and who are experienced, not only in outside equipment —

Mr. Givens:

Michelle, for specialized equipment we go out and rent a lot of it.

Michelle Madoff:

Yes, and it's costing us more than fixing a seventeen year old back-hoe. I don't understand what you're saying. I vote to override the Mayor's veto.

Mr. O'Malley:

I vote no for the simple reason that I'd like to give my colleague, Mr. Woods, and Mr. Jacoby the opportunity. I'm going to give them ninety days to implement a procedure for purchasing second hand equipment. Then, at the end of those ninety days, if that procedure is not in place, I'm going to support my colleague because I agree with her.

Mr. Stone:

I'm voting no for this reason. I believe the legal opinion is accurate. On the other hand, however, I would not like it to pass that the suggestion is totally wrong. If we can get the opportunity to buy heavy equipment, we ought to be looking at it. I think the thing that complicates it, however, is the fact that it's not as easy doing it but, nevertheless, I think there's a way we ought to be looking at the good used equipment, no matter what it is, but regretfully, on the committee itself, I think the legal opinion is correct and I vote no.

Mr. Woods:

I'm voting no also for the reason that I believe we have the people who have the knowledge to go out and look at this used equipment and I believe Michelle deserves all the credit because she has been on this thing for some time about doing this. And we're going to do it.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

Which was read.

Mr. Robinson:

On Bill 3032, I would just like to reacquaint Council with a continuing concern that I have relative to the utilization of local businesses where appropriate. While I recognize that Moore Business Forms, Incorporated is a very fine and qualified firm in the fine city of Philadelphia, it would seem to me that this is another indicator that much of the business purchasing of this City is done outside the City of Pittsburgh. I believe Mrs. Madoff did some research which indicates that 90 percent of our purchasing occurs outside the City of Pittsburgh.

I would hope that Council, in the future, would lend its support to the notion that where we can purchase locally, that it's in our best interest, as well as the best interest of the business concern. Thank you.

Also,

Bill No. 3033

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for the issuance of a warrant in favor of James L. Box 11460, Guys Run Road, Pittsburgh, PA, for the study of wheelchair accessibility in the Downtown, Oakland and residential areas, at a cost not to exceed $40,000.00."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, on Bill 2995, I'm voting for the bill that $40,000 for the study to see about accessibility for wheelchairs. I believe it's excessive but I think the group doing it is knowledgeable. There are other groups that could have been doing it and we're moving in haste as usual. Council is again the one, you know, we're put on the spot. We're damned if we do and we're damned if we don't. How could Council not vote for people who need wheelchair accessibility. We'd be cruel and heartless and I certainly wouldn't vote against that.

On the other hand, I don't really believe we need to spend $40,000 to do the job. I put Mr. Lurcott on notice that in the future, I don't want to have these last minute kind of projects. I want to know months and months and months in advance and I want to know who else he's talked to and whether we can start keeping some of our costs down, not only buying second hand but by going out on contracts.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, I'd just like to comment on 2995. I basically echo Mrs. Madoff's concern. While I can appreciate the necessity for addressing the issue of persons confined wheelchairs and making sure that our City is accessible to them, it would seem to me that we certainly have done a lot of work in this area, that we certainly have efficient information and that there certainly are organizations that have volunteered this kind of information to not only Council but to the Administration and to spend $40,000 at this point on this study probably would not be the wisest use of that money and I'm going to be unable to support Council Bill 2995.

Mr. O'Malley:

I vote aye on all bills with the exception of Bill 2995. I agree with my colleague, Councilman Robinson. I'd rather see the $40,000 used to repair or put in new curbs for accessibility for people that are handicapped in wheelchairs instead of spending $40,000 for the study on it.

Also,

Bill No. 3029

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for an Agreement or Agreements with the Port Authority of Allegheny County for continuation of the Hill District and Oakland Loop Bus."

Which was read.

Mr. Robinson:

I'd just like to comment on Bill 3029. I'd just like to thank all of the people at the Port Authority and within the City of Pittsburgh government and especially my colleagues here on Council for the very fine job they have done in attempting to keep the Oakland Loop Bus operating and I'm sure the people in both the Hill and Oakland appreciate that. This program, as many of you know, has been one of the more successful demonstration programs that came out of the early Model Cities Program and I'd just like to thank everyone for their kind assistance and cooperation in keeping this program operating. Thank you.

Mr. Givens:

I vote no on Bill 3029 and I'd like to clarify my remarks. We're talking about some $200,000 and this, as indicated, was a Model Cities carry-over. Model Cities in the Hill was to develop the Hill and it was in this disruptive period that the people could get because many of their market places were being torn up and built and rebuilt again. But it's gone on and on and on and I'd have to say that we're just specializing in one particular area of the City. And I think if we have to do it for one then we should do it for others. I think of the Garfield areas, the Homewood-Brushton areas, the Polish Hill areas, the North Side areas, the upper parts and especially the South Side areas and almost the total West End could use the same type of treatment. And I say if we can do it for one then we should do it for all. And I think we have run out of time with trying to fund some $200,000 to have this loop service. PAT provides public transportation. This is subsidizing transportation for one small local area of the City of Pittsburgh. And because of that and what's happening in the real world today, I'd like to see that $200,000 go into jobs and go into food.

So, for that reason, I have to vote no on Bill 3029.

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, you make a good point. I was on the Model Cities Committee at the time when this was first discussed. But the reason they've carried on is not because of the Model Cities, which is no longer in operation, it's because of the area being one of the most impoverished in the City of Pittsburgh. It probably has more senior citizens than any area of the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Givens:

I'll take you to many other areas in the City of Pittsburgh and we'll find the same thing.

The Chair:

For that reason and no other reason, there's no tie anymore with Model Cities, obviously, because it doesn't exist, or the so-call Economic Opportunity Act of the Poverty Program. But this is due to the fact —

Mr. Givens:

Many of these other areas that I mentioned have the same problems.

The Chair:

The area is hard pressed and it's been an on-going program and it would be a shame, I think, to stop it.

Mr. Givens:

The people from Homewood-Brushton, for example, have to come all the way into East Liberty in order to do their major shopping. South Side is the same way.

The Chair:

You make a very good point. I'm not going to argue with that. I'm just saying that there's no reason to stop this program because of the others.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I think your point is very well taken. The program doesn't exist. You can't isolate these people. They can't get cabs to take them into their communities. People are afraid to go up there. They have the same right of transportation and we have an obligation to people who don't. Today, 60 percent of those youth aren't working. Their families aren't working and how anybody could vote against that is beyond me.

Mr. Givens:

People in other areas of the City of Pittsburgh feel the same way, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm not through, Mr. Givens. You're being rude.

I would like to point out that my colleague, Mr. Givens, has voted for his interests where he wanted a community, and we supported him, Arsenal and some of the Bloomfield-Garfield, because we think they were worthy and we voted with him. On the East Liberty projects he voted very vehemently for it and we supported him and I think his voting against people who cannot help themselves is a very sad, sad thing.

Mr. Givens:

I will not sit here, Mr. President, and listen to that personal comment.

The Chair:

Mr. Givens made some good points even though I don't agree with him.

Mr. Robinson:

I'd like to make one additional comment on 3029, if I might. I think Council will remember when this issue came up last year and the year before that, we received signatures on petitions that equal $5,000 plus. And I think it's been a long time since anyone on this Council can remember any project, any community service that's had that kind of wide community support and I am proud of this Council for supporting this project if for no other reason it certainly has been the people's choice. I think the one thing that sometimes some of us forget is that we're here to represent all the people and sometimes all the people are special people and we always have to make distinctions and we always have to help somebody and someone is always left unhelped. But I think in our attempt to help everybody that we have done the best we can and here is an example where the people themselves have come to us in large numbers and asked us to please help them. And I think $200,000 is a small amount to pay to be responsive to our constituents and I would hope as other communities come with that same kind of outpouring, that we'll show the same kind of compassion and good sense to help them. There is enough to go around if we're just compassionate and understand and sensible about it.

The Chair:

Also,

Bill No. 3030

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution amending Resolution No. 589, effective July 2, 1981, as previously amended by Resolution No. 1103, effective November 12, 1981, entitled, 'Authorizing a Cooperation Agreement or Agreements between the City of Pittsburgh and the Urban Redevelopment Authority of Pittsburgh for the utilization and implementation of the following programs: Neighborhood Commercial Improvement Program (CP-81-12); Urban Redevelopment Authority Planning, Management and Administration of City Projects (CP-81-07); the Urban Redevelopment Authority Property Management Program (UR-81-01); Urban Redevelopment Authority Planning, Management and Administration of City Projects (CP-81-09); and the Hill District Project Area Committee - Consulting Services (ULO), so as to increase the amount allocated for the Hill District Project Area Committee - Consulting Services' from $100,000 to $135,000."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Robinson, in Bill 3030, this is basically money for restoring, rehabing, bringing back life to the Hill area?

Mr. Robinson:

No, this money specifically is going to be utilized by the Project Area Committee in the Hill to make sure that they have the proper staff and that they have the proper administrative structure to work along with the City of Pittsburgh and the Urban Redevelopment Authority and identifying developers to continue the development in the Hill.

Last year we made a commitment to them of $100,000 and now the request is being made to add an additional $35,000 to that. I believe that the Urban Redevelopment Authority will be putting in a significant amount of money so that the program there can continue.

Michelle Madoff:

Could you give me some idea of what that money will be used for? I really don't understand. You're quite vague. I don't mean to pin you down but I'd like a little more detail.

Mr. Robinson:

Well, very specifically, presently there is a consultant, Mr. Earl Onque, who is a noted architect here in the City who has been preparing some drawings, some actual plans that will be submitted by the Project Area Committee to the Urban Redevelopment Authority. There's a gentleman by the name of Mr. Charles Biggs who is a staff members of the Hill District PAT. Those two individuals plus a secretary work for the Hill District PAT organization and they have a contractual relationship, PAT does, between itself and the Urban Redevelopment Authority and this money would be utilized to continue those three employees.

Michelle Madoff:

Okay, so these are salaries we're talking about?

Mr. Robinson:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

That is not the money we're really going to need to get the drug addicts out of the corners and open up the shop and that's what I was trying -- It seemed like such a small amount of money that it didn't make any sense. That's why I wanted some clarification from you. Thank you.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I have a letter that arrived at my home, I'm a member of the Pittsburgh Clean City Committee. I was originally on their board to promulgate legislation and I dropped off that because I didn't think it was fair to be writing bills and voting for them.

But I got this letter and I presume the other members of Council who ran for office got the same letter.

"Dear Ms. Madoff,

Now that the '83 Primary has come to a close, the Pittsburgh Clean City Committee, Inc. requests your assistance in its overall clean city effort.

You can help by removing any signs or posters that may have been placed on poles or other public places to promote your candidacy.

I would also recommend that in future campaigns you consider using lawn signs to get your message to the people.

If you have any questions or if I can be of any assistance, please don't hesitate to contact me at 642-2770.

Thank you for helping us make Pittsburgh a Cleaner City.

Sincerely,

MARIBETH SALLEY
Executive Director, P.C.C.C., Inc.

MBS/ps"

I am going to ask Mr. Perry to propose a bill, and I don't know the legalities and if you'd send it to the Law Department for me, that anybody running for office would post a $100 or $200 bond, $100 I think would be fair, for perhaps refuse people or our Public Works people or whoever are out and could take down signs. For example, I had very few out but there was one sign on Greenleaf up on somebody's garage, I noticed he took it down. But there's no way I could physically get up and I did not ask the person to put it there, I appreciate it, but I would like to see my signs down and I would be willing to pay $100 or $200 as a candidate up front before I run to make sure that signs would be removed. I see signs half ripped, pieces of wood up and it really makes the City very unsightly. I really think that we can't pass legislation saying keep the City clean and then be irresponsible.

The Chair:

If you charge per sign you'll bust Mr. Givens out.

Michelle Madoff:

That's one of the thoughts I had in mind. Not really. That was a joke, Mr.

Givens.

I have one other item. I did not see this article in the Post Gazette, Wednesday, May 25. It says:

"Cable Consultant Urged Pittsburgh's Cable Advisory Board looking into Warner Cable's proposed rate increase declined last night to recommend that City Council approve or disapprove the hikes. It said it had too little information and urged Council to hire an independent financial consultant to analyze Warner's books before making a decision. Council has scheduled a public hearing June 9 at 10:30 a.m."

That is what I've been asking this Council to do.

Mr. Woods:

I didn't see that article either.

Michelle Madoff:

I know. I didn't think you had. A five to four vote and I hope next term we'll have a five-four vote reversed.

Mr. Givens moved to excuse Mr. Flaherty and Mrs. Masloff for absence from the meeting.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Woods moved to approve the minutes of Monday, May 16, 1983.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Woods

Council adjourned.

ONE-HUNDRED TWENTY-SECOND COUNCIL

EUGENE P. DePASQUALE President
MICHAEL PERRY City Clerk
LINDA M. JOHNSON ... Asst. City Clerk

Pittsburgh, PA
Monday, June 6, 1983

PRESENT:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. Robinson
Mr. Givens	Mr. Stone
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. DePasquale
Mr. O'Malley	(Pres't)

The Meeting was opened by the recitation of the pledge of allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

PRESENTATIONS

Michelle Madoff:

I wonder if I could call upon Lynn R. Williams, International Secretary of the United Steel Workers of America, and George Becker, Administrative Assistant, please come up here.

I just stopped at the bank and took my measly $300 and some dollars out of Mellon Bank. I am about to sell my house. I will ask the people not to get their mortgage with Mellon and I want to be very clear as to why I am doing this, so there's no misunderstanding. My reason for introducing this legislation today is I have spoken with U.S. Steel attorney's and others who advised that Mellon Bank was notified two days in advanced that "The Operating Business Account" in Mellon Bank contained funds that were going to be used for payroll. We're talking about $250,000 due some 250 employees in salaries. We're not talking about a significant amount of dollars to Mellon Bank and this money was for work already performed.

These people are hurting. It's immoral. What Mellon did, I believe was a cavalier, unconscionable act and is now using the Bankruptcy court as their scapegoat. The City of Pittsburgh has approximately $30 million plus in Mellon Bank spread across the board in various City funds such as, Mr. Stone, I think you might substantiate this; in General, Bond, Police and Fire Pensions and Sinking, etc. funds.

This resolution would direct the City of Pittsburgh's Treasurer Department to pull these funds upon maturity and I say upon maturity not today so that we hurt the taxpayers; and in accordance with all depository resolutions so that the City would not act irresponsibly as I believe Mellon Bank has and the City would not lose the principal and interest.

As the time accounts come due it is feasible to transfer — we've checked with our fiscal people here, within the next 30, 60, 90 days these funds could be transferred to other banks with which the City has already done business and the resolution reads:

Michelle Madoff presents

Bill No. 3178 BE IT RESOLVED that the City of Pittsburgh show its support for the United Steel Workers of America in their boycott of Mellon Bank by transferring, as soon as possible, City held funds in Mellon Bank to banks more responsive to the needs of working people.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that such funds stay transferred until Mellon Bank unfreezes the funds of USW Mesta employees which cover wage and insurance premiums and pension checks for health insurance retirees.

Michelle Madoff moved to adopt the Resolution.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Williams:

Mr. President, Councilwoman Madoff, Members of Council, we in the United Steel Workers of America very much appreciate this resolution expressing the views of the Pittsburgh City Council. The action taken by our union last week concerning the withdrawal of accounts from Mellon Bank was not undertaken lightly.

It was undertaken only after sincere and serious efforts have been made to get Mellon Bank to alter a policy that our union deeply believes is unfair and harmful to a group of workers who in supporting themselves and their families over many years also have made a contribution to this community.

American working people throughout this great country have made such contributions to their communities and neighborhoods over the years and the decades. It is time we strongly believe that the banking community recognize this fact and recognize the needs of the people. Our campaign is simply to make Mellon aware of its responsibilities in this regard. To make the bank live up to its current advertisements that now ring hollow, declaring Mellon believed in us.

Again, City Council's assistance here is appreciated. Thank you all very, very much.

Michelle Madoff:

May I just add something? There's a lot more that is going to be coming out. I've been talking to many of the attorneys at U.S. Steel and one of the things that I believe is so unconscionable is that when Mesta went into Chapter 11 and Mellon called them into sit down and talk about business, and I don't want to get into who was right and whether Mesta ran their business correctly or not, that's not the issue today. While the negotiations were going on, when discussions were going on, without the knowledge, without Mesta's knowledge, Mellon was out freezing the accounts all over the country and has in its account many millions of dollars which they are drawing interest. Am I correct in that statement, Sir? I am correct in that? Thank you.

Mr. Flaherty:

I would just care to add a few words in regard to the resolution and, of course, I support the resolution but my feelings are somewhat ambiguous in regard to it because I think there is a certain amount of sentiment with the public in that whenever we do have an issue such as the one that is facing us concerning unemployed workers or such as the issue of approximately a half a year ago as far as mortgage disclosures, I think there is sentiment out there that politicians often times jump on the issue and exploit it. I unfortunately have to agree with that sentiment to a certain degree. But I would just want to say that I'm of a very strong conviction that if a politician should be criticized in regard to this matter, it should be the President of this Country because I feel very strongly that when we are talking about trying to have impact on some of the most powerful lending institutions in this nation that it is certainly beyond the reach of this City Council or this City. I think it's about time that the public really start to put their focus where it is needed and that is on the White House. I believe that for too long the President has been too callous. He has no empathy. I don't believe he has any sympathy for the brutal frustrations that are crushing families daily in this country and it's about time that the government start to provide some relief and start to work with the lending institutions and with the labor institutions of this country, with management and start to bring about some substantial relief. Then we would not be in the position to offer, what I feel for the most part, are cosmetic sentiments.

The Chair:

You make some good points but I did want to congratulate Council upon their action today because it takes a lot of guts to do the very thing that Mr. Flaherty was saying. You're going to be condemned if you do, you're going to be condemned if you don't. So, I mean, Mesta Machine isn't so innocent in this whole matter themselves but employees, for that matter, who waited I don't know how many years before they finally became unionized. But unless Mellon Bank puts things in order and unfreezes those funds, I don't think we have any alternative but to do what we did.

In that respect, as Chairman of the Board of Alcosan, I attended the monthly meeting this Wednesday to ask the Board members to do the very same thing the City is contemplating or Council contemplated here with the exception that due to our indenture that we cannot take any funds out of there, whether they're Mellon's or whatever other bank. However, we do have $3 million that Mellon has on deposit from the pension fund and that money we can withdraw and I am going to ask for a motion from the Board members of Alcosan this coming Wednesday to do that very thing. Hopefully, in the meantime, Mellon may unfreeze those funds for the pension and the wages and the health benefits and whatever so we don't have to take that action and, hopefully, the City doesn't have to take that action. But, as it looks now, I don't think they're going to and I think that a little pressure has to be used and that we use it here in the City and what pressure and what pressure we have at Alcosan.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I would like to address my colleague, Mr. Flaherty. I thank you for your support on the bill, we haven't really voted yet, but I presume everybody is in favor of it. I would hope. There may be some other statements. But I would like to talk about politicians jumping on issues. All of us, whether we're politicians, elected officials, or people out in the public, are only knowledgeable of what we're exposed to.

Let me tell you how I came to this knowledge of U.S. Steel's problem with Mesta. My administrative assistant is Carmen Gunther. Her husband is administrative assistant to Lloyd McBride. It is only natural that I would learn about it. It is not that because I'm on Council and I'm hopping on a political issue. I have very strong feelings that when Mellon is using the bankruptcy court and has taken the money out, knowing full well two days in advance that those were salary monies and now is throwing up their hands and saying, "But what can we do about it? We didn't know. It was only a general account. We didn't know it was a payroll account.", when indeed they did know, it just happens that that was an issue that came to me in the same way that Mr. O'Malley introduced a bill on a woman's issue, because some people that he worked with came to him and didn't come to me as a woman on this Council, or to Sophie. I don't think it matters who does it as long as we support each other because no bill passes this Council, no bill, whether it's a Madoff bill or a Flaherty bill or an O'Malley bill or a Stone bill, without five votes.

May we call for the vote on this bill.

The Chair:

We already called for it.

Michelle Madoff:

I didn't hear them call on the vote.

The Chair:

It was unanimous. There were no nays.

Michelle Madoff:

Then we're all for it I presume? Okay.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, I would care to reply in a very concise manner. I am not critical of your introducing the bill, Michelle. I think, though, because of the lack of federal direction in this Country, often times, we, on the City level, or sometimes even on the state level, because our sentiments are so strong in doing something, I think often times the public sees that our actions can just be symbolic and that we are really not in the position to remedy real relief or a change.

What I am saying, though, is if we have direction in Washington, if we had an interest and an attitude exhibited by the President of this Country to start to look into the issue of banks investing in foreign economies, for example like Brazil which is the largest debtor in the world and which I understand Mellon Bank substantially has given loans to enterprises in Brazil. I think we need a stronger direction and certainly more progressivism from the White House. If we had that, then I don't think we would be in the position today of perhaps certain people, certain segments of our constituency calling us hypocrites and bafoons and politicians jumping on an issue.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, your action with Alcosan is very admirable and I think that with what you can do and what this City can do under Mr. Stone's leadership as Finance Chairman to take some monies out of Mellon Bank, and I urge everybody out in the public to put yourself in the position of those people who worked and that you didn't get paid and I urge you to take your money out of Mellon Bank as well and then Mellon Bank will know that we don't have to wait for Mr. Reagan.

The Chair:

Well, as we were saying, certainly we hope that Mellon Bank unfreezes those funds. Yet, at the same time, I think we're being a bit unfair to Mellon. There are two other banks involved and their name wasn't mentioned, I think Union National and Pittsburgh National. So, we have to put the blame — They're on a much smaller scale than Mellon.

Michelle Madoff:

But you understand what I'm saying, Mr. DePasquale. If Alcosan takes out some millions and the City takes out $30 million and people as individuals who work for U.S. Steel and supporters and other unions take their money out and the people in the street who care take their money out, Mellon is going to get the message. And maybe they're going to change their "public be damned" attitude.

The Chair:

Maybe they'll cancel the loan I have down there.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't think they'll cancel your loan.

The Chair:

Are there any other resolutions?

Mr. Flaherty:

As I'm sure we are all aware, Council is going to be holding probably the most important hearing of the year on Thursday. That is the public hearing for the proposed rate increases for Warner Cable. This is certainly an issue that Council will be acting on that will have more impact, more direct impact, on a more personal and more individual level than any other issue that I can recall Council ever acting on outside of a proposed tax increase. I think that it would be very important and very informative to the public, especially to those that do watch Council and those that do foot the bill for the cable company that this hearing be broadcast on Thursday.

I move that we do have a cablecast of the public hearing on Thursday primarily to give those individuals that perhaps would be impacted or will be impacted if there is a rate hike the opportunity to know all the intricacies behind this proposed rate hike and also give them the opportunity to more effectively state their views to this Council prior to us acting on the proposed rate hike.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

The Chair:

If I may, I think it's so apropos due to the fact that Warner Cable is the company that's coming in asking for the increase and certainly that should be televised. It's so important.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'd just like to say that I agree with my colleague that since we awarded Warner Cable the franchise one of the big points in their favor of receiving that franchise was the Cube system. As you know, the Cube system is a two way system where the people could interact and vote on matters of importance to all of them. Not knowing my colleague, Councilman Flaherty, was going to bring up the same issue, I asked Brother Emenecker if he could be up here this afternoon. Would you come up, Brother Richard?

Not only would I like to have the hearing televised, but I'd also like to know, Brother Richard, if it would be possible to have this on the Cube system so that the viewers who watch the entire public hearing and at the conclusion of it would have the opportunity to vote on whether they're in favor of the rate increase or whether they're not in favor of it. The reason I say this is that Cube has advertised all over the country that this is a great innovative communication system that they've incorporated in the Pittsburgh franchise. I'd like to see this communication work on something on something as important as this where the people can actually see and hear and give us their opinion on whether Warner is entitled to a rate increase. Would that be possible?

The Chair:

Brother Emenecker, before you answer that question, I want to caution Council. We're not going to have a debate on the relative merits of an increase or no increase at this time. We're going to vote strictly on the matter of whether it should be televised or not. The question you asked is quite in order but I don't want to get out of hand when we start to get into a discussion about whether there should be an increase or not.

Mr. O'Malley:

First of all, I'm not having a debate on the merits of the increase.

The Chair:

I understand that. I just said I'm cautioning Council so that we don't get into that.

Mr. O'Malley:

You might agree with me but you're not hearing what I'm saying.

The Chair:

I agree with you 100 percent.

Mr. O'Malley:

What I'm saying is that I'd like to know if the Cube system —

The Chair:

You're asking if the public could engage in the voting.

Brother Emenecker:

First of all, as far as whether we can televise it or not, yes, we can televise it at 10:30 until however long it takes on Thursday. I have no difficulty with that.

As far as utilizing Cube to get responses from the public, there is no provision in the franchise proposal from Warner indicating that Warner would have the government channel interacted with their Cube system. It's not a provision of the agreement. My position has been that I do not ask them to do anything more than they are required to do by the proposal.

Mr. O'Malley:

What I'm saying is, I did a show on Warner Cable down at the studio and it was on Cube and people had the opportunity to vote. It was on self-service gas stations. I wonder if it would be possible for you to ask Warner if they would volunteer the use of the Cube for this very important hearing. Would it be possible for you to have that communication and get back to us by Wednesday?

Brother Emenecker:

I would caution Council in that regard that if you do that, you, first of all, are setting a precedent. Secondly, it takes on a little bit of a different tone if you were to do it as an individual Councilmember on one of Warner's channels as opposed to this City being involved in using Cube on the government channel.

I have no difficulty with Warner setting up the program that they're in charge of and handling the issue that way. But I think the matter should be thoroughly thought about by Council before you start to use Cube knowing that there are 70,000 subscribers of which about 60,000, almost 60,000 I believe, are Cube subscribers. Maybe not quite that much but at least 50,000 are Cube subscribers.

Mr. O'Malley:

That makes it more important. If we're talking about 60,000 households in the City of Pittsburgh, obviously you're talking well over 150,000 people.

Brother Emenecker:

But that's at 10:30 in the morning

Mr. O'Malley:

And it would be replayed again at 4:30 in the afternoon.

Brother Emenecker:

But the polling would have to be a live poll.

Mr. O'Malley:

Would you check to see if it would be possible and get back to me with the answer on that, please? Ask Warner if it's possible and if they would be willing to do it. They can either say yes, it's possible or they're say no, it's not possible.

The Chair:

Give us an answer by Wednesday, Brother Emenecker. Okay?

Brother Emenecker:

Okay, but I still am not clear as to how that would be worked out where you have a public hearing which we would cover gavel to gavel and then who is in charge of developing the questions, taking the responses, and how is that all communicated back.

Mr. O'Malley:

Well, I think that's what I asked you. I'd like to have that worked out between now and Wednesday. First of all, we have to find out if it's possible and if it's possible, then we'd have to work out the intricacies of it.

The Chair:

Thank you, Brother Emenecker.

Mr. Robinson:

I just wanted to inform the President and members of Council that due a conflict in my schedule, I'll be unable to participate in the hearing on Thursday. But I also want to inform you that as a member of the Resolutions Committee of the Pennsylvania League of Cities, I will be in Harrisburg attending the annual conference. One of the resolutions before the League this year will be whether or not local units of government should retain control over cable operations. As Council may be aware, there is a bill in the United States Senate to strip local units of government of their control over cable operations. The National League of Cities and the Pennsylvania League of Cities have opposing resolutions and positions on this matter. I also will be attending a workshop that deals with the issue of cable communications at the local level. Hopefully, those people who are so inclined to believe that local units of government should retain control over local cable operations will transmit that information to our Mayor who is the President of the Pennsylvania League of Cities, to Mr. Whitmer who is a member of his staff and who will probably be this city's voting delegate in the business session, and to myself as a member of the Resolutions Committee. The meeting will occur, the Resolutions Committee, at 1:00 on Thursday afternoon. Hopefully, the information that I gain in Harrisburg will be useful to other members of this Council when it comes time for us to make a final decision relative to the rate request issue.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I'm a little confused. Are we or are we not going to be taping Thursday. What did Brother Richard say?

Mrs. Masloff:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

Okay, then we are going to do it. May I just make a note, just check, is there going to be a display ad prior to Thursday, paid for, so that people will know they can come and testify if they have a complaint, not an ad that is in the legal notices that you have to read with a magnifying glass and a pair of glasses?

The Chair:

I think the Press is going to pick it up.

Michelle Madoff:

Usually they cover it after the fact. I did see something with a phone number saying you can call in. But will there be a display ad? The reason I'm asking, the reason I'm very concerned about this, I want to tell you what happened. I was the only person — maybe there was another — Brother Richard, was there anybody here the day of the hearing held by the Cable Advisory Committee other than myself testifying? Any other member of Council? Mr. Robinson and Mr. Givens. I think there were three of us.

Brother Richard:

You're speaking of the three year review?

Michelle Madoff:

Yes.

Brother Richard:

Yourself, Councilwoman Masloff, Councilman Givens and Councilman Robinson were there.

Michelle Madoff:

Okay. The reason I'm asking is that there were a lot of people here that I bumped to at the elevator and people that I knew and I said, "Oh, you're here because you called me with complaints." and they said, "No, no. We're here to testify on behalf of Warner." I said, "I'm a little surprised. How come you're here." and they said, "They asked us to come.". Well, I would like to officially ask the public to come and be here if they're unhappy and the only way they're going to know about that hearing is if we do a display ad.

So, if you want to vote on the first one, I'd like to make a second motion that we have a display add notifying the public there is a hearing.

Mr. Flaherty:

I would like to keep them separate.

Michelle Madoff:

I said that. You do the first resolution and I'll do the second resolution.

Brother Richard:

If I could add this concerning your question about an add, we have been running on a government channel and announcement that the public hearing is Thursday and if you wish to speak, call Mike Perry.

Also, there was an article, if you will, in yesterday's newspaper indicating that if you wish to speak, call Mike Perry.

Michelle Madoff:

Mike, how many people do you have from the general public?

Mr. Perry:

Six.

Michelle Madoff:

How many people do you have from the other side? Approximately, ballpark.

Mr. Perry:

I would say approximately three.

Michelle Madoff:

So, it's a six and three. Okay.

My concern is that this is going to be very innocuous because people are not going to know how significant and how important it is. Brother Richard and I have had some meaningful discussions on the fact and something he's about to do which I am very pleased with, they're getting new equipment because people that do not watch Council at 10:00 in the morning or at Mondays at 2:00 in the afternoon are not home at 5:30 in the evening. They're obviously in transit from their jobs. And he's changing that time to, I believe, 7:00 in the evening, once you get the new equipment.

Brother Richard:

Right. That will be later in the summer.

Michelle Madoff:

Fine. But at least we're moving in the right direction.

Now, the thing I'm concerned about, as things stand right now, I tell you that my phone is still coming off the hook with people complaining about Warner. I have now talked to a woman at Warner who said —

The Chair:

Please, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

I want people to know about coming to the hearing.

The Chair:

You're getting off the vote on whether we're going to have the hearing or not. Please.

Michelle Madoff:

Alright. Wait. We've done that. We've already voted on that.

The Chair:

We can do all that Wednesday.

Michelle Madoff:

I want a display ad. Do you want to vote on this first?

The Chair:

We have to vote first on whether we're going to have the hearing.

Michelle Madoff:

Fine. Then I'll talk about the display ad.

The Chair:

Roll call vote in regards to the hearing being televised.

Mr Robinson:

I'm voting aye because I believe all of our public hearings should be televised.

Mr. Woods:

I'm voting no because I don't believe our public hearings or our Council sessions should be televised. I vote consistently.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Givens	Mr. Robinson
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Stone
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. DePasquale
	(Pres't)

AYES 8

NOES 1

(MR. WOODS VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the motion was approved.

The Chair:

Okay, with a majority vote, the hearing will be televised.

Now your motion, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

My resolution is that we have a display ad notifying people in essence what the hearing is going to be about and that indeed will be televised for those who cannot make it and that ad runs immediately. A sizeable display ad.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Mr. Woods:

Question. What do you mean? A display ad on what?

Michelle Madoff:

I want an ad 4 x 6.

Mr. Perry:

I put in a 2 x 3 ad.

Michelle Madoff:

4 x 6. Just on the Warner Cable hearing. 5 x 6. 6 x 7. I don't care. I want something two column, a meaningful size ad so people will see it.

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'm going to vote aye but I think it's going to be a waste of time. I'm sure the gentlemen that are covering for the Press and Post Gazette will have an adequate article in there.

Michelle Madoff:

This will pay their salaries.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty

Mr. O'Malley

Mr. Givens
Michelle Madoff
Mrs. Masloff

Mr. Robinson
Mr. Stone
Mr. DePasquale
(Pres't)

AYES 8

NOES 1

(MR. WOODS VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the motion was approved.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to share some information with Council on Warner on the same subject. I was called by, I presume a power, I don't know whether an executive, I think they are employed by Warner and I'm not going to give the name, asking me if I would be willing to come down and sit down with their accountants and go over their fiscal problems. I said, "No, I would not." I think the time to do that would be Thursday. I don't know if my other colleagues were also called. Was I the only one called?

Mr. Robinson:

I was called.

Mr. O'Malley:

I was called.

The Chair:

There's no harm in going down there if you want to.

Michelle Madoff:

No, but I just want to share that I have very strong feelings and I just wanted to let people know.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. President, if I might, with one indulgence. I think it would be appropriate if we try to set a hearing in a timely fashion on these two bills in order that we might give ourselves enough lee-time to submit an application by July 1, which is the deadline.

If the Chair would take the prerogative of moving in that direction prior to Council officially considering the bill on Wednesday, I think it would be helpful to all concerned.

Which was read.

Mr. Givens:

On Bill 3095, I vote no on that and for obvious reasons I want my remarks to be brought forward from Wednesday's session. With the 80 percent failure rate on people taking psychological testing in the City of Pittsburgh, there's something wrong.

MR. GIVENS' REMARKS ON BILL NO. 3095 FROM THE MEETING OF WEDNESDAY, JUNE 1, 1983.

Mr. Givens:

I would like to have my vote recorded as being no on this particular thing. My reasons for being opposed is how the system is set-up. If one were to go and take this particular test and fail it, it is incumbent upon that individual then to go out and get medical assistance and help from another psychologist and doctors and bring that evidence back in to this psychologist; then, if that is not agreed upon, they go out and they see a third consultant--all at the expense of the individual that is trying to acquire a job in the City of Pittsburgh. There is no way in this world that I can vote for any agency where our police and firemen go down and 80 percent of them-- Where does this figure come from, I've never heard that one before?

The Chair:

We are not debating, we are voting.

Mr. Givens:

I know, but I asked that question because I heard the 80 percent of the police and firemen--

The Chair:

It is only the police, not the firemen.

END, MR. GIVENS' REMARKS ON BILL NO. 3095, 6/1/83.

Mr. Robinson:

I'm voting no on 3095 and I'd like to explain my no vote. I think the discussion that we had last Wednesday that centered on Psychological Service of Pittsburgh and their relationship to our recruiting and training program in relation to the Police Department raised a number of issues about the procedures that we are utilizing and whether or not we're getting our dollar's worth. I think certainly the comments that were made relative to the rate of rejection should cause all of us to pause and consider whether or not those requirements that we have in terms of police officers is being met, whether or not the requirements of Judge Weber's court order are being met, and whether or not we are being totally fair to, not only Psychological Service but others who contract with us to make sure that we have the kind of police officers that we all want to have.

I've taken the liberty of requesting a post agenda next Wednesday which will include Superintendent Coll, a representative of the Psychological Service of Pittsburgh, and hopefully, the Chairman of our Civil Service Commission, to address this issue, not just in terms of Psychological Service of Pittsburgh but whether or not we are getting our dollar's worth, whether or not we are able to recruit in the four categories that Judge Weber ordered us to recruit in, and whether or not we are getting valid complaints about Psychological Service of Pittsburgh.

As I said Wednesday, one of the things I think we don't want to do is cast any aspersions on this organization or it's professional competency. I don't think that's fair to them because we have not heard their side of the story. There may be many sides to the story and hopefully the post agenda will give us an opportunity to identify what the issues are and to make sure that the bottom line is that we're getting the kind of police officers, both male and female, that this City deserves and that we all want.

I'm going to vote no on 3095.

MR. ROBINSON'S REMARKS ON BILL NO. 3095 FROM THE MEETING OF WEDNESDAY, JUNE 1, 1983.

Mr. Robinson:

My concern is similar to that which has been raised by Mrs. Madoff and Mr. Woods. Over the last five and one-half years I have talked to numerous people concerning this matter, mainly it has been individuals who have been rejected. Unfortunately, I haven't heard from anyone who wasn't rejected. I think in being fair to Psychological Services of Pittsburgh, we need to be careful in perhaps suggesting some criticism of them until we talk to both people who have been accepted and rejected.

My concern goes beyond acceptance or the rejection to whether or not we could not rotate the contract so that we don't stick with one company, particularly where we are getting large numbers of complaints. I don't think we want to do anything to damage their reputation, but by the same token we might be in the situation where a standardized test that can be administered by other professionals should be administered by other professionals. It may be in our best interest, the best interest of the Police Department, and certainly I think it would allay some of the concerns that are being raised concerning this particular service.

I think that there are areas in which we have to depend upon the professionalism of the persons that we contract with, and I think we have to be careful in our evaluation of those services. But, here is a situation where at least five years I think people of goodwill have raised some concerns, and we might want to look at changing our procedure in terms of how we let this contract. We may also want to have some private consultations with Psychological Services of Pittsburgh to determine for our satisfaction what is being done and how they handle these complaints.

As I understand it, what Mr. Woods mentioned is pretty much what occurs, that once you are turned down by them that is the end of the ballgame.

MR. WOODS COMMENTS

Mr. Robinson:

They can re-apply, right. The Psychological Service of Pittsburgh is really put on the defensive when someone contacts them and says hey, you are suggesting that I am unfit. I think there are some other ramifications when you get a notice from a psychologist or psychiatrist suggesting that you are not fit for a certain job.

I would want to suggest to the Department of Personnel and Civil Service that they might want to seriously re-evaluate this so that the situation is not blown out of proportion, and so that everyone, including the Psychological Service of Pittsburgh is treated fairly. I would highly recommend that we begin to look at trying to include other professional services in that testing program so that there is no hint of any kind of favoritism or any hint that anyone is being taken advantage of.

Just one other concern, Phil, for a point of clarification. The process by which this contract was awarded, are you familiar with that?

Mr. Schugar:

I am assuming, and I really don't know, I guess you are right, I am not well prepared to answer all the questions of Council.

Mr. Robinson:

Okay, let me just ask these questions and if you don't have answers perhaps you can supply them to us. Do you know whether or not this particular contract was bid, a bid was advertised, and proposals came in?

Mr. Schugar:

I don't know, I would assume it was.

Mr. Given:

Melanie Smith, I think discussed that in previous times, Bill, and she said it is. That is where they come up with it.

Mr. Robinson:

Phil, do you know whether or not this contract could be let without going through the bidding process?

Mr. Schugar:

The Professional Services, yes.

Mr. Robinson:

Do you know if there is anything that prohibits us from having more than one organization do the psychological testing?

Mr. Schugar:

I don't think there would be anything that would prohibit that. I don't know programatically if that would be the wisest thing to do.

Mr. Robinson:

Could you just get me the answers to those first two questions? My main concern is to determine what legal restraints is the city under, relative to letting this kind of contract, and then what kind of procedure have we used over the last five years. To my knowledge, over the last five and one-half years Psychological Services of Pittsburgh has been the only organization that has done any psychological testing for the Police Department.

END, MR. ROBINSON'S REMARKS ON
BILL NO. 3095, 6/1/83.

Michelle Madoff:

I share the same concerns that Mr. Stone has mentioned previously. When you get an 80 percent rejection, and Mr. Robinson has talked about it and other members of this Council, certainly none of us would want to say that the Psychological Services of Pittsburgh are in any way inefficient because if some police officer was hired then, what would happen is we would be blamed if somebody got hurt, they went out and acted irrationally or irresponsibly.

There's something wrong, I think Mr. Stone said it a lot better than I have, that when 80 percent of the people are being turned down, there's something wrong somewhere. If you read from the report the response that we got from Personnel and Civil Service Commission, Section F says, "After the results of the written test, and the background investigation is completed, a personal interview between the candidate on one of the seven professional psychologists is arranged. This interview serves as a verifying interview."

Well, I believe that people that are being rejected should be told, and we ought to amend this particular piece of legislation, to say that the person who was rejected has the right to go out to two independent psychiatrists and if they are judged to be acceptable to deal in the work of police enforcement, the City would reimburse those two psychological fee tests because I don't believe that one on one they can make a suitable judgement, and incidentally, I'd like my comments brought forward from the other day, because I know that if you listen to almost any advisory panels, psychiatric advisory board, they will tell you, do not necessarily pick the first psychiatrist somebody recommends to you and go to them for any problems you have. You have to shop around. You have to find somebody that you can have a rapport with that you can interact with and that you can relate to. Perhaps the people that are coming up for psychological testing for police are dealing with a person with whom they do not interact. If the person dealt with seven professional people or three professional people, I'd be more inclined to accept the verdict of 80 percent rejection. And I don't think we would get an 80 percent rejection.

So, I think what we need to do is to change the whole method in which the tests are done. I don't know exactly how you'd go about doing that. Does anybody have any feeling for that? How you would change the test?

Mr. O'Malley:

I think if you point out the two independent psychiatrists and have it billed to the City if they pass would be an enormous expense. But what I've looked into is if somebody failed the psychological test, we set up a review panel of two or possibly three alternative psychologists that they can come back in for a second opinion. I think this would take away that feeling of inadequacy that somebody might have or that feeling of failure. And certainly the review panel could review the results of the first psychologist and give an evaluation.

Michelle Madoff:

I think that's a point well taken but I think you might hesitate or you might want to think about the fact that the price would be the same. If you're going to have six psychologists here, they're going to be paid by the hour and if somebody goes out and talks to two, they're going to be paid by the hour. It might be cheaper to go to two independents who are unrelated to each other.

Mr. O'Malley:

I was thinking more that they were appointed by the City --

Michelle Madoff:

I'm just telling you that dollars are dollars are dollars and I think that it would make this group a little more responsive.

And may I share with Council that as we sit here today, in San Francisco at this moment there is a meeting going on of police and psychologists and psychology evaluating of police officers. I would like to know -- would somebody send a letter, Mr. Perry, to the Association, to Mr. Schugar and to the Psychological Services of Pittsburgh -- I want to know if they're attending that conference in San Francisco right now because they are dealing with exactly that kind of problem.

Incidentally, we could probably hire a psychologist which would not hurt generally for the City, is experienced in dealing with people who are in hazardous work, not only to evaluate them for their qualifications in the job but trauma that they sustain after they've had to shoot somebody or watched some child burning or seen some horrendous murder. They need some help. And that would be something we ought to look into doing. Mike, would you send a letter to see if we're doing that and get a copy to me and if there isn't, I would like to introduce a bill to that effect.

I'm going to vote yes because I cannot say there are no police and complain about no police if I'm holding up the effort. But I think we have to change the procedure.

MICHELLE MADOFF'S REMARKS ON BILL NO. 3095 FROM THE MEETING OF
WEDNESDAY, JUNE 1, 1983.

Michelle Madoff:

The company, this firm or whatever it is, this Psychological Services of Pittsburgh, do they use the same person or different people?

Mr. Schugar:

They have a staff of psychologists, they are all professional psychologists, and I don't know the exact number of professionals that they have, but they are all the personnel involved in the screening process.

Michelle Madoff:

When somebody is ruled to be not a suitable candidate, is that on the basis of one person making that evaluation?

Mr. Schugar:

No, it is a group of seven professional people.

Michelle Madoff:

Do the seven people interview that person?

Mr. Schugar:

My understanding is that one person interviews, they share the data with the group, and they are all professional psychologists; then they come up with their evaluation.

Michelle Madoff:

When I say share the data, do you mean it is a written data?

Mr. Schugar:

There is both a written test, there is a personal interview that is done with each and every candidate, and the total results are then shared.

Michelle Madoff:

I must tell you that I have had a number of calls, and I am sure my colleagues have, saying that these people have had jobs—some of them who have applied for police, some of them have been rated elsewhere psychologically as being sound. What I suggested to them is that they go to their own private, find one or two—preferably two or three independent psychologists to re-test them because I have some concerns about this testing, and I think some other people do too. There is something wrong.

MR. STONE COMMENTS

MR. WOODS COMMENTS

Michelle Madoff:

I think that is wrong; just because one attorney has an opinion that doesn't mean that three other attorneys can not be in disagreement with that, or one psychologist that has a personality clash. They suggest when somebody is going to see a psychiatrist, for example, that you go out and you interview five or six of them until you find one that is compatible with you. You can get someone where the personalities clash and then they become biased. From what Mr. Stone has said, when you've got 80 percent being turned down, we'd better look at the situation.

Phil, would it be possible for you to supply this Council with a list of other groups, other than Psychological Services of Pittsburgh, who do the same kind of work, number one. Number two, I had asked, and it was a rule of this Council that we don't deal with names we deal with principles; who are the principles in Psychological Services of Pittsburgh? I want to know who the physicians are, who the testing psychologists are. Do you know who they are?

Mr. Schugar:

Not right now, personally. I'm sure I can get this information.

Michelle Madoff:

You don't know off-hand, but you should, with all due respect, if you are going to be standing in for your director.

One of the things that I have been trying to get through and I just have not had a chance to follow through is the cost effective bill—where sometimes it isn't the best deal to buy the cheapest. It is called life cost cycling, but that usually applies to equipment, but maybe it applies here too. Maybe the lowest bid is where we are just getting somebody that's picking up psychologists or is between jobs and saying to come on and do it and everyone is scared to make a commitment because they are afraid of how it will affect them individually, and they may not even be full time employees of this firm. We don't know. We are dealing in a vacume here, and I think we need more information. I think that is what Mr. Robinson is saying. We want to know who we are dealing with, we want to know who the company is, are there others. Could we get a rundown on this company. There is something drastically wrong, as Mr. Stone said, for the kind of money we spent in training we could be hiring police.

I'll tell you the concern I have, which is probably one that everybody is going to jump on me about; there are supposed to be two classes of police, if we can keep turning them down at 80 percent, we could get through the end of this year without even having one class of police and the Mayor will have his $1.6 million intact. We are going to have it intact anyway because of attrition. He'll have even a bonus on top of that, we'll have more than a $1.6 million surplus, we'll have a $2 million surplus if you keep doing this. I just wonder, I am not casting aspersions because I don't know; but it has overtones that make me thing if the Mayor really wanted to put on two classes--and if I were the mayor or anybody else were the mayor and they wanted two classes and you double up on classes it could be done. There isn't even the will to put one class on when we get 80 percent rejections. Something is wrong.

Could we hold this for a week? They are turning down 80 percent anyway. I'd like to know whether we can do something. The point is, I think this is a game-plan not to get the classes. It has overtones that we are not moving these people. The longer we delay, the longer we are going to get through this year and have a surplus. Can we hold it or not?

Mr. Schugar:

What I am saying is I know that we have a class, another group of individuals that are going in for evaluation on the sixth of June.

Michelle Madoff:

The sixth of June. I guess you can't hold it. Okay.

Excuse me, may I change my vote please? I want to be opposed until I get that information. Can you get it to me by Monday?

Mr. Schugar:

Yes.

END, MICHELLE MADOFF'S REMARKS
ON BILL NO. 3095, 6/1/83.

Mr. Givens presented

Bill No. 3173

Report of the Committee on Public Works for June 1, 1983 transmitting sundry resolutions to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 3063

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution vacating a portion of South Neville Street, between Fifth Avenue and Henry Street in the Fourth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh."

Which was read.

Also,

Bill No. 3064

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution amending Resolution No. 876, approved August 26, 1982, effective September 1, 1982, entitled, 'Providing for an Agreement or Agreements with a Consultant or Consultants for Professional Engineering Services in connection with the Reconstruction of Arlington Avenue; and providing for the payment of the cost thereof,' by decreasing the total project allocation to Nine Thousand Five Hundred ($9,500.00) Dollars, and by amending the funding source."

Which was read.

Mr. Stone:

On Bill 3064, I would like my remarks from Wednesday brought forward.

MR. STONE'S REMARKS ON BILL NO. 3064 FROM THE MEETING OF WEDNESDAY, JUNE 1, 1983.

Mr. Stone:

Lou, aren't we going to slow that thing down? We've been on Arlington Avenue, and I remember six years ago we withheld $2 million on this damn project to have it go. We went through Macon then to do the work and got these other problems, and it's been slowed down. Why don't we just proceed with the darn thing.

MR. GIVENS COMMENTS

Mr. Stone:

Nobody knows more about this project than I do because I've been an expert on this project. I dealt with the Port Authority on this project, I dealt with the community, I dealt with every engineer—city, county, state and federal on this particular project, as well as the Federal Highway Department on this project, as well as involvement with the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania trying to get enough votes to clear that thing, and trying to get Bechtold to make the changes as well. As far as this thing is concerned, we ought to get on with the highway so that once and for all the people in the South Hills are free from it. The Smithfield Street Bridge you can't go across, Sycamore Street you can't go up, Arlington Avenue, Warrington Avenue, the Liberty Bridge; how much more traumatically are you going to affect people as we have been doing here.

MR. DE PASQUALE COMMENTS

Mr. Stone:

The first problem we had was with the Port Authority, whether it was one track or two tracks, and whether they were going to make their proper contribution. We forced the hand, if you'll recall, a couple of years back; we held back every piece of legislation for the Port Authority that they went through for the first six months, until they discovered we were not passing it. Then I went over and met with them, and at that time they approved it and that is when it went on.

MICHELLE MADOFF COMMENTS

Mr. Stone:

It is the reduction that I have a problem with, Lou.

Director Gaetano:

It is not a reduction. When Bechtold came up with his decision, his decision also froze Macon Engineering and me entering into an agreement with them; I could not enter in any engineering agreement with Macon Engineering at all. That meant that the property acquisition that we had scheduled for this year was done for this year.

To move the property acquisition along and the project along, Macon has turned over his work to us and we had started to do the property acquisition maps ourselves.

Mr. Stone:

With our own monies?

Director Gaetano:

In-house, with my own monies. Macon will continue to work with us and do all the soil and geo-tech work. Eventually, maybe that $9,500.00 will next year be another $9,500.00 or $20,000.00; but this year it is all I need for Macon right now.

Mr. Stone:

Okay, Lou, in view of this particular thing, I think we better go on to one of our usual things. I want a report every quarter on what is happening on Arlington Avenue and Warrington Avenue. Those two streets have to move.

END, MR. STONE'S REMARKS ON BILL NO. 3064, 6/1/83.

Also,

Bill No. 3065

Also,

Bill No. 3066

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for an Agreement or Agreements with D'Appolonia Consulting Engineers, Inc. for Professional Engineering Services in connection with the Short-term Stabilization of Rock Cut Slope above E. Sycamore Street; and providing for the payment of the cost thereof."

Which was read.

Also,

Bill No. 3067

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution granting unto the Pittsburgh National Bank (Berlin Building), its successors and assigns, the privilege and license to reconstruct, maintain and use, at its own cost and expense, an electrical vault in a portion of the sidewalk at 235-239 Fifth Avenue, Second Ward, City of Pittsburgh."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, on 3071 I would like a note made for budget hearings, as we discussed the other day, that when we go to give Pitt some money, I would like to see that we have some services back from them such as the mass spect or water testing equipment. Also, I believe we give some money to CMU, I don't know. But any funds that go to the universities, I'd like some in kind services.

Mr. Stone:

I'm not so sure we're giving grants, Michelle. We're buying services from them.

Michelle Madoff:

We don't give them any funds at all at Pitt?

Mr. Stone:

It's always a service kind of a contract.

Michelle Madoff:

What kind of service are we getting?

Mr. Stone:

They're doing something for us, some study or something, that we advance funds for.

Michelle Madoff:

Then I would like to suggest that we buy the use of the mass spect for emergency use. If you read this morning's paper, there were some well contaminated very seriously. While they're not in the City, it could happen with City water. We've had some episodes and we've had no mass spect test. We send them to three labs, split bottle, and they come back with three different readings. They're the best in the country and I would like to be able to use their mass spect and I'd like to think in terms —

Mr. Stone:

I don't have any problem with that. If they have something we could use we ought to be able to use it.

Michelle Madoff:

And they said no. I've spoken to Mr. Posvar about it and they are hesitating and you know why. They get a lot of money from private industry and usually the perpetrator of the episode, if there's a spill, is an industry who may be one of their donors. I would like to make some arrangement that they give us the use of the services. And I would like to very carefully look at what services we pay for and what kind of studies.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bills?

And on the question, "Shall the bills pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Givens	Mr. Robinson

Services, Department of Parks and Recreation."

Which was read.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'd like to make an amendment, Mr. President. I'd just like to delete one sentence where it says, "The Mayor and the Director of the Department of Parks and Recreation are hereby authorized and directed to enter into an agreement or agreements with Arlington Little League Baseball Team" I'd like to have deleted, "for purchase of baseball uniforms and equipment" and it will just read, "Arlington Little League Baseball Team to provide for a baseball athletic program for needy youth."

Which was read.

Mr. Robinson:

On Bill 3129, I'd just like to indicate that I think that we probably could find this money in a more appropriate code account. I hate to see Supplies take that money out of the code account that they're taking it from.

I would just encourage Council to be more diligent or to be diligent in the future about which code accounts departments would like to take money from.

Michelle Madoff:

I commented on that last time, Bill, and they said it was the only place the money was available. I asked that at Wednesday's meeting.

Mr. Robinson:

Well, I think that there's probably some other places that the money is available.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm inclined to agree with you.

Mr. Robinson:

It makes me question whether or not when the budget was originally prepared if there wasn't too much money allocated to Code Account 1146 for Utilities.

Mr. Woods:

On Bill 3129, the reason that we have the extra money in that particular code account is because we had a very mild winter and our bills weren't nearly what we expected.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bills?

And on the question, "Shall the bills pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 2994

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for an Agreement or Agreements with the Advanced Technology Center, Mellon-Pitt-Carnegie Corporation, located in Oakland, for local government matching funding support of the Advanced Technology Center to identify research and development opportunities for Western Pennsylvania, and provide financial packaging and technical assistance, at a cost not to exceed $25,000.00."

Which was read.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. Robinson
Mr. Givens	Mr. Woods
Michelle Madoff	Mr. DePasquale
Mr. O'Malley	(Pres't)

AYES 7 NOES none

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bill passed finally.

Also,

Bill No. 3039

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution adopting certified record and findings of fact and conclusions of law in support of the denial of conditional use application No. 467 - for requesting permission by Ellwest Stereo Theatres, Inc., on property at 228 Forbes Avenue in the First Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, to change a portion of the first floor area from booths using coin operated movie film machines to a stage area for live entertainment."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

On Bill 3039, do we just vote aye and that means that we're voting to oppose?

The Chair:

There's no veto on this bill, is there? Is this an affirmative vote, Mike?

Mr. Perry:

This is a regular vote.

The Chair:

Aye for yes and nay for no.

Michelle Madoff:

Fine. No problem.

Mr. Flaherty:

I'm going to oppose 3039 for the reasons that I stated in Wednesday's Committee Meeting, and I would like them included in the Municipal Record.

(MR. FLAHERTY'S REMARKS ON BILL NO. 3039 FROM THE MEETING OF WEDNESDAY, JUNE 8, 1983)

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. Chairman, if I might, I would like to make a motion to hold this bill for one week in order that the solicitor can come to the table. Then, after his discussion I would like the Chair to entertain perhaps another motion. So that we can have some discussion, I would just like to make a motion to hold for one week, then I would like to have the option to change that motion after we talk to the solicitor.

Michelle Madoff:

Question on holding. Bill, why do you want to hold it?

Mr. Robinson:

So the solicitor can come to the table to discuss it. I don't want to make a motion to approve or disapprove until after I hear from him.

The Chair:

The only problem I have with that, the motion is to hold for a week, which means the discussion would be relative to whether or not you hold for a week.

Mr. Robinson:

I don't have any problem with that.

Michelle Madoff:

May I ask you to withdraw your motion, have us hear from the director, then if you want to, to go ahead with it today?

Mr. Robinson:

Point of order. In the past, when Council members have made an attempt to discuss an issue prior to making a motion, the Chair has always ruled us out of order. I am simply trying to find a procedure where we can talk to Mr. Pellegrini prior to a motion being made to approve or disapprove. If the Chair can give us some help on that regard, I will withdraw my motion.

The Chair:

If you are going to talk on the holding, then just go ahead.

Mr. Robinson:

No, I want to talk substantively to Mr. Pellegrini on the bill.

Michelle Madoff:

I've done it frequently without moving on the bill. I'd say I want to discuss it before moving on the bill.

The Chair:

Michelle, we've been trying to get down so that— You see, what happens here at this table, and everybody is not seeing that and you have to see it somewhere along the line; if you are just opening a general discussion, then the world is your field, but if you make a motion you are at least saying where you are so that you can find out whether you are in order or out of order. That is the reason for this.

Mr. Woods:

Can I make a suggestion? Bill, would you withdraw the whole motion, make a motion to approve, we'd get a second and we would discuss it; then, if you decide to hold we can withdraw those motions.

Mr. Robinson:

Okay. If the Chair will allow me that option, then I withdraw my motions.

The Chair:

You have that option.

Michelle Madoff:

I withdraw my second.

Mr. Robinson:

I make a motion to approve.

Michelle Madoff:

I second that motion.

Mr. Given:

Discussion. Could we have Mr. Pellegrini to the table?

The Chair:

I've called him already.

Mr. Robinson:

Dan, if I might, as you know, there has been some discussion around Bill No. 3039—there was a post agenda on this issue. Could you give us some clarification as to where we stand on this? I believe some other members of Council have some questions.

Mr. Pellegrini:

What happened is that this was approved by Council in May of 1981. An appeal was taken to the Court of Common Pleas on June 17, 1981. As an aside, on July 2, 1981 there was a case decided by the Commonwealth Court called North Point Breeze Coalition versus the City of Pittsburgh. What they said is that until that time, we took the position that you cannot appeal a decision of Council denying a conditional use because it just was not appealable. The Commonwealth Court said it is appealable, and you have to give a due process hearing. In this particular situation, a due process hearing involves cross examination and a full-blown transcript recognizing the cross examinations.

We had a conciliation with Judge Pappadakos. What he did was he decided the North Point Breeze case in the lower court, and he said if the Commonwealth Court wants to say that due process hearings take place, and City Council wants to hear conditional uses, we are going to make a due process hearing take place before City Council.

Well, we were in a bit of a quandary because we had never had those hearings in City Council. We looked at a procedure that could be utilized to obtain the same result. Under the municipality's planning code—

Mr. Givens:

Danny, are we talking about pornographic—

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. Givens, please.

The Chair:

Dick, let him finish.

Mr. Givens:

Point of clarification. We are talking around in circles. Is this pornographic, coin operated pornographic, now live?

Mr. Pellegrini:

Yes. So, what happened was under the municipality's planning code what you do is after Council holds a hearing and has denied them, and an appeal was taken; the appeal is then taken to the Zoning Hearing Board which makes the record. So another order of court was entered saying it would go down to the Zoning Hearing Board and they would make the record. That record was filed on December 2, 1981.

What was going on at the same time is that there was another case in the Commonwealth Court involving Ellwest Stereo Theatres, and no one pushed anything until that was resolved. On February 17, 1983 they said fine, you have a due process hearing, but City Council didn't give findings of fact and conclusions of law. So that is what this bill is for, to give findings of fact and conclusions of law; it is not to change the ultimate recommendation of City Council. This was the first one that came down after that bill, and we were not quite sure of our procedure. What we do now, if you notice the President of Council, when you hold conditional use hearings they say does anybody have any questions. In the last appeal, Divine Providence, the court said that that was fine. If you looked at your bill there are whereas clauses which were the findings of fact and conclusions of law. It took a while to get the procedure, but if you recall, there has been a couple of these over the years—Hasina House which was referred back, and I forget the other one. It wasn't unusual, and there may be more where the court said the findings of fact and conclusions of law are not specific enough. When these things happen when there are appeals taken, that will occur.

Mr. Robinson:

Two other questions. One relates to Judge Pappadakos' order. I don't know whether you have that in front of you or not, but it is my understanding that the Judge, in his order, recognized that Council did not provide the court with sufficient information, and that the Judge wanted us to provide him with sufficient information.

Mr. Pellegrini:

Correct.

Mr. Robinson:

My concern is, was there any process initiated to get the information from Council, not by the court but by the city representatives to present to the court?

Mr. Pellegrini:

What happened was that when there was initial court order ordering it back to Council we talked to him and he said it could be for the Zoning Hearing Board and the transcript could be prepared there. We felt that that way would have been sufficient, all Council involved felt that that was sufficient and the Judge could make a decision based on it. We filed that with the court on December 21, 1981, and we thought that the court was going to issue a decision. It wasn't until February 17, 1983 that the court said no, you didn't give us enough. He interpreted his order of July 17, 1981 which said you had to give findings of fact and conclusions of law. He said it was a misunderstanding on all the attorneys involved on that case.

Mr. Robinson:

Did anyone from your office contact the City Clerk or the President of Council to get any of our records relative to this, that could be presented to the court?

Mr. Pellegrini:

We filed those records. At that time the court said we didn't have the hearing that they wanted, so they were not relevant. What we provide the court routinely with now is all the copies of the Planning Commission's reports, your transcript that is made here, and a copy of the resolution that is enacted by Council.

Mr. Robinson:

Has that procedure been established subsequent to the situation that we have before us now?

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's right. This was the first case that came down after the whole procedure was changed.

Mr. Robinson:

Has the Council President or the City Clerk been informed of this procedure so they can assist you in getting the material in the future?

Mr. Pellegrini:

The President of Council, as you notice when he holds the hearings asks if anybody has any questions, so Mike knows how to get the transcripts and what we want.

Mr. Robinson:

My point is that I had suggested to the City Clerk that he contact you to make sure that there was a firmly established procedure that both Council and the Law Department understood, so that in the future Council's material can be presented to you so you can present it to the court.

Mr. Pellegrini:

What we do now is there is no additional hearings in courts, what they do is to take your transcript and the resolution and the findings of the Planning Commission and the court makes a decision based solely on that information. At that time we didn't have that procedure established because there were no appeals taken.

The Chair:

Danny, what do you do in the event that nobody speaks on it, they just motion and second to pass?

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's why I said in the future we may be coming back with these type of resolutions. I think the procedure will be much clearer because this was the first time.

Mr. Givens:

Danny, in approving this, are we saying that in fact we are denying--

Mr. Pellegrini:

Yes.

The Chair:

All we are doing is giving the support for what we did.

Mr. Givens:

What you are saying to me then is that on each of these specific cases you might have to come back to Council.

Mr. Pellegrini:

It would depend on if the court finds that the conclusions are not sufficient or he wants more detailed conclusions. I think what prompted this was another case that came down involving the Zoning Hearing Board. It went all the way up to the Commonwealth Court and Judge Pappadakos was affirmed and they said well, we don't have enough findings of fact and conclusions of law, we are going to remand it back. I think Judge Pappadakos was responding to that in February of 1983.

Mr. Flaherty:

I have some questions, Danny. To try to follow up on what Councilman Robinson was trying to hit upon, if you go to the proposed ordinance, the whereas reads, "Whereas, on July 18, 1981, after a court ordered conciliation, the court ordered that the matter be remanded to City Council for the preparation of a full record and the findings supportive of the denial." Then, the following whereas reads, "Whereas, by September 23, 1981, when Council had not complied with the July 17, 1981 order...."; why hadn't Council complied?

Mr. Pellegrini:

There were a number of problems. Number one, we didn't know exactly what we were doing at that point; it was the first procedure that came up. If you take a look at July 17th, and when Council was not in session in August there was no way physically that we could have Council comply by that date.

Mr. Flaherty:

Had you contacted Council?

Mr. Pellegrini:

When the order came down July 17th, now we hadn't; I think we sent a copy of the order but we hadn't discussed it.

Mr. Flaherty:

Why hadn't you contacted Council?

Mr. Pellegrini:

Because we were examining the decision and trying to figure out what was going on, because at the same time, on July 2, 1981 we had the North Point Breeze Case and we were in a bit of a quandary. There were discussions going on at the time, and it was decided that the best place to have the due process hearing was the Zoning Hearing Board. On September 29th the court ordererd it back to the Zoning Hearing Board. All the Zoning Hearing Board would do would be to make the record; and, that record was forwarded to the court, and we believed that that was enough and the court would have been satisfied.

Mr. Flaherty:

Had the court been told that your office had not even attempted to receive any information from Council?

Mr. Pellegrini:

We had a problem, and if you take a look at the procedures involved , you are off in the month of August, you don't come back until the first Monday after Labor Day—

Mr. Flaherty:

But, you are not the City Clerk, Danny. That is exactly what the problem is, I think you are pre-empting Council in this whole process, even to the point of deciding what Council or what the City Clerk's office is capable of doing or not capable of doing. I would hope that you would let that to the City Clerk's Office.

Mr. Pellegrini:

We sent a copy of the decision; I think the problem that we had at that time was exploring our options. This was the first case, we have since established the procedure.

Mr. Woods:

He is right, you should have informed us in some manner.

Mr. Pellegrini:

I think we sent a copy of the order, and we do inform you of these decisions now.

Mr. Woods:

Since then, but not at that point.

Mr. Flaherty:

Well, two weeks ago Mike Perry said he couldn't recall recieving it.

Michelle Madoff:

You thik you sent a copy of the order? Whom did you send it to?

Mr. Pellegrini:

This was two years ago, I don't recall.

Michelle Madoff:

Mike, did you get it?

Mr. Perry:

I don't recall.

Michelle Madoff:

You'd have it filed. You're pretty good at filing things that are five years old.

Mr. Pellegrini:

We will send copies of the orders.

Michelle Madoff:

That's not my question. If this happened five years ago and the issue is current, wouldn't you have thought to reactivate it and see that we got the information so that we could deal with it on a current level?

Mr. Pellegrini:

I think that what we were attempting to do was to keep Ellwest Stereo Theatres from not opening with live sex shows.

Michelle Madoff:

I think we are all in agreement; but let's assume there was an issue that we weren't in agreement with, and frequently Council doesn't agree with Danny Pellegrini—we need our own attorney desperately.

The Chair:

Hold on at this point, let me just make a comment. I think it is being overlooked what is really happening here. Council made a decision, and what he is giving you is facts, circumstances, conclusion, in order to substantiate what Council did. He is not making any decision differently, he is just giving you support for your decision; and that is what he is going through because the law is in a period of flux at that point. It came after as to what had to be done, and he was trying to come back, to give Council the support that it needed to justify its decision, as I read it.

Mr. Woods:

I understand what you said and I understand what Danny said, when I sat here at a post agenda he explained it all; but, the bottom line, and I am still in favor of it so I am going to vote for it, but the bottom line is you didn't inform us when you were supposed to, and you went on your own and fought it. We should have been informed; that's the bottom line. I think that is what everyone is trying to say.

Michelle Madoff:

So that we could support you.

Mr. Pellegrini:

I agree, if there is a problem about receiving information on these. I think the problem with this particular one, if you are talking about a particular one, is that we didn't quite know what we were going to do and what the procedures were. We had a procedural difficulty at that time.

Mr. Woods:

We understand that, but you, in some form, on July 17th or shortly thereafter we should have been told, hey—we have a problem, we're fighting this case and you might have to do this by September something. But, you didn't do that and that is what Councilman Robinson was saying, and Michelle.

Mr. Pellegrini:

I agree, we should have come back to City Council—

Mr. Woods:

Immediately, if not sooner.

Mr. Pellegrini:

On July 17th the court entered an order and said that you've got to hold a due process hearing and you have to sit through another Ellwest Stereo Theater hearing.

Mr. Woods:

That's the only argument I have.

Mr. Flaherty:

Had you considered that in reviewing, or perhaps you hadn't even reviewed Council's transcript on the hearing, but you presumed that perhaps the hearing in front of Council and the reason for Council as a whole refusing the application could not hold up, perhaps, in a court of law, in that Council had not substantiated their reasons for denying the applicant; but perhaps Council was acting in a political fashion against pornography without substantiating it.

Mr. Pellegrini:

No.

Mr. Flaherty:

Did Council substantiate it?

Mr. Pellegrini:

Yes.

Mr. Flaherty:

See, you are giving us support. No, no, Council did not, that's why we are on the bill right here today. You are coming back and you are telling Council why it voted two years ago against denying this application, so it can be upheld in a court of law.

Mr. Pellegrini:

The procedure is that you have to make findings of fact and conclusions of law when you go up and you deny a conditional use. Until the North Point Breeze case that came down in July, 1981, you could do anything you wanted to do, and we took the position and we were successful for a number of years saying that City Council could not be challenged. There were two or three cases that came down, Hasina House was the other one and we did the same thing on Hasina House, it went right through.

That came down in that interim period. The court doesn't care what reasons that you put in, they just want reasons. Now we are going to have to give them reasons when we do things. What we've been doing is saying that in those cases where the Council affirms the Planning Commission, the Planning Commission issues the report and we say that Council adopts those reasons.

There may be cases where they come back. If each of you want to submit 12 conclusions of law in saying why you didn't do it, then we will be very happy to put them in format. But, the reason on this particular case is that it is within 1,000 feet of the other areas.

The other thing, I have to say that Judge Pappadakos indicated to me that he doesn't like Council hearing conditional uses, period. He said that he'd rather have them all, a conditional use is nothing more than a special exception, which is handled by the board. He said the boards are set up and they can do it much faster. Well, I said that that is not my decision as to whether or not Council holds conditional uses or not; and, he said I am going to make it as hard on them as possible.

Mr. Woods:

He has a right to be ridiculous. That's the judge, and he has a right to be ridiculous.

Mr. Flaherty:

Essentially, Danny, you are giving us the reasons why two years ago we voted to deny the conditional use application.

Mr. Pellegrini:

No, what I am saying is you are giving the court the reason.

Mr. Flaherty:

Well, we are giving the court the reason. No, you are giving us the reasons to give to the court because you prepared all this, because you never asked Council for our transcript, and you never asked Council for their findings and the facts as to why they voted the way they did two years ago.

Mr. Pellegrini:

The findings that were prepared were draft findings. If you want to change them, you can put any changes that you want in them; or, you can prepare your own bill and substitute your own findings. Those findings were prepared in a manner that we believed the way that the Council would act properly, and that Council would want to go on record as saying why it turned it down.

Mr. Flaherty:

I just have one other question. It is another train of thought, but it seems to me a real glaring question. On page four it says, "Whereas testimony was given April 7, 1981, public hearing as follows: The subject property is located within 1,000 feet of several of the uses listed to Section 993.01 of the Code, including several licensed liquor establishments and pool hall." What I am concerned about, the testimony was given on April 7, 1981 and you were substantiating the testimony with Section 993.01, which was not enacted until April 2, 1982. How could you substantiate testimony back on April 7th—

Mr. Pellegrini:

You're wrong. It was April 21, 1981.

Mr. Flaherty:

No, I have the ordinance right here in front of me. If you care to go through Section 993.01 it is 1982.

Mr. Woods:

It was amended, I think.

Mr. Pellegrini:

Wait a minute, 993.01 was enacted by Council on May 23, 1979 initially. That was the date the code was enacted. Oh, do you know what that amendment was—that was within 500 feet of a church and we changed the code, remember? It was just an amendment.

Mr. DePaquale:

I think we should bite the bullet and make a decision.

Michelle Madoff:

That's what we're going to do if we take a vote.

Mr. DePasquale:

Not us, the judge.

The Chair:

Let's take a vote. All in favor signify by saying aye.

EIGHT AYES, ONE NO. MR.
FLAHERTY VOTING NO.

Mr. Flaherty:

I am opposed because I believe that we are being spoon fed, or I am being spoon fed the reasons as to why I voted on a proposed ordinance two years ago. I just don't operate on Council that way.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to explain my yes vote. I am voting yes because we voted for it before, and I would like to have it on the record that Mr. Danny Pellegrini from the Law Department did not do his job properly. This Council needs an attorney of its own so that they can meet and perhaps we can get information.

The Chair:

I would be less than fair, in view of those remarks, if I didn't respond. I think the city solicitor has done his job here, he is only trying to justify our actions with the change of the law. I don't think he's done anything improper, in fact, I think he's trying to support the decision of Council. For that he should not be smacked on the knuckles, but rather commended.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to respond to that by saying that Danny Pellegrini admitted himself, and it is a matter of the record if you want to read it back, that yes, he should have kept us better informed and did not. He admitted his own inadequacy.

The Chair:

That is one problem of it, but that doesn't make him wrong on the decision.

Michelle Madoff:

My point is that this Council is entitled to legal counsel, we ought to bite the bullet and vote on that sometime.

(END OF MR. FLAHERTY'S REMARKS ON BILL 3039, 6/8/83)

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Givens	Mr. Woods
Michelle Madoff	Mr. DePasquale
Mr. O'Malley	(Pres't)

AYES 5 NOES 2

(MR. FLAHERTY AND MR. ROBINSON
VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bill passed finally.

Mr. Woods presented

Bill No. 3213

Report of the Committee on Supplies for June 8, 1983 transmitting one resolution to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 3130

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for an Agreement or Agreements with a Consultant or Consultants to aid the City in its minority purchasing program. Responsibilities of the Consultant or Consultants are to include staff training, minority vendor recruitment, and purchasing procedure review aimed at increasing minority participation in the City purchasing program, the cost of which shall not exceed $30,000.00 chargeable to and payable from Code Account 1128, Miscellaneous Services, Department of Supplies."

Which was read.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, in line with some of my concerns in the area of minority business development, I'd like to offer an amendment to 3130. This amendment would replace the present Section 2 with a new Section 2, and the old Section 2 will become Section 3. I'm suggesting the inclusion of another section here.

The amendment would read: "The Agreement or Agreements shall require timely written reports at the end of each phase of the consulting and review process and a final report which shall be submitted to City Council."

Mr. Woods:

What length of time, Bill, on the final report? At the conclusion of the contract?

Mr. Robinson:

Yes.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Robinson:

I have a couple comments, if I might, Mr. President, on 3130 as amended. I'd just like to indicate that I think that the $30,000 figure is woefully inadequate to address this concern. While I recognize that it's limited to the Supplies Department, certainly $30,000 could probably be better spent by hiring an employee or two employees to try to implement our present Minority Business Enterprise Program in the Supplies Department, but if the Administration feels that this is the way they want to proceed, I certainly would not deny them their prerogative. I just don't think that that's the best way to do it.

Also, I'm concerned about the request for a proposal that was prepared to hire a consultant. I have been unable to determine the actual process that was utilized in hiring the consultant, and I think it is important for us to recognize that the credibility of our Supplies Department and the credibility of this Council is on the line relative to this whole issue of minority business development. I think we ought to try to find the best qualified consultants to do the job, and I have been unable to determine what process we utilize to come up with the consultant that the Supplies Department indicates they want to hire. This is in no way a reflection — my comments are not a reflection on the integrity or quality of service that will be delivered to us, but I just think for our own credibility we need to make sure that the request for a proposal process is one that affords us the opportunity to get the best qualified person to do the job.

Also, there was some suggestion by Mr. Jacoby that there was more than one proposal. Again, I have been unable to determine the validity of his statement that there were perhaps more than one party interested in giving us consultant services in this area. Again, for our own credibility I think we have to be cognizant of the fact that there are many people who can deliver services to the City of Pittsburgh, and in trying to find the best possible provider of service, we sometimes have to look among a wide range of people.

I'm also concerned that the Supplies Department has been unable to supply this Council with the quarterly reports that we have been requesting for five years. In the face of that, they have asked us to approve $30,000 to hire a consultant. Maybe if they sent to us the reports that we've been requesting, we wouldn't have to spend $30,000 to hire a consultant. So, I'm concerned about that also, that we're going to spend $30,000 based on the recommendation of the Supplies Department when that same Supplies Department will not forward to Council the required quarterly reports on this minority business program. It seems inconsistent, at least, but if this is the way the Administration wants to proceed, I'll certainly respect their prerogative in this regard.

Also, I think Council should be aware that the Administration has basically resisted any legislative initiatives that have come from this Council relative to minority business development. Outside the Mayor's Executive Order, there has been no support from the Administration for Minority Business Enterprise Program in the City of Pittsburgh. I think, again, the Administration is suggesting that we spend $30,000 to hire a consultant to help us do something that we supposedly have been doing for five and one half years. Ordinance 28 and Executive Order No. 1 do provide the foundation of this program. The Mayor did not sign Ordinance No. 28; it went into law without his signature. So, the legislative initiative of this Council, the major one, does not have the support of the Administration. The two attempts that have been made, mainly by myself, to amend Ordinance 28 have been resisted by the Administration with legal opinions and comments from the Mayor suggesting that what we already have is adequate. Again, this flies in the face of asking us to spend $30,000 to hire a consultant? If what we have is adequate, why do we have to spend $30,000 to hire a consultant. But if the Administration wants to follow along with the initiative, I certainly won't try to stand in your way.

I am also concerned about the role of the Human Relations Commission. The City Charter is rather specific that the Human Relations Commission does not have any responsibility in the area of minority business development. Yet the Mayor's Executive Order No. 1 has given them responsibilities in that area. I think we need to clarify that kind of quickly, particularly in face of the fact that there is a bill that I introduced into Council to give to the Human Relations Commission the very power that the Mayor has given to them by way of Executive Orders. As I understand the Charter, we would have to give the power to the Human Relations Commission by way of legislation, not by way of Executive Order. But, again, there seems to be some inconsistency in the Administration's position on minority business development, at least their spoken position, and what is being actualized.

Also, Council should be aware that the Controller's Office, on the suggestion of this Council by way of resolution, is supposed to be auditing all City departments in all units of government relative to the Minority Business Enterprise Program. Again, I want to relate this to the Supplies Department wanting to spend $30,000 to hire a consultant to work with Supplies and the Controller's Office. I think after five and one half years that this City probably has enough on the job training and in-house developed expertise that we could do the job that we're going to pay $30,000 to a consultant to do. But if the Administration wants to follow along this initiative, I certainly won't stand in their way, but I think Council ought to be aware of some of the other surrounding facts to bringing about this consultant contract.

Also, I'd just like to make a couple comments, if I might, on what I hope will come from this consultant effort. I think we ought to be very careful that as we develop this contract that we make sure that our consultant is going to give us something that we can use, some specific request, some specific suggestions that we can utilize to enhance our program, not simply advice. We've had a lot of advice from a lot of very competent people.

In the area of staff training, unless we're going to keep this consultant around forever, we're going to have to at some point train our staff to carry out the Mayor's Executive Order and Ordinance 28. That means that the people in the Supplies Department are either going to have to be hired or trained to make sure that our Minority Business Enterprise Program is in place. And I would hope as this contractual relationship is worked out that that point is in there also. I've already mentioned about the timely reports.

In closing, let me just say that I hope that no one feels that by simply hiring a consultant and getting the consultant's blessings that whatever we do in the future is okay. I would hope that anyone who is involved in this process would take it serious and would understand that those of us who believe that minority business development is in the best interests of the City take it serious and that we do not believe that simply hiring a consultant or simply making empty promises is going to solve this problem. I hope to be able to monitor this process, I hope that the Supplies Department will be kind enough to allow me to review some of the progress in this area, and I certainly will continue to ask the Supplies Department for those quarterly reports which they have not sent us, and I will continue to ask them to live up to their part of the bargain around making minority business development real in this City.

Thank you, Mr. President.

Michelle Madoff:

You know when you don't want to do something, you study it. I think your point is very well taken, Mr. Robinson. When the Administration came to us and said, my God, we didn't know that we weren't meeting our commitment of 15 percent, it was only .06 and they were shocked after a number of years, how can we vote to study it? Why don't we vote instead to take the $30,000 and hire somebody qualified to walk through and monitor and represent perhaps this Council? We have some funds to see that the duties as charged under the laws are adhered to, because you're not going to get any more. You're going to go along with the Administration. You hope you'll get the reports. You haven't got it for five years. What makes you think you're going to get them now? And when they come to us and say, oh, we didn't know, we're embarrassed, oh, we're so thunderstruck with only .06 percent, let's hire somebody to do the job.

Mr. Flaherty:

I concur with what Councilman Robinson has said for the most part, but I feel that the heat is now currently on the Administration in regard to their lack of having an equitable minority involvement program for hiring and for the awarding of City contracts. I am in opposition to this bill because I think it is simply a P.R. move which is going to give the Administration some relief, perhaps some room to breathe; and I don't think we should give them that relief, because I think that if we keep the heat on them, then we will see some substantial change.

I, of course, am not a black person, but I think that I certainly have some sensitivity or I try to have some sensitivity to the needs of black people; and I see this proposal to a certain degree as insulting, because what we are saying is that we have to have a consultant tell the City how we are going to hire or how we are to have black people involved in the awarding of contracts. We certainly don't have a consultant to tell us how to hire white people, and so I'm also opposed to it for that reason, but finally the hiring of blacks or enhancing minority involvement in the contractual processes of this City is not a professional decision or it is not a decision which involves a specific expertise. It is a political decision, and you can have all the consultants that this Council will deem or that the Administration will deem and we can put a lot of gingerbread on this subject, but we will continue to have the problem if we don't have people of political courage that are willing to handle a very sensitive problem, and that is of having equitable participation for a sizable percentage of our constituency in the business of City Hall.

I think that the Administration had six years to work on this problem; the results are dismal, they are a disgrace, and I don't think that is because of the want of any expertise. I think that is because of a want of an interest and an attitude and a certain degree of political courage.

Mr. Woods:

I'm for this bill for one simple reason. What they've doing for the last five and a half or six years hasn't worked, so somebody's got to come in and show them how to do it, and $30,000 isn't any great figure to have that done. As far as these quarterly reports, I realize they have never been done like they were supposed to be, but we just got one, what is it, two months ago, and that's why we came up with these dismal figures and finally realized that they weren't doing what was proper. So they are going to start, and the first one is what brought this whole thing to light, made an issue out of it.

Michelle Madoff:

That took five years, Mr. Woods, —

Mr. Woods:

I'm not saying —

Michelle Madoff:

— for Mr. Robinson to try and get that information.

Mr. Woods:

Michelle, can I get done?

Michelle Madoff:

I'm sorry.

Mr. Woods:

I'm not saying what they did is right. I'm saying what they did is wrong, and after Mr. Robinson kept screaming for these reports, he finally got it two months ago. We got it as Council two months ago, and that's what brought this whole issue to light. So if they've been doing it wrong and no one there knows how to do it right, then that's why they're hollering to hire a consultant to come in and say here's how it's supposed to be done; and that's why we should vote in favor of this thing and not against it.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, I should also want to add that if we do hire a consultant, then we are going to have somewhat of a breach as far the public accountability, and it's very easy then in the future to hire a consultant once again of the Administration's choice; and when this problem continues to arise, then the responsibility or the burden will put on the consultant, and I don't think the responsibility or the accountability should be shared by anyone other than the elected public officials of this City. So, I also view it from a tainted perspective and that it's a shrewd political move to put the onus to put the scapegoat on some consultant in the future.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. Chairman, if I may, we just approved consulting for indirect cost schedule submission through the federal government. We just approved that we have people, expertise in our Finance Department that should be able to that. We just approved that. Everyday in this Council we approve consultants to look at bridges. We probably have — our Public Works has more engineers down there, and that's all they deal with is bridges, but everyday this Council, these same members that are objecting to this bill vote in favor of consultant for that, consultants for road work, consultants for sewers, for water lines. We do it everyday here. This is a joke. You people are actually making a joke out of this one little issue.

The Chair:

If I may, ladies and gentlemen, I didn't to turn this into a debate, now. Michelle, if you have a short comment, we're going to get on with the voting, because you've already spoken.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Woods, with due respect, the one thing that this esteemed body has never done is vote for a fiscal advisor for this Council, and if we had it, you wouldn't be sitting there right now saying we vote for them for everything else. Frankly, this bill ought to be resubmitted and sent back. Give us a person to do the job as opposed to a consultant. We know how to do it, you know how to do it, I know how to do it, everybody in that office knows how to do it. Let's just hire a person to do it.

Mr. Flaherty:

I am opposed to 3130. To reiterate, I think it's a quick fix, and if you want equitable minority involvement, then you hire competent personnel. It is strictly sloughing off a very important political decision. It's important to keep in mind that to involve minorities in the business of City Hall employment, of City Hall is indeed a very sensitive issue because you're oftentimes nearly everytime dealing with powerful white interests, and it's about time that someone in this City start to tell some of these interests that there's going to be little bread and a little bit of equity for everyone; and that's all it takes if you want a real program, not some consultant that you're going to give a meager $30,000 to.

Mr. Givens:

I vote aye.

Michelle Madoff:

No.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'm going to vote no also, and just one quick comment that even if George Jacoby is relatively a new director, I think it's his responsibility as director of that department to make sure that the minority programs, purchasing program is implemented, and if that's not in Mr. Jacoby's job scope, if that's certainly not in his qualifications, then I think we should be looking at the director. I don't think the program, to implement that program, is any enormous task that can't be overcome by Mr. Jacoby or somebody in his department just by Mr. Jacoby giving directions and leading the way and saying this is the program, it's the law, it has to be implemented. I think it's a waste of money to spend the $30,000. If we had to spend the $30,000, I'd prefer to spend it to hire an expert, a permanent expert to work in the Supplies Department. I vote no.

Mr. Robinson:

I'm going to vote aye, and I'd like to explain my vote on 3130. To say the least, this is a political issue. I don't think anyone should walk away from that. As someone who's been in the middle of this issue, I have mixed feelings about 3130. One of the main reasons I'm voting for 3130 is that this bill represents one of the few times since I've been a member of this Council that the Administration has taken a bold move to hire a minority expert to do anything, and I find that it would unconscionable at this point for me not to support that kind of effort. It's too little and it's too late, but I'll support it because it represents one of the few times that this Administration has reached out and used its power to hire minority experts by way of a consultant contract.

This contract was awarded because this is the company the Mayor wanted. This is exactly the company he wanted; everybody ought to understand that, the company the Mayor wanted. We ought to say that here so that when other folks start saying it, we'll know that we know that this is who the Mayor wanted. Fine, that's his prerogative. Also, I think that because I have been continuing to ask the Administration to sit down and to cooperatively discuss minority issues, that it would be inconsistent for me now to do what I feel they have done to this Council, and that is basically slap us in the face when it comes to cooperating on this issue.

This bill is not the product of a cooperative effort. This bill is a product of a reactionary effort. You're right, Mr. Flaherty, in that regard. I think this bill is simply a reaction to Councilman Robinson and some others asking for equity and parity in this City for minorities, and I think it is a half-hearted attempt, but yet it is an initiative the Administration feels comfortable with, and I certainly am willing to give them another opportunity to do what they feel is right.

Also, lastly and perhaps as important as the rest, as Council is aware, there are three bills that I have introduced before this Council that are still pending. One of those bills is 2543 which would establish a Minority Business Opportunity Commission. That bill is still alive and well in the face of the Mayor's objections to it and the City Solicitor's objections to it, and I hope that somewhere along the line with the appropriate amendment that this Council will see fit to pass it. Also, there is another bill which would give to our Human Relations Commission the power to implement Ordinance 28, which deals with minority business development. That bill is still alive, and there is another bill which would give to the Human Relations Commission the legislative power to coordinate all of our M.B.E. programs.

All three of these bills are designed to bring about some sort of equitable M.B.E. program in the City. Because those three bills are alive and the other two things I said, I'm going to support 3130 with some serious reservations, but I'll support it.

Lastly, I'd just like to indicate that the two bills that give to the Human Relations Commission additional powers will be back in committee on Wednesday. I'm going to ask Council to hold those bills and to forward to the Commission a copy of both those bills to get their input so that we can cooperate to make M.B.E. a reality in this City. The Human Relations Commission just recently selected new officers. They have a new chairperson and other officers. Hopefully, these bills will be welcome at least in terms of giving them some serious consideration. Having said all that, I'm going to reluctantly support 3130.

Mr. Woods:

I vote aye, and I would please like to ask my colleagues who voted no to change their vote before it's over, at least one of you, so we pass this. It is something, just like Mr. Robinson said, it's something.

Michelle Madoff:

I would consider passing it if you would put a due-date on it and we get a report back when that person would be hired and a consultant would come back with a report.

Mr. Woods:

It's already being amended.

Michelle Madoff:

But we won't get that.

Mr. Woods:

Michelle, Mr. Robinson had already amended the bill so there will be reports quarterly and then a final report.

Michelle Madoff:

We've never got them. We've always had it. We've never got the report.

Mr. Woods:

It's in the bill.

Michelle Madoff:

But we've always had that in the bills.

The Chair:

Let's conclude the voting, and if somebody wants to change their vote, they can do just that.

Mr. Woods:

I vote aye.

The Chair:

Well apparently the vote at this point is beaten. I'm going to vote aye, and I would like to say that if we're saying, some Council members, if the Administration made no previous effort for minority participation, they are now making an effort along those lines even though it's a bit costly one, and we're saying no, we're not going to let them do it. I really don't understand that. I'd have to agree with Mr. Woods and Mr. Robinson to a certain extent that it's better than nothing, and if they were doing nothing before, at least they're trying to do something now. So, I will vote aye, but apparently it's going to be a defeated bill unless somebody changes their vote.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Givens	Mr. Woods
Mr. Robinson	Mr. DePasquale (Pres't)

AYES 4 NOES 3

(MR. FLAHERTY, MICHELLE MADOFF
AND MR. O'MALLEY VOTING NO)

Michelle Madoff:

The bill doesn't pass, then. You need five votes.

The Chair:

You need five votes.

Parliamentarian:

Council rule says, "When any bill, upon its final passage, receives the votes of a majority of the members of Council present, but not a majority of those elected, such bill shall be considered as laid upon the table, and may be called up for further action, at the same or any subsequent meeting of Council."

Michelle Madoff:

Does not pass now, right?

The Chair:

No, but it's tabled due to the fact that there aren't nine members present.

Mr. Flaherty:

Point of information, Mr. President.

Michelle Madoff:

Why doesn't it apply other times?

The Chair:

Wait, Mr. Flaherty. If I understood you, the bill carries as far as the seven, but it cannot be a legislative bill because there were not nine members present, and we need five out of nine; but due to the fact that there isn't a full Council, we can't table the bill, or the bill is tabled?

Parliamentarian:

Five-two it would pass.

The Chair:

That's what I'm saying. We needed five votes to pass. You're saying due to the fact that there weren't nine members present.

Parliamentarian:

No.

Mr. O'Malley:

He's saying due to the fact that there's only seven members, the majority of those seven members voted in favor of the bill, that bill is automatically tabled; and when there's a full quorum, they can bring the bill back on the table.

The Chair:

That's exactly what I'm saying. The fact that there are not nine members present is the reason we can table it.

Michelle Madoff:

How come that rule hasn't applied in other times? I'm sorry, where were you on other bills?

Mr. Flaherty:

Yes, yes, who asked for an opinion? Who asked the Solicitor for an opinion? I've been on this Council —

The Chair:

Regardless of who asked, Mr. Flaherty, it was asked and he gave it. You're saying now the bill is tabled.

Mr. Flaherty:

No, I've been on this Council four years and never once has this Solicitor said anything in regard to any other proposals. Now, why did you stand up today and try to defend this Administration's proposal?

Michelle Madoff:

Because he hired him.

Mr. Flaherty:

Who asked you for your opinion today?

Parliamentarian:

As a rule of Council.

Mr. Flaherty:

Well, why didn't you say something in the past four years on this Mr. —

Parliamentarian:

I've never seen this situation before.

Mr. Flaherty:

You just saw it today?

Parliamentarian:

I've never seen such a situation until now.

The Chair:

Well in all fairness, Mr. Flaherty, Michelle asked —

Mr. Flaherty:

There have been many bills that have been defeated in this Council, and you have never in the past said anything about those bills being tabled. Those bills were dead for all practical purposes, and who asked your opinion today?

The Chair:

Mr. Flaherty, if I may, Mr. Parliamentarian, Michelle Madoff asked for an opinion, and the opinion as far as I'm concerned stands, because that is the law.

Michelle Madoff:

Michelle Madoff did not ask for an opinion.

The Chair:

One that was asked — yes, you did. — You referred to the Parliamentarian.

Michelle Madoff:

No, I did not. I most certainly did not. As a matter of fact, I'm very chagrined.

The Chair:

Your statement was, does the bill carry.

Michelle Madoff:

I was asking you that.

The Chair:

And the Parliamentarian answered. You didn't ask him directly.

Michelle Madoff:

My question to you, sir, was did we have five votes, and if it was four votes, it obviously didn't carry; and the point that I'm chagrined at, Parliamentarian, is many times I have been on the end of the vote when it was four-two, and nobody ever said my bill was tabled and we can bring it up again.

Mr. Flaherty:

This is another reason there is a lot of favoritism from the City Solicitor's Office in this Council and it's blatant right on TV today.

Michelle Madoff:

And we better get our own solicitor for this Council and fast.

The Chair:

The bill is tabled.

Mr. Givens:

Point of clarification.

The Chair:

Are you on the bill?

Mr. Givens:

No, I said for point of clarification, and what has been discussed here today, the fact remains that this Council acts under Roberts Rules of Order. As long as there is a quorum here at any meeting, even though we haven't acted that in the past, we are still under Roberts Rules. So as long as five people are here, you have a quorum, you can continue on with the meeting, and that vote, although it might not be a final vote, then, would be tabled as our legal counsel so indicated.

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, the only statement I can make, and I'm not taking any sides here, the 12 years that I've been on this Council I've always been under the impression that a majority of five carries on a bill, regardless if only five Council members were present. Now, the fact that the Parliamentarian brought it up that we can table this bill, it's according to parliamentary law, and I don't see how we can change it, but whether he was asked to give an opinion or not, he gave that opinion, but in the past, apparently no one ever asked for an opinion. It was assumed that five were needed. Now the Parliamentarian is telling us that five votes aren't needed when there's only seven members.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, with all due respect, how long have you been here?

The Chair:

I'm on my twelfth year.

Michelle Madoff:

Okay. Has this ever happened before? How often have we gotten a four-two vote? The Parliamentarian never spoke up then. I think it's a disgrace.

Mr. Flaherty:

I mean, is this taken for granted, then, that every vote that is defeated in this Council is automatically tabled?

Mr. Woods:

No. That's why, Tom, Mr. President —

Parliamentarian:

The rule says if you have a majority vote in favor of those present, okay, but not a majority of those elected, which is five, then it becomes tabled; that's what the rules are.

Mr. Flaherty:

Then there are quite a few other bills that are tabled that we are not aware of in the past.

Michelle Madoff:

Mike, would you dig up all my bills when we had —

The Chair:

In all fairness, there haven't been that many bills, Mr. Flaherty that were defeated, but you make a good point. There were some bills that were defeated that didn't have a full Council vote, so apparently, they should have been tabled.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, can I ask the Parliamentarian one question? If this bill would have had a negative recommendation today, and it would have come out four-three, would it also have been tabled or would it have been dead?

Parliamentarian:

Well, you have a negative vote of four against three. It would have been dead.

Mr. Woods:

No, no, you misunderstand. If you'd have come here today with a negative recommendation, but the vote would have come out the same, four in favor and three against, would it have been tabled then, or would it have been defeated?

Parliamentarian:

The negative recommendation is the action before the committee. When you come up here, you vote it up or down.

The Chair:

The committee meeting has no bearing on the final vote.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, I did not get an answer. Mr. Perry, would you please dig up every bill when we did not have nine members of Council, seven, where my bills have been defeated four-three, four-two, and I want them put back on the table.

Mr. Flaherty:

Including district election from two years back.

Michelle Madoff:

No, only five years back. You don't have to go more than five years. Well, I've only been here five years.

Mr. O'Malley:

Mr. President, I have a question for the Parliamentarian. Do we follow the same procedure now that we do for any bill that was tabled, it will come up in the Wednesday session if the motion's made to untable it, and there's a majority of five votes, we untable it at a Wednesday session, discuss, and then bring it up Monday for a final vote?

Parliamentarian:

The rule says that it will be called up for further action at the same or any subsequent meeting of Council.

Michelle Madoff:

Is this a new Robert's Rule that just sprang out of the head of Zeus?

Parliamentarian:

It's Council's rules.

Michelle Madoff:

Then why have we not obeyed Council's rules?

Mr. O'Malley:

Because nobody ever read Council's rules, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

It doesn't really matter, because what we have is Robert Rade's rules. We don't have Robert's Rules. They apply whenever we feel they should apply.

The Chair:

The bill stands tabled.

Mr. Flaherty:

Well, wait a minute. Isn't the bill defeated?

Michelle Madoff:

No, they're going to bring it up again.

The Chair:

The bill is tabled, Mr. Flaherty. The Parliamentarian gave his ruling.

Mr. Flaherty:

What does it take to defeat a bill?

Parliamentarian:

Five-two negative.

Mr. Flaherty:

It takes five votes to defeat a bill you're saying?

Mr. O'Malley:

The majority of those present, Tommy, defeats the bill. The majority of Council people present defeats the bill.

The Chair:

No.

Mr. Flaherty:

Well, the majority here voted to defeat the bill.

Mr. O'Malley:

No. It was four-three in favor of it. If it was four-three against it, it would have went down to defeat.

Parliamentarian:

Yes.

Mr. Flaherty:

Put it in writing. I'd appreciate it.

The Chair:

Parliamentarian, Mr. O'Malley brings up a good point. If it would have been four to three against, are you saying then the bill would have been defeated?

Parliamentarian:

Defeated, certainly.

The Chair:

It would not have been tabled even though there wasn't a five majority. That's the question.

Parliamentarian:

It would have been defeated.

The Chair:

We're only talking about in the affirmative, not in the negative. The bill is tabled.

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the bill was tabled.

Michelle Madoff presented

Bill No. 3214

Report of the Committee on Water for June 8, 1983 transmitting one resolution to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 3115

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution amending Resolution No. 94, approved February 3, 1983, entitled: 'Providing for a Contract or Contracts for the Relay of Water Lines and Appurtenances in Various Locations; and providing for the payment of the cost thereof,' by reducing the appropriation therein."

Which was read.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Mr. Givens	Mr. Woods
Michelle Madoff	Mr. DePasquale
Mr. O'Malley	(Pres't)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bill passed finally.

Mr. O'Malley presented

Bill No. 3215

Report of the Committee on Public Safety for June 8, 1983 transmitting one resolution to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 3119

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for an Agreement or Agreements with the Stadium Authority, City of Pittsburgh, for the provision by the Department of Emergency Medical Services of Paramedic Services at certain events; providing for reimbursement of the City of the cost thereof; and authorizing the deposit of funds received into the 'EMS Reimbursement Trust Fund.'"

Which was read.

Mr. Givens:

Aye, Mr. President, I believe this bill would help us have our Emergency Medical teams on standby alert at our major events in our stadiums and downtown areas where I think we need them, University of Pittsburgh, etc.

Michelle Madoff:

Aye.

Mr. O'Malley:

Aye.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President and Members of Council, I'm going to vote aye on 3119, but the record should reflect my continuing concern that in the City of Pittsburgh we have legislation that mandates that Civic Arena, stadium, Pitt Stadium, that they have their own emergency medical services available. I share Mr. Stone's concern that we are stretching ourselves very thin trying to provide emergency medical services to those who recognize they need it, 50,000 people at Pitt stadium or 50,000 people at the Civic Arena or wherever it might be, I think deserve to have some emergency medical services, but I'm not sure that it's our responsibility to provide it. These are money-making institutions that we are being asked to service, if not money-making income-generating and I think emergency medical services is a responsibility that they should carry themselves, and I would hope that in the future Council would entertain some legislation to mandate that entities such as the University of Pittsburgh, the stadium, the Civic Arena provide their own emergency medical services. Thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, could we get an answer from Mr. O'Malley to that?

Mr. O'Malley:

Yes, I'd like to if I could interrupt here for one minute. First of all, we do provide E.M.S. services for Pitt and for the Civic Arena, and hopefully we're going to provide them for the stadium, that we are reimbursed for those costs.

Second, the reason that we're requesting Pitt and the stadium to use our paramedic services when in the past they have hired outside E.M.S. services, different borough or outside the City of Pittsburgh, what would happen in case of an emergency, paramedics not belonging to our E.M.S. services would provide the care for the patient inside the stadium or inside Pitt or inside the Civic Arena; and many times they were afraid that the wrong diagnosis would be called by inexperience of paramedics outside the City of Pittsburgh and then transferred from the Civic Arena to the hospital by our E.M.S. services and a lawsuit could incur, and there was a question, would the liability fall upon the paramedics at the scene or our paramedics who transported the patient? So we're hoping to avoid the liability in the future, the lawsuits should they occur.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, Mr. President. Wouldn't it thence be logical that we expand our paramedic service by assessing the entities that we serve, and then they would be under our jurisdiction, we would expand the numbers of people, and we would give the service? At least we'd be getting reimbursed and we'd have our people standing by to service the City residents as we now do and not deploying them and weakening the service.

Mr. O'Malley:

Well, we're expanding our paramedics this year by 13. Four units we are expanding this year.

Mr. Givens:

The money for these agreements will go back not into the general fund, Mr. President, but to the emergency medical trust fund itself. All we're doing is expanding that service to cover areas where there is a lot of excitement and in many cases many people have heart attacks apparently, and that the critical thing that you must move in on very quickly. Two, three, four, five minutes is a calamity.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, it seems to be that the real issue is whether or not we're going to accept the responsibility, a responsibility that is recognized by someone else as being their own. The Stadium Authority, City Arena, University of Pittsburgh and others that have large crowds I think recognize that some emergency medical services ought to be provided. The question is whether or not we should provide the service, whether they're reimbursing us or not. That's one question. I don't think we should.

Second of all, as far as the quality of the service rendered, I think that legislation would be appropriate, if not at this level, at the state level, to make sure all persons rendering medical assistance are indeed qualified. I would hate to think that our paramedics believe that paramedics from some surrounding community are incompetent simply because they're from a surrounding community. You don't have to be a doctor to diagnose a person has a broken bone, but certainly to set that bone you would want a doctor to do it, but a doctor doesn't have to set the bone. Someone who knows about it can set it. So I think the issues around professional competency certainly can be handled by requiring some minimum standards for people to be paramedics who are operating in the City of Pittsburgh.

That is another issue and I don't think one that should prevent us from addressing the larger issue, and that is whether or not we ought to take our City forces and use the City's time and expertise to provide a service that appears to be clearly the responsibility of the person that's requesting us to provide it. The Civic Arena, the University of Pittsburgh and others ought to provide their own services. When indeed there is an accident within the Civic Arena, there are nurses available. When indeed something occurs at Pitt Stadium, there are medical people available. When athletes are hurt at the stadium or athletes are hurt at Pitt Stadium, they don't call on the City of Pittsburgh paramedics. They have their own doctors, they have their own medical personnel, because they recognize that that type of service goes along with the business.

I think we ought to put the onus squarely on the shoulders of the Civic Arena, the stadium, the University of Pittsburgh and others that are going to have large crowds and say to them you will provide emergency medical services and those persons will be competent, certified and qualified.

Mr. Woods:

Aye.

The Chair:

Aye.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. Robinson

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bill passed finally.

Mr. Flaherty presented

Bill No. 3216

Report of the Committee on Lands and Buildings for June 8, 1983 transmitting sundry resolutions to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 3105

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution amending Resolution No. 1356, effective December 31, 1982, which presently reads: 'Authorizing the Mayor and the Director of Lands and Buildings, on behalf of the City of Pittsburgh, County of Allegheny and School District of Pittsburgh to transfer its rights, title and interest, if any, for certain Three Taxing Bodies' properties in various wards of the City of Pittsburgh to Pennsylvania Department of Transportation. Deeds to be in Quit Claim form for a total consideration of $36,500.00 as hereinafter setforth', by changing purchase price from $36,500.00 to $36,510.00 and changing a portion of Section 1."

Which was read.

Also,

Bill No. 3106

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for a License to Tom Mistick & Sons, Inc. in connection with site improvements on City property adjoining 1130 W. North Avenue and No. 37 Fire Station, 21st Ward."

Which was read.

Mr. Woods:

Bill 3106, I wonder if somebody could help me. Why are we licensing Tom Mistick & Sons to do site improvements on City property? I don't quite understand why — this is the first time I've ever seen something like this. Could somebody help me out here?

Michelle Madoff:

Tom's not in the room. Do you want to hold it? He's coming back. The question I have, more than anything else, is, I never see anybody in that area except Tom Mistick; and the last one I think was $9 million to rehab some properties.

Mr. Woods:

Well, this is City property.

Michelle Madoff:

Here he is now. There aren't any other people unemployed that could be doing what — license to Tom Mistick & Son. Why are they getting a license?

The Chair:

Isn't this the order for a permit that would be issued by Building Inspection? I would think that it's somewhat of a building permit.

Mr. Woods:

What does it mean, Tom, license? I've never seen anything like that before. That's why I asked. Why it would come to us? Why don't they just get a building permit?

Mr. Flaherty:

I can't answer it. I'll hold it for a week. I don't have any problems holding it.

Michelle Madoff:

While you're at it, find out why Mistick gets all the work. He's got a $9 million contract over there.

Mr. Flaherty:

You'll have to see the Mayor about that.

Michelle Madoff:

I know, but there are a lot of other people that could use the work.

Mr. Flaherty:

I agree.

Michelle Madoff:

I'll be happy to sub-contract some of it. You can't make any money on Council if you're honest.

Mr. Flaherty moved to recommit Bill No. 3106.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Mr. Givens:

I oppose that.

Mr. Woods:

Can you tell me why, what that means?

Mr. Givens:

The man does good work down there. He's an individual that expended much of his wealth into an area that no one even wanted to do anything in in many, many years.

Mr. Flaherty:

Well that's not the issue. We're talking about a license.

Mr. Givens:

I know it is, but I mean there are innuendos that are made by the Council people, and I don't appreciate it, because I think this individual has done much down there to turn that particular area of our community around.

Michelle Madoff:

That's like saying no one should do any more work for the City except Mellons because they helped or the Fricks because they helped get the industry started.

Which motion prevailed.

Also,

Bill No. 3108

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution amending Item H of Resolution No. 1210, approved November 21, 1980, which authorized the sale of property in the 12th Ward, being a 2 Story, Brick house located at 6810 Frankstown Avenue, designated as Block 125-G, Lot 76, to Robert Lee D. Bruce, for the sum of $1,500.00."

Which was read.

Also,

Bill No. 3109

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution amending Item E of Resolution No. 254, approved April 20, 1983, which authorized the sale of property in the 27th Ward, being a vacant lot on Frederick Street, designated as Block 45-A, Lot 271, to Michael Ehrenberger and Sharon M. Ehrenberger, his wife, for the sum of $300.00."

Which was read.

Also,

Bill No. 3110

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for the filing of a petition or petitions for the sale of certain property or properties acquired at tax sale in accordance with Act No. 514 of 1947 as amended."

Which was read.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the bills?

And on the question, "Shall the bills pass finally?"

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. O'Malley presents

Bill No. 3217 WHEREAS, Father Ronan J. Deegan, Pastor of St. Agnes Church, Oakland, celebrates his 25th Jubilee of Priesthood; and

WHEREAS, a Eucharistic Liturgy of Celebration will be held at St. Agnes Church on June 12, 1983; and

WHEREAS, since his Ordination, Father Deegan has had various and sundry assignments, such as: Dean of Admissions at Steubenville University; Superior at Mount Assisi Monastery in Loretto; Novice Master for the Province in Winchester, West Virginia; and Pastor of St. Agnes Church for the past seven years; and

WHEREAS, Father Deegan is also involved in the Ancient Order of Hibernians, and serves as Chaplain of the A.O.H. Auxiliary No. 11, where much of his day is spent feeding the poor and working with troubled souls; and

WHEREAS, Father Deegan's concern for spiritual well being has enriched the lives of many.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Members of Pittsburgh City Council hereby join with the many friends of Father Ronan J. Deegan in congratulating him on his 25th Jubilee of Priesthood and sincerely thank him for his dedication, devotion, and love for his fellow man.

Mr. O'Malley moved to adopt the Resolution.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Givens:

I'd like to say, Mr. President, that our Chief Clerk had a little bit of Irish twang there when he mentioned that A.O.H., and I would like to make a comment also, if I might, Mr. President, on Father himself. He is very active in the Irish community, and not only that, but the goodness that he expounds upon in that particular ethnic group is something that is why he is being honored here on his 25th Jubilee as a priest within the City of Pittsburgh and the surrounding communities of Pittsburgh.

Wherein the A.O.H. is one of the largest auxiliaries in this particular area, and it's one of the largest Irish ethnic institutions throughout the United States in which we have many members from Allegheny County that have been past local, state, and national presidents.

Mr. Robinson presents

Bill No. 3218 WHEREAS, the Council of the City of Pittsburgh and the Human Relations Commission, City of Pittsburgh, have taken strong objection to the United States Department of State granting authorization for the establishment of an Honorary Consulate in the City of Pittsburgh to represent the Government of South Africa; and

WHEREAS, the City Council, by resolution, requested the closing of the Pittsburgh Consulate and others in the United States; and

WHEREAS, the United States Congress is considering concurrent Resolution No. 42 introduced by the Honorable William J. Coyne of the Fourteenth Congressional District, Pennsylvania, to request the State Department to reassess its position on South Africa and the authorization of Honorary South African Consulates in the United States and the City of Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States now has before it House Bill No. 1693 and House Bill No. 1083 both of which propose to restrict the United States of American from furnishing financial assistance directly or indirectly to any government which practices apartheid.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, on behalf of its citizens, does support the concepts and general intent of concurrent Resolution No. 42, House Bill No. 1693 and House Bill No. 1083 and related legislative efforts in the Congress of the United States to oppose countries practicing apartheid.

Mr. Robinson moved to adopt the Resolution.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Robinson presents

Bill No. 3219 WHEREAS, much of the housing in Pennsylvania cities, such as Pittsburgh, was constructed prior to 1950 and therefore is in need of rehabilitation and/or is vacant; and

WHEREAS, a significant number of our citizens are having a difficult time in securing adequate, safe and sanitary housing; and

WHEREAS, a high proportion of housing, especially in cities, is blighted and deteriorated and in need of restoration; and

WHEREAS, the active effort to encourage the rehabilitation of such deteriorated housing through home ownership with incentives for restoration of such housing will benefit the tax base and neighborhoods of our cities; and

WHEREAS, the City of Pittsburgh has established an Urban Homesteading Program by way of legislation embodied in the City Ordinance No. 29 of 1982 and City Ordinance No. 40 of 1982.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh strongly supports efforts now being initiated in the General Assembly, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to pass state legislation to create "a homesteading and rehabilitation act" which would function to encourage purchase of such dilapidated and/or vacant housing within cities by individuals who would promise to restore such housing to meet city code enforcement and public safety standards.

Mr. Robinson moved to adopt the Resolution.

Mr. Flaherty seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

Bill, is this for the person to purchase and fix up for someone else as a business or only where the person has to live in it themselves?

Mr. Robinson:

The emphasis of the Urban Homesteading Program is for the purchaser, not only the owner of the property, but the person who would live in the property.

Michelle Madoff:

All right, that's not in here, and I just wanted to mention that. Because I think that it would go a longer way and be productive to have anybody who would like to who could make some low-cost housing available, because very frequently the people with the least money don't have the imagination or have had the exposure to do the job; and this is something I've been talking about for five years where the City takes some of the property, get some contractors to go in, do it in volume, buildings, do some modular construction, rehabbing, and make those houses available at a low rate. This bill is somewhat redundant. I certainly support it, and I don't see any dollars. Will there be dollars to back up this bill?

Mr. Robinson:

There are some legislative initiatives in the House of Representatives to create an Urban Homesteading Act at the state level. This Resolution is designed to give support to that effort, but at the same time, to give our legislators some lee way in developing the program. As everyone at this Council table is aware, urban homesteading, aggressive urban homesteading is a somewhat controversial issue, and I think our legislators should be given an opportunity to hear from all concerned that at least know that in this City we have been in the forefront like Philadelphia in trying to do something; and I certainly did not want to presume to have more knowledge of the subject than our state legislators, both Senator Street, who is the Chairman of the Senate Urban Affairs Committee, and Representative Richardson, both of whom are from Philadelphia. Representative Richardson is in charge of the House Urban Affairs Committee, has some concerns in this area, and I have great confidence that the two of them will make sure the bill is designed to help low and moderate-income people and address the concerns that you have; and as they begin to shape some more definite proposals, I certainly will come back to Council and ask for Council's support for those specific proposals.

The Chair:

There's no doubt it should be expanded, but at the same time, we can't very well go get their resolution. What's there is there. We have to support what they have.

Council has brought up time and again that their office facilities aren't enough or adequate and they would like to see them expanded. In that respect, I would like to appoint a committee of three to look into that matter. I would like to appoint Mr. Ben Woods as the Chairman, Mr. Robinson, and Mr. O'Malley to assist and work with him and to come up with a program that we present to the Chief Clerk and he can then present to Lands and Buildings, and hopefully, you'll get the expansion you've been asking for all these years.

Mr. O'Malley:

You have a committee of three headed up by Councilman Woods?

The Chair:

Right, Chairman.

Michelle Madoff:

I would go on record that Michelle Madoff now has adequate space, because we took over the next room.

Mr. Flaherty:

Yes, Mr. President, on to another item. I'm am sure that everyone recalls that at the public hearing last Thursday on the proposed Warner rate increase, Councilwoman Michelle Madoff had asked of Ted Campbell, who is the President of Warner Cable, what his salary was, and he asked not to answer that. I subsequently had followed that question up and said that I thought that it was simple, essential information. I have to say that I was somewhat surprised that Warner has refused to give any information regarding the salaries of any of their employed. It was also brought out at that hearing that shortly after they were awarded the contract, they had submitted that information a few times to the Cable Advisory Committee but since have ceased.

In questioning Brother Emenecker, he said that Warner would have to provide the information if Council in form of a motion had asked for it. I think it's very important to keep in mind that this Council is empowered, as we are all aware, to regulate the rates of Warner Cable; and since salaries make up over a third of the operating expenses of Warner Cable, I think that it's very important that Council at least have the basic information as to what those salaries are.

We had heard Warner in a very amorphous way refer to some cost cutting that they had invoked, and I think that it's crucial in one respect that Council know those salaries if we are going to have any frame of reference for the benchmark to decide if there has been any cost cutting or for that matter if we can adequately decide on the rate increase issue as a whole without this essential information.

I know that salary information is known to all the board members at any P.U.C. hearing. In fact, that is one of the first points of information requested from any utility company or corporations which are regulated through the state. In fact, I can't recall any regulated company other than Warner ever appearing in front of the federal government, the state government, or in our opportunity, in City Hall, refuse to give this information.

I think it is certainly unprecedented on all the levels; and I think that if Warner is coming in front of this Council and asking us to weigh a proposed 20 to 30 percent rate increase in good faith, I think they should return that attitude to this Council. Therefore, I move that Warner Cable provide to this Council the salaries of its 400 employees; and I would want to add it's in the Home Rule Charter where all trusts, authorities, and agencies annually have to provide this Council, for example, the Housing Authority, Alcosan, and numerous other authorities, the personnel and the position and the salary of all the individuals on their respective payrolls; and so I think it is very important that if Council is going to have the most basic handle on handling any rate increase, that we require this information and that we have it prior to the vote.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, if I might follow up on Mr. Flaherty's concern about information from Warner Cable, as Council is aware, the issue of minority participation seems to keep cropping up every time Warner's name is mentioned. I think it would be appropriate to request from Warner a copy of the executed trust agreement, the agreement which establishes the minority trust and will for once and for all give us detailed information as to how that trust operates.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me. Could we take one separate and take the other one as a separate entity? I certainly support it.

Mr. Robinson:

Well that's what I'm doing. I thought that's what I was doing. I thought Mr. Flaherty was finished.

Michelle Madoff:

No, we haven't voted on the other yet. We haven't voted.

The Chair:

There's nothing to vote on. The man's making a request to get that information.

Mr. Flaherty:

No, I said we had to vote on it.

Michelle Madoff:

You mean any of us can make a request and that's it?

The Chair:

Certainly.

Michelle Madoff:

I'd like to request that the chief honcho for Warner stop taking $2 million out of the kitty each year.

Mr. Flaherty:

Well, could I ask the Parliamentarian on that, because I'm not sure. Do we have to take a vote on a motion? This is a motion of Council.

The Chair:

We don't have that many members here, and I think we might not get five votes.

Michelle Madoff:

We only need four votes, majority.

The Chair:

Roll call vote on the motion.

Mr. Flaherty:

I vote aye for all the preface remarks that I have stated, and I would want to add that when the information was requested at the public hearing, we were told that it would be bad for the morale of the company. I would just want to add that we are aware of what the top 500 corporate executives in this country are making. I'm sure that Council can find that information in regard to U.S. Steel or regard to any of the blue ribbon corporations in this City, and I think that it is just a small thing to ask Warner to provide this information; and I would want to cease by saying that it wouldn't be a morale problem or there wouldn't be a question of morale if perhaps all salaries were equitable and fair to everyone else involved. Oftentimes the morale comes when the people on the bottom see what the person on the top is making; and oftentimes the person on the top knows what everyone else is making, but they are very privileged in regard to letting anyone know what they are making. I want to know what they're making if they're coming here and asking 60,000 homes in this City for a rate increase of anywhere in the range of 20 to 30 percent.

The Chair:

Mr. Flaherty, your motion is to receive all the salaries or just the president's?

Mr. Flaherty:

The 400 and as all authorities, trusts, everyone habitually, annually, very routinely provides through this Council.

Mr. Givens:

I vote aye on this, and I'd like to frame that in the context, is it legal for the City of Pittsburgh to actually ask for this information? This is not a public utility. It's a private company. We only regulate what's in the ordinance. If the ordinance says that we can get this information, fine and dandy. Otherwise, I would assume it would be voluntary on the part of Warner. The authority that I sit on, Urban Redevelopment Authority, we give the position and what the person makes in that position, but we generally don't tie the individual's name into the position. There are some proprieties of law that I think where we might be restricted here. However, I think it's a valid point and one that when we look at how they are being paid compared to other people in a very new, growing technical industry where we might make some comparisons from other Cities, to see if the Warner people are on target or are they overpaying or underpaying their people. I'd have to assume, and the fact that it is a private corporation, that they are trying to get, like any corporation, the least amount of money possible so their profit margin would be much greater. Common sense would so dictate that to me.

The Chair:

What was their rate increase request, again?

Mr. Flaherty:

Approximately 20 to 30 percent. It comes to about 28 percent.

Mr. Givens:

They made the statement, I believe, in Thursday's hearing that their average income for their 419-some employees, if anyone can recall, I thought it was around —

The Chair:

No, we're not talking about the wages; we're talking about the increase request in regards to the cable. Mr. Flaherty said 20 to 30 percent. It varied.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Campbell representing Warner said, "It would be inappropriate to give this information unless it was specifically requested." Now we have specifically requested it, and Brother Emenecker stated that; and subsequently, I think we're going to learn that the cream of the crop right on top is still getting $2 million, and I don't see how they have the audacity to come here and ask for a rate increase.

Mr. O'Malley:

Aye.

Mr. Robinson:

Aye.

Michelle Madoff:

My vote was aye.

The Chair:

Aye.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. Robinson
Mr. Givens	Mr. O'Malley
Michelle Madoff	Mr. DePasquale (Pres't)

AYES 6 NOES none

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the motion passed finally.

Mr. Robinson:

I'd like to get back to my point about the minority trust agreement. Consistent with Mr. Flaherty's request, I'd like to make a motion that this Council receive from Warner Cable a copy of the executed trust agreement that establishes the minority trust and any related documents that would indicate to us how that trust is supposed to operate.

Mr. Robinson moved that Council receive from Warner Cable a copy of the executed trust agreement that establishes the minority trust.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Givens moved to excuse Mrs. Masloff and Mr. Stone for absence from the meeting.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Mr. Robinson moved to approve the minutes of Tuesday, May 31, 1983.

Mr. Flaherty seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Woods

Council adjourned.

PRESENTATIONS

The Chair:

We are honored this afternoon with the Mayor. There's a resolution addressed to the Mayor, and I believe it's Michelle Madoff presents the resolution.

Michelle Madoff:

Your Eminence, would you join us, please? I think what you've done is quite heroic, and I think Council ought to honor it. I understand the "Y" is going to do that same and the spirit of the papers.

Michelle Madoff presents

Bill No. 3276 WHEREAS, on Saturday, June 11, 1983, in the Community of Hazelwood, a severe tragedy was averted by the quick action of Mayor Richard S. Caliguiri; and

WHEREAS, unaware that three pedestrians were crossing in front of his vehicle, the driver of a van pulled out to enter the parade route, striking three pedestrians and pinning one beneath the van; and

WHEREAS, Mayor Caliguiri saw this and reacted automatically when he jumped in front of the van and started pounding on the windshield to get the driver to stop; and

WHEREAS, with the assistance of a half a dozen policemen and firemen they lifted the van and pulled the nine year old child from beneath the vehicle's wheel; and

WHEREAS, if it were not for the quick and responsible actions of Mayor Caliguiri, the injuries sustained to these individual's could have possibly led to more serious injuries or even a loss of life.

NOW THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh on behalf of the citizens of Pittsburgh hereby commend Mayor Richard S. Caliguiri for his heroic action which averted a serious tragedy in the Hazelwood Community.

Michelle Madoff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

And I might add that I think you go into a telephone booth and change into your Superman uniform. Is that how you figured you were going to stop the vehicle?

The Chair:

Mayor, would you say a few words, please?

Mayor Caliguiri:

Well, I'm indeed surprised, obviously, and very, very pleased to receive this resolution. Michelle, you and members of Council — Michelle asked me if I would step into a phone booth, and I said you'd be surprised what I have underneath this suit sometimes, but you don't need a super uniform to do what I did, because I think anybody in this room would react the same way and under similar situations. It's an unusual experience to witness such an event taking place, but once it begins to happen you, almost act automatically in the situation; and I'm just happy that all the people that were involved at this point are at home and recuperating.

I do want to say, as was mentioned in the resolution, the firemen who were there. If it wasn't for them practically lifting the van up off the young girl, Kelly, it might have been even more serious. So, I've certainly got to give them a lot of credit for their quick action, and of course the paramedics that were on the scene, and the police officers for reacting so quickly; and I think it's a tribute to those services, and the people of Pittsburgh should feel good in that we've got the uniformed personnel that are able to do this under such circumstances. Again, Michelle, let me thank you very, very much for this, and I certainly hope we don't have to be involved in it again, but if need be, I'm sure all of us would just do the same thing. So, again to each and every one of you, I certainly appreciate the honor. Thank you.

The Chair:

Excuse me, Michelle, if I may take the prerogative as President of Council as saying some people would do anything to get publicity. Seriously, congratulations, Mayor.

Michelle Madoff:

You know, you said that anybody would have reacted the way you did. Many people would have frozen in terror, and been absolutely immobile and not been able to do anything. I think you thought very quickly, and that speaks well for our City.

Mayor Caliguiri:

Thank you.

The Chair:

Thank you, Mr. Mayor, and again, congratulations.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President and Members of Council, it's a distinct honor and pleasure today to present this resolution on behalf of a gentleman who was too modest to really say anything on his own behalf when he found out that he was receiving this resolution. In fact, he didn't find out, I think until Friday, and he said he will deal with me later, but it is a pleasure to read this Resolution No. 488.

Mr. Robinson presents

Bill No. 3277 WHEREAS, Brother George Calloway, Master Mason and Grand Master of Mason's in and for the jurisdiction of Pennsylvania, for all Prince Hall Mason's obedient to the most worshipful Prince Hall Grand Lodge F. and A.M. of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, has distinguished himself during his past twenty seven years as a Mason, which began with his membership in Lincoln Lodge number Ninety, McDonald, Pennsylvania; and

WHEREAS, since becoming Grand Master he has initiated and developed many improvements for the Grand Lodge in the areas of financial management and education; and

WHEREAS, his exceptional and unique administrative and managerial skills have earned him the opportunity to serve as plant manager for the Midland Ross Corporation of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; and

WHEREAS, Brother George Calloway has been celebrated for his unselfish community service and dedication to friends and family; and

WHEREAS, he holds masonic memberships in:

Sewickley Chapter No. 5, Holy Royal

Arch Masons

St. Cyprian Consistory No. 2, 32nd Degree Masons

Sahara Temple No. 4 Shriners (Prince Hall)

United Supreme Council, 33rd Degree Masons

NOW THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Council of the City of Pittsburgh on behalf of it's citizens does honor, recognize and appreciate the works and contributions of Grand Master George Calloway; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Council do wish his relatives, friends and fraternal association good health and prosperity on the occasion of his "This is your life", Testimonial Banquet on June 25, 1983, at the Marriott Hotel, Monroeville, Pennsylvania.

Mr. Robinson moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Stone seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Robinson:

I would like to have Grand Master Calloway come forward. I told him originally that I'd ask him to come up and stand beside me, but I think this man needs to stand alone for the outstanding job he has done in this community. As I said, he's a very modest person, and I want him to respond; and then I'd like to recognize, with your indulgence, some of the other fine people who are here today.

Grand Master Calloway:

Certainly, to Councilman Robinson and to the Members of City Council, I have to say that I am overwhelmed with receiving this award. Usually I'm not at a loss for words, but I can say at this time that I am. Being Grand Master of Mason's certainly in itself is a joy and a responsibility which I have accepted; and I owe all of my success certainly to these fine people who have accompanied me here this afternoon to help me receive this award. So on behalf of my constituency, myself, and the most worshipful Prince Hall Grand Lodge, I accept this award with all of the humility that I can muster; and to this City Council I say thank you, and particularly to Councilman Robinson. Thank you so very much for this honor.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, if I might, I'd just like to acknowledge the presence of six other people who also have done a very outstanding job: Ms. Valda R. Calloway, (Daughter), Mrs. Vivian Calloway, (Wife) Past Matron, Chapter 24 Order of Eastern Star; Ms. Ruth M. Tucker, who's the Past Grand Worth Matron of State of Pennsylvania Order of Eastern Star; Ms. Janet N. Miller, Grand Treasurer, State of Pennsylvania, Order of Eastern Star — I know her as Novice Miller, I didn't know she had another name; Ms. Birda M. Jones, Associate Conductress Chapter 25 Order of Eastern Star; Ms. Naomi Collier, Past Matron, Chapter 25 Order of Eastern Star; Ms. Alice Jones, Grand Matron Special Deputy, Order of Eastern Star; Mr. Curtis W. Price, Worshipful District Deputy, Grand Master 7th Masonic District; and some of you may know Mr. Price, he's a very fine musician in our community, and the Director and founder of the Thunderherd which is probably one of the most outstanding Masonic youth groups, musical groups anywhere in the country; Mr. Robert Simmons, Esquire Grand Counselor to the Grand Master.

I wanted to recognize these individuals, because, along with Mr. Calloway, they have given to this community and this state some of the finest service that any fraternal organizations can. I think we ought to honor them from time to time. Thank you very much.

The Chair:

Certainly, we'd like to add our congratulations to Grand Master Calloway. We have one other resolution, Mr. Stone.

Mr. Stone presents

Bill No. 3278 WHEREAS, the Specialty Steel industry, its products and skilled workers, thousands of whom are now unemployed, are absolutely essential to the national economy.

WHEREAS, the U.S. Specialty Steel industry is the world's leader in process and product technology and is one of our nation's most essential, high-technology industries.

WHEREAS, the U.S. Specialty Steel industry is efficient, productive and competitive in domestic and in world markets.

WHEREAS, the U.S. Specialty Steel industry has made heavy capital investments to reduce costs, improve efficiency and maintain technological leadership.

WHEREAS, the privately owned U.S. Specialty Steel companies are forced to compete with foreign governments which own, subsidize and direct their less efficient producers to targets for their specialty steels abroad.

WHEREAS, the devastating increases in imports forced the U.S.

Specialty Steel industry and the United States Steelworkers of America to file an unfair trade case.

WHEREAS, after extensive investigation by governmental agencies, it was determined that allegations of subsidization were well founded and injury to the U.S. Specialty Steel industry in clear.

WHEREAS, the International Trade Commission (ITC) has ruled that the U.S. Specialty Steel industry has been seriously injured and recommended to the President that quantitative restrictions on alloy tool steel and stainless sheet and strip, plate, bar and rod be imposed for a period of three years.

WHEREAS, the President has received the ITC report and has until July 5, 1983, to determine what actions he will initiate to deal with the specialty steel import problem.

WHEREAS, the U.S. Specialty Steel industry has publicly committed to use any additional revenue generated from the import relief measures to make massive capital investment and research and development expenditures, in order to maintain its competitiveness.

NOW THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and City Council of the City of Pittsburgh urge the President of the United States to impose quantitative restrictions on alloy tool steel and stainless sheet and strip, plate, bar and rod at the levels requested by the U.S. Specialty Steel industry and the United States Steelworkers of America for a period of five years.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a copy of this resolution be immediately forwarded to the President of the United States.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, if I may, before moving for adoption, may I just make this comment? Too often it is said that the U.S. labor and our companies have not been operating with efficiency, and I think this is an instance in which that is not applicable. U.S. labor and industry has been doing their work and doing it well, but because of unfair practices in foreign countries where they've been subsidizing their labor, they have gotten an advantage in the market.

There have been accusations, but there have been denials by these foreign countries that they were, in fact, subsidizing their industry. Proof was needed; time is passed acquiring that particular proof. The proof is now there, and it's time that we stand up. July 4 is an important day for U.S. labor and industry, and particularly in this particular region in the City of Pittsburgh, and this Allegheny County, and the Southwest region. Where we have a great deal of it, that we have to stand up and ask for that which is ours, in short, fair trade, and we're entitled to it. I strongly move for adoption.

Mr. Stone moved to adopt the resolution.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff presents

Bill No. 3279 WHEREAS, for some time now, many Pennsylvanians have registered their cars in bordering states to save money by avoiding Pennsylvania's stricter No Fault Inspection Law, higher registration fees and sales taxes, safety inspections, and emission tests; and

WHEREAS, House Bill No. 362 has been introduced in the Pennsylvania Legislature making it easier to catch such scofflaws by placing the burden of proof of residency upon the motorist and not the Commonwealth; and

WHEREAS, House Bill No. 362 has passed the House of Representatives and is now in the Senate.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh urges quick passage of House Bill No. 362 in order to abate these practices so that the use of these vehicles conform to Pennsylvania requirements and revenues rightfully belonging to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are paid to it.

Michelle Madoff:

Before I move on it, may I ask a question, Mr. President? I wanted to ask a question, it's my bill. Does anyone know perhaps, is the Parliamentarian here? Does anyone know whether the City of Pittsburgh can pass its own ordinance, because since it hasn't passed in Harrisburg as yet, we are not quashed from our doing our own, are we not? We're not preempted?

Parliamentarian:

That's more of a Solicitor's opinion than the Parliamentarian.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, we have a solicitor here. Mr. Fein, can we introduce our own bill as we have it and see an environmental issue as an enabling act? There is no enabling act on the state level. Could we have our own bill in the City and not wait for the state to pass their bill?

Mr. Fein:

I haven't seen your resolution. As I heard the resolution, this is to require in-state registration?

Michelle Madoff:

That's to make sure they register their car in Pittsburgh.

The Chair:

If I may, Michelle, Marvin, wouldn't the state still have to enforce that, Michelle?

Michelle Madoff:

I just wondered if a car is in the City of Pittsburgh and does not have a Pennsylvania license, could a policeman could stop them?

Mr. Fein:

Certainly, I haven't researched it in depth, but the off the top of my head. The position would be preempted by state law.

Michelle Madoff:

They haven't passed it yet?

Mr. Stone:

The state's already spoken on it, Michelle.

Mr. Fein:

As far as I know, it has not been passed by the state.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, if it isn't passed by the state, can we have our own ordinance?

Mr. Fein:

No, there's still a preemption.

Michelle Madoff:

That's what I wanted to know, thank you. Move for approval.

Michelle Madoff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Flaherty seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff Presents

Bill No. 3280 Be it resolved that the Administration is requested to hire a full-time employee to monitor the Minority Purchasing Program to increase minority participation in the City Purchasing Program, in an amount not to exceed Thirty Thousand Dollars ($30,000.00). Funds are available in Code Account 1128 Miscellaneous Services, Department of Supplies.

And be it further resolved that the responsibilities of the employee are to include minority vendor recruitment and purchasing procedure review aimed at increasing minority participation in the City Purchasing Program.

Michelle Madoff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Mr. O'Malley:

Is this a resolution?

Michelle Madoff:

This is a recommendation to the Administration, then, instead of having an consultant after, what is it, how many years, Mr. Robinson? Is he here?

Mr. O'Malley:

No.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, anyway, the bill, I understand was originally introduced in '76, and the Administration came to us and said, "Oh my goodness, we don't have 15 percent of minorities and women getting our Supplies contracts. It's only .6, it half a percent;" and then they came back and said, "I tell you what we're going to do. We're going to hire a consultant;" and I don't think that's adequate. I think that we need to have somebody here who will walk these bills through, monitor them, be there all the time, and have a salary assigned within the $30,000 frame. It may not be $30,000. It may be $18,000. It may be $20,000, with benefits, whatever.

I have allowed $30,000 to have somebody who does nothing more than watch out to see that the commitment made by this City some seven, eight years ago is honored, as opposed to a consultant to come and tell you what to do, because we know what to do. It's a matter of do we want to do it.

The Chair:

Any further motions, approved and seconded, all in favor aye?

Michelle Madoff:

Aye.

Mr. O'Malley:

Abstain.

The Chair:

Opposed.

Mr. Woods:

Opposed.

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

I am supporting the motion primarily because I would hope that if we were to have this individual working out of Supplies, that they would monitor on-site construction jobs. It was brought out in a public hearing of a few weeks ago in regard to minority hiring that the City seems to be relying strictly upon the information provided by contractors, and I feel that it is crucial that the City, if not anything else, have at least one true oversight responsibility, and that is to go and to check for itself.

Mr. Givens:

No.

Michelle Madoff:

I'd like my comments from the other day brought forward when I voted in opposition to having the consultant. I think it is very apparent that if we don't move right now to hire someone to do the job, we are abdicating our responsibilities. We're going back to saying the Administration said they were going to do it, they didn't do it, and we're going to forgive them their past sins and hope that they'll correct them in the future. I think we have to bite the bullet and say we care about minorities and women. We made a commitment and we want to live up to that commitment.

We're talking about a very small amount of dollars compared to what this City spends; and I think it would be very unjust and unfair, and I might add that I've had many calls from the minority community leadership with recommendations of people. I said I'm not in the position to hire that person, that would at the discretion of the Mayor, if it passes this Council, but they believe that it should not be a consultant. They believe it should be a person doing the job. If we really mean what we're saying, if we're not just a lot of windowdressing, if we really care about minority and women contracts, then we're saying hire someone to do the job. I understand that when George Whitmer was originally hired, he was hired to be a person who walk bills through, on unpaid bills and so on. He got bogged down with a lot of other things and never did the job that he was hired for. He does other things.

We need someone to live up to the commitment of the City. It's a moral issue as well as a legal issue.

Mrs. Masloff:

I vote no. I think we ought to go back to the consultant plan that was originally suggested.

Mr. O'Malley:

I agree that we need somebody to monitor the minority purchasing, but I also feel that this was Mr. Robinson's bill. Mr. Robinson put months of work into the legislation he introduced and is now being tabled, and I think it's up to Mr. Robinson to make the recommendations on how he feels it's best to attack the problem of minority purchasing. I abstain.

Mr. Robinson:

I'm going to vote aye, and I'd like to explain my vote without going into a lot of detail about what we have been doing over the last five and a half years of trying to do. I think it's rather obvious that there are some things that need to be done, not just in the area of minority purchasing, but in the area of minority business development. I don't think anyone should fail to understand that the issue here is not minority purchasing, it's minority business development, of which purchasing from minority persons is one aspect.

I don't believe that the hiring of one person or the hiring of a consultant will address that concern. I think we might take some instruction from a study recently done by the U.S. Civil Rights Commission on the City of Baltimore. The study was conducted in 1981 and the report was available in 1983; and it's called "Greater Baltimore Commitment," and I'd just like to take occasion to mention just two things, if Council would just bear with me.

On the letter that was sent to the President of the United States from the Commission's Chairman, Mr. Clarence Pendleton, and the Members of the Commission, the last paragraph says: "The report concludes that what is needed is a comprehensive municipal strategy to foster economic development for the City's minority community. It is our hope that the findings and recommendations contained in this report will be of assistance in achieving this goal."

I would suggest that those people in the City of Pittsburgh who say they are concerned about minority business development starting with our Mayor, do take some time to read this report, because on page 93 of this report, there are 15 recommendations. Nothing new under the sun, but 15 recommendations that I think would help us address this issue. I'm going to vote yes, because I'm going to vote yes for anything that's positive that's going to help this City move towards realizing the goal of a significant, comprehensive, minority business enterprise program. So, I vote aye.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, Mr. President, may I ask Mr. Robinson a question?

The Chair:

Certainly.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Robinson, what you're saying, if I hear you correctly, is you would vote for the consultant and for a person to actually do the job; is that correct?

Mr. Robinson:

Oh, yes.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you. I wonder if I could impose on Councilman O'Malley, because I think he was respectful to Councilman Robinson, said it was his bill. He didn't want to vote against him. Would you change your vote?

Mr. O'Malley:

No, Michelle. I'm still abstaining. There's still a bill for a consultant that's tabled.

Michelle Madoff:

No, the reason I asked is you mentioned that you were concerned that

Mr. Robinson had done all this work, and he's supporting this bill, and since he's done all the work in supporting the bill, I would ask you to change your vote.

Mr. O'Malley:

Well, then I would suggest that we let Mr. Robinson handle the bill until it's conclusion.

Mr. Stone:

No, but I will support the consultant, and I hope it comes up today.

Mr. Woods:

No, for the simple reason that we have enough people on the payroll, and the Administration or the Director of Supplies didn't assign anybody to do that job in the last five and a half or six years; that's why I'm for the consultant, and then maybe he will suggest here's how you do it and go about it.

The Chair:

I have mixed emotions. I just want to the City's commitment carried out in regards to the minority purchasing. I'm going to vote no.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty Mr. Robinson
Michelle Madoff

AYES 3 NOES 5

(MR. GIVENS, MRS. MASLOFF, MR. STONE, MR. WOODS AND MR. DEPASQUALE, VOTING NO)

(MR. O'MALLEY, ABSTAINING)

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the motion was defeated.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Mr. Woods moved to take Bill 3130 off the table.

Mr. Stone seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Bill No. 3130 A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for an Agreement or Agreements with a Consultant or Consultants to aid the City in its minority purchasing program, the cost of which shall not exceed $30,000.00 chargeable to and payable from Code Account 1128, Miscellaneous Services, Department of Supplies."

Which was read

Michelle Madoff:

Are we going to vote on it today, or are we going to put it back into committee?

Mr. Woods:

Right now it's up for a vote.

Mr. O'Malley:

Can you do that?

Mr. Stone:

Read the bill.

Mr. O'Malley:

Ruling from the Parliamentarian, please? I'm not sure you can take a bill off the table and go right into a Monday Committee vote.

Michelle Madoff:

Can you, Mr. Parliamentarian? Yes, you can. The Parliamentarian says yes, you can.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, I'd like to make an amendment, with Mr. Woods' agreement. Last Monday Mr. Woods raised a question as to whether or not Council wanted a final report from the consultant at the conclusion of the study or at some other time.

Mr. Woods:

I thought we amended this.

Mr. Robinson:

The bill doesn't reflect that my original amendment did not include a specific time, and I'd just like to amend Section 2 to reflect that report that is submitted to City Council.

Mr. Woods:

I'm sorry. The actual bill does, Bill. I have it in my hand. It does say Section 2, "The Agreement or Agreements shall require final reports at the end of each phase of the consulting and review process and a final report which shall be submitted to City Council."

Mr. Robinson:

Well, submitted to City Council should be "at the conclusion."

Mr. Woods:

Okay, that's not there. Everything else is.

Mr. Robinson:

Yes, at the conclusion of the review process.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Flaherty:

Yes, Mr. President, I have a question for Councilman Woods. In regard to the proposed consultant, could you give us some information as to how they were selected? Who selected them and what is the consultants' expertise in this field?

Mr. Woods:

I think Mr. Jacoby at the committee meeting two weeks ago on a Wednesday answered that same question for Mr. Robinson. They were phone-call bids as they usually do, three people contacted, and after written reports from three different people, that's how they were chosen. I don't have the fellow's name, the company's name in front of me right now, who was chosen, but that was all given at the Wednesday's meeting two weeks ago.

Mr. Flaherty:

Are you aware if this is a newly formed consultant company and that this will be their first consultant responsibility?

Mr. Woods:

Not to my knowledge, Councilman Flaherty.

Mr. O'Malley:

Is this their first consultant job?

Mr. Flaherty:

I have heard that from other black consultants. Maybe there's just sour grapes there; I don't know. I'm trying to find that out for a fact.

The Chair:

What's the name of the consultant?

Michelle Madoff:

A man called me and asked me for my vote.

Mr. O'Malley:

Exico.

Michelle Madoff:

He called me and asked me why I didn't vote for it. I think he's had other contracts. He mentioned he does something else.

The Chair:

You're saying only three firms responded in regards to —

Mr. Woods:

They contacted three firms.

Mr. Robinson:

Do we have the names of those firms?

Mr. Woods:

If we have the record from the committee meeting, George Jacoby did give them at —

Mr. Robinson:

I don't believe Mr. Jacoby ever gave us the names of any companies that were considered. He gave us the name of the company that was finally selected, but I do remember him saying that there was some other companies considered.

Mr. Woods:

I had it in a written response from him also.

Mr. Robinson:

I think it would be appropriate, since some questions are being raised, to at least see what other companies were considered. I mean, I have no problem with Exico being selected, but I think for our own credibility we need to know what process was utilized and what other companies might have had an opportunity.

Mr. Woods:

I think the same process was utilized in this particular instance that's utilized in every other consultant contract we give out in this City — over the last two years that I've been here. Nothing's been done any different.

Mr. Stone:

Call a question.

Mr. Robinson:

Well, I hate to differ with Mr. Woods, but again, I beg my colleagues to pay attention to our own credibility. If we believe that the process that was utilized was above board and was the best process that we had available, then let's tell people what the process was. I don't think it's been established yet what that process was, and I don't think it's been established yet what other companies may have been contacted. If this was a sole-source contract, then fine, I don't have any problems with that; but I don't think we need to leave any questions about the credibility of Exico or about this process. What they're attempting to do is too terribly important to this City to have it hung on a peg somewhere, and people look at it as though it's some rotten, dead meat; and I think we ought to find out what that process is or what it was, so that we can bury this issue once and for all.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, I have a very important question, Mr. President. When will the study be completed? It doesn't say. I mean, it could be five years. If you don't want to do something, you study it.

The Chair:

I hope it is to be a quick study.

Michelle Madoff:

That's what I want to know. A gentleman called me to say, "Why did you vote against me? Why are you against minority contractors?" And I said, "I'm not. I'm introducing a bill on Monday that asked the Mayor to have a person do the job as opposed to studying it," and now we have no date. You know, the way you don't do something is to study the problem when you don't want to do it; and then when that study comes in, you say, well, that study, we're not sure about it. Let's study it again, and let's study it again. Now, I'm with you, Mr. Robinson; we're going to do something as opposed to doing nothing.

Mr. Robinson:

Michelle, we could get the answer to that question if we could get a copy of the request for a proposal, because in a request for a proposal, we would know what specifically the Supplies Department would want to do, what kind of time restraints would be placed on the consultant, and what kinds of materials they would expect.

Now, I have not seen a request for a proposal, but I think it would be appropriate for us to get a copy of the request for a proposal so that we know what it is this consultant's going to do, because evidently, enough questions are being raised that we may be putting the consultant in an untenable position where they can't perform because people don't believe they're credible; and I think the Supplies Department owes it to the consultant and to this Council and to this City to show us the request for proposal and identify what the process was. If the Supplies Department feels Exico can do the job better than anyone else, I will support them 100 percent, but let's not leave any doubt about how they were selected. That's all; just tell people that's who you want.

Michelle Madoff:

That's not my question, Mr. Robinson. My question is, can you do the report in three months? Can you do it in six months? Can you do it two weeks? How long will this study take?

Mr. Robinson:

It's supposed to take four months.

Michelle Madoff:

That's it. Would we please put in that within four months we get an answer? That's all I want. I want to make an amendment to this bill, that Council have in its possession no later than five months from this date a report.

Mr. Woods:

Michelle, before you do something like that — make an amendment, let's see, I just sent for him. Let's see what is in the proposal just like Councilman Robinson said, if there is a date, if there is a time limit on it.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, Mr. Robinson said that there is a date of four months. I'm just saying that in four months I want a report.

Mr. Woods:

Well, it says on the conclusion of the —

Michelle Madoff:

I know but the conclusion could be in 1999.

The Chair:

Mr. Woods, is that information forthcoming?

Mr. Woods:

Yes, but I don't want to move on to anything else. Nothing else until this is settled.

The Chair:

Let's come back to —

Mr. Woods:

No.

The Chair:

We'll come back to the bill when we get the information.

Mr. Woods:

Okay, I want to make a ten minute recess, Mr. Chairman.

The Chair:

Why don't we go on with our regular business?

Mr. Woods:

No, I do not want to go on to any other business until this is done.

Mr. Robinson:

May I do something, then, if I might, Ben, please.

Michelle Madoff:

You know, Mr. Woods is not President of this Council yet.

The Chair:

Mr. Woods, I'm going to deny your request for a recess. I see no purpose for such a request.

Mr. Woods moved to recess for ten minutes.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

Opposed.

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Givens	Mr. Robinson
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. Stone
Mr. O'Malley	Mr. Woods

AYES 6 NOES 3

(MR. FLAHERTY, MICHELLE MADOFF AND MR. DEPASQUALE VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the motion passed finally.

(RECESS)

The Chair:

Council members please take their seats. Mr. Jacoby, I understand you have the proposal that Mr. Robinson requested in regard to the minority participation. Would you come to the microphone, George, please? Could you read that proposal, please?

Michelle Madoff:

What date will the study be done?

Mr. Jacoby:

The study is to be done four months from the date it began.

Michelle Madoff:

Fine, so can we have, one month after the study's completed, after you've had a chance to review it, can we have a report? Can we have the bill say that we get a report?

Mr. Jacoby:

Certainly.

Michelle Madoff:

How did you pick the person? How did you get the consultant? What qualifications do they have? Have they ever done any other consulting work?

Mr. Jacoby:

Two things. The principals of this firm consist of a gentleman by the name of David Berkely and another gentleman whose name is Eustace Uku. I'll read from both of their resumes.

Michelle Madoff:

You don't have to. Just tell us, have they done any other work before?

Mrs. Masloff:

Mr. Berkley was a member of the original Cable Committee, and he is the most efficient, knowledgeable man I ever met.

Michelle Madoff:

Fine.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. Jacoby, very simple. How many consulting contracts have they done, is what she's asking, before this one?

Mr. Jacoby:

In the last three years they've done

16 consulting contracts.

Michelle Madoff:

Fine, they told me they had done others.

Mr. Stone:

Call a question.

Mr. Flaherty:

No, I have some questions.

The Chair:

I believe one question Mr. Robinson asked, he wanted to know what the proposal said or what was in there.

Mr. Robinson:

Yes, the question about — I think he's answered that in terms of the time factor in the proposal. Does the proposal speak to a specific time when they're supposed to start and finish?

Mr. Jacoby:

The proposal contains what's called a gant charge which requires the job to be done within four months in its time of inception. We are, pending Council's approval, ready to begin. In fact, they've already had one meeting.

Mr. Robinson:

Let me ask a question at this point, and this deals with the whole credibility factor. Unfortunately, this is become an issue where this information is available and I think Council needs to be aware in advance. Has the consultant started to do any work for us prior to Council approving the authorization of the expenditure of money to pay them?

Mr. Jacoby:

The consultants have attended two meetings with the understanding that if Council does not approve the bill, they will not be paid.

Mr. Robinson:

The reason I raised that is, amidst the controversy around this proposal, the impression was given that the consultants were already working, like already on the payroll; and I wanted to get that clarified as to under what circumstances they might be doing anything, if anything. You've clarified that for me.

Mr. O'Malley:

What's the scope of the study going to entail? Your department only?

Mr. Jacoby:

Well, the purchasing section, yes. Reviewing our procedures for minority participation, our recruitment of minority vendors, recommending changes which might be necessary legislatively, and other methods we would use to solve our problem with minority participation.

Mr. O'Malley:

The study's just going to be limited to your department only?

Mr. Jacoby:

Yes.

Mr. Flaherty:

Do you have a copy of the R.F.P.?

Mr. Jacoby:

There was not a formal R.F.P.

Mr. Flaherty:

Why not?

Mr. Jacoby:

Essentially the way this issue was approached was, we knew we had a problem, we wanted to know two things. Why do we have the problem, and how do we address the problem? There were a number of people who were spoken with. Frankly, I did not want to narrow the services that we were looking for. This is an area where, when I first made my presentation to Council back in March, I did not have, if you'll recall, very good answers as to why we had this problem.

I did not want to narrowly define the project and bring in people who knew what they were doing and say you've narrowly defined the project and now we can't provide the services. Basically, what I did was speak with these people and say, what do you need to do for me to help me solve this problem, and they submitted this proposal to us.

Mr. Flaherty:

Who else had you received proposals from?

Mr. Jacoby:

We did receive one other formal proposal. The gentleman's name is Anthony Upsher.

Mr. Flaherty:

Had you contacted anyone else?

Mr. Jacoby:

We had had conversation with other people, but eventually --

Mr. Flaherty:

Who were they?

Mr. Jacoby:

I think they would prefer that I did not tell you that.

Mr. Flaherty:

Well, this is a public issue where Council is going to vote a public appropriation.

Mr. Jacoby:

Well, let me just say that we had conversation with people who basically decided they did not want to propose. We had two proposals. Nothing magic about it, we had two. This in my opinion was the better proposal.

Mr. Flaherty:

Did one of the principals in the Exico Corporation chair the meeting that was held here in Council approximately three weeks ago with the N.A.A.C.P. and the Mayor's Office?

Mr. Jacoby:

He was the moderator, yes.

Mr. Flaherty:

Who selected that person as the moderator?

Mr. Jacoby:

I believe the N.A.A.C.P. did. I don't know.

Michelle Madoff:

Are you aware that the U.S. Civil Rights Commission would do it for nothing?

Mr. Jacoby:

No.

Michelle Madoff:

Is that correct, Mr. Robinson?

Mr. Robinson:

Well, they conducted a study in Baltimore. It didn't cost the City of Baltimore any money.

Michelle Madoff:

Are you aware of that? Also, Baltimore has a fiscal advisor. They're light-years ahead of us.

Mr. O'Malley:

Who would do it for nothing?

Mr. Robinson:

The U.S. Civil Rights Commission.

Michelle Madoff:

Have they had a great deal of experience, Mr. Robinson?

Mr. Robinson:

Very much so.

The Chair:

Any other questions to Mr. Jacoby?

Mr. Robinson:

George, are you aware of a study that's being conducted by the U.S. Conference of Mayors relative to the issue of minority business development?

Mr. Jacoby:

No, I'm not.

Mr. Robinson:

Okay, you might want to get a hold of some of that research data. It may be helpful to you and the consultant. The U.S. Conference of Mayors identified six major cities around the country to study their minority business enterprise programs, and I think it would be very helpful if you look at that study, because Pittsburgh was one of the cities.

Michelle Madoff:

Would you have any objections to changing in midstream and going to the U.S. Civil Commission?

Mr. Jacoby:

My preference on something like this is to pay for what you get. My own feeling is that if you're paying someone to provide you a service, you get a first-rate service. If you're getting a service for free —

Michelle Madoff:

I think that's a very unfair statement to make.

Mr. Jacoby:

I don't think it's unfair at all. I think if you're expecting something for free, you have a difficult time requiring that someone perform, if you're not paying them for it. This is not a minor issue in my opinion. I want the job done properly.

Michelle Madoff:

You were not there previously, but whoever was there thought it was a very minor concern, and it was the Administration. So, let's deal with that right up front. Otherwise — see, my feeling is, let's put it right on the table. You know exactly what to do, you needed someone to do it, and that's why I introduced a bill to hire somebody. People are too busy doing other things, and rightfully so; get you someone to do the job. We don't need to study the problem. Any one of the people in this room there isn't a person in this room who couldn't do the job. You don't need a study, and I'll vote for it simply because I'm not going to vote against doing something, and if that study comes out saying you're going to hire somebody, they should hire someone to be there on the spot all the time. I'm afraid, there's an old story about Lawrence, if he took the question out of his right pocket, it was a no answer and out of his left, it was a yes.

I don't know what your "hired gun" is going to come back with, and that's with all due respect, because I hear they're very good, but they may want other contracts and say, well now, I think this is the way you can do it. Now, go ahead and do it. I still have no guaranties, and not one member of this Council has, that you're going to follow the recommendations of that study. That's why I want a body hired, and we can have the study and the body.

Mr. Stone:

Call the question.

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

I am in opposition for two reasons. First of all, because of the answers that I had just received from our Director of Supplies. It seems to me that there is a real appearance of selective appraisal, and it's to who the contract was awarded to. I am also very disturbed that, since this was such a pressing and serious concern, that there was not a request for proposal sent to all consultants that would have expertise in this matter; and I also was not satisfied with the answer which circumvented as to what individuals had expressed interests also in the study.

I think that we have an appalling record now in regard to the awarding of contracts to minority concerns. I see this just as an extension of the practice that we now have with Reverend Simms. Reverend Simms is certainly in my mind a credible individual, but once again, this is a person who serves at the pleasure of the Mayor's Office; and we see what results we have because of that. Once again, we are having a consultant who has already started the job completely presuming that this Council's going to fall in line, once again serving completely at the pleasure of the Mayor's Office. The Mayor needs an independent outside watchdog.

This leads to my second reason for opposing it is because I don't think it is a real question of expertise. It is a political question. Black people, black concerns shouldn't be any harder to fulfill than hiring white people or dealing with white concerns; and I don't think we are going to see any movement in that direction until we have some political courage from public officials in this City that are going to give black interests a fair and equitable piece of the pie in City Hall; and I say that is an action that is going to take courage, because they are going to be cracking heads with powerful white interests in this City.

Mr. Givens:

I vote aye for the bill, and I think it's a move in the right direction. I'm sorry that it's taken this long of a time to fulfill this vacancy in our Purchasing Department, but all of us can sit here, some of us for six, seven, eight years, and Bill Robinson was the one to really pursue the issues and look into this matter, and I think it's a step in the right direction.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to point out that in the book that Mr. Robinson just loaned me, the "Greater Baltimore Commitment," the study is already there, it has all the recommendations, all you have to do is hire someone to do them; but just so that I'm not an obstructionist, I'm going to vote yes, with one understanding, very clear, and very public.

Four months after this study is done, I will give one month allowance for the department to review it, and if that study isn't followed to the letter, I think that we're going to see the minority community rise together in unity with the women's movement, and we're going to see that something serious happens in this City so that the Administration follows through on its commitment, made seven years ago that they've just got up here and admitted was shamefully unproductive.

Mrs. Masloff:

Aye.

Mr. O'Malley:

I certainly think that we have a problem when less than one percent of the purchases by the City of Pittsburgh are made in the minority community, and I think it's a step in the right direction. I vote aye.

Mr. Robinson:

I'm going to aye with a very short explanation, and I think, first of all, Council should be cognizant to the fact that there are two resolutions on the books this Council passed in 1978 that specifically relates to the Supplies Department and specifically gives the Supplies Department a mandate to develop a minority business enterprise program, an enterprise program for women. They already have that charge and responsibility. This Council already passed those resolutions. We also passed a resolution that we will get quarterly reports from our Supplies Department. Neither one of those resolutions has been adhered to for whatever reasons; and I don't think we should let that slip past our minds. So the hiring of a minority consultant today is not a time when we're discovering sliced bread.

This Council and this Administration has had a commitment to minority business development for five and one half years. A consultant at this point is too little, too late, even though I will support it, because I believe that, with enough pressure and with enough commitment, we can eventually get on with the business of making sure that everyone in the City has an opportunity to participate in the growth, particularly in the growth pursuant to the Renaissance.

I think it's important that we recognize that we need municipal support and commitment to a comprehensive minority business enterprise program, and one that includes women. We have to have that. We have to have the support of the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh. You will not get substantial minority input into Renaissance II until the Mayor of this City comes forward and not only says he's committed to it, but does at least two other things.

One, he's going to have to identify a comprehensive strategy, which would include minority purchasing; and two, he's going to have to identify for us an implementing structure that has as his head a person we can identify. We do not now have in the City of Pittsburgh one solitary person who's responsible for minority business development. Not one. There's no one with that title. There's no one who has a staff. There's no one charged with the responsibility of implementing our minority business enterprise program.

The Supplies Department, I think, is to be commended for allowing us to beat up on them while we attempt to resolve the problem. So, I commend Mr. Jacoby for being courageous enough to let us beat up on him while we try to get to the issue; and the issue is not the Supplies Department. The issue is not the consultant. The issue is whether or not this City is going to fulfill its commitment to minority business development. That is the issue. That issue is still before us, and the hiring of a consultant, believe me, will not make it go away. I vote aye.

Mr. Stone:

I'm voting aye, but I would be remiss if I didn't respond to a remark made that if someone serves at the will of the Mayor, that that adds some connotation of dirtiness. I think that that would be, as Mr. Robinson has just indicated, a very unfair remark, not only to all of our directors, but specifically to Mr. Jacoby. Mr. Jacoby just became the Director of Supplies. He served this City commendably and well in the Finance Department. He moved over there, he was asked for information and came back very forthrightly and very candidly and laid it right out on the table, and indicated that there has not been a good performance record as far as that Department; and he now has set his goals to try to do something about it, and instead of trying to make him be dirty, I think we ought to be commending him. He's now said, "I need this to do it. I want now to perform to have a better record for this department, so long as I now sit as its director." He's asked for it, and we ought to give him wholeheartedly form; and I want him to know that there are people here who think that he is not dirty by being at the will of the Mayor.

Mr. Woods:

I vote aye for the reasons I stated before. They have not done the job in the last five and a half, six years, and it proved that they are trying to do the job by bringing in a consultant. It is, to my knowledge, the first time that any black firm was ever handed a consultant fee in the City of Pittsburgh. We should all vote for that, if we all are looking for that. Thank you.

The Chair:

It's finally a start, so I vote aye.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Givens	Mr. Robinson
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Stone
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. Woods

Mr. O'Malley Mr. DePasquale
 (Prest)

AYES 8 NOES 1

(MR. FLAHERTY VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bill passed finally as amended.

Mr. Givens presented

Bill No. 3268 WHEREAS, pursuant to Section 425.20(a) of the City Code, "Council expressly reserves the right to approve the rates which the franchisee charges its subscribers for basic service and the rates for other services as Council may hereafter be permitted to regulate by law;" and

WHEREAS, the basis for rate regulation is controlled by Section 14.11 of the Franchise Agreement; and

WHEREAS, on June 3, 1983, the Pittsburgh Cable Communications Advisory Committee submitted a report to City Council wherein it made several comments and recommendations, but made no recommendation with respect to the proposed new rates; and

WHEREAS, on June 9, 1983, public hearings were held by City Council on the rate increase request and several representatives of Warner Cable Corporation of Pittsburgh as well as numerous citizens testified at the hearings.

Mr. Givens moved to adopt the resolution

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

The Chair:

Before we get to discussion, I want to ask the City Solicitor, Marvin Fein, a question. Marvin, have you made a decision? Are you prepared to make one that no one on this Council is in a conflict of interests in regards to the voting today?

Mr. Fein:

That's correct.

The Chair:

Without alluding to the names, I saw a piece in the paper last week that a couple of our Council people got into a battle over that, and I want to make clear before we get into the voting.

Mr. Fein:

There have been no facts brought to the attention of the City Solicitor's Office that would indicate anyone has a conflict of interests on this issue.

The Chair:

No member of this Council has any conflict. Okay.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, you were not here when I stated that, in all the years that you have been a President of Council, you have never voted, to my knowledge, in the five years that I've been here, for anyone that you were remotely related to. They were not necessarily people that lived in your house that you supported. There is no conflict of interest if Mr. Depasquale had chosen to vote for any of the contractors, because they are not his support. Is that correct? He could have voted had he chosen to do that. There's not a legal reason why he couldn't, but he felt morally that he should disqualify himself.

I understand that Mr. Givens' daughter got the job on her own. All the more power to her. I think that's wonderful. There is not a conflict of interest, legally. I believe there is one morally, and I think that goes to the issue of the legal opinion that was issued and signed by, Mr. Fein. We have a legal opinion, Mr. President, that says that references made to the letter from the City Clerk to me requesting a legal opinion as to whether City Council is legally empowered to require Warner Cable Corporation of Pittsburgh to provide them with a list of names and salaries of all their employees. Now, just some quick clarification. Do they have to supply us with the names?

Mr. Fein:

Yes. You're asking the names?

Michelle Madoff:

Names.

Mr. Fein:

I think that really goes to what the request was, I never —

Michelle Madoff:

The request was names and salaries.

Mr. Fein:

Have they supplied —

Michelle Madoff:

They have supplied salaries and no names.

Mr. Fein:

Have they said they won't supply the names?

Michelle Madoff:

They said they will not supply the names, yet they said they would do it if they were requested to it. Council voted to request it. This means nothing to me, because I know the people that work over there, I know how they got the jobs, and I know who works and who's a no-show; and I am not prepared to have a libel suit, but I want to know who the names are.

Mr. Fein:

What the law would be in this, Councilwoman, it would be that any information that's necessary for Council to do its business, and its business in this respect is the approval or disapproval of the rate increase, would be the kind of information that they would have to submit. Now, if Council needs those names in order to deliberate upon the rate request, you are entitled to have the names.

Michelle Madoff:

I feel that we need that. I think Mr. Flaherty is requested it, and I don't know how the other members of this Council feel, but I would like to think that they would be concerned as well.

The Chair:

Do you want to put that in a motion?

Michelle Madoff:

It was a motion, Mr. President. It passed this Council; we voted on it. They just chose not to give it to us.

Mr. Flaherty:

Yes, Mr. President, all members of Council earlier received a list of all the filled slots of employment at Warner Cable without the names, along with their respective salaries. I want to publicly thank Harvey Adams for providing that information, and I don't think, without his intercession, that Warner Cable would have provided it. I think that's very obvious by the response that they made to Council's request for that information last week in which they just responded in very brief form by saying that the salaries of the six top positions average approximately $49,000, for those positions.

I believe that it would be crucial, if Council's going to weigh the question of conflict of interests, that Council have those names. My concern was not to raise or having an overriding interest in a conflict of interests. I would hope that each member of Council would be able to decide that themselves; and I think it's a joke to have a legal opinion as to if there is a conflict of interests or not. Let the public decide that.

My main concern was to have the information to weigh in regard to the overall question as to the rate increase. So, without the intercession of Harvey Adams, we would not even have what we do have; and I certainly enjoin with Michelle Madoff in taking the hierarchy, the President of Warner Cable, to task simply because he had said at the public hearing that he would provide this information along with the names and salaries if it was the will of this Council as a body, which it was, and then subsequently, he refused to do that.

The Chair:

If I may, Michelle, do you want to recommit the bill? You said that you asked for information, it was not supplied —

Michelle Madoff:

I am not going to vote for a rate increase anyway under any circumstances.

The Chair:

You're not voting to recommit, okay.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, in conjunction —

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, yes, I am voting to recommit. We're not going to go ahead and discuss it without the information we asked for and that we legally are entitled to.

The Chair:

Vote to recommit. Is there a second?

Michelle Madoff:

Vote to recommit so we get the information that we are legally entitled to, according to Brother Richard according to our Law Department, and according the vote of this Council.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Mr. Robinson:

I'd like to make a comment on that, if I might. At last Monday's meeting I made a request that we secure from Warner a copy of the executed minority trust agreement. It's my understanding that that information has not been forwarded. That information relates directly to the rate increase in that the minority trust agreement would identify for us the procedures under which the minority stockholders not only have involvement in the operation of the company, but what involvement they have in the financial end of the business, which relates to the potential for making money, which relates to Warner's concern about the investments that they have made already and their inability to pay a dividend; and I was hoping that we would have that minority trust agreement, the executed agreement in our hands, so that we might pursue it.

If I might, a moment of indulgence. I know that oftentimes when we request information, the party from whom we requested is a little sensitive in terms of how we will use it and whether or not we will be responsible in using it. I certainly feel comfortable to indicate that the minority community in Pittsburgh, particularly those 17 organizations that own 20 percent of the share of stock in Warner Cable, are concerned about the issue of the rate increase and are particularly concerned about the issue of the trust agreement, how it operates, and how it relates to them, and that's why I recognize it's a sensitive issue. I think it's one that will not go away, and until Warner Cable gives to this Council a copy of that executed trust agreement, I think that it will be very difficult for them to maintain the kind of credibility that I know they'd like to have in this community, and if there are problems with them forwarding that information to us because they either feel it's confidential or feel that it will be used in a responsible fashion, I, for one, would certainly be willing to work out some arrangement with them so we could satisfy the minority community in terms of its overall input, and I am certainly not impugning the integrity of anyone who's involved with the minority trust or anyone who's working at Warner Cable.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, may I also point out for the record today that in "U.S. News and World Report," Mr. Steven J. Ross, Warner Communications, earned $2,497,000 for 1982, and before we give a rate increase to Warner, they can give us a certified audit and we'll put it up for bid again.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, I want to leave the rate alone for minute. Let's not even talk that issue. What Michelle has now brought up is totally unfair on this particular issue. That's a different corporation, different corporation, and whether he gets $90 million, and that corporation, as I gather from what's here, is of no consequence in this particular corporation. They have done nothing in this corporation for which he's getting more or less money. They're two separate corporations, and as I understand it from a letter — I don't know who had last time, whether you had or Sophie, and this goes into this matter of salaries.

I don't know that we should be told exactly what individual's getting this or what individual's getting that. I think it is a proper question to find out in this corporation who's getting a heck of a lot money and is that at the expense of showing a return and that's fair, but as I recall something to effect that — I don't know who has that letter, one of you got it last week, I think it was on Wednesday — and in that letter, if my memory serves me correctly — maybe I have it here, here it is the total salaries of the top six positions of Warner Cable of Pittsburgh is $297,241.00 or an average of $49,540.17, and I recall somewhere along the line it was my understanding that no one is getting more than $75,000.00 —

Mrs. Masloff:

Seventy thousand dollars.

Mr. Stone:

Seventy or whatever it is but I think there was a limit there. As far as the identity of those individuals, it would appear to me that's not proper, but as far as if somebody's getting a heck of a lot of money which is draining the moneys I think that's a proper question, in fairness.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I beg to differ. I don't think the public is naive enough to believe that the holding company of this local TV cable contract, first of all, as Tom Flaherty pointed out, did not put in their initial, I believe it was — you brought up the point Mr. Flaherty that they did not put in the initial capital investment they were supposed to put in.

Let us go back and use Duquesne Light as an example. The Allegheny Steam Heat was a wholly owned subsidiary of Duquesne Light. If they could not have divested themselves of it, they would have had to eat the losses if they had not sold that steam heat company and have to live with what the P.U.C. regulations were.

It is a fact, Mr. Stone, and the public is not naive, that the parent company owns this operation and will reap the benefits if this is a successful operation and the profits thereof, did not put up any capital for this; and for you to say, sir, that a $2 million salary to the President of Warner has no bearing when they're coming for a 30 percent increase, I do not believe how you can make a statement like that.

Mr. Stone:

Michelle, the parent corporation has a stock interest in this corporation. In that sense, they have an interest, but nothing more than that. It's a separate corporation.

Michelle Madoff:

Who gets the profits, Mr. Stone? Doesn't the parent company get them?

The Chair:

I believe the issue is clear there now.

Michelle Madoff:

The issue is very clear. The parent company benefits from this operation, or they wouldn't have bid on it.

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

I am supporting the motion to recommit out of concern for my two colleagues that have expressed a concern, a very rightful concern as to the names of the individuals that work for Warner and also to what is the position of the information concerning the minority trust. I think these two concerns are clearly within the purview of what this Council as a whole is entitled to. I quote the last paragraph of the City Solicitor's opinion of June 16. "Council is legally empowered to request any financial information necessary to assist it in the evaluation of Warner Cable Corporation of Pittsburgh to request for a rate increase, including complete salary information."

So, I feel that we should extend this courtesy to two colleagues which I feel have relative concerns and certainly of great importance in their minds.

Mr. Givens:

I vote no. The reason is that for the past six months, this has been before this Council, and it's interesting to note that we have authorities within the City of Pittsburgh that do exactly report, as did Warner, the amounts of money and the type of job that these people hold. They do not necessarily give names. If we're to do this for this particular company for Warner, why then, should we not do it for our own authorities out there, which many of them make in that nice range of 40 to 50-some thousand dollars.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, am I not correct in assuming that Alcosan supplies the list of names as well the jobs?

The Chair:

Yes. All authorities do.

Michelle Madoff:

It's required to give us the names and the salaries. This would be a very definite exception. We still voted on this contract. I think we have the right to know who's getting the money, and more important than who is getting the money, I still — well, we did request it, and we've just been completely ignored, but that isn't even the issue really right now.

The issue is, should a company get a substantial rate increase? They have not wired the whole City. I think one of the funniest I've ever heard is one the top eschalon attorneys with the law firm representing Warner said to me at dinner the other day, "How come they're asking for a rate increae and they haven't wired my house yet?" and I said, "That's the question I'm asking. Go ask your colleague." I think that really goes to the issue. I think they've got a lot of gall, and I don't you can separate the parent company from the local company, and anybody that does that is going to look very bad to the public.

Mrs. Masloff:

I have two questions. First of all, listing the names of people on the jobs and the salaries that they make is a poor business practice. That puts those people in those jobs in a position to be hustled by other companies and offered more money. So I think as long as we have the list of the positions, I think that's adequate. Another thing, Bill Robinson, I thought that you got a complete report from the minority. I didn't know that there was anything more that you wanted from the trustees of the minority.

Mr. Robinson:

I have never received a copy of the executed trust agreement. The agreement itself determines how the trust is to function and how it functions in reference to the Board of Directors of Warner Cable. That information has been unavailable.

Mrs. Masloff:

Did you ask for it?

Mr. Robinson:

Yes, last Monday. Mr. Perry, I believe sent a letter, a copy of which I received, and there has been no response, to my knowledge.

Mrs. Masloff:

I wasn't here last Monday. I thought we had that. I vote no.

Mr. O'Malley:

First of all, I don't feel that this Council should be in this position of voting whether Warner gets a pay raise or doesn't get an increase. It's beyond me how we got put in that position in the first place, but since we have that obligation that we must vote on an increase, I think my colleagues are entitled to all the information they want, that's going to help them in that decision. I vote aye.

Mr. Robinson:

I'm going to vote aye, not only because I seconded Mrs. Madoff's motion, but one, because we have been unable to get material that we have requested. To my knowledge, no attempt has been made to try and provide us with this information, taking into consideration all the confidential issues.

Two, I think that Council will remember last Wednesday I made a great issue of having the bill discussed at that time and giving to members of Council an opportunity to thoroughly examine what was being requested. I still believe that this bill should go into committee, that the bill should be discussed, that we should be able to get the information that we need.

Thirdly, I think it is imperative that we get some expert assistance in reviewing the figures that have been submitted to us by Warner. The Cable Advisory Committee did a very outstanding job in reviewing the documents, and even they felt that they were not professionally qualified to go into a detailed analysis, and they suggested that this Council secure help. Unfortunately, we did not provide the committee with help. Unfortunately, we have not provided ourselves with help, and I think if this bill is recommitment, that we will give the Warner request a fair and honest appraisal, and I think that's all they're asking for. so, I'm going to have to recommit the bill.

Mr. Stone:

No.

Mr. Woods:

No.

The Chair:

No.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. O'Malley
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Robinson

AYES 4 NOES 5

(MR. GIVENS, MRS. MASLOFF, MR. STONE, MR. WOODS AND MR. DEPASQUALE VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the motion was defeated.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, for the record, I forgot to mention something. As Mr. Robinson just pointed out, even the Advisory Board said that they needed a fiscal advisor, which I've been trying to get since 1981, for this Council to look at rate structures, etc.; but more important, more important, Warner had the option to come to this Council almost ten months ago before the election and ask for the rate increase, and they knew darn well before the election they would not have got it.

Mrs. Masloff moved to approve the rate increase.

Mr. Givens seconded the motion.

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

I weighed this issue in an extremely close vein, and I feel that it is unfortunate that Council cannot wait another week to answer the legitimate concerns of some members of Council, and I think those concerns are a value to Council as a whole as to how we would act on the proposal. I, though, am going to oppose the rate increase, in concise terms because I think it would be rewarding the business judgment of Warner Cable, which I feel was way off in its projections. In view of that if has turned out to be a very poor judgment.

I turn primarily to two items which I believe are the most crucial. When Council originally granted the franchise to Warner, we were under the impression that the debt-to-equity ratio was going to be evenly split between Warner Cable of Pittsburgh and the parent company. Subsequently, there was a shuffle where the debt ratio was put entirely upon the burden of the parent company; and it seems today that the subscribers are going to assume a burden of that zero to 100 percent, the debt-to-equity ratio. So I have real concerns in that regard, and I feel that today a vote for this rate increase would condone that action, which, as far as my information has shown, was completely unprecedented ever for a cable franchise to do.

I think it was a very shrewd move on behalf of Warner-Amex or Warner Cable Corporation. I had asked that question at the public hearing as to who made that decision, and no one said that they knew. Well in regards to who made that move, I think it was very shrewd on their behalf, but I am not going to concur with it and put the burden on the 70,000 subscribers that we now have.

Also, the original projections back in '79 would be that Warner would have, for example, in the year 1982, 149 employees; actually, they have 447. The original projection for '83 is 175; the current projection is 419, and so on; so actually, the increased number of employees has added more than $6 million annually to the operating expenses, and it does not seem that the number of employees will be reduced at all in the future.

Once again, a very poor forecast that Warner Cable presented to this Council, and they certainly have their reasons to substantiate it, but I think that the forecast would not have become so bad if they would have had invested substantially in the beginning in pre-engineering studies along with other precautionary measures.

We have heard that Warner Cable has financed their debt at anywhere from 18 to 21 percent, and there are homeowners out there that have financed homes the past few years at 18 to 21 percent, but those homeowners do not come to the government and ask them for relief. What they do is they refinance their homes, and I don't see any impediment for Warner as to why they cannot refinance some of their construction costs. In fact, this suggestion was brought forth at the public hearing and inadequate information was given or, depending on your opinion, no answer was given as to why they did not pursue this course. Perhaps the reason why they will not pursue this course is because, once again, the subscribers will pay for it.

In closing, I do want to commend Warner Cable. I think they have made a substantial commitment to this City. As far as minority hiring, I think it is most commendable. I think their Qube system is indeed, in a comparative sense, one of the most innovative in the country. However, I feel that some of the burden should fall upon the shareholders and not completely or not out of balance on the subscribers, and I seem to believe very strongly that we are seeing it in this rate proposal increase.

Mr. Givens:

I vote aye for the following reasons. If one would look at it and really digest what is happening here, of the five levels of service, the level three service will be increased $1.55 a month. The Tier IV and the Tier V service will be increased by $2.05 a month. When you look at our attachment to this and if you look at Tier I and II, which have not been touched, they are receiving in the neighborhood of 17 channels, and on Tier II, 22 channels for some $5.00 a month. I think this is a great improvement and the people who just wanted good reception and a few additional things their community stations was fine.

On Tier III and Tier IV, it increased up to Tier III, 33 different channels; Tier IV, 52 channels; and Tier V, 66-almost additional channels have been generated. It's been three and a half years since this company has come in ask for any increase whatsoever. Now, if we would take any company that was to build, and looking out this window and seeing that's about two to three years to build a particular building out here; this Council has given tax relief for those people to build that building, and while they're building it, we do not tax them. Here we have a company that's been three and a half years now building a system that all of us, I think, must agree is one of the finest in the country. It's been told not only to myself but to others. All you have to do is travel a little bit, and you know what the situation is there.

The greatest increase on that $2.05 and the $1.55 is the expansion of movies, the news, and the sports; there are the three major areas. Ladies and gentlemen, that is entertainment. That is amusement. When you look at the financial picture of this company, it is in dire straights. We are to have legislation come before this Council that will depict plant closings. If any company, whether it be Warner or any other company, not receive some justifiable returns on their investment, then they will go under. If we want to see poor service and maintenance of this particular system, don't vote on this particular rate increase, because eventually they'll have to cut back on staff. Eventually, when your system goes down because of a thunderstorm or two, they're not going to have the crews to come out there like Duquesne Light does, like Bell Telephone does, and the other utilities.

If we look at this as a utility, and as we sit here in Council, we must make judgment upon this company as does the Public Utility Commission. I think this rate increase, as reported by the Bureau of Cable Communications where we have a staff down there that has been working on this proposal for six months, indicated that the proposal was reasonable, that the raise was a reasonable rate. I think all of us, if we'd have to rate all of our departments and how effective they are in conducting their business, that the Bureau of Cable Communications would have to have a Class-A star in front of it.

They are very adamant in staying to the letter on the contract in this particular service that is rendered to the people of the City of Pittsburgh. True, there has been some concession made in this particular piece of legislation that's before us, and one primarily is that Warner will not come back until at least August of 1984 for any type of a rate increase or until the Cable Bureau certifies Warner as serving all the people.

Secondly, for those people that have not been hooked up there will not be a rate increase in this to hook-up itself. That will remain the same, 19-some dollars, I believe, whatever it is. I'm not trying to justify Warner Cable. I'm not going to try to justify some of the remarks that have been made personally about my family. I'm very proud of my family. I'm very proud of my daughter. I'm very proud of my eight children and the 56-some nieces and nephews that I have from my immediate family that are eight boys. I am very proud of that fact, and it hurts me very deeply when people bring a very personal issue into something.

If I had felt that my vote here today and that any member of my family working in any of the businesses within the City of Pittsburgh, and when you think of some 56 nieces and nephews, along with the brothers and the sisters and the aunts and uncles and a cousin that is sitting right next to me, right here, one would have to say that I could not vote on anything that happens within the City of Pittsburgh. I have brothers that work for Duquesne Light. I have people working for Ma Bell. I have people working with facets of every industry. I take it very personal, but I think overall, I want this company, Warner, as any company in the City of Pittsburgh, to be a productive company, to pay their employees adjust, right, fair. It is noted that there is no union at that particular company, obviously, because looking at some of the wages they are paying them according to the technical expertise that they need in this particular new industry that we are in.

I submit again, that if we do not vote for this particular proposal, we will see the long-term deterioration of the system. Thank you, Mr. President.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't believe what's going on here today, although I do believe it, because I knew this was exactly what was going to happen, that there would be five votes. That was setup so that we would not be voting until after the election. You cannot separate the parent company from the local company. They will reap the profits. They're coming back again next year, they've already alerted us, asking us for another rate increase. The Warner Cable Advisory Committee itself said they are not qualified to rule on whether Warner should have a rate increase, because they don't have a fiscal advisor. Yet this Council, which has not studied as in-depth as the Advisory Committee, is prepared to make a decision today, which is unbelievable to me.

They could have come in here eight months ago, ten months ago, did not. They've already had a rate increase on the areas that we have no control over here in Council, on the Home Box Office, etc., and I asked one of their executives on the board of Warner, bumped into her at lunch and said, "If you're hurting so much, why don't you give us a certified audit?" My accounting friend suggested this. We'll put the Warner Cable Contract up for rebid, and we know it's a good deal because of the topography of this City.

Michelle Madoff may have to end up, when she moves, buying the low-level of cable so that I can have topography if I don't get 2, 4, 11, 13, 22, and 53. That would be the only reason I might buy, it for reception. That is a contract that's never going to go sour like New York where it's all level and there's so many other activities and people are bored. I have a letter from someone who says, "I am asking for your help, not just for me, but for many who have no one to speak out for us. I have Parkinson's, and like others, it's hard to write, let alone go out to meetings. When Cable came out, we all had company."

Mrs. Masloff:

You've read that before.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm reading it again. "Now, like food prices, we can't even have this anymore." I think it's an utter disgrace. When I said to this person, "Why don't you put it up for rebid, give us a certified audit," they said no, and I said, "Why not?" and they said, "Because we're going to make money." Everybody who knows anything about Warner, and you don't have to be a rate structure person, knows that the nature of a cable company is to pour millions in, and then you get your money back ten times over, eventually.

They knew, Warner, parent company, when they authorized this contract, entered the request for proposal, knew that it was going to cost them multi-millions of dollars, but that it was a profitable venture and for them to ask the taxpayers of this City to pick up their losses, which I don't believe are real, don't exist, nor the Advisory Board believes, they can make a judgment on, borders on being not only immoral but criminal, and I will not vote for it.

The Chair:

Are you abstaining?

Michelle Madoff:

No, I'm voting against the rate increase. I will not vote for the rate increase.

Mrs. Masloff:

Aye.

Mr. O'Malley:

There's just a number of things that disturb me about Warner's request for a rate increase, and I'm going to try and be brief. The first thing is the debt-equity ratio Warner borrowing 100 percent of the money that they put into the system in the City of Pittsburgh, and nobody, I mean nobody, borrows 100 percent of the money. If you buy a house or a business, you're required to put down anywhere from 20 to 50 percent. I think what caused Warner tremendous financial difficulties and losing $8 million this year is that debt-equity ratio of 100 percent.

I'm not so sure that the residents of the City of Pittsburgh should have to finance Warner's miscalculations. By Warner's own figures, they said they made some mistakes with inflation, and they also made some mistakes with high interest rates, but because of the tremendous acceptance by the residents of the City of Pittsburgh, if it wasn't for the inflation and the high interest rates, Warner would have made $30 million profit in the last three years.

Also, I'm sure that the residents of the City of Pittsburgh should not have to pay again for Warner's miscalculations. I want to read two brief paragraphs from the newspaper "U.S.A. Today" where it states that Warner just signed a franchise with Milwaukee. We're going to give $4.95 per month for basic subscribers. It cost Warner $11 per month, and we can increase the rates for 30 months. Fundamentally, Warner admits that they're going to lose $6 per month per subscriber and their basic service for the next two and a half years. Now, I would suggest here, if Warner is going to lose $6 per month in Milwaukee, then I think they should bear the burden here in the City of Pittsburgh, at least until the entire City is wired, which in their estimate is another six months to a year.

It also states in the next paragraph, "If cable companies' projections prove accurate, the industry they're developing eventually will generate billions and billions of dollars in paid-TV revenue," and I think the people here in the City of Pittsburgh, the Warner people realize that they will be realizing a profit just over the horizon. The tremendous start-up cost is now over. I think the profits that Warner's going to reap in the next few years are going to be in the tens of millions of dollars. Right now I think Warner has growing pains, as any new industry has growing pains, and I feel it is the responsibility of the parent company and the responsibility of the stockholders to shoulder the responsibility and the burden for those financial growing pains, and not necessarily the subscribers in the City of Pittsburgh.

If they can subsidize the people of Milwaukee for a tune of $6 million, $6 per month per person for the next two and a half years, I think they should subsidize the residents of the City of Pittsburgh for another year until they wire the entire the City, so I vote no.

Mr. Robinson:

I'm going to vote no and I'd like to explain my reasons. I don't want to rehash the two attempts that I've made to have this bill considered by Council in committee, but certainly those two attempts weigh heavily on my decision to vote no. I think that a substantive discussion of this issue in committee would have been helpful to all concerned, and it would have given us an opportunity to consider whether or not we wanted to seek some expert assistance; and that is expert assistance other than the very capable job that Brother Richard Emenecker has done and the cable job that his staff had done, but I think we have to look at the report of the Advisory Committee and recognize that Brother Richard and his staff also work with the Advisory Committee. The Advisory Committee said, "As an advisory body, we have limited financial expertise; therefore, we recommend that an independent financial consultant who is familiar with the accounting practices of a cable television industry be retained to investigate and interpret all financial information submitted to the City by Warner in support of its request for a rate increase, and all sources, documents upon which this information was based."

This report, a portion of which I read, was submitted to us on June 3, 1983, and I believe that we would have done ourselves well and Warner if we had followed this particular recommendation from the Advisory Committee. I also believe that the issue of whether or not Warner's request is reasonable or not does not really strike at the heart of the matter. The heart of the matter is whether or not this Council believes that any increase is reasonable. We have the power to increase the rates and lower the rates. In committee we could have discussed whether or not the proposal submitted by Warner should have been altered.

I, for one, think there are some adjustments that could have been made in a downward fashion that still would have allowed Warner to recoup some of its losses; and by the same token, not put too much of a burden on the subscribers. Unfortunately, we have lost that opportunity, and I'm very sorry that we did, because I honestly believe that reasonable people can always come to a reasonable solution.

Also, I think that the formal discussion among Council members in committee session would have been very helpful, so that we could have tried to understand each of our own interpretations of the financial documents and the supporting information. The public hearing, which all of us had an opportunity to attend, was for the public, and the public came in and made their input. As Mr. DePasquale said on several occasions, quite often members of Council do not allow the public to speak at public hearings; we speak. Here was a fine opportunity for us to let the public speak and then to go into committee session so that Council members can speak. Again, we did not do that.

I think that it is imperative for our own credibility and for the credibility of Warner Cable that, as we approach future issues around Warner Cable, that we always be mindful that we are treading on unfurrowed ground. It's a new experience for us, but each and every decision that we make reflects not only upon our credibility but the credibility of Warner Cable. We have given them a franchise to serve our people and we have indicated that we're going to protect our people, and we put into place an advisory committee to help us do that job.

I think that, unfortunately the procedures that have been outlined for us to consider this rate increase have not taken into serious consideration the lack of expertise on the part of members of this Council to make such a heavy decision without being able to support it with substantial information, and certainly there are many qualified people in the cable industry, many qualified consultants that would have helped us.

I am not so much concerned as to whether or not Warner gets the increase or doesn't, but I am concerned that to determine if their request is reasonable and if one we want to grant, that perhaps we did not use all the resources available, and I certainly know that all those resources were not made available to me, and I cannot find any good reason at this point to support the rate increase as presently requested, so I'm going to vote no.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, if I may, I've been going up and down with this issue in trying to find something that makes some sense here, and as I reflect back when we first got cable, when it started, what everybody seemed to be wanting was better vision. After that, we got the finest cable ordinance in the country. We got the finest cable system in the country, but this in and of itself does not mean that we owe Warner or anyone else anything. No one wants an increase, but I think that the mistake is some of us think that we have the right to be Santa Claus or the right to be Scrooge; therein I believe lies an error.

There was a contract, an agreement signed by this City with Warner Cable. Each put into that agreement the best that they could get or the best that they wanted. Each must, under that contract, do what they were required to do. They get no more, and they get no less. I'm the first to admit that not all is perfect. Some of the things need a little more attending to than has heretofore been attended to, but I think that some things need more pursuing; but again, that, I think, can be done administratively, and if need be, with our assistance, but I think the issue before us today is a rather narrow one.

The question is, do we, City Council, have a right under this contract to have an arbitrary right to refuse a grant, or for that matter, if they didn't deserve an arbitrary right, to give them an increase? Section 1411 does not say no change is possible; in fact, it contemplates a change, and in that contract, again, it also contemplates a change within 30 months. Thirty months have now passed. They did, however put in criteria, and that criteria was that any request for a an increase had to be reasonable. Our Bureau of Cable Communications found the recommendation, based on financial information submitted, the proposed rates for Tier III, IV, and V and of the basic services meet the criteria of reasonableness.

They did ask us in that recommendation to supplement it with two things, that we get some recommendation from the Cable Advisory Committee, and they came back with no recommendation, so nothing new beyond what the Cable Committee told us that it met the criteria of reasonableness. The next thing was a matter of a public hearing. It is true that no one wants an increase. At that public hearing we did not get any technical proof which would rebut what the Cable Committee said, and that was, did it or did not meet the criteria of reasonableness.

So we are still faced with the Committees's recommendation, that it meets the criteria of reasonableness. As I stated earlier, I don't think this Council has the right, the arbitrary right to say yes or no, but rather did it or did it not meet the criteria of reasonableness, and it is my belief that if it's not granted here, it's going to be granted in a court of law. Judge Papadakos gave this Council a message relative to our zoning laws. We had believed that we had a right to summarily and arbitrarily say no or yes, and the court has said, "uh-uh; give me some basis on which you've made your decision."

Our basis here is based on our Cable Committee. They said it meets the criteria of reasonableness. While I don't want any increases, as everyone else, I'm faced with a contract that sets some criteria which I didn't set other than that contract lays it out; and the only thing we're faced with that is that it meets the criteria of reasonableness. I must, therefore, vote yes, not because I want it, but because the ground rules were set and the implementation and the criteria have been met. I have no other alternative, regretfully, at this time.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, I think it's all been said pro and con, and I believe and like Mr. Stone said, it's already been said. I believe the raise is reasonable. I vote aye.

The Chair:

Apparently, my vote is the deciding vote, and that's rather strange. The last time I voted for Warner, some people tried to put me in jail. I want to say this. I think the losses justify an increase, and I also would like to say this. It's not compulsory, and no one's brought this out today. If health insurance goes up today, Blue Cross, what have you, we have to retain it or else, and if the utilities raise their rates, gas and light, we have to pay those rates or do without, and obviously, in some cases it's a matter of life and death. But in regards to cable TV, it's not compulsory. You don't have to have cable TV, and I'm going to tell you, very frankly, the only reason I have it is because I get clear reception. I don't like to watch movies 30 days in a row or what have you, and I don't pay that much attention to some of the other programs. Perhaps I'm not home that much, but I repeat, on account of the clear reception, I got cable TV because they told me that would happen and did happen, but I know when something of this magnitude is at stake, just the fact that I got clear reception is no reason for me to vote for an increase.

I listened to all the testimony. I listened to all my colleagues and heard their remarks, and after digesting it all, I feel that they're convinced that they've suffered severe losses for whatever reasons, inflation, and what have you, and therefore, I vote for an increase.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, I'd like to have a copy of the report of the Advisory Committee included in the record please.

(COPY OF THE ADVISORY COMMITTEE'S REPORT - WARNER RATE INCREASE)

THE WRITTEN REPORT OF THE PITTSBURGH CABLE COMMUNICATIONS ADVISORY COMMITTEE TO CITY COUNCIL ON WARNER CABLE CORPORATION OF PITTSBURGH'S REQUEST FOR A RATE INCREASE

June 3, 1983

Throughout the planning phases and the subsequent development of a cable franchise for the City of Pittsburgh, voices of leadership including the Mayor, the Superintendent of the Cable Bureau, members of City Council, representatives of major institutions, various individuals from our community and this Advisory Committee expressed hopes that the cable system in our City should be more than just a delivery system for additional television signals. We and they urged that our cable system should be a community communications model with widespread benefits for our entire City.

It was our understanding that in order to be successful the cable system should achieve two goals: 1. be a viable business venture and, 2. provide the kind of services, community involvement and information for City residents that would enhance the quality of life in our City. We would like to address both of these goals in this report.

THE CABLE SYSTEM SHOULD BE A VIABLE BUSINESS VENTURE

As an advisory body, we have limited financial expertise. Therefore, we recommend that an independent financial consultant who is familiar with the accounting practices of the cable television industry be retained to investigate and interpret all financial information submitted to the City by Warner in support of its request for a rate increase and all source documents upon which this information was based.

We also recommend that this independent financial consultant should include in the investigation and interpretation the following areas of inquiry and examination which Brother Richard Emenecker specified in his Report on Warner Cable Corporation of Pittsburgh Basic Service Rate Increase Request under recommendation #1, B - 1) Debt to Equity Ratio, 2) Expenses, 3) Sources of Revenue, 4) Depreciation Schedule, 5) Reduced Subscriber Revenues, and 8) Basic Service for Institutions

THE CABLE SYSTEM SHOULD PROVIDE THE KIND OF SERVICES, COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT AND INFORMATION FOR CITY RESIDENTS THAT WOULD ENHANCE THE QUALITY OF LIFE IN OUR CITY

We believe that City Council in its deliberations should examine not only the financial information that Warner Cable Corporation of Pittsburgh has submitted to substantiate its rate increase request, but that attention must also be directed to the concept of community communications and all the commitments which Warner has made to our City. We bring then the following concerns to your attention.

1) Neighborhood Studios

The five neighborhood studios are now fully operational. Television productions and training workshops have been on-going. Reasonable operating rules for these studios have been developed by Warner in consultation with our Advisory Committee. Our Committee has been encouraged by the number of productions and the level of interest shown by many individual producers.

Problems still remain, however, in many aspects of community programming, such as concerns about equipment failures (see attachment #1), long waiting lists for training sessions, and the minimal participation on the part of organizations and neighborhood groups.

2) Separately Programmable Community Area (SPCA) Borders

One of the construction problems that has been brought to our attention is that in the building of the system, the borders of the five SPCA's (Separately Programmable Community Areas) have not been adhered to in certain locations. At the present time, Warner admits this involves 178 subscriber homes. These boundaries have been determined by ward lines and are clearly designated in the Cable Ordinance passed by City Council.

Non-adherence to these borders can have long-term effects on community programming. If these borders are not maintained as designated, it will be harder to convince neighborhood groups that it is worth their time and effort to produce community programming, if the target audience is not connected to their specific area.

3) Minority Involvement

Since its establishment by City Council, the Advisory Committee has been concerned that "meaningful" minority involvement would be a significant part of the cable communications system in Pittsburgh. Warner's minority hiring practices have reflected those concerns and are commendable.

We believe, however, that City Council should review Warner's intention to offer "meaningful" participation to the seventeen (17) minority groups that have a 20 percent ownership share in Warner Cable Corporation of Pittsburgh. The Pittsburgh Courier article which is attached (#2) outlines the latest discussions between Warner-Amex Chairman, Drew Lewis, and these minority shareholders.

Warner has promised to involve these 17 minority groups in all operation and programming policy decisions through the company's annual meeting of stockholders, and, in addition, through meeting periodically (at least three times a year) with the three voting trustees of the shareholders to discuss all matters of concern, including community participation, access, programming and operation (see attachment #3).

We believe that Warner should continue its local shareholders' involvement in the development of the Pittsburgh system. City Council should invite comments from them concerning their participation during the past three years in operation and programming decisions.

4) Institutional Network

In its proposal, Warner Cable Corporation of Pittsburgh insisted that the Institutional Network was not just an "empty promise" (see attachment #4), but as yet no overall engineering design or construction schedule has been submitted to the City.

A third cable ("C") for use by institutions was to be installed along with the "A" and "B" subscriber cables, thereby minimizing construction costs. If the "C" cable is installed after the subscriber network is completed, there would be additional construction costs. We are concerned that these additional costs would be passed on to the residential subscribers or used as part of the rationale for additional rate increases.

We concur with the Superintendent's report (pages 28 & 29) that Warner should be required to fulfill the commitments it has made to Pittsburgh institutions (including police, fire and EMS stations) regarding channels and services on the institutional network. In addition, Warner should be required to comply with the basic service rate provisions of the franchise agreement for service to the institutions.

We recognize that institutional use of the cable communications system needs time and effort to develop. This is a unique technology, and ours is a unique City. It takes time to bring institutions and technology together.

When Warner staff presented information to our Advisory Committee in December, 1982 about this particular institutional network, the discussion was discouraging. The Company's attitude was one of waiting for user demand before constructing the institutional network. This is a clear change from the attitude communicated in its proposal. We believe that Warner must continue the educational process and work closely with Pittsburgh institutions to support the growth of this aspect of the cable system.

In the Warner rate increase material, there is note of the revenue that will be generated by the institutional network from the business community. We need this valuable technology for more than data transmission and other commercial purposes. We need to hear more specific plans from Warner about the institutional uses planned for this network and not just its commercial business applications.

5) Programming Commitments

We agree with the Superintendent's recommendation (page 30 of his report) that there is a need to receive firm programming commitments for the rates charged. Subscribers need to know exactly what they will be receiving at the rates charged. If programming changes are made, there must be firm assurances that substitutions of similar programming, or a decrease in the rates, will occur.

In conclusion, we agree with the recommendations of the Superintendent that public hearings should be held by City Council on the rate increase. We want to emphasize that these hearings should have a dual focus: 1) a review of the Warner financial data, and 2) a review of the related areas of cable service commitments made by Warner to our City (see attachment #5).

These hearings will provide City Council with an opportunity to bring to the foreground once again the concerns that the City should have that Warner provide what it has contractually agreed to in terms of services and facilities, not only to cable subscribers, but to the entire Pittsburgh community.

Finally, it is our recommendation that the City should use the enforcement provisions provided in the Pittsburgh Code and the franchise agreement to assure Warner Cable Corporation of Pittsburgh's full compliance to their contractual obligations.

We recall Warner's own words which are taken from Section 7 of their proposal: "Warner hereby affirms its commitment to the City and to Pittsburgh institutions to provide all of the service opportunities detailed in this proposal. WARNER CABLE IS NOT INTERESTED IN EMPTY PROMISES — WE INTEND TO DELIVER ALL SPECIAL SERVICES AND SPECIAL SYSTEM FEATURES DETAILED IN THIS PROPOSAL."

WARNER CRIES BROKE, "WAIT SHAREHOLDERS"
By Phil Taylor - Courier City Editor, The Pittsburgh Courier

Representatives of 17 minority organizations who own 20 percent of Warner Cable's stock, met Tuesday, during a private meeting at company headquarters only to be told by a high ranking official that the Pittsburgh operation is still in the red and it may not be until 1987 that their shares pay dividends.

The organization heads were called to Warner to hear Drew Lewis, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Warner-Amex Cable Communications Inc., which the Pittsburgh operation is affiliated with.

The meeting was closed to members of the press. Maany of the representatives were questioned while leaving Warner following meeting.

When questioned if the gathering yielded any new developments one observer responded, "Nothing". Others said they were told that the company miscalculated the projected revenue that Warner would yield. Others said there was discussion regarding a rate increase the company has requested from City Council and said they were informed it was needed for the company to start showing a profit.

A handout given to shareholders cited that the company had an outstanding debt of $94,000,000 by the end of February. Warner also said the number of subscribers in the next four years and greater market penetration will play a significant role in the company turning profits.

Some of the representatives of the 17 organizations said they had no recourse but to take a "wait and see" approach.

Warner Cable Communication's pact to grant 17 local minority organizations 20 percent ownership of their franchise, was the determining factor which led to their securing local rights, by a City Council vote in February, 1980.

Warner's then unprecedented move three years ago drew national attention along with praise from the local NAACP and others who stressed that Pittsburgh's Black community have vocal input in the City's cable future.

After three years, the 17 organizations which own stock are still pondering when the company will make its promise good.

Ted Campbell, President, stated last May (Courier Edition 5/8/82), that Warner had "....no qualm about paying a dividend to the shareholders and whatever is due will be paid out." However, the company on many occasions has pointed out they have failed to turn a profit and are operating in the red.

Last May, Campbell also stated there never was any real question of the company's commitment to pay dividends to the minority stock shareholders. That the only remaining question would be when Warner could begin paying dividends. He remarked then, it would be three or four years before the community organizations could expect any profits.

Warner Cable of Pittsburgh will, of course, provide access to its system for program distribution to other public and non-profit institutions in Pittsburgh as the need develops.

Warner will cooperate with non-profit institutions in Pittsburgh by making video modulators available, either on a loan basis or through at-cost purchase arrangements. Additional video equipment can also be purchased by Pittsburgh groups who wish to take advantage of Warner's national volume discount prices from vendors. The Educational Program Director in Pittsburgh will assist local institutional groups in co-production and co-procurement of educational and informational materials, to avoid duplication of resources.

A number of statements of interest in cable communications have been made by Pittsburgh institutions. The City will recognize that an understandable reluctance exists to make firm programming and service commitments to a cable company until after the franchise is awarded. Warner hereby affirms its commitment to the City and to Pittsburgh institutions to provide all of the service opportunities detailed in this proposal. WARNER CABLE IS NOT INTERESTED IN EMPTY PROMISES — WE INTEND TO DELIVER ALL SPECIAL SERVICES AND SPECIAL SYSTEM FEATURES DETAILED IN THIS PROPOSAL.

Revised 5/10/83

(END OF REPORT)

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Givens	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. DePasquale
Mr. Stone	(Pres't)

AYES 5 NOES 4

(MR. FLAHERTY, MICHELLE MADOFF, MR. O'MALLEY AND MR. ROBINSON VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bill passed finally.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, if you will indulge me a moment. The new President of the — on our state politicians, I don't remember his name, who's now with Warner —

The Chair:

Wait, Michelle. We voted now; the issue is clear.

Michelle Madoff:

I just want to point something out to the public. The public has the option now of keeping, as you said, keeping the cable or not keeping cable. When he was interviewed, he said — I think it was Bill Green; I'm not sure if I have the right name — that it will probably lose a lot of people if we raise the rates.

Now, I'm willing to bet that many people are going to drop the cable contract, and I certainly urge those to keep only what is absolutely necessary, because if they allow this to happen, they're going to be hit every year, and they're going to know that the subsidies will come out of the taxpayers' pocket.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, we voted. It's a closed subject. Let's go on.

Mr. Flaherty:

I just have a brief motion. It was brought out at the public hearing for the first time that Warner-Amex had given an infusion of approximately $13 million to Warner Cable of Pittsburgh to increase the debt-equity ratio. I know in my conversations with the Bureau of Cable for the City that they have not received any verification from Warner as to where the $13 million is going to be utilized, and I think that it's incumbent that our own Cable Bureau have that in writing from Warner Cable as to where they are going to utilize that $13 million. So I put that in a form of a motion.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Flaherty:

It's simply a technical matter.

The Chair:

You just want that information?

Mr. Flaherty:

Yes.

Mrs. Masloff:

Mr. Flaherty, I don't understand.
Repeat that.

Mr. Flaherty:

Yes, the $13 million. Now, I had subsequently spoken to Brother Emenecker at the Cable Bureau as to how that $13 million, in very concise, very simplistic terms, affected the bottom line of debt, where that $13 million infusion was going to be utilized in the debt-equity ratio, and he couldn't answer me those questions because, he said, that it is still hazy in his mind. So I feel that it would be in the best interests of the City that Warner kindly pass that information on in written form to our Cable Bureau, just so we will have a clearer understanding of their financial structure.

Mr. Flaherty presented

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Robinson:

On Bill 3203, I'd just like to indicate that the reason I asked to have this bill sent is because I don't believe we are paying these disallowed costs out of the proper funds. I believe the money should come out of the general fund and not out of our CETA allocations. We're paying CETA back, and the way this bill is constructed, we're paying CETA back with their money. I think it should come out of the general fund.

Michelle Madoff:

It is my belief that there's enough money out in the private sector, since they're giving advertisement display on the can, that we should not have to spend $25,000. However, I'm going to vote for the bill, simply because the City is a pigsty, and I don't want to be accused of not trying to do something to clean it up.

(MICHELLE MADOFF'S REMARKS ON BILL NO. 3187 FROM THE MEETING OF WEDNESDAY, JUNE 15, 1983)

Michelle Madoff:

Director, the Clean City Committee is raising a lot of money because they are going to put smaller emblems on the litter cans. Now, what are we going to do with $25,000 worth of litter cans?

Director Gaetano:

They are not paying for $25,000 worth of litter cans. The advertisers are putting in half of that money, and the City has the other half in the budget, which is put in at the end of the year.

Michelle Madoff:

In other words, they are getting free advertising; is that right?

Mr. Givens:

Michelle, that is not the full story.

Michelle Madoff:

Now they want advertising in every neighborhood?

Director Gaetano:

Michelle, Mr. Givens is right. They are talking about advertising their areas in the City of Pittsburgh.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm voting no on this, because if we have to pay $25,000 for these litter cans, we should have the jurisdiction of where they should go.

(END OF MICHELLE MADOFF'S REMARKS ON BILL NO. 3187 - 6/15/83)

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. DePasquale, I have a letter from the Wheel and Rim Sales Company, who has not been paid for six months. The bill is in the amount of $424. He is now going to bill us for the interest, and when he goes to bid again, where the only person bidding, he will, of course, take into consideration the fact that he has to go out and borrow money. And he has been treated very rudely and told, "Don't worry about it; you're going to get paid," and has been treated very abominably. I'm going to be sure that this is taken care of.

Michelle Madoff:

Whose department would that fall into?

Mr. O'Malley:

The Controller's Office.

Michelle Madoff:

It's not the Controller. I think it's Supplies.

The Chair:

Take care of it, Mr. Woods, will you?

Mr. O'Malley:

One short question for Mr. Perry, our Clerk. If I'm not mistaken, was there money appropriated last year to up-grade Council's telephone system so we can have push-button telephones?

Mr. Perry:

There was money appropriated when Larry Yatch was the Director of Supplies.

Michelle Madoff:

Why aren't we doing it?

Mr. O'Malley:

Why don't we have —

Mr. Perry:

I think they're in the process of it. They're studying it, Michelle.

Mr. O'Malley:

Will you look into that, Mr. Perry, and get back to us with a full report?

Mr. Perry:

Yes.

Mr. Woods moved to approve the minutes of Monday, June 6, 1983.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.
Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Flaherty

Council adjourned.

ABSENT:

MR. STONE

The Meeting was opened by the recitation of the pledge of allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

PRESENTATIONS

Michelle Madoff:

Ladies and gentlemen, many of you may be aware that each month the Office of Michelle Madoff, Councilperson gives a "Woman of the Month Award." I feel that women need to be recognized as role models, and as you know we have given a posthumous award to Bosanka Evosevic and to other very deserving people, and it is great pride and with great pleasure that I ask that we have our awardee, Mrs. Alma Speed Fox come forward. I would also like to ask that Mary Hall, Executive Director of the Mayor's Task Force for Women, please join us; and I believe Phyllis Weatherby, would you join us?

Michelle Madoff presents

Bill No. 3311 WHEREAS, Ms. Alma Speed Fox, wife of Gerald W. Fox and mother of five children, has worked tirelessly for the civil rights of all people for most of her life and has served with distinction and brought honor to our city as past Executive Director of the Pittsburgh Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and continues that service as one of the Vice Presidents of the Pittsburgh Branch and as Acting Sectional Director of the Pennsylvania NAACP; and

WHEREAS, Ms. Fox has also defended and advanced the rights of women as a feminist working within the civil rights movement and has served the cause of women's rights at the state level as Co-Chair of former Governor

Milton Shapp's Commission on the Status of Women, and as Regional Director of the Interstate Association of Commissions on the Status of Women; and

WHEREAS, Ms. Fox further served feminist goals as Co-Convenor of the Allegheny County Women's Political Caucus, Vice-President of Council for Women's Rights, Board Member of Women's Health Services, founding member of East Hills NOW and of East End NOW, and former President of East Hills NOW, and founding member and former President of Pittsburgh Association for the Advancement of Women; and

WHEREAS, Ms. Fox supported community goals in the Greater Pittsburgh area through her active membership in numerous organizations and associations; and

WHEREAS, Ms. Fox continues her service in civil rights for all as Equal Employment Manager with the U.S. Bureau of Mines and as a member and Treasurer of the Pittsburgh Mayor's Commission on Human Rights;

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and Members of The Council of the City of Pittsburgh recognize Ms. Alma Speed Fox as "Woman of the Month" because her dedicated service has enriched the lives and ensured the civil rights of all the citizens of Pittsburgh.

Michelle Madoff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

This is a special pleasure for me because Alma and I go back 200 years. We are the youngest — we don't get older, we just get better.

Ms. Fox:

I'm overwhelmed seeing all of these people and I know you're all here to see me. Before I say one word of any of the things that I have thought about saying, I'd like to say that thank God you're here in support of the legislation to support plant closings.

Michelle Madoff:

May I add, it wasn't planned that way.

Ms. Fox:

No, I very seldom do what's planned so I think those of you that know me, know it was not planned. I'm particularly happy to have this award it comes from politicians and most people think that politicians are a dirty bunch of folks. I happen to like politicians very, very much. I started in politics when I was 12 years old. My mother was a Republican Committee Woman, and my best friend's mother was a Democratic Committee Woman, and I was a gopher, and you know what that is, go for the sandwich, and go for the drinks, and go for everything; and I remained a gopher in politics until the '70's, and I decided I'd run for City Council, but apparently people liked me being a gopher better than they did being a member of City Council, so I'm still a gopher in politics.

I also like this award very much because I've worked very closely with some of the members of City Council. My earliest involvement with a member on City Council came with my involvement with Sophie, and that was back when woman had their own little organizations then. You were relegated and you stayed right there. Then I worked with Bill Robinson. Then I fought with Jeep, with the union. I love him dearly and of course, Michelle and I have worked very close together.

I thank the NOW members, Phyllis Weatherby and Helene for nominating me for this award and suggesting. Before I forget my immediate family, I'd like for them to stand up, because it's a part — you're going to introduce them. My oldest son stand up, Zayer. Don't applaud until I — I have a lot of children, so don't applaud until it's all over. They're not all here, fortunately some of them are working, and there's two of them here that aren't working, but he's working; and I'd like for my daughter to stand up, Wesley. My youngest daughter, Murial. My granddaughter, Diane, and my great-grandson, Gerald. Isn't that wonderful. So see we can't close down these plants because I have some folks that need jobs there.

I could take up this entire day believe me with saying thanks to folks, but Carmen said, have your family come. Do I have family, I have a lot of family, those are family that come through blood, but some of the closest family that we have comes through love, and that's Phyllis, Mary, and Helene, and I'd like for Helene to stand up back there. I'd also like for my staff with the Bureau of Mines to stand up; and I'd like the Commissioners from the Human Relations Commission to stand up. I'd like all of you here that are supporting the plant closings to stand up; and I'd like all of you here who are members of City Council, who are going to support the plant closing legislation to stand up. Well all of you are my family and I thank you so very much; and Jeep thanks for being President.

Mary Hall:

I'm very proud indeed to bring the Mayor's congratulations to Alma and for myself to say, how very proud I am to be part this ceremony today. Alma was one of the first women to be truly active in the Women's Movement in Pittsburgh, and all of us remember her very early and important involvement in that effort as well as her early and important involvement in the Civil Rights Movement in the City which continues today with her official role with the NAACP. Once again let me express our gratitude to City Council for its continued recognition of the role of women in the City; and to say how appropriate we feel that Alma is the woman to be honored today. Thank you very much.

Ms. Weatherby:

I want to add my thanks to Alma, to those that have already been given here, and I want to give her a wish that we may live to see women represented equally in the constitution with men. Thank you.

Michelle Madoff presents

Bill No. 3312 WHEREAS, the City's Water Department recently reported that vandals broke into McNaugher Reservoir and caused extensive damage to the protective covering; and

WHEREAS, two officials from the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency testified before a House panel that Congress must take action to beef up enforcement of the nation's safe drinking water laws, after midnight dumpers poisoned water supplies in Ohio and neighboring states; and

WHEREAS, contamination of our City's water supply would result in tragedy and would bring the City of Pittsburgh to its knees; and

WHEREAS, the Administration sees fit to station security police in City parks yet our reservoirs are left unprotected; and

WHEREAS, safety precautions at our reservoirs are necessary to the health and safety of the citizens of Pittsburgh.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Members of Pittsburgh City Council hereby authorize and direct the Administration to station round the clock security police at our City reservoirs, and to post signs at the reservoirs warning would be vandals and trespassers of the severity of this crime and the stiff penalties for prosecution.

Michelle Madoff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Flaherty seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, my Committee is the Water Department and recently we had our one demonstration cover vandalized, ripped open. If a child or somebody who had a problem in the water swimming, particularly a child, were to suffocate the liability would be ours and we are self-insured as taxpayers.

Furthermore, we all know the two episodes that happened in the Beechview area and the other area where the water was contaminated. I have been asking for a solution to the problem, and when Louise Brown came to Council to point out the part of the Parks and Recreation areas were being guarded by security guards. It would seem to me that putting gates up and having Richard Cosentino come to our Council and Miller did before him and say, what the neighbors do is take the gates off and throw them right in the water, it's not a solution; and I can't think of anything that's more important than the security and the well being of our City, and safe, clean, healthy drinking water; and I'm asking that Council vote to ask the Mayor to please put security guards at those months that are appropriate as deemed necessary by the Administration, round-the-clock; and I don't see how any could possibly vote against that. Would see that that gets to the Mayor, Linda?

The Chair:

I neglected to state that Councilman Stone has called and said that he's attending a National Association of Regional Councils.

Mr. Robinson presents

Bill No. 3313 WHEREAS, the Mayor and the Council of the City of Pittsburgh for the past six years have memorialized the Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr. with a Resolution celebrating his date of birth, January, 15; and

WHEREAS, the Mayor and the Council have for the past six years, requested that the Congress of the United States declare January 15 a national holiday in honor of Reverend King; and

WHEREAS, two of our former distinguishing members of this Council, the Honorable Louis Mason, Jr. and the Honorable George Shields, initiated a courageous attempt to rename Centre

Avenue, City of Pittsburgh, in honor of Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr.; and

WHEREAS, Council is presently considering a Resolution offered by Councilman Robinson to rename Fifth Avenue, City of Pittsburgh, in honor of Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., and desires to name an appropriate memorial in his honor.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh does recognize the potential economic impact of the proposed name change for Fifth Avenue, City of Pittsburgh and the resulting psychological and social implications of such a change; as well as, the stated request of many to name a more appropriate memorial such as the East Busway of the Port Authority of Allegheny County.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, the Council respectfully requests that the Board of Directors, Port Authority of Allegheny County, consider naming the East Busway in honor of Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., and that the appropriate plaques and designations be placed along the busway in cooperation with local governments, the business community and civic organizations.

Mr. Robinson moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, if I might, I'd like to have a gold seal copy of this Resolution forwarded to Councilman Mason and Councilman Shields. If Council is aware, 13 years ago they initiated the process to identify some public thoroughfare on behalf of Dr. King, and I think it would be fitting for this Council to let them know that their dream is still alive, and that we appreciate their efforts, and if the City Clerk would do that, I think that both gentlemen would appreciate it.

MR. ROBINSON'S REMARKS ON BILL NO. 2251 FROM THE MEETING OF WEDNESDAY, JUNE 22, 1983.

Mr. Robinson:

If I might, Mr. Chairman, I would like to make a motion on that bill to hold for 30 days.

On this matter of renaming Fifth Avenue, again, I want to thank members of Council for seriously considering this idea of renaming Fifth Avenue in honor of Doctor Martin Luther King, and I want to thank everyone, including the people who live on Fifth Avenue, Frankstown, and all the other streets in the city, for being kind enough to share with us their concerns.

In an attempt to provide an appropriate memorial for Doctor King, it has been suggested that perhaps the new busway would be appropriate. Mr. Richard Adams of Homewood-Brushton who works for Operation Better Block suggested this some time ago. In that spirit, the Port Authority, through Mr. Roddey, has indicated that they would be willing to entertain a suggestion from this Council by way of resolution to indeed name the busway. I want to thank Mr. Roddey for his assistance.

With Council's indulgence I would like you to take a look at the resolution that is before you. If I might, I'll very quickly read it, and I would like to have Council approve this resolution as our official statement on this matter and instruct Mr. Roddey to do what is appropriate with the Port Authority.

"WHEREAS, the Mayor and the Council of the City of Pittsburgh for the past six years have memorialized the Reverend Doctor Martin Luther King with a resolution celebrating his date of birth, January 15th; and

WHEREAS, the Mayor and the Council have for the past six years requested that the Congress of the United States declare January 15th a national holiday in honor of Reverend King; and

WHEREAS, two of our former distinguished members of this Council, the Honorable Louis Mason, Jr., and the Honorable George Shields initiated a courageous attempt to re-name Center Avenue in the City of Pittsburgh in honor of Reverend Doctor Martin Luther King; and

WHEREAS, Council is presently considering a resolution offered by Councilman Robinson to re-name Fifth Avenue in the City of Pittsburgh in honor of Reverend Doctor Martin Luther King, and desires to name an appropriate memorial in honor.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh does recognize the potential economic impact of the proposed name change for Fifth Avenue in the City of Pittsburgh, and the resulting psychological and social implications of such a change, as well as the stated requests of many to name a more appropriate memorial, such as the East Busway of the Port Authority of Allegheny County.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that Council respectfully requests that the Board of Directors of the Port Authority of Allegheny County consider naming the East Busway in honor of Reverend Doctor Martin Luther King, Jr., and the appropriate plaques and designations be placed along the busway in cooperation with local government, the business community, and civic organizations."

END, MR. ROBINSON'S REMARKS ON BILL NO. 2251, 6/22/83.

Mr. Roddey:

END, MR. JAMES RODDEY'S REMARKS ON BILL NO. 2251, 6/22/83.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Mr. Woods for Mr. Stone presented

Bill No. 3306

Report of the Committee on Finance for June 22, 1983 transmitting one ordinance and sundry resolutions to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 2643

An Ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance providing for the notification of plant closings, reductions or relocations."

Which was read.

Mr. Givens:

If I might, Mr. President, since last Wednesday's agenda meeting, I had passed out to all members of Council certain information regarding the plant closing, and specifically there's an article, it was very interesting, to economic strategy for the regional economic recovery an article that was presented in the Post Gazette, and it so dove-tailed right in with what we're trying to do with the plant closing. I have highlighted five of the major points that reflect the legislative intent of that plant closing legislation. You'll read about greater public, private cooperation and compassion; and I think this what this plant closing legislation is all about, and I underline that word compassion for displaced workers, supporters for our existing industrial based better business labor relations and increased opportunity for employee ownership all of which are essential elements of the bill we take on final action here today.

I know those of you who have read Saturday's paper would have seen that Rockwell has laid-off some 100 workers at Rockwell International. They did not give them but one hour of notification saying, you are laid-off, and hit the sidewalks, it started on the 50th floor and went to the 54th floor of that particular corporation; and there's a little hand out, I think it's very significant here today to support our neighborhood action coalition which was given to all the Councilmen, but I would like to mention some words of what it says in regards to not only that lay-off but other lay-offs that have happened in the City just since we started this plant closing legislation in May; and as you see in this audience there are many union people, church members, very many people from the religious community, and I'm very happy to see them here today in support of this. Many of them coming from Mon Valley Coalition; and community groups have to handle the loss of jobs in the Pittsburgh area with grim acceptance.

Do we have to accept this. A working class people to grimly accept all the decisions being made to close the plants by the corporate leaders, because it's none of the peoples business. I submit to you that the people from (SNAC) that are here today, and this Council, believe that the working class can have the authority through this elective body here today to make these decisions and have some type of absolute right to get involved in stopping plants from closing down and putting people out of work, relocating to other communities, and the reduction of the force without one empathy to anybody in the business community and the labor community as well as the religious community or anyone else.

This Council today is being asked to confirm their commitment to represent the needs of the majority of the people, and one only has to look back in this Council today in my 8 years and your possibly 12 years and never have we seen such a crowd as we're seeing today. We're hearing from the hearts of the people of the City of Pittsburgh. A out crying for the protection of the majority of people who are the workers, and not the owners of businesses. The City of Pittsburgh and this Council sitting here today by passing plant closing legislation that will protect workers by giving them notice of impending discharges.

It was very sad when I read Mrs. Shades remarks from over there at Rockwell it was only 14 months of employment for some 100 people, but she said I think they should have given people some indication so they could be prepared. I have no other income of my own, and I'm a little ticked, said the woman who is divorced and has a 13 year old daughter. Now, she is thrustured into that world that we have today, and all of us must keep in mind one thing, there have been two extensions made of the unemployment in this country. Those extensions, ladies and gentlemen are going to run out in mid-summer, it will be a hot summer in Pittsburgh.

Not with that 16 percent unemployment that we know, but 25 percent of the actual working people in our particular quarter. The Mon Valley, the Ohio, and up through Ohio, right there, where the industrial might of this country is. Some people are writing that off. I as long as I sit in this Council, or anything that I can do will never write off the industrial heartland of the United States and the world for that matter.

I'd like Mr. President if I can just have about two more minutes to read a letter from Harvey Adams the President of the Pittsburgh Branch - NAACP.

Dear Sir:

I would like to apologize for not being able to attend the legislation meeting dealing with plant closing legislation. I know that this is a very sensitive area, but feel that you and your colleagues are creative enough to design legislation in a manner that would not discourage current business from staying in the Pittsburgh area or discourage new firms from investing in Pittsburgh.

(May I underline that Harvey Adams has a security business and he has many people involved within that security, and here's a man not only from the NAACP but also a businessman and a police officer retired from the City of Pittsburgh.)

The legislation is not aimed at restricting the decision making process inherent to running a successful business, but an effort on the part of the City to assist and bring resources to a business and an effort to keep them solid. You have my personal support and the support of the Pittsburgh branch of the NAACP in this effort.

Yours in peace with justice,

Harvey Adams

There was great lobbying being done on this particular piece of legislation. Especially coming from that of the corporate community and our Chamber of Commerce, and I've heard words being talked out of two sides of a mouth when I was talking to people from the chamber saying that labor does not support this. Well, you call up any labor, you talk to these people back here and they'll tell you who is supporting labor and who is supporting this particular bill.

We have some heavy weights in this particular crowd and I'd like to mention just one them from the United Steelworkers of America, and that's Harry Guenther, and he is representing Lloyd McBride at this particular entity.

I also passed out Mr. President, and I will not belabor the issue but it's about a ten page legal document that refutes the City Solicitor's report that he gave us a one liner, and I suggest if all you would read this report you will find out that it says in it and the bottom line is the welfare of its citizens, and that's what this is all about and to work in the trade and the commerce and the manufacturing. We regulate business in this City. We want to regulate it to help the business and to help the working class. Thank you, Mr. President.

MR. GIVENS' REMARKS ON BILL NO. 2643 FROM THE MEETING OF WEDNESDAY, JUNE 22, 1983.

Mr. Givens:

As we know, there are many people out in the audience today, some for, some against this particular ordinance before us. It is one that started in my mind, in my research over a year and a half ago. It was in March that the bill was presented to this Council and the Mayor sent his report back to us. I think we all have copies of that. There were some legal opinions which the solicitor has made, there are also rebuttals to the solicitor's report.

If I might, Mr. Chairman, back on March 23rd when I first introduced this particular bill, this ordinance, on March 7th I envisioned a new era in the economic history of Pittsburgh's metropolitan area. More than ever we need the greater cooperation between the business, government, and the labor sector of our economy. In the midst of these hard times we must initiate bold action, and I underline that, which will combat the social hardships suffered by the workers and their families when large Pittsburgh business enterprises close, relocate or reduce their operation. I think that the bottom line is the welfare of our citizens, that is why we are elected here, and what we are doing.

What does this bill really do and what does it mean, and what are we doing with this particular bill? We will create a Bureau of Business Security, it will be under Personnel—it should be under the URA, it should be under that old Economic Development Department that we had in the City of Pittsburgh, that we hitherto moved to the Urban Redevelopment Authority; but we cannot do that, only the Mayor can ask that they move that if this bill would so pass. So, the Bureau of Business Security, after a plant is to say they are going to close within 30 days, must report to the commission that will be set up in this bill. That commission will be made up of 16 people that this Council will approve of.

What do we do with it? When the commission reviews a report of 30 days from the bureau, they give it to the commission and the commission then will advise Council as to what we can do. What can Council do? Council then has the ability to call in all entities of city government; we can go across the street to our elected officials and county, we can go to our elected officials in the state body, general assembly, and of course our elected officials at the federal level, and ask for whatever help we primarily need at this particular time.

There was great concern at Council's public hearing on the business input, and that this is an anti-business bill. I can't see how they can call it an anti-business bill, when in fact we have a panel of 16 people, made up of the total community, sitting down in secrecy, you might say, and going over the problems of a particular plant. These are plants that are going to either relocate or they are closing down for whatever reason, or their work force is being cut back. This directly affects the tax base of the City of Pittsburgh.

There is a lot of theory behind if we pass on this legislation—will any business ever want to come into the City of Pittsburgh. My answer to that, you'd have to go to an economist, you must go to the business community itself and ask them the exact question as to why they locate in a particular area. There was a great person among us, Edgar M. Hoover, who is considered the world's leading expert on location theory of plants and businesses; he broke it down into four major factors involved in the location of a particular plant. One, is local input costs, and that is the most elaborate of the four. The second is the local demand for the product—was there a demand for the product in that particular area. The third and fourth items involved primarily transportation, otherwise, if they have to bring raw goods in that was a cost factor. The second factor is that if they made it here originally and their markets were outside of our City of Pittsburgh, then they had transportation costs involved outside.

The underlining factor would be why does anyone go into business? Either they like or they want to make money in that particular thing. I'd have to underline money, money, money. Getting back to the first point of local input costs, the other three were very defined, very clear, very sharp; when you get into the other factors it goes into a multitude of reasons why a company locates, of which this plant closing notification is part of that.

Very quickly, I will read a few of the reasons why a company locates. Generally, it is the productivity, the availability of the work force, the land—can we give them land, is the zoning proper at that particular place, is the money, material, service, utilities, the business, the climate—what type of climate it is, is it a secure place, do their people have a nice area to go for their arts and sports, is housing available, how is local government—can they get some type of low-cost government incentives. That is what we are saying, that is why we want to bring this task force together, to show them that we do have some government programs down there—training and re-training, the labor management relationship. We have to say that Pittsburgh is noted for its corporations, and it surely is noted for its citadel of the labor movement throughout this country and throughout the world. I think that is very important. Also, the economic stability of a particular area, the tax base used, the business climate, the pollution, truck rate, noise, health, safety, water use, wages and hours, conditions of licensing and etc.; these are part of what I call local input cost. This plant closing would then fall under that category.

You tell me, if I am a businessman and I am going to locate in Pittsburgh, and I have just some of the 20 or 25 variables, and this one plant closing is part of it. There are as many pluses as there are minuses, if you want to put it that way, in the plant closing legislation itself.

We call Pittsburgh the second best livable city in the country, and I think that is inducement for any company to move in the City of Pittsburgh. Plant closing or reduction is really insignificant compared to what I have sighted. As we look out of this building here and we say what kind of business climate do we have in the City of Pittsburgh. If you think of the PPG Building that went up down there, and when you think, Mr. Chairman, and you were a very great part of that particular endeavor when we felt that the local business community was being deprived because this Council here approved an Urban Redevelopment blighted area and certain people had to move and be relocated; the people's rights were protected and the PPG construction delayed several months, costing that company maybe millions of dollars, but we were to be sure that the small business community was going to be taken care of.

When you think of the U.S. Steel Building, their particular building there now under Mellon, when we think of Oxford Development Corporation right out this window, that was sitting here, literally, financially hanging by their fingernails waiting for this Council to pass one particular ordinance that would give a three year moratorium on taxation, that was the only thing that swung the balance almost, in talking to Eddie Lewis, on getting the monies that they needed to build that building. This Council, if we can say anything, has been a very cruel business orientated Council, as well as pro-labor. I think we have been very balanced in that commitment.

Labor is coming in with something, I think it is very important. Many of us, seven of the Council people attended the meeting, and there were people walking through this corridor here the last day, saying that labor wasn't supporting it. Well, I see people out there in the labor community today, and I thank you for being here. But, at that particular meeting which was held by the SNAC organization, the people who testified at that particular meeting, and I'll just mention a few of them; United Steelworker's Local 1397 - Ron Weisen, Teamster's Local 249 - President Charlie Byrnes, Tri-State Conference on Steel, Steelworker's Local 5673, the ex Budget Worker's Local 141—that was the laundry that went out of business up there in the Bloomfield-Garfield area of the City of Pittsburgh, Mon Valley Unemployed people—we know what kind of a problem we are having down there, the PA Alliance for Jobs and Energy, the PA Public Interest Coalition—which the day this bill was brought up last Monday they had up to 1,500 people in Harrisburg speaking on this particular matter, the Nabisco people, Allegheny Labor Council - Paul Stackhouse. I met with Paul and the Coalition just last week, and he assured us he was going to be here today; he cannot be here today because he is in Washington on related labor business, otherwise he would be here. Also, we had Local 643 - the IUE, the National Union of Hospital and Health Care Organizations. Many of us at that time indicated our support for this particular ordinance and what it is going to do.

We say money, money, money is the major determination, at least it is with me. When new businesses locate within, they have to have that feeling of confidence and not a negative outlook. I'd have to look at some of our people here, and one made one remark in the newspaper. I'd like to make a comment on that, if I might. The gentleman was Leo McDunough, who is sitting right here to my right. Leo had a letter to the editor and made a point, and I think it was a very important point, and I think it brings out what this commission will report to this Council, and how this Council can interact on what is happening in our business community. I'll take it out of context at this one particular point. He said, "If only City Council would use its foresight and intelligence to do some research to find the reasons why companies would want to move from one area to another, and then provide positive ideas to solve those problems, Pittsburgh would be a much better place to operate a business."

Mr. Chairman, and Mr. President of Council, I suggest to you that this ordinance is in fact doing exactly that. By the commission reporting back to this Council, by this Council taking positive action, I believe, Mr. McDonnough, not to take your word of thought out of context, that in fact we'll be doing that. If a company does move, and we cannot stop it from moving, if they want to relocate we cannot stop them from relocating, but we graduated the scales of the companies and how quickly they have to respond to this particular group; all we are asking is to give us a day in court, so to speak. Give us a day within this Council that we can look at that particular company or companies and say can we do something for you. If we can save just one company, then we have, I feel, an opportunity then to do something for the people of the City of Pittsburgh.

I'll make just one other statement. I guess you could say there was a very timely article, I don't know if any of you saw the newspapers last night, but if you had you would have read that particular article by Greyhound and Armour Meat Company going out of the City of Pittsburgh. I read the whole story, and you had to read through this story because they were claiming, Greyhound, that the reason they were closing Armour Meat was the fact that they weren't making a profit. When you read very closely in there, you find out that the people who were working at Armour, I am talking about the working person, the labor people themselves, said they had major management problems at that particular plant and other plants. Greyhound went into the meat producing business and they forgot to get the expertise in the management fields.

These people were being paid $10 or $11 per hour. I don't know if any of you ever worked in a cold storage place before with knives in your hands, standing on your feet for eight hours, but I compare that to a laborer of the City of Pittsburgh who is making $8 and $9 an hour and is out in the fresh air, I would submit to you that the people in the meat producing business are not being overpaid for the work that they are doing down there. This brings up a great point, there are problems with the management side of the house when businesses fail. In some cases there are some labor problems right down there. It would help if you can sit down and have reasonable people discuss and work their problems out.

I'd like to say just one last thing. If we look at the Nabisco situation, it works out into almost an equation problem; we had enough time to react on Nabisco. At that particular time Nabisco, which is one of the fifth largest corporations in this country, multinational corporations all over the world, they had some six to seven crews that were working out at Nabisco back in January and February, the middle of winter, when this thing came up. Nabisco now, my fellow Council members, have 13, they went from six or seven to 13 crews; they have called back everybody. The Nabisco Company itself has effectively indicated they are going to put multi-millions of dollars of rehabilitation for other products in that company.

If the people in this room did not get off of their behind ends and move on that particular action, if we did not have the church leaders moving on that action, if we did not have the community organizations moving on that action, if we did not have labor and Nabisco employees moving on that action; Nabisco, ladies and gentlemen, would not be here today. That is what plant closing notification is all about.

I rest right there, Mr. Chairman, other than to answer any technical questions that any of the Council people would have.

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, do you want to put your amendments in now or later?

Mr. Givens:

I had asked Mike (Perry) on this, and what I am going to do, and will submit it to all the Council members, is a substitute bill which I think will make it much more readable.

END, MR. GIVENS' REMARKS ON BILL NO. 2643, 6/22/83.

The Chair:

Members of Council, if there's any more discussion we'll listen to it, but I'd like you to limit your remarks to your discussion rather than when we're voting.

Michelle Madoff:

You want us to make the comments when we're voting, Mr. President?

The Chair:

No, make them now, okay.

Mr. Flaherty:

What?

Michelle Madoff:

I didn't here what he said.

The Chair:

I said, I'd like you to limit your remarks to your discussion rather than when we take the vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

Franklin Roosevelt said almost exactly a half century ago, "When the country was in the throes of the great depression, that what the government needed to do was to lead, and what it needed to do was to experiment, and it needed to show persistent, bold experimentation," but it needed to do something, and what we have in front of us here today, the majority of critics will deem to be a rash experiment. They will argue a lie along the lines of its supposed illegality. They will talk about an international, a world market, and how this measure may smack of protectionism, and how it isn't the American way, but they are not offering solution; and perhaps if they were offering some kind of solution, or just an idea, or just a thought, that we could experiment with, and perhaps expound and build upon. Then, I think we may have room to compromise more, but it seems that throughout this entire struggle since March on the plant notification closing bill all compromise has laid with the proponents of the bill.

This is a weak bill in my mind, but it's a pragmatic bill that I think can pass. All it is simply asking for is for a plant to give prior notification, prior to their closing. As Councilman Givens has said, I think the cornerstone of that action is compassion. It is just affording the workers the opportunity to do some planning with their life, and with their families.

There isn't anything included in this bill as far as the corporation providing funds for retraining, or the corporations providing severance pay. God forbid if that was included, and if it was up to me, I think I would seriously entertain including it, but I think this is going to be a very close vote, and I think regardless of what happens here today, the battle, the struggle will not end. Even if this measure passes the Mayor has promised that he is going to veto it, and I would hope that all members of Council today, know those reasons why he is going to veto it; and I think, and I would hope that each member of Council today that is going to support this bill will also have the courage to support it when the veto comes back.

We have been told that other countries have plant notification, but plant notification is strictly comestic with what else they have. They subsidize their great industries, their basic industries, and that is the reason why they are now the leaders in the world as far as industrial situations. Many economists are saying we are not in a recession. They say we are in the throes of deindustrialization, which is going to throw this nations economy perhaps the worlds economy into a tailspin of 25 to 30 percent unemployment by the 1990's.

I think it's essential that this Council today — we have the opportunity, we should provide the leadership for the rest of the country. I know opponents of this bill are saying that if Council enacts this measure it will appear in the Wall Street Journal and it will be fanned out across this country. Well, I hope it does appear in the Wall Street Journal, because it is hypocritical to say, I support this legislation on a national level, but I don't support it in my back yard, because it is going to be harder to pass this on a national level. We are a democratic stronghold here, and we should be supporting the ideals of what the democrat party stands for, and we should be supporting our region as Councilman Givens has said, this is the heart of the industrial complex of this country, and it was of the entire world at one time.

In closing, I just want to say that government is almost miraculously always late in regulating business. Government does not willingly interfere with business. It only interferes when it is forced to; and government unfortunately I think acts reluctantly and tardily in response to overwhelming pressures. Well, we have overwhelming pressures here today, and we should react in a like fashion. If government regulates the securities, markets, and the stock exchange it is because the investors demanded protection, and if it establishes minimum hours and maximum wages, and requires collective bargaining, and sets up a system of social insurance, it is because labor demands protection, and if it outlaws methods of competition and curbs discrimination in the prices, it is because competitors demand protection.

Today, people are demanding protection between the conflict that exists between capital and the community, and as Councilman Givens says, when Rockwell International just a few days ago can pick up and start with many experts are saying, is the beginning of retrenching of pulling their complex from this City, and they do not show any sympathy or don't put forth any expense for the social costs that they accrue. The social costs that they cost this community when they are moving to accrue more capital. Then it is time for the government to step in as it has done in the past; and that's what it is, Rockwell International is one of the most profitable companies in the world, and they are greedy, and they want more profit, and so they are going to disrupt the lives of hundreds of Pennsylvanian's to make more, and it's about time that the government step in and even if it is the local government at least we are going to make it easier perhaps for it someday easier to occur in Washington or in Harrisburg.

I think that we should certainly stick with the tradition of our area. We should certainly thank and be true to the people here today, and those who for whatever reasons are unemployed, or those who are in organized labor that are not here today, and we should stay true to the principles that made this region great; and the bottom line is, I don't think we should forget our people. Thank you very much.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, Members of Council, people in the audience, you know, you never know what a cut on somebody's finger feels like until it cut on your own hand. When you here of some man dying over seas, you say, isn't that a pity, but when it's your own son or a friend, you feel a lot differently about it.

The message is coming home to me because people very, very close to me have been laid off by major corporations with callous and immoral disregard for the welfare and responsibility of a person, and I want to reiterate a very quick story. One of my very closest friends working for one the major corporations in this country was told that she had the highest record of production of anybody in the company and four days later, they took her to lunch, fired her, and said if, if, you will give us a letter of resignation, we'll be nice enough to give you four weeks salary, and a letter of recommendation. That meant she would get no unemployment. Tell me, is there anybody in this room, and I look at the media particularly, that knows of anybody working today unless perhaps they're elected and they know they're going to be there for two years or four years, that knows they're going to have their job tomorrow? You know what I say is true.

The point that I am making is that I have been talking and everyone of us in this room have been talking to our friends and everybody says, I have my job and I think I'm secure, thank God, and I talked to people who were sure that they are in an executive level of a corporation, Alcoa, and today they're unemployed. Now, some of these people had provisions made in their contract where they have some kind of pension and they have some kind of notification, and there are many companies that are doing that. It's not the good companies that spoil it, it's the one's who have this callous disregard, and their representatives that have even more callous disregard.

I think the thing that offended me more than anything else at these plant notification hearings was when Justin Horan of the Chamber of Commerce stood there with his hands on his hips very arrogantly and said, so what if I'm not from the City. I represent the businesses in the City, but he has done nothing to see about getting rid of regressive taxes, abatments. The tax problems of the City that would create more jobs in the City, and I think what we have to do today is to send a message, or our esteemed colleague, Mr. Stone our Finance Chairman, who is not for this bill, who is not present today, would say we got to telegraph a message, and that message is that industry is going to be responsible to its workers in this area, morally. They have shirked that responsibility. We're going to send them a message and if the Mayor vetoes this bill, I hope enough of us have enough guts to override the veto.

Mr. Flaherty touched on a very important issue. This is a very watered down bill, and what is missing from it is, what do you do with the people that are let go? How do you retrain them? How do you create other jobs? By creating a favorable tax climate to bring in other jobs. That has been completely out of the realm of this bill and ought to at some point be taken up; and I think that I would like to make what I consider a very constructive suggestion; I have talked to a number of the industries who did not like Mr. Horan's behavior, and they said, I would be happy ladies and gentlemen to meet with the leaders of this particular piece legislation, and to sit down and start having ongoing dialogue, because I think that's our only hope of keeping jobs in this community, and seeing that they live up to there responsibility.

This cannot be allowed to continue. We cannot have people being fired within days and hours of their job, and again, I want to repeat, the media, who's been the most vocal in saying that we're irresponsible, and we're going to hurt this community. Ask them? Look at your own souls and your own conscience, and look in the mirror and see if you're going to have your job tomorrow; and how you would feel if you were given two hours notice.

I would just like to as Councilman Flaherty would say in closing, I urge you not to just drop it with today's vote, but to set up and I will serve on that committee, if you want me to, and help bring what I consider some responsible corporate people together, union leaders, and let's start an ongoing dialogue. Not only the notification closing but you start creating some jobs in this community. We've got 65 percent of our youth, you've got a letter Harvey Adams, black youth in the City, 65 percent are unemployment, and the families aren't working. It's going to be a hot summer, and I would urge that we very seriously meet at some point with Councilman Givens and myself, and start some kind of dialogue to take this a step further.

Mr. O'Malley:

Mr. President, I had my aide's pass out copies of the legislation about 100 copies of the legislation and the same legislation that was passed in Philadelphia. I talked to a number of people this morning, and although they support plant closing legislation, they didn't read the legislation that was written and the legislation that was introduced by Councilman Givens. So the people that got a copy of the legislation today from my administrative aide's and a copy of the Philadelphia legislation, if you haven't had the opportunity to read it, after today's vote, I would appreciate it if you would take it home and that you would study it.

Myself, in the meeting that was held in the gold room and I've voiced my support for plant closing legislation. I support the legislation that was passed a year ago in Philadelphia. I support plant closing notification legislation that would give 90 days or up to six months. I don't feel that's too much for a company to give to tell people who spent their entire lives working for that corporation, what they can expect in the future. I support the employees in the communities right to have advanced notification due to the tremendous impact that a plant closing has on a community, and the tremendous impact that a plant closing has on a family, and also, on the City of Pittsburgh.

I feel that the City has a moral obligation to offer financial assistance to URA with sight selection, with low-interest loans, and with mortgages to help plants stay in the City of Pittsburgh that are having financial problems. I also support the right of employees to explore the possibilities of assuming ownership of their plants, and with the help of financial aid from the government; and five I support the idea of creating a task force that would bring all the parties together to discuss the options that were available to avoid plant closing in the City of Pittsburgh, which was done with the Nabisco plant.

This is the point. This particular piece of legislation that I had passed out that was introduced by Councilman Givens goes far beyond, and I mean goes far beyond plant closing notification legislation. The one that I support is the one that was passed in Philadelphia.

What I asked the people in the room to do, is read this legislation. I cannot support what I consider an unworkable bureaucrat which would be created under an entirely new City Department. I see that no evidence that this particular legislation would actually save jobs, but would just give false hope to the many unemployed in the Pittsburgh area, and people in Pittsburgh don't need false hope. What people in Pittsburgh need is jobs.

Ultimately, I feel the legislation that Councilman Givens introduced will cost future generations of Pittsburghers an opportunity for employment because it will put Pittsburgh in an unfair disadvantage to attract new business. I talked to many old established companies in the City of Pittsburgh and to some newly established businesses with high growth potential. When I talked to them they told me that if this legislation is passed they will not expand in the boundaries of the City of Pittsburgh, and these are old and established companies that have been here for over 50 years. Now, I'm going to state this one more time. I am in favor of a plant closing notification legislation, but I cannot in good faith support this bill.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President and Members of Council, I'm on record as supporting 2643 and the concept of plant closing legislation. I think that it would be less than honest if we did not admit that indeed this country is a part of a world economy. Perhaps it's an economy that many of us don't understand, or perhaps an economy that is harsh toward many of the workers. Some of whom today sit in this room and are unemployed. Pittsburgh is an international city. We not only have corporations that represent the Fortune 500 in this country. The corporations that have operations throughout the world in many countries and in many political subdivisions. I think the fact that this City has committed itself to bring in new business, new light, and to regenerate the Western Pennsylvania area, that we have an obligation to not only those new companies and those new workers, but to old companies and old workers.

Many of the people who are looking for some hope from this type of legislation, unfortunately are already unemployed. Speaking for those people of color, who work in the steel industry, I think that it's clear as far as minority community is concerned that some type of legislation of this sort is necessary. Fifty percent of the steel workers that comes across this country are black, and probably the vast majority of them are going to find themselves unemployed within the next five years.

Unemployed without any training program. Unemployed without new employment opportunities. Unemployed without any hope for economic growth. I think that the new technology and the new industry in this area suggests that we must look at new ways to keep Pittsburgh a viable community. We owe a lot to those people who have worked and toiled here. We owe a lot to the businesses that are here. We owe a lot to those who do have hope that the new Pittsburgh will include them. I think that it would be a step in the right direction for Council to not only support this particular Bill 2643, but to seriously begin to ask a question; what role does local government have in the economic growth of the Pittsburgh community?

What we are doing here today is wrestling with a very difficult and complicated problem. It is a problem that probably out matches our resources, but it should not out match our resolve, and that is, our resolve to represent the people of this City. I believe that our first obligation is to the people and benefit of the City, and this type of legislation is one more manifestation that this Council, this City government, will and must be involved in the growth of this area. Thank you.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, I would just want to add that there is one point I don't believe that anyone has hit upon yet, and we are accepting the word of the Chamber of Commerce that this bill is going to be bad for industry or for new corporations that perhaps in the future may locate here. There is hardly any substantiation in scholarly work of labor experts that point out the fact that plant notification ordinances have major impact as far as how corporations or industries will view the business climate of a region.

I refer once again to the letter I believe each member of Council received from Professor James Cunningham, who is an expert on the issue, who's in the graduate school of social work at Pitt and is certainly an expert on the local economy; and he says, that the four main goals that a new or a perspective industry looks for are 1) the local input costs 2) the local demand for a product 3) the outside input cost 4) the outside demand, in fact, he goes on and says, plant notification is insignificant in the whole scheme of location decision-making by ethical companies. There are at least 50 more significant matters, winning football, well-done arts festivals, nearby universities, plenty of fresh water, well run cable television, an efficient airport, able law firms, probably are all much more important.

I want to say in closing, and I reiterate what I said on Wednesday, this Council consistently every year gives UDAG grants worth millions of dollars to industries. It gives tax abatements worth millions of dollars to industries. It gives prime land at a prime deal worth millions of dollars every year to industry. This is the only time that I can ever recall, Council, trying to regulate an industry, and I think it's a regulation that will prove good for industry, and not as all the dome sayer's are saying, bad for industry, because hopefully when this appears in the Wall Street Journal, companies throughout this country will see that the people in the City of Pittsburgh, Southwestern Pennsylvania, and the region care about keeping their people working. Care about having an economic climate which has stability. Care that the government is going to give industries that are having problems the opportunity to sit down with them and to open up the whole store of generosity, perhaps that this government can provide to them. Perhaps in the way of low-interest loans to keep them here.

I think it's a move that is the exact antithesis of what the opponents of the bill are saying. I think it's a plus for industry because they know that they'll have a good, stable, credible market here. They'll have people working and they'll have people that will have money to buy their products.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I don't want to belabor the point but you were gracious enough to let Mr. Flaherty speak twice, so don't remiss when I do. There's one very important point that I left out. Recently, I have been talking to a number of people who are leaders in the brokerage houses and the stock market, friends of mine, people who make decisions within that level, and I ask, is this an omen, a bad omen, with Alcoa, and with Rockwell, and all these massive layoffs. Does this mean that we're really going into a deep depression, and you know what the answer was, no the market is going to go way up and it's going to go through the ceiling, and it's going to go to the $2,000 the $3,000, and we're going to see it in the next couple of years, and I said, "What do you mean," and they said, "The thing that's good for the corporations is that they're streamlining. They're getting rid of all the excess baggage. They're getting rid of the people they don't need, and therefore the stocks are going to rise." Well maybe they shouldn't rise as much, and maybe we should have some compassion, and the same corporation people, who by the grace of God, could also be unemployed.

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

Aye, and I hope that when it is enacted it will be enforced and I think this Council will make sure that it is.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, I vote aye on this bill because I think it's here for the people that have elected us to this position, to represent them. It's the majority of the people, and I vote strongly, aye, and thank many of the people in the audience here who helped put this particular ordinance together, and hopefully they'll help us carry it out.

Michelle Madoff:

The one said thing is that people have very short memories. This is a year that starts a four year term, and by the time four years are up, people are going to say, well they forgot that I voted no, and I hope you won't forget, and I vote aye; and I hope the Mayor understands that his vetoing this bill in advance and announcing that he's going to veto; and we're going to override; and he's just going to let it sit. I hope he understands that he has an election coming up very soon, and we're all going to remember, aren't we?

Mrs. Masloff:

Aye.

Mr. O'Malley:

You know it scares me, this Council has a hard enough time running the business of the City of Pittsburgh without trying to run independent companies and corporations in the City of Pittsburgh. I vote no.

Mr. Robinson:

Aye.

Mr. Woods:

I vote aye.

The Chair:

I want my remarks from the other day placed in the record. I vote no.

MR. DE PASQUALE'S REMARKS ON BILL NO. 2643 FROM THE MEETING OF
WEDNESDAY, JUNE 22, 1983.

Mr. DePasquale:

I, as a labor man, honestly believe that this bill is going to have a two-grain effect on new plant openings. I discussed that with Mr. Givens earlier, and have searched my soul. I would like to go along with it, believe me I would, but I think it would be insane. I just can't support this bill. No way.

END, MR. DE PASQUALE'S REMARKS
ON BILL NO. 2643, 6/22/83.

MR. STONE'S REMARKS ON BILL NO.
2643 FROM THE MEETING OF WEDNESDAY, JUNE 22, 1983.

Mr. Stone:

If the Chair may for a moment, I would like to share my thoughts on this bill, and I want to do it before a vote because it gives an opportunity, as I see it, to see this in somewhat of a proper perspective. As all of you recall, when there was a meeting at the Gold Room some of you spoke up, in fact the majority of this Council spoke up in favor of it. I did not speak up, I indicated that there was a public hearing forthcoming, and if I am inviting people to a public hearing I want to hear from both sides before I am asked to make a decision. In light of that, I listened to a public hearing and listened to both sides on that issue. I would like to say at the outset, so that there not be any misunderstanding, that the intent of this bill is in the right direction, in my personal opinion. As far as the legislation, however, we must look at its pluses and its minuses in order for it to have that good that is intended.

I don't think that anyone can pass the point that if it is solely in the City of Pittsburgh there is no good reason why a plant who is coming to this region would not stay on the outskirts of the City of Pittsburgh. In that connection, this type of legislation is probably better if it is done on the state level; then all of us within the confines and jurisdiction of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are similarly situated to which no neighbor gets an advantage, that is unless you are on the border of the State of Pennsylvania, in which instance you do have a competitive loss, and I put that in quotes, with your neighbor.

Relative to the organizational thing here, it is my personal belief it is a little too much involved and put down in specifics, and before too long it could really bog down in operation.

Relative to the kind of committee idea, I think that there is in place already an ability to do something for it. We have the Labor Management Council, which has been meeting, perhaps not with as much substance as we might want, but yet there is an occasion for it, and that is now, that if we add to that merely government's involvement in a loose kind of arrangement, that way it gives us the elasticity and the flexibility with which to face any kind of issue and call into meaning all of the possibilities of assistance that exist.

I am mindful that in most large labor contracts what is intended in this bill is already included within the labor contract; some of it requires 90 day notices. The one that bothers me the most, and Mr. Givens indicated that Europe is doing it and we ought to do it, and there is only one difference—the United States Constitution. The United States Constitution says how we'll function in this country, that Constitution is for us, not Germany, France or anywhere else. In that light, with what is well meaning within this bill, I can foresee a constitutional issue. With the tightness, the more you write the worse it gets, by virtue of being too specific, and you have the ability to defeat your good intent by writing too much. I personally think that one or two pages would be sufficient for ideas, as I indicated, to have that flexibility.

The other one is that when two parties are going to negotiate, and those of us who do that kind of negotiating everyday know that the worst thing that can happen is when your opponent doesn't want to negotiate at all. In effect, what you need as a condition precedent to any kind of climate of negotiation, or rehabilitation, or rebuilding, or reinstituting, or continuation is that there is some well meaning from the parties. We have gotten so much mail already, anti, and while I am not impressed with the volume, I am, however, impressed with the contention that we would be creating a kind of unfavorable light in the event that it is done solely within the confines here and not elsewhere.

The thing that I am kind of hoping that will come out of this, and maybe what I am trying to suggest as a condition precedent to this bill, that we try some kind of change in it; and that is instead of having a mandatory kind of operation, that we have in the initial stages of it, and try to get the parties and all those who wrote to us, and the Chamber of Commerce, and government, and labor in together with the Labor Management Council, to have them make a strong commitment to a fact that we are going to try to get everyone to go through the process, even if it is voluntary, as opposed to you must. I think the must proposition is going to make it unconstitutional. That is a problem for me.

Relative to this bill, and as far as I personally am concerned, I am kind of torn with where I will go with this thing because I think something is necessary to protect the labor workers today. It is not fair, after most of them have gone, as it is right now, some 20 to 30 years they did everything by the book, they worked hard so they could get money for a house, they worked hard so they could buy an automobile, they worked hard so they could put their kids in school, they've been law and order people all these years, they've worked, they've contributed, they've paid, they've done everything right; and it seems to me that summarily they should not be wiped out, as has been happening now. It needs something, I am left with that, but as I visualize this thing in the present form of the bill even with the amendments, I foresee a problem.

I would like to suggest at this point, because it is not my intent to try to defeat it but rather to help it, that we ought to go back to committee with it and try to come out with something. There is a saying—better something than nothing. In that light, that is where I am right now. I offer that before we get into a vote, which may get us into an inability to help. In its present form I would have a problem with it. I am just suggesting this.

I made a comment earlier, and I did that before the vote for fear that maybe it may not have sufficient votes and that we may be able, as I indicated, to get something rather than nothing. I'll not add much more to that, other than to say that a noted Supreme Court justice once said that in the very near future I predict that the minority opinion will be the majority opinion. It is with a great deal of reluctance, my vote really now does not make any difference, but I think it needs to be said that we would have been better with something rather than nothing, I abstain.

Which was read.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, on Council Bill 3240, we did unanimously pass that bill with the understanding that I will be meeting with the appropriate representatives of the Administration to work out some of the details on the various projects. I did have an opportunity to meet with them on Friday and also had occasion to talk with some representatives of the Council. Each member of Council should have before them some proposed amendments that were worked out to Council Bill 3240 and I would appreciate Council's consideration of these. If I might just take a second --

Michelle Madoff:

Are you going to hold the bill?

Mr. Robinson:

No, I'm going to ask that we go down that list and if there's any questions that the members of Council have, I would be very happy to explain that to them.

While you're doing that, I'd just like to make mention of two factors. One, we must have our application submitted by July 1. That means that if we do not take action today, we will not be eligible for the $7.1 million. So, it is imperative for us to take action on this bill today.

Let me just mention to you some of the changes that were worked out from the bill that was passed on Wednesday. Items 14, 16, and 17, as you can see, no specific appropriation is being requested for those three items. Items 16 and 17 are included in Item No. 1 where $600,000 will be made available for minority and women employers under the Direct Employment and Training Program. Basically what will occur here is that for the women's and minority businesses the employer's will only have to pay 25 cents on the dollar and 75 cents will be paid by the City of Pittsburgh.

On Item No. 14, the $200,000 that was originally planned for the temporary shelter has been removed because in discussions with Mary Hall and others who represented a coalition of groups working on a temporary shelter, it was discovered that the program is not ready to move forward and probably would not be ready in time for us to spend the money in the appropriate fashion. Each member of Council does have in front of them a copy of the proposal relative to the issue of the temporary shelter and it was felt by those of us who attended the meeting that there should be some sort of commitment to a temporary shelter in the City and that when we receive our next Community Development Block Grant Funds that we might want to very specifically designate an amount of money for the temporary shelter. But the removal of that $200,000 does not represent a lack of support, only the fact that the temporary shelter concept is far from being finalized and it would not be appropriate at this time to take $200,000 out of the temporary jobs money. But I believe that we could find some money in our Community Development Block Grant allocation for next year.

That covers the three items that were removed.

For the items that have an adjustment in them, let me indicate that you should look at Item No. 13 which is the Wall Improvement Program. On Wednesday, we approved $1 million for this program. In discussions with the Planning Department, there were a number of walls that were identified as needing some substantial work. So, we took money that had been in some of the other projects, we took portions of money, to come up with $1,635,000 for that effort to make sure that we would be able to do the walls in the City. There are probably some other walls that have to be done. We will be able, hopefully, to address that concern with money that can be reprogrammed in the event that all the projects listed here are not completed.

Michelle Madoff:

May I ask a question, Bill? I'm rather confused. As I go down this list, renovations of fire stations, playground rehabilitation, wall improvement program, I would assume come out of our capital dollars, bond money.

Mr. Robinson:

If you would let me finish my explanation, I'll try to address what I believe is your concern about infrastructure. I believe that's what your concern is. But I'd just like to go down and try to explain to you the rationale for the projects that are here.

No. 7, Commercial Industrial Loan Program/Pittsburgh Neighborhood Alliance. Originally we had approved $1 million which was double the amount that the Administration had agreed on which was $500,000. In trying to find monies for the Walls Program, we reduced the Commercial Loan Program back to $750,000. Part of the discussions that were had with neighborhood groups that wanted $1 million centered on taking approximately 20 percent of this money and using it very specifically for minority business development. That idea has been dropped, so the $750,000 is probably a workable amount for the Commercial and Industrial Loan Program to go into the original eight community development areas.

I don't believe that you will see any other changes on the document that have not been addressed other than Item 5 which was reduced by $100,000 and that $100,000 was included in the $1.6 million for the Wall Improvement Program.

Michelle Madoff:

Bill, I don't think you understood what I was saying. I'll try again. Okay?

We would be renovating fire stations whether we had this windfall bill or not. The jobs will not go to the unemployed, they'll go to people who are not presently working, doing that kind of work, in any event. So will the playground rehabilitation. The neighborhood development money will come from CDBG money. I would hope that more of the money would go into projects that would create jobs for those who really and truly are not in on-going jobs. That's one.

Two is that I'm very concerned that No. 13, the Butler Street Waterline, was removed from the original. The thing that disturbs me greatly, Mr. Robinson, is that you know you had great difficulty getting information from Department Heads and I'm having great problems, Mr. Stone finally agreed with me that if I don't get the information shortly, I'll not vote anything out of my Committee on Water. When I said to Mr. Cosentino that I want to bring up the four years that we're behind on service lines and repairs and brakes and so on, he was to give me a number. He immediately, of course, panicked, went to the Administration, and they got a legal opinion that said that from the curb to the main, maybe we're not responsible for pressure. A bunch of B.S.

The important thing is that if we take the money out, and I think it should be taken out, the Butler Street Waterline, the implication I'm hearing is they won't do that line. Do you hear what I'm saying?

Mr. Robinson:

I can't speak for the Administration

Michelle Madoff:

Did you understand what I'm saying?

Mr. Robinson:

I understand.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm having great concerns that this windfall, supposedly windfall money, was supposed to be there to generate jobs. Those jobs would be there, putting the Butler Street Waterline in, for the pros. The people that we do contracts with anyway. It isn't going to create one job in the private sector for the unemployed people. I don't think we're going to create any jobs with the fire station. I think you're going to use the people who are experienced in doing fire stations who are already working. I have some real concerns about this whole project.

Mr. Robinson:

Let me answer that question in two ways. One, let me say that from the time the Administration submitted this bill until today, there certainly has been ample opportunity for anyone who wanted to have any input into it to have that input.

Also, repeated requests from members of Council to the Administration to make some alterations in their original proposal didn't seem to be carrying much weight until such time that myself and Councilman O'Malley submitted a substitute bill. The Administration has not seen fit to make very many adjustments. Just about all of the adjustments that you see here represent the effort of myself and Councilman O'Malley to bring that about. I personally have no problems with removing the infrastructure program. That's one of the reasons I originally removed the Butler Street Waterline.

Michelle Madoff:

Bill, may I make a suggestion? One of the major problems we have in the City that would create some jobs is demolition. Do you know how the demolition people take down houses? They go out on the street and they find people in Homewood or in the Hill and they say, "Do you want to make some money today?" And that's how they do the demolition. Under supervision and they get them insured. That would create some jobs. And we have a tremendous demolition problem in the City of houses that should be taken down.

I would like to see the renovation of fire stations, for example, that $150,000, put into demolition. I'd like to see playground rehabilitation put into demolition. Rodent control, you know, we were told they're doing a fine job and they don't need the money. Everything's just super-duper. But we're told that we don't have people to clean out some of the hills and do weeding. We're not even setting a good example for the City to take the rodent control and put it into taking care of our own properties in the City, our own lots.

So, Item 3 would be lot cleanup. Renovation to fires, that's 8 and 9, would become demolition.

Mr. O'Malley:

Mr. President, I want to make a motion to approve the bill as it is. We've been working on this bill for three weeks and as Councilman Robinson says, anybody on this Council has ample time to have input on this bill for the past three weeks. We have a deadline to get this bill passed by this Council —

Michelle Madoff:

I'm not asking for a very major alteration. Frankly, I wouldn't have known about this if I hadn't heard that Butler Street may not get done.

Mr. O'Malley:

Well, I object to 8 because I've been trying to get some of our fire stations and some of our police stations rehabilitated for as long as I've been on this Council —

Michelle Madoff:

You're absolutely right. But I've been trying to get our waterlines fixed. And we're not getting that done and we're four years behind. And I think you're absolutely right. At budget time, we ought to say —

Mr. O'Malley:

What do you want to do with this money then?

Michelle Madoff:

I want to use that money for demolition of property that is endangering lives, where kids are hanging out smoking pot and the buildings are in danger of falling over. You get mail and I get mail on it all the time. Those are my only two changes. They are that 3 would go to lot cleanup and 8 and 9 would go to demolition of properties that are hazards in the City. There's no money in that department. Imhoff says that all the time.

The Chair:

Mr. O'Malley, were you making an amendment?

Michelle Madoff:

He's willing to accept my amendment.

The Chair:

Wait a minute. There's five people talking at one time.

Mr. O'Malley:

No, I wasn't making an amendment, I was making a motion. But I will take back my motion. I was going to make a motion to approve as it is but I think my colleague should have ample time for discussion.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm just saying I want to leave the bill as it is with just three changes. Item 3 which is rodent control would go to lot cleanup. There's been big stories about the fact that we're going out and citing everybody else and not cleaning up our own property and being told by Mr. Natoli and other people, "We just don't have the people to do it." We don't need skilled labor to create jobs. That's number one.

The Chair:

Mr. Robinson, you don't want to amend the bill?

Mr. Robinson:

I don't have any problems with —

Michelle Madoff:

Okay. Bill, on 8 and 9 which is renovation of fire stations and playground rehabilitation I'll back you at budget hearings and let's put that into demolition of properties where it now has no money.

Mr. O'Malley:

What are you saying here?

Michelle Madoff:

No. 3, that $300,000 will go to lot cleanup. That No. 8 and 9 which is $150,000 and the $280,000 would go to demolition. That's the only change.

The Chair:

I need a motion. Do you want to enter those amendments or don't you?

Michelle Madoff:

I move to amend those three bills, that the $300,000 for rodent control goes to lot clean up and 8 and 9 would become Capital Budget and now the money would go $150,000, $280,000 to demolition of the dangerous properties and in all of that you don't need skilled labor and we're putting people to work and we're not having people work, you know, the fire station roof fixer who's been doing that all along, getting the job, but we're creating jobs for other people.

Mr. O'Malley:

Michelle, would you repeat that slower please? What are you going to do with 3?

Michelle Madoff:

Three becomes lot clean up.

Mr. Givens:

I have a question on that, Michelle. Whenever it was brought up during the budget session on rodent control we have an increase.

The Chair:

Wait a minute, Mr. Givens. It's getting a little silly.

Is there a second on the amendment? There being no second, the amendment fails.

Mr. Givens:

I want to discuss this.

The Chair:

There's no second. You have to have a second before you can discuss it, Mr. Givens.

Mr. Flaherty:

I second the motion.

The Chair:

Now discussion.

Mr. Givens:

Thank you, Mr. President.

Michelle, rodent control is a very serious thing. Once it gets out of hand —

Michelle Madoff:

I agree with you, Dick. But they say they have enough money and they don't have a problem. But we have a big problem with the litter and that was litter with lot cleanup which creates rodents.

Mr. Givens:

Well, you see, we still have some Unspecified Local Option money here that we can —

Michelle Madoff:

No, we need that money. Walker says he has enough. Walker came to this Council and said he had enough money. I asked about rodent control before.

Mr. O'Malley:

On playground rehabilitation, we've had people from all over this City come into this Council saying that the playground is in deplorable condition. I think spending some money to maintain these playgrounds --

Michelle Madoff:

Honey, that's where we have our biggest surplus every year. That's where Louise Brown has her surplus. Let her spend the money. What's your problem? The money is there.

Mr. Woods:

I'm against the amendments, the ones on this sheet, because I agree with Councilman O'Malley that we've had numerous public hearings the last few months on these playgrounds. They're falling apart. They need rehabilitated.

On these fire houses, that does create jobs. No matter if the same contractor gets it time and time again, it's still keeping somebody working and not on the unemployment list. So, that is creating work.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, Mr. Woods. May I respond? Those monies are available anyway. This is a windfall to create jobs for the unemployed. Those projects are going to be done in any event. The fire stations are going to be done out of the capital money, bond money.

I made a motion to amend three lot clean up, renovation of fire stations and playgrounds, where the money is already in Parks and Recreation. It's going to create a surplus this year. The money is there anyway.

The Chair:

Roll call vote on the amendment.

Mr. Givens:

Reluctantly I have to vote no because rodent control has always been a serious problem in the City and we're not addressing the issue. We barely have enough money in there. This money is specified under this jobs program and it must be spent, in fact, for what it is intended for. That should create additional jobs. That comes under my department and I will look into it to make sure that they spend the appropriate monies that we have given them, plus this rodent control which will give us up to nine months before the Administration --

The Chair:

Please, Mr. Givens. Yes or no. You had your chance under remarks.

Mr. Givens:

I have to explain my vote, please.

The Administration came up with six months worth of money for rodent control. We expanded that to nine months. This will give us now one year. You know, the rats don't go away. They stay there and you have to keep on fighting them.

As far as the renovation of the fire stations, I think any of us have to go into some of our fire houses in the City of Pittsburgh and know that they need this extra renovation and, of course, that's more or less in-house but that can be contracted out, hopefully it will, and create jobs.

The playground rehabilitation, you know, Riverview Park over there, they have been asking for money to alleviate problems in the Riverview Park area. We did not have money in the budget. I would hope that this playground rehabilitation money would be used to help that Riverview Park situation out. Also, the Bloomfield situation is another one where there is no money in the budget. I think we should help those two particular areas out.

Michelle Madoff:

Point of clarification. The money is already in Parks and Recreation to do the job. We always end up with a surplus. They just don't want to spend the money. That's the sad part. By changing this around, what we do is force that money out at budget time and we at least create some immediate jobs for people in demolition and in lot clean-up. I vote yes.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the amendment?

And on the question, "Shall the amendment pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty
Michelle Madoff

AYES 2 NOES 6

VOTING NO:

Mr. Givens	Mr. Robinson
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. Woods
Mr. O'Malley	Mr. DePasquale (Pres't)

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the amendment was defeated.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion?

Mr. Woods:

I make the motion that we accept, that we approve, these amendments as presented by Councilman Robinson.

Mr. Givens seconded the motion.

Mr. Givens:

Bill, the only one I have a little bit of problem with — All of your amendments, I think all of them are noteworthy with the exception of the commercial industrial loan program. We just cut that by $250,000. And I noticed you did increase the direct employment and training. The Mayor's original on that was $1.4 million. Of course, Bill, your first amendment came in at $1,025,000 and remained that and now you've up it to $1,625,000 and I noticed the remark here for minority and women employers to be guaranteed $600,000. I don't have any problem with that but I'm wondering, where can we get $250,000 to increase the commercial industrial loan program, which in fact stimulates the industry, the people out there in our communities that have business people ready to go and indicate that they can spend that $1 million with no problem at all. How can we justify cutting that back $250,000?

Mr. Robinson:

Let me explain it this way, Dick. The bill that was originally submitted by the Administration, 3165, provided $500,000 for the commercial industrial loan program. In some discussion with some community representatives and PNA and some members of Council, it was thought that by taking that figure up to $1 million we could generate additional employment opportunities. I certainly agree with that. When the conference was held with the Administration to work out some of the fine details of the bill, we were looking for monies to spread among a variety of projects and it was decided that we could take $250,000 out of the commercial industrial loan program. We still would have $250,000 more than the Administration had originally proposed and that if there were monies, for example, that you needed for that, say you needed money for that, you could take it out of the Unspecified Local Option, which is $625,000.

Mr. Givens:

Then I would ask that at least we earmark almost $250,000 for that and I'm sure they'll be able to come in and show us good, solid, hard proof that they'll be able to spend that $750,000 very quickly. I know a lot of these communities are really wanting to move out and they're putting an extremely good effort into it.

Mr. Robinson:

Dick, let me make a suggestion to that regard because I think your point is very well taken. Let me just mention that under the Unspecified Local Option, we of the Council have a lot more leeway for spending this money in terms of time. This is one of the reasons that I fought so hard for Unspecified Local Options.

Dick, I think your point is well taken but there's one thing I'd like to caution us on. Rather than commit $1 million at this time, I would suggest that we leave the $750,000 where it is and that we earmark $250,000 out of Unspecified Local Options for that commercial industrial loan program and we'd phase it in as they needed it as opposed to putting $1 million there and maybe they can't spend it. But the Unspecified Local Option fund is there to cover those kinds of contingencies.

Mr. O'Malley:

I agree with my colleague, Councilman Givens, on that. I'm not so sure that Council's Unspecified Local Options are going to be available at the time that the commercial industrial loan program needs additional funds. That's what worries me. The commercial industrial loan program creates one job for every $5,000 expended. The direct employment training program creates one job for every $14,000 expended. So, my concerns lay with the commercial industrial loan program and if it's possible, I'd just as soon amend the bill now.

Mr. Robinson:

That's fine. I'd like to make an amendment to 3240 under the program proposed. I'd like to amend Item 2, City Council, Unspecified Local Options, to read —

Mr. O'Malley:

I don't want to amend it from Council Unspecified Local Options because what we're doing is taking the money from ourselves. I would rather take the money from the Administration. The problem we've had on this Council is that the Administration has always taken our Unspecified Local Option. I'd rather take it from the direct employment and training.

Mr. Robinson:

Okay. Then I make a motion to amend No. 1, Direct Employment and Training, to reduce the amount from $1,625,000 by $250,000 and to add that amount to No. 7, Commercial Industrial Loan Program.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, I wish to offer an amendment. Incidentally, when we commenced on debating the emergency jobs bill program, this was the first time that I saw the most recently amendment proposal.

What I would want to do, in view of the fact that Council today are on the road to enacting a plant closing notification bill, I think that it would tie perfectly into an emergency jobs bill program. We are aware that the bill is providing for a bureau which is going to assist plants or industries that are experiencing problems and I think that an emergency jobs bill program would be, if I may say, quite perfect, that the funds would be administered from it.

Therefore, I'm moving that we eliminate 8 and 9, that's the renovation of the fire stations which are $150,000. They're capital improvements and they shouldn't be in an emergency jobs program. I move to delete the $150,000 for the renovation of the fire stations and the $280,000 for the playground rehabilitation.

Mr. O'Malley:

For what purpose, Mr. Flaherty?

Mr. Flaherty:

To earmark that $430,000 for the bureau that is included in the bill that was passed here today for plant closing notification. Essentially, it would establish a fund of $430,000 to facilitate community worker responses to plant closings. This fund would also provide the planning and the seed money for those efforts and provide the basis for the worker community groups to obtain more substantial funding from the various governmental programs as well as from the private market.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Mr. Woods:

Point of order, if I may. Michelle had made a motion to vote it down. Now, is it proper to have somebody make an amendment and vote on it again?

Mr. Flaherty:

It's a different amendment.

Mr. Woods:

Let me get finished, please. I listened to you.

Parliamentarian?

Parliamentarian:

No, it's not the same amendment.

Mr. Woods:

Let me explain. It's true, he had 7 and 8. Michelle's had rodent control in there. The third one. But we voted it down. Now, Mr. Flaherty is coming in saying he wants to remove these too. It's virtually the same other than the one.

Michelle Madoff:

For a different purpose.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President and Councilman

Flaherty, I don't have any real problem with the intent of what you'd like to do, Tom. I just think that it might be more appropriate if you looked at Code Account 42. The reason I say that is that Code Account 42 is the account that was established to receive all the unspent salary money during the year. The Administration is in the process of transferring that money into Code Account 42 which is controlled by Council. There probably would be more than enough money in that code account to address your concern and I think that way we would not have to disturb the items in Council Bill 3240 and you still could have your concern addressed about putting together some sort of administrative mechanism for the plant closing legislation.

Mr. Flaherty:

Well, it was my understand that last year, what was transferred into that code account was awash, that there was not substantial funds transferred and I would caution Council to be wary of what the Administration's public stand is in regard to plant closing notification and I don't think that it would be illegal for them just to refuse to provide the funding for the bureau.

So, I think this is an opportune time here. It's as plain as daylight. This is an emergency jobs bill program. We're talking about implementing that bond for the plant notification bureau that we have just passed. There couldn't be anything more compatible. I think it would certainly give Council the impetus and we would be on the road to giving real teeth and real credence to what we have enacted.

I also have a problem with including renovations for fire stations and playground rehabilitation. I don't think that's going to create any jobs. I think —

Michelle Madoff:

An $18 million surplus last year.

Mr. Flaherty:

Yes. It isn't going to create any jobs and that was the purpose of the Feds giving the City an infusion of $7.1 million. It's a one shot deal. It was given to us with the belief that we would be creative and we would put it to use in keeping people employed. I couldn't think of a more needy way to do it than to implement and utilize the funds for our plant closings.

Mr. O'Malley:

I agree with my colleague's theory. The only problems I have with it is that plant closing legislation passed Council and I'll abide by the majority of the members of this Council. I have no problems funding it at the appropriate time but where I have the problems is that we're on a deadline here. This has to be submitted to the Federal Government and I'm not so sure that we could put in funding for a bureau that in essence is not in creation yet. The steps that have to be taken are that it has to go to the Mayor and he has ten days to approve it or to veto it. Then it has to come back to this Council for a vote. It's my understanding that this piece of legislation has to be in by July 1 and I'm not so sure that we should put the whole program in jeopardy.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, in all due respect to all my colleagues because I jumped into this thing late, now the bill, and there are a few people who really worked hard on it and came up with these recommendations, and now we're all throwing in amendments, all nine of us. If we're going to do that, let's just start redoing this bill and everybody sitting here take this paper and put it over here and start writing down our pet projects, I want a million for this and I want $600,000 for that, let's just redo the whole thing right now because we could do it in probably fifteen or twenty minutes here that these people worked weeks and weeks on. This is what they came in with and we all agreed but we didn't have time and I include myself into this thing. I came up with this amendment and that amendment. We should have spent the time like they did.

The Chair:

We'll just keep going and blow the whole program.

Mr. Woods:

That's exactly what's going to happen here because if that amendment passes then I want an amendment and I'm sure —

Mr. O'Malley:

Make a motion to approve.

Mr. Woods:

I made a motion to approve.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Mr. Flaherty:

I have an amendment on —

Mr. O'Malley:

There's a motion to approve the bill as it is.

The Chair:

Wait a minute. There's an amendment on the floor and there's a second. Roll call vote on Mr. Flaherty's amendment.

Mr. Flaherty:

I vote aye because I believe that the amendment tends to dovetail perfectly into an emergency jobs program and I think it's unconscionable when we have 16 percent unemployment that we are taking money, tax dollars that were earmarked for the unemployed, and putting it into the renovation of fire stations and playground rehabilitation which are not going to create one job and which are being utilized now, in my opinion strictly for political reasons, to bloat the surplus for certain politicians at the end of the year.

Mr. Givens:

I vote aye on it and I reverse my trend when I said fire stations are in need of repair and also playground rehabilitation. I think there's a great need there also. But Tom and I have looked into where the money is going to come from. The bureau is not going to cost but about, I would assume, $100,000 for one whole year as I explained last Wednesday. But to have a reserve fund to help out businesses that need employment and other things, I think this would be a very appropriate place because, as it's indicated, this is capital improvements within these two particular areas.

For that reason and that reason only, in the seriousness of what's happening to our unemployed, I would vote yes on that amendment.

Michelle Madoff:

These two items do not belong in this budget. They are creating a further surplus. We had $18 million last year and we're going to have at least that this year. This ought to go for the bill that Councilman Flaherty has introduced. I vote aye.

Mr. Robinson:

I'm going to vote no because I think that Item 2 addresses Mr. Flaherty's concern. It is under Unspecified Local Options, Councilman. We certainly could identify some money for the purpose that you mentioned and I think —

Mr. Givens:

I hope some will be left there, Bill.

Mr. Robinson:

Well, I think being very serious, if Council is really concerned about 3240 and 3165 and 3166, we have to recognize that certainly when those bills were introduced and when we had discussions that all the issues that are being raised today were there and if it were not for that fact and the fact that we must take action today, then I think that we'd have the luxury of trying to make some movement here. These bills have been widely discussed. They've been the subject of all types of analysis and certainly the Administration has been steadfast in pushing for the infrastructure program. I, for one, don't necessarily agree with all these infrastructure programs that they have in here. If I had my brothers they would all be out. But Councilman Robinson is only one person.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm voting with you.

Mr. Robinson:

Well, this is the twelfth hour and all I'm saying is if you want to do what Councilman Woods wants to do, I have no problem in doing that but I think that we should look at what provisions are made to address some of the concerns and I would hope that Item No. 2 would be utilized to address a portion of Councilman Flaherty's concerns.

So, I'm going to have to vote no to take 8 and 9 out and to specifically use them for the Bureau of Employee Security or whatever the specific bureau will be named under that plant closing legislation.

Mr. Woods:

I vote no and if 8 and 9, renovating a fire house and rehabilitating playgrounds, doesn't create jobs, I don't know what does. People go to work doing that.

Michelle Madoff:

The money is there already, Mr. Woods, to do that. We don't need to take this money —

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

Mr. Givens

The Chair:

On the bill itself?

Mr. O'Malley moved to approve the resolution.

Mr. Givens seconded the motion.

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

I am reluctantly going to support it because I think there are some worthy programs in here but I am unalterably opposed for what is close or in excess of anywhere from $1-1/2 million to $2 million which is being utilized for infrastructure projects which should be coming from CDEG accounts or from a bond issue. I think it's unconscionable to be putting them into an emergency jobs program and I don't think that was the intent of the Feds when they gave us this one shot appropriation of $7.1 million.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'd just like to make one comment. Some of us have been working on this legislation for two or three weeks and as Mr. Robinson said, it's the twelfth hour. We certainly would have welcomed all this input two weeks ago.

Mr. Flaherty:

I worked on it as much as you worked on it.

Mr. O'Malley:

I doubt that very much.

Michelle Madoff:

Let's not fight. It's a difference of opinion.

Mr. O'Malley:

I think it's an excellent bill. I think it addresses the needs of the City of Pittsburgh and I vote aye.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, very quickly, I would like to ask that the memo sent to City Council from Psychological Service of Pittsburgh relative to our police examination be included in the record. I think it does state that Psychological Service is aware of our concern relative to the psychological test that they give to police recruits and does reflect their concern that they continue to give us high performance and high quality and that they will be cognizant in the future of problems and difficulties that arise from the administration of that test.

Also the record should reflect that they have indicated that they will reevaluate their staff and see if they can use the services of additional psychologists to improve their service.

RE: City of Pittsburgh Police
Assessment Procedures

In response to City Council's concerns about the rising rejection rates of police candidates, Psychological Service of Pittsburgh would like to assure Council members that the increased rejection of candidates reflects an increased precision in the assessment process that would be expected in any successful, long-term selection system.

Ever since the current police selection program started in 1976, our assessment techniques for police officer candidates have not been static. Each time a new class of police officers has been selected, our professional staff has re-evaluated the procedures and improved their accuracy.

In 1980, we conducted a formal validation study of the Pittsburgh police assessment procedures. This study indicated in precise, objective and scientific terms, exactly which temperament, personality, and motivational traits are descriptive of successful Pittsburgh police officers, and conversely, which traits are related to poor performance, or failure, on the same job. The study was done in accordance with specific EEO guidelines on test validation and it turned out to be a very successful undertaking.

Having reviewed the police selection procedures in use in major cities throughout the United States and compared our validation results with all the others, it is our own professional opinion that the City of Pittsburgh probably has one of, if not the most thorough, accurate, valid, and defensible police selection programs in use in the United States at the present time.

Aside from increased precision, however, there appears to be another factor involved in the current police officer candidate group. The current police candidates took the police written examination (which was validated in 1980) in 1981. Two years later, 1983, they are continuing the process with the psychological and medical examinations. While we can't be certain, we would guess that during the intervening two years, the City may have lost a large number of highly qualified candidates. Assuming a superior candidate would more easily find other satisfactory employment, we feel that there are disproportionately fewer superior candidates in the present group. Consequently, the rejection rate of this year's group would be higher than in earlier years.

Following our assessments of the present candidate group, Psychological Service of Pittsburgh will again plan to re-evaluate our techniques on the performance of the selected group. Our goal is to provide the finest, most accurate, and most defensible police selection program available in order to insure the selection of high quality, well-motivated, and emotionally stable police candidates, while working toward the goal of further integrating the Pittsburgh police force with qualified black and female police officers.

RE: Requested Information
Regarding Council Bill 3095 - Psychological Services of Pittsburgh

The following information is being provided concerning the above referenced Council Bill as requested:

1. Names of professional Psychologists at Psychological Services
 - a) Dr. William Sullivan
 - b) Dr. Mary Cole
 - c) Dr. Stephen Guinn
 - d) Dr. James Horgan
 - e) Dr. Richard Miller
 - f) Dr. J.R. Porter
 - g) Dr. Lori Russell
2. Development of the system for the Police Psychological Evaluation Process
 - a) Psychological Services assisted in the development of the screening process for City of Pittsburgh Police Officers.

- b) The system developed meets all standards of the federal guidelines and the system has been validated as a valid job-related system.
- c) A profile was developed which shows what a successful Police Officer would be like. The results of the tests administered are compared with the standard profile to assess the potential officers.
- d) As indicated in (c) above, two written psychological examinations are administered.
- e) In addition to the written examinations, background investigations are performed (e.g. military background, educational background, etc.) to get a complete picture of the Police Officer candidate.
- f) After the results of the written tests and the background investigation are completed, a personal interview between the candidate and one of the seven professional Psychologists is arranged. This interview serves as a verifying interview to insure that the information gathered is accurate and gives the candidate an opportunity to clarify any information.
- g) The total information gathered allows the Psychologist to develop an individual profile which then can be compared with the previously identified standard profile of a successful Police Officer.

- h) The profile and the results of the interview are then discussed by all Psychologists with the recommendation being a group decision.

3. Bid vs. Contract for Services: The Psychological Services contract is a professional services contract and, therefore, is not competitively bid.

4. Other Groups Who Could Perform the Same Services: We are not aware of any groups that have developed or utilized a job-related valid psychological/background evaluation system that would meet the requirements of the Uniform Selection Guidelines.

(END OF MEMO)

Mr. Robinson:

That's one item. A second item relates to the Convention Center hotel project. As Council is aware, we have a bill that's pending relative to terminating the agreement with the present developers. I think it would be important for us to get an update from our Urban Redevelopment Authority from Director Brophy as to where we stand in terms of moving forward with that project. We need to know whether or not the financing is in place to move forward that project, and if not, what plans Urban has for us to secure another developer. I would suggest that we have a post agenda on July 13. If Mr. Brophy is able to provide us with some written information prior to that time, perhaps we can cancel that post agenda. But I think it's imperative that we stay on top of that matter.

The last item relates to the Phoenix Hill Shopping Center which, as many members of Council know, has been closed for some time. Mr. Brophy was kind enough to forward to Council a letter detailing the status of that project and I'd like to have a copy of that letter included in the record.

Thank you.

June 24, 1983

Mr. Michael Perry
City Clerk
City of Pittsburgh
510 City-County Building
Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15219

Dear Mr. Perry:

This letter is in reply to your letter of May 3, 1983 concerning the Phoenix Hill Shop N' Save. First, I apologize for the delay in getting this response to you; quite simply, your letter was misplaced and a draft response did not get mailed. However, let me update you on the status of activities that the Urban Redevelopment Authority has been undertaking on a daily basis in an effort to reopen the supermarket.

A few months ago the Redevelopment Authority had a potential new operator, James Gray, a former manager of the Shop N' Save. The Redevelopment Authority, working with private lenders, had helped Mr. Gray to obtain the financing necessary to begin the operation of the Shop N' Save. Just as this financing was arranged, a creditor sued the current owners of the Shopping Center and this suit became a legal impediment in proceeding as we had arranged. This was very unfortunate. As a result, the URA has determined that the only practical way the Shop N' Save store can be reopened and leased to a new operator, is to foreclose. A foreclosure would have the result of freeing the property from other creditors and put the supermarket and the Shopping Center in a position where additional financing could be arranged. We have arranged a meeting with the three mortgagees: Dollar Savings Bank, the Pa. Minority Business Development Authority and ourselves, in order to discuss foreclosure proceedings. The URA is prepared, with our Board's approval, to begin foreclosure proceedings. Since we are in the third and fourth mortgage positions, if we are to foreclose, the first and second mortgagees must agree with this approach and agree with a deferred payment of their mortgage until a new owner can be found. We are optimistic that they will agree to this.

In the meantime, the auction which was scheduled by the Small Business Administration of the store equipment for June 22, as been postponed for 4-6 months. Congressman Bill Coyne was very helpful in obtaining the postponement. This postponement was necessary because it would be impossible to obtain an operator for the supermarket if new equipment had to be purchased as well.

Once foreclosure proceedings are complete, the URA will take title and execute a lease with the Shop N' Save with Jim Gray. Concurrently, we will begin looking for a new owner capable of financing the completion of the two vacant areas in the lower level.

As you can see, this is a very complicated legal matter but one nonetheless which needs to be solved in such a way that the Phoenix Hill Shop N' Save can be reopened. It is obviously an important component of the continued recovery of the Hill District. I would be happy to answer any questions Council may have on this either through a special meeting or at a Post Agenda session and I welcome any support Council can bring to bear to help facilitate the recovery plan which I have outlined above. If at any time I am not available to respond to a question, please contact Wendell Holmes, our Controller.

Sincerely,

Paul C. Brophy

Would everyone kindly rise for a moment of silence so that there will be peace on this earth. Thank you.

PRESENTATIONS

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President and members of Council, it is indeed, in many respects, a joyful task to read this resolution and ask Council to adopt it.

As most of us know, the Honorable Thomas A. Harper, Judge of our Common Pleas Court, passed last week and I think that it's fitting that a man of his stature be so honored by this Council and so recognized by the people of the City of Pittsburgh.

So, I'd like to read this resolution and hopefully my colleagues will join in its intent and certainly send our condolences to the family.

Mr. Robinson presents

Bill No. 3354 WHEREAS, the Honorable Thomas A. Harper, Judge, Court of Common Pleas, Allegheny County, Fifth Judicial District, Pennsylvania, served the people of Allegheny County with honor and distinction; and

WHEREAS, his public service was manifest by membership and participation in numerous community organizations and public bodies such as School Director for the Borough of Braddock, Pennsylvania, Public Defender of Allegheny County, Community Action Pittsburgh, West Penn Motor Club, Tri-Boro Elks, Golden Gate Lodge #33, F & AM, Pittsburgh Branch N.A.A.C.P.,

Calvary AME Church, and many others;
and

WHEREAS, Judge Harper was a graduate of Kentucky State College, Virginia Union University, and Howard University School of Law where he distinguished himself as a member of the historic research team which prepared the briefs and oral arguments for the plaintiffs in the landmark decision of the United States Supreme Court in the case of Brown vs. Topeka Board of Education; and

WHEREAS, his judicial and legal career was punctuated with membership and participation in numerous legal organizations and associations.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, on behalf of its citizens does hereby pay honor and tribute to the life and accomplishments of the Honorable Thomas A. Harper, who through God's Mercy and Divine Wisdom has ascended in Peace to his final resting place; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that we pause to give comfort and solace to his family and many friends, as well as others who were touched by his spirit.

Mr. Robinson moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, with your indulgence, I'd just like to ask two more things. One, if we might stand and have a moment of silence for Judge Harper.

The Chair (Pro tem):

Mr. Robinson, before we do that, if I may. Having had the opportunity to know the late Judge Thomas Harper when I served in the District Attorney's Office of Allegheny County and having had the opportunity to have him as an opponent and also to work with him on other cases and to be before him in the courts, I cannot believe this moment without adding my own words that this county has lost a good jurist, has lost a good friend and a man by all good men's standards.

At this moment, we'll all pause for a moment of silence.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, secondly I'd like to ask that a gold seal copy of this resolution be passed along to his wife, Mrs. Gladys Harper, and also a gold seal copy to his sister, Mrs. Ruth Harper. Thank you.

The Chair (Pro tem):

Let it be so directed. Thank you.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

The Chair presents

Bill No. 3347 Communication from Richard S. Caliguiri, Mayor, City of Pittsburgh, returning with his veto of Council Bill No. 2643 entitled, "Providing for the notification of plant closings, reductions or relocations".

Which was read, received and filed.

(MAYOR'S VETO LETTER)

July 5, 1983

Honorable President and Members
City Council
CITY OF PITTSBURGH

Dear Mr. President and Members:

I am returning to you, as vetoed, Council Bill No. 2643, as amended. This Bill purports to create the Bureau of Business Security and prohibits the closing, relocation or reduction in the number of employees by employers without prior notification.

This is a time of great pain and suffering for our citizens who are unemployed because of the severity of the recession and the structural dislocations taking place in our economy. All of us have an obligation to seek legal and workable solutions to this problem. Some people, including irresponsible populist politicians who will do or say anything to please a crowd, attempt to profit from the pain and suffering of others by advancing measures which, on the surface, appear to be desirable but in fact make more difficult our primary task of attracting new industry and increasing employment in this area. Council Bill No. 2643 is such a harmful and illegal measure.

The City Solicitor has informed you that the Home Rule and Optional

Plans Law, Act of April 13, 1972, No. 62, 53 P.S. 1-302, expressly forbids the City to enact any legislation that places any responsibilities or requirements on businesses, occupations or employers unless specifically authorized by the General Assembly. (A copy of the Solicitor's Opinion is attached.) The statute that the Solicitor quoted to you is clear and unequivocal and is subject to as much interpretation as a stop sign at an intersection. In view of this express language of the Home Rule and Optional Plans Law, Council's persistence in enacting Council Bill No. 2643 confounds me.

Council, in enacting this legislation, is being dishonest to those who believe it is enforceable. I believe the general public would prefer to be told the truth no matter how unpleasant it may be at times. And the plain truth is state law prohibits the City to enact legislation of this nature. By not resisting the political pressures applied by confrontationists with their own private agenda, Council has passed a patently illegal Bill and lowered its own status thus bringing upon itself and the City discredit and disrespect. Simply stated, lawmakers should not be lawbreakers.

Not only is Bill 2643 illegal, it does not even serve the legitimate needs of our citizens. Above all, what our citizens need is not illusory gestures but jobs. Bill 2643 would place the City at a competitive disadvantage in seeking firms to locate and expand here. Business owners who have written to me and to you concerning this Bill have indicated they will not locate nor expand their establishments in the City if this legislation is finally enacted. Experience in states that have enacted this legislation shows that they are at a competitive disadvantage in seeking firms to locate or expand. Even if legal, this Bill would have a detrimental effect on the employment opportunities for all of our citizens.

It is easy to engage in inflammatory rhetoric in support of legislation of this type, especially when faced with this issue's inherent emotional pull as well as the intimidating tactics by the Bill's supporters. We, however, must take a dispassionate and objective view as to the effects that this will have on our citizens. The evidence shows that, if enacted solely on a local level, City residents will, in the long run, lose jobs.

For the reasons set forth in this letter, I am returning Council Bill No. 2643 as vetoed.

Very truly yours,

RICHARD S. CALIGUIRI

(END OF MAYOR'S VETO LETTER)

Mr. Givens:

I think many of us have lost the context of this particular plant closing notification. There's been very little needy attention drawn to the fact that what is happening around the world, what is happening in our own northeastern quadrant that is being plagued with plant closings and within our own state of Pennsylvania and our own sister city, Philadelphia.

The Mayor bases his vote primarily on the claim that state law prevents us from enacting plant closing legislation. This, ladies and gentlemen and my fellow Councilpeople, is not true. I passed out almost a nine page documentation describing exactly what our responsible abilities are to the people of the City of Pittsburgh. That's who we are elected by, not the State of Pennsylvania, not the Federal Government, but the people of the City of Pittsburgh.

Our sister city of Philadelphia which operates under the same state Constitution, the same state laws, the same state regulations, has had similar plant closing legislation for one year without any court action whatsoever. Zero.

Who is kidding who? Our City Home Rule Charter gives us the duty to look after the City's economic welfare and I'll underline that very, very strongly, the City's economic welfare. This is precisely what we are doing here today.

I call upon my fellow Councilmembers to listen very intently to what I am saying because these people behind us here are not here because they want to be here. They're here because they see what is happening on the streets of the City of Pittsburgh. We, in this room, in this Council, have the authority as a legislative body to enact plant closing legislation for the welfare of our citizens. But more than that, we have the example of Philadelphia which also faced a Mayor's veto, the same as we have had read before us today. That veto, however, my fellow Councilmen, was overridden by the Council of Philadelphia and is now in effect. As I said, it is yet to be tested in the Courts of the State of Pennsylvania. What are we afraid of? We've got all these letters in from the business community saying what all the problems are.

Whatever happens here today, I will assure you that I will continue to introduce this plant closing legislation every year as long as I'm on this Council.

Ladies and gentlemen, I appreciate all the clapping, etc. and I know how strongly you feel on this particular issue and the Chair has not addressed the gathering out here, but I'd like to make some comments and ask that we restrain ourselves. I know it's very difficult to do but the President Pro tem has the authority to clear this Chamber if he feels that anything is disorderly among either ourselves or the crowd. So, I'd ask you please, if you could just hold your applause for a couple of minutes.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me. We don't have a motion to override. Can you do that and then have discussion? You never made your motion to override the veto. Would you like to do that?

Mr. Woods moved to override the Mayor's veto.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Mr. Givens:

It is not my style of politics to speak out and be personalized. However, when I received the letter from the Mayor dated July 5, 1983, wherein he indicates some people include irresponsible populist politicians who will do or say anything to please a crowd to attempt to profit from the pain and the suffering of others by advancing measures which on the surface appear to be desirable but, in fact, make more difficult our primary task of attracting new industry and increasing employment in this area. What I'd like to say to that is one thing. That's the fact that we have all kind of organizations here built in to bring new industry into the City of Pittsburgh. We have the industrial parks, the industrial this, the industrial that, money set aside and everything else. I don't know of one governmental organization that has been set up to those plants that are closing, laying off people, and having massive lay-offs, coming into government and saying, "We need help, can you help us?" There's no instrument that we have before us that they can do that other than going to an individual. And it's unusual that the Mayor would make such a statement. In fact, just a month ago at the Mayor's Conference in Denver, he proposed the same type of legislation, but at the national and at the state level. I would have to say that the Mayor has to be talking out of both sides of his mouth at the same time.

One other point that has been made there is that the City is at a competitive disadvantage in seeking firms to locate and expand here. It's very interesting to note when, in fact, the very banks, the lending institutions of this City are, in fact, giving their money, as much as they want, to the foreign countries, the same foreign countries that have and have had plant closing legislation enacted for many, many years. That seems to me to be contradictory to what that particular statement is all about.

Then we get down to the real meat of what this issue is all about and why these people are in the audience today and why they are mad and why I am somewhat disturbed myself. That is when a man or a woman is laid off, when the plant is closed, I feel then that the Mayor is lacking some callous when he says that what we have before us today is not legal. The severe economic impact on a family, and only those who experience it, it's just like a crime. Unless you have been perpetrated against, you don't know what it's like to be hit on the head. You don't know what it's like to be mugged. Well, I'll tell you, ladies and gentlemen, you go to the hospitals, you go to the institutions in this City and talk to the nurses and talk to the doctors and look at the suicide rate and how it's increasing. Look how alcoholism is taking over more and more and how families, because of the economic chaos in our society — Sixteen percent unemployment? Bull. It's twenty-five percent unemployment.

I'd like to make one more note then I'll be finished, Mr. President, and that is of a letter that was sent in by our Service Employees International Union, Local 585, from Jimmy Vallas. I think it brings out a good point. Jimmy gave all of the Councilpeople a recent editorial from the AFL-CIO News Official Publication, National AFL-CIO. Some people have been telling us here that labor does not support this bill. I cannot believe that. Back in our room here representing the Allegheny Labor Council and one who sits on there and a very dear friend of mine is Dave Gavin. Dave, raise your hand, please. Also, Robert Schultz. That's the Allegheny Labor Council here representing hundreds of thousands of employees throughout Allegheny County. They are, in fact, supporting this particular bill. I've talked to Bernie Burns of our Firefighters Local who is also a member of this council. He said publicly that I could use his name. I've talked to Lt. Pat MacNamara who is on duty, he would like to be here. Lt. MacNamara of the Fraternal Order of Police, likewise, said that he supports this bill.

We in this Council know what is happening. It is interesting to note that the people who have been most talkative in this particular area in spreading around the word that labor is really not for this — is labor talking out of both sides of their mouth? I don't think so. The individual who came down here and lobbied this Council very aggressively was that of the President of the Chamber of Commerce and we know where he is and where he comes from. He had come from the state of Massachusetts with this editorial to be a member in our Greater Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce. This little episode happened in Chester, Massachusetts. There was a little grind-wheeling company that affected this particular town. The unions were only being paid $6.50 an hour at that particular time and they said, "We're having difficulties." The union decided to even lower their wages. They said if anything happens, management assured them that they would give them sufficient notice for all the people to take care of their private and personal lives. They got three weeks notice. A major, major plant. Their sister state, the state of Maine, has adopted the same type of legislation that we have before us today. It has gone to the Supreme Court of the State of Maine and has been upheld. There are several states across this union that are putting in similar legislation. Our own state, signed by Senators Bodack and Romanelli and Scanlon and the rest. They all have signed their name to similar legislation at the grass roots level.

The local government in this particular case was shocked as we have been shocked in this City when we heard about Nabisco wanting to leave. A handful of people and SNAC organization formed overnight. A company with 600 employees was going out and a big hole was going to be made in an urban development area that this City has been trying to do something with for years. All on this Council joined me and others of the SNAC organization to turn that around. They had six particular shifts working at that particular time. Ladies and gentlemen of this Council, they now have thirteen shifts working. They have called back almost everyone from that plant, and the plant, a multi-national corporation reversed its course because I think they felt for the first time, and they had people from their New Jersey syndicate down here looking at that meeting that happened out at the Reizenstein School, they knew what was happening, they felt the tremors of the people, the anger, the boycotting and other measures that were going to be taken. When I looked on that table and saw all of the products that they were making, I had ninety percent of those products in my home. I had vowed at that particular time that if that plant had closed that I would not buy one item from that particular company.

We are bringing British steel into this country and trying to cut out the legs of the middle and lower income stratus of our population. And I say that very openly. I've traveled the world, ladies and gentlemen, and I have seen that this country has the largest middle class. When they talk about the corporations making this country go, I say bull. It's our middle class, the working class, that has gotten a little bit of that money and rejuvenated and returned it into the corporate stock. If they continue to cut the legs of that middle and lower income people in this country, then we will not have the great country that this United States has built for many, many years. We are reversing our trend. We will be starting from nothing, from zero. I contrast that with a plant closing in Europe, their style. There was the chief of the Metal Workers Federation, and I'll finish on this last note as I saw you giving me the time up there, Mr. President. I'm glad you gave me that opportunity. But he quoted one little thing, that Americans, as well as the people here in the City of Pittsburgh and you Councilpeople sitting right here, are accustomed to leadership role in the world. And some find it a cultural shock to find that the United States is at the bottom of the ladder in terms of legislative protection for its workers. We are at the bottom of the heap for protection of our workers. And yet we find our bank institutions lending money to these other countries. That has to trigger something within you own mind.

We don't always take kindly to outside advice but it would be very difficult and even the most hardened exponent of those that want foreign people to come into this country to quarrel with the concluding paragraph of Mr. Robin's testimony. Americans, as well as Pittsburghers, would go far towards a more secure and a just and fair society, if it were to initiate its own plant closings and lay off warning system.

Thank you, Mr. President.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I find it unfortunate that before we move to override the Mayor's veto that the bill itself was not read and I would hope it would be put into the record in its entirety.

The Chair (Pro tem):

Do you mean the bill or the veto?

Michelle Madoff:

The Mayor's letter — His reason for vetoing the bill.

The Chair (Pro tem):

It's automatically part of the record.

Michelle Madoff:

Fine. But I think it should have been read aloud because I think it is stooping to gutter politics. This is the Mayor who spent more time, energy and money trying to defeat me than he did trying to get his own people elected. In his comment, "It is easy to engage in inflammatory rhetoric in support of legislation of this type, especially when faced with issue's inherent emotional pull as well as the intimidating tactics of the Bill's supporters", I find that to be offensive because I think the Mayor has never had enough proverbials, and we all know what I mean but I'll say guts to be ladylike, to be able to stand on his own two feet and be here today and be able to rebut some of the comments that are being made by the Councilmembers who represent the voting public who vote for us. And that's who we represent. There may be a dichotomy of opinion on this at this table but we respect each other. And it would be very nice if in the past and certainly in the future our Mayor had the guts to be here and not send us a piece of paper and say this is why I support it because there are erroneous statements in this bill. Mr. Givens, while I may not always agree with him, has stated, he's researched it and I have researched the facts, that in the places where these bills have been passed, it has not hurt jobs. As a matter of fact, they've increased triple and quadrupled in some places. The statement that this bill is illegal is also not true. But, you know, it's just a statement, a vanishing American. He's not here so we can't rebut, we can't have dialogue, we can't have discussion.

He talks about, "This is a time of great pain and suffering for our citizens who are unemployed because of the severity of the recession and the structural dislocations taking place in our economy. All of us have an obligation to seek legal and workable solutions to this problem." That's the Mayor's statement. He then goes on to say, "Council has passed a patently illegal Bill and lowered its own status thus bringing upon itself and the City discredit and disrespect. Experience in states that have enacted this legislation shows that they are at a competitive disadvantage in seeking firms to locate or expand. Even if legal, this Bill would have a detrimental effect on the employment opportunities for all of our citizens."

Well, let's tell the truth, folks. You know what the truth is? We have the best working force in America. We really are the Gateway to the West, we have the rivers for transportation. We have a long history of stable community but what we have are regressive taxation. We have a mercantile and a business privilege tax. We have the opportunity to use a ten year tax abatement; the Mayor hasn't applied those. That would have brought jobs to this community and we wouldn't be sitting here because nobody wants this bill but you want it because we haven't any other choice. People are being put out by the thousands. My friends are being put out of work and given four weeks notice. If they'll resign, they'll give them a letter of reference. Everybody in this room, reporters, the acting President of this Chamber, do you know anybody that hasn't been put out of work or given notice or know somebody that knows somebody? We are not in a recession in this city, we're in a depression. And if anything else, if I may borrow a phrase from you, Mr. President, we're telegraphing a message that this Administration better get on the stick and they better start making this a community that has tax incentives that will bring jobs to this community. And if he doesn't do it, you want to call it political rhetoric, call it so because I'm going to do it.

I'm going to wind up by saying that last year at budget time, Mr. Robinson introduced two bills that the Mercantile Tax ought to be done away with since we had an $18 million surplus; that we ought to lower Amusement Tax because movies in the City just aren't doing any business. But let's stay with the Mercantile Tax. The Mayor would not have approved it, we could not get the votes out of this Council. I had five votes when we went to the three year tax abatement, I had five votes for five year tax abatement. The Mayor said that he would veto it. That does not create a tax climate where people want to come into our community. This little bill that says that we're going to be humane and decent and have some moral regard for people and give them a chance to get their life in order by giving them a little time when they're being laid off and they have children and — We don't have to go through all the pain and hardship, we all know why this bill was introduced — That's not nearly as important as the fact that the Mayor has not done a darn thing to really make this a viable place to attract people. You cannot separate one issue from the other because the hip bone is attached to the thigh bone and I'll be very brief. If indeed we cannot get 102 votes, and I don't think we can when legislators have to run every two years to get an enabling act and get a commuters tax, no matter what's going on in Harrisburg and I'd like to think the Mayor is successful and I will help him in every way and I know we all will on that issue. But why isn't he working with the same 83 companies who wrote in objection to this bill? Some of the people sitting here represent the corporations. Why aren't you getting together to say, "Hey, you suburbanites, you come into this City and use the facilities and we give you a job, let's have metropolitan government. Let's have a commuter tax." Instead of vetoing a bill that's going to have very little impact on jobs in this community, give some hope to the people who are being affected.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, this issue stems from a serious dilemma that faced our City prior to Christmas and that was the impending closing of the Nabisco Plant. I think everyone in this room considers ourselves to be very fortunate that that plant did not close because that would have eliminated 600 jobs in our community. Now, the Nabisco Plant was a company that is profitable but they wanted to move south to make more profit at the expense of the community. That is where the expense was going to be incurred. We had a Mayor who came forth at that meeting and said that he will not eat any more crackers if Nabisco leaves here.

Now, the issue is, are we going to deal in the weak kind of rhetoric, and that's all it is, rhetoric, talking about not eating crackers, as if that's actually going to do something, as if that's going to put bread on the table of those 600 people, or are we going to learn from a near fatality that occurred and be prepared when it raises its head the next time? Apparently in this past half year, we have not learned. Just ten days ago, Rockwell International systematically told 100 people in the morning that they would no longer have a job at the end of the day. Rumors are very strong that they are going to relocate to California because they can make more profit. Well, it's one thing if a company isn't cutting it and they want to move. But it's worse when they are cutting it and they want to make obscene profits at the expense of the public. And that's what this issue boils down to. It boils down to an issue as clear as day and night, left and right, progressive, regressive, corporate, communal. That's what it's breaking down to.

Back in April, April 11, most members of Council met with the SNAC

Coalition, Save Nabisco Action Coalition, and there were six members of City Council that said that they would support a measure that is even more stringent than this measure, a measure that had a year's notification allowance in it. And now, we are seeing some waffling of some of those people. It's a question of accountability and is this Council going to do what they feel naturally is right or are they going to do what is twisted and politicized in an opinion from the City Solicitor's Office to reflect a political ideal.

I said back in April that this issue will not be fought on merits in Council Chambers. It will be fought through the arguments of the law and they, I'm talking about the opponents of this measure, will try the most sophisticated legal maneuvers possible. And that is what is happening. Two months later we have that tried and true opinion from the City Solicitor's Office saying that it is illegal. And I said back then that I have seen much good humane legislation go down the drain through legal opinions that are as good as anyone in this room. It's one attorney's opinion against another attorney's opinion and we have a legitimate opinion that says that this law is substantiated by the Philadelphia proposed law, that it is substantiated by existing case law, a fair reading of the Home Rule Charter law and legislative history. And it is certainly a measure that is important enough, then let the courts decide if it's legal or not.

It never ceases to amaze me that what we see here is the exact opposite of what happens with the State Senate and the State House in Harrisburg. If there's a question of legality, the courts decide that. Not the City Solicitor who writes heads or writes tails, depending on what the Mayor tells him. Not this City Council. It's the courts. And let this be tried and tested in the courts. There's nothing to be lost unless you believe the argument that this is going to encourage jobs to be lost in the community. And as Councilman Givens said, the Mayor is hypocritical on that. He goes to Denver and he co-sponsors a resolution in support of this and then where the heat is, in his back yard, he runs from an ideal that should be the cornerstone of a democratic Council.

If we want to talk about heat, let's talk about heat. And if anyone on this Council doesn't have the guts to tell 100 people to go to hell, then they shouldn't be on this Council. And if anybody waffles and if anybody cries to the newspapers that they are intimidated, then they don't understand what the basis of democracy is. And that is people can come in this public hall and they can cheer and they can support what they believe in. They are doing it in the open and I commend them. They are not doing it like the powerful interests of this City are. The powerful interests that appeared in each and every one of our offices and sat down and talked about our political futures and talked about raising money. It stinks. We should be supporting the public on this issue. We are selling these people out. It's a sell-out. It's as clear as night and day, as I said earlier. It's a sell-out.

Here it is, yesterday's New York Times, editorial page, July 4th. Job news, bad news. City in, city out. Talking about Milwaukee, Allis Chalmers going to get up and leave. Nine hundred fifty jobs are going to be lost in Milwaukee. It's about time somebody did something. That's what the New York Times said, the greatest newspaper in the world. It's about time somebody starts doing something. They say you take away justice and what are kingdoms but great robberies. How can there be justice without jobs? Without stable communities? It's about time this Council do something. The Mayor is talking but he's not doing anything. There's no alternative. No one is offering any alternative. Just like Rockwell took 100 ten days ago, they'll take 100 tomorrow and they'll take 500 at the end of the year. And we're going to continue to sit here and say we won't eat crackers or we won't buy imported steel.

The bottom line in each and every one of your votes here is going to be weighed by many variables and one of those variables is intimidation. One of those variables is going to be a soft-sell. There's going to be a lot of variables that weigh the votes here today. So, what is unfortunate is that I don't think the majority of those variables have any impact on the central issue and the central issue is that this is good humane legislation which meets the most essential needs of the '80's. It's a bill of the '80's. You're on the threshold of creating a move in this country of the '80's. And it addresses the concerns of the '80's, the most humane central need of today, and that's a job. That's what it comes down to, a job. You're going to address the needs of a job today. Now, if you want to believe what the Mayor now says he believes but he didn't in Denver, that this bill is going to drive jobs out of the City, then I think you are believing half because there is no substantiation of that issue whatsoever. There's no substantiation. The primary concerns for a corporation that comes in are labor costs, labor unionization, proximity to markets, proximity to supplies, proximity to other company facilities. Primary concerns for the quality of life. As Jim Cunningham said in a letter he sent us all a couple of weeks ago, plant closing notification ranks below winning football. It's irrelevant.

What this bill is is simply an excuse for the Chamber of Commerce to try to prove their need to the corporate community. I never heard from hardly any corporate people personally. The Chamber of Commerce sends out a cover letter to all corporations stirring them up and they send it back, in from the Chamber, out from the corporations. As Councilman Givens said a half a year ago, garbage in, garbage out. That's all that this measure comes down to.

I beg everybody on this Council, especially the six that put their votes up last week, not to desert the flagship of labor nor humanity.

Mr. O'Malley:

I commend my colleagues, Councilman Givens, Michelle Madoff, and Tom Flaherty. I agree with 90 percent of what they say but I also agree that the essence of democracy is dialogue, discussion and sometimes difference of opinion.

I agree that we need plant closing legislation, that we need a notification bill that would give workers the opportunity to adjust, that would give communities the opportunity and time and City government to have an input.

I disagree with my colleagues, Councilman Givens and Councilman Flaherty, when they say that all this bill does is give people time to adjust to a plant closing and that this bill is the same as the Philadelphia bill. I agree with the Philadelphia bill but this bill that was introduced by Councilman Givens goes beyond reason.

I'm going to read a couple sections in this bill that a lot of people are not aware of because the press, for some reason, did not find the space to write the legislation in its entirety. Section 11 (d) of this legislation says that this legislation will create a commission made up of 16 members appointed by this City Council. Of those 16 members, four of those members will be from the business section, four of those members will be from the labor section, four of those members will be from community organizations and four of those members will be from church or religious associations. That is the 16 member bureau that is going to be established by this City Council. —

Mr. Givens:

Not bureau, it's commission.

Mr. O'Malley:

Bureau.

Mr. Givens:

The Bureau is a bureau. That is a commission, Jim. A non-paying commission.

Mr. O'Malley:

I suggest you check the legislation, Mr. Givens.

Let me go on. That is Section 11, that we set up the Commission.

Now we go on to Section 7, the business of the Commission. This is what this Commission does. These 11 people who are all volunteers, non-paid, who have the best intention of the community and the City of Pittsburgh. After the investigation is concluded, the Bureau shall prepare a report containing the findings with respect to the matters described in Section 6 for a presentation to the Commission and make recommendations regarding actions required to be taken in order to prevent or minimize the harmful effects. Now, this 16 member Commission that this Council, in their infinite wisdom, is going to appoint is going to make recommendations regarding such vital facts as reorganization of management and production. — We created a Bureau on cable to advise this Council and the Bureau came back and advised us that they did not have the expertise and they advised us that we should go out and hire a consultant. — This Bureau also will have the power to advise companies to go out and find new markets for goods and for services. This in itself is a specialized field. This Bureau and certainly this City Council does not have the expertise to involve itself in companies decisions. This Council has no right to tell companies how to reorganize their management.

After we make these recommendations, no matter how ridiculous these recommendations are, if they're not followed, then we go to Section E. Section E says that any person who intentionally violates or directs or consents to the violation of the provision, any person or company who does not go along with this Bureau and this Council's recommendations, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the third degree which means they can be fined and they can be put in jail for up to thirty days.

This bill goes far beyond plant closing legislation notification. It goes far beyond. This legislation gives this Council and this Bureau the power to reorganize management —

The Chair (Pro tem):

Hold on a minute, Mr. O'Malley. I would like all of you in the audience to see what's up behind me on my left. It's the American flag. It still let's everybody give his view even if you don't like to hear it.

Mr. O'Malley:

Thank you, Mr. Stone. This bill gives the power to this Council and to this Bureau to reorganize management as it states in the legislation and to make recommendations and if the recommendations are not followed by these companies it gives them the power to put them in jail and to fine them. As I said, I support plant closing legislation but this bill goes far beyond reason and borders on the ridiculous.

I feel that in the City of Pittsburgh we have limited space to attract new industry. We are in competition with other northeastern cities such as Cleveland, Philadelphia and Chicago. And I believe, and I have many friends in this room and I have many friends in labor who support this bill, this is just an honest disagreement of philosophies. This bill, I believe, would deter any new industry looking into relocating in the City of Pittsburgh. I think it puts the City in an unfair disadvantage in attracting new industry and I also believe that it's going to cost the same people who support this bill, it's going to cost their sons and daughters and future generations of Pittsburgh, the opportunity for employment in years to come. And I believe this bill will do more harm to the City of Pittsburgh than good.

Mr. Givens:

I'd like to make a quick comment, if I might, Mr. President. One, Jim, this ordinance creates two bodies. You had them somewhat confused in the beginning. One, it creates a Bureau of Business Security. As I said before, there is no such entity within our government or anyplace that I know of. And that is a paid City department somewhat like our Economic Development Department that is now in the Urban Redevelopment Authority.

Secondly, it creates a Commission on jobs and commerce. Sixteen, as you mentioned, as a volunteer body to advise this Council.

I say to you, Mr. Jim O'Malley, that when you stood up before the citizens' meeting over in the Gold Room that the legislation before you was a lot more stringent than what we have right now. Not once, not once, did I hear you make an amendment during all the debates that we have had on this particular issue and that was before the election, not after the election.

Mr. O'Malley:

Let me respond to my colleague. In the Gold Room, I was given a copy of the Philadelphia ordinance and in the Gold Room I responded that I support plant closing legislation and I do support plant closing legislation. I do not support this bill. Any bill that gives this Council and gives a bureau appointed by this Council the power to reorganize management and to put people in jail that do not go along with this Council, this Council's recommendation is ridiculous.

The Chair (Pro tem):

Hold on now. I'm going to remind the audience again. Up behind me is the flag. As long as that flag is there it's for you and me and all of it's rights and duties. The man has an opinion; let him explain it.

Mr. O'Malley:

Let me say one more thing about my colleague, Mr. Givens. This bill has been in preparation for six months. Never one time did Mr. Givens offer to come into my office and sit down and go over this bill piece by piece.

Mr. Givens:

That's a two-way street, Jim.

The Chair (Pro tem):

Call the question. Mr. Givens started to speak first but didn't make the motion. Mr. Woods made the motion and I think Michelle seconded it and that was to override the Mayor's veto. Aye is to override the Mayor's veto and nay is to sustain the veto.

Mr. Flaherty:

I vote aye. The core for the veto was a question as far as the legality of it. These people here, and most unemployed people, have a hard enough time just taking care of the most elementary needs of life, food, shelter, school, what have you. They are not unified and they do not have a voice speaking for them and they, unfortunately, can't hire an attorney. If there's a question as far as the legality of this bill, absolutely no harm, in fact a lot of good, will be done that it is taken to the courts. Let one of the corporations take it to the court. Not the elected representatives of the people, if we pass this, nor the Mayor's Office. Corporations can take care of themselves. They have a stable of attorneys that would make our City Solicitor's Office look like kindergarten. They have the most sophisticated, shrewd legal minds in the country. They can take care of themselves. Let's not take care of corporations and let's not let corporations take care of us.

Mr. Givens:

I vote aye on this bill and I'd like to give my reasons for that. I think it's the basic underlying reasons. The Mayor bases his veto primarily on a claim that State law prevents us from enacting plant closing legislation. As I have indicated previously, that is not true. If we can have a sister city in Philadelphia have similar legislation — that's true, they went 90 days and they do not set up a bureau to dig into it a little bit deeper than what we are trying to do here. We're trying to create an environment to keep workers working. That is the bottom line of this whole ordinance. It's to keep people working. Our City Home Rule Charter gives us the duty to look after the City's economic welfare. We are in fact doing that for those of us who pass on this particular legislation. And I plead to Jim O'Malley and to Sophie that the hardships are created by the people who are cut off dramatically from their employment, in some cases, 20, 25, 30 years, so abruptly, there is no pre-warning, that the devastating effect on their families is so great that some cannot even recuperate to be productive citizens, and as a result, where is the greatest burden going to lie? Who is going to take care of these people in our institutions? I beg you to reconsider your particular vote. Thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

I'd like to address myself, if I may, to Councilman O'Malley who, I think, has been very courageous in speaking out for, perhaps, what I think he really believes. But I would like to try one thing to see if I can change his mind.

Councilman O'Malley, 80 plus companies wrote to us stating that this was going to be harmful on business. Your argument is that we should not, as government, be interjecting ourselves in regulating businesses. If that logic followed, ladies and gentlemen, fourteen year olds would still be in sweatshops. If we didn't regulate some morality for business, things would still go on.

I urge you to vote for the override because we can always discuss this issue, if it is a legal issue, in the courts. Let the courts make that decision, not Councilman O'Malley.

Mrs. Masloff:

Mr. President, as you know, I am a woman of few words. Never in my career have I agonized over a piece of legislation as I have today and the past weekend. While I have very serious reservations about this particular bill, I feel compelled to support the working man and that I am not insensitive to their plight and so I vote aye.

Mr. O'Malley:

I want to commend my colleague, Sophie Masloff. That was a very courageous stand. I've been talking to her for a week on this bill and I know she's been torn between both sides. I just want to commend her for the stand that she took right now.

As a response to Michelle, you know, I'm not voting against this legislation to in any way help the corporations. I'm voting against this legislation because I think it's going to deter the corporations that are already here that may want to expand and the corporations that may want to move into the City. I think what this piece of legislation would do is tip the balance of the scale in the directions of other cities and I think we need all the help in the City of Pittsburgh that we can muster to attract corporations here.

To the friends that I have in this room, if this bill passes, I'll give it all the support that my office can, but right now I have to vote no to sustain the veto.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. Stone and members of Council, I would much prefer to see some legislation passed at the national level, but that has not occurred. I would much prefer to see some legislation passed at the state level, but that has not occurred. For better or for worse, the decision is ours to take a step here at the local level in the City of Pittsburgh. It certainly will have national and state implications but I think it is a step that we must take. Unfortunately, since this bill was introduced, even given the many changes and much discussion, no positive or substantive effort has been launched in the City of Pittsburgh to address this concern other than the legislation itself.

I am somewhat dismayed, as Chairman of Planning, Housing and Development, that our Council and our Mayor have been unable to sit and work together on what, perhaps, is one of the most important pieces of legislation to face us and a piece of legislation that certainly speaks to the vitality and growth of our community. If we are not concerned about the workers and facilities presently in our community, I question what kind of concern we will show for the new workers and the new facilities. I believe that our first obligation is to the people who are here in our City, to the businesses that are here in our City. But that is an obligation that is commensurate with our obligation to the new plant, the new businesses that we have been trying very heartily and very positively to attract.

In the five and a half years that I have been on this Council, I have watched our City government do everything that is humanly and legally possible to make this someplace special, to make Pittsburgh a Renaissance City. I think the least that we can do, and perhaps the most that we can do, is seriously address the concerns of those people who are so earnestly asking us as their representatives to address their issues. If there were some other alternative presented, perhaps my decision today would be different. If indeed we had initiated some process to help the workers and help these companies that want to stay, perhaps my decision would be different. But I don't believe anyone in this room can identify one single process or one single person that has moved in a direction to address this issue other than the introduction of this legislation.

In the face of that and also based on my firm belief that it is the obligation of government to work with business, to work with labor, I'm going to have to vote to override the Mayor's veto.

Mr. Woods:

Since I'm the sixth vote, in April I said I would vote for this legislation. Last Monday I voted for it; today I'm going to vote yes to override the Mayor's veto, but I would like to add something. There's many people in this audience that are not from the City of Pittsburgh, they're from Mon Valley, Wilkinsburg, Penn Hills and surrounding areas, in this county. This Council has just voted to override the Mayor's veto to make this law in this City. I would like all of you people in this room and all of your groups, when you leave here, to go over to that Court House and you get those County Commissioners to pass this county-wide. Not just the County Commissioners. You go down to Homestead, the Mon Valley, and you get those Councils to do the same thing that this Council did here today. We are not like Philadelphia; they are county-wide. We are just here in the City. Don't leave us die here. You go out and support the people here that supported you.

The Chair (Pro tem):

It is obvious by the vote that my vote might not count. I would hope that my words, however, do mean something. I stood before Council as the Chairman on June 22, 1983, and I'd like to read some of those remarks, and I'd like to place it in the proper perspective that I gave it that day before it came to a vote, and at that point it was questionable whether it would pass or fail. I spoke before the vote came about, and I stated something to the effect that I'm about now to say. If the Chair might for a moment, I'd like to share my thoughts on this bill, and I'd like to do it before a vote, because it gives an opportunity, as I see it, to see this in somewhat of a proper perspective.

As all of you may recall, when there was meeting at the Gold Room, some of you spoke up. In fact, the majority of this Council spoke up in favor of it. I did not speak then. I indicated there was a public hearing forthcoming, and I'm inviting people to a public hearing, and I want to hear from both sides before I'm asked to make a decision. In light of that, I listened to a public hearing. I listened to both sides on that issue, and I'd like to say at the outset, so that there not be any misunderstanding, that the intent of this bill is in the right direction in my personal opinion.

As far as the legislation, however, you must look at its pluses and at its minuses in order for it to have the good that was intended. I don't think that anyone can overlook the point that if this legislation is passed only within the City of Pittsburgh, there is no good reason why a plant will be coming into this City and not staying outside of the City of Pittsburgh. In that connection, this type of legislation is probably better if it were done on the state level, then all of us within the confines and jurisdiction of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania would be similarly situated, except, however, those who are neighbors on the state borders.

Relative to the organizational set-up that is proposed in this legislation, it is my personal belief that it is a little too much involved and puts down too much specifics, and before long it will really bog down the intent that it had in mind.

Relative to the kind of committee idea, I think that there is in place already an ability to do something for it. We have the Labor Management Council which has been meeting, perhaps not with as much substance as we might want, but yet there is an occasion for it, this is an occasion for it, and that is now; and if we add to that merely government's involvement in a loose-knit kind of organization arrangement, that way it gives us the elasticity and the flexibility with which to face any kind of issue and to call into being all of the possibilities of assistance that might exist at that moment of need.

I'm also mindful that in most large labor contracts, what is intended by this bill is already in place in some of those contracts, calling for 60, 90, or 120 days notice prior to the closing. I'm also mindful that there is the United States, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Constitution. It is my personal belief that we will have a constitutional issue with this bill. With the tightness, the more you write, the worse it gets, and by virtue of being too specific, I believe we have destroyed the ability to help in the legislation in the way we've couched it in its present language.

Mr. Givens:

Why didn't you amend it, then?

The Chair (Pro tem):

Mr. Givens, I listened to you being verbose. It's your opportunity to listen, and maybe this time it may get through.

Mr. Givens:

I apologize, Mr. President, for my remark.

The Chair (Pro tem):

I personally believe that a one- or two-page document may have said less and done more. The other one is that when two parties are going to negotiate, and those of us who do that kind of negotiating every day know that the worst thing that can possibly happen is when your opponent does not want to negotiate.

In effect, what you need is a condition precedent to any kind of climate of negotiation, or rehabilitation, or rebuilding, or reinstituting, or even to continue that which you already have. I think we've gotten a field of that general intent by over zealousness in this instance.

I was hoping that we might at that time as a condition precedent to the bill, that we would try some kind of change, and that instead of having a mandatory kind of operation that we would have in the initial stage and try to get the parties and all those who wrote to us, including the Chamber of Commerce, government, and labor together with the Labor Management Council to have them make the strong commitment, even if it be a strong voluntary commitment as opposed to what this bill does, say it as a must and then outline conditions of must. It is for that reason that I think that this bill, if tried in a court of law, will be unconstitutional.

Relative to this bill, and as far as I personally am concerned, I'm kind of torn with where I will go with this thing, because I think something is necessary to protect the labor worker today. It is not fair after most of them have gone, as it is right now, some 20 to 30 years. They did everything by the book. They worked hard so they could get their money for a house. They worked hard so they could buy an automobile. They worked hard so they could put their kids in school. They've been law-and-order people all of their lives. They've worked, they've contributed, they've paid, they've done everything right; and it seems to me that summarily they should not be wiped out as has been happening recently.

It, therefore, obviously needs something, and as I visualize this bill in its present form, even with the amendments, I see the inability to do the good that could have been done. I had suggested it go back to committee and to try to come out with something that more meaningfully covered our particular needs, and I offered that before we got into a vote, which was before we had the possibility of an inability to help, and on that occasion I abstained. I was asked by one of our newspaper reporters what I meant by the vote abstain. In short, I couldn't vote against the bill and I couldn't vote for the bill, but I wanted everybody to understand, that as far as I personally was concerned, there was merit, but it needs some additional work.

Today we were faced with a veto by the Mayor, and the Mayor uses rather strong language, perhaps stronger than most of us have heard the Mayor use in the past, but he points out a very strong point. When we intend good, we should do good and have the ability to do good. My personal belief is that with the legislation and not the intent of the legislation we have created a cure which is worse than the disease; and in order to keep some balance, and I hope my words will hold, I'm abstaining my vote at this point, and I am hopeful that there will be some changes in that legislation so that we can do something which will give everybody gold, not fool's gold.

PRESENT:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. Stone
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. Woods
Mr. O'Malley	Mr. DePasquale
Mr. Robinson	(Pres't)

ABSENT:

MR. GIVENS
MICHELLE MADOFF

The Meeting was opened by the recitation of the pledge of allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

PRESENTATIONS

Mrs. Masloff for Mr. Givens presents

Bill No. 3375 WHEREAS, the present level of unemployment is detrimental to the health and well being of all of our citizens; and

WHEREAS, a high rate of unemployment among our citizens causes a serious decline in the economic life of both our community and surrounding municipalities; and

WHEREAS, not only individual wage earners, but many small businesses find the present rate of unemployment and high degree of economic uncertainty may cause both business failures and individual relocation problems; and

WHEREAS, the burden of high unemployment places a great strain on our municipality in terms of increased demand for social services while tax base is eroding; and

WHEREAS, we recognize that the economic health and stability of any municipality is to a large degree dependent on the purchasing power of the wage earner.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Pittsburgh City Council of the municipality of the City of Pittsburgh do hereby proclaim that Wednesday, July 27, 1983, shall be recognized as ECONOMIC SURVIVAL DAY and shall be so designated as a day to focus attention on the plight of the unemployed.

Mrs. Masloff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Flaherty seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Robinson presents

Bill No. 3376 WHEREAS, the elected officials of the City of Pittsburgh are charged with the responsibility of providing a safe, healthy and wholesome atmosphere for the residents and visitors of the City of Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, there are commonly accepted standards of public conduct and behavior which are obscene, offensive and publicly unacceptable in the City of Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, public performances and exhibitions often strain and test those standards of acceptable public behavior; such as, rock concerts, musical presentations and live stage shows; and

WHEREAS, the youth of our City are often entertained by and financially supportive of these performances.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Council of the City of Pittsburgh on behalf of its citizens, does request the following of promoters and performers in the City of Pittsburgh and those anticipating performing in our city in the future.

1. That all promoters include in their contractual agreement with performer a clause which holds the promoter and performer jointly liable for the incitement of violations of city laws or regulations.

2. That regulations be jointly developed with the City of Pittsburgh to prohibit youth under the age of eighteen from purchasing tickets to adult-oriented performances without the consent of their parents.

3. That performances who, by their past demonstrations of shows, have exhibited a callous disregard for community standards of behavior be discouraged from using public facilities such as the Civic Arena and Three Rivers Stadium and the David Leo Lawrence Convention Center.

Mr. Robinson moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. O'Malley:

Question on number 1, "That all promoters include their contractual agreement with the performer, a clause which holds the promoter and performer jointly liable for the incitement of violations of city laws or regulations." Would this hold the Steelers or the Pirates responsible for any incidents after a Steeler game?

Mr. Robinson:

After a Steeler game?

Mr. O'Malley:

Or before a Steeler game?

Mr. Robinson:

No, I think that— point of clarification here. In all the contractual relationships that are signed for performers to come into our City, there are clauses which deal with specific activities. Certainly, most promoters that I have talked to are aware of the problem that this resolution addresses and have indicated that, in many instances, it's not their responsibility.

It seems to me that if you bring an act into the City and you contract to use the facilities, contract that performer, that certainly you have an obligation to make sure that that performer is not engaged in any kind of activities which would be violations of the law, or inciting others to do so.

I think if we just look at some of the problems that we've had with live performances where performers themselves have encouraged the public to strike matches in buildings, where it's clearly in violation of City law, our Fire Department has moved in and indicated to the performer and to the promoter that this is unacceptable. Most promoters have some announcement made prior to the performance that that type of activity is unacceptable and the persons engaged in it will be held liable.

The purpose here of Section 1 is to make sure that the promoters themselves accept some liability, because they are the ones that bring the act in, and they bring them in on a voluntary basis, and they bring them in, obviously, because they feel they'll have some appeal to the general public.

Mr. O'Malley:

So what you're saying is that the promoter would held liable only during the time of the performance?

Mr. Robinson:

Yes.

Mr. O'Malley:

Not after they left the Three Rivers Stadium?

Mr. Robinson:

No, the contractual relationship is only for the individual group to perform at a specific period of time, under certain kinds of conditions, and that's why I said in the contractual arrangement itself, so that both the performer and the promoter realize that they are liable, jointly.

I think that most promoters attempt where they can to explain to performers what is acceptable and what is not acceptable in a particular community, but I think most of us would recognize that the person who commits that act is the one that we normally would consider to be liable, but I think the contractual arrangements can be written in such a way that both the promoter and the performer have some responsibility for the actions of the promoter and the actions of the performer.

Mr. O'Malley:

Can you give some example outside of that, of striking matches?

Mr. Robinson:

Well, I think that there are a number of instances in which performers have encouraged individuals to engage in acts that are certainly unacceptable in terms of public display, in terms of either language, or in terms of the manner in which they are performing. I think that certainly there are a number of examples of groups that are perhaps accepted that in their performances; and I think that adult-oriented performances are performances that certainly should be restricted to adults, and if children are going to be there, then I think the adults that give them the money to go there ought to know that there are adult performances.

The Chair:

If I may, Mr. Robinson, I certainly abhor this kind of conduct as much as anyone else, especially what happened over last weekend, but my problem with it is, if we pass a resolution such as this, if it, in fact, becomes fact, I can see many future performers or promoters refusing to come into this City for the very reason that perhaps what incites you doesn't incite me, and so on.

If we get a bunch of kids that are excited for some reason or other and carry on, I don't see how you very well hold the promoter or hold the entertainer, and I don't see how they're going to come into this town and sign that agreement. What we're going to do here is discourage all future shows.

Mr. Robinson:

Well, if I might, Mr. President, I think that, first of all, the spirit of the resolution is one that is designed towards speaking to the cooperation of both the performers and the promoters. As I said before, I talked to a number of promoters who feel somewhat frustrated in their attempts to present a positive image, a good show, and to make a reasonable profit, because obviously, they don't have complete control over the acts that come in.

Also, this resolution is not intended to try to carve anything in stone but hopefully to get some sense of where we, at the local level of government, are in terms of working in a cooperative fashion with the promoters and with the performers to see if, in fact, there's a little excessiveness. I think what is done in the motion picture industry perhaps gives us some direction. That is, at least the movies are rated, so that the people who are going to the performances know in advance and can make their own decision.

I certainly would be the last one to try to stop some performer from exercising his or her right to creative expression, but I don't believe that there's anyone in this City that believes that anything goes and that any of us is oblivious to what is accepted. I think the fact that these performers come to our City constantly and most of the time engage in the same kinds of activities. I think most of us know what kind of behavior that we probably consider a little excessive, and I think it does us well to try and let that message get out. Just as we try to create a positive image for our City, and we do many things in that regard, we try to promote what we perceive to be positive and what we think the community in general accepts as positive.

I think by the same token we can project that which we don't want, because it's negative, and the community basically sees it as negative and still respects everyone's right. So I have not introduced legislation per se, but a general resolution hopefully will give some sense to where we are in this issue.

The Chair:

Well, to elaborate for just a moment, I agree with your intent, but as I said earlier, through no fault of a certain performer, promoter, there may be some sort of riot incited somehow or other, and that person or those persons may be completely innocent, and we're asking them to be held responsible for something they have no control over.

Mr. Robinson:

Well, this only relates to the performance itself. This does not relate to anything that will go on before or afterwards.

The Chair:

I understand.

Mrs. Masloff:

Mr. Robinson, this is just a resolution which is a suggestion —

Mr. Robinson:

Well, I think that this resolution should be taken in the same spirit as other resolutions that we have previously passed on a variety of subjects. For example, when we wanted to let it be known that we had some concerns about the importation of foreign steel, we passed a resolution. There have been occasions when we have expressed our concern about the ownership of gas stations by gas companies. We have passed resolutions. So this resolution is offered in the same spirit as those previous resolutions.

Mrs. Masloff:

There's no enforcement.

Mr. Stone:

I think that's the problem, frankly. I think if you are saying that you encourage them to do something, that's one thing, but if you're telling them to include in their contractual agreement that they have to do this or that, it would appear to me that we're incorrect.

Mr. Robinson:

Well, I don't think that there's anything in the resolution which indicates that we're forcing anything on a person. In fact, the resolve reads: Be It Resolved, that the Mayor and the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, on behalf of its citizens, does request.

The resolution is offered, as I said before, in the spirit of cooperation, because certainly, all of the entertainers that have come to our City have added something, and I just think that — see, they're visitors; we live here permanently. What they do, they leave here, they leave here for us, and I would say that the situation I'm identifying, it's well known in the entertainment field, and I think it's well known by people who experience rock concerts and other live performances.

Unfortunately, not very much is done or said about it except when there's a very bad incident, and there's a tendency to assume that the group itself caused it, and we lay the blame at their feet. I'm simply saying, let us perhaps take some positive action, to certainly create a positive atmosphere in which we can do something, as opposed to sit idly by and simply shrug our shoulders.

I don't think there's anyone in this room that would take their child to some of those adult-oriented concerts and come away saying that's okay. I don't believe that. I don't even believe that the promoters really like that. I'm not even sure if the performers like to do that, but there is a lot of money involved, there's a lot of excitement involved, and I think sometimes when you don't say anything at all, that there's a tendency to assume that you approve. It only takes a few thoughtless people and irresponsible people to give the impression that you can do anything in Pittsburgh, and I don't think that there's anyone on this Council that would like that impression given.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, I don't see anything wrong with the resolution. It's just a wish. We wish you would conduct yourself in this way, and we wish you would enter into these agreements. We wish you will. There's nothing here that says to demand. It's not a bill. It's not a law. I see nothing wrong with passing this resolution.

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mrs. Masloff	Mr. Robinson
Mr. O'Malley	Mr. Woods

AYES 4 NOES 2

(MR. STONE, MR. DEPASQUALE
VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the bill was defeated.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, point of information. You indicated that the resolution failed. Was that because there was not five affirmative votes?

The Chair:

There has to be a majority of nine, Bill. Nine present.

Mr. Robinson:

Does that mean that the first resolution offered by Mr. Givens also failed?

The Chair:

Mr. Givens' resolution had five votes.

Mr. Robinson:

Okay, thank you.

Mr. Woods:

I have a question for the Parliamentarian, Mr. President. A few weeks ago, I argued, and the Parliamentarian agreed, and I brought the same bill up a week later, because we had the majority of Council present, but not five. Would that hold true on this resolution?

The Chair:

That was on legislation, Ben.

Mr. Woods:

Right. Would that hold true on a resolution?

Parliamentarian:

I don't think so, if it is not legislation.

Mr. Robinson:

Wait a minute; you said you don't think so. Does that mean it could or could not?

Parliamentarian:

In my opinion, it does not.

Mr. Robinson:

What would that opinion be based on?

Parliamentarian:

The rule that you are referring to says when any bill upon its final passage receives a vote of the majority of members of Council present, such bill shall be considered as laid upon the table and called up for further action. Everything that precedes this, if you are talking about legislation, not a sense of Council resolution, so, in my opinion, it would not apply in this situation.

Mr. Robinson:

Is there anything — I assume you're reading from the Charter or the Rules of Council?

Parliamentarian:

From the Rules of Council.

Mr. Robinson:

Do those rules specifically relate to this type of resolution or anything in there that deals with this that you're familiar with?

The Chair:

Mr. Parliamentarian, due to the fact that there are only six members present, would it be proper to recall the bill and have it brought up when there is a full Council?

Parliamentarian:

If Council so wishes, they can.

The Chair:

This way I think would save some time and avoid unnecessary confrontation. Is that all right with you, Bill?

Mr. Robinson:

That's fine.

Mr. Robinson moved to withdraw his motion for approval.

Mr. Woods moved to withdraw his second.

Which motion prevailed.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, if I may, there presently exists in the City of Pittsburgh a difficulty present with the hospital center and the health center hospital laundry, and I don't think it's necessary for this Council to get involved in their collective bargaining agreement, but nevertheless, I think that needs to be brought to attention of this Council and, as well, some action taken about it, and that's the matter of the laundries.

It's my understanding, at the present time, there has been, because of the strike problems, an accumulation of soiled linen being contained in some of our major hospitals here within the City of Pittsburgh and some of our largest. That's Presbyterian, Magee, South Side, Mercy, Western Psychiatric, Children's Hospital, Eye and Ear. Relative to this matter, I was given rules and regulations for hospitals, and if I just may quote from a couple of the paragraphs here, you might understand a bit of the problem.

It indicates under "Section 147.52 Clean linen. Clean linens shall be available to meet the daily and emergency needs of the hospital. Clean linen shall be handled and stored in such a way to minimize contamination from surface contact or airborne deposits."

Then it goes into the next one. It's "Section 147.53 Soiled linen. Soiled linen shall be collected and stored in such a manner as to avoid microbial dissemination into the environment. Soiled linen shall be kept segregated from clean linen at all times. Soiled linen from isolation areas shall be identified and separately bagged. Precautions shall be taken in the subsequent processing of soiled linen from isolation areas to prevent microbial dissemination and infection."

This likewise applies to those off-premise laundries, and relative to that matter, it's my understanding that this has gotten to such a situation that they're using the same vehicles to transport clean and soiled linen back and forth, which is creating a health problem, as well. Some of the hospitals have been storing it on the premises, and this is creating a health problem at the hospitals.

As I began, I'd like to end. I don't think we should be involved in the collective bargaining, but nevertheless, I think something ought to be done about a health hazard that presently exists and is getting worse by the day. I would request that a letter be sent to all hospitals involved demanding compliance with these rules and regulations and a written report from each of them as to how they're handling the soiled linen on premises.

Likewise, a call followed by a letter go to our Building Inspection to inspect all of the affected hospitals to find out what they're doing about the soiled linen, and as well, a letter to the Health Department of Allegheny County requesting that they make an immediate inspection of each of those facilities and to report back in a written report to this Council as to how they're handling that matter.

It is a rather severe problem, and it's one that just can't be left to them to solve themselves, at least the health problem.

Mrs. Masloff:

Bob, what union is striking?

Mr. Stone:

I'm not sure of the union, but probably Laundry Workers.

Mrs. Masloff:

Is it one union that's striking all the hospitals?

Mr. Stone:

There's apparently a couple of different facilities, but this group of hospitals is using what's called the Health Center Hospital Service Corporation.

Mrs. Masloff:

And they're the ones that are striking?

Mr. Stone:

They have a problem with their union, but the problem that I'm addressing here is purely how soiled linen is being handled on location in facilities within the City of Pittsburgh.

It's my understanding as well that they're storing in some warehouse in Ohio Township, I think in rather large amounts, which needs to be checked into by the Health Department as well, but my personal concern is to City Council and to see that we're protected here. I'd like approval on that.

The Chair:

All in favor vote aye.

The motion carries.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President and Members of Council, each of us received a letter dated July 8 relative to the budget for the David Lawrence Convention Center. I'd just like to make a couple comments relative to this budget and how it relates to the current controversy about the Convention Center Hotel Project.

Last year's budget was $900,000 in deficit. This year's budget is only about $93,000 in deficit. The point I'm raising is that the deficit has to be paid by the County and the City. We have to share that responsibility. The budget for this year and the next couple of years has been prepared with anticipation that there's going to be a hotel across from the Convention Center.

Without rehashing all the difficulties that project has manifested, I think it is important for Council to be aware of the budgetary problems at the Convention Center, the budgetary problems that might occur in the future and also the fact that this hotel project was started back in 1980. Now, the projection is that it will not be completed until 1986. What the budget deficit will be for next year, I have no way of knowing at this point, but I would hope that, come Wednesday, as we try to find out where we're going on that Convention Center Hotel Project, that Council would be cognizant that the building of that hotel is going to directly impact on what we do in terms of allocating the necessary funds to pay our portion of that budget deficit.

I'd also like to indicate to Council that I think it might be helpful in trying to get some perspective on this situation to get a copy of the original Urban Development Action Grant application that was submitted by the City of Pittsburgh for the Liberty Center Project, which is dated April 30, 1981. In this particular proposal, I think it's rather clear what the City should be doing and what the developer should be doing, and if this particular proposal is still in effect, then I think we certainly can use it as some sort of guide as to whether or not any progress has been made.

Without prejudging any of the actions of the developers or URA, there are significant references in this document to some sort of Minority Business Participation Program. I've said on several occasions that I have seen no manifestations of a Minority Business Program as far as this Liberty Center Project is concerned, and the document I'm referring to makes specific references to some things that are supposed to be in place and some things that are going to be done, but I just wanted to share those couple concerns.

As I said, hopefully by Wednesday this Council will be in a position to make some decision as to whether or not we're going to terminate our approval to the developers to apply for a UDAG, and that termination will be effective September 30, 1983, so this document, I think, would be a valuable tool for those who would like to be a bit more informed on this project. Thank you.

Mr. Stone moved that Mr. Givens and Michelle Madoff be excused for absence from this meeting.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. O'Malley

Council adjourned.

WHEREAS, the heroic strike of tomato workers in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan seeks to end the poverty, insecurity and indignity of farm workers employed in one of the nation's largest industries, agribusiness; and

WHEREAS, the Farm Labor Organizing Committee has embarked on a 560-mile march from Toledo, Ohio to Camden, New Jersey, in an effort to inform the public of the plight of the Midwestern farm worker, a plight which demands concern from any American possessing a love for freedom and the principles of democracy,

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, do hereby declare July 21, 1983 "Farm Worker Day" in the City of Pittsburgh, and welcome the members of the Farm Labor Organizing Committee on their historic march for justice, commending them for their untiring efforts to improve the quality of life for farm workers and their families, who labor to feed us all.

Mr. Flaherty moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, I would just care to add some remarks in regard to the recently enacted resolution in that 75 members of the Farm Labor Organizing Committee hopefully will arrive here in the City on the 21st. They are scheduling a rally for noon on the steps of the City County Building to raise public attention to their plight. We are talking about a 600 mile trek that has received the national spotlight. Caesar Chavez plans on joining somewhere along the route and I would just hope that if anyone is interested, that they join the rally at noon or that they attend a meeting at 7:30 on the 21st at Carlow College in which more explanation of their cause and more education as to how they can utilize support.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Also,

Bill No. 3418 WHEREAS, on July 5, 1983, Pittsburgh City Council passed a plant closing notification law to begin to address the problems of business relocations and closings and their deleterious impact on the lives of Pittsburgh working people; and

WHEREAS, this law has been met with opposition by the Administration as well as business leaders; and

WHEREAS, Mayor Caliguri has filed a declaratory judgment action in the Court of Common Pleas, seeking to resolve the legality of the plant closing notification law; and

WHEREAS, Pittsburgh City Council would like to resolve any questions regarding the legality of this law in the best interests of the residents of the City of Pittsburgh.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council retains the law firm of Abes and Begler, 1200 Law and Finance Building, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, 15219 to prepare and pursue the legal defense of Ordinance No. 21, known as the plant closing notification law.

Mr. Flaherty moved to adopt the resolution.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Mr. O'Malley:

I have a question for Councilman Flaherty. I think it was in July 4th's paper, you stated that you will ask Council on Monday to hire its own legal counsel to ask the court to throw out the Mayor's petition. Is that what you're asking for here?

Mr. Flaherty:

We have attempted to refine that statement. I would hope that Council would allow the final judgments to be made in a more accurate sense through the attorneys that are going to handle the case. Subsequently, we have had the Small Manufacturers Council and the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce have added to the Mayor's call for a declaratory judgment. In my mind, that adds more validity, perhaps, to their calls since perhaps a —

Mr. O'Malley:

That wasn't my question. My question was, are you asking permission of this Council to engage an attorney to ask the court to throw out the Mayor's petition or are you asking us for money to engage an attorney to defend the plant closing legislation?

Mr. Flaherty:

There's nothing in the resolution about asking the court to dismiss the Mayor's petition for declaratory judgment. I think Council is also very interested in seeing the question resolved as to the legality of the ordinance and it's important to keep in mind that the plant closing notification ordinance was the initiative of this Council and was passed solely on the political courage of this Council. We are all aware that we had two public hearings on the issue, that the Mayor was adamant in his opposition from the beginning; subsequently after Council passed the bill, Council was consistent and was able to override the veto of the Mayor. So, I think it's important that Council continue to assert its initiative and its independence in this matter. Essentially what we're talking about is the separation of powers. The Mayor is the executive and Council is the legislative. This is certainly an issue that has been enough of a rallying point that I think Council should exercise its prerogatives on it and that prerogative should be the strategy of this Council and solely of this Council just as the Mayor has his strategy which is solely the strategy of the executive branch.

In closing, I would want to say that we are all aware that the Mayor has offered to select one of the three attorneys that Council selects as to who will argue the case for the City. I think the Mayor asking for a declaratory judgment, the manner in which he did it was extremely unorthodox in that I don't believe that there is legitimately a defendant in the case since the Mayor's City Solicitor has said that he cannot defend the law because he feels that it is illegal. It seems to me that defense of this law needs more than a straw dog. It needs more than the Mayor, who is unalterable opposed to the law, making the final selection as to who will defend the legality of the law. I think that it's important that this Council serve as that legitimate defendant since the ordinance is our child and that we contract the firm of Abes and Begler of which Jay Hornig is an attorney for that firm and Mr. Hornig is one of the authors of the plant notification ordinance and has similar expertise with plant closing ordinances in New Jersey and is probably this City's foremost expert in the legal sense on plant closing.

The Chair:

If I may interrupt you, that was going to be my question, how we settled on the law firm, but you've answered it for me.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'm not finished with my dialogue here, Mr. Flaherty. I have no problem in supporting this resolution. I think myself, along with a lot of members of Council including people in the audience, would like to get this resolved one way or the other, whether this plant closing legislation is legal or its not legal.

Where I have a problem is if we're going to hire, which I think you should amend your bill, if we're going to hire a legal counsel to fight the merits of the plant closing notification legislation, to fight it on its merits, I can support that 100 percent. If you are hiring a law firm to have the Mayor stop from filing a declaratory judgment, I cannot go along with that.

Mr. Flaherty:

Well, we are going to fight the Mayor's judgment on its merits.

Mr. O'Malley:

In other words, you really don't want the courts to decide whether this legislation is legal or its not legal.

Mr. Flaherty:

I'm not saying that and that language is not included in the resolution.

Mr. O'Malley:

Well, don't you think it would be best for all parties concerned, Tom, that we take this matter before the courts and we have SNAC and the law firm of Abes and Begler argue your points in favor of the bill and we have somebody argue points against the bill and we let the courts make the decision? I don't really think it's necessary to get into a political battle of whether we can file a declaratory judgment or whether we can't file a declaratory judgment.

Mr. Flaherty:

There is no language about hiring an attorney to dismiss the petition filed through the Mayor's Office.

Mr. O'Malley:

So, what you're saying --

Mr. Flaherty:

It's very clear, Councilman

O'Malley. Pittsburgh City Council would like to resolve any questions regarding the legality of this law in the best interest of the residents of the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. O'Malley:

So, in other words, this firm is only going to deal with the merits of the legislation.

Mr. Flaherty:

The merits of the legislation.

Mr. O'Malley:

Okay. One other comment about what Councilman Flaherty said. He said that this Council showed extreme political courage in passing this plant closing legislation and overriding the Mayor's veto. There I disagree with that and members of this Council have stated that they were intimidated. Ferlo, in the Press Sunday, July 17, stated that Pittsburgh Neighborhood Alliance agreed that this Council was intimidated. So, it seems to me that members of this Council are no longer serving the best interest of the City of Pittsburgh but they seem to be serving their own best interest. --

Michelle Madoff:

I resent that very much.

Mr. O'Malley:

There was no political courage as far as I'm concerned. It was more intimidation.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, I believe in the defense of every member of this City Council that we can all take heat, that we can all take some intimidation, and I personally resent Councilman O'Malley strongly implying that some members of this City Council are not worth their salt

Mr. O'Malley:

I didn't say that.

Mr. Flaherty:

— And can cave in to a handful of proponents of plant closing notification. I think it was the courage of this Council and just because Mr. O'Malley does not believe in giving workers a sufficient amount of time before they are unilaterally axed from their jobs, that's his problem and he should contain his remarks to the resolution.

The Chair:

Tom, I think you're out of line with that remark. Let's not have a running battle. There will be no more of this.

Mr. Woods?

Mr. O'Malley:

No, let Mr. Flaherty finish his comments —

The Chair:

He finished his comments. It was uncalled for.

Mr. O'Malley:

Pardon me?

The Chair:

I said his last remark was completely uncalled for. And I think that rather than getting into a running debate, we ought to get on with this.

Mr. Woods:

As everybody knows, especially my colleagues, I always vote, I always have and I said I'd never vote for our own legal advisor. In this case I'm definitely going to make an exception. I'm going to vote for this and I'm going to ask all my colleagues to vote for this because the City Solicitor has definitely said he can't defend us, and I feel that this law firm, no matter how they defend us, if they can go in there and have that petition thrown out, so be it. If they didn't file it properly that's their problem, not our. We should fight this in any manner we can.

Secondly, the remark made in the paper and by Mr. O'Malley, I want everyone to know that nobody, absolutely nobody, intimidates Ben Woods. Ben Woods voted for that because Ben Woods wanted to vote for that.

Michelle Madoff:

Point of clarification. Councilman O'Malley, throwing out the Mayor's petition is really just a legal term. For example, on the law suit that I've instituted with two of my colleagues, Mr. Robinson and Mr. Flaherty, when we had the vote of 5-4 for having a fiscal advisor, we filed objections to the suit. It's one in the same thing. It's just that one of the procedures in trying to determine is the suit legal or is it not. It really, by itself, doesn't mean anything. It's just a legal term. I think Mr. Stone would verify that. It's part of the legal procedure.

Mr. O'Malley:

I have no problem supporting this particular piece of legislation —

Michelle Madoff:

I understand your confusion on it and I just wanted to clarify that.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'm not confused on it. I want to make sure that they argue the merits of the legislation.

Michelle Madoff:

That's part of it.

Mr. O'Malley:

When this ordinance was put together, Michelle, the attorney representing SNAC, Save Nabisco Action Coalition, was not aware of Act 62, Section 1-302, of the Home Rule Charter. Once they found out about this section, the attorney admitted, and it's to be checked out with our Law Department, that they didn't feel that the bill would stand a court challenge, that they rendered the opinion that their client wanted to here. There's no doubt in my mind that when this is challenged in court, it's going to be found unconstitutional. And I think that will give us the opportunity to rewrite the legislation that will give the help and the support that the people who are unemployed in this City need.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I wasn't through. I just wanted to point out the legal term of filing for objections or throwing out the Mayor's petition. Is this part of the procedural action of determining indeed whether this bill is legal or not?

To the issue of Mr. Woods, if I may address him, making an exception in this case where he's going to vote for a legal counsel, which we are entitled to under the Home Rule Charter, Mr. Woods, I think if you search your soul and your conscience, I don't think it's fair to say only in this case will you make an exception. I think this Council needs its own legal counsel. We need our legal counsel and I vote for this and I would urge you to vote for sustaining Council when we need that.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, if I may, I think we ought to be defining who the law firm is going to represent. It's my understanding that it's representing Council. So, in the paragraph we'd have to say Council is retaining the law firm of Abes and Begler to represent City Council's position and not the City.

Number two, as everybody knows, I abstained because of the thought that I think something should have been done about this area. I don't agree with the language of the legislation and therefore I didn't want to vote against it either. But, on the other hand, I don't intend to be an obstructionist in trying to give this the best opportunity possible for a good defense in court. On the other hand, I think we ought to be defining our terms. One or two or three members of Council will be leading this suit. I think there has to be a report back to Council and you have my promise up front that I'll do nothing to obstruct a true defense on this issue but at the same time, I want everybody to know in advance I'm not letting any two Councilmen or three Councilmen or less than the majority of this Council tell us where we're going with it.

If the client is City Council then City Council ought to be getting the reports and City Council ought to be determining where we're going.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Stone, who would you recommend those people be?

Mr. Stone:

All of us. Council.

Michelle Madoff:

No, I'm talking about the firm. Wouldn't we want the firm that brought the bill to —

Mr. Stone:

I have no problem with that.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm sorry. I thought you were objecting to that.

Mr. Stone:

No.

Michelle Madoff:

You're saying that the people hiring should be Council at large. All of us.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. Flaherty, on your resolution, after the address, Council retains to represent City Council of the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Flaherty:

I just have a question in regard to that, Councilman Stone. Isn't City Council synonymous with the City? It seems to me that the Mayor offered to select one of the three finalists that Council had to argue the legality of the ordinance. I'm confused now that we are saying to the Mayor, "Thanks but no thanks but we will select our own attorney and he will argue the merits of it". Why we have to specify City Council, since there isn't going to be anyone from the Mayor's Office, I don't believe, —

Mr. Stone:

I think you've answered it. It's obvious that you don't represent the Mayor or the Administration so he represents City Council so let's say what we represent. That's all. There's no trick answer to it.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, I think members of Council should pause before we take action on this resolution. I think that if we read the Home Rule Charter it's rather clear that Council does have the power to secure their own legal counsel but that that individual cannot represent us in a court of law. It's my understanding by reading the Charter that the only entity able to represent the City of Pittsburgh in a court of law is the City Solicitor or someone on his staff. I would hope that if we take serious this step that we clarify all the procedures and clarify whether or not we are in compliance with the Charter. Like Mrs. Madoff, I think that this issue teases up another issue that unfortunately we have been unable to resolve and that is the issue of securing our own legal counsel. I think this issue is a manifestation of the difficulty that we're constantly encountering in terms of our inability to come to some sort of agreement with the Administration and then the inability of the Solicitor's Office to serve two masters. I think what Mr. Stone has suggested would not be compatible with the Home Rule Charter. I think Mr. Flaherty's position probably makes a lot more sense in terms of the individual firm that we select representing the City. The problem here is that the City has two different positions. Council has one position, the Mayor has another position. The Mayor who is opposition to our position has indicated he'll hire a lawyer of our own choosing to go to court to represent the City. I think that's totally inconsistent and the only person that can go into court is the City Solicitor. He has indicated that he cannot defend this ordinance and that says to me that the City Solicitor is indicating to us that he will not carry out his responsibility which is to represent the City of Pittsburgh in the courts. No one else can do that. So, I have difficulty selecting anyone who is not going to represent the City of Pittsburgh and I have problems with doing anything as inconsistent with what the Charter says.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, if I may, Danny Pellegrini is here. I have spoken to him and they will put this firm on retainer, paid out of their funds, it will be on retainer, it will just be acting like the City Solicitor only defending our stand.

Dante Pellegrini
City Solicitor:

That's essentially correct. They would be representing the City of Pittsburgh depended upon entering into a retainer agreement with them. I select the individual that represents the City under the Home Rule Charter. I have no objections to selecting that firm. With the caveat, though, I think that Council has to understand that they represent SNAC also. It should be disclosed that their interest — they'd have to no longer represent SNAC in the litigation that would take place and there would have to be a completely independent position. We'd have to enter into a specific retainer agreement. I have no objection about appointing them as Council in this case. If they would be hired by City Council as City Council's attorney, that would be a different matter. We'd have to re-examine our position because, again, we would still be in the case. The reason that we filed the lawsuit and said that we would select outside counsel —

Michelle Madoff:

Who have you selected?

Mr. Pellegrini:

We haven't selected anybody.

Michelle Madoff:

I understand you have. Word on the street is that you already have.

Mr. Pellegrini:

How could I have selected from someone when I asked for three names from City Council?

Michelle Madoff:

So the counsel has to represent the Mayor.

Mr. Pellegrini:

No one is going to represent the Mayor.

Michelle Madoff:

You're going to represent the Mayor?

Mr. Pellegrini:

No. The City of Pittsburgh has a position now. I think everybody really has to realize that. The City has enacted the legislation. The person that's really not represented in this lawsuit is the Mayor.

So, if Council wants to name that firm and there's no undisclosed conflicts of interest that we don't know about now, I have no objections to pointing them as counsel to represent the City in the action, depended upon the conditions that I set forth.

Mr. O'Malley:

I have a question. Who is going to handle the other side? If the law firm of Abes and Begler is going to handle the City's position, who is going to —

Mr. Pellegrini:

Small Manufacturers' Council, there is a petition for their intervention to be argued on Friday. The Chamber of Commerce has intervened. I don't know who is going to represent them. I don't know if the same firm is representing both of them. I think it's Reed Smith but I'm not sure. We've been contacted by a number of other manufacturers that want to take part in the lawsuit so I don't know how many people are going to be involved.

Mr. Flaherty:

I have a question. Are you aware of Councilman Stone's amendment?

Mr. Pellegrini:

I'm aware of it and I think the problem that we have was one all along. As I informed you in my letter, I could not think of a valid legal reason why this ordinance should be sustained. Rather than being involved in both a conflict with the City and in an ethical conflict, we were going to select an outside firm to represent the City but rather than saying that we were appointing a firm that was not going to defend it, we were going to put the burden on you to select that firm. Win or lose, you're the ones that are going to —

Mr. Stone:

That's not his point. His point is in view of me clearing up the language, it's necessary to say for City Council in the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Pellegrini:

I think the resolution should read, and it doesn't really even have to be a formal — this is a sense of Council resolution I take it — it should be that City Council recommends to the City Solicitor the firm of Abes and Begler to represent the City of Pittsburgh in the plant closing litigation.

Mr. Flaherty:

But to represent the City, not City Council, because this is a law of the City, it's bigger than City Council.

The Chair:

Mr. Pellegrini, if I may take the prerogative of the Chair, I don't want to put you on the spot but I think Mr. Robinson has a very key point. You're the only one empowered really to defend the City, yet you're not going to defend the City and we're going to have somebody else going to court.

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's right.

Mr. Stone:

Wait, Mr. President, hold on. Tom, what you're saying is accurate. What he's now saying is that for City Council to recommend to them and they'll appoint that individual and that's how it now get it's legal status to represent the City. Do you understand?

Mr. Pellegrini:

I have to appoint that individual. Under the Home Rule Charter, the only one --

Mr. Stone:

Don't complicate it. Council recommends to you the appointment of that particular counsel.

The Chair:

One more remark, Mr. Robinson, then I think we ought to go on.

Mr. Robinson:

Just by way of clarification, am I correct that the City of Pittsburgh took some official action in the courts relative to this plant notification law?

Mr. Pellegrini:

The only action that we took, and this is what you're hiring counsel for today, is to determine whether it's legal. We fully hope that the individual that represents the City to advance the position that the ordinance is legal. I don't think it's the intent of Council to have the action withdrawn or anything else. We're going to engage them to carry forward the litigation. We're not engaging them to withdraw the litigation. I think that should be clear.

Mr. Robinson:

Do I understand that the authority of the City Solicitor's Office to take the action that you just identified is in the Home Rule Charter?

Mr. Pellegrini:

No, the Home Rule Charter provides that the City Solicitor is the only one authorized to represent the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Robinson:

Is there anything in the Charter, or your interpretation of it, that would give you authorization to hire someone else to go into court to represent the City of Pittsburgh?

Mr. Pellegrini:

Yes. We've done that. In fact, we have bond counsel that represents the City in matters. That's been going on for forty years.

Mr. Robinson:

Just because that goes on doesn't make it right.

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's right.

Mr. Robinson:

I'm just trying open up the justification. I'm saying in the Charter or your understanding.

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's right.

Mr. Robinson:

Okay. The third thing is the position that the Solicitor's Office has taken has been basically that you will not defend the City of Pittsburgh in court?

Mr. Pellegrini:

No, that's not the position that we've taken. The position that we've taken is that we believe it's in the best interest of the City to find out whether this is legal or not for a number of reasons; to resolve this matter once and for all so that the Administrative Officers and my office can enforce if it is legal or not enforce if it is illegal.

Mr. Robinson:

Let me ask another question. You're familiar with the suit that was filed on behalf of some business persons in the City.

Mr. Pellegrini:

They are seeking to intervene in the action that we brought, as defendants.

Mr. Robinson:

Was the impression of the Law Department that no other parties would go to court and therefore, our Law Department had to go into court?

Mr. Pellegrini:

It was the impression of the Law Department that if this ordinance was enforced and our position was correct, that it is illegal, and vast amounts of damages piled up, that the City of Pittsburgh could be subject to liability for enforcement of the ordinance.

Mr. Robinson:

Correct me if I'm wrong. The City Solicitor's Office gave us an opinion on this ordinance indicating, basically, that you didn't think it was enforceable, that it was illegal, unconstitutional, etc.

Mr. Pellegrini:

I just point out one state statute to you that said that no Home Rule municipality may regulate business or place any requirements on employers or occupations.

Mr. Robinson:

But, in effect, you were telling us that we could not do this. Am I correct? Or that we shouldn't do it. That was your advice. We shouldn't pass it.

Mr. Pellegrini:

My advice to City Council was not so much advice as pointing out the state statute.

Mr. Robinson:

Wait a minute, Danny. No, no, you're not going to do this today. In the past, you have given us opinions, that opinion has been considered advice. Some members of this Council have even indicated that your opinions are orders, direct orders. All I'm saying to you now is that this Council interpreted your opinion that we should not pass that legislation because it was unconstitutional and illegal and you pointed out certain state statutes and laws. All I want to know is, is that still your position?

Mr. Pellegrini:

My position has not changed from the date of that opinion.

Mr. Robinson:

Fine, because I think the record will reflect that the City Solicitor's opinion was entered into the record as advising us not to proceed on the bill that we passed. Also, in the Mayor's veto, the Mayor pointed out to this Council that the Solicitor of the City of Pittsburgh, who is our Solicitor and his Solicitor, advised us not to pass it.

Now, the point about the economic ramifications. The Mayor has indicated through the paper and in his veto, he would not enforce the law even if we passed it. They Mayor has not taken any action which would, to my way of thinking, prompt the Solicitor's Office to try to go into court to prevent any kind of economic catastrophe in the City. The Mayor, until he takes action, is bound, duty bound to enforce every law in this City. And if he doesn't enforce it, it's not up to the City Solicitor to go into court, it's up to the people who will be affected to go into court. Nobody went into court except the City Solicitor's Office.

You tried to maintain three or four positions at the same time. On the one hand, you advised us not to pass the bill. On the second hand, the Mayor said he's going to rely upon your advice. Third, many members of this Council took your advice when they voted against it. Then you go into court, based on what I am not sure, then you tell us once you go into court you can't defend the City. You were in the court as representing the City. At least one third of the City didn't want you to go into court. This Council never asked you to go into court. I don't know if the Mayor asked you to go into court or who asked you to go, but when you went, you represented the City. Now you tell us you can't defend us and you will accept an attorney of three. You set the terms for us. Send you three names, you'll pick one. I don't know based on what authority you're doing that. Then you say to us we should submit a name to you of a law firm that doesn't have any, and I don't have the exact wordings, any kind of conflict of interest or any vested interest in this situation. It seems to me that what you asked us to do is to find a law firm in this City that's had no direct involvement in this situation on either side whether they were with SNAC or with the City of Pittsburgh. This firm that Councilman Flaherty has identified in his resolution obviously, obviously, has a vested interest. Everybody knows that. You know that, they know it, Councilman Flaherty knows it, I know it. And for us to even seriously consider them in the face of your recommendation, I think is ludicrous. What we're going to do is, we're going to hire a law firm who by the City Solicitor's opinion is not qualified to represent us. What we're going to end up with is, we're going to go into court with one arm tied behind our back being represented by a law firm that has not the sanction of the City Solicitor's Office or the support. I don't believe that you can send anyone into court to represent the City of Pittsburgh and not give them the necessary legal assistance. By your own opinion and by your own posture, you couldn't possibly, and the City Solicitor's Office, couldn't possibly tell any attorney to go into court right now representing the City of Pittsburgh.

I have a lot of problems with this whole tangled process that we have come up with and I think if the courts are going to resolve this, then let's work out a procedure where they can resolve it and let's not try to put the City on three or four sides of this issue.

Mr. Pellegrini:

I don't intend to help the person that is representing the City. That's why we're hiring them.

Mr. Robinson:

Danny, you cannot hire anybody to represent the City of Pittsburgh and Solicitor and not help them. You're obligated by law to help them. You're obligated.

Mr. Pellegrini:

Councilman, what I'd like to explain to you is that when you hire counsel, I cannot help them because what you would then accuse me of doing is not giving them the assistance or giving them wrong information in prosecuting this lawsuit. The ultimate goal of this lawsuit is to determine the legality of the bill.

Mr. Robinson:

Right.

Mr. Pellegrini:

These individuals, which I indicated to you were acceptable to me, can prosecute the lawsuit, their attorneys admitted to practice law in Pennsylvania, they can do their own research. They don't need my research because my research indicates a completely 180, opposition to their's. They have to advance the bill. They can advance any argument they want in support of the ordinance. If they can succeed in making this ordinance legal, it will have important ramifications for the City.

Mr. Robinson:

Let me just say one other thing and I'll be finished, Mr. President. I can't support this resolution as it's presently structured and I can't support the City's position going into court because I don't think the City has a position.

Let me just say that I think, unfortunately, the Solicitor's Office has put us in a position where we're going to be unable, the City is going to be unable, to defend itself in this matter. The City's position is rather obvious. The City has on its books a plant closing notification law which is the law of the City of Pittsburgh. It's the sworn obligation of every City official, particularly the elected officials, to enforce every single law. Unfortunately, I think the Solicitor's actions have put us in a position that we are going to be hiring some legal counsel to represent the City that will not have the benefit of the City's expertise, will not have the benefit of the City's lawyer who is our Solicitor. I say unfortunately because I think had the Solicitor's Office perhaps approached this a little bit differently, the Solicitor's Office could have removed itself earlier in the process and certainly not prejudiced the position that anyone who represents the City now has to take.

I would be hard pressed, Danny, at this point, to support any process that the Solicitor's Office devises to secure legal counsel to represent the City. It is my opinion and my observation based on my research that you have an obligation to defend this law in court regardless of your opinion, and that it is in no way in violation of any ethics or anything else and I think the fact that you have taken the bold action that you already have to go into court suggests that you understand your obligation to represent the City of Pittsburgh. You're not representing Danny Pellegrini or the Mayor. Unfortunately, that has been the projection and I think you put us in a no-win situation now. Not only is this ordinance probably going to be enforced by the Mayor, this Council and the Mayor are going to have one heck of a time going into a court and representing the City of Pittsburgh. We are fighting a battle with a divided army. The Mayor is against it, the Solicitor is against it, Council is for it and the three of us are going to get together and hire a general to lead us. I want no parts of this war.

The Chair:

Okay, now we're going to vote on the resolution.

Michelle Madoff:

I had my hand up before, Mr. President.

The Chair:

No. There's no more discussion, Michelle. Roll call vote.

Michelle Madoff:

Point of order. Point of personal preference. I'm sorry, I had my hand up.

The Chair:

I'm sorry. I said one more comment and Mr. Robinson was it. Call the roll on the vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

Are we including Councilman Stone's amendment? I think that's important for clarification.

Michelle Madoff:

You're not allowed to ask a question if I can't. Mr. DePasquale is going to have to learn to be polite to everybody.

The Chair:

Mr. Stone, I don't recall you making an amendment. Did you make an amendment? I know you discussed it but

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, it was recommended by the City Solicitor and when I talked to Mr. Flaherty he agreed to it. That was that the City Council recommend the retaining of the law firm of Abes and Begler to represent the City's interest in pursuing the defense of Ordinance 21. That's all.

Mr. Flaherty seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Robinson:

I'm opposed.

Mr. Stone:

If I may, Mr. President, —

Michelle Madoff:

No you may not, I had my hand up first. Either I get to get my question or no one else gets ahead of me. We women will not sit here and be —

The Chair:

Please, Michelle. Let's get on with the voting.

Michelle Madoff:

Then don't take any questions from anybody else.

Mr. Flaherty:

I vote aye and I just want to react in saying that I agree wholeheartedly with the arguments that Councilman Robinson has made but, unfortunately, I think we have to support the resolution because we are in a bind where the Mayor's Office, I believe, the Solicitor's Office certainly has prejudiced the air in regard to the plant notification ordinance. There isn't any method now that can unpollute the air but I think that this is a way that would suffice more than not having any defense in court which is certainly all the alternatives at this stage, no defense. I support the resolution.

Michelle Madoff:

I need to ask a question before I can vote. Mr. Danny Pellegrini and the Parliamentarian, when Council votes to override the Mayor, doesn't that take precedence over the Mayor and doesn't that become the will of the City?

Mr. Pellegrini:

The law of the City of Pittsburgh today is that there's a plant closing ordinance on the books. Whether it's legal or illegal is another matter. What we are attempting to do is to find out whether --

Michelle Madoff:

You didn't answer my question.

Mr. Pellegrini:

I just did. It's on the books. We have a plant closing ordinance on the books that could subject the City of Pittsburgh to liability. That's the answer you want.

Michelle Madoff:

But if Council is going into court to find out the legality of the bill, there's no reason when have enough members to override the Mayor for the Mayor to even be involved or the Administration in the lawsuit and that is essentially what Mr. Robinson is saying. Why are you joining with the Chamber and with --

Mr. Pellegrini:

We're not.

Michelle Madoff:

Yes you are.

Mr. Pellegrini:

We're not.

Michelle Madoff:

You should stay out of it completely.

Mr. Pellegrini:

We're not.

Michelle Madoff:

Are you staying out of it?

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's what the whole purpose of the bill is. The whole purpose of the bill is that they're going to advance that the ordinance is legal.

Michelle Madoff:

The Administration will stay out of this bill? I want an answer to that. Will you stay out of the bill?

The Chair:

If I may interrupt you at this point, Michelle, I think something that we're all overlooking is that if the bill is declared legal in the courts, isn't the Mayor then forced to enforce Council's dictate?

Mr. Pellegrini:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

And the liability for the legality of that of this City.

The Chair:

We're asking whether it's a legal bill or not. Okay? The City is. I just want to make it clear that the Mayor has to enforce it if the Mayor says it's a legal bill.

Michelle Madoff:

Right. Therefore, the challenge to the bill should not be from the Mayor because his veto was overridden. He should stay out of it. We hire our people and we find out whether it's legal or not legal.

By what right did you go to court, Dan? Did you get permission from this Council? We overrode the Mayor's veto. We are the majority. By what right did you go to court?

Mr. Pellegrini:

Will you listen for a second?

Michelle Madoff:

Certainly.

Mr. Stone:

Call the question.

Michelle Madoff:

We are calling the question.

Mr. Pellegrini:

We didn't ask that the ordinance be declared illegal.

Michelle Madoff:

What do you mean you didn't ask it be declared illegal. You took it to court to prove it was illegal or not illegal. It's not your job. It's this Council's job. We are one and if you're not one and you're opposed to it, stay the devil out of it.

I vote for the bill.

Mr. O'Malley:

I vote aye. I'm going to support it but I disagree in part with my colleague, Councilman Robinson. What I believe here is that the wishes of six members of this Council does not necessarily make this legislation legal. I believe what we have on the books right now is an illegal law and I think it should be tried in the courts one way or the other.

Mr. Stone:

If I may, Mr. President, before casting my vote, I think I have to make a couple remarks here. In fairness to all parties involved, it's been stated and correctly stated that the City Solicitor made his legal opinion prior to any voting and he's been consistent all the way through it. He advised the Mayor; the Mayor vetoed it. It came back to this Council and this Council overrode the Mayor's veto in spite of the knowledge that the City Solicitor had said in his opinion it was illegal and it was a constitutional problem.

I think from what the Solicitor has attempted here today to do shows if anything more fairness than some people are giving him credit for. He filed on behalf of this City in the best interest of this City if he's correct, and that is a petition for declaratory judgment. In that statement, they are not saying it's legal or illegal, they are saying that there are some concerns, according to the City Solicitor upon whom we must rely, in the event that there's any economic or financial burden to the City of Pittsburgh for making a wrongful act. So, they've gone to court just to have this thing decided one way or the other. He's indicated as far as he is concerned that it is illegal and unconstitutional. As far as this point is concerned, he's indicated that if Council appoints a Solicitor, he will then give that person free hand. If he were to represent the City in something he's already been very strongly opposed to and has recommended is illegal, I'm sure that any court would look at him with a jaundiced eye as to where he's going. Since he said it's illegal, how can he stand there and say it's now legal. So, I think he's been more than extremely fair here and we ought to be giving him credit for what he's attempting to do.

As far as this particular piece of legislation is concerned, maybe what has already been intended is the right way. If it's illegal, let's find out early. If it's not illegal, then let's get on with it.

I'll vote for this resolution.

The Chair:

One thing I want to do is see the matter resolved one way or the other. I'll vote aye.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the resolution?

And on the question, "Shall the resolution pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. Stone
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. DePasquale
Mr. O'Malley	(Pres't)

AYES 7

NOES 1

(MR. ROBINSON VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the resolution passed finally.

Mr. Robinson, Mr. Woods and Michelle Madoff presents

Bill No. 3419 WHEREAS, the City of Pittsburgh has worked diligently for the last twelve years to develop and implement a comprehensive group home-group care facility program; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Planning-City of Pittsburgh, the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh and the Council of the City of Pittsburgh have worked cooperating with numerous civic and neighborhood organizations to develop an amendment to our zoning ordinance which is a national model for group home legislation in the United States; and

WHEREAS, the community and government concern for this issue reaches far beyond the City of Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, the County of Allegheny has addressed similar issues relative to group treatment, group care and rehabilitation institutions, and their decisions will impact upon the residents of our City.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, on behalf of the citizens of the City of Pittsburgh, will not approve the establishment of any additional group homes or group care facilities funded by the county or the state until such time that the Commissioners of Allegheny County establish a mutually agreeable procedure to jointly address the issue of group homes and related institutions in our City and Allegheny County.

Mr. Woods moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Stone seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Robinson:

I'd just like to give one point of clarification and Mr. Woods can correct me if I'm wrong. The intent of this resolution is to try to get some balance between the County and the City's responsibilities for group homes so that we don't have more in the City than our situation would dictate; that the County would share some of the responsibility.

Mr. Woods:

I vote aye and I'd just like to add to what Mr. Robinson said. Right now, we have approximately 41 licensed group homes or halfway houses in the City of Pittsburgh. They say there's 22 out in the County other than the City of Pittsburgh. I believe it should be just the opposite.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the resolution?

And on the question, "Shall the resolution pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. Robinson
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Stone
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. Woods
Mr. O'Malley	Mr. DePasquale (Pres't)

AYES 8

NOES none

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the resolution passed finally.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, for the record, the next group home, Mr. Woods, if it were to be built in the City of Pittsburgh, would be built in the middle of the Monongahela or the Allegheny. There isn't any other room. They better take the responsibility.

Mr. O'Malley:

I need some clarification concerning all of these resolutions and concerning Mr. Flaherty's legislation to hire a solicitor. A resolution, to my understanding, is just a concensus, the feelings of members of Council. All this discussion today does not make this resolution law, that we must hire a solicitor. This is not the law; this is just a concensus of this Council.

Mr. Flaherty:

It's up to the City Solicitor's Office to accept the recommendation which he implied that they would.

The Chair:

In effect, the City Solicitor is the only one that can hire them, Mr.

O'Malley.

Mr. O'Malley:

But what I'm saying is that this resolution is just a consensus of this Council. This is not the law of the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Flaherty:

Well, you wouldn't have any law until the ink on the contract is dry between whatever firm the City is going to contract with.

Mr. O'Malley:

So, it's up to the Solicitor to draw up a contract to have this firm represented.

Mr. Flaherty:

Sure.

Mr. Robinson:

Just two quick points, if I might. One relates to a letter I received from the Chairperson of the Human Relations Commission, Mrs. Constance Wellons, concerning Council's action to request that the Port Authority name the new busway in honor of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

The last paragraph reads: "It is our hope Council will act to renew efforts to name an appropriate public street, park, or facility in the name of Dr. King."

The Commission was somewhat disappointed that we did not take action to name some public street or facility here in the City but they are supportive of our efforts to get Port Authority to move in that direction.

I'd like to have a copy of this letter entered into the record.

(LETTER - COMMISSION ON HUMAN RELATIONS)

July 15, 1983

The Honorable William R. Robinson
Member of Council
City of Pittsburgh
Fifth Floor, City-County Building
Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15219-2464

Dear Mr. Robinson:

The Commission on Human Relations has noted with great disappointment that Council did not act to memorialize the name of the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. by naming an appropriate public street or facility in his name.

While we have sent a general expression of support to the Port Authority Board for its efforts to date in this matter, it is our firm conviction that the City needs to act favorably to honor the name and memory of Dr. King.

It is our hope Council will act to renew efforts to name an appropriate public street, park, or facility in the name of Dr. King.

Sincerely,

Constance Wellons
Chairperson

CW/JEG/jr

(END OF LETTER)

The last comment I have relates to the potential foreclosure on the Phoenix Hill Shopping Mall by the Urban Redevelopment Authority. I'm sure Council is aware that that foreclosure is imminent and probably will take place in September. While I don't necessarily agree with foreclosure as the means of solving some of the problems there, I certainly recognize URA's position as our agent to protect our interest because there are monies that are owed to the City of Pittsburgh and I certainly want to thank them for moving swiftly to protect our interest. But there is a community concern that the original intent of Council's support and the Mayor's support of that project be maintained. It's my understanding in October the URA, after they have title to the property, will secure an operator for the supermarket portion and then within 120 days they will select a new owner of the total complex. It's the community's understanding that from the very outset, this City's support of that project certainly was to make sure there would be some community ownership and operation as well as to further some of the goals that this City has established in terms of neighborhood economic development.

I think it would be appropriate for Council to get a letter from the URA outlining for us what process or procedure they are going to initiate to turn this facility over to a new owner and whether or not they will be able to address the concern that many residents have that neighborhood residents have an opportunity to be a part of the equity, ownership, in this mall and that that process be one that can be identified and that people will know how they should go about applying to URA or making their intentions known that they'd like to be come the new owners.

I say this because I don't believe that the URA is insensitive to the issue of neighborhood ownership nor do I believe they're insensitive to trying to stick to the original intention of this City's support of that project.

If we could get some clarification in writing, I think it would be helpful to all concerned. Thank you.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to congratulate Pete Vaughn. He went to a meeting and he wrote a note thanking us for allowing him to attend the Municipal Finance Officers Association Annual Conference held in Toronto, Canada and in just a page and a half outlined what he had learned and what he worked on. If everybody that we okay funds for for travelling did that, I would feel a lot better about it. I think he did a very good job.

The Chair:

He didn't bring us any souvenirs.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, I was wondering if we could call a post agenda for this Wednesday in regard to the City Department of Personnel's recommendations regarding an outplacement employment program for CAP employees. Could we have Melanie Smith there and there will be negotiators from the CAP employees and could you also ask Jim Henry, Executive Director of the Hill House to also attend. Thank you.

Mr. O'Malley moved to excuse Mr. Givens for absence from the meeting.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff moved to approve the minutes from Monday, June 27, 1983, Tuesday, July 5, 1983, and Monday, July 11, 1983.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Robinson

Council adjourned.

ONE-HUNDRED TWENTY-SECOND COUNCIL

PRESENT:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. Robinson
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Stone
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. Woods
Mr. O'Malley	Mr. DePasquale (Pres't)

ABSENT:

Mr. Givens

The Meeting was opened by the recitation of the pledge of allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

PRESENTATIONS

Mr. Flaherty presented

No. 3420 An Ordinance amending Ordinance No. 21, effective July 11, 1983, entitled, "An Ordinance providing for the notification of plant closings, reductions or relocations.", by making various changes.

Which was read and referred to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. Flaherty moved to suspend Rule 8 by providing for consideration of the bill only until or after the 9th calendar day following the meeting in which the bill was introduced so the bill will be on the agenda this Wednesday.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Mr. O'Malley:

I. received a copy of the amendments Friday, I believe it was, and I'm not sure any other member of Council have received the amendments yet.

Mr. Perry:

I haven't passed them out.

Mr. O'Malley:

In other words, no other member of Council received the amendments and you're asking for suspension of Rule 8 which would bring it up this Wednesday.

Mr. Flaherty:

Yes, that would give you two days.

Michelle Madoff:

It takes twenty minutes at the most.

Mr. Flaherty:

Yes, it only takes a few minutes.

Mr. O'Malley:

I disagree with that.

Mr. Flaherty:

They're primarily technical amendments and it is of great urgency to have these amendments included because I'm sure that all members of Council are aware of the pending court action. I know, Councilman O'Malley, you were in opposition to the plant closing notification bill but I would hope that you would see perhaps in one quick perusal of the proposed amendments that they were simply of a technical nature and they are essentially just going to clear up some of the inconsistencies and the ambiguities which now exist in the language. If by Wednesday, if you feel that you do need more sufficient time in that you haven't had the time to comprehend the amendments, then perhaps on Wednesday we could talk about holding it.

Mr. O'Malley:

I agree with you, Mr. Flaherty, I am in opposition to the plant closing notification as it is written here. You made the statement that it was legislation for the '80's. I think you're certainly right but I think it's for the 1880's, not the 1980's.

I stated before that the original legislation was a very poor piece of legislation and very poorly written. It's seven pages long, the original legislation. Here I have the amendments that are also seven pages long.

Mr. Flaherty:

The amendment are the whole bill.

Mr. O'Malley:

Mr. Flaherty, when I'm finished. You're exactly right. The amendments are the whole bill. Almost every paragraph, every sentence, has one type of amendment or another. I've been looking it over since Friday and I have my office in the process of going over it paragraph by paragraph so I can see exactly what the changes are.

I'm going to leave it up to my fellow Councilmembers to make the decision, but I'm going to vote no to waive Rule 8 because I think this is the most important piece of legislation that's come up in the three and one half years that I've been on this Council because of the dire consequences it's going to have on the City of Pittsburgh if it passes.

The Chair:

Excuse me, Mr. O'Malley, what difference would a week make?

Mr. O'Malley:

That's what I'm saying. I don't think two days is adequate time for yourself, Mr. Stone, Michelle and the rest of my colleagues to really digest what is in the amendments as opposed to what is in the legislation that has already passed.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, I don't agree with Councilman O'Malley. I think you can read these over and make up a qualified opinion as to the merits of the amendments in a half hour. As Councilman O'Malley has said, sure it is seven pages because what we have is the entire bill and to facilitate it for all members of Council, we have the entire bill here and we either have brackets around what is going to be deleted or we underline what is added. These amendments are not seven pages. The amendments may only be a page, I don't know, but that is not a significant issue.

As I said, I would hope that if we do have to have a roll call vote that my colleagues would move to waive Rule 8, especially if they have been supportive of the plant notification ordinance because, as I had said earlier, these are simply technical amendments and they are simply to tighten the language in the original bill. There are not any substantive changes. We are not changing the amount of time for the notification nor are we establishing a bureau to administer to an ailing company or corporation.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'd just like to make one more statement. I think Mr. Flaherty realizes, along with my colleagues, when you're dealing with legislation or you're dealing in writing laws, words are very important. Words govern exactly what that legislation and that law specifically states. There is not one sentence or one paragraph out of the seven pages of the original legislation that was introduced that has not been changed in one form or another. So, I disagree with my colleague as he says they are technical changes. Words are very important when we deal with the law, especially a law of this magnitude.

I would urge my colleagues to take the full ten days to study this. I don't see what the rush is when this piece of legislation, as I stated before, is going to have dire consequences for the City of Pittsburgh. I would urge my colleagues to read this very carefully before they formulate their opinion.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, if I may. I have not seen the amendments yet but I'd be remiss if I didn't point out that I sat here and listened when Councilman Flaherty chastised others for not taking, as he said, the six months in which to make the necessary changes, the full time that they had to make changes. He manifested in rather strong emotional language that this bill was legal and he wanted everybody to do it and here he is now making some changes to it. I'm at a loss to understand. What was good for the others should likewise be good for him now. If the others didn't look at it before then why didn't he look at it before? We've been telling these people we're going to do something for them, we've been telling them we have a panacea to all the problems that exist, and here we are right now, we said it was legal, there's no problem, and less than eight days later we have someone coming up with, I haven't seen them, but somebody is saying six or seven pages of changes. If it needs six or seven pages of changes, I think we ought to start looking. It's becoming more crystal clear that when I asked that we send this thing back to look at it so that we do something that gets more toward a legal end.

As you recall my vote, and I want to remind everybody on it, I felt that something had to be done but I did feel the legislation was wrong. I asked tha it go back to Committee for changes and nobody wanted it to go back to Committee for changes. Here we are right now with some six or seven pages, again, I haven't seen them so I don't know whether they're substantive or whether they're nothing. If they're nothing then we shouldn't waste the time. If they're substantive then why wasn't it done as Mr. Flaherty chastised everybody else during the long six months that existed when this was under consideration by Council. It's not fair to these people to tell them you're doing something and you're doing it wrong.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, my understanding, having talked to the sponsors of the bill, SNAC people who are here in the audience today, is that because the case is going to court and as all attorneys know and even quasi attorneys like myself, that things change. If you're going to try and win a case sometimes you have to do a little housekeeping on the bill, make it more palatable, make it more efficient, and make it more legally binding.

I have reviewed the amendments. I did it in five minutes walking down the hall. What they're doing essentially is saying that if one part of the bill were to be null and void, the way it's written right now, all of the bill would be null and void. They're trying to handle it so that it would be a more responsible bill. I don't think there's a person at this table, even those that voted against it or the person who abstained, who doesn't believe, and has stated publicly, that we need to do something to protect people who have been callously thrown into the streets after giving many years of their life to their jobs. What this amendment is trying to do is to hope to clean it up so that when we go into court we have some strong legal grounds to stand on. As our attorney member of Council knows, it happens all the time, he changes language in his briefs all the time. It's done constantly. The brief that three of us filed against five members of Council on the fiscal advisor was rewritten four times. That is not unusual. As Councilman Flaherty has stated, I don't wish to speak to him but I think he was quite clear, all he's asking is that if you can be prepared by Wednesday, fine. If on Wednesday you find you need more time, then there's no problem. You're not married to Wednesday. But we want to get on with the legal case and let the courts decide this and not leave more and more people going without jobs all the time without any recourse. That's what it's all about.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, if certain members of Council feel that they cannot comprehend these amendments within a couple days, then on Wednesday we can talk about holding it for another week. I think that it is imperative, as Councilwoman Michelle Madoff has said, we are under certain time restrictions as far as hopefully being able to enact these amendments because I think it would be a shame for the proponents for the people that had the guts to take a stand one way or the other on the bill. I think it is only right that we continue and if we believe in a plant notification ordinance that we continue to strengthen it and protect it because it is our baby. If we don't, then we continue to try to get a delay and eventually try to kill it. Or if we're in between and we want to abstain again, then we abstain again.

For whatever reasons, I would just hope that we do something and I would just urge my colleagues that if you do believe in what we did here a few weeks ago and if you're really interested in protecting the measure and if you're really interested in asserting yourself in this City and being a true voice for the working people of this City, then you will not abandon the fight now and let this bill stagnate and be delayed and play into the hands of the people that are opposed to giving a legitimate amount of time to working people before they're terminated.

The Chair:

I think issues are clear and I think the question should be called for on the waiver.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, I'd like to add something. Many, many days in Council we invoke Rule 8. Actually, we have more than two days. We can discuss these amendments on Wednesday, we take final action the following Monday, which is seven days. If we don't agree with it in those seven days, then we vote the amendment down.

Mr. O'Malley:

It comes up on Wednesday.

Mr. Woods:

In Committee on Wednesday, final action a week from today. So, we have a full seven days.

The Chair:

Voting on a waiver certainly isn't final action.

Roll call vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

I support the amendments, Mr. President, and I honestly think that the people that are for plant closing are going to vote, hopefully, to have as quick a resolution as possible on this and those who are opposed to the concept of plant closing notification will vote to continue to stall the measure.

Mr. Stone:

I'm voting to waive Rule 8 but it does not take away, in any respect, from what I just said. I think those proponents who pulled the wool over everybody's eyes by saying that this bill was 100 percent legal when the City Solicitor said it was not and that they rechecked with their lawyer and their lawyer said that what the City Solicitor said was incorrect and manifested very strongly and emotionally with a full packed house, in front of a full gallery, that they were right, and now they're coming back later, in less than some eight or nine days, and making amendments to it covering some six or seven pages. It seems to me if anyone hasn't opened their eyes here before, they had better start opening their eyes as to where we're going. The worst thing you can do with people who are not working is to pretend to help them when really you're not. The worst thing you can do is pass an illegal act so that they think that they've got hope when actually they have nothing. We should not be giving them fool's gold, as I said earlier.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Which was read and referred to the Committee on Water.

Michelle Madoff:

There's no way I'm submitting this bill. It's not going to be repaired. I will not submit the bill. What do I do with it?

Mr. Perry:

You have to.

Michelle Madoff:

What do you mean I have to?

Mr. Perry:

It's legislation.

The Chair:

You can hold it on Wednesday, Michelle, or table it.

Michelle Madoff:

But do I have to submit it if the Department Head wants it in? Don't I, as head of the Committee, reserve the right not to submit a bill?

The Chair:

You have to submit the bill but you can table it or vote against it.

Parliamentarian:

You can submit it then make a motion to table it.

Michelle Madoff:

We haven't submitted it yet. Why do I even have to submit it? Why don't I not submit it at all?

The Chair:

By law you have to submit it.

Michelle Madoff:

Why does the law say that I have to submit it? Because the Department Head wants it? Is that correct, Mr. Stone?

Mr. Stone:

If you don't want to present it personally, you don't have to. I'm sure there's eight others —

Michelle Madoff:

I hope there aren't eight other dopes who are going to pay $4,000 for the seventh time for a seventeen year old back-hoe that you can buy for $17,000 that's worth $80,000.

Mr. Stone:

Nobody said they were going to do one thing or the other. The question is whether you present the legislation or not.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm asking whether, legally, I have to present it or it has to be presented by this Council, when a Department Head wants it presented. If not, I want to give it back to them and tell them to buy a repossessed back-hoe.

The Chair:

Michelle, you have to present it or someone has to present it and on Wednesday you can table it.

Michelle Madoff:

Why don't we hold it until I check with them —

The Chair:

Because you can't.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm not sure. I'm not familiar with that section of Council's rules.

Mr. Stone:

Michelle, if it pains you to put it in, I'll put it in for you.

Michelle Madoff:

Don't do me any favors, Mr. Stone. I'm sure you'd be happy to repair a seventeen year old back-hoe for $4,000. That mentality I don't need.

Parliamentarian:

Have the agent representative —

Michelle Madoff:

And I'm not the agent representative, Mr. Cosentino is. Is that what you're telling me? Thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

I have a question on that. What's the property for and who is it going to? I happen to know some of those properties in the 19th Ward have been giveaways.

Mr. Stone:

They're not going anywhere. They're taken away from who it was supposed to go to.

Michelle Madoff:

I want to know why. I want to know what's happening. There's some big lots out there that people could be getting once we get on the tube with that.

I just wanted to know what it was. I don't want to vote in a vacuum.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Mr. Robinson:

In reference to Council Bill 3362, which last Wednesday we referred to the Board of Code Review, I'd like to share with Council a memorandum and then offer a motion. This memorandum was sent to me by Paul J. Imhoff who is our Superintendent of Building Inspection and it is in reference to Council Bill 3362.

"I have been directed by Bernard Liff, Chairman of the Board of Code Review, to request the delay in the hearing on Bill 3362. The ordinance requires that the Board meet within 45 days of submission by Council of any proposed additions or changes to the Building or Fire Codes. The deadline for this bill will be August 27.

Our Board already has a meeting scheduled for September 13 at 9:30 a.m. The Board is requesting that Council waive the 45 days and permit the Board to review Council Bill 3362 on September 13, 1983. The feeling is that we could not establish a quorum if two meetings were called so close to each other. Please advise if this is acceptable.

Thank you for your consideration.

Paul J. Imhoff
Superintendent"

In light of the fact that we will be on vacation on August 27 and also the practical problems that the Board of Code Review has with getting a quorum, I'd like to make a motion that we waive the 45 day rule and allow the Board of Code Review to consider Council Bill 3362 at their September 13, 1983 meeting.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to ask that Local President Charles Black and Carl Scherdher if I pronounced it correctly, Chairman of Division A, please join me.

Mr. Perry is preparing a formal resolution in a frame and we'll see that we get it to you if you give Carmen Gunther, my aide, your address. She'll see that you get it.

Michelle Madoff presents

Bill No. 3451 WHEREAS, a labor dispute exists between Equitable Gas of Pittsburgh and Local 12050 of the United Steelworkers of America (USWA) that resulted in a strike which began February 8, 1983, by 565 workers; and

WHEREAS, the climate for a settlement is not apparent when Equitable Gas cancels bargaining sessions scheduled by a federal mediator, threatening public safety and gas service to some 243,000 gas users in and around the City of Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, the strike has caused Equitable Gas to not provide gas leak repair service as required to protect public safety, and a 16-inch main gas line along Sixth Avenue between Grant and Wood Streets cannot be removed as needed to allow completion of subway and street construction; and

WHEREAS, a state Public Utility Commission report reveals Equitable Gas has the highest number of customer complaints among the state's six major gas companies, but a recent PUC order approved a $41.4 million rate increase request of Equitable Gas, while the company has saved more than $8 million in labor costs during the current strike;

and

WHEREAS, Equitable Gas is treating its customers and workers with equal scorn by not providing necessary gas service at the lowest cost and an unwillingness to reach a negotiated agreement with its workforce.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Pittsburgh City Council call upon Equitable Gas to immediately begin negotiations to seek a settlement with the negotiating representatives of Local 12050 of the United Steelworkers of America.

Michelle Madoff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Mr. Stone:

Michelle, I have a question on that. I don't have any problem with the general intent here but we are using some rather strong language. In the third Whereas, because of the strike they can't get to it or is it Equitable Gas not wanting to do it?

Mr. Black:

Right now, there is 565 members in our union and they're working with approximately 95 supervisors maintaining that kind of work.

Mr. Stone:

My question is a little more pointed. Relative to that problem that exists at Grant and Wood, are they not doing it or is the strike preventing it?

Mr. Black:

They are not doing it because, I believe, they don't have supervisors qualified to do that. That's my belief.

Mr. Stone:

Okay.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't think it really matters. The end result is that they're not doing it. I think that's what you would want to see done. You want to see it done, I want to see it done.

Mr. Stone:

The only problem is, Michelle, believe it or not, in some of these statements we're getting close to what might be libelous. We're saying they're injuring public safety.

Michelle Madoff:

They certainly are and I'll stand by that. May I remind you what happened to West End-Elliott in the hearing we had with the people and the water leaks?

Mr. Stone:

Everybody knows that I don't have any love for Equitable Gas so let's just stop there, okay?

The other one is, and I wonder whether this kind of embellishment is necessary when we're trying to solve a labor problem, and that is that they're treating its customers and workers with equal scorn.

Michelle Madoff:

They're not negotiating so what are they doing?

Mr. Stone:

What's that got to do with the customers?

Michelle Madoff:

If you don't negotiate you won't resolve the problems and you cannot treat your customers the way they should be treated.

Mr. Stone:

I think the thing we're after is that we want them to go back into bona fide negotiations to end the strike. I think that has more substance and more meaning and some of the side issues tend to take away from it.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't think it does. I think you cannot ask for a resolution and press for the urgency without giving reasons.

For example, do you recall that in West End-Elliott we had the problem where they had exhausts? They still have them in West End-Elliott. They still have pipes. People came to this hearing very distraught. I'm ashamed of the Council that existed at that time that would not come up with a mere $5,000 when we couldn't determine whether the villain or the plot was the City who caused the gas leak or the water leak or whether it was the gas company, Equitable, that caused our leak. We should have taken that of Council funds. It was a mere $5,000.

The Chair:

Michelle, stay on the issue.

Michelle Madoff:

I am staying on the issue. I'm pointing out that Equitable is an irresponsible company compared to other companies. I have no love for them. I have been at hearings myself where Equitable's P.R. person got up and when I questioned the fact that we had so many gas leaks in the West End area, the idiot representing Equitable Gas got up and said, "We have leaks all over the City", like they're proud of it.

The Chair:

Excuse me, we're going to vote on this motion. We're making a farce out of it.

Michelle Madoff:

We're not making a farce out of it. We're trying to explain why we have this resolution and why we feel so strongly about it.

The Chair:

Roll call vote on the resolution.

Mr. Flaherty:

I vote aye and I believe that all of the Whereas in the resolution are in order. It's important to keep in mind that Equitable Gas is the public utility. It's important to keep in mind that this Council is the public legislative body which is concerned with public matters and I have to agree with Councilwoman Michelle Madoff that the language in there regarding concern for the public's safety, concern for the public's expenditures, which are certainly, or possibly if not certainly, possibly are being impacted by Equitable Gas' lack of resolve to sit down at the bargaining table is certainly a concern of this Council and this Council should take a responsible stand on it.

Mr. O'Malley:

I agree with Michelle here that Equitable Gas certainly has a responsibility to the safety of the residents of the City of Pittsburgh and I also stand in line with the union here that Equitable Gas has an obligation to negotiate in good faith.

I support the resolution.

Mr. Stone:

I think everybody knows that I don't have any love for Equitable Gas and nobody has attacked them more than I have in the past. I don't object to any Councilman making any remarks that they want to make but I think there is a principle here that needs to be upheld and that is that we should not, in resolutions, be embellishing to the point that we are going afiel from that which is the intent of the legislation.

For that reason, I vote no.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty
Michelle Madoff
Mrs. Masloff

Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Robinson
Mr. DePasquale
(Pres't)

AYES 6

NOES 1

(MR. STONE VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the motion passed finally.

Michelle Madoff:

May I address the issue now? There are 95 supervisors doing the work of 565 gas service workers. It is not humanly possible to fill that role. They had been ordered under law to meet and they have been very disdainful with a public-be-damned attitude. They have received a $41.4 million rate increase, that's a matter of public record in the media, and the fact by not having the people out working there is an $8 million saving and there's no question in anybody who has an environmental background, if you check it out, that that is a danger to public safety. I don't think there's anything in this resolution that isn't fact and would not stand on its own merit and, Mr. Stone, may I point out that the resolution says, "Therefore be it resolved, that the Pittsburgh City Council and the Mayor call upon Equitable Gas to immediately begin negotiations to seek a settlement with the negotiating representatives", and obviously that would be in good faith and I don't think there's anything wrong with that.

Mr. Stone:

Michelle, if I may just clear it up a little bit. I have no objections to the last resolve. The first resolve is not necessary and I think it goes further than is possible and I don't think we should attempt or border in getting close to slanderous and libelous material in our efforts to do good.

I said earlier it's a principle that I think we should watch in resolutions. We have no license to be taking off on people. Even though we want to solve a labor dispute, there's no question that everyone wants all parties in a labor dispute to enter into bona fide negotiations. Equitable Gas, perhaps, should have done that a long time ago but, nevertheless, I think we ought to restrict ourselves to bona fide negotiations.

Michelle Madoff:

These are bona fide statements here and truth is its own defense.

Mr. Black:

My name is Charles Black, I'm President of the Local 12050 of the United Steelworkers of America which represents the Equitable Gas Company employees.

This strike has been going on into its sixth month. No longer do we feel that it's just a workers' strike. We haven't felt that way for quite some time. We believe the public's safety is involved. We believe that the 95 supervisors that are currently doing the work that we were doing are not that qualified and absolutely not expertise enough to do the work that our members provided for the gas company customers.

Fortunately, there has been nothing seriously major that's happened to any of the consumers since we've been out on strike but that could happen any day. Every attempt made by the union to resolve this strike, we've had 22 negotiation sessions since February 8 in efforts to resolve it, we've bent over backwards trying to resolve the issues and every time we come close it seems like the company feels that they've had them out this long so let's get everything that they want.

There just seems to be no compromise. Our efforts have been fruitless and we are appealing to the City Council for any help that you may be able to give us. We would sure appreciate it if some action could be taken to get the company to negotiate fairly and keeping the consumers in mind as well as the 565 members that have been without work for six months.

Michelle Madoff:

I would also like to recommend that this resolution and transcript of the dialogue sent to the PUC Chairman. The company is only going to respond if it has public pressure and enough where it hurts and where they get their $41 million is influenced. I want to see that the PUC has the comments of this Council today.

Mr. Black:

I'd like to thank City Council for taking an interest in this issue.

Mr. Scherdher:

My name is Carl Scherdher of Division A which takes care of the City and the surrounding communities.

The only thing I'd like to say is that since we've been on strike we've been trying to monitor their calls and keep reports on where they go and when they leave the shop in the morning from our division. To the best of our knowledge, 99 percent of their work is new service. We've installed over 50 vents that we know of and we're only talking about what they leave with since this strike has begun in the City and the surrounding communities. None of the leaks have been repaired. In my own neighborhood alone, which is in Carrick, we have a 60 percent gas leak in front of a church, St. Basil's Church. It has three vents sitting in front of it, they have been there for over five months and there has been no attempt whatsoever since this strike began to repair that leak or do anything about it and it has not been checked since the day the vents have been installed.

As far as the 16' mainline which they have to run from Grant Street down to Wood, our union has no intention whatsoever of letting the company personnel install that main while there are union people working that job.

We just want to bring this to your attention. Thank you.

The Chair:

Thank you, gentlemen. Thank you very much. Let's hope that this resolution certainly can resolve this strike. I didn't realize it was that long.

Mr. O'Malley presents

Bill No. 3452 WHEREAS, Pittsburgh has one of the finest police departments in the country and therefore it is the responsibility of the City of Pittsburgh to maintain a continuous educational and physical format for its officers; and

WHEREAS, being a police officer is a highly stressful and emotional occupation; and.

WHEREAS, the divorce rate among police officers is higher than the national average which is attributed to the continuous stress an officer receives on a daily basis; and

WHEREAS, the City has a responsibility to these officers to maintain a high standard of excellence.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the City

Council of the City of Pittsburgh urges the Caliguirri Administration to help fund regional exercise facilities starting with No. 5 Police Station so that the officers can maintain the physical standard of excellence.

Mr. O'Malley moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Flaherty seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. Would you be open to an amendment?

Mr. O'Malley:

Certainly.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to also suggest that for the police we have an in-house, full time psychologist available. I think the police are under such stress. When they see someone killed, when they witness some of the most horrifying accidents, it has to take it's emotional toll on the people.

If you want to do it as a separate resolution, that's fine, but if we're appropriating funds, why not have like the schools do, they have in-house psychologists for the students. I have talked to a number of the policemen and they would like to have this in a confidential manner where they have somebody they can talk to.

Mr. O'Malley:

I agree with you, Michelle, but I'd like to do this as a separate resolution.

The reason I put this up today is that my understanding is that they're going to close the second or third floor of No. 5 Police Station.

I think police officers are one of the most valuable resources we have in this City. Once an officer graduates from the Academy, there is no physical standards for them to maintain and there is no facilities for officers to go out and work out their frustration and their stress.

The officers in No. 5 and No. 8 Police Station are putting in their own money, they're buying their own equipment and they're setting up their own exercise programs. I certainly think this should be a responsibility of this Council and of the Administration.

Mrs. Masloff:

Did you say this isn't going to cost the City anything?

Mr. O'Malley:

Certainly it's going to cost the City something.

Mrs. Masloff:

How much?

Mr. O'Malley:

Well, I have Daryl Smith bringing up plans in No. 5 Police Station now, the plans he has to close it up. I'm going to ask an architect to draw up plans to turn that into one of the first regional exercise facilities for police or for firemen.

What we have now is officers at No. 5 Police Station and No. 8 and other police precincts who have pitched in their own money to set up their own physical exercise program. I've talked to the inspectors and I've talked to the men and a lot of the officers would enjoy, once they came off duty, if they could go up and work out. One of the inspectors have lost 30 pounds. I think it's a program where an officer encourages his fellow officers to come in and maintain a physical standard of excellence.

Mrs. Masloff:

But you have no estimate of how much this is going to cost?

Mr. O'Malley:

No, but when I draw up the legislation I'll present that to this Council.

Mr. Stone:

It's going to have to come up at budget time but I agree with your intent here. There's no question that the City of Pittsburgh, even with the outlay of money, will gain a benefit in return. The officer will be more able to function in an emergency situation, will be in better shape, will have longer life, and we won't have to go through having training situation. It's on the right track, in my opinion.

Mr. O'Malley:

I think we're overlooking the important thing here. We pay out hundreds of thousands of dollars in compensation for every police officer that's hurt on the job. Most of them are officers that are hurt because of strains because of back problems caused by overweight. Where we can save the one compensation case would fund one of these exercise facilities.

The Chair:

How does this help the divorce rate?

Mr. O'Malley:

All I'm saying is that it might help an officer to work out his frustrations instead of taking those frustrations home.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, I just have two letters that I'd like to have entered into the record. One is from the Urban League of Pittsburgh which supports the Port Authority renaming the East Busway in honor of Dr. Martin Luther King and the second letter is from Womanspace East thanking this Council for our assistance in helping them secure the necessary funds to rehabilitate a building in the Uptown section of Pittsburgh.

(LETTER - URBAN LEAGUE OF PITTSBURGH, INC.)

July 19, 1983

The Board of Directors
Port Authority of Allegheny County
c/o The Hon. James A. Romanelli,
Chairman
Beaver and Island Avenues
Pittsburgh, PA 15233

Dear Mr. Romanelli:

I am writing this letter to add the endorsement of the Urban League of Pittsburgh to those you have already received in support of the naming of the new East Busway after the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

As you know, during his brief adult life, Dr. King worked tirelessly to bring about love, peace and unity among all people. For this reason alone, this proposed memorial is fitting. Yet, as we consider this proposal and elicit your positive response, we are reminded that it was an incident on a bus in the South that was the impetus for the Civil Rights movement. We remember Rosa Parks who, after working all day, was tired and refused to move to the rear of a bus which she boarded to go home. Little did she know that this one action would light a spark and change the course of racial policies in this country. The rest, of course, is now history which has recorded that a young man — Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. — accepted the call to organize and lead the black community against longstanding racist policies, including the desegregation of public transportation. His efforts to achieve equality and peace were accorded one of the world's most prestigious awards — the Nobel Peace Prize.

As Dr. King had a dream that, one day, all people could live, work and yes, even play together, in an atmosphere of peace, so did our leaders here have a dream that neighborhoods of our city could be brought together via rapid transit. Our new Busway is the fulfillment of that dream and we are proud that such a structure exists which is so appropriately symbolic of the ideals for which Dr. King stood.

The members and staff of the Urban League of Pittsburgh join me in urging your approval of the naming of the Martin Luther King, Jr. East Busway.

Sincerely,

Arthur J. Edmunds
Executive Director

(LETTER - WOMANSPACE EAST, INC.)

July 22, 1983

Councilman Wm. R. Robinson
5th Floor
City County Building
Pittsburgh, PA 15219

Dear Councilman Robinson:

On behalf of members of the Womanspace East Inc. Board of Directors and staff, I am writing this letter of "Thanks". Recently you sponsored a resolution recommending City Council to approve a grant in the amount of $50,000 to purchase property at 2001 Fifth Avenue.

As a result of your support, Womanspace East is expanding its shelter program. The property, a twelve unit apartment building owned by URA, will be used to house homeless women and children.

Although it has been thirty (30) days and we are still waiting final approval, your sincere interest in working with community agencies is quite evident. Your concern solidifies a good working relationship.

Thank you for a favorable decision.

Sincerely,

Helen V. Hull
Executive Director

Michelle Madoff presents

Bill No. 3544 WHEREAS, the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives adopted a Joint Resolution designating August 3, 1983 as Paralyzed Veterans of America Recognition Day; and

WHEREAS, the President of the United States will issue a similar proclamation; and

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Members of Pittsburgh City Council hereby join the many interested groups and organizations in designating August 3, 1983 as Paralyzed Veterans of America Recognition Day and commend those persons in our society on whom life has bestowed the additional burdens of being handicapped and hope that their will and determination will serve as an example for us to live courageously in the fact of seemingly insurmountable problems, and inspire us to live together in dignity and in love.

Michelle Madoff moved to approve the resolution.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

William Monfredo,
Chapter Service Director of the Tri State Chapter of Paralyzed Veterans of America:

On behalf of all the Paralyzed
Veterans, I wish to thank City Council

The Chair:

Thank you, sir.

Bill No. 3545 WHEREAS, on Advocacy for Women will participate in a Prayer Rally in Market Square at 7:30 p.m., in protest of the high occurrence of delinquent child support payments; and

WHEREAS, the group presented
Common Pleas Court's Family Division with a petition bearing the signatures of over 6,000 persons, calling for stricter enforcement of support payments; and

WHEREAS, there were over 3,800 civil contempt hearings last year, and the local courts have certified that there have been 2,561 cases amounting to $7 million in unpaid support monies; and their children and most of these women can qualify only for minimum training jobs that do not provide medical benefits; and

WHEREAS, these absent fathers must be made to realize the importance of paying their obligation, and the serious consequences of failing to do so.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Members of Pittsburgh City Council hereby recognize August 8 to August 14, 1983 as "Support Your Child Week", to draw attention to the serious problem of delinquent child support, and to urge the courts to impose stricter enforcement of these laws.

Michelle Madoff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to make a comment on this bill. I have numerous friends who are in my age bracket, and I will confess that I'm over twenty, who really are having a very bad time. Many of them were married to well-to-do people. They don't have enough money to put bread on the table or shoes on their children and their husbands drive around in Cadillacs, have all the beautiful things in life, not just the basic needs, put their money i tax exempts or negotiables, and the wife can't even prove that he has all these things because he puts it in somebody else's name.

The burden doesn't fall just on women who are burdened with this problem but on all of us. On men too.
We have to then pick up the deficits and the tax structure of supporting children whose fathers don't want to support them. That, to me, is one of the biggest disgraces that I've ever seen, witnessed, or been involved in with my friends and the problems that they encounter. I would hope that this Council would not just have some rhetoric and support this bill, but we would send this off to the Courts, to the heads of all our Courts in Pennsylvania. I'd like a copy to go to the President of the United States. I'd like it to go to the Legislators from Pennsylvania and I would like to see a movement by this Council to meet with the Judges to see that, maybe the way Larsen was doing it didn't make everybody happy but yeah for Larsen for putting the fathers in jail.

Ms. Rose Palmer:

Thank you, Michelle. I want to announce that the month of August is proclaimed the National Month for Support Your Child here and throughout the nation. It's Senate Resolution 56 and House Bill 273 proclaiming the month of August as National Support Your Child Month.

We had this revised to meet this need here because Councilman Givens had proclaimed May 4 as that week but, much to my sadness, when I tried to call the Pittsburgh Press and Post Gazette to make it known, I was laughed at. They said, "Well, City Council always gives those resolutions so what's the news?" I said, "The news is that it's Support Your Child Week in Pittsburgh." They would do nothing about it. So, we contacted Michelle and we appreciate her revisions of this and proclaiming this coming week as Support Your Child here in Pittsburgh.

As you mentioned, a lot of the burden goes on the taxpayers. Are you well aware that 80 percent of the AFDC cases is due to non-support? These fathers do not support their children. Back there you see two little kids. There daddy is close to $5,000 in arrearages. He has an 18-wheeler, Mac truck, he's an independent trucker, a Cadillac, and supporting another woman and her daughter, but he cannot support his own two children.

Seven years ago if somebody would say, "Rose Palmer, you're going to be having a group for women going through separation and divorce", I would have laughed. You see, I was a doctor's wife. We went from a doctor's wife to poverty level for three years. He backed me into a corner. My daughter called her daddy begging him for money for a refrigerator. We lived for three months without a refrigerator, summer months. He said, "It's your tough luck".

My nickname is Slugger. I'll give you one reason. I became very angry and upset. I went over to the hospital where he is the Assistant Administrator and I let him have one. I really did. You back us into a corner and we're going to come out fighting. We're tired of being stepped on. Our children are hurting and what are you going to do about it? What is anybody going to do about it? Does anybody care? These are the future adults of tomorrow, future Senators, future President, City Councilwomen, Councilmen. Are they going to be more angry for what they're going through or are they going to be more loving and caring as adults because of what they're going through?

It's up to us to do something and I'm asking, please help us with our children. God bless you and thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

I just want to set the record straight, Rose. My ex-husband and I are very, very dear friends. He is the kind of person who does support my daughter. All doctors aren't bad. I just want to set that record straight.

I also want to point out that it isn't a matter of what profession they're in, I would like to know all the Legislators in Harrisburg who don't support their children. I'd love to see a run-through. Would you get that list for me? That would be some good ammunition for us to use.

One of the things we have to start doing ladies, or women, is to find out, as we were told by some of the people in the Courts and by some of the top attorneys, is to follow them. See what they're doing, where their money is being spent, and to find out just what you did, that he has a big truck and he has these means and then present those cases. If we have to, we'll all march with you on the Courts. You've got me marching with you.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President and members of Council, I have a resolution here that I was asked to introduce through representatives from the Thomas Merton Center. It is in regard to what is undoubtedly the most pressing issue in this country and probably in the world. That is the quest for peace and the end of the nuclear arms race.

Mr. Flaherty presents

Bill No. 3546 WHEREAS, the nuclear arms began with the dropping of a "small" atomic bomb on Hiroshima on August 6, 1945; and

WHEREAS, over 200,000 people, mostly civilians, were killed and the City destroyed; and

WHEREAS, since that time, the United States has increased and sophisticated its nuclear arsenal and has been matched by the Soviet Union; and

WHEREAS, the policy of preventing nuclear war by threatening second-strike retaliation has given way to a policy of threatening first-strike war-fighting; and

WHEREAS, the federal government has made these policies in close cooperation with weapons manufacturing corporations, two of the largest of which have headquarters in Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, we cannot threaten our adversaries with nuclear weapons without equally threatening ourselves; and

WHEREAS, only citizens acting in concert, can demand an end and a reversal to the arms race; and

WHEREAS, such action constitutes a genuine renaissance, that is a rebirth.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Members of Council of the City of Pittsburgh commemorate August 6, 1983, in remembrance of Hiroshima, and that to this end, Pittsburghers will join hands in a Golden Human Triangle reaching from Westinghouse headquarters to Rockwell headquarters to the Federal Building.

Mr. Flaherty moved to adopt the resolution.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Flaherty:

I would like to present Pat Furey who is going to speak on behalf of the Thomas Merton Center.

Ms. Furey:

I'm here today as a resident of Pittsburgh and a citizen of the world in support of Mr. Flaherty's resolution endorsing the Chain of Life, an event in which the people of Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania are coming together to say no to first-strike nuclear weapons, fund human needs, no intervention in Central America. I'd like to speak briefly to each of these demands which are distinct but closely related.

The United States and Soviet Union continue to spend billions of dollars annually supporting the development of weapons which have the capacity not only to destroy each other but to so seriously damage the environment, that the very continuation of the species is called into question. The danger of nuclear war becomes even more imminent as we go beyond a policy of deterrents and now look forward to the deployment of first-strike weapons, highly accurate armaments which have the capacity to destroy the other side's weapons before they are launched. First-strike weaponry is extremely perilous in that it creates a "get them before they get us" mentality which could have disastrous consequences in a crisis situation.

The immorality and tragedy of the arms race are even more apparent when we consider how a staggering U.S. defense budget, $1 trillion in the next few years, diverts funding from crucial human needs. There were over 25 million malnourished people in this country and 10 million who have never seen a doctor. Here in Western Pennsylvania we are becoming all too familiar with the indignities suffered by the thousands who are unemployed. Programs to develop and improve health care, education, mass transit and the environment go wanting while we all pay for a wasteful and ever escalating military budget.

Increasingly our concerns extend to the people of Central America. As the United States pursues military solutions to problems deeply rooted in economic and social injustice, we support governments which grossly violate human rights and undermine the peace initiatives of other countries in the region. In the name of peace and freedom we are engaging in war and encouraging oppression.

Over thirty groups and many individuals will be coming together next Saturday, the 38th anniversary of Hiroshima to state these concerns that I've just outlined. We are asking you here today to join with us and with them to say loudly and clearly, "No more Hiroshimas".

Thank you very much.

Michelle Madoff:

May I just add a comment? The one item that you neglected to mention, I'm sure it was an oversight, was that the jobs it created in the arms race do not equal the jobs in the private sector. We are not creating jobs by bombing people. It's better to make love than war.

The Chair:

Seriously, along with a million other troops I was out in the Pacific heading for Japan when they dropped the first A-bomb on Hiroshima. Everybody obviously felt good because they said the war was going to end and they were going to come home and probably wouldn't have to invade Japan and that's what happened. I wonder today when I think about it if they did the right thing and I guess a lot of other guys have felt the same way, that perhaps it was too big of a price to pay. But they did it and that ended World War II and now we're stuck with it.

Mr. O'Malley:

May I make just one comment on that? I think statistics will prove that if we didn't drop the bomb on Japan it would have cost an additional half million American lives. That was a tough decision to make there.

The Chair:

They said probably even more, Jim, but I'm saying was it worth it because look what we have today. As I said, at the time everybody was happy, at least I was and the guys out there heading for Japan, because they didn't have to take part in that invasion. But you have second thoughts on that bomb today.

Mr. Robinson presents

Bill No. 3547 WHEREAS, the officials of the City of Pittsburgh are charged with the responsibility of providing for the public health and safety of all residents and visitors, as well as, assuring a positive and wholesome atmosphere; and

WHEREAS, there are commonly accepted standards of public conduct, behavior, deportment and performance; and

WHEREAS, public performances and exhibitions often strain and test those standards; and

WHEREAS, the youth of our City and their parents are entertained by and financially supportive of rock concerts, musical presentations and live stage shows; and

WHEREAS, young people purchase the vast majority of records sold in the United States and minority youth purchase forty-five percent of all records sold.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, on behalf of its citizens, does request and implore the following of concert and live show promoters, as well as performers, who will be performing or conducting business in the City of Pittsburgh:

1. The development of rules and standards in conjunction with the City of Pittsburgh, to prohibit youth under the age of eighteen from purchasing tickets to adult oriented performances without the consent and approval of their parents.
2. The development of a rating system, modeled after the system used by the motion picture industry, which will determine the nature and audience for live performances.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the City of Pittsburgh will discourage the use of public facilities such as Three Rivers Stadium, the Civic Arena, and the David Leo Lawrence Convention Center by performers and promoters who show a callous disregard for commonly accepted standards of conduct and behavior.

Mr. Robinson moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

I think it needs some discussion. Bill, I'm a little confused. I don't think you can legislate morality. Are you saying that we're going to censure concerts coming into the City? I just don't quite understand the wording. I respect you very highly but I don't want to be in the censuring business.

The Chair:

He's saying to put a rating system on it like they have in the movies.

Michelle Madoff:

Would you clarify that for me, Mr. Robinson?

Mr. Robinson:

First of all, this resolution is not legislation. This is a general resolution similar to ones that we have adopted earlier today. I think that it's important to take note of the fact that while we cannot legislate morality, certainly on numerous occasions in this City, this Council and the Administration has expressed concern about the kinds of performances that exist in our City, particularly those associated with some of the activities along Liberty Avenue. We have moved in those areas, legal and moral, where we felt there was justification to indicate that there's certain types of activities that we'd prefer not to have in the City of Pittsburgh. I think if Council will remember the attempt over the last five and a half years to deal with live sex shows and other kinds of adult entertainment along the Liberty Avenue area.

I think we will be reminded that certainly this is an issue that many people take serious. I certainly support Mrs. Madoff and her concern about legislating morality. The resolution before Council today is requesting the cooperation of performers and promoters in attempting to continue this City as Someplace Special.

I think that other areas of entertainment do have some regulation. Thank goodness for those that regulate themselves such as the motion picture industry. But I think if we look at the expansion of rock concerts and live performances across the country and particularly in our City, I think all of us recognize that there are some difficulties, some excesses that are taken by certain performers, I think certain liberties that are taken, that maybe many of us shrug our shoulders at. But I don't think we should take lightly the impact on the people in our City and particularly our young people.

So, this resolution is geared for us trying to get some reasonable standards and some reasonable cooperation from the performers and from the promoters. I would hope that members of Council would take this issue seriously and recognize that we do promote this City as Someplace Special, we do try to encourage people to come here and stay here, and I think we do have an obligation to make sure that while they are here that they're not offended. There are a number of people who I think have gone to some of the rock concerts lately in the the City who are aghast and embarrassed at the kinds of performances that are put on by some of the promoters and some of the performers. And I think it goes without saying that many of these people have certainly contacted me and I certainly feel that this issue should be brought before this Council and I'm one who is willing to say that I don't believe that anything goes in this City and I would hope that this Council would continue to try to create an atmosphere in which those people who come here to perform recognize that anything won't go and that we will at least request their cooperation in trying to put on decent, wholesome, performances.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, I take the issue seriously and I am opposed to the resolution primarily because I feel that it is too broad, it's trying to cover too much ground. I believe that it is too arbitrary. There isn't any specification as to who is going to set the standards and judge. I also feel that it is impractical.

I can see, to a degree, the rating code used by the motion pictures industry but I think comparing films to rock concerts is comparing apples to oranges. I think that films certainly, in my mind, have expressed more of the violence and more of the sadism of life to a greater degree than I think any rock concert that we have had in this City has. I am not aware of rock concerts causing great peril to anyone. As far as the issue of our youth attending the live sex shows, I am not aware of that. I could support a resolution that was strictly along those lines. I think there is a time, a place and an age for live sex shows and sex in general. But, unfortunately, I have to oppose this resolution as a whole simply because I believe that it is trying to cover too much ground.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Robinson, would you be willing to introduce it in a two part kind of motion? I think that what you've done today is very meaningful because what you've done is call attention to a problem. Unlike my colleague, Councilman Flaherty, I do know there's a lot of problems at rock concerts and we have a lot of dope and a lot of people who just don't want to go back to that rowdiness and fighting and what have you.

But I think the issue boils down to, in my mind, the issue that you raise of grading them so that the parents can decide whether they're going to give their kids the money to go to these things. So, I would like to, if you would, withdraw that one today and introduce it again at a time where we could separate the two issues.

Mr. Robinson:

Well, this is the second time that the resolution has been introduced. It has been changed once. I think that there's certainly nothing in this resolution that's inconsistent with what you have said. I think, unfortunately, that many of us probably don't believe that it is as important to be concerned about what happens in this City in live performances as we do in terms of film performances. I think that if you talk to many of the parents who I have talked to, and even some of the promoters, they recognize that there is a problem and I think that to sweep the problem under the rug and perhaps not address it is not going to be, in the long run, in the best interest of the City.

This Council is aware that the Administration has indicated that they would like to see more live performances in our City as a way of generating income. I think most of us will support the whole notion that we'd like to generate more income in the City. But as we generate that income through these rock concerts and these live presentations, we will be facing and confronting some of the same difficulties that other cities have across this country.

Regardless of what we might think in terms of what goes on on Liberty Avenue, I don't think there's any difference between our attempt to address the concern on Liberty Avenue and our attempt to address the concern whether it be at the Civic Arena or the Convention Center or at Three Rivers Stadium. To me, it's rather obvious that there are some performances that are adult in nature and I don't believe anyone on this Council would be willing to go with their child to see any of those performance, whether they be on Liberty Avenue or at the Civic Arena.

I believe that most of us understand that there is a very serious attempt to promote this City, to promote it as a well-kept secret, as Someplace Special, and that all the positive things that we can do to encourage people to come here and stay here are being done.

I see this resolution in that same vein. I don't believe that there's anything here that should be offensive to any performer or any promoter and certainly nothing here that is contractually binding anyone to anything and I don't believe we are stepping on anybody's rights. But I think we do have an obligation to defend the rights of those who, often times, are not in the position to defend their own rights.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, I stated this before when Bill presented it last week. I see nothing wrong with this. It's just a wish that when you come into this City we wish you would behave in this manner.

We'll try to get the point across this way. If this doesn't work then sometime down along the line here we could put in some type of law. But right it's just a wish like we do every day, like we just wished they quit making atomic bombs, and we wish people would start paying their support payments. It's the same thing. It's nothing legal. We're just hoping you would do this.

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

Michelle Madoff:

Because it calls attention to the problem, I'll vote aye but I would hope that you'd come back, Mr. Robinson, if necessary, at a later time, as Mr. Woods has just said, and come up with a bill that does give us a rating for these shows so that we can prevent some of the tragedies that have indeed happened in other cities.

The Chair:

I'm not opposed to the resolution but I think there's too many restrictions here, especially in regards to getting permission from your parents to buy tickets if you're under eighteen. Obviously, that's going to hurt the gate sale and hurt the ticket sale.

Although I realize it's only a resolution, I have to say no.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Michelle Madoff Mr. Robinson
Mrs. Masloff Mr. Woods
Mr. O'Malley

AYES 5 NOES 2

(MR. FLAHERTY AND MR.
DEPASQUALE VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the motion was approved.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, for the record, at $17.50 a ticket you're not going to seat too many people under eighteen. I was at the Simon and Garfunkel show the other night which I'll talk about after we get through our business, but at $17.50 you don't see too many people under eighteen.

The Chair:

I saw them stay out all night long at Three Rivers Stadium, thousands of them, at $17.50 per person. They bought those tickets and they didn't have their parents with them.

Now, Michelle, do you have another resolution?

Michelle Madoff:

I think mine is a companion to Mr. O'Malley's. This is on the psychological

Mr. O'Malley:

That will be addressed in the study coming up.

Michelle Madoff:

Do you want to hold it?

Mr. O'Malley:

Whatever you wish.

Michelle Madoff:

Why don't we hold this resolution until the Fall because Councilman O'Malley is working on something —

The Chair:

How does it differ from Mr. O'Malley's resolution anyway?

Michelle Madoff:

Mine is to hire a psychologist.

The Chair:

Mr. O'Malley's dealt with stress too.

Michelle Madoff:

We're going to make it one and the same. Is that right, Councilman? Let's hold it until the first of September.

Mr. Flaherty presented

No. 3538 Petition from the residents of the City of Pittsburgh requesting a public hearing on the proposed amendments to Ordinance No. 21 of 1983, "Plant Closing Notification Ordinance."

Which was read and Council denied the petition for a hearing.

The Chair:

We had a hearing on this plant closing legislation. Now there has been amendments proposed and some people are asking for another hearing. I said to the Chief Clerk that I didn't see the purpose of it or the sense that a hearing was required. That's on the amendments. We had the hearing on the plant closing itself.

Parliamentarian:

I would refer you to Section 320 of the Charter which states, "Citizen's Rights To Be Heard - Council shall grant a public hearing to residents of the City: a) on pending legislation if they deliver a petition requesting a public hearing to the City Clerk no later than three days after notice of the introduction of the proposed legislation signed by at least twenty-five qualified electors who reside in the City, which included a statement that all petitioners intend to attend the public hearing. Council shall not vote on the proposed legislation until a public hearing is held in response to a properly submitted petition. b) on any matter other than pending legislation providing they deliver a petition meeting all of the above requirements.

I think Section A refers to this particular question.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, it says on that petition that they will all appear at that public hearing, all twenty-five people?

Michelle Madoff:

It doesn't matter.

Mr. Woods:

Yes it does mean something.

Michelle Madoff:

Nobody is ever held to that.

Mr. Perry:

It says, "We each intend to attend such hearing".

Mr. Woods:

And they all are citizens of this City? Their addresses are all in this City?

Mr. Perry:

Right.

Mr. Woods:

And they're all registered voters?

Mr. Perry:

Registered voters, I don't know.

Mr. O'Malley:

You don't have to be a registered voter.

Mr. Woods:

Yes you do.

Mr. Flaherty:

Yes you do. A qualified elector.

The Chair:

You make a point, Mr. Woods, but my only concern is do we have to have the hearing or not? I don't think we do.

Mr. Flaherty:

I have a question for the Parliamentarian. The language says that Council "shall" grant a public hearing. It does not say "will" grant a public hearing. It seems to me that there is a question as to if Council is mandated to grant a public hearing on a petition.

Parliamentarian:

Ordinarily, "shall", in this case, is stronger than "will".

Mr. Flaherty:

Well, from my four years experience in Harrisburg as a State Representative, "will" was always stronger than "shall". Could you explain why "shall" takes precedent in a legal sense over the language "will"? Specifically, that language is used for a purpose in the drafting of laws. There is "shall" legislation and there is "will" legislation. This is "shall", not "will". It seems to me that it can be arbitrary, that it is up to the discretion of Council as to if a hearing will be granted or not.

The Chair:

Very plainly, must Council grant a hearing?

Parliamentarian:

I'd have to research the "shall" and the "will".

Mr. Flaherty:

I think it is a very crucial question. That is just one of the many questions that I have in regard to the petition. Would you agree that the signers have to be twenty-five registered electors?

Parliamentarian:

It so states "electors", so they should be registered.

Mr. Flaherty:

It is my understanding that there is not twenty-five duly registered electors.

Mr. O'Malley:

You would have to be sure of that. You would have to give supporting evidence. Just an accusation like that is not substantial.

Parliamentarian:

It would have to be checked with the polls. The Bureau of Elections, I think, would have registered --

Mr. Flaherty:

I believe the burden of proof would be on the petitioners.

Mr. O'Malley:

No, it would be the burden of this Council.

Mr. Woods:

I have one more question. On that petition, I believe there are some corporate addresses. If that is a corporate address instead of their home address, then they are not a resident of this City and that petition is not valid. Is that correct?

The Chair:

If the very same people were that concerned, they should have been at the regular hearing. I personally am not going to grant them a hearing. I'm not going to set a date.

Michelle Madoff:

I just got a copy of the petition which, I believe, you did not have time to give to Councilmembers. Is that correct? I think it might interest Council to know that whenever a petition is given to us, we have a contact person. You need someone to respond, to tell the community. This is submitted by Leo M. McDonough, Smaller Manufacturer's Council. As I look down the list, 111 Fifth Avenue, with a signature that came out of Harvard/Yale or something, I don't think he lives there, Mr. Charles F. McCarthy. I understand that a number of the people sitting here today have checked these names in the Election Board and they are not valid City residents. As Sophie points out, there are 34 names and 25 might be valid.

As Mr. DePasquale has said, we had a hearing. They were opposed to the hearing, they had the privilege to be here an oppose it. The majority of Council voted. We amend bills all the time and we don't go out and have second and third and fourth and fifth hearings. If we were going to break precedence on this because they want to be obstructionists —

This has been very well orchestrated. I know companies that tell me that they've dropped out of the Small Business Manufacturing Association because of this kind of tactic. I wish I could remember some of the names so I could name them.

I think that we have a difference of opinion. We all agree that it should be resolved in the courts. I was going to say this when we vote but I'll say it now. Even if we lose, we have won because we have given the message to industry that they cannot be callous and disregarding of our citizens. If we don't get all of it but we get a piece of it, it's better than nothing. I think the place that we've agreed, good people can disagree in good faith, should be in the courts. There should not obstructionist tactics like this.

The Chair:

Mike, inform them that we're not going to have the hearing.

Mr. O'Malley:

Mr. President, I'll tell you what, I am ashamed, literally ashamed, to be a member of this Council. I've been sitting here on this one piece of legislation for four weeks and this Council has blantly been breaking the law against their own Solicitor's advice and now their breaking the law on the Home Rule Charter which guides this City and our conduct. I can't believe what's happening to this Council. This is a disgrace. I can understand some members of this Council jumping on the bandwagon because a lot of them sit here.

This title, Section 320, says, "on pending legislation". If a piece of legislation has not come to a full conclusion and put into law, I would understand that this legislation is pending since it was opened back up for amendments to be made, seven pages of amendments.

Parliamentarian:

It's still pending.

Michelle Madoff:

I believe the courts threw it out, Mr. O'Malley.

Mr. O'Malley:

Let me finish. If they deliver a petition requesting a public hearing to the City Clerk no later than three days after the notice of the introduction of the proposed legislation, this Council is nitpicking. If you've got proof that there's not 25 valid signatures, put the proof up here. This Council cannot break the rules that govern us.

The Chair:

We had the hearing on the legislation. This is an amendment. We could be having hearings on every amendment if we're going to give into this case.

Mr. O'Malley:

Legislation is still pending as long as there are amendments to be approved. This Council has no right to deny these people a hearing. We have granted hearings on every subject since I've been here, three and a half years. Now, all of a sudden, because it's against legislation my colleagues don't like, they want to deny it. This is a disgrace.

The Chair:

I don't think that's the issue, Mr. O'Malley.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, if I may respond to what Councilman O'Malley has said, he is completely out of the ballgame. He has this Council has consistently been breaking the law. This Council has not broken the law one time. The only way you break the law is when the court says you break the law.

As far as not agreeing with our City Solicitor, that is just a variation of opinion. The Solicitor's ideas are strictly an opinion, as good as your opinion or anyone else's opinion. That's all it is.

As far as breaking the law, the only court action has been against Mr. O'Malley's position. The court last week threw out the Mayor's request, which Councilman O'Malley supports, threw out the Mayor's request for declaratory judgment.

So, if we're talking about who is in more compatibility with the law, I think the track record on this issue shows without a doubt that we are on the firmer ground.

Mr. O'Malley:

I disagree with that totally.

Mr. Flaherty:

In regard to a lot of the emotionalism that is involved on this issue, Councilman O'Malley says that we are nitpicking. I suppose to a degree we are nitpicking because we are responding to nitpickers. We are responding to a few powerful corporate interests which are using the system to try to stifle the creative legislation that duly passed this Council, to stifle Council's will which overrode the Mayor and to stifle this legislation from being enacted prior to August 15 when it is crucial.

As I have said earlier, we are under the gun on this Council. All I want is to have a clear airing of the issue. I think the opponents of plant closing, and they are just a few individuals, are nitpicking, stretching the law to any degrees that they can to try to be an obstructionist, to try to have this ordinance go to court as not protected as well as it should be.

I think as members of this Council, we can do what we want with five votes. And with five votes, we can override the opinion of the Solicitor. I move that we on this Council, keeping in mind that we already had one public hearing on the issue of plant closing notification, not to mention a very public meeting that was attended by hundreds at the Gold Room also, not to mention the fact that these amendments are strictly technical amendments and they are just asking for a hearing simply to be an obstructionist and to delay the hearing knowing that we can't have a hearing until September, it's virtually impossible to have a hearing before our August 15 day in court. I would hope that all members of Council would keep that in consideration.

Just to put some icing on the cake for the compelling reasons, I think, now to enact these amendments, there was a press conference held earlier today and I'll read this very briefly. "We, the undersigned labor, religious and community leaders, have appeared at a press conference at the Allegheny County Labor Council today to publicly reaffirm our support for the plant closing notification law." It then goes on to thank the Councilmembers who have supported the law. Then it goes and says, "Even those Councilmembers who did not vote for the legislation must see that the additional public hearing on the amendments are not needed and are an obvious delay tactic initiated by the Small Manufacturers Council. The Small Manufacturers Council is well aware of the August 15 court hearing on the legislation. We are asking Council to take a final vote on the amendments today and not waste Council's and our time holding an unnecessary public hearing. Thank you." That is signed by approximately 25 leaders of unions, of other labor organizations, religious and community leaders, and it was presented by Mr. Paul Stackhouse who is the President of the Allegheny County Labor Council, AFLCIO.

Mr. O'Malley:

This goes far beyond the plant closing legislation. I think Mr. Flaherty put it as precisely as he could when he said, "As long as we have five votes, this Council can do whatever they want to do." Those are Mr. Flaherty's exact words. If I was Mr. Woods or Mr. DePasquale or Mrs. Masloff, I would be embarrassed. What Mr. Flaherty has said is that if you have five votes, you could have disregard for the laws and make your own.

When we asked for an opinion from our Solicitor and he we are in violation of State Statute 62, this Council overrode that, passed the legislation, overrode the Mayor's veto. Okay, one time you broke the law.

The second time, in our own Home Rule Charter which guides this Council, it's clear and our Parliamentarian says that the legislation is pending.

The Chair:

Yes, but nowhere does it say, at least in her opinion, that we have to hold the hearing.

Mr. O'Malley:

It says right here that you have to hold a hearing, Mr. DePasquale. That's what I'm telling you. If you don't hold a hearing as Council President, then you're breaking the law. It says right here that on pending legislation, if they deliver a petition requesting a public hearing to the City Clerk no later than three days after its notice of introduction of the proposed legislation, signed by at least 25 qualified electors, which nobody has disproved on this petition, who reside in the City which includes a statement that all petitioners intend to attend the public hearing, Council shall not vote on the proposed legislation until a public hearing is held in response to a properly submitted petition.

All I'm saving is that if this is going to pertain to the rules we live by for as long as this Council exists, then it has to pertain to the plant closing legislation, the Garfield/Bloomfield, the South Oakland, to everybody —

The Chair:

In the interest of saving some time, we're going to have —

Mr. O'Malley:

We're talking about the law. We're not talking about saving time.

The Chair:

I'm trying to say I'll admit that the opinion of the Solicitor was a bit ambiguous and I gather that we don't have to have a hearing. You say that we do. I'm only saying, this is an amendment and if we have a hearing on this amendment, there's nothing to stop us from having a hearing on every amendment that's ever presented to any legislation. The amendment is not legislation, Jim.

Mr. O'Malley:

It's pending. When he opened it back up to make seven pages of amendments, the legislation came back on the books as pending legislation. That's the opinion from the Solicitor.

It's not just the plant closing, Jeep. This is the law that governs the City of Pittsburgh. Because Mr. Flaherty doesn't like a few corporate interests, he wants to disregard the law. Then that says he can disregard the law anytime he feels like he has five votes. This is no joke. Mr. Flaherty cannot blatantly disregard the law every time he doesn't like —

The Chair:

Parliamentarian, am I in order asking for a vote as to whether we hold the hearing or not? It's my interpretation from the Home Rule Charter, the President calls for the hearings and sets the dates. Obviously that's with the approval of Council. Now I'm saying, can we have a vote as to whether to hold the hearing on this amendment or not. Or do I have the right to say there is a hearing or there is no hearing?

Parliamentarian:

You make the final decision, Mr. President. It is my opinion that this says that there should be a hearing. The vote may be invalidated by virtue of Council not having a —

The Chair:

Then it is your interpretation that we should have a hearing, under the Home Rule Charter?

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, this Council is within its right to override any opinion from the City Solicitor's Office.

Michelle Madoff:

From the Mayor's Solicitor.

Mr. O'Malley:

You don't have the right to override the Home Rule Charter, Mr. Flaherty.

The Chair:

We're going to call for a vote as to whether Council wants to hold this hearing or not.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, I challenge this petition.

Mr. O'Malley:

On what grounds?

Mr. Woods:

The person who submitted it does not live in the City of Pittsburgh. The address right here, Boulevard of the Allies, Small Manufacturers Association, Leo McDonough who signed it, does not live in the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. O'Malley:

The petitioner does not have to live in the City.

Mr. Woods:

Yes he does.

Mr. O'Malley:

No he doesn't. It doesn't say so, Ben.

The Chair:

I disagree with you, Mr. Woods. If a person has a business in the City of Pittsburgh I think he qualifies.

Michelle Madoff:

Not under law he doesn't.

Mr. Woods:

If we're going to abide by the rules then abide by all of them.

Mr. O'Malley:

That's right. You've got 25 electors on there that want a hearing and you're denying them the right to have a hearing.

Mr. Woods:

And they don't live in the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. O'Malley:

Prove it.

The Chair:

Once and for all the Chair rules we are not going to have a hearing.

Mr. O'Malley:

I want an opinion from the Solicitor. I want to know if I can file charges against Mr. DePasquale and my colleagues for violation of Section 320 of the Home Rule Charter. Mike, I want that up here this afternoon.

I want a roll call vote on this.

Mr. Flaherty:

I beseech you, Mr. President, because this Council can override the opinion any time it wants. Mr. O'Malley talks like he's in third grade by saying "breaking the law of the Home Rule Charter". He acts as if he is --

Mr. O'Malley:

You cannot override --

The Chair:

Mr. Flaherty and Mr. O'Malley, you're both out of order. For the love of God, let's quit acting like maniacs.

Roll call vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

What are we voting on? To override the Solicitor's opinion?

Mr. O'Malley:

No. On the hearing.

Mr. Flaherty:

Okay. I am in opposition to the hearing simply because I maintain that there are not 25 duly elected City residents on the petition.

Secondly of all, the issue I brought up earlier, "will" legislation takes precedence over "shall" legislation. When you "will" do something, that mandates it. When you "shall" do something, that is discretionary language.

Thirdly of all, these were just strictly technical amendments. We already had a public hearing, as was brought out earlier, on the plant closing notification law.

Finally, the law is decided simply and strictly by the courts of this land. No one else says what is law, not a Councilmember who holds this Charter up and says, "This is law, this is dogma". That's what we have the courts for, to interpret. I say it is law, though, that this Council can do whatever they want with five votes. That is law. That's in the State Constitution, that's in our Home Rule Charter. And we can do what we want with five votes. Now, that may not stand up in a court of law but let the Small Manufacturers Council take someone to court and let it be litigated at the respective area and that is in a court of law. Let this Council stick by its committed duty as elected lawmakers to set law and with five votes we can do it.

I am against this hearing. It's obstructionary for a few individuals that want to stifle the majority of this City.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm going to be brief, Mr. President. First of all, there wasn't this uproar and furor from my colleague who supported me, Councilman O'Malley, when at a vote of 5-4 we were overruled in having a fiscal advisor which was certainly in violation of the Home Rule Charter which mandates separation of powers —

The Chair:

Let's not get into fiscal advisors.

Michelle Madoff:

Do you want to make it short or do you want to draw it out? I'll make it very short if you don't interrupt me.

When we had an issue which was just as important to me, separation of powers and Conflict of interest were not invoked when the rest of this Council decided at a majority vote that they were going to override the four members of this Council, which included Councilman O'Malley. When Mr. Robinson introduced a bill to have our own legal counsel, because I think some of us do not believe that the City's Legal Department represents the will of this Council, it's the old story if I take it out of my right pocket I want a yes answer and if I take it out of my left I want a no answer. My gut tells me this was orchestrated. It was deliberate obstructionism.

You cannot be as vehement about one and not about the other, Mr. O'Malley. I think the decision should be made in the courts and I think that's what our President is saying. I vote aye to deny the hearing.

Mrs. Masloff:

Mr. President, will you tell me this. It's always been the custom that you set the hearings, you decide whether or not we're going to have a hearing. Why is this any different?

The Chair:

Mr. O'Malley called for a vote.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'll tell you what. This is the most blatant display of political arrogance I've ever seen. Mr. Flaherty says that this Council can do whatever we damn well please as long as we have five votes, that we're not governed by the Home Rule Charter, we're not governed by the State of Pennsylvania, we're not even governed by the Constitution of the United States, according to Mr. Flaherty, because if he has four votes he can do whatever he damn well pleases.

I think he's wrong. I think a lot of time and a lot of work went into the Home Rule Charter. I think members this Council have an obligation to the people that elected us to uphold the Home Rule Charter. Section 320 specifically states that we must give these people a hearing. The issue is no longer plant closing legislation. It's the arrogance of this Council in denying people things that they are guaranteed under the law of this City. I vote no.

Mr. Robinson:

I think that Section 320 of the Home Rule Charter is kind of obvious in terms of allowing citizens the right to be heard and I'd just like to base my vote on a couple of statements.

One, I think Section 320 obviously gives to citizens the right to be heard on legislation pending before this Council and that the legislation that Councilman Flaherty introduced certainly falls into that category. My concern is whether or not the process that we're utilizing is one that will indeed address Councilman O'Malley's concerns, which I think are valid, but I think also the concerns that have been raised by other members of Council also have some validity. I think it speaks to the issue of the process of whether or not the City Clerk who was supposed to receive the petition requesting the hearing, indeed certified that the petition was in order. Nothing has been presented here today which indicates that the City Clerk certified that the petition was in order. So, I have some concerns in that regard.

Second of all, I think that the process by which this petition is being introduced into Council raises the question of whether or Councilman Flaherty's bill should be referred back to Committee and then the petition properly certified and then we make a decision.

These are procedural matters which I think are very important because much of what we're talking about here today does relate to the procedures that we utilize, not the substance, not the merits of whether you're for or against plant closing. I do notice that on the petition there is a stamp indicating the date and time that the City Clerk's Office received the petition but there's nothing that indicates that this petition has been certified as meeting the requirements under 320. I don't know whether it does or it doesn't —

Michelle Madoff:

When did it come in, Bill?

Mr. Robinson:

It came in on July 28 at about 3:00.

Since it doesn't have any certification documents attached to it, as far as I'm concerned, there's no way for us to validate whether this petition is correct or not. The issue of whether or not we should have a hearing is moot. Until the City Clerk certifies this document, I don't think we have any issue before us. It's unfortunate that this petition was even submitted prior to any kind of certification process because it has, I think, generated an exchange between members of Council that certainly addresses some other issue. As I see it, the only issue before us is whether or not this petition is valid. I don't believe it is valid. I don't believe it meets the test of 320 and I don't believe that the City Clerk has certified that it does so I'm going to have to vote against a hearing.

The Chair:

If I may, Mr. Robinson, it's pretty obvious that the City Clerk doesn't have the time to check each and every signature on each and every petition. So, as far as certification goes, that's almost an impossibility. If somebody is on there illegally and we can prove it, that's something else. I'm only trying to say that we don't have to certify every petition unless there's a complaint.

Mr. Robinson:

I think we do. I think the City Clerk does have to certify it. The City Clerk cannot simply accept the petition with 25 signatures and then yourself, or whoever is Chairman of the Hearings Committee, submit that bill into Council. I think the Charter, in the explanations attached to the Charter, are rather specific in terms of what the purpose is of citizens being heard. The fact that 320 very specifically says that the individuals must be electors in the City of Pittsburgh, we must have a certification process of some type to assure that the people who are signing these petitions are electors in the City of Pittsburgh. If the City Clerk does not have the time or the staff to do that, then this Council needs to address that concern.

I'll tell you why I'm so concerned at this point. As you know, Mr. President, we've had a number of issues come before us that have ended up in the courts. The records of Council have been subpoenaed in some instances and in some cases we have been instructed by judges to present additional material. This particular issue of plant closing is very emotional, it's very legally entangled, it's politically complex. I think at all times, we should try to stand on as firm a ground as we can for the integrity of this Council and the City. And that's why I'm now raising this question about the certification. I believe that unless we certify this petition, then those who don't want to have the hearing are going to be in the same position that the Smaller Manufacturers Council are. They're going to be looking for an advantage. I don't think we should be on one side or the other when it comes to procedure. I think we should make our procedures clear to everyone. If you don't meet the procedures, you don't get the hearing. I don't think the Smaller Manufacturer Council met the test. And I don't think the City Clerk in any way has certified that they have and I think it's a moot issue to be discussing a hearing at this point. I'm voting against having a hearing.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, I vote against having a hearing also because I challenge this petition and I believe the petitioners are showing a poor way of fighting this bill. By trying to delay it instead of fighting it on the merits of the bill, they come in and try to delay it with a phony petition.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty

Mr. Robinson

Michelle Madoff
Mrs. Masloff

Mr. Woods
Mr. DePasquale
(Pres't)

AYES 6

NOES 1

(MR. O'MALLEY VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the motion was approved.

The Chair:

The hearing is denied.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, one more request, if I may, and I hope the rest of my colleagues will agree with this. Would you please, Mike, check this petition out and see how many people are residents of the City of Pittsburgh and that these are home addresses and not business addresses.

Mr. Perry:

Is this going to be on every petition?

Mr. Woods:

Yes.

The Chair:

To check each and every petition it would take six months.

Mr. O'Malley:

You have to make sure there's at least 25. If there is 25 qualified electors, I want to be the first one to know. I am going to enter a lawsuit against my colleagues and you're going to be the first one named, Mr. Flaherty.

Mr. Flaherty:

I'm shaking.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

The Chair presents

Bill No. 3548 Communication from Mayor Richard S. Caliguiri, appointing Deborah Comay of 2139
Beechwood Boulevard, Pittsburgh,
Pennsylvania 15217, as Magistrate on City Court for a term to expire January, 1987.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also,

Bill No. 3549 Resolution
appointing Deborah Comay of 2139
Beechwood Boulevard, Pittsburgh, PA
15217 as Magistrate on City Court for a term to expire January, 1987.

Which was read.

Mr. Robinson moved to hold the bill for two weeks.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

I would move on it right now. Can we? I won't be here and I want to support her. Can we move to vote on her now? I know her very well and recommend her very highly.

The Chair:

You can waive it.

Mr. Woods:

Since she's a new appointee she should be called in to our regular Committee Meeting and talked to. There are some questions I'd like to ask.

Michelle Madoff:

I know her very well and she has my vote.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to make a formal floor motion that members of City Council be entitled to use the building parking spaces, where the Department Heads are now parking, on the side of the building. My colleagues and I have been discussing this. This would cut down on the use of the chauffeurs which I very, very, very, very seldom use, if ever. I sometimes have to get some medication. They're being used by people who use them to come in and out. I need to go out to see constituents during the day and I need to have a vehicle handy. But most important, there are two female members of this Council and when the occasion arises when we park in the parking lot under the bridge, on a Friday at 4:30 - 5:00, it is not safe to walk to that parking lot because you could scream your head off and nobody would hear you.

So, I'm asking Mr. Woods, as a gentleman and a scholar, who would have the same concern for his children and his wife, to please support the rest of the Councilmembers who would like the right to park their cars and let Department Heads who are basically males, and if there are any female Department Heads, they also should be allowed to park on the side of the building.

I make that as a motion. Would someone care to second that please?

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

The Chair:

Michelle, you keep alerting these perverts to the spots where they can meet these women.

The Chair:

I might get lucky, Jeep.

The Chair:

Quit telling them where these spots are.

Michelle Madoff:

Can we have a roll call vote on that please?

Mr. Flaherty:

Even though this is a very sexist resolution, I will support it.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you. I've never known any men to get raped.

Mr. Woods:

I vote no. I don't think we should do that. We don't use our automobiles really, it's a serious issue, as much as the Directors do. They're in and out all day. We are provided with drivers —

Michelle Madoff:

No, we're not. I can't get any. They're always taken when I need a driver.

Mr. Woods:

I didn't interrupt you, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm sorry but I must point that out.

Mr. Woods:

I think that we are fortunate to get a free parking space here in town. Anytime I want to go anywhere I can get a driver to take me back and forth —

The Chair:

Ben, it's just a resolution, that's all.

Michelle Madoff:

No, it isn't. It's a floor motion.

Mr. Woods:

I would like some of my colleagues to change their vote. Some of them don't even use the car and they're voting for this issue.

The Chair:

First of all, it's Administration policy and there's nothing we can do if they don't want to do it.

Mr. Woods:

I vote no.

The Chair:

I don't want to see Sophie and Michelle deprived of a space to park.

Mrs. Masloff:

Thank you.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. O'Malley
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Robinson
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. DePasquale
	(Pres't)

AYES 6 NOES 1

(MR. WOODS VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the motion was approved.

Michelle Madoff:

Next motion. Mr. DePasquale, remember you smiled and laughed and joked with me and I don't want you saying anything nasty at the next thing I'm going to say.

I want to the Simon and Garfunkel concert for a number of reasons. One, I had never experienced something like that outdoors and I wanted to see what it was like.

Secondly, I wanted to get a feeling for my vote for the Stadium, which was really denounced a great deal by a number of people who felt it was a bad move on the part of this Council, to see whether we really were going to generate some revenue and what kind of turnout we had.

Well, my understanding was that there were 40,000 people. I called and spoke to a gentleman today and voiced my concern about some mismanagement, which I think they will look after. They're new at it and I think this is the second or third concert. It was very, very hot and humid and people were let onto the field, for the first time they had chairs on the field, and they were really let onto the field like cattle. It was a half hour late in the concert starting to give you an idea. People could not find their chairs because they were not marked. But I could live with that. I think that's a correctable problem.

But the thing I cannot live with, Mr. DePasquale, who pays the debt service of the Stadium? Is it the County or the City?

The Chair:

City right now.

Michelle Madoff:

In its entirety. Isn't that correct?

The Chair:

Right.

Michelle Madoff:

How much unemployment do we have in this City?

Mr. Flaherty:

Sixteen percent.

Michelle Madoff:

Do you know that 30 percent of the people working out at the Stadium are non-City residents? I want that stopped immediately.

Mrs. Masloff:

Wait a minute. There's a question I want to ask you. Are you speaking of the ushers or the grounds people?

Michelle Madoff:

I'm speaking of everybody. They are being hired by Spectacor Management Inc. It happened that I went to pick up my tickets, and I'd like the media to know that I paid $17.50 a piece, I bought two, I sat in M-111 and all I could see was the screen and not the stage, and I want you to know that in picking up my tickets I asked a couple of young gentlemen where they lived and they lived in Clairton. I spoke to someone else who lived in McKees Rocks. I spoke to someone else who lived in Duquesne. There are enough unemployed young people in this City who could be ushers and I want that stopped and I hope I have the Council's support on that. We pick up that $1.8 million deficit and if Local Union 508 doesn't like it, Jeep, that's their problem.

Mr. Flaherty:

I certainly empathize with Michelle Madoff's concern but I think she's about a year too late on the issue. That's why I was primarily opposed because 75 percent of the people that attend events at the Stadium are from outside the City. A significant percentage of the workforce is from outside the City. That was the primary reason why I voted against the Stadium Agreement because it's strictly and solely the City taxpayer who had their subsidy increase, that has any subsidy. The County doesn't pay one cent and so, Michelle, I think you should have expressed those concerns about a year ago. Maybe if you knew that information then you wouldn't have voted for the Stadium Agreement.

Michelle Madoff:

Tom, I admit I'm not perfect but will you support me on this?

Mr. Flaherty:

I don't know if we can do it now.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, if you support it we can have it looked into. Spectacor cannot hire people outside the City.

The Chair:

In all seriousness, if I may, Michelle, the reason I couldn't vote for your resolution is the very fact that Mr. Flaherty brought up now. He didn't hit upon it but he should have and that's the fact that over 50 percent of the attendance is from out of the City. What are we supposed to tell these people? You can't come into the Stadium? We don't allow you to work here, we don't allow you to come in to watch the events? If we had just strictly City residents supporting that Stadium, you would have no Stadium. You'd have no Arena, you'd have nothing else. Fifty percent of our fans are from out of the City.

Mr. Flaherty:

Michelle, a equitable and legal way of doing what you would want to do would be to have the courage to tell the County that they are going to pay something. Unfortunately, in my opinion, the City did not have the courage to tell the County Commissioners that a year ago and that's why we're carrying the whole load on our shoulders.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, two wrongs don't make a right and I don't think, with the unemployment we have in this City, that we should deny our youngsters the opportunity to be ushers and I hope you would support the fact that since we pick up the whole ball of wax that we would provide the jobs for City people since the subsidies come from City people. It doesn't matter that people come from outside the City —

Mrs. Masloff:

Are you suggesting, then, that we fire half of the —

Michelle Madoff:

I'm suggesting that you do anything you have to to hire City residents to work when City taxpayers are picking up the deficit. Fire them, yes.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, during the Stadium hearings and the vote, I believe if the subject was brought up of who worked over at the Stadium, something could have been done at the time. It never was. Who went to the Stadium was brought up and we were happy to get them because that helps pay the subsidy.

I would like an update because I believe now, after all the fury that my one colleague cause by saying we're going to lose money, I believe now that we are making money. I would like an update, if we could do that, from the Stadium. We have a couple extra events this year and we might even get this new football team in there also and really start making money.

Michelle Madoff:

Ben, if it was me, I would be told I was off the subject so let's get back on the subject and let's not have a chauvinist Council.

Mr. Woods:

That is the subject.

Michelle Madoff:

No, the issue is, are we going to hire non-City residents to work where the City taxpayer picks up the deficits? Do you support getting a list to see how many are non-City residents and hiring only City residents?

Mr. O'Malley:

Michelle, over 50 percent of the people that attend there are County residents.

Michelle Madoff:

That doesn't make any difference. I'm sorry. That has nothing to do with it. We are picking up deficits. The people who work in the City pay 3-5/8 percent of their salary. That is a source of income to us. The suburbanite works here and doesn't give us any taxes. I want the City people to have those jobs because the County has refused to pick up any of that —

Mr. Woods:

I want the City people to have those jobs also. The Stadium is run by an Authority. I don't know if we can tell that Authority what Charter they're on and what laws they have about their hiring practices.

Secondly, they now have contracted out to another agency to run it, a private company. I don't if we can tell them who to hire.

Mrs. Masloff:

Also, Spectacor is guided by the labor contracts that were there before they came. The groundskeepers are union, the ushers are union.

Michelle Madoff:

Let me share with you my conversation with Spectacor. Spectacor doesn't care if we hire from the City, from the feelings I got in speaking with them today. What I will do is keep this as an alert today. I'll withdraw my floor motion. I would like to request, Mike, that you get for me from the Stadium Authority, a list of all employees, how many work in the City, how many work in the suburbs.

I'll tell you that I have been asked to introduce a bill similar to that one in Ohio to prohibit scalpers. I understand they're having a terrible, terrible problem with scalpers at the Stadium. We'll do that in September.

Mr. O'Malley:

One quick statement here. Realizing my Councilmember's sense of fair play here, two weeks ago Michelle put up a resolution pertaining to Equitable Gas. She felt that they were very unfair in not negotiating in good faith.

I received a letter from Equitable Gas and I think, in all fairness, it should be read into the record.

(BEGINNING - LETTER FROM EQUITABLE GAS)

July 27, 1983

To the Pittsburgh City Council:

Equitable Gas objects strenuously to City Council interjecting itself into a Labor-Management dispute between Equitable and United Steelworkers of America Local 12050. Council's action in publicly criticizing Equitable and passing a resolution based solely on allegations made by the Union without checking with the Company as to the accuracy of the Union's statements is irresponsible to say the least and violates every concept of fair play, not to mention every principle of keeping the public properly informed.

If Council had requested Equitable's response to its criticism and the Union's allegations, it would have been provided with the following factual information:

1. Regarding Public Safety -
Equitable has answered every gas leak and emergency call it has received during the period of the strike, February 8, 1983 to present. These gas leaks have been either repaired or made safe by qualified supervisory and technical personnel.

We find it ironic that at the very time that City Council was charging Equitable with threatening public safety, Local 12050 pickets were preventing Company supervisors from answering gas leak emergency calls from its Franklin Park Borough facility. On Tuesday, July 26 and again today, illegal mass picketing by Local 12050 employees at our Franklin Park and Sharpsburg divisions interfered with efforts by the Company to insure the safety of its customers. In addition, on July 22, Equitable obtained an injunction to restrain United Steelworker pickets from interfering with supervisors entering and leaving its North Versailles facility. In the face of these repeated acts of illegal harassment by Local 12050 employees, we find it hard to believe that the union is sincerely concerned about the safety of Equitable's customers.

Furthermore, the problem involving the gas main at Sixth Avenue and Grant Street was resolved by Equitable and the City's Department of Public Works some time ago. Equitable is not impeding the completion of the subway or any street construction. If fact, the Company is in compliance with all construction schedules established by the City of Pittsburgh and the consulting engineers in charge of subway construction.

2. Regarding Bargaining in Good Faith - The Company and the Union have held 35 meetings -- 21 since the strike began. Equitable has postponed two negotiating meetings, after warning the Union it would do so, because pickets were illegally interfering with Company operations or engaging in vandalism to Company property and endangering the safety of non-uniform personnel who are maintaining service to the public. When a meeting on July 15 was postponed, the Company expressed a willingness to meet on July 18. The Union stated that it was not available to meet on that date. Before Council's meeting on July 25, the Company had agreed to the federal mediator's request to meet again on Monday, August 1, in an informal session to explore avenues of settlement.

3. Regarding Cost of Service and Payroll Savings - Any payroll savings resulting from the strike will be dealt with in future rate cases. They are not related in any way to the recent rate increase awarded Equitable by the Public Utility Commission which reimbursed Equitable for cost increases the Company had experienced up to May 31, 1982. In the process, the PUC determined that Equitable was providing gas service at a justifiable cost in contradiction of Council's declaration that the Company was not.

The Main Issue of the Strike
- Equitable and the Union agree that the strike has not been over wages and benefits. The striking employees were averaging $24,700 with overtime, per year, before the strike, plus about 35 percent for fringe benefits. The main issue has been the Company's efforts to be in a position to change job duties to eliminate inefficient, wasteful, "featherbedding" work practices. While the Company does not plan or contemplate lay offs of the present work force, we do intend to reduce the number of employees by attrition, over the next several years in order to provide gas service at the lowest practical cost.

With the changes we are seeking, the cost savings realized in the future will be significant and will be of direct benefit to our customers. We think it's ludicrous of Council to charge that Equitable is "treating its customers with scorn by not providing necessary gas service at the lowest cost" when that is precisely what we are trying to do by reducing inefficiencies and wasteful work practices. We believe most of our customers understand and support our effort.

Donald M. Kellough
Vice President
Marketing and Public Affairs

(END OF LETTER)

Michelle Madoff:

I'd like to respond to that. These are the gas leaks on the North Side alone. Over 100, Mr. O'Malley. Don't talk to me about Equitable. I have dealt with them for years and I also got that letter —

Mr. O'Malley:

Are you saying that you don't want the letter read into the record?

Michelle Madoff:

Oh, no. It certainly can go in the record. But I just want to point out that when one of our Councilmembers who is not here today, Mr. Stone, thought he could not vote for it because I was harsh, I was not harsh enough.

We also found that the Water Department found a leak some time ago created by an Equitable Gas leak. Equitable is the most disgusting, disreputable company that I've ever had to deal with in my environmental days and I stand by every accusation I made against them and I'm disappointed that the Post Gazette would take the attitude that we're being tough on the poor little Equitable Gas.

How do you feel if you live in the North Hills, Mr. Ben Woods? When you drive home tonight, you've got 100 gas leaks to go by.

The Chair:

You better have People's or they're going to shut your gas off.

Michelle Madoff:

I have People's. They're a good company.

Mr. Flaherty:

I have two items. The first one is to request a post agenda hearing on a further update concerning the Employment Outreach Program that is being assembled by the Department of Personnel for CAP employees whose positions were terminated. I request that either Melanie Smith and/or Phil Schugar to attend from the Department of Personnel and would you also ask them if they could contact the representatives from the CAP employees group also to attend. That would be Alice Nixon and

Mr. Perry:

We have three other items for Wednesday.

Mr. Flaherty:

Then let's put it on the following Wednesday.

One other brief issue. I think this is an issue that Council should take a stand on.

I received an anonymous complaint signed, "Most gratefully, a Senior Citizen", from the Garfield Heights Highrise in which she or he, I don't know, is one of 300 people that was fined $10. Apparently, the Housing Authority, well, not apparently, I have the documentation here, the Housing Authority went and levied a fine of $10 on all 300 residents of the Garfield Heights Highrise because of some beer cans that were on the premises.

This elderly person writes that for the time being, I, along with over 300 other tenants, hope you can do something to preclude the unfair fine of $10 upon all these folks that really need every cent they get from their small incomes. Apparently, this $10 fine was levied on all 300 individuals simply because the manager there sent a letter to all residents saying, "On July 5, 1983, the Authority cleaned the backyard and removed some debris that had been tossed out of windows. On July 7, 1983, all families were warned at the Council meeting that if this practice continues and the violator could not be identified, then all families would be fined. Since I cannot identify the true violator, all families are going to be fined."

It just seems to me that that is a very careless and unfair capricious form of due process, especially when we're talking about fining senior citizens who are in public housing. Ten dollars, I think, is a significant fine, especially for people who are innocent. As the complainer point out, they don't even have a window in their apartment.

Mr. Woods:

Tom, can I have a copy of that letter because that seems really outrageous. I sit on that Board. Did you call the Housing Authority?

Mr. Flaherty:

No, I haven't called anyone because it struck me as so outrageous.

Mr. Woods:

I would like to have a copy of that letter. It has to be a misunderstanding.

Mr. Flaherty:

I have the letter from the Housing Authority, too.

Mr. Woods:

That's what I want to see.

Mr. Flaherty:

It's signed by Jessie Fisher who is identified as Manager, I suppose, of the Garfield Heights Highrise. It's on stationery from the Housing Authority of the City of Pittsburgh.

The Chair:

Ben, can you handle that?

Mr. Woods:

Yes. That will definitely not happen.

Mr. Woods moved to excuse Mr. Givens and Mr. Stone for absence from the meeting.

Mr. Flaherty seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Woods

Council adjourned.

Mrs. Masloff:

In addition to this resolution, I want to present to Mr. Mitchell who is the Treasurer for the March, I have here a number of donations totalling $800.00 to cover the cost of a bus for those who want to attend and are unable to.

Would Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Adams accept this resolution, please.

The Chair:

Thank you, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Adams and Sophie. Congratulations.

Mr. Flaherty:

I have a resolution that I was asked to present on behalf of Pittsburgh Action Coalition.

Mr. Flaherty presents

Bill No. 3564 WHEREAS, Pittsburghers and others often need to use the City's coin-operated telephones in the event of emergencies such as fires, crimes, accidents, and automobile breakdowns, and for emergency needs such as food and shelter or other crisis intervention; and

WHEREAS, the ability to receive incoming calls on pay phones is frequently of vital importance to people in emergencies, especially those who are poor or temporarily without money; and

WHEREAS, Bell Telephone of Pennsylvania has begun to reduce the number of pay phones in our City which can receive incoming calls.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the City Council of Pittsburgh call upon Bell Telephone of Pennsylvania to retain the incoming-call capacity of all pay phones, to restore that capacity where it has been eliminated, and to refrain from removing pay phones now in place around Pittsburgh.

Mr. Flaherty moved to adopt the resolution.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Flaherty:

Would you care to come forward, Barb? Barb Murock is from the Hunger Action Coalition and she cares to say a few words.

Barb Murock:

Thank you. This issue is really important to us and to probably everyone in Pittsburgh because we've been finding on our Emergency Food Hotline that often when people call from pay phones, we can't call them back and we lose them and they're expecting a call back on where they can pick up food. We have found through talking to other people that it's important to just about anyone who deals with any kind of social service over the telephone.

We plan on bringing this to the attention of the Public Utilities Commission on Wednesday and we really appreciate the support of the City on it.

The Chair:

Thank you.

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution increasing the bonded indebtedness of the City of Pittsburgh by the issuance of General Obligation bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $53,000,000.00 to provide funds to pay a portion of the cost of the City's Capital Improvement Program; to advance refund a principal amount not to exceed $60,000.00, issued in 1982 and 1981; and to pay the cost of issuance of the bonds; and approving authorization and establishing certain requirements of the City."

Which was read.

Also,

Bill No. 3367

Which was read.

Mr. Stone moved to adopt the resolutions.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

The Chair:

I only want to say that my sentiments are the same as Mr. Stone's in regard to Mr. Schmeiser's actions and I fully realize that Mr. Givens meant very well. He's very sincere and conscientious. But, Dick, I do believe that you're off on the wrong track.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, I would like to respond by saying that I was only prewarning our Director that at times when the notes were coming in here there was one individual that was saying to the Administration don't buy notes, even though it was a high interest period, buy long-term bonds. Even at that time, where the notes read twelve and some percent and the market has somewhat improved.

We're talking about '84 and '85 notes that are becoming due. I think the market is going to go up a little bit. I do study that market somewhat and I'd say to anybody in this room, Mr. President, that if you were to go out and buy a home, if you had a business and you were to capitalize that business by going out and buying equipment, etc., when would have been the best time for any of us to go about to have done that or any of the taxpayers of the City of Pittsburgh. If you read the papers today you know that the housing market is failing. The coal and steel industry has been cut back and only for one reason; we had an accelerated period because the interest rates had come down. It was news to me that the reason we could not go out in that perfect time of the bond market, or any of us to go out and borrow money, was in the early part of this year that we were going through and audit. An audit would take us all the way into the month of June or July. It was very, very unfortunate. On the other hand, it was very, very costly. So, the taxpayers of the City of Pittsburgh must bore this interest rate that we're now paying today.

That's all I have to say.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, if I may. First, I'd like to bring all the remarks from the meeting previous to today up into this meeting. That will save me giving another rebuttal.

(COMMENTS FROM FINANCE MEETING ON BILL NOS. 3366 AND 3367 - 8/12/83)

The Chair:

Relative to Bill No. 3366 and Bill No. 3367, this deals with what was originally the ability enabling the legislation to go out for $90 million of General Obligation Bond; $30 million was for new funds and the other $60 million was for whether or not we were going to refinance some of our past indebtedness.

With those two bills, as I understand it, there are going to be some changes. Ron, is that right?

Director Ronald Schmeiser Director of Finance:

Yes, that's right.

The Chair:

All right now. If you have it, let me explain the way I have it here. You have one piece of legislation that has changes on it and, from what I can read at this point, what it does is eliminate the $90 thousand and drops down to a total of $53 thousand. Am I correct so far?

Director Schmeiser:

Yes, that's right.

The Chair:

And the others are incidental things that carry out the general intent of amendment?

Director Schmeiser:

That's right.

The Chair:

So with that, Ron, tell us where we are, whether we have good news or bad news.

Director Schmeiser:

I would say on balances it's very, very good news. We had an extremely poor market this week, primarily because of a huge supply of bonds being offered particularly by the State of Washington. If you are familiar with it and following the news, you know that the power system in Washington defaulted over a billion dollars of tax free bonds, which is the largest default in Municipal Bonds in history and it left a bad taste to investors in the State of Washington. It shook up the whole market and the State of Washington which is rated two points above us in the scale of ratings. We are selling about $150 million worth of bonds and their price was just about where we are. So, under the circumstances, we did quite well.

Because of the poor market, it was necessary to keep the period open an extra day which was the reason we had to recess yesterday and have the final deal offered to us today.

Another problem which arose when we first presented the resolution to Council was that we had projected refunding certain series of bonds which were insured by Ambac Insurance Company which had insured our bonds in 1981 and 1982. Ambac has two problems. First of all, they are booked for much of those Washington Power Bonds; and secondly, their parent company, Baldwin United, is having severe financial difficulty, so that the premium saved by having an insurance with Ambac was narrowed and it did not make it profitable to refund those series of bonds. Perhaps in the future it will be and we are going to look at that very closely so that between now and the end of the year, it will be possible to refund about $30 million or so of bonds which we have insured with Ambac and we will come back to Council with authority to do so.

But we were able in this market to refinance a term bond of $14 million, $720 which was issued in 1982 at 12-3/4 and of course, we are saving about two hundred basis points, two percentage points on that amount which will have a savings on 20 years of about $3 million.

Secondly, and very importantly, perhaps the most important part of this transaction is that we got the approval of the rating agencies to defer payments on certain serial bonds which are coming due in '84 and '85 and a note to Pittsburgh National Bank of $4.8 million due in 1984 and to include those amounts in the bond issue which extends their payment over the 20 year period or 25 year period and takes the hump out of our —

The Chair:

Do you mean deferred or include?

Director Schmeiser:

It includes so that it will be paid over the 25 years rather than in '84 and '85.

Mr. Givens:

Will you go over that just a little bit more? That 3.37 and that 12-3/4.

Director Schmeiser:

Right.

Mr. Givens:

And what are we indebted to?

Director Schmeiser:

Well, I am talking about some serial bonds which are coming due in '84 and '85, specifically, the 1981 issue. There is $745 thousand of principal due in 1984 and $815 thousand due in 1985 and of the 1982 bonds, $465 thousand of principal is coming due in 1984 and $515 thousand in 1985.

We have refunded those principal payments to be included in this bond issue which takes the hump out of our debt service in '84 and '85 which we were all concerned about.

Now we will have no short term debt whatsoever and our '84, '85 and '86 debt service will be more than manageable. So, from that standpoint, I am extremely pleased with the results of this issue.

I have here the principal and interest payments relative to this issue, which I have given you. This is the interest rates on the various maturities and your concern of the schedule, Annual Principal and Sinking Fund Payments, we see that under the annual rate, we have $5 thousand principal payments due in '84 and '85 which will have the rate of 6-6/5 percent and then the scale goes up until the bond is due in 2008 which is 10-3/4 percent, not 12-3/4 percent.

Mr. O'Malley:

I just need some information. The principal is $720 thousand in 1987?

Director Schmeiser:

Yes.

Mr. O'Malley:

Interest at what?

Director Schmeiser:

At 7-1/2 percent.

Mr. O'Malley:

At 7-1/2 percent?

Director Schmeiser:

Right. On those bonds.

Mr. O'Malley:

The interest, is that $5 million, $502 thousand, or $862 thousand?

Director Schmeiser:

No, that's the total interest on all the bonds outstanding.

Mr. O'Malley:

Compounded?

Director Schmeiser:

In other words, our payments in 1987 will be $720 thousand of principal and $5.5 million of interest, the total of $6.222. That's our total debt service.

Mr. O'Malley:

That's all of the City's obligations?

Director Schmeiser:

No, for this issue.

Mr. Givens:

I have some concern. It's August 12th or so. You mentioned about the Washington situation and the Nuclear Plant that defaulted, I think it was a nuclear plant, and that, of course, has been knowledgeable to everyone in the financial field for many years and now it is finally getting down to a lawsuit status right now about the default. Knowing all of that and knowing what has been going on for years and how the Municipal Bond borrowing has been influenced because of that, if you were to have gone out for these bonds say in March, April and May, what was the average interest rate to people cities borrowed in Municipal Bonds? I have to appreciate that each city has a different rating and we are rated by various bond rating agencies, but taking our particular parallel, our bond rating with other cities in comparable size, what would have the bond market been then? Would it still have been 10.75?

Director Schmeiser:

It would have been less than what it is today, but as I explained to you yesterday, we would not have been able to go out in April or May because our audit wasn't completed. We can't go to the rating agencies until we have our audit completed. We changed auditors this year, as we all well know, and the first year of the change, the auditors take about two months longer than after the first year. They are more accustomed to the financing of the City and most of the questions have been answered. So, their audit was not completed until the end of June, so we didn't have any opportunity to issue at least until the end of June. In fact, this is just about the earliest we could have had an issuance of bonds because the audit is completed. We then have to go to the rating agency and they take several weeks. This is in the ordinary course of business. The rates are very volatile in the Municipal Bond Market. We can't speculate when the best time is to go. Last year at this time, we had a very good market. This very week, it is exactly one year after the week we issued last year. We had a very good market at that period.

This year the market deteriorated and it is very likely it is going to deteriorate further.

Mr. Givens:

Well, I have to appreciate that and I have sympathy with your answer. Changing auditors in the middle of the stream, and knowing just personally myself, back in that time period, March, April and May was the time for this City to go out and buy bonds. I can recall, and it is just from memory, but I think it can be substantiated very easily, the market was around eight or nine percent at that particular time.

Director Schmeiser:

It was probably in the nines. Between nine and ten.

Mr. Givens:

Well, I have heard eight and nine also. I don't want to belabor the point, but the point is, and I was expecting and always expecting from the time this Council approves the particular bonding issue, that you should be able to go out and get it. If you are getting eight and nine percent versus now 10-3/4 percent and each percentage, what does that do? We look at this total bond figure right here and over that 25 year period, we are looking at an interest of $144 million at 10-3/4 percent. My point is that we could have come even nine percent or 9-1/2 percent or 10 percent and I think this type of — We changed auditors, I think we ought to do it at a time when it won't affect the time when you have the ability to go out and borrow when you have your figures ahead of you and I see what we have before us right here and all of this is a known fact; there is nothing that an auditor had to tell us right here.

Director Schmeiser:

The auditor didn't tell us anything. The auditor told the rating agencies. They can only audit after the end of the year and our year closes December 31st, and the best they can do is complete the audit by April 30th. This year, because it was their first year, they completed about June 30th which is impossible to issue bonds until that audit was completed. We can't go out the next day because we have to go to the rating agencies, which we did in the middle of July. This is about the earliest we could issue.

Mr. Givens:

Director, when I first got on this Council, the General Bond that came before this Council was around $12 million. It was assumed up under the present Administration to average about $21-$23 million and now we have jumped into $60 million and now we are going up to $90 million coming before this City for consideration. But we are doing it in the time when the country and nation is at the highest rating. I have to appreciate $30 million of this and I am sad that it's mixed together of the $90 million. It's all lumped into one sum and you are asking for $53 million. We must go forward with the $30 million regardless of what the market is rather than trying to go into the short term notes —

Director Schmeiser:

You can't do that anymore.

Mr. Givens:

I know that. That's what caused that peak that you mentioned in '84 and '85. You did mention '84 and '85?

Director Schmeiser:

That's right.

Mr. Givens:

Do you not have enough time even though you are saving going down from 12 and some percent interest down to 10-3/4 percent interest. Is there sometime in the future that possibly those rates would even get better?

Director Schmeiser:

If they do, we can refund them once more.

Mr. Givens:

Okay, just for this $53 million package today, what is the total cost other than the interest we are paying to the underwriters, to everyone that is involved, everyone that is sitting here in this room today, all the law firms, all the people that we have that are supposed to advise us in our fiscal affairs?

Director Schmeiser:

The underwriting cost will be about 2-1/2 percent which is consistant with what it has been over the last two to three years.

Mr. Givens:

That's 2-1/2 percent of $53 million?

Director Schmeiser:

Yes, that's right.

Mr. Givens:

So we are almost talking about what?

Director Schmeiser:

It's about $1,300,000.00, something like that. In addition to that, the City has cost, the Bond Attorney, which is $45 thousand, Financial Advisor is $45 thousand, the printing of the official statement is $45 thousand, which includes other documents, all of which is not unusual. It has been consistant with what has been in the past, and consistant with what other issuers pay.

Mr. Givens:

Well, Director, I am personally going to vote for this particular bond issue before us because I feel I have no other alternative. But I am somewhat disappointed that this was not before us in the March, April, May time frame where then, I think, we should have received the amount of money. It didn't take a genius or anybody to read the papers, to read the various columnist that were saying what was going to happen, that the economy was heating up, etc., and that directly or indirectly effects the overall Municipal Bond Rating. All of us knew about the Washington situation and when it was going to come to a head, and this year was the time, and it went into the banks, they went into the courts etc. That was a known fact or two. You changed auditors in the year that you knew the possibility of buying the bonds in the early part of the year. That was not the doings of this Council, that was your particular doings and as a result, I thought it was very untimely.

That's all I have to say.

The Chair:

In view of your statements, Mr. Givens, you give me no alternative but to respond to that. Since I am a little closer to this thing than you are with the Finance Department, I would be remiss if I didn't make some comments.

To make the comments you made and to ignore what he had told us makes it seem as though he has done something wrong. First of all, you can't close the year until the year closes. So, until December 31st, he can't close a year.

He has indicated that at no time, even with the prior auditors that he had, that he ever came in earlier than April. Now, if he made a mistake because he is trying to get us a better audit, then he is wrong. But nobody has said that he had done the wrong thing in picking the right auditor.

Now you are gong to chastise someone everytime they make a change for the best interest of the City and I hope we are not because that is what he is responsible for doing and he is doing exactly that. The second one is, I think that probably his greatest feeling is he doesn't have a crystal ball that is better than every fiscal expert in the world because nobody has. This is one of the most hectic economic problems we have ever had since the '30's and for anyone to claim it's that easy to do only shows that they don't understand that situation.

Relative to this particular thing, I want to say this, Ron. It's about time we put it on the table because sometimes at this table we have too many experts who, after you have done something, can always say you ought to change it down a little bit, or up a little bit and that one who does the work is always wrong even though they got the best deal that anyone could possibly get and that's wrong to let you sit in that position.

Director Schmeiser:

Thank you.

The Chair:

Relative to this particular position, every bond issue that has been done with the City of Pittsburgh since I have been involved has always been in the best interest of the City of Pittsburgh. Now if we had it lucky, we would try to get it at one percent and maybe try not to pay any interest at all. But in this world, we are never going to get that kind of situation. The original financing that he did with the notes and the $70 million, we are on target in the right way and if you will notice what's been happening with the City of Pittsburgh, our bond rating has been on the increase while everybody else has been on the decrease and diminishing their rate. Right now he is coming to us and because he is suggesting that we go the $90 million. All of a sudden, there is something wrong with it. I think we ought to commend him for doing it because what he says is we need $30 million and interest rates are going up and you have a choice; pay now, maybe one or two percent difference because it is going to go up, or you have the alternative to wait for escalation to eat you up at 10 to 12 percent. We cannot possibly wait on the $30 million.

Relative to the other $23 million, I read what he is saying. It's a very simple thing. He has indicated to us you have a choice; don't touch it, but under the present rate which is lower than what we originally had, we saved some $3 million over and above all the cost. Now we have a choice. We don't want you to save the $3 million; we want to chastise you for doing a bad job. I think we should be saying, "Ron, you did a good job".

Mr. DePasquale:

In light of the conditions, Mr. Schmeiser did a tremendous job.

The Chair:

Hold on, let me finish. Relative to these notes, it's easy to have the benefit of hindsight three and four years behind and when someone does something, you say, "Hey, you did something wrong a long time ago." Well, if you are lucky and you are not on the firing line, you can sit there and wait and you can do all kind of criticism. That's easy. But at the time that it was done, the City of Pittsburgh never got a better deal than they did at the time that we did it. When we did the notes with the bank, getting it at the rate we got from the bank, everybody is overlooking it. What was the rate at the bank?

Director Schmeiser:

Around nine and a quarter.

The Chair:

Right, around nine percent interest from the bank and we carry that now over a couple of times as I recall. We are looking now where we are going into '84 and '85, where we are going to have a high peak and he is seeing that problem. He is avoiding the problem for us. I think what we need to do is commend him, not to say, I am for it but I don't like what you did because it's wrong. That's not fair.

I will entertain a motion to put the substitute bill in here. —

Mr. Givens:

I would like to respond to one thing —

Mr. DePasquale:

Dick, he made the best deal possible, really.

Mr. Givens:

I have been concentrating on this particular bond issue and I was frustrated on other notes and bonds —

The Chair:

Yes, but you get frustrated because you don't understand the system.

Mr. Givens:

You have spoken and I would like to respond. I was talking to the Director and you are talking directly to me, Mr. Stone.

The Chair:

Yes, but I can't sit here while you rip up a guy who is doing a good job for us.

Mr. Givens:

I would like to respond to what you just said.

The Chair:

You may.

Mr. Givens:

You said that it's a crystal ball out there and all the experts and everything else. I am no expert. I don't pretend to be an expert, but I can look at the newspapers and I can look at the magazines and if I were to have advised the City when to buy, when you look at the interest rates over the last several years, when it got down to eight and nine percent, that was the time to buy and that time was back in March and April of this year.

I say no more.

The Chair:

You are right. In 1943 had we had followed Buck Rogers, we would have been on the moon a lot earlier than we were.

Mr. Givens:

You have your finances and I have mine.

The Chair:

You had better quit reading your comic books and get down to financial responsibility.

Mr. Givens:

I don't read comic books; I have never read comic books. And I suggest to you as our Finance Chairman —

The Chair:

I have a motion to submit the substitute bill.

Mr. DePasquale seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

The Chair:

On the bill as amended?

Mr. Woods moved for approval.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

(END OF COMMENTS FROM FINANCE MEETING - 8/12/83)

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

Mr. Givens:

I vote aye on this and I'd like my remarks also to be brought forward. If you noted, Mr. President, I did not get personal in my remarks. I was strictly doing what I am paid to do here as a Councilman and that is to oversee the finances of the City of Pittsburgh. I did not appreciate the remarks from the Finance Chairman as to my reading comic books and trying to belittle my character and my ability to know the financial indebtedness of some seven to eight hundred million dollars. Another $144 dollars has just been added today on this $53 million bond note. I'm well aware of everything that's happened in this City and I did not appreciate his remarks, personal remarks.

The Chair:

Dick, we all know you meant well.

Mr. Stone:

I vote aye, and if I may, Mr. President, I don't doubt the sincerity of Mr. Givens and I want him to understand that. But this is a tricky technical market and it's like someone who hasn't gone to law school trying to be a lawyer. When you're into this fiscal thing as it is, you've got to understand it more other than read books and read newspapers. I'm not intending to be personal with that but too often there has been too much looseness of criticism of Directors in technical fields. I think it's about time we stopped some of that stuff. Some of these people in this crazy world, crazy economic conditions that we have right now, should be getting our full support rather than some doubt as to whether we're taking the right steps or not. I think it's dangerous. If they don't make the kind of innovative moves that we've had in these last three, four, five years, we're never going to come out of these kinds of problems. Everybody's having difficulties and it's how you come through it. The City of Pittsburgh, right now, in spite of what we, as we look at it as closely as we might, we're probably in better condition than any other northeastern state, the City as it is right now. That's only because we've watched our financing and how we've done our debt obligations over these many years.

Mr. Givens:

I might repeat, Mr. Chairman, that those debt eliminations was because of our pension plan and our unfunded liability and for four years I've sat here almost singularly voting against the budget until that reform came about.

Mr. Stone:

But, Mr. Givens, it was Robert Rade Stone who introduced all that stuff and I think we ought to understand what's going on. Too many times after something is introduced, everybody becomes a new author of this kind of stuff.

Mr. Givens:

Robert Rade Stone, that's your type of financing and I have to disagree with you.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bills?

And on the question, "Shall the bills pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Givens	Mr. Stone
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. Woods
Mr. O'Malley	Mr. DePasquale (Pres't)

AYES 6 NOES none

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bills passed finally.

Mr. Stone moved to adjourn this meeting and the next meeting is to be held Monday, August 15, 1983 at 10:00 a.m.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

And on the motion of Mr. Stone

Council adjourned.

The Chair presents

Bill No. 3548 Communication from Mayor Richard S. Caliguiri, appointing Deborah Comay of 2139 Beechwood Boulevard, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15217, as Magistrate on City Court for a term to expire January, 1987.

Which was read.

Mr. Stone moved to adopt the resolution.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

I have known Ms. Comay for many, many years, I know her husband, I know her father-in-law. She is woman who decided late in life to go back to law school, later than most do, and she's really an outstanding person and I think she will be superb at her job. I'm glad it's a woman so I don't have to picket the Mayor's Office

Mr. Robinson:

I'd like to have my comments from Wednesday brought forward, please.

(MR. ROBINSON'S REMARKS FROM 8/10/83)

Mr. Robinson:

I just have a comment. I was just going to say that Ms. Comay comes highly recommended by those people in the Housing Field who are concerned about housing matters in the City and I think her qualifications are eminent and I think it speaks to at least a concern that I have had that we have someone in Housing Court who is eminently qualified with experience and I think it would do a lot for the City to improve the stature of our whole Housing Court and Housing Clinic to have someone with those credentials and qualifications.

Everyone that I have talked to has been very pleased with your background, experience and coopertaion and I am pleased that you are going to be working with us.

Ms. Comay:

Thank you.

(LETTER FROM MAYOR REGARDING
BILL NO. 3420)

August 12, 1983

Honorable President and Members
City Council
CITY OF PITTSBURGH

Dear Mr. President and Members:

I am returning as vetoed Council Bill No. 3420 which is legislation purporting to amend Ordinance No. 21 of 1983.

In addition to the reasons set forth in my July 5, 1983, veto letter to Ordinance 21 of 1983, I am vetoing this legislation because Council ignored a valid petition filed pursuant to Section 320 of the Home Rule Charter. This section provides that no vote shall be taken on proposed legislation until a public hearing is held in response to a properly submitted petition. My comments contained in paragraph 4 of my July 5 letter are particularly appropriate to Council's conduct in ignoring the petition and not holding the Charter mandated hearing.

Accordingly, I am returning as vetoed Council Bill No. 3420.

Very truly yours,

Richard S. Caliguiri
Mayor

RSC/mpm

(END OF MAYOR'S VETO LETTER)

Mr. Robinson moved to override the Mayor's veto.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. I don't believe, and I guess I shouldn't speak for my colleagues, but it takes six to override, is that correct, Mr. President? We've had six votes before but we will not have them, I believe, today unless somebody changes their vote because Mrs. Masloff is not here.

I, too, have been on vacation. Actually, I haven't been vacationing. For the record, I've been moving out of a five bedroom house into a one bedroom apartment. It's been twenty-three years of my life and it's been traumatic and I just have not been able to be here physically. But, if I had been on vacation in Hawaii and my vote was the key vote, I would have flown back to vote. That's how strongly I feel. If you believe in something you stand behind it and you have the courage of your convictions. I am very disappointed that Sophie isn't here and I want to say that for the record.

Mr. Flaherty:

In regard to the veto from the Mayor's Office, essentially the Mayor has vetoed the amendments because he says that Council ignored a valid petition and he said that this is in violation of Section 320 of the Home Rule Charter. I think this Council should be affronted that the Mayor is trying to tread on our jurisdiction. This is clearly an issue where Council, when we did decide not to grant a public hearing through a vote, we decided that that petition was not valid. Councilman Woods, Councilman Robinson, myself, and other members of Council had very strong criticisms as to the legitimacy of that petition.

I think this is sacred ground that the Mayor is treading on. This is a prerogative that is certainly within the boundaries of Council as to if this Council wishes to grant a hearing or not and as to when that hearing should be granted. That has absolutely nothing to do with the Mayor's Office and I think the Mayor is totally out of line in using that flimsy excuse for putting another veto on this plant closing issue.

I think the true reason why the Mayor is vetoing it is simply because it's a political question. He says "in addition to the reasons set forth in the veto of July 5". Well, what we are trying to do is rectify and we are trying to buttress the legal arguments and we are trying, perhaps, to amend some of the reasons that the Mayor had for the veto of the original bill. Therefore, if his veto was strictly based on the supposed legality of the bill or some technical questions he had with the bill, then he should be wholeheartedly in support of these amendments. But, I say that's not the reason. It's simply a political question. It's a political question and, as I said before, it's like night and day. That's what it's coming down to. It's coming down to corporate interests versus communal interests. It's coming down to a question of whether this Council is going to stick with business or is it going to stick with labor. I think we are a Democratic Council, we are in the labor capital of this world and I think we should act accordingly and show our constituency that predominantly elected us from working class people where we stand on this issue.

I personally, as far as all the criticisms about the legality of the bill and the technicalities, that holds absolutely no water with me and I don't think it should with this Council because what we are trying to do is say that the bill is legal with these amendments. This bill is our baby. We should go all the way protecting it. That's all these amendments simply do.

In closing, I just want to add what Michelle Madoff had touched upon. I am very upset. I think this is one of the most crucial issues that has faced this Council and I think it's unfortunate that Sophie Masloff, one of the original supporters of this bill, cannot take a day or a few hours away from vacation to come here to defend the bill and to protect it.

I also want to add my own credence to what SNAC is asking of Councilman

Stone. I would hope that Councilman Stone would get off the dime on this issue and vote one way or the other on it. I think there's been plenty of time; we've had this issue since March to decide where one stands on it.

The Chair:

Roll call vote. Yes to override and no to sustain.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, I think sometimes emotionalism gets in here and I heard Mr. Flaherty so indicate that this is a labor issue versus that of the business community. As the author of that particular bill, in introducing it into this Council I had felt that this was something that would unite and make government a part of what is happening in our industrial complex around the Pittsburgh area.

One only has to look at Youngstown and what happened to the Youngstown area to realize that there was no action by their government in Youngstown, and as a result, they lost about fifty percent of their businesses in that particular area. One only has to look down our Mon Valley and find the unemployment down there and the rallying that is going on with the communities and the governments down there.

We are elected to this position that we sit in here today to represent the people. This resolution did not come out of one individual. It came out of the whole community of the City of Pittsburgh. When we met at Reizenstein after about a two or three day notice, there just wasn't politicians at that particular meeting, there just wasn't labor people at that particular meeting, there just were not religious people at that particular meeting, there weren't people from all walks of life, 700-800, at that particular meeting, it was the total community that was saying, "We need help and as you're elected officials, we want you to help us."

That was the spawning ground of the plant closing legislation. We're here today for some amendments of clarification. I read that one of these clarifications is the clause of severability of any ordinance that we make within the City of Pittsburgh. I suggest to you then, Mr. President, and to all my colleagues, if the judge feels that there is one thing wrong, that that whole ordinance be thrown out, that about 99 percent of everything that we do here should be thrown out. Every ordinance that I have in my hand, and I'm assuming that every ordinance that most of you have in your hand, does not have the severability clause. I even mentioned to the $53 million that we had just passed on this last Friday, that it doesn't have a severance clause in it, Mr. President. I bring that out as a fact.

These amendments are an area of clarification. Judge Papadakos has to look at this in a legal aspect. The amendments, although they're good, they should have come before the bill was actually finally passed; however, they were not. At the same time, I figured the amendments should not have the legal impact on the judge's decision and the fact that it's the legality; can this Council do it or can we not do it? It's that simple. If we can't do it on this one, then I submit that the Bureau of Cable Communication will fall under the same category because that is what this particular ordinance was modeled after. If we can regulate that business and regulate all the other businesses in the City of Pittsburgh, we can surely do what we're doing right now.

So, that decision is going to have great impact upon the legislative process, not only in this City but all other cities across the state of Pennsylvania.

Thank you, Mr. President. I vote aye.

Michelle Madoff:

You know, I cannot believe that this Council is sitting here fighting amongst themselves over an issue that really could have been solved in another way and in a much more appropriate manner, and that is that this Council has the right, in the Home Rule Charter, to have its own legal counsel.

I don't believe and I don't think anybody with any intelligence can honestly believe that the Law Department of the City of Pittsburgh, hired by the Mayor, fired by the Mayor, really represents this Council. It does not.

This Council has the right to introduce legislation. This is not original legislation, it didn't spring out of the head of Zeus. It has been done in other cities. It has been found legal in other cities; it has been found constitutional. Even if we don't get everything that was asked in the bill, we're going to get something, and something is a lot better than nothing.

When I have friends that are asked by major corporation, we will give you four weeks salary and a letter of recommendation if, after years, you will resign instead of having us fire you so that you will collect unemployment. I think it's really a sad day when people are that intimidated. I don't think there's a person in this room that can't have compassion for someone, and I think the reporters can be as affected by this as anyone else, or anybody out there that may be listening to this dialogue. How would you like, after years, to have your employer come over to you and say, "Well, you're fired. You've got three weeks to go and find something else." People have families and children and there aren't jobs available.

I think human decency says we cannot toss people aside like an old shoe. And that's all this Council is trying to do and had we had legal counsel we would not, perhaps, be having some of these amendments. But we didn't have available to us the appropriate legal staff. The Legal Department that services the Mayor didn't come to us and say, "Let me show you how to make this bill better.", did they, Mr. Flaherty?

You know, you can say, "I can't do something.". I don't want to hear how things can't be done. I want you to tell me how it can be done. I want to know how we can protect the people on jobs. As I said before, we may not get everything but let's get something. I hope we're together on that.

I vote aye to override. Thank you.

Mr. Robinson:

I'm going to vote aye and I'd just like to reiterate a point that I raised when the petition was submitted to us requesting the hearing.

The City Clerk made it rather clear that he had not validated the petition. While I recognize that there are many instances in which practicality dictates that you deviate from the rules, I don't think there's anything in the Charter which suggests that petitions that are submitted to us requesting hearings should not be validated and that we shouldn't have in place a validating process. I indicated that my reasons for voting against honoring the petition were that it had not been validated and I think some of the information that Councilman Woods presented to us at that time suggested that there were some serious questions.

I think if we are going to recognize the fact that we have had an awful lot of hearings over the last couple years, we'll probably have more requests and I think we need to take very seriously the validation process to make sure that we can justify that petitions are valid and that the hearings we are granting are in accordance with the general guidelines of the Home Rule Charter. I certainly do not believe that we should deny legitimate requests for hearings. In fact, I'm an advocate of Section 320 which does provide for public hearings for those that submit valid petitions. Section 320 is clear; it's one of the clearest sections of the Charter. It says very specifically that the persons must be electors, it very specifically sets up some sort of process to present the petition. The City Clerk, on numerous occasions, has had difficulties with petitions and has had to address the validation point. I'm just sorry that we did not make some attempt to validate the petitions and, if the petition was appropriate, to grant to the petitioners the hearing that they requested. But I'm going to vote to override the Mayor's veto.

Mr. O'Malley:

Mr. President, if I might, I was going to let this opportunity pass because I thought there was enough dialogue on this subject. —

The Chair:

Mr. O'Malley, you're out of order. You were asked for comments before. When we called your name for the roll, you didn't make any comments. We'll go on.

Mr. O'Malley:

Okay. That's fine.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, relative to this particular bill, I have gone through it as much as everybody on this Council. I have attempted to do some matter relative to a voluntary act of having all parties participate. I had indicated that we have a Labor Management Counsel in place. The other ingredient that was necessary was government in order to make a kind of a tri-party involvement. This legislation came through. I made some suggestions that, in no way, in any good sense, can you publicly make a notice in advance and in the newspaper as it originally had it that you going out of business. That was changed. I attempted thereafter to make some changes relative to a voluntary effort rather than the bill that was proposed.

I indicated very clearly for those who wanted to listen then, for those who have listened since, and for those who didn't get it up until now, let me recite it again. There is no question that something should be done along these lines. But, relative to this particular bill, we have had a good display of demagoguery and it's about time that it be disclosed and clearly brought out. Those who would like to have labor understand that they're getting a big help when they give them illegal legislation is not helping them. It is quite obvious that this bill, and I foresee, that the court is going to declare it illegal and efforts to make it legal have been thwarted all along.

We have one individual who would like to take me to task for my vote. Well, I think that that person ought to look in the mirror and see who is the demagogue and we might better understand what this problem is. You can't put illegal legislation through as a panacea or a solution or an answer to a problem and that's what has happened here. I listened very attentively as Mr. Flaherty, on the day that we passed this piece of legislation, indicated to those who wanted to make some changes, "No, you had six months to do this". Someone questioned the legal status relative to the matter. "No, we checked with our attorney and everything is fine." Less than one week after, he came in with six or seven pages of minute details that took him two and a half hours the following Wednesday, in a very sloppy fashion, in an attempt to get through this Council.

It is obvious that there was more heat than there was logic relative to this particular bill. There was every attempt to thwart every attempt to try to make this bill pass in a fashion that was acceptable to everyone. Now the details are quite obvious. There was a quick need to make an amendment only because there was your responsive pleading in a court battle, and an attempt after the fact now to answer a court action rather than to stand on the original statement that Mr. Flaherty represented to this Council, "That it is legal; our counsel has checked this thing and the City Solicitor doesn't know what he is talking about".

Well, now it's rug cutting time. Before we get to that, and everybody says the court is where it ought to be resolved, before we get to that and since we now know what's going to happen, what we want to do is blame the world.

Michelle Madoff:

What do you mean, "We all know what's going to happen"? Did you talk to the judge? Did you speak to the judge? Are you the judge and jury?

The Chair:

Michelle, you're out of order. You had your comments; there's not going to be a debate.

Mr. Stone:

What you have is an attempt to blame the world for what is inevitable. Let me say it very clearly. I have said from day one that the bill, in its present form, is illegal. I think the City Solicitor was on target. It should have been a red flag to everyone, to understand if you don't like the City Solicitor and when he tells you something, you at least ought to look into it rather than to represent that it is legal when it's not.

I'm going to end the way I started; I'm going to stay the same way I began. I'm abstaining and, regretfully, I hope that somewhere along the line in this period of time there's been a little more light than there's been today.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, there's been some remarks made here about how we should vote for this bill and we should vote for this override because it's a labor bill. I don't believe that we should get into whether it's labor or whether it's management. That's not what we're here for. We're here to represent all the people. I voted for this bill and I'm going to vote for the override because I believe it's morally right. I vote yes.

The Chair:

Well, if my vote is the deciding vote, I'll comment. I wasn't going to do it otherwise.

I have been in labor my whole adult life and, honestly, I can't see where this bill is going to help labor. It's going to hurt labor so I vote no.

Michelle Madoff:

On Bills 3528 and 3529, I understand there was a lot of discussion and I'll read the transcript or listen to it.

These were unauthorized purchases, is that correct, Mr. President?

The Chair:

I think a couple people were suspended over it.

Mr. Woods:

Yes, Michelle, they were purchases without authorization.

Michelle Madoff:

What percentage of these dollars?

Mr. Woods:

All of it.

Michelle Madoff:

Who authorized the purchase?

Mr. Woods:

The Superintendent of the garage or the purchasing man at the garage.

Michelle Madoff:

Who was that? Who was the person?

Mr. Woods:

I would rather not give his name.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to know. I mean, it's public information.

Mr. Woods:

He's been suspended for a few weeks. There was two people suspended for a number of weeks.

Michelle Madoff:

Since it's public information, who was it?

Mr. Woods:

I don't know.

Michelle Madoff:

Does anybody know who it was? Does anybody know who was suspended? Who was it? I'd like to know who the person was. It's a matter of public information. Does anybody know? This is ridiculous. Was his name mentioned Wednesday?

Mr. Woods:

No, it wasn't.

Mr. O'Malley:

I didn't hear who it was.

Michelle Madoff:

Who is it? What is his title? The Purchasing Agent?

Mr. Woods:

Right. He buys things for the garage. I guess you could call him a Superintendent of the garage.

Michelle Madoff:

Superintendent of garages. Is that anybody we know?

Mr. Woods:

There were two people involved. They bought things that they needed but they just didn't get prior approval and for doing that —

Michelle Madoff:

Well, maybe they shouldn't be punished. Maybe it wasn't their responsibility. I'm trying to find out. I think they should have their day to state how it happened.

Mr. Woods:

They already did. They had their day with the Director. It wasn't proper procedure that they went through and they were each given two weeks off.

Michelle Madoff:

Who are they? The public is entitled to know.

Mr. Woods:

I don't know their names, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

You know but you don't want to say. Okay. We'll find out later.

The Chair:

Let's bear in mind, they didn't do anything criminal. Let's not drag their names through the news —

Michelle Madoff:

I don't think they did anything criminal. I think the system let them down. Maybe they're being punished — They should not be suspended if they didn't do anything wrong. If they didn't do anything wrong, the person directing that department is responsible.

The Chair:

Mr. Jacoby was up here and said that as far as he was concerned, they were wrong.

Michelle Madoff:

Who were the people? Maybe they're the fall guys. Maybe they're taking the rap for nothing. I want to know who they are and I want to talk to them.

The Chair:

We discussed that, Michelle, for over a half an hour. As you stated, you weren't here. I'm sorry about that.

Michelle Madoff:

What are their names?

The Chair:

They did not give their names.

Michelle Madoff:

I'll get their names.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, I would like my remarks to be brought up from last Wednesday.

(MR. GIVENS' REMARKS ON BILL NOS. 3528 AND 3529 - 8/10/83)

Mr. Givens:

George, I don't want to belabor the point but I think Councilman Robinson brought this out. Bill had this Committee prior to myself having this Committee and now Ben Woods has it and the same thing was happening back then. Before I left, the system was putting in computers in the City Garage that inventoried everything. So, I assumed that everything was under control.

Now, here we are several years later and we are finding the same thing coming back and this disturbs me to an extent. You say that you have these items in inventory, but inventory is the part that goes in and comes back out again. Can you say, for example, if it was a tire, what vehicle it went on? If it was a battery, what vehicle it went in? Or if it was taken off that vehicle, did it go into salvage and, if it did, how was it disposed? These are the critical issues right here and it shows that there is a sloppiness and a weakness within that Department and it has been going on for some four, five, six and, in fact, seven years.

When I first came on this Council, I wasn't here three months and I was in the City Garage and one thing that I looked at while I was at the garage was trying to get a garage that will service some 13,000 some vehicles and that's not including the lawnmowers and all these little pieces of equipment that we have throughout our Department of Parks and Recreation and Department of Public Works. But, just try to keep track of that and if you look at the Supply Department within the budget, you are a portion of the pie. City taxes continues to increase and it should do so because its modernizing and updating their vehicle force and all these are in the automotive parts division.

I have a very hard time approving these vendors and when I look at some of these vendors, those vendors themselves ought to have better sense. I mean these are professional people that have been in the business for a long time, and when they do this, they know they are, in fact, violating probably normal business procedures and these are business men.

(END OF MR. GIVENS' REMARKS - 8/10/83)

Mr. Givens:

If you can recall, I voted no on these particular bills and I'd like to reinstate that.

There are many reputable companies that are shown on this list, probably 25-30 some various companies that are so noted here. Those people and those companies, at least many of them, because some of them are very large companies, know what the internal mechanisms and workings of any major corporation, including that of the City of Pittsburgh, are. There are certain things you must do.

Although the City employee was wrong for doing what he did, also these vendors who are working with the City of Pittsburgh know the proper method for this procedure to go through in vending their particular products. For that and for the double reasons of the City continuing to do this, I will not tolerate it. And for the vendors who have made a contribution to these errors, I cannot tolerate it.

For that reason, I vote no on those two bills.

Michelle Madoff:

What do you mean by making a contribution? To a campaign?

Mr. Givens:

I'm not saying anything, Michelle. I'm just saying that these are reputable companies and they know how to do business and they know businesses contracted within the City of Pittsburgh and that they were sidelining our own operation.

Mr. Stone:

I think it should be placed on the record that 3528 and 3529, as Finance Director, I asked that all Directors inform their employees that if you're not authorized to purchase, you don't purchase. It's my understanding they're raising that level of authority up to the Deputy Director.

I've asked also for the City Solicitor to strengthen the ordinance whereby those dealing with the City and dealing with unauthorized personnel will not be paid for their services or, at least, they will travel at their own risk.

I think we've begun to do something about it already. I'm likewise confident that Mr. Jacoby, who is now in Supplies, will take the kind of action that's necessary to avoid this kind of problem in the future.

Mr. Woods:

In reference to 3528 and 3529, many of these items were needed immediately. They didn't go through the Wallace Act but we did receive all the items so I see no reason not to pay for them.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, before we leave that, it should be brought out relative to those warrants that we need six votes.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bills?

And on the question, "Shall the bills pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the bills?

And on the question, "Shall the bills pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Givens

Mr. Stone

Michelle Madoff Mr. Woods
Mr. O'Malley Mr. DePasquale
Mr. Robinson (Pres't)

AYES 7 NOES none

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bills passed finally.

Mr. Givens:

The discussion on Wednesday in regards to Bill 3479 — Public Works Rockslide, Saw Mill Run Boulevard, Ram Construction Company, I believe to the sum of $22,000. Did the Assistant Chief Clerk receive any communications from the Department of Public Works?

Linda Johnson:

No.

Mr. Givens:

From Ram Corporation as to what they were going to do with Seldom Seen?

Linda Johnson:

No.

Mr. Givens:

The fact that we have not received anything Mr. President— there was a preliminary vote on Wednesday that must we have some type of certification from the Department of Public Works or from the Ram Corporation itself as to what they were going to do with the debris that they had put on the Seldom Seen site. I make a motion, Mr. President, that we would hold this bill.

The Chair:

Wait, we had a notification from Public Works this morning. Did you get it?

Mr. Stone:

Yes.

Mr. Woods:

Right.

The Chair:

Stating that they would have that work done by this coming Friday. It should have been done.

Mr. Givens:

Who said that?

The Chair:

Mr. McDermott sent a letter stating that the construction would be done by the 15th of August.

Linda Johnson:

They didn't deliver them to me. They delivered them to the offices. I didn't know what was in the envelope.

Mr. Givens:

Hold it, nothing is supposed to go through the offices.

The Chair:

That came up Friday.

Linda Johnson:

Directly to your office. The envelopes came from the Department of Public Works —

Mr. Givens:

That was a part of the Wednesday session. It was asked in Wednesday's session, would that be done. Then you say you were by-passed, Linda?

Linda Johnson:

I didn't receive them.

Mr. Givens:

Then you should have received them. That's why you're the acting Chief Clerk.

Linda Johnson:

Councilmembers received an envelope. Each Councilmember received an envelope.

Mr. Givens:

Well, that's why I asked you the question, "Did you receive it" and you said no you —

Linda Johnson:

I didn't know what the envelope contained, sir.

Mr. Givens:

All right. Then they were received on Friday, you say.

Linda Johnson:

No. This morning.

Mr. Givens:

This morning. Okay. Does anyone have a copy of that letter?

Mr. Woods:

In my office.

Mr. Givens:

Did anyone read the copy?

Michelle Madoff:

Yes. They're going to do it by Friday.

Mr. Woods:

They would have the work completed by August 12, which was last Friday.

Mr. Givens:

Who was it signed by, can you recall, Ben?

Mr. Woods:

Paul McDermott.

Mr. Givens:

Well, based upon that letter, then, I'll withdraw my motion.

Mr. Robinson presented

Bill No. 3570

Report of the Committee on Planning, Housing and Development for August 10, 1983 transmitting one ordinance and sundry resolutions to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with a NEGATIVE recommendation,

Bill No. 3497

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for an Agreement or Agreements with the City of Pittsburgh and SUPPORT OUR NEIGHBORHOODS ACTION COALITION (SNAC) to identify and promote a Buy Pittsburgh Area Products Campaign, cost not to exceed $65,000.00."

Which was read.

The Chair:

If you want to favor this bill, you vote aye, even though it's a negative recommendation.

Michelle Madoff:

If you favor the bill, you vote aye; is that correct?

The Chair:

Yes.

Mr. Flaherty:

I vote aye. I would also like to have my remarks from Wednesday's Committee meeting included in the record.

Mr. Givens:

I vote no on this particular bill. I had voted aye on it on Wednesday, and I change my vote. The reasons for my change, I received many calls from various groups throughout the City of Pittsburgh, and re-evaluating the actual program itself, I feel that I would like to put this bill on hold to go into it a little bit further, but I don't think that amendment would fly right now; but I think the $65,000 that's being used for the SNAC organization for that to go into SNAC, and SNAC would have to dissolve.

I feel SNAC is a unique organization. It represented the total community, and as a result, I feel that this appropriation should not go into an organization like that, because it will then in some degree dissolve that organization. I think that should go on and go forward. If this money is to be appropriated, I like the idea. I think it should be an entity or a particular company should be formed non-profit, and they should resubmit this legislation to us from this particular non-profit corporation. I would like SNAC to continue on its present course.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, this is an unusual format, and I don't know whether or not I'm out of order or not. Perhaps the Parliamentarian could direct me, with your help. I wonder whether Ms. Brose could come to speak to us for a minute.

The Chair:

No.

Michelle Madoff:

Since this would normally be the Wednesday afternoon session and unless somebody at Council disagrees if there's a veto.

The Chair:

This is not the normal Wednesday afternoon session. We had the Finance meeting.

Ms. Brose:

We want our proposal withdrawn immediately.

Michelle Madoff:

Just one moment. It's my turn to speak.

The Chair:

We have no choice but to go ahead with the voting, Aggie. If we'd have known that —

Ms. Brose:

Well, what they've done is, they made the focus on the bill—

The Chair:

Please, Aggie, really you shouldn't be saying anything.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, if I might have the floor for a second?

Michelle Madoff:

No, it's my turn.

Mr. Givens:

Would you yield to me?

Michelle Madoff:

Not until I'm through.

Ms. Brose:

We'll get independent money, and we'll fund SNAC.

The Chair:

Michelle, do you want to make a motion to recommit the bill?

Michelle Madoff:

After I —

The Chair:

It's going to have to be done through a Councilperson.

Michelle Madoff:

May I speak, please, since it's my turn and we're in the middle of the vote?

Ms. Brose:

They've all gotten pressure because of —

The Chair:

Please, Aggie. Wait a minute, Aggie Brose. Aggie, please, I'm not going to ask you one more time. Now, we're going to have order here. Go ahead, Michelle, continue your comments.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I came in today especially to vote for this bill, which I think is a very worthy project; and I want to state why I feel it's a very good project. If this Council would just look back in its memory and look at what is a matter of record, we have given on two occasions that I can recall off the top of my head, just from my memory bank, $50,000 two years running to East Liberty, not to get rid of boarded-up stores, not to remove —

The Chair:

If I may interrupt you for a second, Michelle, not for salaries. We did not give any money for salaries.

Michelle Madoff:

We gave it to them for advertising.

The Chair:

That's right. There were jobs involved.

Michelle Madoff:

For advertising to East Liberty, for advertising, and we voted for it because it was going to be a one-shot, one-time event. The following year we gave East Liberty another $50,000 for the same purpose. We have paid for firecrackers, Aggie, firecrackers in this City, and I voted no.

Let's talk about the bill. The bill is a very worthy bill. It is seed money. SNAC is going to go ahead with this project with or without the funds from Council, because everybody who cares about what the project is is going to support them.

The important thing is that the money be available and I think that Council should set an example by making funds available, not just for East Liberty, not just for Arsenal, Mr. Givens. When you come before us and you want some money for one project --

Mr. Givens:

Thank God for the Arsenal. None of us would be here. We'd go under the Confederacy.

The Chair:

Michelle, would you contain yourself to the bill itself?

Michelle Madoff:

I'm trying, Mr. President, but we're talking about the Confederacy over here. I think he's flipped-out.

The Chair:

What else are you trying to do?

Michelle Madoff:

What I'm saying is that this Council has come up with moneys repeatedly for individual --

The Chair:

This was all brought up Wednesday, everybody --

Michelle Madoff:

I wasn't here, and I wish to be heard. Do you mind, sir?

The Chair:

Well, for heaven's sake, what are you trying to prove?

Michelle Madoff:

It would be a lot briefer if you'd keep quiet and let me finish.

The Chair:

What point are you trying to prove? Already you've disrupted the meeting three times by asking people to speak that shouldn't speak.

Michelle Madoff:

I asked your indulgence. You said no. I did not pursue it. I was a lady; behave like a gentleman. I know it's difficult, but try.

I will state again very quietly that this Council has repeatedly voted for items such as firecrackers, the area that Mr. Givens lives in, and they are all worthy causes. I have no problem with the majority of them. They were for isolated community projects. They were outright grants from this Council; and now when a group comes along and really wants to do something for the whole City for the entire City, and is a one-shot deal seed money, and all they're asking for is $65,000, this Council will vote for money for firecrackers and will turn them down. I do not believe that. I vote aye.

Mr. O'Malley:

I would like to have my remarks from Wednesday brought forward, and it's my understanding that the Parliamentarian clarified that once the vote starts, the legislation cannot be withdrawn.

Parliamentarian:

You have to finish your vote. The matter before Council is either approval or disapproval of this legislation. The winning side can make a motion to rescind, and then you can vote on that.

Mr. O'Malley:

I vote aye.

Mr. Robinson:

I vote aye. I would also like to have my comments from Wednesday brought forward.

Mr. Stone:

No. I would also like my remarks from Wednesday brought forward.

Mr. Woods:

I vote no. I would also like my remarks brought forward from Wednesday.

The Chair:

No.

(REMARKS FROM WED. AUG. 10, 1983 ON BILL NO. 3497)

Mr. Flaherty:

I have somewhat ambivalent concerns in regard to the bill, but I am going to give the benefit of the doubt simply because the SNAC organization is willing to undertake the challenges and the objectives outlined in the proposal. I just want to quote from the Preamble of the City Charter where it says, "A responsible City is one which expects aggressive action from its officials towards the achievement of housing, pure air, efficient transportation, excellent education and useful employment."

I think we especially here in the City which are experiencing the throws of the 16 percent plus unemployment, needs more innovative actions, some creative proposals and so considering the times, considering that this is a one shot deal, I for the time being will not address the reservations that I may normally have in the regard to the proposal and I support it.

Mr. O'Malley:

I think the idea of about Pittsburgh Committee is an excellent idea especially the way it was proposed from SNAC on the grass roots level; I had a great deal of concern and if the $65,000.00 would be contained to specifically about a Pittsburgh Project Program and I have been assured by the Directors of SNAC that it would be and it would also put some guidelines on this bill that one, the first Monday of every month that whoever is hired as chairman or director of the program would have to report to this Council and give this Council a breakdown of what has been accomplished and what has been achieved by the Pittsburgh Committee; and also that if there is anybody that is hired from this money is to be refrained from participating in any other activities.

I think the program is an excellent program; what enabled Iron City Beer to come back is that people are aware that Iron City is a local beer and people have the tendency to support your own local community and I think a committee like this can make all of us aware of what products are manufactured, made and distributed in the Pittsburgh area and hopefully by purchasing those products that will help increase employment in the Pittsburgh and also the surrounding areas. So I move for approval.

Mr. Woods:

I think it's a great idea, like I said at the Post Agenda but I and since Councilman O'Malley brought up Iron City Beer, I think all the manufactures in this City and the surrounding Allegheny County and in Western Pennsylvania should get behind this thing; because like Iron City Beer paid for it themselves, promoted it themselves, give out the stickers, I believe that all these companies here can do the same think without using taxpayers money, it's much easier for them, they can write it all off the taxes from all this promotion and we don't have to fund this thing.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. Chairman, and members of Council, I think we will remember about three years ago, we passed a general resolution, Resolution 144 which very specifically speaks to the issue of making sure that local businesses and that local companies participate in Renaissance II. I think Bill No. 3497 speaks to that very issue and I would just like to read the last portion of that resolution which we did pass back in 1980. It says: "Be it resolved that this Council and the Mayor on behalf of the citizens of the City of Pittsburgh encourage and employ those interested and assisting in the development of the City of Pittsburgh to prepare and present as part of their proposal, a process to substantially involve local businesses and local individuals in the development plans." I think the spirit of this resolution embodied in 3497; we do a lot of things to encourage business to come into this community; we do somethings to encourage businesses to stay in this community and we pay for it with public dollars because I think it is a legitimate public concern; 3497 represents a legitimate public concern and I think $65,000.00 will be well spent and there are probably few cities in the country that are venturing into this territory and I don't think we should be afraid to do something a little innovative and to do something that speaks to the issue of trying to keep jobs and businesses in this City. $65,000.00 I think is a small sum to invest in the future of this City, so I support 3497.

Mr. Givens:

One would have to look at the track record of SNAC just this last year and try to assume that what has happened there in just the saving of jobs and I think if we look at the Nabisco experience; if this wasn't here within the City of Pittsburgh on those 600 and some jobs and they were working only with some six or seven ovens and now they have 13 ovens and they have hired almost all but 30 of that labor force back at that particular plant; it was done because the consequences that Nabisco had moved out of there and one of the steps that were going to be taken is that the people of the City of Pittsburgh through this and any other organization was going to boycott Nabisco products and I think they sensed that very dramatically at Reizenstein High School when about six, seven, eight hundred people along with most of the people at this table were there. I think that's the impact, we have many commodities made within the City of Pittsburgh and those companies are going under and we have our Chamber of Commerce, but I said where was our Chamber when Nabisco was going under at that particular time. This is just another area of involvement of the local community; this will be City wide, it's just not located into one area; I think they will be going out and they have a good intelligent source through the community organizations and if we can think of all the community organizations within the City of Pittsburgh they do and give us much of the input to make the challenges of today within our community and we need more of this, not less of this and I can think of what's happening in our Oakland area for example and ODI out there and what they have done and how we have financed them for the development of their particular community. This is done in the spirit of trying to get people to purchase and buy and create new industry and new jobs within the City of Pittsburgh and it is done by the people within that community; that is the flavor that I like on this particular bill.

MR. DEPASQUALE COMMENTS

Mr. Givens:

Well naturally it's a form of many corporations and organization, non-profit and you have to have people there to run it and this is just a nucleus, the gathering of the thing and if you can consider the time and effort that's done on a voluntary basis and these people spend hundreds and thousands of hours and it gets to the point where they have to have a job and they have to work also and I think because of their passed track record and what has been accomplished, that this will cohesively bind all of our community organizations, all of our activists groups if you might call them out there in the City are trying to give us progressive legislation within the City to move and this is only going to be funded for one year and as Mr. O'Malley so indicated, he wants a monthly report and I think that should be forthcoming at any time that we feel that this is not a worth while endeavor, we can cut their funds off. We don't spend enough money blowing our horns in the City and I say that to the Convention Center, to the small manufacturers people; we have the Wind Symphony; people really don't know what we have here in the City of Pittsburgh including the people who live in some cases in the City until they get out and someone comes in from out-of-town and they start visiting the City. This is to bring an intelligent source to this Council as to what's happening in our business community; when a particular company starts going down or when they need some promotional activity to survive within a very competitive environment and I think this is a very binding legislation and an experiment and as Tom indicated it is an experiment and we will look at it to see how it grows.

Mr. O'Malley:

I vote aye because I think it's a small amount to pay for an awareness program and just to show you how this works, the people from SNAC made me aware of downstairs at our own Doggery where we sell hotdogs, popcorn that they buy their hotdog buns from outside the City of Pittsburgh, and I was talking to the Manager and asked him if there was a reason for this he said no, no particular reason, it's just that that was the vendor they buy a lot of their other merchandize off of and I explained to him that we have about half a dozen of bakeries in the City of Pittsburgh and he said he would look into purchasing buns from one of our own bakeries, but it's a small item, but if we can get 100, 200 or 300 vendors to do the same thing then we might be able to save a few jobs in the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Robinson:

One, I would like to take exception to Councilman Flaherty's comment about the emergency jobs bill, all the projects are going to produce jobs and all the projects are in accordance with the guideline set up by the federal government. I think Council should also be aware of the fact that 90 percent of products that the City of Pittsburgh buys comes from outside the City; certainly we need to look internally what we need to do to is promote in this City; also the money that is going to be used to pay for this project is going to come out of the $700,000.00 that Council so wisely held under the Emergency Jobs Program under the Unspecified Local Options and it's exactly for this type of project that I believe we held that money and I think it will be a wise use of taxpayers dollars.

Mr. Woods:

I vote no, because like Mr. O'Malley said, it's a small item and small amount of money and I am sure that we can get enough companies that would be more than willing to come with this money and they can get great advertisement out of it and it would be a great tax right-off.

Mr. Stone:

Relative to the legislation before us, I think the idea is a good one, I agree with Councilman Woods, that this should not be a City expenditure and it's time that the corporations under promotion where they get a legitimate tax deduction spend the money to buy

Pittsburgh products; in addition there has been as I understand it a disclosure of purpose of more so and more specifically a disclosure of intended employee; while I don't doubt the sincerity of the employee, I do question the expertise for the program that has been designed. In addition to that and more importantly, it would appear to me that we are under this legislation attempting to by-pass what many people on this Council have expressed a great deal of concern about and that's the matter of bidding; we are by-passing it totally for that purpose and it seems to me that we are ending up with an illegal operation with it and I therefore vote no.

(END OF REMARKS ON BILL NO. 3497)

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. O'Malley
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Robinson

AYES 4 NOES 4

(MR. GIVENS, MR. STONE, MR. WOODS
AND MR. DEPASQUALE VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the bill was defeated.

The Chair:

The bill fails. Mr. Parliamentarian, are you telling me that someone from the floor can make a motion to recommit?

Michelle Madoff:

Can anybody on the floor make a motion to withdraw the bill?

Parliamentarian:

It's not a motion to withdraw. It's a motion to rescind your legislation.

Michelle Madoff:

Can anybody withdraw the bill at this point? Is it too late?

The Chair:

Mr. Parliamentarian, if I may. During the course of the voting, Mr. O'Malley said he thought it was improper to recommit. You said that the recommittal motion could be made after the vote by one of those in favor of the passage of the vote, if I understood it.

Parliamentarian:

The winning side, whoever won.

Mr. Stone:

There's no winner.

The Chair:

That's what I tried to make emphatic. Those in favor of it, or are you saying those of the majority could bring it up and not anyone in the minority? In other words, the bill fails. It has to come from someone who voted against it to recommit.

Parliamentarian:

You don't have a majority, minority there.

Mr. Robinson:

Right.

Parliamentarian:

It's a four-four vote.

Michelle Madoff:

Can we withdraw a bill?

The Chair:

They needed six votes with eight here.

Parliamentarian:

Only through a majority. Two-thirds of this is —

The Chair:

Let's save some time here. Obviously, it's a tie, and the bill has been defeated. Now, in the case of a tie, you're saying, being there was no majority, it cannot be recommitted.

Parliamentarian:

You can't recommit until you have a vote to rescind this vote. Then you can have a motion to recommit.

Michelle Madoff:

Can you withdraw the bill?

The Chair:

It was four-four, so it was rescinded. Now —

Parliamentarian:

No, you have to have a vote on the rescinding.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, can the bill be withdrawn?

Parliamentarian:

Not at this point.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't want to recommit it. I want to withdraw it. There's a difference. I do not wish to recommit it, I want to withdraw it, because the people who asked us to present the bill feel that they don't need our help if this is the kind of grudging help they're going to give us.

Mr. O'Malley:

They're not going to get our help, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

I know, but I think, Mr. O'Malley, I think it is important for the record that everybody understand what happened here today.

The Chair:

Michelle, please. Michelle makes a good point here. Can the bill be withdrawn, because if it's not withdrawn, I presume they can't reconsider another bill for a period like six months or a year.

Parliamentarian:

You can rescind this bill. For a motion to rescind, you need a two-thirds vote of those present. You have eight people present; two-thirds of eight is five and a half. You need five.

Michelle Madoff:

What would you recommend we do at this point, Mr. Parliamentarian?

Parliamentarian:

I would move to rescind.

Mr. Flaherty:

I move to rescind the vote.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

The Chair:

We're going to have the withdrawal brought up again. I'm asking you beforehand, is there a certain period time when a bill is defeated before you can bring it up again? Six months, a year, whatever?

Parliamentarian:

This bill is defeated. You can't bring it up again until the reorganization of Council.

The Chair:

That's what I mean, and that won't be until next January. Michelle, the bill cannot be entered until next January. Wait. You need five votes to rescind. Roll call vote.

Mr. Stone:

Point of order, Mr. President.

The Chair:

Wait, you need five votes to rescind.

Mr. Stone:

You need six.

Mr. Woods:

Two-thirds of people here?

Parliamentarian:

The rule is two-thirds of those present or the majority of those of the entire members. In this case, you need five either way.

Mr. Givens:

I vote aye.

The Chair:

Excuse me, Mr. Givens, if I may, now you're voting—

Mr. Givens:

That's right, I made a comment, the fact that I would want to table this bill, that I don't feel it's appropriate to be in that particular organization. It should be another non-profit organization established. The idea I like, and that's why I went with it on Wednesday. However, after re-evaluation, I've changed, and that's why I'd like to rescind this particular vote and put the bill before this Council and have it tabled. My vote is aye.

Mr. Robinson:

I only want to vote on the procedure that we're utilizing. I don't believe that we are using the proper procedure. There was not a majority vote for or against the bill. It was four-four. I do not believe that the procedures allow us to move to rescind. Therefore, I'm going to have to vote against rescission even though I voted for the bill and I do believe we need to fund a project of this type.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty
Mr. Givens
Michelle Madoff

AYES 3 NOES 5

(MR. O'MALLEY, MR. ROBINSON, MR. STONE, MR. WOODS AND MR. DEPASOUALE VOTING NO)

Mr. Stone:

On Bill 3506, I would like to amend by increasing the funding from $50,000 to $75,000.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

What is the bill for?

Mr. Stone:

Bill 3506, welfare rights.

Michelle Madoff:

From $50,000 to what?

Mr. Stone:

$75,000.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, is that a grant?

Mr. Stone:

It's engaging their services for that work.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Stone:

Michelle Madoff:

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Givens:

I have one comment, I'd like to make Mr. President, some business that has transpired, and I note that Brother Richard Emenecker is in the audience here. If I could have his attention for a minute. There was a showing, a re-showing I should say of Council's Wednesday session that was held over until Friday, and it was aired on Friday at 5:30. Much of the majority of that transmission of that particular replay was cut off. I would like a letter from Brother Richard to explore and investigate as to what had happened, to why the live debate within Council was cut off; and to check to see if there was any editing done of that particular tape; and word in the falsify. Was it our particular transmission facility here within the City-County Building? Was it the transmission facilities at the Warner Cable? What caused this to go off the air and come back on? There seemed to be a file up some place along the line, and then the fact that that most crucial debate on a $53 million was not so aired; and a valid point that I had brought out is not so given to the people at that particular time. I would like to make a statement at that particular time and getting into the finances of the City of Pittsburgh; and at $53 million debt service.

Not knowing until that morning what the actual interest rates were going to be. In fact, that I did vote on the issue, because of the capital projects. The Bloomfield Bridge, the McArdle Roadway, the Pennsylvania Avenue Bridge, our sewer and water lines, and etc. This Councilman had no other choice but to go with the 10.75 percent interest. I was chastised at that particular meeting by the Finance chair, who said, "Through a crystal globe."

I had received information now before me that actually pinpoints the exact costs of borrowing in the March, April, May period versus the August period that we floating these bonds; and as I stated at the Friday meeting. The bonds were around 8 percent, 8 and a half. I'll take 8.75 during this period of time when we could have received them. With that fact in mind looking at the $53 million and the note that was brought before us the difference between 10.75 —

The Chair:

Mr. Givens if I may, we passed on this legislation. What point are you trying to make?

Mr. Givens:

I'm making a point for the record. For this municipal record to go down and my point is this.

The Chair:

I think you stated that the other day.

Mr. Givens:

My point is this. My point is this. No, I didn't. I asked for these figures, I did not have them or could not have them or could our Finance Department give me these figures. I want to have accurate figures before I made this statement. At 10.75 percent interest the total interest charge to the City of Pittsburgh was $101 million. When you look at the 8.75 percent interest it was $83 million would have been charged. The difference being then, Mr. President almost $18,890,000 some was the extra cost over the long-term of these bonds some 25 years to the taxpayers of the City of Pittsburgh.

Now why was this? The reason that the Controller so stated at that particular meeting was the fact that he was having the books of the City of Pittsburgh audited; and that there was a new CPA firm doing this. Knowing that for the first time in three years the bond market finally got to the point where we could do something about it. The window as you might say of buying was in the March, April, and May time thing. It was not done. I so criticized our Finance Director for not buying bonds at that time. That cost the taxpayers some $18 million. Even the $23 million that was refinanced in the old figure 12.34 and the closing cost of $1.2 some million. The total bottom line had this Council pursue the Administration. We could have saved the taxpayers of the City of Pittsburgh almost some $20 million. Thank you, Mr. President.

(END OF REPORT)

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, I'd like to submit a report from the trip I recently took to Hartford, Connecticut to attend a program called "Project Need It New Enterprise and Economic Development Initiatives Today."

(REPORT SUBMITTED BY MR. ROBINSON)

August 15, 1983

PROJECT NEED IT NEW ENTERPRISE AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT INITIATIVES TODAY

August 11-12, 1983

Hartford, Connecticut

As Chairman of Planning, Housing and Development, I attended this conference, sponsored by the Entrepreneurship Institute, to explore and become better educated relative to the development of new business ventures and economic development projects.

Topics such as "Methods for Launching Innovative Technology-Based Enterprises," "How to assist Minorities and Women to Participate in Entrepreneurship" and "How to Finance for Growth" were just a few of the topics discussed.

More detailed information is available upon request.

Respectfully submitted by

William Russell Robinson
Councilman,
Chairman, Planning, Housing and Development

(END OF REPORT)

Mr. O'Malley presents

Bill No. 3575 WHEREAS,
Temperanceville is a viable and growing community; and

WHEREAS, the residents of this West End community have worked together to restore it to its original turn-of-the-century atmosphere; and

WHEREAS, many new businesses have been started in Temperanceville over the past few years; and

WHEREAS, the efforts of the people of Temperanceville have transformed this neighborhood from an area of urban decay into one of the most promising areas in the city; and

WHEREAS, the Temperanceville
Festival will be the week of August 15, 1983.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh wish to declare the week of August 15, 1983 through August 19, 1983, Temperanceville Week.

Mr. O'Malley moved to adopt the Resolution.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I would like to schedule, if you would please, a post agenda between Mr. Maloney and Mr.
Lou Gaetano with reference to the incline bridge going up to Mount Washington. It is in a state that could collapse momentarily; it is very dangerous.

It appears that there is a dichotomy between the Port Authority and the City as to who would be responsible, which is why the Port Authority is hesitating, and, therefore,
Lou Gaetano's hands are tied.

The reason I want to do it in public is that Port Authority is saying, Mr.
Maloney is saying, that if the City will take over some other property, then they'll do this property. They want to do a quid pro quo. Well, if they start negotiating privately, and they have been for some time, that bridge could collapse and somebody could get hurt momentarily. I wish it was brought to my attention earlier and we would not be doing this while it's on vacation.

Would you please, Linda, get a note, a transcript of this little piece of the hearing today, to Mr. Lou Gaetano and to Mr. Maloney and ask them to please meet so that nobody is hurt because it is now a matter of public record that someone could be hurt on that little bridge going to the incline and would they please resolve the problem. If it is not resolved by the time we get back in the fall, would you please ask our President to schedule a post agenda.

Thank you.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, if I may, we had a discussion relative to adult group homes. I'm proposing a motion on behalf of Mr. Woods and myself, and that motion is as follows: To direct the City Solicitor file an immediate injunction versus all parties operating group homes without prior City authority; and to enjoin all parties proposing, planning, or attempting themselves or with group homes already in the City of Pittsburgh to violate the City's zoning ordinance relative to group homes; and finally an injunction versus all parties presently operating group homes in excess of the authority of their present conditional use and versus those individuals, including a citation and possible ratification of their conditional use.

Also, I would like a report back to this Council by September 6, 1983. It is our belief that the City has been supportive of the group home concept, and as a reward for its responsiveness, it should not become the junkyard of abusive use, nor the addition of facilities, especially those illegal.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Woods, I believe you were the one that introduced the bill, and I think it all started with the youngster that was brought to your house, and I think you've done a commendable job. I've been contacted by one of the group home people who housed the half-way houses. They are even more restrictive than you you've even asked. In other words, it is not just a matter if they get caught with the crime. If they violate the house rules, they're sent right back from whence they came; and they would like to meet with you. The gentleman's name is Jim Murphy, and he agrees with you. He believes that he's a resident of the City, and even though he works for the state, that if those houses are going to be in the City, they should house only City people who are offenders; and he would like to talk with you about it.

Mr. Woods:

I thank you. I'm more than happy to talk with him.

Michelle Madoff:

He would be a strong supporter of that position, I believe.

Mr. Robinson moved to excuse Mrs. Masloff for absence from the meeting.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

No, I don't move on that. I object.

Mr. Givens moved to approve the minutes of Monday, August 1, 1983.

Mr. Flaherty seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Stone moved to adjourn this meeting and to meet again Tuesday, September 6, 1983 at 2:00 p.m.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Stone

Council Adjourned.

Michelle Madoff:

May I make a comment at this time?

The Chair:

Certainly.

Michelle Madoff:

I've had a person contact my office who took the psychological test and flunked it who had been in the service in Korea, I believe, and was a police officer there. I suggested that he go to a private psychologist and the psychologist said that he was qualified. I then said, "Why don't you go to two psychologists?"

I'm going to ask our Clerk to please get me a list from Melanie Smith of everybody who flunked the test. I want their numbers and addresses. I want to give them the opportunity on their own to go to two private psychologists. I want it double-checked to see that it says it is standardized, I forget the name of the test but it's a standardized test, and if, indeed, they are found to be suitable, then this Council can act at that point and we can refund the cost to the psychologists. If they go to the psychologist and the psychologist privately says you're not qualified, then that's at their own risk. If not, then I think we have some grounds to stand on because there is something not kosher in Denmark.

The Chair:

You make a good point because they're turning down entirely too many prospects.

Michelle Madoff:

Eighty percent.

Michelle Madoff:

Could you check to see if that went to bid?

Mr. Stone:

I don't want to interrupt here but these bills are now being presented here. They're really not for discussion. I didn't want to interrupt before, I thought it would just pass, but I think when you're presenting bills, you present them, and then when they come to Wednesday's session we pick them up. Otherwise, we're going to start an opening of a practice here which heretofore has not been condoned.

The Chair:

You're right, Mr. Stone, with the exception that she was asking if there was a bid and I think it was entirely in order. Discussing the bills is not.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me. The reason I am discussing the bill under question as it is being read and not an irrelevant or a bill that has nothing to do with the subject matter of the day is that when we get to Wednesday, unfortunately, the Ayatollah does not give us enough time to ask question. So, if I have the information in advance, I cannot be accused of not doing my homework. The Ayatollah Stone I'm referring to.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, are you going to bring up the appeal? That comes under Motions and Resolutions.

Mr. Givens:

No. This is on Unfinished Business. I have a remark for Mike Perry on that. It has to do with the bill itself.

Mike, I can recall making certain remarks to you or whoever was sitting in the meetings where the passage of the plant closing bill had come up. There were certain clerical errors in that bill that I had noted on the Wednesday session, and again on final passage on the Monday session. I had asked in your absence that Linda try to investigate to find out if, in fact, I did say what I thought I had said and that was to correct those errors.

I would ask that you report back to this Council and to myself. For example, we had a graduated scale. The final bill's version still was using the one year terminology. There were a couple other clerical errors that I asked to be corrected. They were never corrected so that bill still stands in an uncorrected form as far as some of those procedures when we went from the one version of the bill to the other version of the bill. As I read that bill, I so noted it and so asked that it be changed and there was no discussion as to the merit of that or not other than it should have been changed and the final version that you should have now should so reflect that. I picked it up again when it went to the courts and the courts, again, still have the original bill uncorrected.

I ask that that be looked into and if you could please report back to me I'd appreciate it.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. O'Malley presents

Bill No. 3634 WHEREAS, Community Action Pittsburgh was awarded a $1.5 million Community Services Block Grant by the state of Pennsylvania; and

WHEREAS, the state wants to redistribute this money that was originally slated to help the poor of the City of Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, the poor of the City of Pittsburgh need and deserve this money; and

WHEREAS, the Hill House will be administering the Anti-poverty Program in 1984; and

WHEREAS, they would use this money to help the poor and needy of Pittsburgh.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh stongly urge Governor Richard Thornburgh to take action and to freeze this $1.5 million grant which Pittsburgh has been allocated and deserves, and to add it to the Pittsburgh's 1984 Community Services Block Grant.

Mr. O'Malley moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Mr. Givens:

Discussion. Jim, I have no fault with what you're trying to do but is there not a contractual relationship with Community Action Pittsburgh and that of the Commonwealth of the State of Pennsylvania? I know you're just encouraging, strongly urging the Governor, to do this. That money I know is being withheld and has been withheld and the poor are suffering because of it. I think this is a contractual relationship and one has to go through issuing by this City.

Mr. O'Malley:

My understanding of this, Dick, is that we're asking the Governor not to penalize the people of the City of Pittsburgh by taking that $1.5 million that was allocated to CAP that was lost in the transition from the closing of Community Action Pittsburgh to the start up of the Hill House. This money was earmarked for Pittsburgh in 1983 because that transition period between the start up of the Hill House this money may be lost and they're going to take it away from us and put it in a general pot and redistribute it throughout the Commonwealth. What we're asking for was originally designated for Pittsburgh in '83, just give it to us in '84 and let us distribute it to our people.

Mr. Givens:

Is there not a contractual relationship between — Community Action Pittsburgh is not a defunct organization to my knowledge. This Councilman, as well as other Councilmen, has asked both this Council and the Mayor to sit down and try to discuss some of the problems that we are having. I have sent a letter over to the Mayor's Office requesting this, that this Council and the Mayor meet to say how this money is to be distributed and how we're to handle the affairs of Community Action Pittsburgh. What are we going to do? There has been no answer to my letters and there has been no action from this Council. I appreciate what you're trying to do here right now. I think there is even a greater problem than what this particular resolution is trying to say. I'm trying to say that this money is going to come in year after year after year. There are poverty designation. You are taking it from the people although you might want to administer from this resolution to the Hill House which is an agency for anti-poverty program. That has to be a contractual relationship. That has to be approved by this Council and the Mayor, whoever gets it. I think Bill Robinson and myself and some other colleagues here have been fighting on that particular issue not just now but for months and years to try to get the Administration and this Council to move forward on this to try to straighten up some of the problems that we have down there.

Mr. O'Malley:

That's all we're saying. The $1.5 million that was designated for Pittsburgh, don't take it away from us. Let us have it and let it be distributed through the Hill House. That's all the resolution is saying.

Mr. Givens:

You're saying hold it for 1984, Jim. I just saw this when I came out here today. Is there anything that would preclude the Governor from being able to hold onto this money and give it to us in '84 if we do not spend it in 1983 and if we do not spend it through that action agency, Community Action Pittsburgh?

Mr. O'Malley:

My understanding was that the money that was not spent by CAP because of the problems that CAP encountered. Because of the transition period, from the closing of CAP to the start up of the Hill House, there's $1.5 million that was not spent that was allocated to the City of Pittsburgh. Under the federal rules and guidelines, if the money is not spent then it goes back into the general fund and is redistributed throughout the Commonwealth. What we're saying is let us keep the money for any programs that we deem will benefit the poor and the needy of the City of Pittsburgh once the programs are back in place in 1984. What we're saying is let us keep our own money.

Mr. Givens:

Well, I guess my only comment to that is, why are we in this position that we're in today?

Michelle Madoff:

Who knows?

Mr. Givens:

Why are we in this position when, in fact, there are Councilpeople who are sitting here today that have asked the Administration to move off of dead center on this issue. There are Councilpeople here who sit on Community Action Pittsburgh Board, all with the exception of one or two, and we have tried in vain with the Administration to do something about this particular situation. I'm very concerned that the needy people that are out there that they're not being administered. There's money in the time frame --

Michelle Madoff:

That's what he's trying to do.

Mr. Givens:

No, in the '83 time frame, Michelle, when they need it.

Michelle Madoff:

But it didn't happen and he's trying to save it so we don't lose it entirely.

Mr. Givens:

The CD funds in '84 are not administered until May of 1984. I hope everyone is appreciative of that fact.

Michelle Madoff:

It's better than nothing.

Mr. Givens:

I agree it's better than nothing.

Michelle Madoff:

Then let's vote on it. Call the vote.

The Chair:

Mr. O'Malley, could you reword that to say 1983 because we still have four months to go.

Mr. Givens:

I'm in fight for this money right now --

The Chair:

I doubt if we're going to get it for '83 but --

Mr. O'Malley:

What are you asking, Sir?

The Chair:

Mr. Givens is saying is that we need it now. You're saying as of January, '84. I'm saying could you reword it to state that the money be available as soon as possible, preferable in '83. We're talking about four or five months of people unemployed and we may be able to put someone back to work if we get that money.

Mr. O'Malley:

I think it's immaterial but it doesn't make any difference. I don't think the programs are in place that the money could be allocated and used for '83.

The Chair:

You will state '83 though?

Mr. O'Malley moved to amend the resolution by changing 1984 to 1983.

Mr. Stone seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

The Chair:

Does anybody care to rescind their vote?

The resolution carries.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I have a number of items. I'll try to be very brief.

I would like to have a letter go to the Mayor having him invite the Allegheny Conference to give us the services they have in the past, as they the State, I think it's called either Compep or Compact, to review two departments, two issues.

One is the Director Jacoby of Supplies with reference to the unauthorized purchases. I've done a little personal investigating and it is my gut feeling that there were two people used, one of their surfaces was scapegoating. They took the fall, they took three days off, and a lot of faces were saved. I think we need someone to go through that Department to make sure that Mr. Jacoby is capable of not only carrying on the policies that took place before but instituting some new policies, not just saying that he's going to do it. All of can use help, even me, and I'm sure you could, Mr. DePasquale. We all need to learn something new every day. The Allegheny Conference has some of the brightest minds and in the past when they have been asked to come into Departments by the Mayor, there were certain Departments they were never allowed into. I presume those are the Departments where we have a lot of patronage and we don't want anybody telling us how to run them efficiently.

What I'm asking is an efficiency expert kind of review be done on the Supplies Department, sitting down with Mr. Jacoby, finding out what he plans to do and how to make that Department more efficient so that we don't have a reoccurrence of what has transpired with unauthorized purchases for thousands of dollars.

I also would like Compact or Compep, whatever they decide to call themselves this trip, the Allegheny Conference, review for us why we could not go out into the bond market at eight and a half percent and waited until it was ten and a half percent because our books were being audited, whether that made any difference whatsoever. We knew we needed the money, we knew there was going to be a window. When somebody comes to us and says, "Isn't it wonderful, I got a ten and a half percent interest, we're saving on the old monies that we had at lesser money", I'm not impressed when I know what I'm getting. I'm getting very little on my money market because money is down. It was down even lower. And it is going up now. There is no excuse that I can accept for not having gone out earlier.

I would like to have that substantiated. I want the Allegheny Conference -- This Council has not voted for those who are supporting me, Mr. Givens. You did not vote, I believe, for a fiscal advisor for this Council? That's why we're in the mess we're in now. If we had a fiscal advisor, they could have told us whether that was the proper thing to do by going out when it was eight and a half percent, whether auditing the books really was a factor or not.

Those are two things I would like to request the Mayor to do and I would like a copy of my letter to go to Bob Pease of the Allegheny Conference and Justin Horan of the Chamber. I want a copy of that letter.

I would also like to have a letter sent to Superintendent Coll --

Mr. Flaherty:

Point of information, Michelle. Are you putting each of the issues in a form of a resolution?

Michelle Madoff:

No. What I'm doing is requesting that letters go out and then I'll follow up on it if a resolution is necessary. I want to give them the option. I would assume that any member of Council can request a letter to go to the Mayor. Is that not correct?

The Chair:

Certainly.

Michelle Madoff:

Then if I don't get a response, which I probably won't because I generally don't, then I will take it from that point.

I also would like to have a post agenda with Superintendent Coll. There are too many trucks on the roads with dirty license plates so that you can't even read the license plates, that have no tarpaulins. There's a state law requiring that trucks have tarpaulins. The roads are not only dangerous but I have been splashed by gravel and large size pieces of stones hitting my windshield which is now very badly scratched. Somebody is responsible. I want to see that something is done.

I want a post agenda with Lou Gaetano about paving this street right out front, Fourth Avenue. I am tired of replacing six wheels on a car that has 26,000 miles. This is insanity. If we have to temporarily asphalt it over, I want it done.

Mr. Givens:

Which part of Fourth Avenue?

Michelle Madoff:

Right here on Grant Street. Right on the street. You can't miss it. If you have a small car, as I do, you end up in a hole and the whole alignment is out. The whole street needs to be done but I want to get some of the bad areas taken care of.

This week in the paper we had an issue on litter, a letter on litter. I for one am going to contact the Clean City Committee and I'm going to go on record that they do not get one dime voted from me and I would hope my other colleagues would reconsider the fact that I am tired of advertising in great commercials and great PR. Until we do what other cities are doing, and that is enforce the laws — when somebody rides the bus and arrests somebody for eating a peanut as opposed to getting on our busses and you sit down and people have sat down with pizzas on our busses — until we have some kind of enforcement action, it is meaningless. I want that money spent for a cadre of inspectors who will be authorized to go out and give citations. They can do that with noise boxes. I don't believe it's unconstitutional. If somebody were driving a car and they were drunk, they take the car and impound it for the evening. If some kid is walking down the street with a noise box blasting, take it for twenty-four hours, do not keep it, just make him come back and get it so he knows he has to keep the noise down.

I want some enforcement in this City as opposed to a lot of rhetoric. It's been five and a half years, that I know of, of rhetoric. I'd like a little enforcement.

The Chair:

Michelle, to be honest about it, I believe the Clean City Committee has come a long way but we're never going to have a Utopia or an absolutely clean city. You know it and I know it. But I think they've made people a lot more concerned and careful.

Michelle Madoff:

And it's dirtier.

The Chair:

I see people picking stuff up and throwing it in the receptacles where they didn't before, they just threw it down and walked away.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. DePasquale, I'd like to take you for a ride, not a one-way ride —

The Chair:

I'm not arguing with you. I know there's parts of town that need to be cleaned up. I'm just saying that they've come a long way from what it was when they started.

Michelle Madoff:

That is true but not far enough. As we used to say in the environment, by the time we educate our children we'll all be dead if we don't clean up. By the time we educate people not to litter, it's going to be too late and people won't even want to be in this City. We have enough taxing problems that are chasing people out of the City.

I'd like to close on another note. I was in Washington when the Korean plane was shot down, 007, and I went to the Embassy. I am saddened to see that there are so few people who though it was an important issue to be at the Embassy, but I also went to the Steelers game. If enough people who cared about the Steelers game would have marched in front of the Embassy, maybe the people in Russia, the leadership, would have gotten a message that obviously isn't being delivered.

I would like to make a resolution, offer it as a floor motion, that we send a letter to Mr. Reagan asking that we stop all negotiations other than dealing with nuclear, the issue of safety and the threat to the world, but I'm thinking of wheat deals, flights, any censure that we can reasonably undertake be undertaken. We can compensate our farmers in other ways. I think our farmers who have accepted embargoes before, when the Russians have done lesser things, are the real heroes of this country. They will be supportive of that kind of action.

I would hope that I get a second from this Council on that.

Mr. Flaherty seconded the motion.

Mr. O'Malley:

Opposed. I agree with Michelle. I think the intention is well-meaning. But I don't think this Council is informed adequately enough on world issues, except for what we read in the newspaper, to make those types of determinations and those decisions and I would think that the farmers of America would have a different opinion than Michelle has.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't think they will. Betty McDonald who is the wife of the Congressman —

The Chair:

If I may interrupt you for one second, Michelle, obviously your resolution is a very conscientious one and it's a good one, but I have to go back to 1962 when we had the missile confrontation with the Russians in Cuba. Sixty thousand people marched past my house to go up to Pitt Stadium to watch the football game while the President was telling us any moment now we may go to war. They just weren't concerned at all. They're just concerned with seeing the Cleveland Brown - Steeler game.

If you really think you're going to have people change in regards to the Russian incident where they shot down the commercial plane, it isn't going to happen.

Michelle Madoff:

I think you're right, Mr. DePasquale, we both share the same viewpoint. I think, though, as leaders of this community we have a responsibility to speak out. And I think that the grain, wheat embargoes and other issues —

I started to say that Betty McDonald, I just heard her on the air again, I saw her on television, who's husband was killed, the Congressman, is terribly disappointed in Mr. Reagan. "He gave a beautiful speech," she said, I'm quoting her, "but he didn't say anything and we are going to be considered a nation that has no backbone if we don't start to respond." The wheat farmers will be in lot worse condition if they don't know that we are going to show some indication that we're not going to tolerate this kind of action.

I would like to put it to a vote and I would like a moment of silence, Mr. President, for those who were killed in that plane.

The Chair:

Okay, Mr. O'Malley voted no. The resolution carries.

Now could we rise, please, and have a moment of silence for the victims of that plane that was shot down. Thank you.

Obviously we all agree with you, Michelle. It was one of the most callous acts of all time and there was nothing but innocent victims on that plane. There was no reason for it but as Mr. O'Malley stated, they'll probably come up with some cock and bull story that there was a spy on the plane.

Mr. Givens:

On another subject, Mr. President, if I might. I would like to have post agenda with the Executive Director of the Housing Authority of the City of Pittsburgh and Mr. John Gabriel of the Human Relations Commission.

It was brought to my attention that the Human Relations Commission has given authority to our Housing Authority that they will not hire people who at least do police work within the Housing Authority if they're over 35 years of age. I can't believe that our Human Relations Commission would be discriminating on age but in fact such a letter has gone out apparently as described to me by Executive Director of the Housing Authority. I feel that this should be brought to the table of Council and discussed as to if in fact this letter is out and if it's used as a personnel tool and secondly, what is this Council going to do about correcting that discrimination.

The Chair:

Is that letter going out, Mr. Woods?

Mr. Woods:

I never heard of it.

Mr. Givens:

No, this has been in existence for some time, apparently. There are people who have put in applications for work over at the Authority --

The Chair:

No one over 35 was eligible for security?

Mr. Givens:

Yes. They can't hire above 35. Danny indicated that his hands are kind of tied. He said, "I am complying with that particular rule" and he even indicated that the best workers that he has over there within the Authority, not saying anything about anyone else, but he said about 55, that age group, are people who, in his own words, are ones that are very productive and who seem to have been able to cope with working in the Housing Authority better than any other age group. I feel that the letter, if there is a directive, and that's what there will have to be, a directive out so saying that, that it is in fact discriminating against age and I'd like to find out if, in fact, that is the truth.

Mrs. Masloff:

Did you see the letter, Dick?

Mr. Givens:

No. Danny was calling by memory and went back and researched it and told me by telephone communication that, in fact, it was an order by the Human Relations Commission. I can't believe it. I don't know when it was dated or anything but I'd just like to find out a little bit more about it and, if so, change that particular directive.

The Chair:

Mike, see if you can get a copy of that letter.

Mr. Givens:

I ask you, Mike, that you have these here for a post agenda.

Mr. Perry:

Tomorrow?

Mr. Givens:

No, tomorrow would be too soon. Next Wednesday.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I want you to promise not to go through the roof at my next resolution. I have gone to the Stadium now twice. —

The Chair:

That's once more than I have.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm sorry to hear that. I went to the Simon and Garfunkel concert, I wanted to get a feeling of what we could generate in revenue, and I went to the first Steeler game.

I talked to the young people, particularly summer employees. Do we or do we not subsidize that Stadium to a tune of $1.8 million, at the moment? City taxpayers. Everybody said we were terrible; we bailed out the Galbreaths. We didn't bail out the Galbreaths; we bailed out the City of Pittsburgh taxpayers.

The employees, three quarters of them, and I've now checked with the management, are not City residents. I want City residents.

The reason I say you might go right through the roof is because we're talking, perhaps, of a union problem. That can be worked out from the point of view if there's a previous contract on the attendants. But when we hire summer help and we hire kids, I want the kids from the Hill and from the City. Let me tell you where they're from; McKeesport, Clairton, — Mr. Woods, do you hear me? They're dumping their garbage in every sense into the houses that you're concerned about, not taking their fair share of the responsibility, go home to their bedroom communities. Our kids need jobs, we need metropolitan government. If we don't have metropolitan government, if we're going to let Pittsburgh swim or sink on it's own, then those jobs should go to our kids. I make that as a resolution. I've talked to the people there, they are willing to go along with it and I make that as a form of a motion.

The Chair:

Michelle, I don't mean to correct you but when you refer to summer help, obviously they're all summer help because that's when most of the sporting events take place, even most of football. There's no such thing as a summer help employee or part time with the exception of the kids that come in an sweep at night. I guess you weren't talking to them so I don't know who you're referring to.

Michelle Madoff:

I was talking to the young men who worked at the ticket gate when I went to pick up my ticket, night attendants —

The Chair:

They're all considered full time help.

Michelle Madoff:

Fine. I don't care what they are. They're not to work in the City Stadium when the City pays $1.8 million and the City of Pittsburgh is tired of taxpayers putting their hand in their pockets to subsidize the suburbanites that give us $10. It's got to stop one way or another. As far as I'm concerned, and you may quote me, gentlemen, they quoted me that Michelle Madoff, ha ha ha, said put up toll bridges for ten cents. Well, maybe that day is coming. Maybe we need some toll bridges. City residents have stickers, they don't pay the toll fee going in and out. City business don't pay it. But if you're an employee going in and out, you're going to pay. This has got to stop. This City is in bankruptcy.

The Chair:

I see your point, Michelle, because the City now subsidizes the Stadium, but give yourself a parallel. We're not talking about department stores or anywhere else. You're just limiting yourself to the Stadium. When we think about that, the proceeds from the Stadium come from more than fifty percent of the people from out of the City. I'm only stating a fact. That's all

I'm stating.

Michelle Madoff:

That doesn't wash.

The Chair:

It's just the same with out department stores downtown. There are people coming from out of the City to shop —

Michelle Madoff:

Then why take their $10 head tax? Mr. DePasquale, when you go to the Stadium, you pay for your ticket, I pay for my ticket. You buy a hotdog, you pay for it. I'm going to assume that you're the gentleman I think you are and that you don't take freebies, ha ha ha. But the Stadium is there for all of us. The deficits are paid by these bonds that we took at ten and a half percent instead of eight percent in deficits, and it's time that the suburbanites who want to use the Stadium and see the Steeler games and the Pirate games and avail themselves of that Stadium, pick up some of those expenses. I'm not talking about their not paying and our not paying. We pay. They pay. But we pay five times as much. Now, if that's going to be the case —

We've had the Commissioners here, recall? And we tried to get them to pay some of the deficits of the Zoo and other things. They don't want to do it, fine. Either we raise the tickets to out of towners, they don't go, that's the way life is, or we hire — The least we can do is send a message by hiring our own youngsters.

That's a motion to hire our own youngsters for the Stadium, not McKeesport and Clairton youngsters. I make that a motion. Certainly Mr.

Stone, who gets up on the desk and waves his hands that somebody's from out of town —

The Chair:

When you say a motion, who do we forward this motion to? We don't have the right to tell them who to hire and not to hire.

Michelle Madoff:

Who says we don't?

The Chair:

Do you want to send a message to the manager?

Michelle Madoff:

Yes, to the manager. They are perfectly willing to abide by that agreement. I have talked to them.

Mr. Givens seconded the motion.

The Chair:

Roll call vote on the motion.

Mr. Flaherty:

I'll support the motion. I'm not optimistic that you're going to get anywhere with it. I think, Michelle, you should have brought that up a year ago when the issue was hot.

Michelle Madoff:

You're absolutely right, Mr. Flaherty, and the reason I didn't is because I didn't have a fiscal advisor. I was using this problem that we have of conflict of interest and not having separation of powers because we don't have our own fiscal advisor. Thank God you're always voted for it because you see the necessity.

The Chair:

Can we go on with the roll?

Mrs. Masloff:

I'm going to abstain because this isn't clear to me. It seems to me that that contract for the people who work there are negotiated through a union.

Michelle Madoff:

No.

Mrs. Masloff:

Yes they are. The ushers are a union and the groundskeepers are union. They are unions. They're hired by the union. So, I'm going to abstain because I don't quite understand what you want.

Michelle Madoff:

I want the kids that are hired to be City kids. It's very simple.

Mr. Stone:

I'm voting aye with the understanding that on any new ones where you can hire City residents. Since I've never voted for a non-City resident, I'm not going to do it now. But those who accuse others of doing it ought to remember that I'm the only one on this Council whose record has never been blemished in that department.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. Robinson
Mr. Givens	Mr. Stone
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods

AYES 6 NOES 1

(MR. DEPASQUALE VOTING NO)

(MRS. MASLOFF ABSTAINING)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the motion was approved.

Michelle Madoff:

Would you make sure that letter goes to the Mayor, please and to Spectacor and to the head of Spectacor. I have his name and I've spoken to him. You may blame me saying, "Michelle Madoff brought it to Council and she said that you were willing to do it."

Mr. Stone moved to approve the minutes of Monday, August 8, 1983, Thursday, August 11, 1983, and Monday August 15, 1983.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Givens

Council adjourned.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, I'd just like to make two comments if I might. One, I'd like to turn in a report from a recent trip I took to San Antonio, Texas, to participate in the first National/International Trade Development Conference. I attended this conference as Chairman of Planning, Housing and Development, Pittsburgh City Council. The theme of the conference was "Cities' New Roles In The Global Economy". The sessions covered such topics as Trade Missions, Getting Your City's Products Into The Markets, Free Trade Zones, Making A Place For International Trade, and Resources Available, Private and Federal Assistance.

I was particularly interested in the application of techniques and methods to enhance Pittsburgh's role in foreign trade and international relations.

If members of Council would like additional information, I certainly would be more than happy to forward that to them.

The second comment relates to an article that appeared in the August issue of Performance Magazine, which is one of the trade journals for promoters and performers in the entertainment field. There is an article relative to the City of Pittsburgh which I think is most appropriate and it specifically relates to one of our outstanding local promoters, DiCesare-Engler. They took serious Council's concern about the live performances in our City and at the recent Eddie Murphy concert, DiCesare-Engler, on a voluntary basis, did inform the patrons that the material that Eddie Murphy was going to present would be adult in nature and they did this in cooperation with Mr. Murphy's manager.

I think where we have businesses that cooperate with us like that on a voluntary basis, that we should identify and congratulate them.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I did not get a chance to read it but I understand there was an article in the paper that Mr. Schmeiser is anticipating that because of labor contracts we may have to raise taxes in the City. I very much question whether that would be the reason. It might just be the people they use as the scapegoat. If they raise taxes, it's because we have not run this City as efficiently as we should and I think that frequently the surplus has come from, for example, the $1.6 million that we've allocated for police yet 80 percent of our police officers have failed the psychological test which is absurd. We're 105 police below.

You know, the issue of my pointing out that we need to get voluntary commuter tax from suburbanites was called the laughing tax. I don't think it's a laughing matter. I received over $3,000. The Los Angeles Times did a three-quarter page story on the nature and the seriousness of the fiscal situation of this City. I'll be taking that up and have been for some time and dealing with it in more depth. For the benefit of those who don't know, we have an $800 million debt at the moment and we're going into water authority and the City of Pittsburgh alone cannot pick up that responsibility.

There are many people who have said to me, and I'm sure to other people sitting on this Council, that they feel that they get more than $10 worth of services from the City and yes, they believe it is the right way to go. They would prefer metropolitanism as would the Mayor and myself.

But, in lieu of that, it now became a joke because of the episode under the clock, I didn't even know what meeting under the clock meant, I thought you were going to kiss me on the cheek and take me to lunch. I meant from the neck up. But I think that it is important that we get a voluntary head tax from those people who are corporate middle level, people who work in the City, people who have their jobs and are working today in a depressed area. We don't have a recession; we have a depression. The other parts of the country are recovering; we are not. But those who feel in their conscience that they get more than $10 worth of services, I want to remind those people, and I would like to have some kind of letter go to the Mayor, Mr. Perry, asking if he would do a public service spot and not make it a laughing matter but a very serious matter until we can get something done. It isn't going to be legislatively, we're not going to get 102 votes. It's going to have to be done through corporate structure, corporate leadership. That's how it's happened everywhere else. But until then, to do a public service spot that would tell people who would like to contribute more than their $10 voluntary occupation tax, to make out a check to the City of Pittsburgh Treasurer and mark on the check, Voluntary Commuter Tax or Voluntary Head Tax. It is a tax write-off to them. If there's anybody in the City who feels flush and would like to give us more than $10, we'll accept that, but particularly the suburbanites. Unless the media picks it up, this coverage only goes to City residents on Warner, Channel 17, and I would like to see whether we could somehow get some kind of budget to reach our suburbanites in an ad. Perhaps I will, at a later time, introduce a resolution that we ask people to do that, those who feel they get more than their $10 worth. We already have over $3,000 in that fund. I don't know the latest figure because many checks came in and they didn't mark on the check what the money was for. They just made it out to the Pittsburgh Treasurer and didn't say what the money was for. It could have been a great deal more.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, I think there is a matter before us that must be discussed and I'll put in the form of a resolution that we continue with the legal services of who has been appointed by our City Solicitor to represent the City in the plant closing legislation appeal that is now before the courts, and that is Joseph S. Hornack, Esq., to continue. I'll make that in the form of a motion and I'd like to have some discussion on this matter.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Mr. Robinson:

Question. I have a question, if I might, on the procedure. It was my understanding that Mr. Hornack was secured by Pittsburgh City Council to represent our interest in this plant closing legislation. Am I correct?

Mr. Givens:

Well, that was only done because the City Solicitor had refused because of his own legal opinion.

Mr. Robinson:

No, I'm just trying to straighten something out procedurally. That's all. My concern is that, to my knowledge, Mr. Hornack has not reported to Council. Perhaps he's reported to the President or to the City Clerk —

The Chair:

Not to me.

Mr. Robinson:

It would seem to me that since we were paying him and since we hired him to represent us, that before we take any action we might want to get a report from him and some kind of recommendation as to what we should do.

Mr. Givens:

Yes, Bill. That's why I have him here today. This is going to be done verbally but it can be followed through with legislation. But it's the intent of Council as to which direction we want to go. I think the right of appeal is part of our judicial system and for one not to take all the avenues for that appeal, we would not be doing just and right. But it goes a little bit deeper than that.

To get into my particular discussion on it, I would ask that we bring Mr. Hornack up here but I'd like to make one or two comments, if I might, to give a frame of reference as to where, at least this Councilman, is coming from. It goes back to the basic Charter of the City of Pittsburgh and my concerns of what is happening, not just on this particular vote, on the Home Rule, but it's overwhelming impact that it's going to have on the Charter of the City of Pittsburgh and for that matter, the Charter across this Commonwealth of ours.

What is the Home Rule? We have to ask ourselves that basic question. What is the Home Rule of the City of Pittsburgh? The whole basic premise of Home Rule was that we would not have to go back to the state legislative body in Harrisburg to seek permission for actions that we can take on our own. That's exactly what we tried to do here. It also states that therefore the Home Rule can only do part of the task of modernizing City government. Many other needs that need changes have to come from the General Assembly or the Commonwealth also. But it says that many essential changes, however, are made in this particular document, our Charter that we have been under since 1976 and that the structure it provides for flexibility and easy to change structure for improved excess and response from our citizens.

Where did the request come from for plant closing? Did it come, initially, from this Council? I have to say maybe we met down that roadway someplace, at Reizenstein or some other place, yes, it came from this Council and it also came from many of the unemployed or those that were going to be unemployed and were going to be effected. One thing that's very interesting, when you read the first article in that, and I'll stop right there, Mr. President, Article I establishes the Home Rule powers for the City, demands that the City powers be construed broadly by the courts, now, this action is before the courts, broadly by the courts, and confirms the City boundaries and some important terms to use in the Charter as defined.

We can only say, just within the last week or two, what has happened to this City that we sit here and we see ourselves decaying. Are we elected here to represent the people? The answer to that is obviously yes, we are. When we see that U.S. Steel is going to lay off 5,000 some people, 5,000, right here in our own Mon Valley affecting us. If we are the government of the City of Pittsburgh, if we are the major metropolitan area, if we are the only Home Rule municipality within Allegheny County, then I think we have a leadership role to play right here. Mercy Hospital, 111 people, people who have been working there all their lives have gotten the axe and have gotten it so quickly that it's unbelievable. Why did we aske for plant closing?

The biggest thing, I think maybe something that happened in my childhood over in the East End of the City of Pittsburgh and that is our own Coca Cola plant out there in East Liberty which hires today only 130 some people. But what did this City administration do? What did we do in this Council? What did the Urban Redevelopment Authority do and the City development thing that we moved out of this City and moved over to the URA, what did any of these do? Has anyone made direct communication with the Coke plant? I don't know but I'd have to venture in saying that I don't think anyone got off their high horse and really went out to the Coke officials and asked them point blank. We can get you a place that we're putting millions in, ladies and gentlemen of this Council, millions of dollars we are appropriating for the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation site down there. We have already put money into that. The Coke contract for that particular building doesn't even run out until December. Naturally, they're going to move forward. Couldn't we hold them there for the J & L site? Could we not find, of all those vacant buildings down on the Strip District, which we're trying to revitalize, could we not ask them to stay in there?

Second of all, why did they move out of the City? I think we have to ask ourselves these hard questions, Mr. President, because if it's something we're doing wrong here, then I want those people to come down and express it to us openly and candidly. I am not for anti-business, I want businesses to stay in Pittsburgh and I want them to relocate into the City of Pittsburgh. If they're leaving here, why are they leaving? We, or somebody within the government of the City of Pittsburgh, must find out these answers and stop this exodus from the City of Pittsburgh.

What happens? We here in this Council provided millions of dollars for our youth who are unemployed. For the greatest employment, if you look over Allegheny County, you find it right here in the City of Pittsburgh. What are we doing, though? What are we doing? —

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, I don't want to cut you short but I think you ought to go on with that subject after we talk with an attorney. The base of resolution is whether we should appeal it.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, we have an appeal and I would like before any of us take a vote on this, that we at least hear from our legal counsel that this Council had approved to carry us through at least the initial step, that of the Common Pleas Court of Allegheny County. Knowing that there's three other major courts, appellate systems, that they can go to including Pennsylvania Supreme Court, I'd ask that at least this Council, knowing the impact that this is going to have on the Home Rule Charter of the City of Pittsburgh, I might even say forget about plant closing, but the issue here before this Council today is, do we have a Home Rule Charter? Can this City act independently for the welfare of it's people here in the City of Pittsburgh?

With that, Mr. President, I ask that Mr. Hornack come to the microphone and express his thoughts on what is happening and what the appeal process might be.

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, I'd like to hear from Mr. Hornack but to the respect you're speaking to, if I read right the judges incurred that it was a violation of State law and that's why they ruled accordingly.

Mr. Givens:

Well, that's the judges' opinion right here locally. But if this is done statewide then I'd have to say we'd have a hard time explaining our Home Rule Charter.

The Chair:

Let's hear from Mr. Hornack. I think he can explain it a little better.

Mr. Hornack:

Thank you. Let me just give a little procedural history on how I came to represent the City in the action. At a Council meeting in July, there was a vote taken at which time yourselves decided that I should represent the City in this matter since the Law Department decided that it could not do so. Later that same week I went in and talked to Solicitor Pellegrini and an agreement was drawn up between the law office that I work for and the Law Department which gave me the authority to represent not only the City of Pittsburgh but the Council of the City of Pittsburgh in the action. At that time, not only the City of Pittsburgh but also City Council had been sued by the Smaller Manufacturers Council. They had named two separate parties but there was not two separate counsels for the bodies. At that time, I was representing both the City and the Council.

The case was decided on August 19, Friday August 19. Within five days after the decision, I returned the file to Solicitor Pellegrini and at this time I am here speaking as former representative of the City of Pittsburgh but that does not preclude you from either retaining me again or retaining someone else or having the Law Department do it.

Let me just tell you what the judges decided and what my recommendations are. Both judges, Judges Narick and Papadakos, ruled that the ordinance was illegal and/or unconstitutional on three separate grounds. The first ground was that since the ordinance contained a clause dealing with the creation of a misdemeanor that was in violation of the Home Rule Charter Enabling Act and since the ordinance did not contain a severability clause —

Mr. Givens:

Nor does most of the legislation that comes before this Council have a severability clause.

Mr. Hornack:

I'll talk about what that means in a second.

The judges ruled that since there was no severability clause and since there was one section that was in violation of the law, therefore, the entire ordinance was illegal. That was the first ground upon which the judges ruled.

The second ground was that the ordinance was in conflict with the state law, the State Home Rule Charter Enabling Act, which dealt with limitation upon municipal power.

The third ground upon which the court relied was that it was in violation of federal law in that specifically it was in violation of the National Labor Relations Act which deals with the rights of employers and employees within the context of collective bargaining. The judges felt that the area in which this ordinance dealt with was preempted by federal law and had to be dealt with by federal law and could not be dealt with by state law.

Those are the three grounds upon which the judges relied in deciding their opinion. As you may or may not be aware of, the interveners, the defendant interveners in the action, Support Our Neighborhood Action Coalition and the Allegheny County Labor Council have already file an appeal. So, at this stage, the case is going up to Commonwealth Court. The question remains, what role will the City of Pittsburgh play in it. Will it play an active role or will it play a passive role? My recommendation is that it play an active role for these reasons:

First of all, I believe on the question of a lack of a severability clause in the statute as well as on the question of federal labor law, that we have a very good chance of success on appeal. The lack of a severability clause is not fatal because court decisions have made clear that all state statutes and municipal ordinances are presumed to have a severability clause. There's a section of the Pennsylvania statutes that talks about that. Myself and Attorney Pushinsky, who represented Labor Council and the Neighborhood Coalition, pointed it out to the judges at the hearing but they chose to ignore our argument.

The second ground, Federal Labor Law issue, again, it's a complex issue and I'm not going to go into the merits of it right now. I just want to say that, again, the federal law in this question is becoming more and more strict in our favor. The doctrine of preemption has been used in the past to strike down the number of types of legislation as well as types of litigation. The U.S. Supreme Court has been taking a more and more narrow view of preemption and has had a written opinion recently that talks about the need for there to be an identical conflict or an identical comparison between what's going on at the State Court or the state legislation and what's going on before the National Labor Relations Board. Our argument would be that the ordinance is in no way identical to what the National Labor Relations Board would be saying.

On the third issue, the state law issue question. I would recommend an appeal on the grounds that the section of the Home Rule Charter Enabling Act that we're dealing with, known as 1302D, has never been interpreted by an appellate court. —

Mr. O'Malley:

Excuse me, Section 1302D, is that

Mr. Hornack:

That's the section that deals with the language as no municipality which adopts the Home Rule Charter shall determine duties, requirements and obligations imposed upon businesses, employers and occupations, except --

Mr. O'Malley:

It seems clear right there.

Mr. Hornack:

But there's an exception clause. An exception clause being first of all whether there is a statute passed by the General Assembly dealing with this specific issue or, secondly, whether there is a section of the Code dealing with this particular issue. It was on that ground, it was on the ground that the Code referred to a general police power that we initially felt that we had an argument that could be advanced in court. I believe that, again, the relationship between the general police powers which a municipality has and this Section 1302D as it applies to businesses within the City, is an important question and it's one that's going to come up again and again outside the context of plant closing legislation. I am in agreement with Councilman Givens that an appellate court decision that interprets this statute, in a clear and in a substantial way, is very important. The judges below dealt with it in a very perfunctory manner. It was dealt with in a paragraph. While they relied on the language saying that it was plain and clear and unmistakable, we felt that in the argument that we advanced that there were explanations for the language used and that it came from a specific history, a specific relationship between the state and municipalities in the past and that we had to look at the language in 302D in the context of that history.

That's my recommendation on the state law issue, that, while I am maybe not as confident as I am on the other two issues, I believe it is important to have a higher state court rule on the question.

I'm prepared to answer any questions.

Michelle Madoff:

I'd like to ask some questions. It was unfortunate that when the bill came in to be amended there was such an orchestrated effort not to allow the amendments. It is my belief that those who opposed it as vigorously as they did could have said, instead of how we can't do it, let me tell you how we can do it, instead of saying, "Let's do it on a voluntary basis".

My question to you becomes, supposing we were to drop the issue as of this point, go to 1984 which is around the corner, rewrite the bill in the form that you would prefer to have seen it. Would we stand a better chance in the courts?

Mr. Hornack:

The short answer is no. It has to do with the fact that no matter what type of language we use, no matter if one section dealing with one year's notice and another section dealing with 90, 180 and 270 days notice is reconciled

Mr. Givens:

Correction on that. I talked to the Chief Clerk and there is no reference in the City's bill that was passed by this Council with reference to one year. You received old, outdated copies and I checked this out with the Chief Clerk. Had I not, Mike? The copies that you apparently received and that the courts received were not the accurate copy of the record of the City of Pittsburgh as per our Chief Clerk. That was an error in the original document which I had seen both at the Wednesday's Committee Meeting and at the Monday's Executive Session that we're in right now wherein I brought it to the Chief Clerk's responsibility to clarify those clerical errors. They were, so apparently everyone did not get the accurate copy.

Mr. Hornack:

Okay, I was using that as an example. There are other examples that were included in arguments made by the businesses that filed the lawsuit dealing with inconsistencies or vagueness of language. The point I'm trying to make now is that regardless of whether those specific language corrections are made, right now what the judges have ruled upon and what we, I believe, could not afford to just allow to happen is the question of whether the City has the power to pass this type of legislation. I don't believe that any corrections or fine tuning dealing with what is good cause mean for a business not to have to comply by the ordinance can be corrected in such a way so as to get around the arguments that were made and believed by the court below.

Michelle Madoff:

Just to clarify, then, what you're saying so that I understand it, Mr. Hornack. Are you saying that what you want is a clarification on separation of powers in essence? Do we or do we not have the authority to do such and such or not do such and such?

Mr. Hornack:

I believe that that's what City Council's position —

Michelle Madoff:

I don't want to clog the issue but it would help me to understand. A bill has failed in this Council to have a fiscal advisor and I find it really sad that Mr. Givens who is fighting so hard for this bill with our support voted against having a fiscal advisor. The purpose in our bill, and we went to court on it, and our brief said that we are entitled under the present Home Rule Charter to have a separation of powers and no conflict of interest which is what the Charter granted us. But if every time we have to make a decision in this Council that is a fiscal decision, and certainly I don't think there are any fiscal experts sitting on this Council, even though I've probably had as much as anybody else, I've had a year of accounting, when we get to the gut issues they're saying we don't have that power to go out and hire, say four of us don't have the power as a minority to overrule five to say we have the authority to go out and get a fiscal advisor because we need it, we vote on every line item of that budget. Would this encompass the same issues, a separation of powers and the conflict of interest, or would it not address that?

Mr. Hornack:

I do not believe, just from what you've told me, I don't believe it addresses that issue. When I was referring to separation of powers and when I was agreeing with you on the question of separation of powers, I guess what I was really referring to was the relationship between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the City of Pittsburgh as a Home Rule Municipality rather than the question of —

Michelle Madoff:

The Administration versus Council.

Mr. Hornack:

Right, Executive versus Legislative.

Michelle Madoff:

That's another issue then. Okay.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. Hornack, if I may, a couple of questions. Prior to the time that this bill came to Council, were you aware of it in the form it was presented to Council?

Mr. Hornack:

The bill?

Mr. Stone:

Yes.

Mr. Hornack:

Yes, I was.

Mr. Stone:

Did you represent to anyone that this bill was in fact legal?

Mr. Hornack:

I made a presentation before City Council on behalf of the Support Our Neighborhoods Action Coalition which expressed an advocacy position dealing with whether the bill was legal or not legal. At that time, I presented an advocacy position that it was legal.

Mr. Stone:

I assume that was after having read the bill, read the law, and as well, the City of Pittsburgh Charter.

Mr. Hornack:

Yes, that's right.

Mr. Stone:

Were you active in any way in making the amendments?

Mr. Hornack:

No, I wasn't.

Mr. Stone:

Then the amendments, whether passed or not passed, meant nothing to you because, as far as your legal opinion was concerned, it was legal prior to any amendment.

Mr. Hornack:

At that time, I was retained by the City of Pittsburgh to represent the City in the lawsuit and I was prohibited from representing anyone else, including SNAC, and therefore I did not work on the amendments —

Mr. Givens:

I can clarify that. We had two amendments, if you recall. The original amendments were the ones that I had put in on the actual bill. It was very lengthy. Then there was a second amendment that was presented by Tom Flaherty. When Tom Flaherty's amendment was put in, are you saying you were then under the City's retainer?

Mr. Hornack:

We're talking about after it became law? Yes.

Mr. Givens:

It was after it became law. My amendments were in there first and I had no contact with you. I was acting independently on my own and through my own judgment of legislation process I'm putting those amendments forward.

The Chair:

I think the gentleman made it clear. He had no part in the amendments. Okay?

Mr. Stone:

When are you officially hired as the attorney for the City?

Mr. Hornack:

I don't know off hand.

Mr. Stone:

I thought that was July 18th.

Mr. Hornack:

Okay, it was July 18th.

Mr. Stone:

Those amendments came in prior to that time. That's the reason I was asking the other question.

Mr. Hornack:

Well, either way, I was not involved —

Mr. Stone:

Let me change it so we're not confused on dates. Did you have anything to do with the proposed amendments prior to the time that you were engaged by the City?

Mr. Hornack:

No, other than being aware that it was going on and talking to people about it.

Mr. Stone:

If there were a strict interpretation of the Home Rule Charter, would your opinion be any different from what it is now?

Mr. Hornack:

A strick interpretation?

Mr. Stone:

Let me try it the other way, if I may. Is it your opinion that we need a broad interpretation in order to have this particular plant closing legislation be legal? Is the question understood? I'll rephrase it if it's not clear.

Mr. Hornack:

You're talking about specific versus broad. What I'm saying is that I think that an interpretation of 302D which takes into account the context of what Home Rule is all about, to list by merits relating them, to maintain one which becomes what's needed for the case to be successful on appeal. That's what we argued at the lower court and that's what I would recommend arguing about.

So, I think that it's not broad in the sense that it goes outside the language. I think that there's language within the —

Mr. Stone:

But is not the language you just stated kind of clear? You need an interpretation to have it say other than what it expressly says.

Mr. Hornack:

No, I think that the language, the exception language, is not clear. The language that talks about "no municipality shall . . . except" and it's that exception clause that I think is not at all clear.

Mr. Stone:

I don't want to retry the case so I'm just going to stop here for a moment.

Now, pretty much you had done all the research that was necessary prior to the time that you were hired. Is that right?

Mr. Hornack:

Prior to the time we were hired? A lot of it had been done.

Mr. Stone:

I gather that you were at least representing someone in a paid or unpaid capacity prior to the time you came to the City. Right?

Mr. Hornack:

Yes. Some research had been done on the question before. Yes.

Mr. Stone:

Alright, now, how many weeks passed from the time you were hired by the City to the time that you actually go to a hearing on the issue? It's my understanding that may be a couple of weeks? Am I correct?

The Chair:

Two or three weeks, Bob.

Mr. Hornack:

It's only a couple of weeks, if I understand correctly. Correct me if I'm wrong, but my impression was that we passed this thing on the 18th of July and the hearing is a couple of weeks later.

Mr. Hornack:

I'm willing to answer questions but I want to know where this is going. I think I know where this is going but —

Mr. Stone:

I have no intention of embarrassing you. All I'm trying to find out is a period of time. Let me tell you where I'm going. I have not seen a bill; all I have seen is an amount of $10,467.50.

Mr. Hornack:

I thought that's where we were going.

Mr. Stone:

I'm looking at that and I would like to be the beneficiary of those kinds of fees but since I'm not the lawyer at least I'd like to be a Councilman looking over what we have spent. I would like someone to give me a breakdown on $10,000 worth of fees within a couple of weeks, frankly.

Mr. Hornack:

Solicitor Pellegrini could tell you that there was a —

Mr. Stone:

Whoever has it, will someone give me a copy? I'm not contesting it at this point but I think it requires us to at least look.

Mr. Hornack:

I understand.

Mr. Stone:

There has been an interpretation in the newspaper that the two judges who heard this decision made a political decision. I'm asking you, sir, is it your belief that these two judges made a political decision?

Michelle Madoff:

I think that's out of order. I would not answer that.

The Chair:

He doesn't have to answer if he doesn't want to.

Mr. Hornack:

I don't intend to. I express no opinion on that whatsoever.

Mr. Stone:

I have nothing further.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, if I could just intercede here just a little bit. Mr. Hornack was representing us, it was the vote by decree in this Council. I was not here at the time, I was on vacation. But, I had before me Bill 3618 which will be coming up for consideration this Wednesday and final vote next Monday providing a warrant be issued in his behalf for the payment of this particular lawsuit that the City enjoined.

The Chair:

We'll discuss it at that time, then we'll vote on it.

Mr. Givens:

If the City appeals anything and everything, if we are not to appeal this then what is going to happen? I mean, if this attorney or some other attorney, as Joe so indicated, it's either going to be him or someone else, or it's going to be our Legal Department. Now, with that in mind, I'd like to bring up our Solicitor and ask him one or two questions what he's going to do on behalf of this Council in regards to this bill. This is very important.

The Chair:

Are there any other questions for Mr. Hornack?

Mr. Stone:

Mr. DePasquale, if I may. Mr. Hornack, I want it very clearly stated here that I'm not contesting your bill or your ability. But as a Councilman, $10,000 worth of fees in a couple of weeks requires us to inquire and that I am doing.

Mr. Hornack:

And you're certainly within your rights to do that.

Let me just make one point about contacting Council prior to this time.

Councilman Robinson mentioned that earlier. I did file a copy of the brief and a reply brief that we filed with the Law Department and I also filed one copy of the brief and a reply brief. I delivered it to Councilman Givens. Perhaps in hindsight I should have given a copy to each one of the members of Council but I felt that by giving at least one to the chief sponsor of the bill that I was in that way keeping in touch with Council and filling them in on what was happening.

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, did you want to ask Mr. Pellegrini some questions?

Mr. Givens:

Mr. Pellegrini, are you the Solicitor of the City of Pittsburgh?

Mr. Pellegrini:

Yes.

Mr. Givens:

Danny, do you not represent within the Charter, the Home Rule Charter which we are governed by, do you not represent both the two bodies of government, that of executive and of the legislative, that of the Council of the City of Pittsburgh?

Mr. Pellegrini:

I represent the City of Pittsburgh, its officers and employees, when they're acting in their official capacity.

Mr. Givens:

Could you give us your background why you choose not to hear this particular case?

Mr. Pellegrini:

Councilman Givens, you weren't here when this came up. I was the one that engaged Mr. Hornack. Council didn't engage Mr. Hornack; I engaged Mr. Hornack. The reason was that there is no way that this bill can be deemed to be legal. What we said is that we could not honestly give, our Department could not honestly represent the City. That was not the position of Council at that point. It was the position of the City that we had the plant closing bill. We could not see any way that it could be declared to be legal. So, we said that we could not advance the argument; we would take Council's recommendation and hire someone who could advance that argument. We continued --

Mr. Givens:

Where then does that leave this Council as far as jeopardy of the law in proceeding an issue that we could possibly be open to a lawsuit?

Mr. Pellegrini:

I don't understand that question.

Mr. Givens:

You don't understand that? You, the Solicitor, are not acting in our behalf. Many times I am subpoenaed to the courts of this Commonwealth wherein you act as my legal counsel.

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's correct.

Mr. Givens:

Where are you in our legal counsel on this issue? Can we not be countersued as a body?

Mr. Pellegrini:

You weren't here when this first came up. As your legal counsel we engaged Mr. Hornack. The Law Department engaged Mr. Hornack on behalf of the City of Pittsburgh. Not Council, the Law Department engaged Mr. Hornack. Mr. Hornack went in and defended the ordinance. Judge Papadakos and Judge Narick then ruled that the ordinance was illegal.

What you want to know is what is the position the Law Department is going to take.

Mr. Givens:

No, I want to ask this question. How many cases does the City of Pittsburgh, under your jurisdiction as Director and our Solicitor, how many cases do you appeal to the various courts in the Commonwealth?

Mr. Pellegrini:

We've appealed a number. I can't give you an exact count. Fifty or sixty a year, somewhere in that range.

Mr. Givens:

Do you win all those cases?

Mr. Pellegrini:

A good portion.

Mr. Givens:

You say you have appealed many cases. All we're simply asking here is that it simply be appealed.

Mr. Pellegrini:

Councilman, I think there's really two issues, from my point of view, as to what should be done here. Quite frankly, I've always been in a quandry over this issue.

An appeal will cost further expenditures on behalf of the City of Pittsburgh and we're under an obligation not to waste money. On the other hand, my position is, if Council would want to appeal, if you can get five votes, —

Mr. Givens:

Hold it. You hired that legal counsel, not this City. You represent this Council. When you don't represent this Council —

Mr. Pellegrini:

Do you want to let me finish or do you want to continue talking?

Mr. Givens:

I want you to finish.

Mr. Pellegrini:

I would take Council's recommendation and I would authorize the appeal. It's my decision whether to appeal this or not. So, if you can get five votes, we'll take an appeal. I just don't think it's worth the money to take that appeal.

One other point. The appeal will be taken. There's an appeal already been taken by SNAC so it will be argued. Whether we will appeal or not the issue will go up.

Mr. Givens:

There's more than SNAC. There's other bodies in there like the Allegheny Labor Council which —

Mr. Pellegrini:

What I'm saying is that it doesn't matter. The issue still will go up.

Mr. Givens:

As our legal counsel and not at the request of this Council but the fact that it is the people of this City that you are representing as well as this elected body right here and I don't think it requires five votes upon this Council to tell you to appeal any case in the City of Pittsburgh. It's incumbent upon you as this legislative body has enacted a law that is now under court scrutiny. If you do not appeal, then the burden is on your shoulders and I have to say then this Council might request five votes but those five votes will go in a different direction, not an appeal.

Mr. Pellegrini:

If five Councilmembers desire not to appeal —

Mr. Givens:

Danny, you have never come to this Council for an appeal, you're not going to come to it now. This Council does not have to demand for you to go for an appeal. It's your right and your duty under your sworn oath to the citizens of this City to uphold and defend the law. That law is being challenged in the lower courts. You're to appeal it to the higher courts. If you do not do it, you're not carrying out your duties as the Solicitor of the City of Pittsburgh. Period.

Mr. Pellegrini:

It's my obligation to take appeals where I consider it's in the best interest and my discretion to take the appeal.

The Chair:

An appeal is not mandatory.

Mr. Pellegrini:

It's not mandatory; we don't appeal a lot of cases.

Mr. Givens:

That's why I asked him, Mr. President, how many appeals there were. He said many, many appeals.

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, I think you made your point rather well and I think Mr. Pellegrini has made his. If this Council votes to appeal, he'll appeal. Otherwise he's not going to appeal.

Mr. Givens:

Then every appeal he must make then must come up in the form of legislation before this Council. Do you want that?

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's not true and that's not what I said.

Mr. Givens:

I will not vote on any appeal —

The Chair:

You can always pass a resolution asking the City to appeal anything.

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's right. You can always —

Mr. Givens:

If the City doesn't want to appeal it then I have to look at the credibility of our Solicitor. Period.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Pellegrini, I believe your interpretation to be accurate in that you make the decision and you representing the Administration as to whether there should be an appeal taken or an appeal not taken and I can think a many cases when the Finance Chairman has answered me by saying, "We paid this large sum of money, $50,000 on a case because if we took the appeal and we lost it, it could have been $2 million". We can both think of several cases like that. So, the appeal decision becomes one that is made in the Administrative and/or in the legal end of the City. Is that correct?

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's correct.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Pellegrini, who hired you?

Mr. Pellegrini:

I was appointed by the Mayor and confirmed by Council.

Michelle Madoff:

Okay. Who fires you?

Mr. Pellegrini:

They Mayor.

Michelle Madoff:

Okay. Who would you say in all honesty, and I don't know whether you believe in God or not and it's not my business, but whatever you believe in or hold holy to you or responsible to, do you feel your first allegiance is to? The Administration?

Mr. Pellegrini:

In this particular case --

Michelle Madoff:

I didn't ask you that. I did not ask you that.

Mr. Pellegrini:

My obligation is to the City of Pittsburgh.

Michelle Madoff:

If the Mayor said I want you to sue on this even though you believe it to be not a good bill and one we would lose and you believe it not to be good legislation, would you then take an appeal? If the Mayor asked you to take the appeal? If the Mayor asked you to appeal this, would you or would you not take it? Yes or no.

Mr. Pellegrini:

I have never known the Mayor --

Michelle Madoff:

I didn't ask you that question.

Mr. Pellegrini:

I've never been confronted with it.

Michelle Madoff:

I didn't ask you whether you've been confronted; I don't know if you will in the future. Answer my question. If the Mayor told you to do it.

Mr. Pellegrini:

Would we take an appeal in a situation like this?

Mr. O'Malley:

If Council asks you, you're going to take it.

Mr. Pellegrini:

If Council asks me to take the appeal in this situation, I am. If you can get the five votes.

Michelle Madoff:

My point is very clear. You do not work for this Council. You have never worked for this Council. The conflict in the Home Rule Charter is that the Legal Department is indeed representative of the City of Pittsburgh and since we are the Council of the City of Pittsburgh you represent us.

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's not correct. And we don't have a fiscal advisor and we don't buy second hand furniture either.

Michelle Madoff:

You should be doing both because both are immoral when you don't do them. And when you flaunt the fact that we do something wrong and are proud of it, shame on you.

Now, I maintain that the position of the Law Department of this City is no different than when Dave Lawrence took a note out of his right pocket if he wanted a no answer and if he took it out of his left he wanted a yes answer.

Mr. Pellegrini:

I don't understand what you're saying.

Michelle Madoff:

The point is, if the Mayor said, "I want you to appeal this", you'd be appealing it. You don't work for this Council, you never have. You work for the Administration. That's fine.

Mr. Pellegrini:

I think you're making the point at the wrong time.

Michelle Madoff:

That is the point.

Mr. Pellegrini:

If you can get five votes, I'll take the appeal.

Michelle Madoff:

We can override you with five votes.

Mr. Pellegrini:

No, you can't override me.

The Chair:

Are there any further questions in regard to the resolution only?

Mr. Given:

Mr. President, I want to make it very loud and clear to all the members of this Council what the Solicitor of this City is trying to tell us. He says that we need five votes for him to appeal. We do not need five votes. That is his decision.

The Chair:

He did not say that. He can appeal is he wants but in this case he will rely upon five votes from Council.

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's correct.

Mr. Givens:

If you look at the bill that will be before us this coming Wednesday, it's being paid out of Code Account 1075, Miscellaneous Service, Department of Law, $10,000 for Mr. Hornack. If the Solicitor doesn't appeal it, then that's a judgmental factor that he has to live with. It's also a judgmental factor on this Council for every piece of legislation that comes before us. If this Council, Danny, makes a vote, it's a vote to get outside legal counsel, not to ask the Solicitor to appeal a particular issue before this legislative body.

Mr. Pellegrini:

Councilman, what I inform you is that if Council deems this to be an important issue —

Mr. Givens:

No, no, no.

Mrs. Masloff:

Dick, let him finish.

Mr. Givens:

No way. Sophie, he is to do in his best judgment, as the Solicitor of the City of Pittsburgh, what he feels is best for the City of Pittsburgh. He takes an oath of office as we take an oath of office. There are people out there that are for this, there are people out there that are against this particular issue. But, for those people who want it and for those people who don't want it, you have a right as the Solicitor of the City of Pittsburgh to take this because it's been asked to be appealed. It's been asked.

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, I think you made your position clear and Mr. Pellegrini has made his clear and Mr. Robinson —

Mr. Givens:

He's opened up a real bag of worms. If he wants us to put five votes up there then I'm going to ask him for every piece of legislation or court cases that he wants to appeal, that he put it in a form of a resolution to come before this Council. And I'll vote it up or I'll vote it down.

Mr. Robinson:

Dan, did you file with the City Clerk a copy of the documents that Mr. Hornack gave to you concerning this case?

Mr. Pellegrini:

No, I did not.

Mr. Robinson:

Would it be possible for you to get those to the City Clerk?

Mr. Pellegrini:

Do you mean the briefs?

Mr. Robinson:

Yes, all the documents that we might have to look at.

Mr. Pellegrini:

Sure. There's no problem with that. I think one was given to Councilman Givens. Is that correct?

Mr. Robinson:

What I'm thinking about is, if at the appropriate time, you and the President think Council should be better informed on this matter, I think it would be appropriate for us to have something on file here with us.

Mr. Pellegrini:

I'll have a copy sent to the City Clerk.

Mr. Robinson:

Okay. The other thing is, I just wanted to mention, I believe we ought to appeal; I don't want to go back into all the discussion, but I think we ought to appeal if for no other reason that I think this issue is so vitally important. It has drawn the kind of interest on the part of the Administration and Council that since it is in the courts that perhaps if we have an opportunity to go forward we ought to at least explore that. That was my reason for wanting to know whether or not Council had some documents that we could review and then talk with you and Mr. Hornack about what is the best way for us to proceed.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, one very important question, if I may. Mr. Pellegrini, forgetting the issue itself, Mr. Hornack said that the issue now becomes clarification of the Home Rule Charter. Is that correct?

Mr. Pellegrini:

No. First of all, there is an issue as to whether there is clarification needed. I think that the whole issue on this case was Section 302D of the Home Rule and Optional Plans Law which is not part of the Home Rule Charter but the act under which Home Rule Charters are promulgated. Section 1302D says that the City cannot regulate, and this is a short version, regulate any employee, occupation or business unless specifically authorized by the General Assembly.

Michelle Madoff:

A lawsuit would clarify that, is that correct? For further litigation that may come up or any other problems that may come up in this Council? Would that in itself be worth appealing just to clarify that?

Mr. Pellegrini:

My own understanding of 302D is that it is so clear that that does not need an interpretation. I know Mr. Hornack's theory and Mr. Hornack's theory here I just don't think has any merit.

Michelle Madoff:

What I'm saying is that you're entitled to your legal opinion and Mr. Hornack is entitled to his, but that doesn't make him a bad guy. That doesn't mean that his opinion is less valid than your opinion. It has come to my attention for the benefit of this Council

Mr. Pellegrini:

It makes it less valid now. Number one, my opinion is the official City of Pittsburgh position. But right now we're not talking about a clean slate where we're arguing whether it's my opinion or someone else's opinion. My opinion now happens to be the same opinion that the two judges of the Court of Common Pleas have issued. So, we're not talking in a vacuum. We're talking in terms of what the court has ruled.

Michelle Madoff:

I just want to know is would this clarify the difference of opinion on this one issue that is in question. Now, in the brief, the judge decided that four members of Council could not question five members of Council, that we indeed were a legislative body or, I guess a legal body, a judicious body, that we can make our own decisions and it was inappropriate to hear it in the courts. My answer to that judge when I met him privately was, "With that kind of thinking, we'd still have fourteen year olds in sweatshops and blacks at the back of the bus". If we don't have, four members or three members of this Council, do not have a way of going to the courts to appeal in justice, we don't have anywhere to turn.

Mr. Pellegrini:

The only thing I can say is that individual Councilmembers do not have any authority. Council acts as a body. The key here is five votes.

Michelle Madoff:

I understand that. Are you aware and is every member of this Council aware that we spent over $10,000 already and that the appeal would be on a flat rate of no more than an additional $2,000. If we've already spent the $10,000 something, the $2,000 would be worth the clarification, in my opinion. Just to get clarification once and for all on the question that you and the other attorney disagree on. What makes your opinion more valid than his? Because two judges agree with you? That doesn't hold water with me although those two judges are friends of mine.

Mr. Stone:

Dannv, if I recall correctly, you were asked to render a legal opinion prior to the time the bill was actually passed. Is that correct?

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's correct.

Mr. Stone:

It's my understanding that you said it was illegal in your interpretation, your opinion.

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's correct.

Mr. Stone:

At the time that the appeal was taken -- Let's start right before that. Before the appeal was taken and after passage, it was still your opinion that the bill was illegal.

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's correct.

Mr. Stone:

At the present time it is your opinion that it is still illegal. Is that correct?

Mr. Pellegrini:

It's still illegal.

Mr. Stone:

Okay. Mr. President, if I may, without going into some other questions on this thing but, in fairness, relative to our City Solicitor, he was asked to give a legal opinion, he gave a legal opinion, and I think I'm in a position better than anyone to tell whether or not we've gotten good or bad interpretations and opinions from him, and I would be the first to say that as far as I am concerned, I am very proud of the legal expertise that this City Solicitor happens to have. I would also go one step further. I don't believe he is purely a reacting person, that is, this is the way I want it, you give me the result. I think that there's more integrity in this individual and we ought to appreciate that for what it is. The opinion he gave us is the one he would give to the Mayor. Even after it was passed, he indicated that at that point he didn't have to do anything. He said it was illegal. That's it. I think if he went to court and said, "This is now legal" and the court says to him, "Well, you made an opinion already and here it is, it says illegal. How can you be talking out of the other side of your mouth at this particular point?" His choice then was to pick up the recommendation of this Council. I think he was rather magnanimous in attempting to do that and he hired a lawyer of this Council's choice to put that viewpoint, even though he differed with it, to put that viewpoint forward. Again, even though he said it was incorrect and it was illegal and he maintained that posture throughout, it went before two judges and two judges have agreed without too much hesitancy as it seems.

While there are some people who would like to believe that that was something other than a judicious decision, I think that's indicative of the accuser rather than of the deciders. Some people are never satisfied; they never will be. But that's life and that's how it is. But as far as this is concerned right now, I think the City Solicitor is again acting responsibly. It's his legal opinion that the thing is illegal. It's now been upheld as being illegal by two judges. He's saying again to this Council that in view of that, where do you want to go with a bill that he himself says is illegal. You can't ask him to be any more fair than what he's trying to be here.

Mr. O'Malley:

I just have one quick question. Danny, Mr. Hornack stated that there was already an appeal filed.

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's correct.

Mr. O'Malley:

Does it really make any difference whether one appeal is filed or two or three or four people file an appeal? Is that going to change the outcome of the appeal in any way, shape or form?

Mr. Pellegrini:

It shouldn't.

Mr. O'Malley:

So, in other words, if there's already an appeal filed, the outcome of that appeal is not going to make any difference whether this Council allocates additional funds or not.

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's correct.

The Chair:

If I understand, Mr. Pellegrini, you're saying that if the appeal is upheld then it becomes law.

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's correct.

The Chair:

Automatically? So it doesn't make any difference if the City appeals or anybody else? The same decision will be forthcoming whether it's the City, SNAC or labor unions.

Mr. O'Malley:

As far as I'm concerned, if we allocated the funds for an appeal that's already being appealed, it would be a waste of taxpayers' money because the outcome is going to be the same.

The Chair:

You make a good point, a very good point.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, if I might. I have no more questions for Danny but there's one important area of law right here that I would like, if we could have John Pushinsky who represented the Allegheny Labor Council —

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, we're not going to hear from anybody else. We heard from the attorney who had some knowledge of what was going on. He fought the case. We're not going to hear from everybody else in this room. I'm sorry.

Mr. Givens:

That's your prerogative, Mr. President. I thought he had a very strong labor point —

The Chair:

I ruled he can't speak.

Mr. Givens:

I would like Joe to come back up and sort of summarize to this Council our position right now and to bring out some other pertinent factors when he was cut off from questions and debate. Mr. Hornack, could you come back up to the microphone?

The Chair:

You mean by this time Mr. Hornack hasn't made himself clear to you and this Council?

Mr. Givens:

Yes. We're still on the debate. Please.

Mr. Hornack, I know there are other pertinent areas but you brought out the main three obstacles of why the judges did not vote on it. I asked a pertinent question and the fact that you were hired under the counsel of our Solicitor, not under this City, not under the Council of the City of Pittsburgh and, in fact, being paid out of that. For your clarification, there are two accounts. We have the Miscellaneous Service Department of Law account for our legal actions and each and every Councilperson, through the majority of Council, has the right to go out and seek our own legal counsel in cases where we deem necessary because for many of the reasons that Michelle had brought out, that we feel that on this Council we do not receive the type of opinions.

At any rate, is there anything more significant that you can add to this particular debate before this Council decides what we should do with it.

Mr. Hornack:

Are you talking about the attorney's fees?

Mr. Givens:

Yes, the attorney fees. That's a very good point. How much more is it going to take if your initial bill was $10,000, how much more would it generally take for an appeal?

The Chair:

I don't think the gentleman can tell you that, Mr. Givens. He's an attorney at law; he's going to have to charge you accordingly. You're asking unfair questions, believe me.

Mr. Givens:

The thing is, you've done what, eighty percent of the basic work right now, ninety percent?

Mr. Hornack:

A lot of the research has been done and an appeal would involve refining those arguments.

Mr. Givens:

Percentage wise, how much, in any appeal that you normally go through, how much of the work has been done? How much more time do you think, how many more hours do you think you're going to have to --

Mr. Hornack:

On the detailed bill which we submitted to Council, there were listed a total of 150 hours. I can tell you that it would be significantly less time. I don't want to be in the position of having to, you know, deal with a bargaining situation because it's not at all clear that it would be our office that would be retained. All I would say is that if the major concern of Council was the cost of an appeal, then I would be willing to talk about what I feel is a limitation on hours.

Mr. Givens:

My last point is, as I asked the Solicitor, how many times has the City of Pittsburgh's Solicitor appealed. He said many, many times. He appeals even though he's been shot down in the Commonwealth courts of the City of Pittsburgh. He appeals for the right of any citizen that has the right to appeal to exercise their legal actions and I would think that if this City that has a law before it that's not going to have representation before the higher courts of this Commonwealth, it's a slap in the face to this Council and it's a slap in the face to the citizens. We do not have --

Michelle Madoff:

That's not the issue now.

Mr. Givens:

Legal representation up there on a bill we have passed. Overrode the Mayor's veto on and etc., and etc.

The Chair:

It would be very unethical for this gentleman to answer that last question, Mr. Givens, and I think --

Michelle Madoff:

Call the vote please.

Mr. Flaherty:

Wait, I have a question for Mr. Hornack. Sir, how would the Common Pleas Court ruling possibly affect the City's ability to regulate service stations as far as the posting of prices, or regulate if service stations may be self-served outlets, or for example in the field of regulating the novelty shops in the field of pornography. I'm just throwing out a few of those examples.

If this opinion were to be upheld could it have an adverse effect as to what the City has been trying to accomplish for example the three areas that I just cited.

Mr. Hornack:

Well, each particular factual situation has to be looked at individually, obviously, because you might be talking about another state law that's already in existence on the subject; but my initial recommendation on appeal beyond the question of plant closing legislation was that yes, for legislation that can only be dreamed about at this point or can't even be thought of, conceived of at this point.

A ruling such as this may have a very severe adverse impact on the question of what type of activity that he can do achieved to be a business. That was what my point was on appeal and that's why I thought that, and recommended that an interpretation on this question would be important, because in the past the City has done often times the one that responds rather than the state legislature, and if this type of interpretation were to stay law or at least remain unclear, then in many future circumstances the question could come again and the City may be very hesitant to act when it really has no need to be that hesitant.

Obviously, I have a different legal opinion at this point then the Solicitor does in terms of its long range impact and what exactly that section of the law is; and my recommendation on appeal on the state law question is that, I would like to see a fuller discussion of what the actual —

Mr. Givens:

Well, that was my basic premise. Mr. President, that was my opening remarks and the underlining issue, I think before this Council right now is the actual Charter that we serve under and if we cannot do what the Charter says in the first article, the first article of this Home Rule Charter, one that was debated very heavily. One who's members in this Council sat on this Home Rule Advisory Committee when it was going through this committee session, and the fact that the people of the City of Pittsburgh voted went to the polls on a referendum question and voted for this Home Rule Charter which we now serve under; and it says in that article one, establish the Home Rule powers, that the City demand, that the City powers be construed loudly by the courts, and confirms the City boundaries some important terms.

I feel that the fact that this is in the courts and the courts are supposed to construe our power. I do not cast any opinions on the Judges in our Commonwealth courts. However, I feel that for us to deny ourselves a bill that we have passed or even overrode the Mayor's veto on, and now if we're not to take it to its completion it would be denying both ourselves and the people that we represent on both sides of the coin.

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, if I may be real quick. The problem with the Home Rule Charter, is that no one to this date seems to know who's to carry the mandates for the Home Rule Charter, it never even established that fact. No one's ever established who carries out the mandates for the Home Rule Commission.

Mr. O'Malley:

Mr. President, can we call the question, please?

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, I have a few brief remarks. I haven't said anything in regard to this issue, and I would appreciate it if I could have the patience of those who have spoken for the last half hour on it.

The Chair:

Mr. Flaherty, could you do it while we're voting. You going to be the first vote anyway.

Mr. O'Malley:

Call the question.

Mr. Flaherty:

Thank you for your courtesy, Councilman O'Malley.

Mr. O'Malley:

Your welcome, Councilman Flaherty.

The Chair:

The motion and a second to appeal the plant closing decision. Clerk call the roll.

Michelle Madoff:

Is is an aye vote to appeal?

The Chair:

Aye to appeal, no not to appeal.

Mr. Flaherty:

I support the appeal and I will take the opportunity now to just state my reasons why. I believe that comparatively speaking the issue of plant closing legislation was an epic for this Council, and for the supporters of the bill, and for the opponents of the bill. I think it is a law that will certainly spawn from the neighborhood movement and from the Labor Council's involvement.

As, Councilman Givens' was earlier saying in questioning our City Solicitor, he was trying to force the Solicitor into the position of appealing it on his own discretion. I believe that the Solicitor has the latitude not to appeal this if he does not want to; and I think that's the way it should be. We know where the Solicitor stands and we know where his superior the Mayor stands on this issue. They are unalterably opposed to it and their remarks are as biased against it as perhaps mine or some of the supporters of the bill are in favor of it; but regardless now is the time for accountability, and now is the time for each member of City Council to show where they really stand on plant closing legislation.

It is my belief from what I have garnered from the public hearings from all the debates that Council is unanimous that all members of Council are supportive of plant closing legislation in principle or in concept in the general sense. The detractors seem to way their criticisms or hang their criticisms on the supposedly legality of the bill. I think we have started on the road to testing the legality of this bill. This is a test that will cost the City a few thousand dollars, $10,000. Comparatively speaking that's peanuts. The Law Department annually goes through close to $2 million annually. So, you can see in a comparative sense that it is really nothing and that argument is insignificant as far as the cost. It must be balanced against the concerns of unemployment and the trauma and often times tragedy that it incurs.

We are aware that Allegheny County Labor Council is appealing the Common Pleas Court decision. We are aware that the Pittsburgh Neighborhood Alliance inclusive within Save Our Neighborhood Action Coalition is appealing this decision. I think Council should line up with them. Council should put the full weight of the City of Pittsburgh behind this appeal in Common Pleas Court. It's as simple as that. You're either with labor and you're with our neighborhoods or you're against them.

Mr. Givens:

I vote aye, Mr. President, and I'm sorry if I was a little bit emotional on this particular issue, but when I read daily newspaper reports, see some 6,000 thousand people that are going to be unemployed, and I see many of the youth in our City walking the streets of the City of Pittsburgh, when I see this Council striving and spending millions of dollars that the federal government has just given us for this unemployment; I think it's about time that business and labor and government; and it's a big question mark, there's been many seminars over the last several months and past year and this turnaround within our country as to what has to happen? What has to happen in order for the local communities to keep up with the ever changing environment that we live in, and the world market as many people call it today, and it means now that government must sit down.

This plant closing legislation in my view was not anti-business. It was to bring business in in a cool collective manner with a committee appointed by this Council with a bureau that would go out and not scrouge through the books of some business enterprise out there, but to go out and say, we have X program here that might be able to help you. It's not the major industries in some cases. It's the smaller industry that need this help but do not have the expertise, that do not have the legal attorney's, that do not have the taxation attorney's, and etc., to help them out of some of the dilemmas that they get in, and the small businesses and the smaller manufacturing.

It was an entity to bring everyone together, but I plead with my fellow Councilmembers in the idea of unity and purpose of working together. That was my total purpose in introducing this plant closing legislation. It's the human element involved. If local government does not do something to turn around the local Pittsburgh market, if the Allegheny County government, and state government do not do something to turn around our state unemployment situation. If you look at the unemployment figures what state, what district, what area is hit the hardest? We're sitting right in the middle of the biggest depression that ever went on. Within a couple of more weeks when the unemployment runs out you'll only begin to feel the pinch and maybe sometime some of us have to be unemployed ourselves to realize what the unemployed are going through.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, as I drove to work today there were about five accidents on the Parkway because of the rain and I was in my car for sometime, and I heard a report that I would like to learn more about, but essentially the bottom line of the report was, just what you were just saying, that while the rest of the country is having a recovery the northeastern City's were not in a recession, we were in a depression, and they anticipate that this will continue for a greater period of time, that we're not going to come out of it for many years to come and it's going to get worse.

The City's that have industries such as steel and heavy industry will not recover quickly and they're moving kind of slow in generating jobs. Are limited in the number of people that will be hired and that most of the jobs will still continue to go to the South. So, what we're confronted with here today is, what responsibility do we have to those people who have given their life blood to this community. The industry is like in many instances like the horse and buggy, it's gone, never to come back in many instances. Can we at least give them enough notice so that they can have enough time to put their lives in order? That is one factor that stands out in my mind. Even if we lose the appeal at least what we're going to be doing is putting those industries who have had an attitude of ignoring the human factor in saying they don't give a damn that at least they're going to have a consciousness raising process take place, so it will not be an entire loss; and if for no other reason at least we're going to clarify this question of the Home Rule and our jurisdiction. I think the money is so insignificant that at this point, I will vote aye for appeal.

Mrs. Masloff:

Mr. President, I stand on my record for voting for labor and for supportive in neighborhoods. I can see no point in spending anymore money on an issue that the courts have spoken on, no.

Mr. O'Malley:

Some times the actions of this Council reminds me of that of a small child. If a child looking at a fire and you tell them, don't put your hand in the fire you're going to receive a burn and the child thinks about for a few minutes sticks his hand in the fire, sure enough he gets burnt. Well, it's the same as the actions of this Council we were told by our Solicitor that Section 103 of the state charter clearly prohibits City's from acting laws regulating business.

This Council allocated $10,467 for Mr. Hornack to go into court and to challenge, to uphold what they felt was right. Judge Narick, Judge Papadakos agreed with our City Solicitor that it was clearly illegal. Now, the child looking at the fire again thinks about it for the second time sticks his hand into the fire and receives a second burn, you've got to come to the conclusion that the child must be a hard head. That's sort of like the actions of this Council for the second time to come back and ask for additional funds for an appeal, to waste another $2,000, $4,000, $5,000 of the taxpayers money.

What would make it seem like this Council is a hard head is that there are already two people appealing the ruling. Already two people appealing the ruling and there would be an exercise of futility to appropriate the funds for a third time. I vote no.

Mr. Robinson:

I vote aye, and I think that it is essential that this Council protect itself at all times and particularly in matters as important as this. We certainly have a City Solicitor and we certainly have the resources to plead our case. I think the fact that this Council put so much time and effort into this issue that we so earnestly attempted to address all the issue that it would be inappropriate at this time to allow others to carry our burden.

I don't think the cost of the appeal is really the question. I think the question is, whether or not this Council is going to defend to the last those laws that it passes and I think there is a presumption that all the laws that we pass are legal. If, in deed, the court system is the process of last resort then I think we ought to let it function and if other groups and orgnaizations who supported us in passing this bill have put up their time and effort to appeal, I think the least we can do is put up the time and effort of the City of Pittsburgh to appeal. I think we have an obligation to appeal and that once this issue is resolved in the court, I would hope that all sides would respect that final decision and that we could move on with working cooperatively to make this a better City.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, I would like to repeat that the original intent was good. I have no problem with the original intent of the legislation. Something had to be done. This particular piece of legislation is wrong. It's too restrictive and it's not now an issue as whether we do something or not do something, but to do it in this one specific way as outlined in that bill it is in my opinion an error, and therein lies the error in the illegality. The best hope for any legality if ever is in a broad interpretation and I might say that interpreting something broadly does not mean to rupture the interpretation.

To offer illegal legislation is not a solution to the unemployed's problem, but to continue to pursue illegal legislation is not to solve but rather to aggravate the plight of the unemployed, because nothing is happening while this illegal legislation continues to be pursued. I believe it's time to look for a new present solution to the plight of the unemployed, and frankly, enough is enough, and my answer is no.

The Chair:

I want to go on record as saying, I'm not questioning the Attorney's fees or the Attorney's charge. I'm voting no strictly because I feel it's very illegal.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty
Mr. Givens

Mr. Robinson
Michelle Madoff

AYES 4

NOES 4

(MRS. MASLOFF, MR. O'MALLEY, MR. STONE AND MR. DEPASOUALE VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the motion was defeated.

Mr. Stone moved to excuse Mr. Woods for absence from the meeting.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

and on the motion of Mr. Givens

Council adjourned.

ONE-HUNDRED TWENTY-SECOND COUNCIL

EUGENE P. DePASQUALE President
MICHAEL PERRY City Clerk
LINDA M. JOHNSON ... Asst. City Clerk

Pittsburgh, PA

Monday, September 19, 1983

PRESENT:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Givens	Mr. Robinson
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. Stone
Mr. O'Malley	(Pres't Pro tem)

ABSENT:

Mr. DePasquale

The Meeting was opened by the recitation of the pledge of allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

PRESENTATIONS

Mr. O'Malley:

This indeed is a sad day for the residents of the City of Pittsburgh. I think you're all aware that we had a police officer shot Friday and this resolution is in his honor. I'd like to ask Leo and Pat McNamara if they would step up here for a minute, please.

I think this demonstrates to the residents of the City of Pittsburgh exactly what our police officers go through. I think almost everybody knows that my dad spent almost 37 years in the police department and my uncle is a police officer and my cousin is police sergeant. Every day that they put that uniform on, they're never really sure if they're going to run into something like this, whether they're going to run into a burglary or a shooting. I think when something like this happens to a police officer, I think we all realize the dangers of that job and that we owe them a debt of gratitude for the job that they do and we owe them 100 percent of our support.

Mr. O'Malley presents

Bill No. 3721 WHEREAS, Detective Norman Stewart served on the Pittsburgh Police Force for fifteen (15) years; and

WHEREAS, Detective Norman Stewart was active in the Bidwell Street United Presbyterian Church and the Boy Scouts; and

WHEREAS, Detective Stewart tragically lost his life in the line of duty;

and

WHEREAS, Norman Stewart will be missed by the Police Force of the City of Pittsburgh and by all who came to know him during his fifty-two (52) years on this earth.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh wishes to extend their deepest sympathies to Norman Stewart's wife Donna Stewart, his daughter Rona Stewart and his son, Robert Stewart.

Mr. O'Malley moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'd like to present this to Pat McNamara who is President of the F.O.P. and hopefully he'll present this to Mr. Stewart's family.

Mr. McNamara:

I want to thank City Council for this resolution today. There's no doubt words will not heal the wound that has been opened because of this shooting. I ask everybody here if you can make the funeral services tomorrow at 1:00 in front of the Bidwell Presbyterian Church located in the Manchester section of the City to strongly show your support of this police officer killed in the line of duty. It's taken a little bit out of all of us and it certainly will be a long time before we'll be able to heal.

Thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

May I ask a question, please?

Pat, do you feel that the lack of the number of police that we need to have a full contingency might have helped the situation or would it have no bearing on it? I mean, did they have enough back up? I'm very concerned about the police having what they need.

Mr. McNamara:

I think we all are but a shooting can occur at any time. We watched the President of the United States shot when all of the best policemen were around him. So, it can occur at any time. I couldn't answer your question.

Michelle Madoff:

I think what I'm saying, I think what we've talked about many times together, is that people don't understand that everytime a policeman goes down a dark alley he's putting his life on the line. They think police are over paid. Well, they're not overpaid.

Mr McNamara:

Thank you.

Mr. O'Malley:

As I said, this is a sad day in this Council. Myself and Councilman Givens have another resolution here. This is about an intended visit of Ian Paisley from Northern Ireland. Mr. Paisley is one of the great war mongers and haters of all times.

Mr. O'Malley and Mr. Givens presents

Bill No. 3720 WHEREAS, Ian Paisley, a member of Parliament from Northern Ireland, has been invited to come to Pittsburgh as a member of the Northern Ireland Industrial Development Board; and

WHEREAS, Ian Paisley has openly condemned the Catholic Church; and

WHEREAS, Ian Paisley preaches violence, not brotherhood; and

WHEREAS, Ian Paisley has invited riots resulting in bloodshed and death; and

WHEREAS, Ian Paisley has condemned the Pope; and

WHEREAS, Ian Paisley's supporters have in the past hurled debris and abuse at the papal motorcades; and

WHEREAS, Ian Paisley has consistently supported blatant economic discrimination against Catholics in Northern Ireland; and

WHEREAS, the Congressional Committee for Irish Affairs has urged the Secretary of State to disallow Ian Paisley from entering the United States.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh strongly urge that Ian Paisley's visit to Pittsburgh be canceled, and that corporations and their Pittsburgh affiliates cease to have contact with the Northern Ireland Industrial Development Board as long as Ian Paisley is a member.

Mr. O'Malley moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'd just like to say a few words of my own. Mr. Paisley does not stand for hate and discrimination just against Catholics. Mr. Paisley is what I would call the true walking and talking definition of hatred, discrimination and prejudice against all people and against all mankind.

There is no room in America and there is certainly no room in Pittsburgh for Mr. Paisley, for all the Mr. Paisley's of this world. I say to you, let Mr. Paisley take his hatred, let him take his discrimination and let him take his prejudice somewhere else because we don't need him here in the City of Pittsburgh.

I would just urge the officers and the members of the Duquesne Club to deny Mr. Paisley access to their club.

Now I'd like to call a vote on the resolution.

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. Could you give me some idea of who is a member of the Northern Ireland Industrial Development Board? What do they do in the City? What businesses do they have? I mean is it the Irish shop at Station Square? I want to know what you're talking about. I want you to be very specific. I don't want to deal in vagaries.

Mr. O'Malley:

Michelle, this has nothing to do with the Industrial Development Board. We're all in favor of the Industrial Development Board. They're trying to bring peace to Northern Ireland. What we're against is people like Ian Paisley, who represent hatred, sitting on that Board.

Michelle Madoff:

I understand that but you're asking us not to do business with them.

Mr. O'Malley:

We would like to have the Board come to Pittsburgh without Mr. Paisley being involved in it. That's what we're asking for.

Michelle Madoff:

In other words, the Northern Ireland Industrial Development Board is a board that's coming here to try to create business and perhaps import-export business with us or create partnership businesses here. Do they have any now?

Mr. O'Malley:

What they're trying to do is get Pittsburgh corporations to invest in Northern Ireland. Northern Ireland, I'm sure you're well aware, discriminates against Catholics and this Council has always stood against discrimination whether it was against Jews, Blacks, Polish, Italian, Irish or any other nationality. What we're saying is that we don't want the corporations to invest the money in Northern Ireland if you're only going to have 99 percent Protestants working there. What we're saying is that we want equality in Northern Ireland. We don't need people like Mr. Paisley who openly preaches hatred against —

Michelle Madoff:

Councilman O'Malley, I understand your motion. I think you're missing what I'm asking. Have they established any liaisons in this community already? Are there any businesses here now?

Mr. O'Malley:

That's why they're coming here Thursday.

Michelle Madoff:

But they have none existing at this moment?

Mr. O'Malley:

I'm sure there are corporations that have invested in the past in Ireland.

Michelle Madoff:

How do we get that information?

Mr. O'Malley:

That's a good question.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to ask you if you would pursue this, perhaps you and Councilman Givens, to try to get a list of who is doing what to whom, where, when and how so that we can make our resolution more than rhetoric and really put some pressure by having the media publish who we want boycotted.

Mr. O'Malley:

Michelle, you're missing the point. We don't mind the investment; we like the investment. What we're against is hate and discrimination.

Michelle Madoff:

But your resolution says that we cease doing a contract with them. So, until he's off you don't want contact with them. I want to know who we don't have contact with.

Mr. O'Malley:

Okay. We'll get you that information.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you.

Mr. Givens:

If I might, there within the audience, we have some fourteen representatives from the various Irish American concern and also that of Pennsylvania labor.

I would like to invite up to the microphone to say a few words on some of the background, what is happening in the real world out there and how this particular group is being discriminated upon. At this time I would like to invite Dr. Sean Nolan, Michael Cribbinn and Leo Sweeney to come up and make a statement or two on behalf of this particular resolution and some of your findings and maybe some of the questions that Michelle has brought forward right here.

I would also like to say that we have an ad hoc committee in Washington, D.C. made up of 102 Congressmen mainly chaired by Mario Biaggi and in fact, they have been after this particular situation for some time. When you talk about discrimination, let's get down to basics. I think that's what Michelle was asking for. Thirty-nine percent of the people in Northern Ireland are of Catholic faith. When you look at who is hired in the business community in Northern Ireland, only eight percent of the people of Irish faith are hired in these major corporations. When you turn that around and look at who is at the mid-management and the higher management levels of these corporations, it's just about zero. I have read many facts and figures on this and I'm sure these gentlemen here can expand on what I have to say.

Mr. Sweeney:

I'm Leo Sweeney, Chairman of the Pittsburgh Branch of Irish Northern Aid. Reverend Paisley has some very interesting views and certainly the people of the City of Pittsburgh should not be deprived of hearing those views. However, we feel that the inclusion of Ian Paisley and the other political members from Northern Ireland represents just one side of the story. Sinn Fein has not been permitted to send a representative. This represents censorship by denial of visa. The American people have long believed in fair play. We believe that not to be able to have Sinn Fein present itself does not represent fair play to the American people. Nobody is asking for support for Sinn Fein; all we're asking for is to hear both sides of the story and let the American people decide what's right.

The other thing that we're concerned about, of course, is this economic situation. The Northern Ireland Industrial Board is asking us to support industry in Northern Ireland, the idea being that by bringing jobs into Northern Ireland that peace can be obtained. We want peace in Northern Ireland as well as you do and I think many of us know more about what's happening there than most Americans do. However, until there is an affirmative action program in place that can guarantee minority members of Northern Ireland jobs as well as the majority, we're opposed to the Northern Ireland Industrial Board.

Finally, if there is some spare capital around to invest, it seems to me there are a lot of people in Pittsburgh that are out of jobs. Why don't we invest it here?

Thank you very much.

Michelle Madoff:

Are we sending a copy of this resolution to the President?

Dr. Nolan:

My name is Dr. Sean Nolan, I'm Local President of the Irish National Caucus and on the medical staff of Shadyside Hospital and Assistant Professor of Medicine in the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine.

I have just returned from a trip to the north of Ireland where I participated with Congressman Ottinger of New York who was sent on a fact finding mission to the north of Ireland to examine the deplorable record of discrimination in employment by American firms who are represented in the north of Ireland. These are all American firms; there are about 45 of them or so and all of them, it seems, without hardly any exception discriminate against Catholics. In other words, they'll follow the pattern of discrimination that is extant in the north of Ireland.

Shores Brothers, which is the largest employer in the whole of the north of Ireland and employs a great many people in the City of Belfast, is a subsidiary of Harlington-Wolfe, one of the largest ship builders in the world at one time. Shores Brothers now build airplanes. Then tended their name for a contract which was sent out to bid by the United States Forces for a supply, $40 million worth of airplanes. It looks like the American Administration is about to grant this contract to Shores Brothers.

Shores Brothers is, as I said, the largest employer of people in Belfast.

Belfast is a city which is populated 40 percent Catholics and 60 percent Protestants. Shores Brothers employs 8 percent Catholics among its employees. So, in a city which has 40 percent Catholics, this largest employer employs 8 percent Catholics. A tremendous discrimination. Ever since its inception, discrimination and bigotry has been part and parcel of Shores Brothers. It is not proper; is it, for us in the United States Administration to permit that $40 million of our money should go to an administration which is so flagrantly in abuse of the Helsinki Accord, which are laws that we have espoused. I think we should add our name in protest to that type of thing which goes on behind our backs and which the Irish National Caucus and the Ad Hoc Congressional Committee of Irish Affairs of which Mr. Coyne and Mr. Walgren are a very active part of in Washington, D.C., and we should support their efforts.

Thank you very much.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'd like to thank members of City Council for supporting the resolution.

Mr. Flaherty presented

Michelle Madoff:

I'm opposed to that motion. Why weren't they completed? What's your budget, Mr. Perry?

Mr. Perry:

For Personnel?

Michelle Madoff:

Yes. What's your budget each year, Mr. Perry?

Mr. Perry:

I really don't know what the figure is.

Michelle Madoff:

Ballpark it.

Mr. Perry:

Ballpark? Eight hundred thousand.

Michelle Madoff:

And with eight hundred thousand dollars you can't get these things out five times in a row? Could you tell me what happened this time? Specifically.

Mr. Perry:

The employee that I had on the NBI machine was off —

Michelle Madoff:

Who backs her up?

Mr. Perry:

I have a back up, another employee backs her up.

Michelle Madoff:

And she got sick too?

Mr. Perry:

No, she was here doing her duties. It just happened to be that we were filled up, Michelle, and I couldn't get it done.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, I noticed, with all due respect, I don't know whether it's the scheduling or what's going on but Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays we seem to not have that much to do and in the beginning of the week there's a lot more to do. Maybe we need to train more people to double in other jobs.

There's a tremendous unemployment out there. I think something has got to happen so that this doesn't happen repeatedly. This is not the first time. I know that you're as disgusted with it as I am if not more so. Is that correct?

Mr. Perry:

Yes, I'm disgusted with it.

Michelle Madoff:

And you'd like to do something about it. What can we do? Can we meet with you, as members of Council, and tell us what your problems is so that we can do something to resolve it because obviously you have personnel problems that you're not able to deal with.

Mr. O'Malley:

Michelle, if I might interrupt here. I'm going to call a post agenda Wednesday with Mr. Perry there. As yourself, myself and other Councilmembers, we have a lot of concerns that we want to address. Considering we can't address them in private we're going to address them in public.

Michelle Madoff:

You mean like not getting your office —

Mr. O'Malley:

Like not getting the office, and any simple questions answered by Mr. Perry, not getting tools that we need to do the job. A lot of questions have to be answered.

Mr. Perry:

Certainly. No problem.

Michelle Madoff:

I have a lot of confidence in Mr. Perry. I want to know what happened and why his hands are tied.

Mr. Perry:

Thank you.

Mr. Woods for Stone presented

Bill No. 3714

Report of the Committee on Finance for September 14, 1983 transmitting sundry resolutions to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution amending Res. No. 1377, eff. 12/31/81, entitled: 'Providing for a warrant to Stanley Magic Doors, Inc., at an aggregate cost not to exceed $3,500.00 for material and work performed on the automatic doors at the Ross Street entrance of the City County Bldg. and providing for the payment thereof,' by reducing the project cost from $3,500.00 to $3,120.00."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

May I discuss that bill? I'd like to take that one by itself; it's a very serious issue.

This is for the handicapped people to get in and out. Since I have been on this Council five and one half years, practically, that door isn't working. You go into a department store, you go into a grocery store, they work. We're reducing the cost on it; have we paid them? Is that what we're doing? They've adjusted the price? It still isn't working. Is that correct? I understand it wasn't working today.

I want to know why we're not suing them. I want to know who installed it. I want to know what the problems are and I want this held until we get information. I don't want to pay them a dime until we know what the story is.

The Chair Pro tem:

If you want to pay them less then we should pay them less.

I don't want to pay them anything. As a matter of fact, I want them to pay us.

Mazzei M.D., for professional services in connection with the examination of candidates for employment as Police Officers, Firefighters, Paramedics, School Crossing Guards, and extra helpers, and providing for the payment of the cost thereof."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

On Bill Nos. 3623 and 3624, Councilman O'Malley, do you have a resolution, I'm sorry I was not here, that you are going to be amending?

Mr. O'Malley:

Bill No. 3623?

Michelle Madoff:

Yes. Was it amended or is that a separate bill you're introducing at a later time about height and weight? My aide reported something to me and I didn't know what that was about.

Mr. O'Malley:

It has nothing to do with this piece of legislation.

Michelle Madoff:

Okay. I would like to read a letter into the record, please, that I received signed Melanie Smith to Mike Perry, dated September 15th.

"Dear Mr. Perry:

In response to your letter of September 8, 1983 regarding Councilmember Madoff's request for 'names and addresses of all police candidates that failed the psychological portion of the police exam', the following information is submitted.

The rules of the Civil Service Commission provide that the psychological testing records are classified and will not be made available for public inspection or any other use. Applicants have been assured of the confidentiality of the psychological evaluation process including the results of their evaluation. Therefore, the information requested cannot be provided."

Now, I wholeheartedly support confidentiality when somebody is having a psychological test. But as my experience in my office, and I'm sure other members of this Council who saw fit to hold a post agenda on the fact that 80 percent of the police are failing their psychological test, that somehow or other we have to get to those people to let them know to contact various members of Council.

I am personally going to have my aide run an ad in the paper under "personals" saying that if anybody wishes to get in touch with Michelle Madoff, member of City Council, and voluntarily tell them that they failed their test, I am going to pursue it to the point where, if they feel they're justified, they go out and have two psychologists test them and, as we've already had one member do, pass. The first psychologist said he was qualified. They use the standard test. We'll see what the second one says. If the second one says they're qualified then I'm going to raise all whatever here. But I don't think we have an 80 percent failure. Something is wrong somewhere. One point six million and we're 105 policemen short.

That was what my question was aimed at this morning when I was concerned about backup for the police. I understand that you can get shot not being a policeman. You can get shot in the line of duty. But we are 105 police short and I think they're spread thin, if I may quote Mr. Stone, for minimum security purposes.

Now, somehow or other, that word has to get out to the public. If there's any police candidate, someone who has applied for a police officer's job, that has failed their psychological test, please get in touch with my office or any other member of this Council who is interested.

If anybody supports that I would appreciate your supporting my ad. I'll pay for it out of my pocket but I think it's terribly important that we do that. There's no way that we're going to find out unless they want to tell us voluntarily.

Mr. Givens:

Michelle, it really comes down to cut the bait. When that bill came up for that particular Psychological Service, Inc., who were the people that did not vote for it in this Council?

Michelle Madoff:

You and me. But I think we get snowed alot.

Mr. Givens:

That's right. I suggested to the Administration and I made public at that particular time that if you pay any outfit that fails 80 percent of the people of the City of Pittsburgh, then something is wrong with that testing outfit. There is something absolutely wrong. I've asked for that same list that you've asked for, Michelle, but not on the psychological. I just asked for all those who have failed. That was last Wednesday, Mr. President, and to this day I still do not have any correspondence in regards to this. This is a serious nature; it is not going to go away. I think there's other Councilpeople who are investigating into this and I assure you that this Councilman is not going to stop until the total investigation is made. Eighty percent failure in psychological, there's something wrong, very desperately wrong someplace. They're reaching into the grabbag and picking out those people, I feel, that they want to serve, not the ones who are totally qualified. As a result, we need much more investigation on this particular one.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Stone, repeatedly during votes on this nature, who have said that you are distressed, correct me if I'm wrong, that we spend all this money to prepare a list and then we don't use the list for so long that by then the people are gone. I don't want another list prepared; I'm sure you don't unless we're going to be assured that they list is going to be used immediately. Now, what assurance do we have before we vote on this?

The Chair, Pro tem:

I think you have to pay for the service you've engaged but relative to the subject you're talking about, I've long been bringing out the fact that if we saved all the money we did on testing we could hire police officers.

Michelle Madoff:

You just rephrased it better than I said it.

The Chair, Pro tem:

Time and time again, we seem to be spending so much time testing and I think it would be cheaper to hire them, even on chance, than it is to go through a test that —

Michelle Madoff:

May I suggest that before we vote on these two bills that we have a letter from the Mayor indicating that the minute this list is ready that he will hire immediately and he will expedite the matter. I went to speak to the Mayor —

The Chair, Pro tem:

I don't want to bypass the issue but I think the bill ought to go through to pay the bill we owe. If we keep doing that they're going to quit dealing with us and it's going to cause an increase in the cost because of the delay in payments.

I would suggest we pass them but not pass the issue.

Michelle Madoff:

I just want to share with this Council my conversation with the Mayor. May I finish? It's an ongoing kind of thing. I think the tests are still going on. And I don't think we pay them in advance; I think it's a drawdown. Isn't it a drawdown? As you do the work you pay for it? It's not a lump sum except in the psychologist testing.

And why is there only one person doing it? M.D. Mazzei? I understand Melanie said that he's the only person who will do it for the money. I'll find you ten other doctors eminently qualified.

I want to tell everybody my conversation with the Mayor. I said, "Mr. Mayor, we have 80 percent failure in psychological tests. If I were the Mayor of this City I would have somebody, my aide who would not be a political guru, but I'd have somebody on a plane immediately going somewhere else to find out why this is happening here. We invited the people into this Council who are giving the test and they said, 'We don't know why they're failing'." The Mayor said, "Well, Michelle, when I was in Council I used to think why didn't the Mayor do this and why didn't the Mayor do that, but when you're sitting in this seat, and you may very well be sitting there", which is something I wouldn't expect him to say, he said, "you'll see it isn't so easy."

That begged the issue. He still hasn't addressed the problem. That was platitudes, it was very flattering, but it still didn't address the issue of what are we going to do to solve the problem. The gentleman that has contacted my office, this gentleman has been to two psychologists and he was a policeman in the war, he's a qualified policeman, and he flunked. Two psychologists have said that he's qualified. Something is wrong. What are we going to do about it? I don't want to just talk about it. What are we going to do about it?

The Chair, Pro tem:

Michelle, I think those issue ought to be brought up. I'm not trying to sidestep —

Michelle Madoff:

When and how?

The Chair, Pro tem:

I think we ought to call, if you want, a post and see if we can get any information on that.

Michelle Madoff:

We did that. Remember? We did that and we had the people come here and give us the information and say, "We don't know. We give the standard test." Maybe we ought to have two testing companies the next time and see if there's some discrepancy. We've got to do something.

Mr. Givens:

My concern over this, Mr. President, if I might say, is the fact that we have a class of 60 some students, officers, in the Academy right now. Those sixty could be challenged and that class frozen or not let that class, after all the training efforts that we put into it, they might not be able to be sworn in as police officers of the City of Pittsburgh. My concern is that someone is going to appeal this and in doing so it's going to freeze that whole particular class. We've gone into a lot of time and effort and dialogue and yet no one has gotten to the bottom of this.

I would submit to this Council that if everyone on this Council took that psychological test, I don't think any of us would pass it.

The Chair, Pro tem:

Some things are better not said.

Mr. Givens:

Some things are better said because the shoe is on the other foot now. The shoe is on 80 percent of good men and women out there that have been passed over and now have a stigma attached to them while we can't get this information, Mr. President. Why can't we get it? Because it's psychological and that's medical and they're not at liberty to infringe upon the rights of that individual. The rights of that individual have been infringed upon already. We cannot let this happen in this City. There are sixty some people in that class and if I find that there has been a wrong doing and that this test in itself was so stringent that they had to flunk 80 percent of all the people, then I would say hold everything right there, Mr. Mayor, hold everything and go back over and reevaluate our process.

The Chair, Pro tem:

Roll call vote.

Mr. Givens:

I am voting for this bill because at the Wednesday's session it was so indicated that this money here is not for the Psychological Inc. but this is for medical doctors in the hospital itself. I have no problem with that side of the examination. I have no complaints, a few backs, etc., that are very hard to prove, gentlemen and older people, 40-45 years of age. So, for that reason I'll vote for this particular one because it does not include Psychological Testing Inc. If it does, and I've been given misinformation, then I'm going to have somebody's head.

Michelle Madoff:

May I ask a question before I vote, please? Does anybody happen to know, do we give the psychological test first of all?

The Chair, Pro tem:

Michelle, we've been off on a side issue --

Michelle Madoff:

I just want to know which is first, the chicken or the egg. Do we give the test first for psychological and then for the physical? Or do we do the physical first?

The Chair, Pro tem:

I don't know the order.

Michelle Madoff:

I think that's terribly important; it might address what you're saying. If we give the psychological test and they flunk it, why spend the money on a medical exam? Obviously, we're giving a medical exam and then giving the psychological and then we're ruling them out. So why pay for a dead horse?

Mr. O'Malley:

I think they give the psychological first and then the physical.

Michelle Madoff:

Alright then I'm going to vote aye.

Also,

Bill No. 3625

Mr. Givens:

I'd like to have my comments on Bill Nos. 3663, 3664, 3665, and 3666 brought forward from the Wednesday session to be included in the record.

(MR. GIVENS' REMARKS ON BILL NOS. 3663 - 3666 FROM WED. SEPT. 14, 1983)

Mr. Givens:

Just a little discussion. These four bills add up to over six hundred some thousand. Pete, if I might, from your department, is this money so reflected in the 1983 Budget as being refundable? It is going back in from the CD money to the Operating Budget. My point is, is this depicted in our '83 Budget?

Mr. Vaughn:

They were depicted as being reimbursements for the years so noted, '81 through '83. Now we are going to get in '83 Eighty Two's money and in '82 Eighty One's money. We are not getting it until now, so we are getting a bit of a windfall.

Mr. Givens:

The $197,000 some dollars, that is already in our Budget?

Mr. Vaughn:

Yes.

Mr. Givens:

So that means that we are looking for almost four hundred some thousand dollars. It will be a windfall that will end up as a surplus —

Mr. Vaughn:

That's what we expect to get.

Mr. Givens:

—in the '83 Budget, or conclusion of the '83 Budget. Will that be an accurate estimate?

Mr. Vaughn:

More than what we expected in that lineup.

Mr. Givens:

Is there any way when we have our Budget deliberations, is this fact ever brought out where the City is reimbursed to our Operating Budget? Is there any track record kept in that area? Do we know? I'm sure we do, but like CD money, or any other money, State monies, Federal monies that are to be reimbursed to the City of Pittsburgh for our Operating Budget, do we keep a running track record of that?

Mr. Vaughn:

Each department keeps its own records. I don't think there is one central department that has all the records, but I'm not sure.

Mr. Givens:

Okay. Mr. President, Eddie Albert also, this is an area where Council, when we come up to discussing surpluses at the end of the year, etc., how do we arrive at these surpluses? This is one particular area where we are receiving almost four hundred some thousand dollars worth of new, fresh money that I don't think if we don't keep a running track record that we can be briefed on this as to what our total accountability is for that particular year, and if this is so on this particular one are there other ones out there, other money, Federal monies, to be returned to us, State monies for work that has been previously done, otherwise we have no way of knowing that we would have a surplus of X amount of dollars coming to us each year, and is there any effort to find this out? In fact, these are '81 and '82. Did it take that long for that particular series of contracts to be completed before we could claim our refund?

Mr. Vaughn:

Do you want to ask the Director?

Mr. Givens:

Could we have the Director down. We've got different groups here, I think. These are Community Development Block Grants that are going into what I would assume are the various departments in the City of Pittsburgh. What do you know about it?

Mr. Young:

This money is going into the City Fund.

Mr. Givens:

I know it is going into the General Fund, but these projects, in the bill I have before me, don't necessarily designate the actual department where it is coming from, like City, Parks and Recreation.

Mr. Young:

It does. That is correct. In the City's Operating Budget there is a revenue line identified in the front section that identifies these dollars. In the back section where the particular department is involved, whether it is Building Inspection, or Fire Department, or City Planning, or Parks and Recreation, there is some designation there.

The City puts up its own tax monies up front to pay those salaries, and what we are doing now is we have gone back through the salary documentation, fringe benefits, and all those other things that are appropriate, and we are reimbursing it back into the City.

Mr. Givens:

No problem with this. Why do you leave— from '81 and '82 did it take two or three years to complete that project that we could not ask for this reimbursement?

Mr. Young:

We started the reimbursement project somewhere back in 1980.

Mr. Givens:

We have always been having reimbursement, I thought.

Mr. Young:

Yes, but what happens is we put in a line up at the beginning of the year, budget year. If we put in too much then that money ends up that it stays in that account, since it is CD money, not like a tax money where it just goes on into—

Mr. Givens:

Okay. To answer my specific question, on the four hundred some thousand that is coming from prior years, '81 and '82, is that so reflected in the '82 Budget as coming in to us?

Mr. Young:

It stays in the Capital Budget until we put it into the Operating Budget or General Fund.

Mr. Givens:

Does it come from Capital, or does this come from other areas?

Mr. Young:

Capital, because that is where all the CD money is reflected, in the Capital Budget, so it will stay in the '81 designated Code Account until such time as we get the documentation, then we will put it through from the Capital account into the City's General Fund. So there is a balance left what we do is we don't just eliminate that money, we go back to the balance that was remaining, then bring it current.

Mr. Givens:

This might be a hard question, but for the year 1983 about how much of this money would be reimburseable back to the City's Operating Budget from previous years? If this four hundred thousand dollars is not in the '83 Budget—

- We should be knowledgeable of any surpluses coming to us, even if it is from prior years. It should be recorded someplace in our Finance Department of the City. I'm talking City Council Finance Department. I'm sure the departments, as Pete indicated, have a line item on this particular thing, and they are waiting to be reimbursed, once I assume, that project is completed and all work is accomplished on it, and worklogs have been maintained, and we get them properly reimbursed for those capital projects which are our community development, and we are using Federal money. But, my concern is, are we keeping track of it so we know what surplus might be being generated during that year's particular time? I know you don't have a magic wand out there.

Mr. Young:

At budget time we get together and Pete says what we have in the way of reimbursement, you look at those numbers and estimate the vest we possibly can based on the money that is budgeted in those salary accounts, what money will become available to the City's General Fund in the following year. It doesn't become available at January 1 of the following year because it takes us some time to calculate up the salaries.

Mr. Givens:

Reggie, on these particular bills I want to know what projects are coming out. There are a lot of projects. It is too involved.

Mr. Young:

The indirect cost, which was put together by an Auditing Consultant.

Mr. Givens:

Is it many projects or just a project? That is my point.

Mr. Young:

It's about three or four projects involved. It is an indicated cost, which is done by an indirect cost allocation plan. That's number one. It is the Building Inspection salaries related to the Block Grant Program that takes up two bills here. One was Building Inspection and one is Fire Department, because they are in the same section, '81 Building Inspection and '82 it was Fire Department, but it is still about three hundred some thousand dollars out of one year's salaries account, about three hundred thousand dollars.

Mr. Givens:

I guess my question would be, and what I am looking for, are we doing this in a timely fashion or are we recouping this money, putting it back--

Mr. Young:

As soon as possible?

Mr. Givens:

Yes.

Mr. Young:

I think we are. The City sends out W2s for the City employees somewhere around January and February, so it took about another two months for our staff to then be able to come up to the Treasurer's Office, Payroll Office, get those W2s, work out the actual salary cost, fringe benefits cost and all the other appropriate costs. I think we were ready to go with this well before summer, we just waited until after Council's break to bring it in now.

Mr. Givens:

I can see that for '82, but for '81 it seems we are going back.

Mr. Young:

'81, money that was left in the '81 account, and we have gone back as early as possible where there were funds available, cleared out the '81, and we are now into '82 funds.

The Chair:

Excuse me, Mr. Young, is it possible you could give us a copy of all those figures you were mentioning?

Mr. Young:

Sure.

Mr. Givens:

I mean, if we are coming into a surplus of $400,000, of that—

The Chair:

We understand your concern.

Mr. Givens:

—is not reflected in our '83 budget.

The Chair:

It is going to take some time to get this information and I don't think we have the time this morning.

Mr. O'Malley:

I agree with you. Is there a certain amount of time we have to leave that money lay dormant in that account, or until you clean up all the book work and find out what is excess?

Mr. Young:

All that was appropriated in '81, all that wasn't used in '82, we went back to '81 account, cleared that out and started in the '82 account.

Mr. O'Malley:

Myself, Mr. Robinson and Mr. Givens, if we needed additional money, funds, none of us would have known these funds were laying dormant there, that is my concern, and Mr. Robinson's concern in the past.

Mr. Young:

They are appropriated by Council as a part of our budgeting process every year.

Mr. O'Malley:

And not spent.

Mr. Young:

And not spent, and they stay in these Code Accounts because they are designated to reimburse these salaries accounts. If you take it out of those accounts you can't reimburse.

Mr. Givens:

Only if we do it in a timely fashion so money, like for '81 Building Inspection, they did their inspection, we know that, and the year '82, that one at least should have been, I would assume, brought up to date in '82. That is my only concern.

The Chair:

Thank you, Mr. Young.

Mr. Givens:

And it is reflected some way in the Budget. We know approximately how much of this goes back into the Operating Budget, thus reducing our operating budget for the coming year, and also reflects what surpluses we are going to have.

Oct. 14, 1982, entitled, 'Providing for the purchase from Josephine Schroeffel, 28 Bly Street, Frieda Jackson, 155 Brahm Street, Joseph Hartman, 30 Bly Street certain property in the 26th Ward of the City of Pittsburgh.'"

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

On 3592, there's a change. What was the property for originally, the $33,000? We're giving somebody $33,000 for property that presently reads amended to read, but what's it for? We're buying some property for what use?

Mr. Givens:

That was an oversight, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

Oversight for what?

Mr. Givens:

It was an oversight in how the original bill was --

Michelle Madoff:

But what's if for? What's the money for?

Mr. Givens:

They're buying property to give greater access --

The Chair, Pro tem:

What they did was they didn't have the part of it, providing for all additional cost thereof.

Michelle Madoff:

Is that for the firestation extension of the road or what? What's it for.

The Chair, Pro tem:

I don't know --

Michelle Madoff:

How can we vote $33,000 when we don't know what we're voting for? What's it for, Mike?

Mr. Perry:

It doesn't state in the bill.

Michelle Madoff:

Can we hold the bill, please? I don't want to vote if I don't know what I'm voting for.

Mr. Givens:

If you had been here Wednesday we had discussion on this bill, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

You were gone for a little vacation yourself and I was out sick on Wednesday.

The Chair, Pro tem:

Michelle, this bill did not include the language and if you look in three and four you'll notice the first line is identical. When you come down to the second line, it's identical up to after 30 Bly Street and then there's some language changed which is an additional cost thereof.

Michelle Madoff:

I have no problem with that. I just want to know what it's for.

Mr. Givens:

There was an error due to an oversight in the preparation of the resolution.

The Chair, Pro tem:

It's already passed and all you're doing is adding additional cost.

Michelle Madoff:

For what? I want to know what we passed it for. Before I vote on an addition I want to know what it's for. Does anybody here know what it's for? Could we hold the bill, please, until we know what it's for, before we have an additional sum of $33,000?

Michelle Madoff moved to recommit Bill No. 3592.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. O'Malley:

The reason I seconded Mrs. Madoff's request is that I think she certainly has the right to know what she's voting on. It's a legitimate request.

Also,

Bill No. 3593

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution further amending Res. No. 1385, appr. Dec. 27, 1982, eff. Jan. 1, 1983, as amended by Res. No. 174, appr. March 10, 1983, eff. March 24, 1983, as amended by Res. This is in reference to the letter that I received from Leo Marchetti who is the President of the Fraternal Order of Police. I'd like to move for a post agenda Wednesday to address Mr. Marchetti's concerns here.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. O'Malley, I think some of the concerns are very well taken. Are you saying that by having the meeting on Wednesday that we will correct the concerns and therefore go ahead and vote on it and we'll put up the proper signs to alert people?

Mr. O'Malley:

No, their not concerned about the Vascar. That, everybody admits, works and works well. What they're concerned with is some rules and regulations concerning police officer abusing overtime and court costs and everything.

Michelle Madoff:

My understanding is what they're concerned about is when you drive on the highway and you get into certain communities that says this area controlled by radar or radar enforced, and they want that kind of sign saying radar enforced or Vascar enforced whatever the term is going to be, speed monitored by police, and signs. I think that should be part of the bill.

Mr. O'Malley:

That's no problem because the whole City is going to be monitored.

Michelle Madoff:

I know but --

The Chair, Pro tem:

A sign, Michelle, I think is required by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Michelle Madoff:

But as Councilman O'Malley just stated, it's the whole City.

Mr. O'Malley:

It's basically for our sidestreets, streets like Murray Avenue in Squirrel Hill, Negley Avenue and West Carson Street.

Michelle Madoff:

Or going up the goat trail on Mount Washington?

Mr. O'Malley:

Wherever. Wherever the police feel they're needed and wherever we get a lot of complaints from the citizens.

Michelle Madoff:

I also would like to know how people are given tickets using this particular piece of equipment before Council votes on it.

Mrs. Masloff:

They said they were not giving tickets.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm telling you they were because they called my office with the tickets.

Mr. Flaherty:

They gave 60 over the weekend right on Shady Avenue. Speeding tickets, not using Vascar.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you, Councilman Flaherty. And we haven't even voted for it yet.

The Chair, Pro tem:

Mr. O'Malley, may I ask you a question? Relative to the letter which we received from the Grand Lodge Fraternal Order of Police, is it your belief that that is just a matter of clearing up a misunderstanding and there will be no need to amend the bill?

Mr. O'Malley:

Their concerns are not with the equipment. Everybody agrees that the equipment is the best equipment that we could purchase. Their concerns are with the abuse of overtime and court time. Since this involves points on a driver's license, many people appeal which gives the officers a great deal of court time.

The Chair, Pro tem:

An added burden on the police officer's time?

Mr. O'Malley:

Not so much that but on the taxpayers too and what we have to spend on our courts, on our judges, on our attorneys, on the police officers spending time in court. I think it's just the administration of Vascar that they're concerned with, not the equipment itself.

The Chair, Pro tem:

Let me just get my point, if I may. If it looks as though there may be an amendment to the bill, you might be better to recommit to get it picked up. If you're intending no amendments then let it pass.

Mr. O'Malley:

No, there's not going to be any amendments. It's the administration that they're worried about, not the use of the equipment.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, I was asked to hold the bill. Pat McNamara asked me if I would, because of the shooting, he didn't get a chance to talk to you, Jim. Because of the death of a police officer they didn't get a chance to read this statement and they would like a week to look at it. I am asking on behalf of Pat McNamara and the F.O.P. that we hold it one week.

Mr. O'Malley:

He didn't ask me to hold it one week.

Michelle Madoff:

He asked me and asked me to ask you.

Mr. O'Malley:

He was in my office before and he

Michelle Madoff:

He just asked me so I'm just telling you.

Mr. Flaherty:

I have a question for Councilman O'Malley. Is there any urgency that we enact the system today?

Mr. O'Malley:

I don't think the urgency, whether it's today or it's next week — It took me a year and a half to get the equipment in the City in the first place. It was my request that the equipment was ordered and the reason is, I guess because I'm Chairman of Public Safety, we've got many, many requests from concerned citizens, Tom, about speeding on our sidestreets, even on the South Side where we have children playing, down in Hazelwood where we have a senior citizen high-rise the senior citizens cannot cross the street as quickly as younger people. The reason I ordered this is because of the request by the citizens.

Mr. Flaherty:

Well, it seems that if you have been working on it for a year and a half that perhaps another week could be allotted because the fear I have that if we enact this bill today, I don't think that we are exploring the realms of what a good law should be and I think that that is to have the balancing of what society's interests are.

As you brought up and what I want to expound upon, it just isn't the possible abuse of the police officers going to court more often but it is a quantitative increase of bringing citizens into court, actually forcing them into the position where they would have to appeal since their insurance rates would be increased, since they would risk the possibility of having points added to their driving record, and I think there is certainly a concern for safety for our children, for our elderly, for everyone, but I think that has to be balanced with the system that is going to have safeguards in it. I think one of those safeguards are, and I think it's an essential safeguard, to have a notification sign or to have a warning to a person that that area is going to be monitored with a speed-timing device. I think that would probably greatly reduce the number of court cases and the number of people that would have to pay higher insurance rates or suffer the possibility of having points.

I don't agree with you, Councilman O'Malley, in that the issue is strictly as to the efficiency of the Vascar system. I think it's crucial that this Council, we have the opportunity to have a say in the implementation of the program and I think to protect all interests of the City of Pittsburgh we should heed that challenge and not leave that completely to the Administration because we don't have any guarantee that if we pass this today, the Administration may view this measure strictly as a revenue enhancing measure and they may not have the regard for the other side of the coin that we may have.

So, I would support what Michelle Madoff has said and what I think Councilman Stone has alluded to, that if we could hold it for a week and have a post agenda I think we would be in a safer position to act on the measure next week.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'm going to make a motion here but I think it was a brilliant defense of lawbreakers, Mr. Flaherty. I know you're concerned with the people —

Michelle Madoff:

I think that's unfair, Jim.

Mr. O'Malley:

Let me finish, Michelle. I know he's concerned with people that are getting points on their drivers license and that's fine. But they wouldn't be getting the points unless they were speeding in the first place. I'm more concerned with the safety of the kids that might run out into the streets than I am with the speeders. If a person is speeding, then entire City of Pittsburgh is posted with signs that say 25 mile per hour, 35 mile per hour.

As for enhancing the City coffers with revenue, I doubt that very much. First of all, for the City to enhance its coffers, the people would have to break the law and they would have to be caught and they would have to be given the opportunity to appeal it in court.

As far as the concerns that you have and Michelle Madoff has, I have no problems holding the bill for a week. We're going to have a demonstration of Vascar at 4:00 over at the Stadium and I'm inviting all my colleagues to come over and to view its work first hand and I'm inviting certainly the Press to come over.

I'd like to set a post agenda Wednesday for Leo and Pat McNamara and Superintendent Coll to come in and let Pat and Leo voice their concerns, and some of them are legitimate concerns, about the abuse of the system, and Superintendent Coll can have his say and then with all the facts known I'm sure that this Council, in its wisdom, will vote the proper way.

Mr. O'Malley moved to recommit Bill No. 3610.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

PRESENTATIONS

Michelle Madoff:

Would Helen Schlenke and her husband Bill, please step forward?

This is a personal pleasure. I know

Helen and Bill very well; I've known them for a long time before I even got into the political arena. If anything, I think they gave me a hatpin in the proverbial to get me moving in the right direction.

They say that behind every great man there's a woman. Well, this seems to be a good team. Helen and her husband Bill met at the Bellefield Area Citizens' Association. So, if people get out and work in the community, you never know what good things are going to happen.

I have a resolution here as the "Woman of the Month".

Michelle Madoff presents

Bill No. 3763 WHEREAS, the role of women needs to be expanded in society; and

WHEREAS, the accomplishments and achievements, both professionally and personally, of women in our society have largely been underrated; and

WHEREAS, Helen Schlenke, as President of the Bellefield Area Citizens' Association and as President of the Dithridge House Condominium, and as a past officer of the Shadyside Action Coalition, has worked long and hard toward achieving her goal of a balanced community; and

WHEREAS, Mrs. Schlenke who chose to retire in Oakland after serving more than thirty (30) years as an official in the United States Labor Department and whose parents and grandparents were lifetime members of the Oakland community; and

WHEREAS, Mrs. Schlenke graduated from the University of Pittsburgh as a Political Science Major and was named a distinguished alumna of that University; and WHEREAS, Mrs. Schlenke, in pursuit of her goal of a balanced Oakland, was active in the "Fantastic Plastic Fight", has continued fighting the concentration of bars and fraternity houses, has worked in favor of the group home concept and has tried to see that they are well-run so that they serve the needs of the residents as well as the community, and who has struggled to improve the lot of elderly citizens.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Members of the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, hereby recognize Mrs. Helen Schlenke as "Woman of the Month" because of her lifelong dedication to the resurgence of the City of Pittsburgh as well as the Bellefield community.

Michelle Madoff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Flaherty seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

We all know Helen and I think she deserves a big round of applause.

I'd like to add one more whereas which reads: WHEREAS, Helen Schlenke has been at all hearings making sure that Council knows what's going on.

There seems to be an issue as to the Mayor's Women's whatever. It has sort of been a secret society. The reporters were sort of curious as to what has been going on. We have been gracious in our office and have invited Mary Hall and others to be here at the presentation and to join with us and the other very esteemed people that we have given honors to as well as Helen Schlenke. I think we should do this, our efforts together, on behalf of women. There's no point in having discontent between the two but with a $50,000 budget I'd like to see some meaningful things coming out of the Women's Center that the Mayor's having and I would hope that Helen would set that as one of her priorities.

Mrs. Schlenke:

Very briefly, I'd like to thank the members of Council very much for this award. I must say, I don't think it's as much in recognition of me as of the recognition of the needs of City to which I am fully dedicated.

Thank you.

The Chair:

Congratulations, Helen.

Bill No. 3596

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution vacating Frost Way from Hillsboro Street to its Northerly terminus (162.03'+), in the 20th Ward of the City of Pittsburgh."

Which was read.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, I have received, and I assume the rest of the Council received, some communications from Lawrence and Lawrence, Attorney at Law, in reference to Bill 3596 where they're asking the Council here to foresee the cost of $2,375.00 on that Frost Way and that they're going to build a high-rise apartment there for the elderly and the handicapped.

The reason I'd like to put this back in Committee is for this purpose. This request did come in, it came in during this past week, not in time for us to discuss it or anything and that the people up there within the 20th Ward are somewhat confused as to what is really going to happen. If you can recall, that property belonged to the Elks. The bill that's before us indicates that it's the Elks property but apparently the Elks are going to convey it to Goodwill Plaza Inc. for a high-rise.

Mike, as we recommit this bill and if I might, we need some guidance from the City Planning Department as to whether or not this requires a public hearing or not. I don't know if there's going to be additional legislation coming in to us, if we're receiving this piecemeal or what. But it's a commercial zone up there and this will be going to institutional use.

Mr. Givens moved to recommit Bill 3596.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Also,

Bill No. 3648

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution amending Res. No. 624, appr. July 19, 1983, eff. Mr. O'Malley presented

Bill No. 3761

Report of the Committee on Public Safety for September 21, 1983 transmitting two resolutions and one ordinance to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 3661

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution amending Res. No. 357, app. May 18, 1983, and eff. May 27, 1983, entitled, 'Resolution providing for an Agreement or Agreements with instructors for professional services in connection with the training of police recruits, and providing for the payment of the cost thereof', by substituting a different instructor for one of the instructors identified in Resolution No. 357."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

I have a question on Bill No. 3661. They switched the instructors. Do we need a bill for switching the instructors or are you upgrading the salary.

Mr. O'Malley:

They increased the dollar amount.

Michelle Madoff:

Why? What's this person doing that's so different than what the other person was doing?

Mr. O'Malley:

It's for legal fees.

Michelle Madoff:

Why?

Mr. O'Malley:

It just took them additional hours.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm sorry, that's not an answer.

Mr. DePasquale, on Bill 3661, we're voting to increase the item by $5,520 because we're changing a teacher. I want to know why that teacher is worth $5,000 more.

Mr. O'Malley:

Do you want to hold it, Michelle?

Michelle Madoff:

Would you please? Motion to hold for one week and while you're at it, would you please find out, according to Superintendent Coll, I asked him when we were going to have out 80 police officers and he said that we're going to have 60 this year. Does 60 mean we're going to have them in December of '83? I want to know when those police officers are out working, when are they coming out, or are we going to have another surplus in the kitty?

Mr. Stone:

Are you talking about Bill 3661?

Michelle Madoff:

Yes.

Mr. Stone:

The amount is not changing; it's different individuals.

Michelle Madoff:

Is that correct?

Mr. O'Malley:

The $5,520 stays the same; they're just --

Mr. Stone:

-- Changing the name of the parties.

Michelle Madoff:

According to Mr. O'Malley, he said there was an increase.

Mr. Stone:

He's talking about another bill. He's talking about 3707.

Michelle Madoff:

So what we're doing is voting to change a teacher. They have to come to us to vote to change a teacher?

Mr. Stone:

Yes because they were the designated beneficiary.

Michelle Madoff:

I see.

In answer to my other question, will we have the class by the 31st? Does anybody know?

The Chair:

If it says so we'll have it, I guess.

Michelle Madoff:

I've heard that before. Where's your lawsuit, Mr. Woods? You said that if we didn't have 40 new police by the end of the year you were going to take a lawsuit. He lost 50 so you've got ten less than what you started with.

Mr. Woods:

He's a buddy of mine.

Michelle Madoff:

Now for the first time you've told it like it is. You never sue your friends who get you elected.

Meanwhile the City is still short 105 police and we don't have any of the new police officers on. I don't think that's a joke, believe me.

Also,

Bill No. 3610

An Ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance supplementing the Pittsburgh Code, Title Five - Traffic, Article I - Administration, Chapter 503 - Enforcement and Control, by adding Section 503.21, Use of Speed Timing Devices."

Which was read.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, on Bill No. 3610, there's an amendment here which seems different from what I thought I heard on Wednesday. Where we restricting this to ten streets?

Mr. Woods:

No. At least ten.

Mr. O'Malley:

No, what it says here is that the Superintendent, at his own discretion, will pick out ten streets in the City of Pittsburgh and post signs on those ten streets that Vascar is being used.

Michelle Madoff:

It says that. It shall be posted with warning signs on the ten major streets.

Mr. O'Malley:

We'll be using Vascar all over the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Stone:

That's not the point I'm making. Is that just to say that in this City we're doing Vascar or we're going Vascar speeding devices on those particular streets?

Mr. Flaherty:

Any speed-timing device, including Vascar.

Mr. Stone:

I'm not coming through apparently. What I'm saying is, what's the reason for the signs? I got the impression that on the street that you're using it on was when you needed a notice. I'm getting the impression that we're saying on ten streets so I don't know whether it means for those ten only or are we saying that sufficient notice to the whole City is that you put it on ten major streets.

Mr. Flaherty:

I think we are saying that sufficient notice to the entire City will be if we concentrate on ten major streets because Superintendent Coll said that there is only going to be six officers that are going to be qualified to use the system and he also said, and it seems perfect common sense to me, that they are only going to utilize the system on the streets that have the greatest preponderance of speeders. I don't think, for example, they are going to be going into side streets or in the small alleys and utilizing a police officer there when they could be having an officer, for example, on Shady Avenue or Marshall Avenue.

Mr. Stone:

Councilman, let's exclude the back alley street. There's more than ten major streets in this City so if we go beyond that, do we want a sign on that street?

Mr. Flaherty:

I don't believe that I stated it at the Committee Meeting but I offered the amendment in the spirit of compromise to the effect that that Superintendent of Police was putting forth the argument that it would be extremely expensive to put warning signs throughout all areas of the City. I thought that if the warning signs were posted just on those major thoroughways that that would be a compromise in that —

Mr. Stone:

That would be sufficient notice to the whole City?

Mr. Flaherty:

Yes. In my mind it is.

The Chair:

Mr. Flaherty, may I interrupt you for one second? Am I to understand they're going to put them on ten streets but it's going to be for the whole City?

Mr. Flaherty:

Yes. You see, I was under the impression from the Superintendent that there is only going to be a small number of thoroughways that will be consistently monitored. Granted, there may be certain areas that we may receive a lot of constituent complaints and perhaps there may be a temporary problem where they will go and attempt to monitor —

The Chair:

I don't know the name of the street but they've already tried and I understand it worked rather well because some people on East Street or up around there wanted it done and were told that they were trying in this other area, I forget where, and if it succeeded there they would move it out to around East Street.

You're saying about the ten streets, I can understand what you're saying, it will be done City-wide, but —

Mr. Stone:

No, the problem may be in the language. It can be read that only ten streets, which the Superintendent will pick out, are the ones that you can put this on and it says that if you use those ten that you now have to have a warning sign.

It was my impression that we wanted some kind of warning but it could go to any street where it was necessary. I'd be inclined to say that maybe we ought to take the word "ten", take that out and say "major streets decided by the Superintendent of Police, his discretion monitored by speed-timing devices shall, after notice to the City Clerk, be posted with warning signs." We would know which ones he's chosen rather than it be a secret and then at that time those streets that he's on --

The Chair:

If I may, is it a must that they have to warn people?

Mr. Stone:

That's the question right there.

The Chair:

I'm just thinking, you know, once in a while you come around a corner and there's a cop on a motorcycle or in a car and there's no sign saying, "Beware, around the corner there's a cop".

Michelle Madoff:

You shouldn't have been speeding.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, if I may. It was my impression last Wednesday that we asked Superintendent Coll that he would at least put signs on ten major streets. At least. It could be thirty signs in one year, if he eventually does it. But within a six month period that we at least have ten streets posted. Within a six month period.

Mr. Flaherty:

Well, if you want to insert the language, at least -- You see, the only problem that I have is if you don't have a number there that is a trigger mechanism, if you just have major streets decided by the Superintendent of Police, what is to prevent the Superintendent of Police from coming back and saying that there aren't any major streets. I think you have to have a number that would trigger the section.

Mr. Woods:

I move to make an amendment in Section 2 that it's at least ten major streets in the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Stone:

Before you do that, you're going to have to add at the end, "within six months which shall be notice to the City at large or as a whole". You're saying that that's the minimum requirement for notice to the entire City.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

I just wanted to remind everybody at this table that Mr. Stone pointed out that he thought that the Pennsylvania Code included making it mandatory to have signs and that after checking the Pennsylvania Code many of us found that that indeed was not so. The issue of having major streets, the word major may be a misnomer because what is happening according to Superintendent Coll is that in the streets where they don't have them long enough to take monitorings by visual or by any other mechanism and that Vascar is one of the tools to solve one of the speeding problems. Everybody in the City knows you're not supposed to speed. If we had enough police officers, if we had enough cars out of the garages, we'd probably have more enforcement of violations of speeding.

But there are at least ten, Ben, as you pointed out, areas that are really afflicted by the fact that we can't have a police officer round the clock all the time. And to say that by putting up at least ten major street signs is going to be warning to the City is ridiculous. We've already warned the City because the newspapers have come out and said that we're going to have Vascar in the City; we're going to start enforcing our violations of speeders. The people who live in these communities have been getting away with murder for a long time and in some cases may even be murder. The fact that they are going to be having a special sign which is only just a little extra to the bill that we don't really have to do and this is something we agreed upon in Council so let's not delay this any further. Let's just get on with it.

Mr. Givens:

I have one of those technical areas that I'm quite familiar with and I was concerned Wednesday when we had out post agenda that the right for having Vascar within the City was debated very heavily. There's been some test trials that have been done within the City and I had found out that the Police Department had gone out and painted the stripes on the roadways which was generally something that the Department of Public Works is responsible for doing.

In further checking into this, I found out, and Mike, I think we need a letter to the Superintendent of Police on this, as to what measuring devices he is going to be using in order to mark out the various lengths that they'll have this Vascar. Otherwise, you know, you don't have to have the same lengths on each particular area. In order to do this, in order for this to be valid within the state of Pennsylvania, there's only one place that they can go to and that is the Bureau of Weights and Measures in the state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Woods:

I hate to correct you, Councilman Givens, but —

Mr. Givens:

The Bureau of Weights and Measures in the state of Pennsylvania is the only authorized agency. If they can delegate this down to maybe the County Weights and Measures, they can come out there and they're the only people that I know of who have the equipment to measure this out. That's why I want this one technical area to be looked into and for the Superintendent of Police to respond back, to this Councilman anyway, as to how he is going to make these marks on the ground. There's no sense going out there and marking these markers down with someone with a ruler or a big long measuring tape when in fact it requires official measuring devices that are calibrated by the State Weights and Measures people. If that could be relayed then I'll be very happy and once the system comes in then those who are violating will not be able to find a loophole within the law.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, if I may. There are a number of inspection stations. The state authorizes inspection stations who calibrate your speedometers. That is a legal advice. That's how the State Police do it. Our police cars are calibrated in the same manner and that's how you get the distance. That's how this device will be done. I know because I had to go to get mine calibrated one time.

Mr. Givens:

We all know that those particular speedometers in an automobile are not accurate measuring devices per the law. The law says it has to be done by certain measuring devices that are calibrated and tested on a periodic basis. If that is not used and if those devices on Vascar are not calibrated and updated every so often then the use of the system is only as good as what the calibration is.

Michelle Madoff:

I think we should calibrate every Councilmember regularly.

The Chair:

I don't know what the final solution is going to be but I do know that about two years ago Al D'Alessandro and I were coming down the Turnpike and we were going 55 miles per hour because I said, "Don't go above 55". They usually allow, I think, a leeway to 60. We got stopped by a Trooper who said we were going 69. I won't call the Trooper a liar but apparently his speedometer was off or ours was off. But I've said for a long time that they have a quota to maintain and if you're unlucky enough to get caught in that quota, that's it. Al was not going above 55 and he happened to be in the quota. They wouldn't take us anywhere to check his speedometer or to check theirs and if he appears against you in court you don't have a leg to stand on.

Mr. Givens:

That's the beauty of Vascar. Vascar doesn't use any speedometer reading but it uses time and distance between point A and point B. It makes no difference what your speedometer says although that would be a point for the judge to consider as a testimony that you might present to him.

All I need here is just a letter to the Superintendent asking what measuring devices he'll be using. Period.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'd just like to make a comment for the record and borrow a line from my colleague, Mr. Flaherty, who talks about splitting hairs. I'd like to say that I think Vascar just got a crewcut. I think it will be a good system for the City of Pittsburgh.

I would like to ask Councilman Flaherty, on Bill 3638, I would like to recommit this until Wednesday. It went past me on Wednesday and I apologize for that. I would like to know who the consultant is to inspect this asbestos and what is he going to do with this inspection? I know a lot about asbestos; I worked with it for a number of years.

Michelle Madoff:

Almost as much as I do.

Mr. Woods:

Probably not as much.

Michelle Madoff:

That's probably true.

Mr. Woods:

I've seen you at a lot of construction jobs, Michelle. You look good in a hard hat. But I would like to know what he's going to do and what buildings he's going to inspect. Would that be alright, Tom?

Mr. Flaherty:

Yes. I have no problems recommitting the deemed bill. I don't know if we will be able to find who the consultant will be because it seems to me that it is just asking for approval to advertise, a process that I think needs reformed but I would —

Mr. Woods:

My concern is especially with the Director that the Department has a background in — From a company that I know that dealt with asbestos, with sheet metal and pipe covering and steamfitting, and he should, I assume, should be able to walk around and see if the asbestos is defective. MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Robinson:

If I might, Mr. President, I just want to read a report. It's very short. This is a report on the Fifth Annual Conference of Local Energy Officials held in Washington, D.C., September 22-23, 1983.

I attended this conference as the Chairman of Planning, Housing and Development for Pittsburgh City Council and as a member of the Pennsylvania League of Cities Energy and Environment Committee.

The conference was attended by energy officials and elected officials throughout the United States.

The topics of discussion included: "Financing Local Energy Programs", "New Energy Technology", "Cost Sharing For Energy Programs" and "Developing An Energy Policy".

Additional information will be provided upon request. I might suggest that we contact the Administration to see if the City is a member of the Conference of Local Energy Officials. I do know we belong to a Urban Consortium of Energy Officials which met during the same period of time that I was in Washington, out in Seattle, but it may be to our benefit to be involved in a Conference of Local Energy Officials, and I know Mrs. Madoff is very much concerned in the area of energy and she might want to follow up with the Conference of Local Energy Officials, thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

Three years ago, Mr. President appointed me as a sub-committee of this Council on energy. I have tried to meet with the Mayor's staff. Sent notes over, saving anytime you're having a meeting because they've asked us and we've appropriated dollars for them to look into buildings on energy. I have never heard word-one from them. It would be very nice if they gave us a report and I've asked for it when they attend these energy meetings, if they know anything about it. It would be nice to see what they've learned, if anything.

Mr. Robinson, I would also, like to know the name of the local organization and make sure that my name is submitted as sub-committee on energy of this body. Have we lost two people here?

The Chair:

I accidentally came upon a 1955 gas bill for my house it was $26.00 for the month of January. It's now about $250.00.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I have a resolution, a floor motion, but before I read it I want to read an editorial from KDKA.

During the last election, more than political rhetoric littered the landscape. We can put up with campaign talk. But we have a hard time living with the thousands of political signs hanging on poles, trees and just about anything else big enough for a poster or strong enough for a nail.

Almost every community in our area has an ordinance prohibiting or controlling signs. But, as a practical matter, enforcement is nearly impossible. Most violations go unpunished.

A few candidates, recognizing the errors of their ways, remove signs after election day. Most candidates leave their signs hanging. Their litter outlives their prominence.

We have a solution to the problem. Politicians react to pressure. If they lose a vote for every sign they hang, they won't hang too many. Remember this November. Make it a point to complain against a sign.

What they're asking the public to do, if you see somebody's sign where it doesn't belong not to vote for them. Now, I spoke to Mr. Pellegrini to find out what the laws are and it appears that we are governed by the state election laws, and he suggested that I make a floor motion, and my floor motion is thus: Sense of Council resolution, floor motion. Since it is against the law to post signs on City property such as telephone and utility poles. Referred to in the election code as public right-of-way, I hereby move that the minute any signs are observed on public right-of-ways other than on property of a residential or business privately owned entity. In other words, if a building owner, or if Mr. O'Malley wants to put a sign in his own property, or I want to, if I live in a building and I get the concurrence of my building then it is acceptable, but on utility poles, on telephone poles, on Duquesne Light signs, they would not be legal. They are not legal right now. Such signs will be removed by Public Works to discourage the littering of our City, and the cost to taxpayers to pay for the same.

The Chair:

Could you also add forfeiture of office, if you don't remove the signs?

Michelle Madoff:

I didn't say that. I said, since I don't post signs, only at the poles, and I asked people not to post them, occasionally one gets up and I try to get it taken down.

The Chair:

Michelle, they've been hollering about signs for 50 years if I can remember, and they're still putting them up.

Michelle Madoff:

Would I have a second for that?

Mr. Robinson:

Seconded the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

Is everybody in favor of removing illegal signs which are against the law to begin with except for where they are legal?

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, I'm in opposition to this ordinance.

Michelle Madoff:

You told me you were for it.

Mr. Flaherty:

No I didn't.

Michelle Madoff:

You thought it over.

Mr. Flaherty:

Well, I rethought it. I'm in opposition to this ordinance, because I believe political signs are the traditional way in this City and in this country. I think it's a lot of hullabaloo about a negligible issue. Plus, I think if you do not allow candidates to advertise you are protecting the name recognition and you are giving a big lead to the incumbents those that are already in office. I think this would really enhance the changes of reelection for example of all the incumbents here, because we have name recognition and name recognition is certainly, if not the most important ingredient certainly one of the most important ingredients in winning public office.

I think if we're going to be fair minded, we should give those challengers to incumbents that perhaps may not have the name recognition that we have accrued over a four year period of time that we should not put them on unequal terms. I think it's a good practice, it's the American way, and I think most candidates do take their signs down after the election, and I think it's a nonsensical issue.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't think it's nonsensical at all. This City is a pigsty. It's full of litter. If you want to see the signs with half the poles and half the signs in various parts of this City it only adds to the untidy, ratlike infestation that we have through this City.

I think you're entirely in error, Mr. Flaherty. It's balderdash because if you are supported by constituents as you were in your election they will give you permission to put signs on their lawns, that is legal. If you're on somebody's private property they're going to remove the sign from the private property. If you don't have enough friends, enough constituents who are going to let you put signs out, then you have to raise enough money to run your ads in the printed or in the television or radio media; and I think to litter our City is a disgrace. I love you dearly but that's balderdash.

The Chair:

They put signs up world wide. In fact, in Pittsburgh and some other cities signs might make the neighborhood enhancing.

Michelle Madoff:

It is against the law. Are you for or against the law, Mr. DePasquale? Do you support the law? The law says you can't put them up, get them down.

The Chair:

How can I be for something that I've been doing all these years, I've been putting signs—

Michelle Madoff:

Ask the public. They don't want signs on their telephone poles and they don't want them on their utility poles. The public cares that this City is dirty and littered and they care a great deal, and we see these kind of letters to the editor over and over again. Get them off.

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

No, because I think it gives an unfair advantage to those that already hold office.

Mr. Givens:

Well, I think that Michelle brings out a good point. I have to expand that.

The Chair:

You've abused it more than anybody.

Michelle Madoff:

That's right. He's the biggest sign putter-outer than anybody in this world.

Mr. Givens:

Excuse me, Michelle, I think I have the floor now. You're interrupting me.

Michelle Madoff:

Oh, I do apologize.

Mr. Givens:

Thank you, Michelle. Michelle is right in many ways on introducing something, but it specializes down just one particular group of people and that is of the political arena. If one goes throughout our City especially around our major universities, I think the signs that go up on the wooden poles are down within a week or two, are not the littering part of our City. The one's that go on the steel poles by some type of paste and remains there for six, seven, eight years.

In many cases throughout our City especially around the major institutional areas where this is done and that really is where our beautiful institutions, Carnegie Institute, Carnegie Library, the museum and things of this area, where people come from out of town on in.

Then you take all the fast food chain operations if it's so offensive to have something on a pole that what is it when your eyes are looking down at the ground and you see all the fast food chains advertisement just littering our street. To single out one particular opponent, one particular group of people, be it political or otherwise, I think is unfair. The law is there. Its enforcement has been brought before this Council many times.

The Chair:

You can't compare graffiti with political signs. Did I hear right, Michelle, you're saying, your ordinance is to take the signs down after the election? Is that what you're saying?

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, that is not my ordinance. I will be very clear. Put your signs on your friends lawn and your supporters lawns, that is legal.

Mr. Givens:

Duquesne Light already—

Michelle Madoff:

I'm not through, Mr. Givens.

Mr. Givens:

I'm not through either.

Michelle Madoff:

You're interrupting me. I interrupted you and apologized. I'm waiting for an apology.

The Chair:

Apparently, I cut Mr. Givens short. Go ahead, Mr. Givens.

Mr. Givens:

The thing about on the lawn signs is real fine, but Duquesne Light which owns the majority of the utility poles, I think that's what Michelle was directing her efforts to here—

Michelle Madoff:

And telephone poles.

Mr. Givens:

Telephone poles or mostly utility poles that Duquesne Light, I would say has 85 percent of all the utility poles in the City of Pittsburgh. Duquesne Light put out a brochure to all those candidates that avail themselves to go to a particular meeting at the Democratic Headquarters wherein they had a flyer they put out and so indicated what the charge would be, I think it's $300.00 fine for those that post anything upon their pole without their permission.

Michelle Madoff:

Did you get permission when you put them up?

Mr. Givens:

All the candidates received that, I received it and I'm going to abide by that, but I think to single out a particular group of people in this City is unfair.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm going to continue, Mr. President, now that I'm finished he interrupted. On the street where I used to live going down to Commercial Avenue there were poles with Mr. Givens signs pulled off. There were Dr. Wecht signs. There were many other members of this Council's signs.

Mr. Flaherty:

We are in the voting process, Mr. President.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm commenting.

Mr. Flaherty:

The debates over. The roll call is in motion.

Michelle Madoff:

It is against the law to put the signs up. I'm saying that we take them down right a way and I will personally ask Duquesne Light and I will ask the Telephone Company and ask the Mayor to take down the signs the minute they're put up on property that isn't legal. We are breaking the law.

The Chair:

How did you vote, Mr. Givens?

Mr. Givens:

I voted no, Mr. President. Enforcement is enforcement, the law is here, I said, I'm going to uphold the law. I'm not going to put anymore signs up.

Mr. Robinson:

I vote aye.

Mr. Stone:

I abstain.

The Chair:

This is the toughest decision that I've ever had to make in six years. I have to vote aye.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Michelle Madoff	Mr. DePasquale
Mr. Robinson	(Pres't)

AYES 3 NOES 2

(MR. GIVENS AND MR. FLAHERTY

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Givens

Michelle Madoff:

On Bills 3692 and 3693, it has come to my attention that there are some plans concerning the development of Mount Washington that relate to parking facilities, the Tri Mont Development and so on. I would like the bills held for two weeks to make sure that the access to the bridge going to the incline will provide for people parking to have access to the facility. This just came to my attention over the weekend and I would like to hold it for one week if its alright.

Mr. Stone:

If there's anything up on that hill that you ought to do is get rid of that part that's done already. If there's more that has to be done, let's catch it. But let's get as much as we can.

Michelle Madoff:

This is the part that's coming down in the wrong spot. We need time to talk to Lou today. According to the people who are developing the area, until we check, the access where the people are going to have access to getting on to the incline. Access to the incline will come down on the street as opposed to where it's supposed to be.

Michelle Madoff moved to recommit Bill No. 3692 and Bill No. 3693.

Mr. Givens seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

On the same subject, Mr. Stone, didn't we vote in Council on that access, either air rights or street rights next to the paint facility, the little train that's going to go between the old paint building and the Grand Concourse? Didn't we vote to take that away from, I think, a man by the name of Pearlman —

Mr. Stone:

We voided a sale, that's all.

The Chair:

They had an option on it for years and they never took advantage of the option.

Michelle Madoff:

Right, and it was supposed to go to the Tri Mont Developers. That was my understanding at the time. I asked about it when we voted on it in Council. Was I right or wrong?

Mr. Stone:

It was in someone else's hands.

Michelle Madoff:

Who's hands is it in?

Mr. Stone:

It's in ours now.

Michelle Madoff:

I thought we had done it for the purpose of letting that Tri Mont Development tie into Grand Concourse, for the good of the community.

Mr. Stone:

Let me finish and then we'll get back.

First of all, it was in the hands of a person who had an option on it. They didn't exercise it fast enough and we voided the option. It's now in our hands and one of the reasons was to permit access to everybody to go there along the river.

Michelle Madoff:

Where is the status of that property now?

Mr. Stone:

It's in the City of Pittsburgh's hands at this point and as I understand it, Tri Mont is trying to either buy or lease it. That's where it's at now. There's been a request for it.

Michelle Madoff:

May I ask who is handling that for the City? Would it Daryl Smith or would it be URA?

Mr. Stone:

Lands and Buildings.

Michelle Madoff:

Alright. I've got to speak to Daryl about that.

Mr. Stone:

They're to give us a report on it. I've already asked for it.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, two quick items if I might. Council will remember back in July, in fact, on July 5, 1983, we adopted Resolution 540 which was in honor of the late Honorable Thomas A. Harper, a member of our Court of Common Pleas here in Allegheny County. Mrs. Harper has sent a letter of acknowledgement and I'd like to read it into the record if I might.

"Dear Councilman Robinson:

This letter acknowledges Resolution No. 540 presented by you in Council on July 5, 1983. I am grateful for the honor and tribute that members of City Council paid to my late husband, Thomas A. Harper.

I delayed writing you because I wanted to wait until Council was back in session. It would please me if you would have this acknowledgement read on the record.

Sincerely yours,

Gladys C. Harper"

The second item, Mr. President, relates to the vacant Fifth Avenue High School Building which is in the Third Ward of the City of Pittsburgh.

Back in June of 1981, Council authorized the Urban Redevelopment Authority to turn that property over to some potential developers and the site was supposed to be used for offices, research facility and amenities. To date, the site has not been developed and as Council is aware, there has been a number of community and legal problems surrounding that building and some requests to have it developed post haste.

I think it would be appropriate for Council to get a report from our Urban Redevelopment Authority as to the status of the building on Fifth Avenue, who are the present owners, what is the present prospects of developing that building, and whether or not the options on the building have expired and whether or not it's in the best interest of the City to terminate the agreement with these developers and find some other developers.

I think two years is more than enough time trying to develop a building of that type and if indeed the present developers can't do it, I think it's in our best interest to find someone else who can.

Council may be aware that there is some efforts on the part of several merchants and civic associations in that Fifth Avenue area to upgrade their community. A lot of renovation has been done there and that building is sitting there and is a gigantic eyesore. Anything we can do to help them get it developed, I think, would be helpful to the City, to the people who live there, and hopefully, to the present developers.

Thank you.

The Chair:

That's a point well taken because there's a lot of people concerned about that. It's just a matter of technicality but I believe on that side of the street it's the First Ward and on the other side it's the Third Ward down to Jumonville Street and then it becomes the Fourth Ward. I know there were voting precincts there from the First Ward at one time.

Mr. Woods:

I totally agree with you. We had a number of incidents up there in that building and you did say their option is up, is that right?

Mr. Robinson:

I'm not sure whether it is or it isn't. We need to find out. I think after two years it probably should be up.

Mr. Woods:

Bill, I think that if we check into it and get a full report, I believe that some stipulations of that option are up and they have to surrender it or do something with it by now.

Mr. Robinson:

One of the problems, I think, is that when the building was turned over to the developers, they leased it back to the City which meant that they didn't have to spend any money for maintenance or upkeep. The City, the URA is actually doing this. I think perhaps that one of the reasons that the developers have not moved a lot faster to develop it is that really the building is not under their control. While they paid $50,000 for the building, they certainly haven't spent any money at all. In fact, if I'm not mistaken, the City and URA is boarding up the building and we're securing it and we're cleaning it and I think that after two years that the developers should either develop the building or the City should take it back.

The Chair:

I thought at one time they were ready to renovate that.

Mr. Robinson:

They were.

The Chair:

Is that off now?

Mr. Robinson:

Well, they thought that the County laboratories were going to move into the building. Then that was delayed. That was the major tenant that they thought they had. Since then there have been no definite proposals to develop the building.

Mr. Woods:

That's what the stall was about. I've done a little bit of checking in the last month or so and I believe that we should take it back because they are in violation of their option.

Michelle Madoff:

I have a note from a Tony Ganzak. Tony Ganzak is one of the gentlemen who took the police psychological test and failed it. He went out to two private sources, two private psychologists, he went to one and they said that he was qualified. I understand they use a standard test. I said it would be one on one and I suggest you have a second.

I've been trying to get him on the line. Hopefully, I will get him today.

He's now had two independent psychological tests and they are favorable.

I have not, because of pressures, had a chance to run the ad in the paper but we'll run it today under personals asking that anybody who has taken the psychological test and failed it to please contact me. I want to see that they get two independent tests. If the two independent tests say that they are qualified then I think the City would have an obligation to reimburse those medical bills. I think that's something we're going to have to wait and see what's going to happen.

The Chair:

I don't want to interrupt you, Michelle, but I just want to say that psychologists are like lawyers; no two ever agree.

Michelle Madoff:

They're using a standard test, Mr. DePasquale, and I don't believe that you and I differ or any member of this Council. When eighty percent of the people are failing the psychological test, there's got to be something wrong somewhere.

That leads into another issue. In the newspaper this weekend there were drug businesses booming again. They show the problem in the Homewood/Brushton and Frankstown area. It talks about, if you put a policeman on one corner the drug scene just moves to another corner. It gets back to the original thing; there just aren't enough police. We're 105 below minimum security and a lot below what this Council, repeatedly, year after year, has recommended the monies be appropriated.

I think we're going to have to deal with that very seriously. We're going to have to set up some kind of a drug force that is not highly visible, I don't know what you call them, but a separate man or woman drug busting entity and we've got to have visible police with dogs all over every area. They move to one corner, we've got to put the police on that corner. If you read the article, it not only affects the community where the drugs are being sold and the people are being drugged, but it affects all of us because they support that habit by robbing and stealing.

I think that's got to be a priority item on this year's budget.

That gets me to the next item that just leads right into it. I had asked this Council and Mr. Perry to please set up a meeting with our "lobbyist", Mr. Giesey and with our State Legislators, Mr. Murphy, Mr. Dawida, Itkin, and a number of other people. In the process of setting up that meeting it came to our attention that we don't have a lobbyist, that Mr. Giesey's contract was not picked up as of April, 1982. To refresh the memory of this Council, I have always voted against a part-time lobbyist; I felt we needed a full-time lobbyist. I might tell you that from this article that appeared in the Post Gazette, I'd like to read for the record.

"Two State Representatives from Pittsburgh said yesterday that the City may be losing out on thousands of dollars annually because it does not have a full-time lobbyist in Harrisburg. Representatives Murphy and Dawida say they have called on Mayor Caliguiri repeatedly to add a Harrisburg lobbyist to the City payroll or share the services of the lobbyist who now works for Allegheny County.

Both Legislators say the result of the lobbying work would more than equal his or her salary in state grants and a greater role for the City in shaping legislation."

I don't want to go on about how it surfaced with my bringing it to attention, but it goes on to say that, "Giesey's contract was never renewed and expired and he was getting $15,000 for part-time, $35 an hour.

Madoff said she would press for a hearing on the lobbyist during hearings on the City 1984 Budget in December.

Only one other State Legislator of the City could be reached for comment. Ivan Itkin, Point Breeze, said he too feels the City would benefit from a lobbyist. All three Legislators cited the work done for Allegheny County by its lobbyist, Chuck Kollings" — I met with him at Romanelli's corn roast and he seems like a very capable young man. We had some conversation. He is being paid $29,000 annually and incurs traveling expenses of about $6,000 so I guess he's on a $35,000 a year fee. — "He pointed to a report he submitted recently to the County Commissioner showing that lobbying efforts were partly responsible for the County's receipts of about $7 million more this year than Governor Thornburg had proposed in his original budget. Itkin said the City could not hope to realize such gains because it does not deal in human service areas but the Allegheny County does. But I'm sure that $50,000 could be realized easily by just watching applications of the State and Department of Community Affairs."

I did not know, and perhaps many other people didn't know, that the $1.7 million that we got that's going over to the J & L site for some of the new development of technology came about because Murphy bumped into Caliguiri in the street and Philadelphia was getting some money and he said, "Why don't we get equal time?", you know, quid pro quo. Philadelphia is getting money; why don't we get some money?

I think it's important that we have a full-time lobbyist in Harrisburg and in Washington. I don't want our Finance Chairman to tell me, "Well, that is an issue when we get to budget." When we get to budget I'm always told it's too late. So I'm bringing it up now and asking that my colleagues support that as a major issue when we get to the budget hearings.

The last item that I have, County Commissioner Foerster is asking to support a bill. It's House Bill 229 which would exempt home owners age 65 and older from paying county, school and municipality property taxes on the first $10,000 of their assessments if their income is $10,000 or less a year. I think that is something that we ought to support as well. It seems that it has passed part of the structure and that Mr. DeLuca is considering raising the maximum home income level from $10,000 to $11,999 to match the income eligibility lid in the property tax and rent rebate program.

I would like to make a motion that we send a letter to the appropriate people and to Tom Foerster supporting his bill.

Mr. Flaherty seconded the motion.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. Chairman, I'd like to know more about it than just speaking here. I know many, many times we raise resolutions off the floor without having something in writing. Before I vote on something like that I would like to have more in depth detail. What exactly does it entail? What kind of money are you talking about? What would it cost the City? I'm all for the senior citizens but I just want to know what we're talking about here.

Michelle Madoff:

Would you like me to read you the entire article?

Mr. Woods:

No, I know what newspapers do, they write what people tell them. I want to know what the full impact is. I want to see what he is proposing, in writing, what it's going to cost this City. That is what we should look at, not an article in the newspaper. I can tell these reporters anything and they're going to write it.

Michelle Madoff:

Do you?

Mr. Woods:

Wait a minute, let me finish. I listened to you.

I could be telling something completely out in left field and they're going to say, "Ben Woods said this and Ben Woods said it's a fact." I would like to see the facts in black and white before I vote on anything like this other than a newspaper article. I hope my colleagues, before they vote on anything like this, would see what it's going to cost the City of Pittsburgh in tax dollars and something in black and white.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you Mr. Woods. Now I'll read the article in its entirety. It's five paragraphs.

Mr. Woods:

I don't care to hear the article. I read the article myself.

Michelle Madoff:

You may leave. You're excused.

Mr. Stone:

Relative to this thing, I think that before we start running into this, even if it is a wish kind of a motion, for those who understand something where we've had a tax on those under $10,000 they get reimbursed out of the lottery and the City of Pittsburgh is getting the money and the people under $10,000 are not really paying it up to those quotas. So, in effect, what you're doing here is giving exemption, therefore, they don't have to pay, therefore, we don't get the money. I think we ought to be looking at this kind of thing. Since it's a wish motion I don't care. But I think that we ought to be doing a little bit more, as Mr. Woods has indicated. Looking at something that looks bright may cause a financial detriment to us.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I agree with Mr. Woods and with Mr. Stone that we ought to get the bill in its entirety but since there's a pressure of time to support a bill I'd like to read just what it says. I didn't want to take everybody's time; I just assumed all our members of Council read the paper and are abreast of all of these things and that Mr. Woods also knew it was from the lottery. But I will read it, it's very brief and to be put in the record. Those of us who wish to pass it as a wish motion and get further information, we can do that.

"County Commissioner Tom Foerster says legislation intended to give a major tax break to elderly home owners is now in the State House calander and has an excellent chance of passage.

He said he has asked Allegheny County's Legislative Delegation to support House Bill 229. It would exempt home owners, age 65 and older, from paying county, school and municipal taxes on the first $10,000 of their assessments if their income is $10,000 a year or less. On homes valued at more than $10,000 the owner occupier will pay the full tax rate over that level.

Foerster estimate the bill, if enacted, would save $1,200 for the average senior citizen homeowner whose income does not exceed $10,000 annually. If he receives more than that he would pay the total tax.

Foerster said he has been trying for years to obtain additional tax benefits for elderly residents of Allegheny County. Representative Tony DeLuca, Democrat, Penn Hills, introduced House Bill 229 at the request of the Board of Commissioners. Foerster said DeLuca is considering raising the maximum income level from $10,000 to $11,999 to match the income eligibility lid in the property tax and rent rebate program.

If DeLuca's proposed tax concession is approved and signed by the Governor, said Foerster, an additional $52 million would be extracted from the state lottery fund to reimburse local communities. Foerster noted the fund now has a $300 million surplus."

Now, it may have some different effect. As you stated, Mr. Stone, it is only a wish bill. We have no power to enact. As a matter of fact, we propose police and the Mayor doesn't put them on. We even fund the dollars and he doesn't do it.

I'm saying that it's a worthy bill. There's a time frame; the bill is imminently going to come out of Committee and I certainly think it's worth supporting. I support the bill.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, if I may. I indicated first of all already that the City would lose money if this wish were to be carried out. But in addition, and I think we ought to be cognizant of the fact that 30 percent of our City's population is now elderly. All we need to do is take some of the tax off of those people. Who do you want to put it on? The wage earner? The wage earner's tax in the City of Pittsburgh is higher than any municipality around it. What you are doing in your efforts to act like you're helping somebody is burdening the other portion of the population. They then are the most mobile crew that we have within the City of Pittsburgh. They now leave the City of Pittsburgh and it ends up being 50-50. No way can half of it carry all the tax burden for 100 percent.

Michelle Madoff:

May I respond? Mr. Stone says for those who understand; some of us understand more than you'd like to think we understand. It states here that the monies will be coming from a $300 million surplus lottery. Not put on those people who are already paying too much taxes. If Mr. Stone is so concerned about the City taxpayers or only one tenth as concerned as I am and other members of this Council, he would know that that report put out by the Economy League which is being entered for an award among other associations of it's same ilk, which was done by some of the top accounting houses in the City, says that in two years we'll have a 90 mil increase in taxes unless we get some relief from the suburbanites which doesn't seem very likely. You're going to talk about people having a mass exodus from the City for any reason; it won't be because they get money back from the lottery. It will be because we're taxing them right out of the City.

The Chair:

Michelle, if I may. Why don't you hold that resolution until we have a full Council? You have three members missing.

Michelle Madoff:

Those Councilmembers deliberately got up and walked out, Mr. DePasquale, and they don't really care about the bill. It is only a wish bill. It says let's support senior citizens and let's not get a lot of rhetoric about putting the burden, and we pretend we want to help people but we really want to do damage. The money comes out of the lottery.

The Chair:

Do you want to vote on the resolution or do you want to hold it?

Michelle Madoff:

I want to go with the resolution.

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

Mr. Givens:

I'd like to vote aye and the fact that the Lotto and the money that the state is receiving, I think some $855 million, we receive on an annual basis up to this date from our Lotto and if you know and what Michelle is indicating here, is that there is a $300 million surplus.

Now, it's for the elderly and this bill is for the elderly. It makes common sense. I think the Commissioner and other people who are suggesting this are right on track. It's not going to affect the City of Pittsburgh as long as we get our fair share of that money returned into our Treasury and it helps the people who need the help. I vote aye.

Mr. Stone:

I vote no for the reasons that I have indicated. I think what applies to the County does not apply to the City. With our wage earners now, and we're losing the amount of wage earners we have, and we're adding an added burden to them, we are creating a fiscal problem for the City of Pittsburgh. Thank God it's only a wish.

The Chair:

I'm voting no because I want a little more time to study it. I really don't have that much information.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Michelle Madoff
Mr. Givens	Mr. Robinson

AYES 4	NOES 2

(MR. STONE AND MR. DEPASQUALE VOTING NO)

PRESENTATIONS

The Chair:

Our first order of business today will be a resolution by Mr. Robinson.

Mr. Robinson:

Could I have Joni Rabinowitz and Ms. Portia Johnson from the Hunger Action Coalition come forward please? Miss Rabinowitz is the Public Policy Advocate for Hunger Action Coalition and Miss Johnson is the Administrative Assistant and Fund Raiser.

Members of Council and Mr. President, over the past five years the issue of hunger has been a topic of much discussion and substantive reporting as to its extent in Allegheny County and the City of Pittsburgh.

The last two years have seen the dramatic increase in the number of food distribution programs. Some in direct response to the issue of the chronic hunger problems in our area, and some as a result in the Economic down turn in the "Steel Valley" and among layed off or unemployed workers.

This Council has been in the forefront of the effort to feed the hungry. I believe that we can do more.

Both Councilman Givens and Councilman Woods have worked directly in food distribution programs and are to be commended.

The City of Pittsburgh has annually recognized World Food Day. I would like to read this resolution in honor of World Food Day, and solicit your support, as well as your assistance in adequately informing the citizens of our City about the various food distribution programs and their requirements.

Mr. Robinson presents

Bill No. 3839 WHEREAS, hunger and chronic malnutrition remain daily facts of life for hundreds of millions of people throughout the world; and

WHEREAS, over 100,000 residents of Allegheny County experience hunger annually; and

WHEREAS, the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations designated October 16, 1983 as "World Food Day" because of the need to alert the public to the increasingly dangerous situation with regard to hunger, malnutrition, and poverty; and

WHEREAS, although progress has been made in reducing the incidence of hunger and malnutrition in the United States, certain groups notably native Americans, migrant workers, single parent families, elderly, women and minorities remain vulnerable to malnutrition and related diseases; and

WHEREAS, in our own community, Hunger Action Coalition, a broad-based organization working on a variety of issues related to hunger, now serves about 30-40 hungry households a day, has an emergency pantry network of 117 pantries which provide emergency food assistance to those in need; and

WHEREAS, the Coalition also pursues other programs related to hunger, recommends legislation, promotes public education and advocacy, registers voters, and provides outreach about federal food programs.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Members of the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, does commend Hunger Action Coalition for its exemplary work; does proclaim October 16, 1983, "World Food Day" in the City of Pittsburgh; and does pledge the City to undertake concrete programs which will help alleviate hunger among the less fortunate people in our City.

Mr. Robinson moved to adopt the resolution.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Ms. Rabinowitz:

I want to thank Mr. Robinson and also the other members of City Council for taking this day to recognize the millions of people all over the world who don't have the very most basic items of life.

I also understand that this week you will be passing on a funding request from us which will enable us to continue our work which includes both feeding the hungry in Pittsburgh and also responding to calls for help in other parts of the world.

If anybody has been following the situation across the country, I think it's become obvious by many cities' participation over the last several months around these issues, cities that have begun to take on issue of the hungry, that people all over in the public sector are finally recognizing that the private sector cannot and should not take on the responsibility of providing these citizens unable to earn a living with the basic living needs because basically the private sector has been unable to provide this need.

We're glad that Pittsburgh is joining in on that call from other cities across the country to help feed and clothe the most unfortunate people in our society.

Again, I want to thank you very much. I also want to express the regrets of our President of our Board, Dr. Jo Ann Malenock, who is unable to be here today. Again, thank you for your concern and we hope to be working together more in the future.

Michelle Madoff:

What is the bill you're referring to? The legislation coming up this week? Bill, what was that about?

Mr. Robinson:

There is some legislation in Council to provide the Hunger Action Coalition with some funds out of our Emergency Jobs Program Bill so that they can continue their food distribution program.

Michelle Madoff:

How much is that?

Mr. Robinson:

Approximately $23,000.

Michelle Madoff:

Will that get you through the year?

Ms. Johnson:

The next few months.

Michelle Madoff:

Do you have other sources? Do you have any other matching sources?

Ms. Johnson:

We have a regular budget that's finished in 1984. As of yet, it's $4,000, our budget is $160,000.

Mr. Robinson:

In the past, the City has given about $35,000 to help do some renovations, to help the Pittsburgh Community Food Bank which is one of the organizations that Hunger Action Coalition has supported. But the $23,000 is the first money that this Council has appropriated specifically to this organization. I should mention that they have been in the food distribution business a long time, long before the current crisis.

Mr. O'Malley:

Is that $23,000 for staff?

Mr. Robinson:

Yes, that would be for staff.

Michelle Madoff:

When is that bill coming up, Councilman?

Mr. Robinson:

The bill has already been introduced into Council. I believe it will be on the agenda Wednesday.

Michelle Madoff:

Have you talked to a number of us about the vote? Do you have the support for the vote. You have my vote.

Mr. Robinson:

I appreciate that but I would assume that all members of Council would be reviewing the bill and if there's any questions I'd be more than happy to talk to you about it.

The Chair:

Thank you very much.

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Givens	Mr. Robinson
Michelle Madoff	Mr. DePasquale

And there being two-thirds of the votes of Council in the affirmative, the bills passed finally.

Also,

Bill No. 3748

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution transferring $28,750.00 from Code Account No. 1063, Miscellaneous Services, Dept. of Finance to Code Account No. 1066, Equipment, Department of Finance.

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

On Bill 3748, I think it isn't proper for us to vote for any money for rehabing or doing any work in the Finance Department or any other department until this Council has the adequate space to do a good job for its constituents. We are working in the most congested, inadequate conditions. I personally have been taken care of because I have pounded on Mike's head for about a year; I will have my space. Ben Woods just moved in and took over our meeting room. I'm concerned about the new members of Council, Mr. Wagner and Mr. Grabowski, and other members of Council who do not have adequate space. I don't think we ought to vote one dime for anybody's space until we have space where we can adequately service our constituents.

What's happening now, I had an interview with some people, my aides had to go to another room. You have telephones ringing and there's nobody to answer the phone because you can't talk to somebody in private. If you want to discuss a bill with a Department Head, there's nowhere to talk.

Nobody should work under those conditions and you can't adequately be a good public servant. I would ask my colleagues not to vote for this bill until such time as all of us have adequate space. Being on Council used to be a weigh station; somebody who is a lawyer or something else stopping over for a few hours a week, working in some other area, helping his own private income. We met in the backroom, decided how you're going to vote, spent twenty minutes in session. It's not like that anymore. We're here working five days a week and many of us are working seven days a week. We need adequate space to work in. I don't want new furniture; I'll take second hand. I donated a lot of furniture to the City.

I really hope that you will not vote for Bill 3748.

The Chair:

That's your opinion and you're entitled to it but I don't want the public to get the idea that we are not allowed to carry out our duties because of lack of space. That's completely unfair.

Michelle Madoff:

I haven't noticed you having an aide, Mr. President.

The Chair:

I'm not going to argue with you but you have a room big enough for everybody on this Council and you're saying you don't have enough room. I don't know what you want.

Michelle Madoff:

I want to be able to function and service and be here and not get all the complaints because nobody else is here working.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Givens presents

Bill No. 3836 BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh appropriate additional money to obtain the services of an outside psychological evaluating team to retest police candidates that failed the psychological portion of the police exam.

Mr. Givens moved to approve the resolution.

Mr. Flaherty seconded the motion.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, if I might have a little discussion on this. One must evaluate the trends and what has happened recently within the City of Pittsburgh when it comes down to the police testing and that of the psychological testing and how it is composed and what effects this has upon a particular group of candidates that have taken that test, primarily that of veterans.

In looking at the 1970 list, for example, one can see that, of course it's broken down and we must speak in the terminologies of male, female, white and minorities. So, because of that it's kind of difficult to express exactly what has happened. But to give you an example, I'll stick with one list, I can use two lists and even say that the second list and primarily males are the ones that are affected by this particular decision that happened in the Civil Service Commission when the posted the eligibility scores and who were selected. For example, in 1979, the Civil Service list for eligible police officers, eighteen veterans were selected in the white male list. They went down through fifty white males in that list to get those eighteen veterans. I would have to say that probably the Superintendent of Police of the City of Pittsburgh, Superintendent Coll, made that selection. That has been the tradition since the veterans have been given a preference going back to World War II.

If we take the case of the Civil Service Commission's eligibility list posted in 1981 and the test administered this past year, we will find that out of 102 people that were considered - and I'm just going down that list - of those, only five veterans were picked and 71 veterans have been passed over. There is a dramatic significant change.

If I look at the black male list just for 1981, it appears that it is in fact discrimination but it's even more blatant. In the black male, there was 181 and the 181st person was considered. Of those, only three veterans were picked upon of that 181 group and 56 veterans, Mr. President, have been passed over.

One in this Council must ask ourself the question, why. Most of these people that have been passed over, they had very high grades without even their ten point veteran preference. Most of them were in 90 plus, the majority of them were above 95 without even having their ten point veterans preference. Talking to the City of Washington, D.C., talking to Philadelphia, talking to Cleveland, police, Civil Service, asking how the veterans are chosen in those particular cities of the last class that they have put on, it was overwhelming that the veterans have been chosen out of their Civil Service Commission list. It appears that only Pittsburgh has some diversity in giving the test to veterans and apparently this then steers into the Psychological Services.

In sitting on some municipalities here in Allegheny County over the past several years, I have had the opportunity of evaluating police officers both at the police officers level, at the sergeant, lieutenant and captain. What most municipalities do, not only here in Allegheny County but throughout this country of ours, is take the whole man concept. Otherwise, psychological evaluation is part of that whole man process, 25, 30 percent of that total whole person.

The written examination is somewhere between 30 and 40 percent, thus leaving approximately another 30 to 40 percent for the whole person evaluation where that person comes in and gets and receives an appearance before a particular Civil Service Commission and Board. That is the way recommendations are made.

The City of Pittsburgh, from what I have been able to gather in talking to our Civil Service Department, Melanie Smith and Michelle Cunko, is that there was a pass-fail on this particular psychological test. If you failed the test, you were forever damned in the City of Pittsburgh and cannot come back and never again compete for a policeman's examination. Even the 120 some names that went before the Superintendent of Police, 60 of those top people on the Civil Service list were rejected forever. They cannot again, under this particular examination, take this examination.

Time is of the essence. As has been listed on the Civil Service eligibility list, the expiration date on this is October 15, 1983. That's this coming Friday. I feel that there has been an injustice made to our veterans that have served rightfully for this country as all veterans have done. All of us who have been veterans know that when your country calls for you, you don't ask questions. You go out there and the soldiers of World War II did their job. Those of Korea and Viet Nam were no different. They did the job that their superiors told them to do in the heat of battle, etc. They are veterans and under law, under the law of the Constitution of the United States, under the law of the Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania, under the Personnel Commission of the City of Pittsburgh, the veterans are supposed to, by law, be given preferential rights.

What then, Mr. President, has happened on this last class? Because of that, I've asked for certain resolutions to try to only get to the basis of this problem, not putting the blame on anybody, but trying to say, "What happened here?". The fact that so much of this is covered up and the fact that we cannot get this information, we cannot find out about the 800 questions that were given to the policemen and the policewomen who have taken that particular test. The fact that we can't even get their telephone numbers, the fact that when we ask for certain eligibility lists, etc., they were only given to us within the last couple of weeks, the fact that the stigmatism associated with any of us that have failed a test, let alone a psychological test, has to have certain impact on the citizens and residents of the City of Pittsburgh, not to say the type of caliber of police officer that we want to guard us within the City of Pittsburgh. I would dare say if the citizens of Pittsburgh had the right to say who they would want to secure them in time of panic, in times when their bodies were going to be personally violated, when their property was going to be personally violated, they would want somebody who had experience. This is what veterans normally give any police department throughout this country and for that matter throughout the world.

On this resolution then, Mr. President, we are asking that money be appropriated from this Council to obtain the services of an outside psychological evaluation team to retest those police candidates that failed the psychological portion of this police examination. I feel that we, in order to serve justice to those people who have been failed and to be assured that this Council in all its wisdom is assuring that the money that we appropriate for these testings is in fact being used properly, that we must go to an outside consultant in order to obtain a just testing on this particular case.

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, if I may. I have two questions. One, obviously you're including everybody, not just the veterans here.

Mr. Givens:

Yes, everyone is involved.

The Chair:

The other one is, if Council did supply the funds to hire a psychologist, then we're going to have the same problems, no doubt, that we had with lawyers because they're always disagreeing. If you have ten, you will get ten different opinions. What happens when the psychologist we hire okays these people and the psychologist that the Administration hires don't? You'll have a heck of a problem. I don't know the answer myself. I would think that the Administration would prevail. I agree with you 100 percent but it's a cock-eyed system that outlaws or eliminate so many candidates. It can't be a fair one and it can't be a right one. Something has to be done. I don't know what the answer is.

Mr. Givens:

I don't know what the answer is either and that's why I have these resolutions upon us to just put everything on a hold pattern right now until this Council who appropriates the money for this Psychological Services, Inc. of Pittsburgh, or anybody else who comes in to evaluate our candidates for police, firemen, or whatever. We appropriate that money. As the appropriator of that money, I just want to be assured that the testing that is done is done in an equitable fashion.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, as you may recall, the issue of the failure of 70 some odd percent on the psychological test was something that I started to address and I'm glad that Councilman Givens, who had also been thinking about it - I think you called for a post agenda at one time - has been addressing the issue.

Mr. Givens:

Tom Flaherty did that.

Michelle Madoff:

All of us. It doesn't matter. We don't need to take credit; we're all in this together because we all care and I think all of Council, most of us, were there at the post agenda.

I think they should be taken in a very chronological order. I think your ideas are good but they're premature. I think Mr. DePasquale raises a very important issue. A gentleman called my office and said, "I failed the test." I said, "Well, I suggest you go out and get a test with another psychologist." He did that and he passed. Now I came up with the same problem that the President raised. What do you do if your psychologist says that you're okay but ours says that you are not. Who is right? I said, "I would suggest you go and get another one." He did. Both of them say he's qualified.

We ran an ad in the personal column because, justifiable and correctly, there is a certain amount of confidentiality. If somebody fails the test for whatever reason because they are reluctant to draw a gun when they should be or too eager to draw when they shouldn't be, I as a member of this Council and I presume all of us, do not want to be responsible to say that people should be hired when indeed they may not be suitable candidates. We don't want that responsibility if somebody should hurt somebody. We know that nothing is infallible. We know that we have a super police force but occasionally a police officer does not behave in a proper manner. They're no better and no worse than any other member of society. But I don't think we can take that responsibility on ourselves.

I think you have to start at the beginning and since there was confidentiality involved and we could not get the list, I took it upon myself to run an ad in the personal column. It ran most of last week and over Sunday. We have now had 71 responses. The stories we heard are unbelievable stories. The kind of thing that we need to go back and find out is the issue that Councilman Stone has raised. Why do we pay thousands of dollars for psychological and medical exams, have a list available, and then not hire, and the list expires because the Mayor doesn't start a class and those people can't wait to get another job. The young man who went out and paid for two psychological tests at my suggestion paid $100 each, that's $200. I'm going to try to get the City to reimburse him. However, that gentleman is taking a job somewhere for six months and he left Sunday which is why I had him here last Wednesday. People can't sit around forever waiting for jobs. So, we lose the money, the thousands of dollars, on the test that we appropriate because we don't put a class on. That's number one.

Number two, the stories that we've heard are so unbelievable that I prefer that those stories come from the people themselves as opposed to hearsay and opposed to any libel situation.

I would ask, therefore, Mr. President, that you give me a date to set a hearing for the 71 people or those who wish to come and state their case. For example, the kind of stories we're hearing, and I'm not mentioning names, is that somebody took a test and said, "You are not qualified because you would be too timid in pulling a gun." The same person takes the test another time, don't ask me how, and they said, "You're too aggressive." Same person. Somebody was told they couldn't be hired because they had no ghetto experience. Somebody was told they passed the test but we have too many people so we're arbitrarily picking you not to be one of the people that would be selected.

I don't think we should be getting from Michelle Madoff, Councilman Givens, Flaherty or anybody. Let's get it from the horse's mouth. Will you give me a date, as soon as possible? Mike, will you send a letter? We'll give you the 71 names and phone numbers, and let's set a hearing which will essentially say, "Please come and state your case." I would like to have Melanie Smith and Michelle Cunko here so that we can get their ratings. In other words, did they fail because, maybe they passed the psychological they were low on perhaps their physical. One of the women was a nurse who lifts heavy patients, men, out of bed and she was failed because she could not be physically strong enough. She didn't fail the psychological, she failed the physical. It's absurd.

There's something going on, and as Councilman Givens has said, we need to get to the bottom. Let's hear from the people direct. Do you have any objections to that? Let your veterans be here and let them speak for themselves.

Mr. Givens:

Tomorrow evening at 8:00 in the VFW Post 623 at 825 Western Avenue, there will be a meeting primarily of veterans and others who have been invited to come to that particular meeting to find out what the person's legal rights are.

Why I put these in the preference that I did on this particular resolution is the fact that, as you have so indicated, Michelle, that some people have taken upon their own initiative to go out and to be reevaluated, on two cases and I know of a couple myself. For example on this list, there have been seven Western Penitentiary guards that have passed the psychological test to be a guard in our Penitentiary and now cannot be a police officer of the City of Pittsburgh.

Michelle Madoff:

But we should not be making that evaluation, Councilman Givens.

Mr. Givens:

There's also people on this particular list that have been police officers in other states and other municipalities, recent police officers and in some cases, current police officers in other burroughs and municipalities, that have taken this particular examination, that have moved into the City for the reason of competing for the City of Pittsburgh's police examination, and have failed this examination.

Michelle Madoff:

We understand the problem. Let's deal with it.

Mr. Givens:

We must evaluate this program. We can evaluate it in a very costly matter by picking out certain individuals at random if need be, and only testing those. We don't have to go back and test everyone. But somehow, somehow, in order to see that justice is served, we must do something to bring an evaluating team in here.

So, Michelle, this is not an untimely request. This is in fact requesting exactly what you're indicating, that we bring in an outside evaluation team to look at these people and we must do it because the expiration date of this particular list is of this Friday.

Michelle Madoff:

We can extend that date.

Mr. Givens:

We cannot extend anything. Only the Administration can extend that particular list. I had asked that last Wednesday and I have not received a reply on it. If they do not then I think you're going to see a lot of American flags in here and several of the 60,000 Viet Nam veterans among other veterans from other wars will be sitting in here asking for a public hearing. It doesn't have to come from Dick Givens or Michelle Madoff. They will be signing their petitions.

Michelle Madoff:

Let's go back to where I was when I was cut off.

The Chair:

Michelle, if I may, I like your idea very much about the hearing but if you don't mind I think you ought to include the psychologists too. I think they owe it to us to come in here and tell us why they're failing all these people.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, let me complete what I was saying. That's exactly what I was going to say. We're on the same wavelength.

What I'm saying, Mr. President, is the one disagreement I have with Councilman Givens, and I know he feels very strongly, you were in the war, he was in the war, and I know he feels very strongly about it --

The Chair:

I haven't looked at a gun since 1945.

Michelle Madoff:

I have been tempted.

This is a serious matter. Let's keep it serious.

My concern with the hearing tomorrow night is that what you may be doing is going out and looking at a class action suit among veterans when in reality you may find out that in certain instances there were good and just reasons for people individually not to be hired and there would be not good and just reasons, there was prejudice in not hiring other people.

I suggest let's have everybody — Mike, I would like to make a motion in place of Councilman Givens' motion —

Mr. Givens:

No. We have a motion on the floor right now.

Michelle Madoff:

We can come back to it. I'm addressing your motion; I'm saying I think that we should, first of all, have a public hearing, we'll go with your motion, but I also want an ad. I paid for my ad; I'm going to bill it to you, Mike, the personal ad, because it's City Council business. But I would like to see an ad, not in the personal column but a display ad, 3 x 5, saying that there will be a hearing, if you have failed either the psychological or the physical test, and we must have, as Mr. President has said, the people who did the psychological testing, the people from Personnel as to why; if they passed, they were dropped over someone else, and it also would not hurt to have the grades here on the people for comparison in case someone failed simply because someone had 99 and they had 98 and you took the person who had 99. I don't think we should deal in a vacuum and I don't think we should jump the gun. I think we are a fact finding body; let's be a fact finding body; let's start with the hearing.

Mrs. Masloff:

Do you think all these people will want to spread all this personal information about themselves publicly?

Michelle Madoff:

Yes. Enough of them will.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President and members of Council, some time ago, I guess about two months ago, we did have a post agenda at which time I had requested that representatives of Pittsburgh Psychological Testing and members of our Civil Service Commission as well as people within our Personnel Department, come to Council and discuss a portion of the issue that Mr. Givens has raised, certainly the issues of those persons who have failed the test, the psychological test, who have felt perhaps they have been dealt with unfairly, the issue of whether or not Pittsburgh Psychological Services should continue to administer the test, and whether or not the Civil Service Commission felt that we were still able to meet our mandated goals as established by Judge Weber.

At that time and subsequent to that, I indicated that I thought that we should discontinue the use of Psychological Services, not because I felt that they did not know how to administer the test, not because they were incompetent, but because the credibility of the process was being threatened and in the process, the credibility of Pittsburgh Psychological. They subsequently sent a letter to us and indicated they would attempt to do what they could to address the problem. It seems to me that they are probably unable to address the problem by themselves and now there are other related issues. I still recommend to this Council and the Administration that we either discontinue the use of Pittsburgh Psychological or that we get them some other professional help so that we can better explain to the public what we're doing in the area of psychological for our police officers and fire personnel and so that we can also begin to more adequately address, perhaps, a bigger issue, and that is, what are we trying to identify in a police officer? What qualities make a police officer adequate in the City of Pittsburgh? We have vet to address the issue. We have yet to address the issue of what type of firefighters we really want in the City of Pittsburgh. Obviously the psychological component of the test deals with the personality, if you will, of the individual. Some of the personalities may be very adequate for Minneapolis, St. Paul; they might not be adequate for Charleston, West Virginia. Unless we know what type of officer, what type of firefighter we want in this City and really set down some rules and regulations, we are going to continue to have the larger problem of people failing the test and coming to us as a Council feeling that somehow they're inadequate. They're not inadequate; everyone is different. If we want persons who have college educations, then let's say that. If we want people with IO's of 120 and above, then let's say that. Right now we don't know, or at least I don't know, what we really expect of our police officers, what types of individuals we want. It's unfair to the City and it's unfair to the individuals. I would hope that we would, one, try to get some resolution of the issue of what we're looking for and I would hope that we would discontinue Pittsburgh Psychological. They've had the contract for a long time. Their credibility is being damaged and they are going to become ineffective. People who are going to begin to take that test are going to question the validity of Pittsburgh Psychological to administer the test. I don't believe the problem is with them, I believe it is with us. I just hope that Council would begin to maybe look at the larger problem and hopefully we can spare Pittsburgh Psychological embarrassment and also those people who honestly want to serve this City but have been rejected.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, I agree for the most part, I suppose, with all of the previous speakers. I believe that we are involved in a real quagmire on the issue of utilizing the services of Psychological Testing Services. But I feel that it is an issue that we have to start or try to amend or improve from now forward. I think we're going to create more problems if we try to view it and try to correct it through the retroactive actions that are proposed here.

For example, I don't believe any speaker has addressed the problem that would occur for the people who passed the examination. It's important to keep in mind that 30 percent of these people passed the examination. If you go back, I think you are blatantly discriminating if you're going to offer this examination again only to those people that failed and then how are you ever going to compare the two examinations? It's going to be like apples and oranges. I think this is a problem that, for the most part, is not worth even attempting to correct through a retroactive measure. I think that we do have to address the immediate problem and I agree wholeheartedly with what Councilman Robinson has said as far as the City retaining the validity of Psychological Services. I know that in the previous post agendas that this Council has had with Psychological Services, I'm of the firm opinion that they have not adequately answered questions from members of this Council. I don't believe that the components as to what makes an ideal police officer are so esoteric that only the Director of Personnel and the Superintendent of Police are permitted to know that information.

I think this is an issue where this City Council is elected by the people of this City and we are asking very legitimate questions. It's about time that Psychological Services, the Director of Personnel, and if need be, the Superintendent of Police start answering our very legitimate questions.

In closing, I would want to say that I don't think this is an issue bring discrimination against veterans. From the statistics I have, I think there has been discrimination the past few years compared to previous years in regard to minorities and females that are viewed as being qualified. It seems ironic that all of this occurred when the federal court order of Judge Weber came down. There seems to be a correlation between the federal order and this radical changing of results from previous years. So, I think that there are some glaring issues that need to be addressed but I think the current resolution that we have in front of us will present even more problems for us.

Michelle Madoff:

Councilman Flaherty, so many of us have spoken today, I think we're running a lot of the material together and that's very natural because many of us overlap in our thinking. We all want to do something about it; we're trying to grope for a way to do it. I think we're all people of good faith here today.

While I agree with you that we cannot take test of those who have failed because we don't know how it compares with those who have passed - it would be grossly and prejudicial - I disagree with you when you say we should not go back over history. The reason I say that is that I think we are going to learn things that are going to blow the minds of this Council and the public at large. I do not want to speak for the people. While Councilwoman Masloff believes that people will not come and bare their soles in public, I can only rely on my aide, Carmen Gunther, who took the calls for the most part. We had 71 calls and the kind of gut feeling we have is that those people want to come and report on what happened. It goes beyond just the grading, it goes beyond just the psychological test. There is more going on with the Administration. I think they should have their fair day to say what they have to say. We may find out that we're partially wrong. We may find out the only way to do it is what Councilman Robinson has said, and I think we ought to hear it from the people. We could have a closed session, which I'm opposed to, I want sunshine. We could have a closed session where we just meet with Melanie Smith and Louise Brown and the Administration and the people from Psychological Testing and not have the media there. I will not support that. Therefore, I'm asking again to start from the beginning. The issue is much broader than you think it is. You've known me a long time, Tom, and I don't misrepresent. I'm asking that you have a little faith and trust in me because I have it in Carmen. The stories are beyond what we've heard today and I want the people to tell their own stories. But in order to check the validity of those stories, we must give the Personnel Department a chance to act, interact, and react. I don't think Superintendent Coll plays any role in this. He doesn't choose. It is a personnel problem. It is a testing problem. I want Psychological Services, I want the people who wish to come and bare their souls, if they wish to do that.

I had somebody call me who is a friend of yours, Mr. DePasquale, who is a maitre'd at one of our top restaurants, he said if you were here I'd give you a kiss, not you me, because his son went to criminal college for four years and had one of the highest ratings and that he was not accepted. There may be good and valid reasons and we should not jump the gun. We may have to go right back to square one which is what Mr. Robinson is saying and I think what Councilman Flaherty is saying but I'm asking, and I have the right as a member of Council, to schedule a hearing. Let's start with that issue. I will not vote for Councilman Givens' bill until then because I think we're going to get into trouble tonight with the veterans because you may be stirring people up where they may find out that that could be an embarrassment if they legitimately, some of them, fail for whatever reason and I don't think we should in any way cast dispersions on anyone. Let's get to the facts.

Mr. Givens:

I have no qualms when I think of veterans when all the veterans who were picked from 1979 back to about 1945, that almost all were veterans. Of the last class in 1979, of 18 that were picked, 18 were veterans. Of the class of 1981 list of Civil Service, of all the veterans that were picked, 71 were passed over, only 5 were picked.

That shows to me that there is a blatant group and I can't see this when I look at other groups that are being looked upon. Only veterans. I can't say it's totally black, it's totally white or it's female. But it male and it is black or minority male, it also is white male because that's the way Judge Weber said that we will hire these particular people.

To get back to Tom's assertion, he is absolutely right. In making resolutions up, sometimes we do not think back as to what happened to the people who are in class. I can tell you if there's a class action suit, any judge can put a restraining order upon this City to hold that particular class or to hold openings in that class or future classes for those who have been passed over. If the court case would come out and if the courts would decide that these people have been handled unjustly, there will have to be positions made.

I could amend, and I make a motion for amendment at this time, and if you look at that resolution on the last line where it says, "candidates that failed" I'll just take out the word "failed" and "candidates that have taken the psychological portion of the police exam", Civil Service Commission list of 1981. That's the one we're talking about. That will include all the candidates that are presently in the class. By the way, ladies and gentlemen, they are being paid by the state, not by the City of Pittsburgh, while they're in that class for some three, four, five months. They won't even tell me how long they're going to be in that particular class.

Michelle Madoff:

Who pays for the police training?

Mr. Givens:

The state reimburses the City of Pittsburgh while the candidates are in the class.

The Chair:

You mean the money we appropriate isn't used?

Mr. Givens:

The money we appropriate is for police officers when they are placed on duty in the City of Pittsburgh, not while they're in the class.

Michelle Madoff:

You mean I've been lied to again? Imagine the Administration not telling the truth.

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, if I may. In your last sentence, "candidates that failed the psychological portion of the police exam", you're saying you want to change that to the candidates that have "taken". Are you saying you want the candidates who have already passed to go through another test?

Mr. Givens:

I'm making a motion to amend the resolution that Mike has just read that all candidates who have taken the psychological portion of the police examination, Civil Service Commission list of 1981, that's to identify, shall be again reevaluated by an outside consulting team.

The Chair:

And you're including those who have passed?

Mr. Givens:

I'm including everyone because I think Tom brought out a very significant point. There's people who have passed the psychological examination and I must, Mr. President, reach in my wisdom and say, "Is there any wrongdoings here?" That is the question mark that all of us must ask ourselves. If someone is reaching into the Santa Clause bag and saying I'm going to pick candidate X, Y and Z and pass over many other candidates. That is the bottom line that I am looking for. If you want me to say it, I'll say it publicly right now. Veterans are being discriminated against and this Administration is discriminating against them. That is the bottom line. Prove it. It will be proven by your vote here today. I'll guarantee you that.

The Chair:

First of all, you all heard Mr. Givens amendment. Is there a second to that amendment?

There being no second, the amendment fails.

Mr. O'Malley:

I just want to make one short statement. I agree with my colleague, Councilman Flaherty. I don't think it will do any good to go into the past or to dwell on the past. I think it will do more harm than good. I think what we have to do is look forward to the future and in that respect, I agree with my colleague, Councilman Robinson. We have to establish what we expect in a police officer and what we expect in a firefighter. We have to establish a new test that fits the criteria of the City of Pittsburgh and what we expect of these people. Once we establish a new test, in the future we should give everybody the opportunity to take that new test, even the people who, in the past, have failed the previous psychological test. I think once we establish the new test, we should start from square one and give everybody the opportunity to come back in and be retested for the future.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, in order to set a new test, the best way to learn how a test should be set up is to hear from people as to how they've been affected. I still am going ahead with my 71 invitations and I would respectfully ask my colleague, Councilman Givens, to ask his veterans who may be on our list already but if they're not, would you please ask them to come to our hearing and see if they wish to state their case.

Mr. Givens:

I will assure you that they will probably be petitioning the City of Pittsburgh for a public hearing. It will be their public hearing, not Dick Givens' and not Michelle Madoff's.

Michelle Madoff:

It's not mine, it's ours. It's everybody's. Let's not take credit for it; let's all do it together.

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, there has been certain things, let's leave this one go by and we'll catch the next one. That's very interesting. As all of us are Councilpeople elected by the general election process and all of a sudden the rules have been changed in midstream and the ballot box has been stuffed and the recorded vote did not come out in our favor, but we'll wait, Mr. President, until the next time that Council runs so that we can be on that ballot box again. That is what I am hearing and that, I feel, will be a curse to this particular Councilmatic group right here.

Michelle Madoff:

Dick, this is not a political issue.

Mr. Givens:

We cannot go back on this thing; we must stop it in midair, right now. Put it on the shelf and test it and get the correct answers or we are doing an injustice to a great group of people who have served this country and have served it well. My vote is aye.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, while I support the concept and the intent of what Councilman Givens is trying to do, I must vote no because I think it is the wrong approach.

Mrs. Masloff:

I agree with Councilman Flaherty; I think we have to avoid another confrontation with those who have already been selected and I think we ought to make new rules, as has been suggested by Councilman Robinson. I vote no.

Mr. O'Malley:

I vote no for reasons previously given but one more point here is that there's been no proof of any wrongdoings by Psychological Testing Services. I think what we're all saying is that we're just not satisfied with the results of the test that they administer and again I suggest that we come up with a new test, clear the slate, and give everybody an opportunity to take the new test.

Mr. Robinson:

I'm going to vote no and just one last quick comment. I think we need to be very careful with this issue because of the possible ramifications relative to Judge Weber's decision. As Councilman Flaherty alluded to, the "problem" seems to have developed since Judge Weber handed down his decision which was geared towards trying to provide some access for minorities and women into our police and fire department. I don't think we want to do anything that's going to disturb that order without seriously looking at the negative implications. We might do the right thing for the wrong reasons, or the wrong thing for the right reasons. I just would like to caution my colleagues to handle this in the most professional way possible and let us always be mindful of Judge Weber's decision. In fact, members of Council might want to get copies of that decision to get some perspective on what the City was mandated, ordered, to do relative to our police and fire department.

Mr. Givens:

They won't tell it to you, Bill.

The Chair:

I have no problem with hiring an outside psychologist. My problem, just like most other members of Council, is with the retesting. I'm going to vote no also.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the resolution?

And on the question, "Shall the resolution pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty

Mr. O'Malley

Michelle Madoff

Mr. Robinson

Mrs. Masloff

Mr. DePasquale
(Pres't)

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the resolution was defeated.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, will you set a date for my hearing, please, so that I can notify these 71 people? We'll probably have more because the ad ran in the Sunday paper and I would respectfully ask that Councilman Givens invite anybody he wishes to. And if we have that 3 x 5 ad we will have everybody here including veterans, I hope.

Mr. Givens:

I think you'll find the veterans will want to speak for themselves. They'll do it in their own form.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Givens, they will speak for themselves. That's what I'm saying.

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, get back on the resolution. Obviously the resolution failed. Your two following resolutions, I think, run into the same problem that Mr. Robinson brought out in regard to the court order quota system.

Mr. Givens:

The court order has nothing to do - The court order has been in effect since about 1970 and all the classes have been put on accordingly. It's only this particular class, Mr. President, that there has been a reversal on the veterans. It's only this class and this class only that there has been a significant reversal upon the veterans that have their veteran preferential point and the government is supposed to serve those honorable veterans and we are not doing it here today. It's very obvious.

Mr. Givens presents

Bill No. 3837 BE IT RESOLVED, that Psychological Services of Pittsburgh not be permitted to administer any more tests to police candidates until they are subjected to a complete evaluation by the Administration.

Mr. Givens moved to approve the resolution.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Mr. Givens:

I'd like to say something on behalf of the resolution, please. I think it was obvious, and it came up in the previous discussion on the other motion of Psychological Services not being permitted to administer any more tests until we can find out what has actually happened here. If you can recall, there was a payment made for Psychological Services just weeks ago wherein after this Councilman found out that the 75-80 percent of our citizens of this City have failed the psychological test I refuse to make payment to that service because I didn't feel that we received just compensation for the type of testing that was done. It's irresponsible to think that 75-80 percent of the citizens of the City of Pittsburgh could not be qualified for any position within the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, I think that we need to appreciate the confidential nature which Psychological Services is doing. I would be somewhat reluctant to compromise them and I would hope that if we decided to evaluate them that that evaluation could be done in a confidential manner. I am not as concerned as perhaps some others here are that everything we do be done in front of the news media. I think there's a time and a place for everything. If indeed we want to find out about the quality of service that Psychological Service is providing, if we want to find out the quality of the service they are providing to us, I think we are going to have to do it in some confidential fashion.

Michelle Madoff:

We're on two different subjects, Bill. Mine was a hearing of the people.

Mr. Robinson:

No, no, understand what I'm saying. I'm dealing specifically with this resolution to stop the funding, what have you.

I think also the fact that they have already provided these services, it's kind of anti-climatic to now say to them, stop. I think we probably need to terminate them as of the end of the last service that they are giving to us and we can do that in several ways. I think we ought to do it in such a fashion that does not damage their credibility.

Also, I think that if we're going to have any kind of hearings or meetings or additional discussion on this that one of the persons that we need to talk to is former Mayor Pete Flaherty. Former Mayor Flaherty on at least three occasions was requested by community groups and organizations and by Judge Weber to establish a reasonable policy in this City that would allow minorities and women to become firefighters and police officers. For whatever reasons, Mayor Flaherty refused to do that and thus Judge Weber did it for him. I think the Mayor could probably shed some light on the situation that we now find ourselves in because with each passing sentence on this subject, it grows and grows and grows like a giant amoeba and before we know it, we're going to be back to square one and square one can be, in many instances, identified and explained by former Mayor Pete Flaherty. I think Councilman Flaherty is right on target when he suggests that the "problem" began when Judge Weber issued his order. Judge Weber only issued his order after the Mayor of this City refused, for whatever reasons, to establish some sort of guidelines or some sort of policy that would allow minorities and women to be integrated into the police force and reflected in terms of the population percentages in our City.

Mr. O'Malley:

Mr. Robinson, did you suggest that we request former Mayor Flaherty to come in at a hearing?

Mr. Robinson:

Yes. If we're going to have a public hearing or a post agenda on this general issue, I think it would be very instructive and very helpful to have the former Mayor here.

Michelle Madoff:

What I wanted to respond to was that when you stated that certain things should not be in public and certain things should, when a person is willing to bear their soul, has called my office, there's 71 people, there will be more - Councilman Givens has many, many veterans and he's concerned about them as well he should be and I think he's being a good -

Mr. Givens:

I'm concerned about everyone but I feel the veterans are discriminated here.

Michelle Madoff:

May I finish, Mr. Givens, please?

All I'm saying is that in order to avoid exactly what you're talking about, Mr. Robinson, any sense of prejudice against Psychological Testing, we have to lay a ground work. Why are we even looking at why we want to make a change? If people want to come and tell us their stories, they may be inaccurate stories. They may be accurate stories. Let's start from square one. I agree with you; we need to sit down with the people who administer the test in Detroit, which is very similar to Pittsburgh, where you have diverse mixtures of minorities, maybe Washington, D.C., and find out what kind of test they give and see how our test compares. I agree with you; that should be done in a professional business manner, not "a big hearing for the public" any more than the Administration discusses its business before the media.

But what I'm talking about is people who want to come and talk about why they were rejected by the Psychological Testing and by the physical test and want to state their case. I think that's the first step. If we do it quickly we can get on with the job.

The Chair:

Role call vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

I support the resolution and there isn't any language in the resolution as far as attempting to bar Psychological Services from ever administering any tests. It is simply stated or inferred that this will be a temporary stoppage until Council has the opportunity to really tackle this problem. I think it's obvious that there is a significant amount of confusion, frustration, and yes, even legitimate criticism put forth by all members of Council. I believe this certainly is not a retroactive action but a prospective action and I think it is the first step that we should be taking and I feel that it is most essential.

Mr. Givens:

The reason I put this motion forward was that, according to the Pittsburgh Psychological Services, Inc., they have been certifying and updating this particular test as it has gone along. From the 1979 Civil Service list until the 1981 Civil Service list, there was an ongoing process of ten years; the test has not significantly changed but the results of those tests have changed. Whether Psychological Services is giving a fail-pass grade on this — Where are they getting their information? Where is the cutoff line? Is the cutoff line a doctor saying that this person is psychologically unfit or he does not fit into a particular profile or the profile that Psychological Services, Inc. has been able to determine over ten years through past experience and reevaluation of those candidates who became police officers and passed the score that now these are the ideal type of police officers. Are we stereotyping, in the City of Pittsburgh, what an ideal police officer is?

I would recommend and suggest, unless the person is psychologically unfit in the terms that we all loosely think of it, schizophrenic and other types of personalities, they are average type people out there and they should be able to work with the average citizens of the City of Pittsburgh. I would hate to see Psychological Services putting upon the police officers of the City and the firefighters of the City of Pittsburgh a stereotyped police officer, a personality A type. We have many personalities out there; we have many people to deal with. We need aggressive police officers and we need —

The Chair:

That's the purpose of Michelle Madoff's hearing.

Mr. Givens:

Would you leave me finish, Mr. President?

The Chair:

But we've already okayed a hearing and that's the purpose of the hearing.

Mr. Givens:

No, no. She has asked for a hearing. There's other people involved in here. I would like to get finished.

At any rate, I feel that in offering this particular amendment that we would get to the gut issue that everyone has been speaking about here. What is the purpose and what is the cause, in this particular test, of the high percentage of candidates failing? What is it? What are the new guidelines? Who has set these guidelines? Psychological Services? Civil Service Commission? The Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh? The Superintendent of Police? I know he didn't do it because all he received was 120 names. So, I have to go backwards in that process. It has to be the Mayor, it has to be Civil Service. Someone is setting new criteria. Yes, let's get at that criteria. For that reason and that reason alone, I ask that we reevaluate what is already been done. Has there been an injustice? And secondly that we hold on this particular firm which bid, as any other firm might bid on it, and we hold this firm until such time as this matter is clear. I vote aye.

The Chair:

I was only trying to say that this is what is going to be brought out at the hearing. That's all I was trying to say.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, the resolution states, "Be it resolved that Psychological Services not be permitted to administer any more tests to police candidates until they are subjected to a complete evaluation by the Administration." They already did that. They had snowed us at a post agenda. That is why I will not vote for the bill. Maybe if you amended it to say, "by the Administration and City Council" then I would be more inclined to vote for it.

I would like to ask you to hold the bill until after the hearing. Then I would probably see my way clear.

The problem, as Councilman Givens has just pointed out, is the only one who can administer is the Administration. But if they're going to make the evaluation on what is a good psychological test, they're going to rehire the same people anyway so this becomes moot and therefore, until we have the hearing, I will abstain from voting.

The Chair:

I vote no for the very reason I stated earlier. I feel that the hearing will bring all these facts out and will serve that purpose rather than the resolution.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the resolution?

And on the question, "Shall the resolution pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Givens

AYES 3 NOES 3

VOTING NO:

Mrs. Masloff Mr. DePasquale
Mr. Robinson (Pres't)

(MICHELLE MADOFF ABSTAINING)

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the resolution was defeated.

Mr. Givens presents

Bill No. 3838 Be it resolved that the present list of police officer candidates not be taken down until such time that it expires or until any legal objections to the police exam are resolved by the courts or the Personnel Appeals Board.

Mr. Givens moved to approve the resolution.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, it's very critical. The list is supposed to come down this Friday and, of course, this is again a prerogative of the Administration. What this Council is asking is that that list not expire on October 15, 1983, that it remain up there until such a time as these deliberations, public hearings, scrutiny by the individual people who have been passed over, has been weighted and this Council concludes its investigation.

The Chair:

If I may, Mr. Givens, under the quota system, if I recall, there's four groups; white males, white females, black males and black females. Obviously, the largest group is the white males. Time and again, they exhaust the black males, black females and white females and have quite a large list of white males. What you are saying is that you want that white male list to remain up —

Mr. Givens:

No. I'm saying is —

The Chair:

The list is going to expire the moment they get their quota. You're saying, keep that list up. Then you're going to direct opposition to the court mandated quota system.

Mr. Givens:

I'm saying that the Civil Service Commission eligibility list, posted October 16, 1981, remain in fact active until this thing is finished. That includes all four groups of these people. All four groups.

Michelle Madoff:

The President has explained to you that we've used those up. We don't have people in the black and the female lists anymore, therefore, they're not taking people from the white list. What I'm saying is, since it costs us so much money to get the list, I agree with you, let's keep the list but let the personnel go out and form a list of blacks and women to add to the list but let's not throw the good money we spent on getting this existing list out again because people will go take other jobs. So, let's keep the list and let's supply an additional list of females and minorities.

Mr. Givens:

No, no, I have to say that the amendment would be this. "The list" and insert there "of 1981 police officer candidates". That's all you have to say.

Michelle Madoff:

But it doesn't stand on its own. You have to add to the list. You can't pick any of the white males unless you have females and minorities.

Mr. Givens:

I'll make an amendment and the amendment would be that the present list of 1981 of police officer candidates, that includes all, we don't have to assume that one list will remain up and the other will be taken down.

The Chair:

Is there a second to the amendment?

Michelle Madoff:

Which amendment are we talking about now? There are two amendments on the floor.

Mr. Givens:

No, there's one resolution and there's one amendment that, "Be it resolved that the present list of all 1981 police officer candidates not be taken down until such time that it expires or until any legal objections to the police exam are resolved by the courts."

Michelle Madoff:

That could be three years.

The Chair:

There being no second, the amendment fails.

Now we're going to have a role call vote on the resolution itself.

Mr. Flaherty:

I vote no because it's speculative and more importantly the language in regard to the legal objections is completely out of line because there has not been any objections filed yet. How can you address something that hasn't occurred yet?

Mr. Givens:

I vote aye and I think what Mr. Flaherty is trying to say is that this list, by law, can remain up until 1984, October 16, 1984. The Administration has the prerogative of pulling that total list or a proportion of it down. My amendment was to all of 1981 Civil Service list. That's why I made that motion and the fact is that it is knowing that right now I am aware because I have received phone calls and there is legal objections to this particular class, that many people did not start this until they felt this Council was taking some initiative on their own to fight for their particular cause. When you know that you have been stigmatized, you are kind of reluctant to act.

Michelle Madoff:

Because of the court ruling, and unless the Mayor were willing to authorize the Personnel Directors to go out and meet the court order of having additional lists of minorities and females which are now depleted, if I were to vote for this bill then I would only be freezing white males in place and that would be in violation of the court order. So, I would like again to hold on all these bills until after the hearing.

Mr. Robinson:

I'm going to vote no for four very specific reasons. One, Judge Weber's decision still is in effect.

Secondly, time is of the essence in terms of the present list and I don't think we should do anything to disturb that process.

Thirdly, I think the Personnel Department has said on several occasions that they are having some difficulties recruiting minority males. I think they probably need to improve and reevaluate their procedures. They may even need some additional professional help in that regard because there certainly are some special problems there.

Fourth, this Council approved a resolution not to disturb Judge Weber's decision, that until we had a finding of facts by the City's Human Relations Commission that indeed there was some need for us to disturb that decision.

Also let me remind my colleagues that in both the cities of Boston and New Orleans the cities have been involved in some efforts to deal with the issue of quotas, preferential treatment, what have you. It is a very sticky kind of issue but the resolution that we passed, I think, was a recognition that here in the City of Pittsburgh we would not initiate any efforts to reverse Judge Weber's decision to attempt to help us improve the number of minorities and women on our police department and fire department.

Again, I would strongly urge that former Mayor Flaherty be here for any hearings or any post agendas that we have on this issue. I have to vote no.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the bills?

And on the question, "Shall the bills pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Givens

AYES 1 NOES 6

VOTING NO:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. O'Malley
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Robinson
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. DePasquale
	(Pres't)

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the resolution was defeated.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President and members of Council, if I might. I'd like to just make a couple quick comments on Council Bill 3781 which was introduced into Council on October 3, 1983. This is the bill that deals with limiting the consecutive terms of members of Council. Hopefully what I'm going to say will give members of Council some reassurance in terms of my motivation and my purpose in introducing that bill.

Bill 3781 is intended to address three issues:

One, the consecutive terms of office for the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh and members of Pittsburgh City Council.

Two, the systematic infusion of new talent, ideas and opportunities for service in elective office for residents of our City.

Three, the changing political governmental processes that have traditionally assured the equitable distribution of elective offices at the local level, among varying groups of people and geographic locales.

The social demographic and economic fabric of our community is changing. Such prestigious community minded organizations as the Allegheny Conference on Community Development have already begun the process of drafting plans to address this City and Allegheny County's future.

While I am sure those plans will speak specifically to our most important and immediate economic and social needs, I am also cognizant of the fact that Pittsburgh and Allegheny County have political governmental needs.

I am also very mindful that nearly one quarter of this City's population is non-white and nearly ten percent of this County's population is non-white. Yet the political governmental reality is that from a practical and structural standpoint there simply is not adequate or representative participation by non-whites.

One can argue the merits of any specific proposed structural change. But the inevitable conclusion that structural changes in government do reflect in the political arena and vice versa, begs to be recognized.

The time is now to again consider change and I ask your thoughtful consideration of Council Bill 3781 and its potential to generate broader participation in the decision making process by minorities and the improvement of representative government in Pittsburgh and Allegheny County.

The Chair:

Mr. Robinson, you're obviously aware that needs a change in the Home Rule Charter.

Mr. Robinson:

I'll comment on that Wednesday, Mr. President.

The Chair:

Okay.

Mrs. Masloff moved to excuse Mr. Stone and Mr. Woods for absence from the meeting.

Mr. Givens seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mrs. Masloff moved to approve the minutes of Monday, September 26, 1983.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Robinson

Council adjourned.

PRESENT:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. Robinson
Mr. Givens	Mr. Stone
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. DePasquale
Mr. O'Malley	(Pres't)

The Meeting was opened by the recitation of the pledge of allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

PRESENTATIONS

The Chair:

Our first order of business is a resolution by Councilwoman Madoff.

Michelle Madoff:

Would Ruth Friedman, Marjorie Greenberg and Shirley Levine please step forward?

We have a very important resolution today.

Michelle Madoff presents

Bill No. 3869 WHEREAS, the devastation of nuclear war renders it meaningless for any nation to contemplate "winning" such a confrontation, or to consider seriously the concept that humanity can survive a nuclear catastrophe; and

WHEREAS, the National Council of Jewish Women advocates a United States Foreign Policy which seeks worldwide elimination of all testing, deployment, sale and use of nuclear weapons, and which supports efforts to achieve an international, verifiable freeze on nuclear armaments; and

WHEREAS, the National Council of Jewish Women, Pittsburgh Section, will present a program on "Nuclear Responsibility" on October 18, 1983, at Anathan House in Pittsburgh.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Council of the City of Pittsburgh do hereby recognize that nuclear arms limitation is the moral imperative of our time, and declare the week of October 17, 1983, through October 22, 1983,

"Nuclear Awareness Week" in Pittsburgh.

Michelle Madoff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm sure this won't be the first or the last. As you may recall, this Council, and the bill I introduced, was the first Council in the United States to ask for nuclear disarmament when Mr. Reagan was meeting in Russia. I think it might be interesting to hear from the ladies for the Council of Jewish Women.

Shirley Levine:

I am representing Elizabeth Feingold, the President of the Pittsburgh section who is not able to be here today.

We are very grateful and appreciative of this Council's resolution on this very important subject which we have been actively pursuing for a number of years. We hope and trust that this will bring the need for such action to the community and to communities around the country. People are just waking up and it's high time.

Thank you very much.

Michelle Madoff:

The request was made that we send a copy of our resolution to the President of the United States and the leaders of the Congress and the Senate.

The Chair:

Thank you and congratulations.

Mr. Givens and Mr. O'Malley present

Bill No. 3867 WHEREAS, the members of the Division 11 of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will honor Sara Madigan at a dinner on October 15, 1983; and

WHEREAS, the dinner is in appreciation for more than three decades of involvement in all aspects of the Irish-American community in the City of Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, among Sara's numerous services and activities, she has, for many years, been an officer of the Ladies Auxiliary, is the current State President, an active participant in community and political activities, a lifelong active member of Saint Agnes Church in Oakland, and a pioneer in the rebirth of the annual Saint Patrick's Day Parade; and

WHEREAS, she has six children, Peggy, Mary, Martina, Patrick, Michael and Marty, and six grandchildren; and

WHEREAS, Sara Madigan's concern for spiritual and social well being has enriched the lives of many.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the members of the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, on behalf of the citizens of Pittsburgh, hereby join with the Ladies Auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in extending commendation and gratitude to Sara Madigan for her dedication, devotion and service to mankind and for enriching the dignity and pride of the City's Irish community and the entire City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. O'Malley moved to adopt the resolution.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

The Chair:

Sara, would you come up here, please?

Mr. O'Malley:

I'd just like to say a few words. It is an honor to jointly sponsor a resolution with Councilman Givens, especially in the honor of Sara Madigan. I've known Sara and her family for many years and as far as I'm concerned she's one of the great ladies of the City of Pittsburgh and largely responsible for me getting involved in politics and being elected to City Council. As I said, for the thirty years that Sara has been involved in politics, she's done so much for so many people and she's asked so little in return. It's truly an honor for me to stand up and present her with this resolution from City Council.

Sara Madigan:

I am most grateful. Truly, this is a real honor to be among my friends.

Michelle Madoff:

Besides, I'm doubly please that you're female.

Sara Madigan:

Thank you.

The Chair:

Is that all you're going to say, Sara?

Sara Madigan:

Oh, I could say a lot.

The Chair:

Jim neglected to say that for years, and even today, Sara is known as Mrs. Democrat in the Fourth Ward and throughout the City of Pittsburgh. It's been a pleasure to have known her all these years. I won't say how long Sara and I have known each other but it goes back a few years.

Congratulations again, Sara, and the Madigan family. It's nice to have you here.

Mr. Givens:

Councilmembers, I'm sorry for my lateness here today but I would like some remarks on Resolution No. 902 where we had honored Sara Madigan and her family.

If one could have been out at Saint Agnes's Church, the Mass, during the Mass and after the Mass in their reception hall, it was a beautiful outpouring of the predominantly Irish community but many other people who were involved with Sara and her total career with the various parties that she represents, the Democratic party and the Irish community and that of her almost three decades of public service.

Thank you, Mr. President.

Mr. O'Malley presents

Bill No. 3870 WHEREAS, the Pennsylvania Lupus Foundation, Incorporated, has a long distinguished record of public service since being chartered in October of 1973; and

WHEREAS, the purpose of the Foundation is to promote and encourage research, enlighten the general public, to render voluntary aid and assistance for research relative to lupus erythematosus;

and

WHEREAS, more than five thousand persons have been serviced by the Foundation; and

WHEREAS, thousands of women across this great nation are the major victims of this devastating, chronic disease that attacks the connective tissues and the body's immunity system.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the members of the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, on behalf of the citizens of Pittsburgh, recognize the week of October 17, 1983 through October 22, 1983 as Lupus Awareness Week throughout the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. O'Malley moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Givens, Michelle Madoff and Mr. DePasquale present

Bill No. 3868 WHEREAS, the Pennsylvania House of Representatives has before it House Bill 598, which is a proposal to increase the tax on out of state Fire Insurance Companies; and

WHEREAS, this increase would generate an additional $11 million for the State's Fire Relief and Pension Fund; and

WHEREAS, this Council believes that this increase is necessary to off-set the ever increasing cost of living.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby supports the measures set forth in House Bill 598, and strongly encourages the Pennsylvania House of Representatives to support and work for its passage.

Michelle Madoff moved to adopt the resolution

Mr. Stone seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Givens presented

No. 3840 Petition from Veterans of United States Military requesting a public hearing before City Council to express their views on the psychological portion of the Pittsburgh Police exam, and to discuss the Civil Service Commissions rules and regulations regarding the testing of Police candidates.

Which was read and referred to the Committee on Finance.

Michelle Madoff:

There's a notice, Mike Perry's done a superb job, even I caught it and I didn't need my glasses, but there's a public notice, City of Pittsburgh, and there is a lead story in the Sunday paper that says that Councilmembers Richard E. Givens and Michelle Madoff have questions of validity in the psychological test.

I think we're all questioning the test but I think the record has to be set straight. I made a point and you supported me, sir, of saying that we are not saying the test is valid or invalid until we get the facts. The purpose of the hearing is to get the facts. I don't want to be painted with the same brush. As Mr. Givens is saying this is discriminatory, I don't know that until we have the 90 odd people either represented by their letters or the numbers of people who are going to come here. My issue goes beyond the psychological test and those who have not passed the test. It goes to what is going on in the hiring, the Personnel Department and in the Administration of this City. We're going to show that people passed the test and were not hired. They passed and were not hired, Mr. President. We're going to find out what is going on. We don't know what is going on and I don't think any sensible member of this Council, present company included, sensible members of this Council would ever say that this was a test that was not effective until we had some expertise here. There will be a psychologist, head of environmental health and some psychiatrists here on the 27th to testify as to why they believe the test is invalid. They are qualified to do it; I am not. And I think that a number of my colleagues have expressed that opinion. We are not having an attack on Psychological Testing; we want to hear from the people who feel they have been discriminated against in more than one way, not just in the fact that they failed the test but in that they passed it and weren't hired.

Your position and mine, Mr. President, is that we just want to get the facts and then make some follow up actions based on that and I resent having the paper imply that I am opposed to the test. Then you get Coll coming out and saying, "We need the test because that keeps us from the liability factor." Of course we want a test that's sensible and logical. Not one member of this Council would oppose that. We just want to get the facts. And already we've heard from 95 people. I really want to be emphatic on that.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, I have one question. Michelle, did you say that along with the people who want to testify there is a group of doctors coming in here saying that this test is not a good test?

Michelle Madoff:

That's what I said. I don't know whether it's good or bad.

Mr. Woods:

Okay but what I'm asking is, have they been invited?

Michelle Madoff:

Yes, I invited them. It's my hearing.

Mr. Woods:

Then can we in turn invite people who give the test to say it is a good test? If this is going to be a public hearing, we on Council should hear from both sides.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Woods, you were away. Let me bring you up to date. We've invited everybody. We've invited Psychological Testing, Melanie Smith, Michelle Cunko who has played a very important role, and somebody who wants to sit at the table with us will be Pat McNamara, he has some very strong feelings. I got a call yesterday on my answering service because I have a 24 hour answering service, from a physician who said, "I read the story; we are directly involved with that particular and my colleagues have been doing a study on that particular test that has been given for the police and they use it for Three Mile Island, people who would be equipped to go in Three Mile Island.

Mr. Woods:

That's fine. All I'm asking is that people from both sides of the issue will be involved.

The Chair:

We're inviting independent psychologists and those who gave the tests.

Michelle Madoff:

I didn't invite them, they called me. I did not know who they were.

Mr. Perry:

Do you want me to expand it for everyone?

Michelle Madoff:

Mike, we already have people coming.

Mr. Perry:

The notice doesn't read that way, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

The notice says there's going to be a hearing. Somebody called and said they wanted to come and testify at the hearing based on the test. They have the right to do that. I don't know this gentleman.

Mr. Woods:

I have not seen the ad. Does it say just for veterans who did not pass or anyone who did not pass the test?

The Chair:

This is for all that failed the test. Some are saying they passed the test and didn't go on.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Givens wanted one for veterans but they already called the office and most of them are scheduled already and we've invited Mr. Givens to bring the rest of the veterans in and get them scheduled. With the physicians we're going to have to work on the time frame at their convenience.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, in regard to the hearing scheduled for the 27th, I have received a few calls from interested individuals who have questions and one person especially has some, it seems to me, legitimate criticisms as far as —

The Chair:

Excuse me, Mr. Flaherty. Not to cut you off, Tom, but anybody who calls and wants to come in and anybody you want to come in, why don't you inform the Chief Clerk.

Mr. Flaherty:

The only thing that I want to add is that I was wondering if we could extend the scope of the public hearing where interested parties could address questions as far as requirements in general, as far as the recruitment that is going on of police officers because there have been somewhat dramatic changes. For example, at one time there was a requirement that you needed at least a high school degree or the GED equivalency. That has been dropped. At one time there was recruitment on our colleges campuses. It's my understanding that is no longer happening. I think there have been a lot of changes that Council has not necessarily been made aware of. So, if there isn't any opposition from members of Council, I was wondering if we could run another ad that would just add a few more words just to make this hearing broader in scope.

Michelle Madoff:

I think you'll agree with me as to why we cannot do that. There are 95 people already. If you give them five minutes and you're going to want to ask questions, we want to hear just from the public at the first hearing. The second hearing was the one, I think, suggested by Councilman O'Malley that once we know some of the facts we then start addressing what's wrong with the test, if indeed we feel there's something wrong. That would be the second hearing. There will have to be a second hearing.

Mr. Flaherty:

I think questions concerning requirements and recruitment and background investigations are all part of the —

Michelle Madoff:

But we don't want to spend the whole day and not hear the people who are getting here. And the reporters have said, "I bet you ten to one we won't hear from anybody until 2:00." We're going to hear from the doctors who read the ad and want to come in and comment on the test. We're going to hear from the people. Then we as a body are going to schedule another hearing to get to the bottom of what's going on. That's the second hearing.

Mr. Flaherty:

But how about the people who have questions as far as requirements and recruitment?

Michelle Madoff:

They can ask that and they can come back to the second hearing.

Mr. Flaherty:

What I'm saying is why can't we just expand the scope of the ad because I've had calls from people and the way —

The Chair:

Michelle and Tom, if I may. There's really no problem with what he's saying. The only problem we might have, and you hit the nail on the head a while ago, is if we make it a Council forum instead of a public forum. Please, let's hear from those people coming in because it's going to take some time. But I don't see that there's any problem or objection to widening the scope and having these other parties. It's going to take a couple of days anyway.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. DePasquale, we've talked about it and we're probably going to run into Friday. I would like to do what you're talking about which is getting to the gut of the test, where we're recruiting, why the test this year is giving different results than it is elsewhere, have the input of the Psychological people as to their listening and making some evaluations of what they hear. Let's be on a fact finding body and do it responsibly.

Mr. Flaherty:

Why can't we do it all at once rather than having another —

Michelle Madoff:

You can't because people will not sit here for 48 hours.

The Chair:

I made it plain. Anybody who has any persons they want involved, notify the Clerk, he'll notify them. Okay?

Mr. Flaherty:

Are we going to have another ad, Mike?

The Chair:

We'll run it.

Mr. Flaherty:

I heard from an individual that had passed the psychological exam but he wants to come in to testify but the way the ad read is that it's only those who failed the psychological exam.

The Chair:

Tom, get together with Mike and straighten it out.

Mr. Flaherty:

Okay.

Mr. Givens:

I'm speaking for a particular group of people who I think are the majority of the people who have problems in this particular area. I don't think it's their particular strategy to come in here and have some 120 some veterans give their particular story. What they will be doing, from what they have told me, is they will be highlighting certain individuals and coming in with certain recommendations to be made.

The Chair:

Why don't they decide that among themselves who they want to speak and who not to speak. It's as simple as that. Obviously if we hear from 100 we're going to hear 50 or 75 duplicate stories.

Mr. Givens:

Well, you'll be hearing from everyone who was passed over in a class and I think that's repetitious and I think in our previous Council meetings we have asked that this not be repetitious. I think that you'll find that the veterans will be coming in with very concise, point by point descriptions with some people actually giving their verbatim testimony and those who so desire. We're not saying that no one cannot if they so desire to do so. But they have some major points to bring out and naturally Council —

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, do they have a spokesman, someone you can deal with to tell them to do exactly what you're saying now, to limit their speakers and to bring everything out in the open at the same time and not to repeat themselves?

Mr. Givens:

Most certainly. They will have a spokesperson —

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. DePasquale, may I wind this up? I asked you for a hearing; you granted me a hearing graciously. The reason I'm having a hearing is the people who answered my personal ad in the paper because of the confidentiality and the only time you can talk about it is if they give you permission to do it. These people do not know each other. These people are either going to send a letter

The Chair:

I understand that, Michelle, but if there's any other party who feels that they have an interest here and want to come in and speak, we can't deny them that right.

Michelle Madoff:

Exactly and I'm just saying let's not mix apples and oranges on the same day. Let's hear the people and then decide what kind of follow up hearings we need. And I'm chairing that hearing.

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution amending Resolution No. 1439 of 1981, as amended by Resolution No. 402, effective May 7, 1982, and by Resolution No. 1144, effective November 22, 1982, entitled: 'Approving the submission and budget for the 1982 Community Development Block Grant Budget'."

Which was read.

Mr. Robinson:

On Council Bill 3786, this letter was forwarded by Reginald Young, our Assistant Director for Community Development and directly relates to the concerns that we raised last Wednesday. It reads:

"Dear President and Members of Council:

Councilman Robinson, at the 12 October 1983 Committee on Finance meeting, requested that I forward to City Council information relative to Council Bill 3786 which proposed transferring $53,300 from line item PW 82-31 Arlington Avenue to line item PW 82-09 Windom Street Slide. As per your request, I am forwarding the following comments. The Arlington Avenue Public Works' project from Carson to Amanda Street is listed in the Six Year Program as a major reconstruction from East Carson Street to Amanda Street. The project is in design and will not be constructed until 1986 upon completion of the LRT project being carried out by Port Authority of Allegheny County. Because construction funds will not be needed for Arlington Avenue prior to completion of the LRT and final design of Arlington Avenue, Block Grant funds for construction of that project are not presently needed.

Since the Windom Street slide project is an immediate priority project, Public Works has recommended transferring the Arlington Avenue funds to the Windom Street slide project. Since federal highway and urban mass transit funds will be used for the Arlington reconstruction project in 1986, it is recommended that no Block Grant funds be set aside for this project until such time as construction is proposed. For this reason, we are requesting Pittsburgh City Council approve Council Bill 3786 as submitted.

Should you have any questions, please contact me.

Yours very truly,

Reginald B. Young
Assistant Director for Community Development

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bills passed finally.

Mrs. Masloff presented

Bill No. 3865

Report of the Committee on Parks and Recreation for October 12, 1983 transmitting one resolution to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 3777

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for the letting of a Contract or Contracts or the use of existing Contracts for the 1983-84 Tree Planting Program at Various Locations within the City of Pittsburgh; and providing for the payment of the cost thereof."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

I was at a hearing of a new group being formed in the Mount Washington area and you know what happened in the Seldom Seen Park with the bulldozing. They would like some money put aside, and they're going to come to the hearing, Mike, to ask for money to reseed. That was one of the most beautiful sights in the world and its really been brutalized and they would like some of those trees.

I wonder if whoever is sponsoring that bill could see if some of the trees could be specifically set aside for Seldom Seen and if necessary billed back to Ram.

Sophie, could you handle that?

Mrs. Masloff:

I don't know, I'll check it out.

Michelle Madoff:

Would you check because if not, they're going to take legal action against the City as a community and I don't think it's necessary if we can just allocate some of the money of seeding trees.

Thank you, Sophie.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. Robinson
Mr. Givens	Mr. Stone
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. DePasquale
Mr. O'Malley	(Pres't)

AYES 9

NOES none

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bill passed finally.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, I would like my vote to be aye on all bills in Finance, Public Works and Planning, Housing and Development.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, point of business. I checked about four years ago to find out what happens when you leave the room and you don't vote. The Parliamentarian at that point said, "When you leave the room for a call from nature or an important call on the telephone, you are to say to the President of Council, 'I reserve the right to vote later'. Then you may vote when you come back. If you do not do that, you do not reserve the right to vote."

I think people should know that. Many of us may not know that.

The Chair:

Time and again Council people have voted when the meeting was over and informed me that they wanted to vote otherwise, I told the Chief Clerk and he recorded them accordingly. As long as the meeting isn't concluded, I believe a party has the right to vote.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like a ruling on that, please.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, it might be wise to clear that issue up. Technically, after you vote on it, you can't vote afterwards. However it is, I think it ought to be cleared up one way or the other.

The Chair:

I'm only saying, Bob, if the party is not here, obviously somebody can't vote for him or her.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, if I may. In a group such as ours, the President always sets the tone. If you have been doing that in the past, that overrules Robert's Rules of Order until this Council changes those rules. The way we've been doing it since I've been here is just what Mr. Givens has done. The Parliamentarian might rule otherwise but it's not valid because we've been doing that for over two years.

Michelle Madoff:

Would you mind hearing from the Parliamentarian? Couldn't we change the procedure?

Mr. Woods:

It doesn't matter what the Parliamentarian says in a case like this. It's past practice. We've been doing it and the only way you can change that is when we reorganize in January and set down new rules. But from this point on we will do it until we reorganize and then we come up with new rules.

The Chair:

You make a very good point with the exception that when there was an important, and I'm not saying the votes we had here a little while ago weren't important, but we have held them until most of the members of Council were here if they were in the vicinity. Obviously if they weren't here, they weren't here. Sometimes we have held them until the following meeting.

But as you stated earlier, it's been the procedure, at least since I've been Council President, if somebody wanted to vote, as long as they were here before the conclusion of the meeting they could vote. If they wanted to change their vote, as long as they did it —

Mr. Woods:

You're absolutely right, Mr. President, and that same Robert's Rules of Order, it states in there unless it's past practice. And that's what it's been.

Michelle Madoff:

If you're going to go by past practice in this Council probably no Robert's Rules apply. What do you mean by past practice? You want to have an orderly kind of Council and you want to improve it. I presume that's what you'd like to do. I would like to hear what the Robert's Rules says on this. I don't know why you object to hearing it.

Could you give me a ruling on that?

Parliamentarian:

Regarding absentee voting, Robert's Rules states: "It is a fundamental principle of parliamentary law that the right to vote is limited to the members of an organization who are actually present at the time the vote is taken in a legal meeting. Exceptions to this rule must be expressly stated in the bylaws. Such possible exceptions include: (a) voting by mail, and (b) proxy voting."

Michelle Madoff:

I asked the last Parliamentarian the question. He said you must say, "I reserve the right to vote".

Mr. Woods:

I have a question for the Parliamentarian. Does it say anything in that book you're carrying about past practice?

Parliamentarian:

I would need time to research it.

Mr. Woods:

I'm not trying to be rude but I suggest you research the subject and you will find out that it does say past practice.

Michelle Madoff:

I think some of our past practices need to be corrected.

The Chair:

In the meantime, Michelle, none of Mr. Givens' vote had any bearing on the outcome of the ordinances. They were all passed unanimously so we should really let it stand.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, do you recall that we had a very, very important vote when Mr. Bulls was here? It was on a very serious issue. A member of our Council left the room, sauntered out two or three times when we had these very important votes and when he came back was asked how he'd like to vote. We never had on record how they voted on this issue which was a minority issue.

I think we ought to clarify some of this, Mr. Woods, and if somebody wants to saunter out and not vote on important issues we know where they stand. If they want to abstain, fine. But at least they can't say we don't have to vote at all.

Mr. O'Malley presented

Bill No. 3866

Report of the Committee on Public Safety for October 12, 1983 transmitting one resolution to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 3780

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for an Agreement or Agreements with the Center for Victims of Violent Crime to provide for two additional employees."

Which was read.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, you may recall that you suggested to me, and I completely concur with you, that the upcoming hearing on the psychological testing is so important that it ought to be televised and I would so move on it if somebody will second it.

The Chair:

I don't know if we need it. We agreed here in Council that any important meeting that any Councilmember felt was important enough and wanted it televised, we would request to have it televised.

Michelle Madoff:

Okay. I just wanted to be sure the cameras will be here.

Mr. Woods:

No, no. You're saying we're going to be on cable TV that day? Mr. Chairman, again, past practice we vote on that subject. Every special we vote on it and I call for a vote.

The Chair:

We more or less agreed that all important meetings would be cabled unless there was some objection.

Mrs. Masloff:

Who's to judge what's important and what isn't?

Michelle Madoff:

You don't think this is important, Sophie?

Mrs. Masloff:

Yes, I do but I don't think it should be televised.

Michelle Madoff:

Oh, it's important but the people shouldn't know about it.

Mrs. Masloff:

The people might be embarrassed.

Michelle Madoff:

They wouldn't be embarrassed if they deliberately answered my ad and asked to be heard. They want the people to know what's going on.

The Chair:

Would the Clerk call the roll, please, to vote on whether the meeting of October 27 relating to the psychological test will be televised.

Mr. Givens:

I vote aye and I've spoken and I'm sure others have spoken to Brother Richard Emenecker on this particular thing. They don't have the resource otherwise we'd have to work people overtime and Warner Cable, where we plug our Channel 17 in, is programmed so there is some complications but I think with prewarning of a week or two that Brother Richard ought to be able to reschedule some of that programming. I vote aye.

Mr. Robinson:

I'm going to vote aye and I'd just like the record to reflect that I believe all sessions of City Council should be televised. All sessions.

Mr. Woods:

I vote no because I don't believe any session of City Council should be televised.

Michelle Madoff:

I hope the people are watching that.

The Chair:

I vote aye because of the importance of the hearing.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty
Mr. Givens
Michelle Madoff

Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Robinson
Mr. DePasquale
(Pres't)

AYES 6

NOES 3

(MRS. MASLOFF, MR. STONE AND MR. WOODS VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the motion was approved.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, my second motion is that I had called for a post agenda with Warner Cable, that's Mr. Walt Bent, and with Brother Richard to clarify the issue of do we or do we not have the facilities and the dollars to indeed to have a democracy in action, which is what America is all about, and to have the public to have access to know what is going on at all our meetings, even though Mr. Woods believes that the public isn't bright enough and they should not hear what's going on and I think that is a disgrace.

The Chair:

Mr. Woods didn't say that.

Michelle Madoff:

He said we shouldn't be televising. Why? Because they're not bright enough to understand what's happening?

Mr. Woods:

No, Michelle, because they listen to your big mouth consuming the meetings instead of the people who want to speak.

Michelle Madoff:

No, dear, they may find out that (a) you're not here and (b) that you don't really want them to know what's happening in session and you're not going to pass that one off. Don't show up; do us a favor.

Mr. Woods:

On the 27th it will all be Councilpeople speaking instead of the people who come here to be heard. I guarantee you that. And she will lead the charge.

Michelle Madoff:

Right. And that's why I said we should have separate hearing on dealing with the actual implementation of the bill and I've asked Mr. O'Malley to chair that meeting and that this meeting will be just to hear from people. They will start early and I'll accept your apology on that day, Mr. Woods. I think we should have all, as Mr. Robinson said, post agendas and all hearings open to the public because what you're getting folks out there in television land is boredom. What you're getting is Resolution No. so and so and you don't know what the resolution is all about anyway. We vote on it but when we get to the gut of issues which are post agendas and hearings you are cut out because you might find out what really goes on at this Council. I'm going to see that one way or another we get access.

The Chair:

What happens if we have a post agenda and seven or eight members walk out?

Michelle Madoff:

That's okay with me.

Mr. Givens:

In the fact that I'm the Chairman of the Department of Public Works wherein the Cable Bureau of Communications comes under, I've discussed this with Brother Richard Emenecker. Like everything else in our budget, we must budget for it and we must budget for the personnel, the resource, the time, the channelization, both at the local channel here and that of Warner Cable and the time that they have. Much of this is programmed through computers and as a result, if you don't program that properly it's not going to be on. There is the concern that Brother Richard has indicated to me, as our public hearings increase each year that the fact that the crews that he has on board and if they're here during the present filming and also at our studio downstairs which will be relocated to the ninth floor. But they have to come in also to program that, in some cases, in the evening hours. So, we have an overtime situation, we have an understaffing situation and we have not funded that for the year 1983. The year 1984, in our budget deliberations, all of this will come up and again we'll try to get as much programming as we can. Keep in mind that this is a total governmental service and it's not only exclusively used for this Council but for many other government programs that will be coming forth from the City of Pittsburgh via all the departments of the City of Pittsburgh and any other thing that might come on.

So, as time goes on, we're going to be limited to some degree and everything that we would like to show, there's going to have to be certain curtailments to some degree or we're going to run out of our budgetary constraints. Remember that money that we are using right now, to my knowledge, and the contractual relationship will have to be paid back.

The Chair:

Thank you, Mr. Givens.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I had requested a post agenda to discuss exactly the issue Mr. Givens just raised of do we have the people power and do we have the funds. I know that we do have it, and I don't want to go into the issue at this point, I want to have it discussed at the post agenda. I cancelled the agenda as a courtesy to Warner who wanted to meet with me first of all to find out what it was all about. My information is that that is not an issue. It's a non-issue. We have the money and we can have the personnel. I don't want to talk about it now. Out of courtesy I've postponed the post agenda; it will now take place. They will speak for themselves and Brother Richard Will speak for himself and we'll have the chance to ask him questions. It will boil down to does Mr. Woods and do we wish to have these hearings on cable or do we wish not to have them, whether the public is informed or not informed, whether I have a big mouth or whether I don't have a big mouth.

The Chair:

Okay.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President and members of Council, I am sure all of you are aware that an assembly of persons has been demonstrating outside the City-County Building the past two Tuesdays at 12 noon and will be demonstrating again tomorrow at 12 noon.

While their leaders have articulated their immediate concerns for equitable and representative government in the City of Pittsburgh and Allegheny County, and for a responsive Democratic and Republic party in Allegheny County, their situation is endemic of a larger, more complex set of circumstances.

It would be convenient to ascribe all the problems confronting African-Americans in Pittsburgh and Allegheny County to the persistence of racism. But while racism continues to exert a baneful influence upon the politics and economics of this county, the plight of Allegheny County's Afro-Americans is more and more the consequence of a number of important non-racist structural features in our economy and political system.

One, the decline in labor-intensive industries and the displacement of unskilled and semi-skilled black workers as a consequence of automation and robotization.

Two, the decline in the size of the public sector, which in recent years has employed some 60 percent of all black college graduates and has been a major factor in the emergency of a black middle class. Add to this situation the historical inability of blacks to acquire influence and representation in the major political party structures, and the increasing competition for limited political rewards by diverse groups in our City and in our County.

Three, the shift of the economy from heavy industry and manufacturing toward high-technology industries for which most blacks and unskilled whites are ill-prepared.

Four, the shift from liberal-labor orientation in the political/economic system to a conservative-business orientation; the necessity for different leadership and directions are implicit. The economics of a community will usually determine its politics and its political leadership.

An important opportunity exists to develop a broad coalition based on a non-racial strategy for dealing with the decline of basic industries and our political structure — namely the major political parties. Although many blacks are joining the ranks of the unemployed because of the decline in our basic industries, and the inability of the political system to replace those jobs, far larger numbers of white have lost their jobs and been disenfranchised by the political system.

Unlike twenty years ago when discrimination was the most significant obstacle to black political and economic progress, today the reality is a better political and economic climate for those fortunate enough to enjoy the benefits of the progress made over the last twenty years.

Yet when in 1963 "marches" were conducted like the ones in front of this building, under the banner of integration, blacks did not envision that participation in the political and economic structure was going to be within industries and political systems that were in substantial decline.

Today's black political agenda must be part and parcel of an agenda for all Americans. It must be an agenda that includes:

- One, the revamping of the major political party structures
- Two, a commitment to a national, or regional industrial policy and
- Three, the development of non-racial strategies to accommodate the inclusion of women, Hispanics and Afro-Americans in the fabric of the American social, political and economic life.

Our County has been in the forefront of past economic and political opportunities. Let's listen to the demonstrators this Tuesday and use this unique opportunity to be a part of positive change in Allegheny County.

The Chair:

Mr. Robinson, no doubt all of Council is in accord with you but I question the picketing. I don't recall seeing one picket out there last week or one person demonstrating.

Mr. Robinson:

Last Tuesday they were there.

The Chair:

Are they doing it just one day a week?

Mr. Robinson:

Just on Tuesdays. Every Tuesday up to the election.

The Chair:

Okay.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I have another item. Did anyone see this package on the street last week? Thousands of them, right. Kool Cigarettes, which were not very cool, were giving this packet out at the corner of Fourth and Wood. I happen to be down there and what they were doing was giving them out to people who were lining up to get freebie cigarettes and the people would just throw them. The litter was unbelievable. I tried to get a photograph.

I came back and went up to see

Judge Dovie and asked Judge Dovie what I could do to stop, to take an injunction against the group. He advised that I get in touch with the Law Department, which I did, I spoke to Marv Fein, Danny Pellegrini had gone home ill, and I spoke to Superintendent Coll. I found out that through Public Works they indeed did not have a permit. The company involved is Donnelly Marketing.

On Sunday when I went to the Steeler game, Donnelly Marketing was out there again with big vans, big trucks. The truck would be about the size of where our cameras are located up to about the beginning of the desk, from bottom to top with cartons of cigarettes and the empty carton boxes were being thrown on the streets.

I went to a telephone and called 911 and asked that somebody get them out of there. They have to have a permit and I would like to request that before any permit be granted to giving out — I don't care if you give cigarettes out, if you want to kill yourself and use cancer sticks, that's your business, as long as you don't smoke in my elevator, my house or my presence or my office. But if you're going to give out a cancer stick or a packet of them, in the street, do it without the container to be dropped in litter.

I went over to the person in charge and said, "Who is in charge here?" and the gentleman said, "Can't you be nice?". I said, "Where do you live?" She said, "I live in Allegheny County." I said, "You don't pay for cleaning up the litter in our City." She said, "Well, if they emptied the wastepaper containers, people would be able to put them in. It's the people who are littering." Well, I walked up the street and every container was empty except where they were because they had just cleaned it up by the City. There were thousands.

I want that company assessed and sued. I want them to pay the damages for cleaning up. Mr. Perry, would you see that our Law Department sends them a letter to pay for cleaning up their own litter. I want a fine against them. I want to see what the law says about their operating without a permit. I want everybody on notice that you don't put anything out in the streets without a permit. And more importantly, ladies and gentlemen, they weren't discriminating between minors and people over 18. Children were getting them. I saw it with my own eyes.

Mrs. Masloff:

Mr. President, on that very subject. I've discussed this very thing with Mr. Pellegrini. I suggested to him after the last election, primary election, on the week before the election, on Monday night when the stores were open, literature was passed out about political candidates. On Tuesday morning, I was in town at 8:00. We were up to our ankles in political literature and political things that had been passed out pertaining to political candidates. I suggested to Mr. Pellegrini at that time that anybody who wanted to pass out any literature would be responsible, no matter what it was, for picking up after themselves.

So, it not only applies to commercial companies; it applies to other people as well. I suggested to him that he prepare legislation for me, I discussed this with him as recent as two weeks ago, that legislation be passed so that anything that's dropped on the street, people leave a deposit so that if they pass anything out, they will be responsible for paying to have it picked up. If you check with Mr. Pellegrini you'll find that I've discussed this very thing with him.

Michelle Madoff:

As you recall, Mr. President, I introduced that motion in Council that everybody running for office post a bond so that it would pay for the cleanup of not only litter, and that's a good point, but their signs. I've asked Mike, and you have not sent me a copy of the letter, that a letter he sent to Bell Telephone and to Duquesne Light asking them to remove the signs, which are indeed illegal to begin with, and I have a note here from Connie and Gilbert Bilsky, 32nd Ward, saying that after the primary they went and got all Michelle Madoff posters and donated them to the Senior Craft Center from making paper mache. I'm delighted. I think we should all, every one of us, because we cannot physically watch what other supporters of ourselves are doing in littering, we should post a bond that would pay for the cleaning up of that litter. Four people would not vote for it; it failed on a vote of 4-5.

Mr. Stone moved to approve the minutes of Monday, October 3, 1983.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Robinson

Council adjourned.

Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. DePasquale
Mr. O'Malley	(Pres't)

The Meeting was opened by the recitation of the pledge of allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

The Chair:

Please stand for a moment of silence for world peace.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, I think during that moment of peace we must think of those Marines who've lost their lives over in Lebanon for the good cause of democracy, and hopefully they would be in our thoughts, and that men of peaceful prayer, that this Council does for that expressed purpose. Thank you, Mr. President.

Mr. Givens presents

WHEREAS, the Sons of Columbus of America, General F. DePinedo - John Mascio Council No. 29, celebrated its 50th Anniversary on October 22, 1983; and

WHEREAS, the General DePinedo Council was organized on October 22, 1933, by the late Albert Farina and Nicholas Gasbarro from the "Tre Sorella Council No. 1"; and

WHEREAS, in May of 1975, National President, Honorable Judge William F. Cercione added the name of John Mascio to the Council in honor of the founder and first President; and

WHEREAS, in receiving this honor, John Mascio was cited for his untiring efforts and excellent leadership in organizing the Council; and

WHEREAS, the Council proudly continues to carry on the heritage of the founders and forefathers.

NOW THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Members of the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, hereby recognize and congratulate the Sons of Columbus of America, General F. DePinedo - John Mascio Council No. 29, on its 50th Anniversary, and extend commendation and gratitude to founder and first President the late John Mascio, and to all past and present Officers and Members for fostering and perpetuating (I think that's very important that word perpetuating) the cultural history of Pittsburgh's ethnic population, and enriching the dignity and pride of our city.

Mr. Givens moved to adopt the resolution.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Givens:

I know some of you Members of Council know that there is a member by the name of John Mascio who works with us. I'm proud to say that John is in our audience, and I'd like him to come up and accept this particular award on behalf of his grandfather, who is his namesake. John, would you come forward please? On behalf of the Council of the City of Pittsburgh and the Sons of Columbus, I thank you and your family and especially that of your grandfather.

John Mascio:

Thank you.

Mr. Givens:

One thing, you wonder where the Sons of Columbus come from and this particular general. The General was a pilot, which I'm very proud of, and set many records while in Italy, setting records around the world; and what this means, when the national president from the Sons of Columbus came into Pittsburgh this past Saturday and gave a speech, it was one that was very sincere and was very heartwarming to all of the ethnic groups. What he said in gist was that even all of us who have come from the immigrants of this country and have worked our way up, and the many political people who were there to honor this particular person, John Mascio, that we have to work very hard and continue that effort if we're to at any time in the future hold this great esteem that this gentleman is being honored with here today. John, would you want to say a few words?

John Mascio:

I just want to say that my grandfather would be grateful and proud of this honor, and thank you.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, first of all, I would like to add my personal congratulations on this resolution, and I think it is important to know this resolution honoring a lodge and also honoring the Knights of Columbus should not be left without additional remarks in that sense.

The fraternal movement has been one of the finest movements that's ever been initiated in this continent. They have been doing much and good work for everybody throughout the United States. There are 100 societies in the United States and one million fraternalists in Pennsylvania alone. There are ten million fraternalists in the United States, and all of those societies have seen fit to provide orphanages, to provide sports and activities, all of a wholesome nature for all of its membership; and I know Justice Cercone is president of that organization, and he is in that family of the fraternal movement; and I'm honored to be one of the presidents of one of the fraternal groups and that's why I'm familiar with the movement, but I think that this only points out that too often we don't know enough about one of the finest movements that's happening.

Regretfully, our newspapers have not seen fit to cover things like fraternal movements or Boy Scouts or Girl Scouts. It's only exciting when we find something that's not positive, and I am hopeful there will be a day when the readers will want to see something that brings pride and honor to all of us, as well as the worst things that can be written about somebody.

The Chair:

Is that the largest Italian organization, the Sons of Columbus?

Mr. Stone:

Yes, I think at this point they are.

The Chair:

Does anyone have anything further to add? If not, congratulations to the Sons of Columbus and John Mascio.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President and Members of Council each year we are honored here in the City to have a organization that is in the forefront of a national effort to make Halloween a safe time for our young people, and while this City will be celebrating October 31, 1983 as our official Halloween celebration, I thought it would be appropriate today to give recognition to an organization, an individual who has been in the forefront of this effort.

As I said, it's a national effort, and we should be very proud here in Western Pennsylvania that we have been in the forefront.

Mr. Robinson presents

WHEREAS, the Kingsley Association of East Liberty, a community organization with its primary focus on youth education, training and employment is in its sixth year of the Halloween Clearing Center for Suspicious Treats; and

WHEREAS, the association has obtained the beneficent cooperation of the Community Relations Division of Pittsburgh Police, the County Police, West Penn AAA, Allegheny County Police Chiefs Association, and the Western Pennsylvania Police Chiefs Association.

NOW THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the City Council does hereby commend Elmer A. McClung, Director of Health and Recreation of Kingsley Association, and all those philanthropic organizations that have pledged cooperation in this project designed to urge parents and children to take suspicious Halloween treats to be examined at the local police station.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that we proclaim October 31, 1983, as "Halloween Safety Day" in the City so that the public will be aware of the potential danger.

Mr. Robinson moved to adopt the resolution.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Robinson:

This resolution I think is an example of the kind of gratitude that we ought to give to those individuals who worked on behalf of our youngsters. As I mentioned before, this program was the first of its type in the United States. It's being emulated in many other Cities, and I think we can feel justly proud that, in light of the unfortunate incident that has occurred during the Halloween season over the last few years, that there are some citizens in our community and some organizations that have seen fit to try to pull everybody together to protect everyone's child; and I think this is just a small tribute to the Kingsley Association for its fine efforts; and I think also it says to us that our police officers and our police establishment do many, many things that oftentimes we take for granted. We have individuals in our Emergency Medical Services throughout the county, as well police and fire officers who are going to be giving of their time and their effort to make sure that our kids can go out on October 31st and enjoy Halloween; and I think we owe them a great debt of gratitude for doing this and I'm just very proud that Pittsburgh has been in the forefront of that effort, thank you.

Mr. Woods and Mr. Stone presents

WHEREAS, Pittsburgh City Council through the adoption of this resolution hereby commends citizen Louis Potetz for his many years of public service in planning and actively supporting the final completion of Firehouse Station No. 32; and

WHEREAS, in 1976, out of concern for the safety of his neighbors in the Spring Garden community, Lou Potetz became one of the first citizens to meet with City officials and asked that a new firehouse be placed under consideration;

and

WHEREAS, the next four years were devoted to countless meetings as Lou continued his lobbying efforts to turn an idea into reality; and

WHEREAS, in 1981, with the support of the members of City Council, the firehouse finally won approval and because of the pride, faith and determination of this lifetime resident of Spring Garden, families in this area of Pittsburgh will have improved fire protection.

NOW THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the members of City Council are grateful for the opportunity to officially extend its best wishes and congratulations to Louis Potetz as Firehouse Station No. 32 begins to serve the Spring Garden district and surrounding communities.

Michelle Madoff:

We just received a letter from Mina Gerall explaining that she was ill and could not be here and would be here to answer questions today. I wonder if she might answer some questions that I have, Mike?

The Chair:

What bill?

Michelle Madoff:

On this bill I might ask some questions and she sent a letter —

The Chair:

What bill?

Michelle Madoff:

That's Bill 3859, the last bill, I'm sorry.

The Chair:

You want to ask who a question?

Michelle Madoff:

Mina Gerall who's applied for this energy grant. I'm sorry you weren't feeling well. I hope you're feeling better. The $64,000 application for an energy grant, where would it be coming from?

Mina Gerall:

Ultimately it's from the Department of Energy. It's administered through the Urban Consortium.

Michelle Madoff:

Which Department of Energy are we talking about? I thought D.O.E. was out of business.

Mina Gerall:

There are several programs going on, very few, actually. This is one of the few grant programs in existence.

Michelle Madoff:

Who is the umbrella group?

Mina Gerall:

Urban Consortium.

Michelle Madoff:

And they are federally--

Mina Gerall:

Private organization which--

Michelle Madoff:

No, we are on two subjects now. The D.O.E., Department of Energy moneys come from the federal government.

Mina Gerall:

True.

Michelle Madoff:

Under what sub-division of government would that be coming from?

Mina Gerall:

I'm not sure I understand the question.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, there used to be a Department of Energy. You applied to the Department of Energy for a Department of Energy grant, or E.P.A. took it over and you applied to E.P.A. Then they transferred it to some other agency. Nobody knows where this secret agency is.

Mina Gerall:

Okay, the literature and the letters that we get come directly from the Urban Consortium. We do not deal directly with the Department of Energy or some such sub-government or the federal government. In fact, we first do it as D.O.E. money.

Michelle Madoff:

All right, would you find out for me where the D.O.E. money generates, under what committee, under what department, first of all?

Now, you're applying for a grant of $64,000. Who would that $64,000 be for? This whole consortium or just for us?

Mina Gerall:

There is, I think, around $2 million granted through the consortium. $64,000 would be just strictly for the City of Pittsburgh.

Michelle Madoff:

The Consortium, I presume, is getting together and trying to get this money from wherever D.O.E. is being hidden in Washington at this point.

Mina Gerall:

Right.

Michelle Madoff:

You have some guarantee or some feeling that you might get this money?

Mina Gerall:

Yes, the work that we did under the 1982 grant was very well received by the Consortium and its members and the direction which that project led us for the new project seemed to be of great interest to them and they in fact, have solicited our cooperation and continuing interest with the project.

Michelle Madoff:

Marvelous, what did you do under 1982? I don't think anybody in Council knows. What did you do in 1982 that was so wonderful?

Mina Gerall:

The 1982 Project, which is currently being approved by the Consortium for printing, will be distributed to Council.

Michelle Madoff:

You would have no objections earlier coming and sharing with us what you're doing before it's in print, so that before you come back to us for something else, we have some idea of what you've done.

Mina Gerall:

No problem whatsoever.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you. I would appreciate it if you would have that done earlier. Since I'm head of the Sub-Committee on Energy, you can approach me and I would speak to our President, and I'm sure that he would let you speak at a post agenda or at a meeting at any time.

Mina Gerall:

We could do that.

Michelle Madoff:

I would appreciate it. I've been asking for it for four years.

Mina Gerall:

Okay. Specifically, what this project did was to develop an energy budget which would be used in the budget process as a way to measure and evaluate what we pay for energy and how we consume energy as a first step in looking at controlling energy. This gives us the tools and the financing mechanisms to be able to, in fact, have people responsible for what they use, account for what they use, and know what they're paying for it.

Michelle Madoff:

How much money did you have last year?

Mina Gerall:

About $60,000.

Michelle Madoff:

Where did you get the money?

Mina Gerall:

Urban Consortium.

Michelle Madoff:

Who did the study for you?

Mina Gerall:

The study was done specifically by Mary Bailey and Jack Wilson, who are research analysts. Mary Bailey did it in-house.

Mina Gerall:

Right.

Michelle Madoff:

Eminently qualified.

Mina Gerall:

Absolutely.

Michelle Madoff:

All right, and who else?

Mina Gerall:

Jack Wilson.

Michelle Madoff:

The only thing I would say that Mary Bailey fell down and dropped the ball. I wonder why she didn't come to me, because she knows I know almost as much or maybe more than she does. I've been asked to do consulting in this field. What did you do with the waste heat? Did you just draw up a proposal of what you'd like to do and now we're going to do another proposal of what we'd like to do, or did we actually save some kilowatts?

Mina Gerall:

There are several Cities in the Urban Consortium Energy Task Force who, in the Fifth Year Grant, will be working on questions of waste heat. We thought that our interests lie more in the financing of Energy Conservation Projects, because we are new at the business of energy conservation throughout the City Departments; and we felt that was something that somebody else should blaze the trails on in terms of municipal governments.

Michelle Madoff:

See, Mina, municipal government buildings are no different than any other buildings. There are some buildings you can do very little in. This building you can't do anything in, practically nothing, unless we re-build it, unless we build the building, or maybe we voted in this Council to put controls, thermostats in offices, so we don't run air conditioning in the winter because of the steam heat.

The Chair:

Michelle—

Michelle Madoff:

I'm not voting on this bill, Mr. DePasquale, until I learn a little bit about it.

The Chair:

Michelle, restrict yourself to the specific bill and whether—

Michelle Madoff:

I'm still on the specific bill and I'm not getting off this specific bill. With the 60-odd-thousand dollars, how much waste heat and how much could you cut the energy cost at the Safety Building?

Mina Gerall:

I cannot answer that.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, I can tell you, substantially.

Mina Gerall:

I wouldn't doubt it but, in fact, the-

Michelle Madoff:

So, what we did is we studied it for 60- some thousand. Now we're going to study it for $64,000, and it's the fifth year, we're going to do something.

Mina Gerall:

We did not study that question. The questions that we are undertaking through this program are not technological, fixed questions. What we're trying to look at instead is organizational and fiscal issues. You said this building is impossible to save technologically. It may not be impossible to conserve in this building, but we don't have the processes. We don't have the fiscal means for doing, and that's what we're trying to do, not deal with the technical questions, but until—

Michelle Madoff:

So far you haven't said anything. I want to know why you can't go out with the $64,000, get a company that will give you the work, including the plan. You know, like the offices we're remodeling, the Law Department Offices, the people that sell the furniture and do the design are the same people. You don't have to pay them to do the design. They'll do it for nothing. You go out and hire some people to save on waste energy for the Safety Building for your $64,000, and they will do the design for you.

Mina Gerall:

The difference is that to do that—you're right, the technical knowhow is there. It would require us spending money. This way we're not spending—

Michelle Madoff:

Not necessarily. What we might be doing is paying the money out of savings, and there are companies who will put it in and you pay them from savings.

Mina Gerall:

And that's, in fact, what our Fifth Year Project design is about.

Michelle Madoff:

Fifth Year. I don't want to wait five years.

Mina Gerall:

I should clarify that. That's what the Consortium calls it. This is the fifth year for the Consortium. It would only be the second year for the City of Pittsburgh. In fact, very few municipal governments have gotten into shared savings, because there are legal constraints on organizations in the government that don't exist in the private sector. What we would like to do is develop a negotiating handbook that would make it easier for government—

Michelle Madoff:

Why wasn't I invited to the meeting, because what you're saying doesn't make any sense.

Mina Gerall:

What doesn't make any sense?

The Chair:

Michelle, would you—

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. DePasquale, this does not make any sense at all. If we're getting $64,000—

The Chair:

We're having a complete hearing on this matter, and I think you've been answered as to what you asked for.

Michelle Madoff:

I want to ask one more question, and I'm going—

The Chair:

One more, please, and that's it.

Michelle Madoff:

Are you in a hurry, Mr. DePasquale? I'm in a hurry, too, I have a lot of things to do.

The Chair:

You were out of order, and I allowed you to have—

Michelle Madoff:

I'm not out of order. We're discussing a bill before this Council.

The Chair:

Michelle, this should not have come in this meeting, and you know it and I know it.

Michelle Madoff:

I am not out of order, sir.

The Chair:

You have been going on and on and on.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm going to go on and on and on, because it's the people's business, and you're not going to disenfranchise the people that vote for them and my constituents.

The Chair:

You're going to ask one more question and the young lady's going to be asked to take her seat.

Michelle Madoff:

Why don't we take the $64,000, and I'll show you how to save money, and it won't cost us the $64,000. We'll save the money.

Mina Gerall:

D.O.E. no longer provides direct assistance for technical studies. What they are doing with this grant money is asking Cities to develop non-technical resolutions to problems that are peculiar to government and to insure that they are transferrable to other city governments who have varying degrees—

Michelle Madoff:

Mina, how many times have I sent you memos telling you that I'd be happy to come to a meeting, and tell you that I represent the Sub-Committee of Council on Energy; and how many times have you rudely ignored me?

Mina Gerall:

I don't think that we have rudely—

Michelle Madoff:

You just haven't notified me.

The Chair:

Young lady—

Michelle Madoff:

That's rudely ignoring me. Thank you, I'm through.

The Chair:

Young lady, would please take your seat?

Michelle Madoff:

And it won't happen again, Mina. Let me just tell you that for the record.

The Chair:

Call the vote.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm going to abstain on Bill No. 3859 simply because I believe that this City could go out and could be using the so-called ineffective energy committee that does have some expertise, which is not being allowed to use its expertise, to go out and start saving some money for this City; and we're coming up with this wonderful gobbledygook to say, my, we're doing something, but in reality, not doing anything.

Mr. Robinson:

Aye on all bills, and on Bill No. 3859, I think that it would be helpful to everyone in the City if the Administration and Council could work more cooperatively on this energy issue. Hopefully, this will not become a partisan issue and will be one that both the Administration and Council can see some joint benefits from; and I hope that we will be able to work out something more equitable and more cooperative in the future.

Mr. Stone:

Aye on all bills, and relative to Bill 3859, I want to commend the Administration and Mina Gerall for taking the time to find the grant under which we are acquiring $60,000, which is not the City's moneys; and for doing that and under the rules and regulations that's promulgated under the grant and in that sense, she should be commended and not chastised for doing what's right and in finding $60,000 that we don't have to spend.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, may I respond?

The Chair:

No.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Givens
Mrs. Masloff
Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Robinson

Mr. Stone
Mr. Woods
Mr. DePasquale
(Pres't)

AYES 7

NOES none

(MICHELLE MADOFF, ABSTAINING)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bill passed finally.

Michelle Madoff:

Point of personal preference. For the record as the Finance Chairman, our Finance Chairman has done peerlessly little to save money on energy in this building, because he doesn't know how to do it, nor does he want to even learn how to do it, or care about it.

Mr. Stones:

There may be other ways to do things, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Stone, you may be an attorney and people may hire you for your expertise—

The Chair:

Michelle, please.

Michelle Madoff:

—but people want to hire me all the time for my expertise, and it is in energy and environment; and I worked for many attorneys on a voluntary basis helping them.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, on Council Bill 3787, which is the UDAG for 1000 California Avenue, I'd like to have attached to that bill a memo from Reverend Simms, who is Chairman of our Minority Business Enterprise Review Committee, which details the provisions for the Minority Business Enterprise Plan which is supposed to be for this application process. I'd like to have that attached.

Then also in that same regard, I'd like to share two pieces of communication that relate to this project both directly and indirectly; and hopefully in sharing this information with Council we can get some clarification as to some difficulties that this particular UDAG seems to have created.

One is a copy of a letter addressed to yourself, Mr. President, dated October 20th. Several people received a copy of this, including myself. It says:

"Dear Mr. DePasquale:

The greater North Side Development Council requests a public hearing, at which time all of the existing and proposed development plans of the North Side are shared with the citizens of our community.

We appreciate your help and consideration regarding the above matter.

Sincerely,

Becky L. Cogger."

I assume, Mr. President, that Ms. Cogger will be contacted relative to her concern and that we would inform her that this UDAG, while it is a part of the development of the North Side, certainly the time restraints that we're operating under necessitate us moving forward prior to October 31st to give the developers a fair opportunity to see if they can secure the necessary federal funding, and that it would not be in the best interest of the City at this point to hold up this project while we wait for a hearing on the total North Side.

The second letter is also from Ms. Cogger, which is dated October 21st, and it is much more specific. This letter is addressed to Mrs. Rosemary D'Ascenzo, President of our Planning Commission.

"Dear Mrs. D'Ascenzo:

At the Planning Commission's public hearing on Tuesday, October 11, 1983, the Greater North Side Development Corporation agreed conceptionally that the North Side Civic Development Corporation should receive UDAG funds to rehabilitate the United Parcel facility. We also proposed that the North Side Civic Development Council engage in a joint venture, with North Side contractors, to assure minority participation.

We are aware of the City's commitment to meet Federal compliance and the laws which govern the distribution of UDAG funds. We feel that the letter of the law should be adhered to, and as law abiding citizens, we cannot support the distribution of UDAG funds to the North Side Civic Development Corporation until the following criteria is met prior to the final submission of the plan. The enumerated criteria is mandated by Law:

A detailed description of the minority business plan.

A detailed description of the affirmative action plan.

A detailed program/plan for resident employment.

Members of our Corporation and the citizens of this community believe in the economic progress. We trust that the North Side Civic Development Corporation will meet the requirements of the law. When a detailed description of all of the above becomes final, we hope that it be shared with our Corporation.

Sincerely,

Becky L. Cogger".

Mr. President, without belaboring this point, as Council is aware, I asked to have the bill held, 3787, for two weeks, Wednesday a week ago. At that time, I believe that some of the concerns that Ms. Cogger and her organization raised could be addressed and perhaps resolved. Subsequent to that, we became aware that if, in fact, the City did not move expeditiously to apply for this UDAG grant by October 31, 1983, we would lose the opportunity for the present developers to develop 1000 California Avenue.

I felt it was in the best interests of the City to move expeditiously in this matter and did share that with Council as well as some of the parties that Ms. Coger represents. I do think, however, that the record should reflect that the North Side Civic Development Council did meet with the Minority Business Enterprise Review Committee and did make a very serious attempt to address any concerns that that committee raised, and I am satisfied to-date with the material that they have forwarded relative to the MBE issue.

I am also basically satisfied that their projection to hire 35 percent of their projected employees from the North Side and 20 percent minorities from the North Side goes a long way to addressing some of the concerns that Ms. Coger has raised. I do think, however, that prior to our actually submitting the application for the UDAG that the Planning Department and our Urban Redevelopment Authority should respond to Ms. Coger's letter of October 21, 1983 and give to her and her organization some written indication as to how the items that she has listed, three items, are going to be addressed.

Also, I think that it would be appropriate for us to note that, prior to the UDAG actually being accepted by the City and not starting work, that this Council will have to approve the receipt of the moneys and we will have to approve some sort of disposition agreement with Urban Redevelopment Authority, so that Ms. Coger and her organization should not feel that because we are moving on with this project at this point, that we're ignoring the concerns that she's raised in her October 21, 1983 letter.

Also, I think that it would be wise for us to recognize that the development on the North Side has been spurred along by the North Side Leadership Conference, which the North Side Civic Development Corporation is a very important cause; and we certainly don't want to cast any aspersions on their very positive efforts to work with the City in that regard, but by the same token, those issues that have been raised in these two communications I think are valid concerns and concerns that can be worked out, and I'm sure that reasonable people will see to it that that occurs. Thank you.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

The Chair:

We have some guests here from the American Governmental System - A Multi-Regional Group Project. The guests that are here, one from Bangladesh, Mr. Hasan Saeed; Colombia, Ms. Juana Margarita Salamanca Uribe; Egypt, Ms. Inas Hafez Nour; Jamaica, Mr. John Hearne; Romania, Mr. Ioan Sebastian Anastasescu; Thailand, Mr. Thirapat Serirangsan; Yemen Arab Republic, Ms. Nooria Al-Hammami; Zimbabwe, Mr. Beki Sibanda. That concludes the list of our guests. I wonder if they'd all stand and we'll give them a round of applause. It's nice to have you, and you're very welcome, thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

May I comment, Mr. President. Mr. Hayllar, the Mayor's aide, was telling them outside the door this was the routine, usual sort of routine kind of Council. I hope you've found it not so routine.

Mr. O'Malley presents

WHEREAS, the Greater Pittsburgh Area Chapter, chartered in October 1967, was the third chapter of the National Organization for Women in the United States; and

WHEREAS, the Pittsburgh Area has provided leadership in the National Organization for Women, including:

Wilma Scott Heide, first Pennsylvania State Coordinator, Convener of the Greater Pittsburgh Area Chapter, who went on to become the second Chair of the National Board of NOW, 1970-71, and the third National President of NOW, 1971-74; and

Eleanor Cutri Smeal, who joined the Greater Pittsburgh Area Chapter in 1970 and founded the South Hills NOW Chapter in 1971, founded Pennsylvania NOW in 1972-73, and went on to Chair the National Board and then to serve as National President of NOW from 1976 to 1982; and

WHEREAS, the Greater Pittsburgh Area Chapter grew and divided until there are seventeen NOW chapters and several thousand NOW members in the Greater Pittsburgh Area; and

WHEREAS, in spite of landmark actions in advancing women's rights, many of them originating in Pittsburgh, women still earn only sixty cents to the dollar that men earn and are severely underrepresented at all levels of political and economic life; and

WHEREAS, in these times of economic hardship, Pennsylvania NOW is needed more than ever; and

WHEREAS, Pennsylvania NOW will celebrate its 10th Anniversary at the State Convention in Pittsburgh on November 11, 1983 through November 13, 1983.

NOW THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Council of the City of Pittsburgh welcome Pennsylvania NOW to their Convention in the City of Pittsburgh and join Pennsylvania NOW in its efforts to bring women into full participation in the mainstream of American society now.

Mr. O'Malley moved to adopt the resolution.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Givenst:

Mr. President, very reluctantly, I must bring up that many of the things that were mentioned of the Women's Movement and what has to be done to rectify some of the situations are very much in front of us and very much a political reality. However, in welcoming the Pennsylvania NOW to the City of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, I must say what this organization stands for, and before each and everyone of us vote on this, there are certain comments that must be made.

The NOW policy and endorsement, and I'm reading from the following resolutions that were past by the National Convention of which the Pennsylvania delegation and the local delegation of NOW are part of the National Organization of Women, NOW and October, 1982 is reprinted in its entirety; and one of those resolutions was the Reproductive Rights Resolution. In there there are two 'Whereas', and 'Therefore, Be It Resolveds', and down on paragraph three it continues, and they quote here, and I quote their resolution, the NOW resolution adopted at the International Convention 1982, that they want to continue to expose the role of a Catholic Church Hierarchy and the anti-abortion and anti-control movement.

Mr. President, I submit that that is discriminatory against the religion of people within the City of Pittsburgh, five Council Members I know of that religion within this Council right here, and I can't see how we can welcome a particular group that picks out any particular church and denounces it.

Secondly, Mr. President, before us we have letters and telegrams, one from the Pastor Kenneth G. Smith from the Presbyterian Church wherein he asked this Council through his Presbyterian Church to please vote against the NOW Organization and this particular resolution that's before us today.

We also have a telegram that came in that the first priority of the National Organization for Women is to promote the killing -this is this telegram- promote the killing of unborn children as a reproductive right. We strongly object to this organization being welcomed to the City of Pittsburgh, Sincerely, Helen Cindrich, President of the People Concerned for the Unborn Child, and also, Doris Grady, who is in the room today.

Also, along with another telegram that was addressed to this Council of which all you received copies of is the Family Forum of Pittsburgh strongly opposes Council's consideration of Resolution 924 before us now. The National Organization of Women with their anti-family, anti-life, anti-God, anti-Catholic position should not be welcomed in our fair City.

Just one more thing, Mr. President, that it goes further and deeper than the religious aspects of what this organizations stands for. There were resolutions also passed that included the promotion of lesbian rights. Also, there were resolutions passed favoring the legalization of prostitution. There are also resolutions passed opposing school prayer, tax tuitions credit, which this Council's already acted on and passed for parents of private and school children; and NOW has a policy to endorse for public office only those candidates who support the NOW goals and positions on issues. Therefore, it is very interesting that this is a political organization. They have a Political Action Committee set up, and I think something of this overtone should not be permitted to be put in a form of a resolution and acted upon in the City of Pittsburgh, because, in fact, it is a political entity with degrading remarks to the faith of many, not only Catholics, Protestants, but also the Jewish community. Thank you, Mr. President.

Mr. O'Malley:

Obviously and evidently Councilman Givens didn't read the resolution, because the resolution deals with the social and the economic problems that face many women today. Also, if because Mr. Givens disagrees with certain resolutions that NOW proposes, that we would ban this organization from having a convention in the City of Pittsburgh, then evidently someday somebody can ban Catholics from having a convention in the City of Pittsburgh, because they disagree with Catholics, or they disagree with Irish, or they can ban Italians. I think Mr. Givens has to remember that old Irish cliché that says I might disagree with what you have to say, but I certainly agree that you have a right to say it.

Mr. Givens:

Thank you, Jim, and I'd like to respond.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'm not finished, Mr. Givens.

Mr. Givens:

No, I'd like to respond to that by saying that I do not want to ban anyone from the City of Pittsburgh. I do not want to welcome. I do not to welcome—

The Chair:

Wait. Let's get the record straight. They're going to have the convention whether you or I or whoever votes for the resolution.

Mr. Givens:

That's right, Mr. President; I don't care if they have their convention, where they have their convention. I'm saying that a resolution in this Council welcoming them to the City of Pittsburgh is against many of the religious faiths in this City and especially the Catholic faith, which makes up over a quarter of a million people. I don't think they would appreciate it for this Council to get into a political, moral issue that we should be involved in.

I am not saying that they cannot do or anybody cannot do whatever they want to do within this country. Mr. O'Malley misinterpreted my remark.

Mr. O'Malley:

Well, I take strong exceptions for you representing the entire Catholic community in the City of Pittsburgh, Mr. Givens.

Michelle Madoff:

And all of women, too.

Mr. O'Malley:

And all the women of the Catholic denomination.

Mr. Givens:

I am not representing anybody but myself when I sit on this Council and the people who elected me to this body.

The Chair:

I think he brought up a very good point.

Mr. O'Malley:

I would like to make one more comment. Saturday night I watched a documentary on John F. Kennedy. It was in 1961. He was asked a question by a woman newscaster, what have you done for women's rights, and 20 years ago, John Fitzgerald Kennedy's answer was not enough but we're working on it. Here it is 20 years later, and we're still asking the same questions, what can we do to improve the role of women in society today with equal pay, and equal rights in all levels of society; and I think if each of us elected officials was to ask that question, what have we done to help women today, I think we'd have to give the same answer than John Kennedy gave 20 years ago, not enough but we're still trying, thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. O'Malley, would you please stay where you are. I'd like to respond to you. I think you are to be commended because you did not make this a religious nor a political move. All you said and the gut of what you said is that women still earn 60 cents to the dollar of what men earn; and you could have gone on, I'm sure, to say that in the course of events when the economy suffers, the first to go, the last to be hired are generally women, and many are heads of households.

I don't think any thinking person in this room would ever want their children—I have a 23 year old daughter—to practice birth control via having an abortion. That is not an acceptable form of birth control. We certainly would advocate that we would advocate education. In the past Councilman Givens, in his infinite wisdom, has repeatedly tried to bring resolutions before this Council that were religious in overtone; and that were not separation of state and church. In your resolution you do not do that. Again, I commend you.

The business of pro-life is one that does not deal with this Council. It deals with the state and the judiciary of our land. I am a law-abiding citizen, and I obey the law of my land. I think the most important thing that we ought to add on to this, if I may take the privilege, I am a member of the NOW movement. One of the things they're going to be talking about and voting on at this probably landmark NOW meeting is that we have a woman vice-president. I think that goes again to the 60 cents on the dollar. Maybe we've a vice-president who's female, and I would not object if she was a minority female, Councilman Robinson.

I think it's time that we started to spread the wealth and I think that's what you're saying; and all you're saying is they're going to be here, women should be paid what men are being paid; and you have not raised the issues that don't belong in this Council, and I commend you a third time.

Mr. O'Malley:

Thank you.

Mr. Flaherty:

I have a question for the chief critic of the bill, Councilman Givens. Is it not true that, for example, the antithesis of NOW is the People Concerned for the Unborn Child on the issue of abortion; correct?

Mr. Givens:

I'm saying the NOW policies and endorsements at their National Convention advocate and discriminate—in their Section 3 they want to continue to expose the role of the Catholic Church Hierarchy and the anti-abortion, anti-birth control movement, and they also promote lesbian rights. They also favor legalizing prostitution under the rationale of a fight to control one's own body. They oppose school prayer, tax tuition, and etc., and etc.

Any organization that advocates by resolution and their organization that, regardless of how good their intentions are, and as Mr. O'Malley so stated up there, the good John F. Kennedy, if you'd ask John F. Kennedy some specific questions on these resolutions, I'm sure he would have voted against them, as I am voting against them here today. I am not saying that there is not a problem out there that we should not fight and help the women to obtain the type of equality that they deserve. That is not my point.

My point is that we are welcoming an organization that has a platform, and within that platform they have certain resolutions that they have adopted as a national policy, and that they take this into the political realm, into the political realm; and as a result, I would ask that this be tabled in this Council and not be brought forward as a moral issue.

Mr. Flaherty:

Is it not true that People Concerned for the Unborn Child endorse candidates and are politically active?

Mr. Givens:

Answer your own question.

Mr. Flaherty:

Yes, they are. Would you oppose this resolution if People Concerned for the Unborn Child were having a convention here? Would you oppose welcoming them to the City of Pittsburgh?

Mr. Givens:

I oppose this organization here for what they stand for. No, Mr. Flaherty, we have before us Bill 924. Please keep your comments to that bill.

Mr. Flaherty:

Okav. Well, it seems to me, Councilman Givens, you have addressed the issues of abortion.

Mr. Givens:

No, I haven't addressed them, excuse me. The NOW policies and endorsements have made those statements. They are not Dick Givens' statements.

Mr. Flaherty:

Why are you so opposed to NOW because of their stands on abortion, minority life, of the issue of birth control, school prayer, tuition tax credits when Senator Edward Kennedy was in support of every one of those and you were one of the leading supporters of Senator Kennedy four years ago? I can't see why you can discriminate against NOW— Well, not discriminate, but there's such an inconsistency.

You referred to John Kennedy. Well, we don't know how John Kennedy would have stacked up on these issues. I don't agree with you. I think he would have voted in support of these issues, but Senator Edward Kennedy certainly is on the record solidly for a woman's right to have an abortion, supporting minority sexual rights, supporting birth control, against school prayer, against tuition tax credit, so there's a certain inconsistency that I think certainly blows a hole in your argument.

Mr. Givens:

He's getting totally off the subject. I don't know what he's talking about.

The Chair:

He is. I agree with you 100 percent.

Mr. Flaherty:

What I'm talking about is that NOW is an organization. For example, I myself may not be totally supportive of everything they believe in or their strategy, but regardless of that, I don't think they should be blackballed because you personally do not agree on a few of their stands. If you would agree that they are doing a lot of good work as far as employment for women, as far as the economic plight of women, as far as proper child care for women, as far as proper housing for women, and you could go on and on; and so I really can't see the logic of your so strongly opposing NOW on the issue of abortion and the other ones we have talked about when you so strongly supported Senator Kennedy and he stood for everything that NOW stands for.

Mr. Givens:

I'd like to respond to that. Well, I think—

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, maybe I can answer Mr. Flaherty. I don't know if he was at the hearing or was in Council at the time, maybe it was four or five years ago, where NOW asked for a hearing in regards to the same thing you're talking about, and the only thing they discussed at the hearing was lesbianism. They started out by one girl saying, "I am a lesbian; there's my partner," and three or four others got up and said, "We're partners also," it got off the—

Michelle Madoff:

Why are you so threatened by somebody's sexual preference?

The Chair:

They weren't talking about jobs anymore. All they talked about was lesbianism, and the man is making a point there, a very good point.

Mr. Givens:

Anytime any organization discriminates against any church in this nation of ours, then I don't think they're worthy to be welcomed into this City. It's not Dick Givens saying it; I'm reading their policy, their policy.

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

I am in support of the resolution, because I haven't heard any compelling arguments why we should be opposed to it. I think that the National Organization for Women is a nationally recognized group by all important aspects of this society or politicians or churches, the media, the financial community; and simply because we do not agree with NOW, simply perhaps because some of us may not agree with some of the tenets that they have filed, I don't see any reason why we should discriminate against them.

I will go on record that I would welcome the People Concerned for the Unborn Child if they were having a convention here, even though I may not entirely agree with their platform; but what I am saying I think NOW and I think People Concerned for the Unborn Child, and I use them because they are the extreme opposites, they certainly are debating issues that are legitimate in this country, and I applaud the both of them for doing that. I think that's what this country is all about and that's what makes the system go; and so if I wouldn't discriminate against the one, I'm not going to discriminate against the other.

Mr. Givens:

I pray for the leadership of NOW, and what I heard from Mr. Flaherty over here and the wishy-washy on the one side and the wishy-washy on other side. The good Lord said, I would vomit that person out.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I concur with what Councilman Flaherty has stated. He is essentially protecting the First Amendment; but I would like to add that when this Council voted for the Cable Company, the one person who voted for A.T.C. that had spermathons— and for those who may not know what a spermathon is, it's a woman making it with 80 guys to break the Guinness Book of Records— the only person who voted for A.T.C. was our esteemed Mr. Givens who's so worried about morality. I vote with the bill.

Mrs. Masloff:

I vote aye.

Mr. O'Malley:

I vote aye. I'd like to comment that the bill does deal with the social and the economic conditions facing women today. I should have expanded it to deal with decent housing, day care centers, because in the '80's, times are changing. Unfortunately, we don't know whether they're changing for the best or they're changing for the worst, but I think NOW is to be commended for bringing many of the problems that face and confront women into the forefront for open discussion. You can't solve a problem unless the problem is discussed and you find out what causes the problem.

Mr. Robinson:

I vote aye.

Mr. Stone:

I believe the issue before us now is whether or not NOW at this particular time is welcome in the City of Pittsburgh, and relative to that matter, I can but say that everyone has different views; and if in this country everyone had the same view, as is said many times, when two people agree 100 percent, one is useless. They have that right under the Constitution of the United States to expound the theory, and I would like it clearly understood that anytime I vote to welcome anyone in this City, that doesn't mean that I agree with what they say.

In the process that they have, the view they have today may change tomorrow, I don't know; but in the processes that they have within their organizations, that might well be. I am reminded that the Republican party meets in this City, and far be it from me as a Democrat-- obviously, I don't agree with anything they have to say, but they're still welcome in this City. Maybe we can change their ways. I'd like to see the President come here and explain the unemployment, and to keep him out wouldn't help the cause; but nevertheless, the issue, again, as I said, now is whether or not NOW can come here to Pittsburgh, and in that sense, I vote for it.

Mr. Woods:

I agree with everything Bob said and a few other speakers. I don't particularly agree with all the plans that NOW has on their platform, but I do agree they should be welcome. We do this dozens of times every year where there are many groups I don't agree with, but all we're doing is simply welcoming them to the City of Pittsburgh. I vote aye.

Mr. DePasquale:

Well, it was stated earlier it's not a vote whether NOW is coming into town or not; they're coming here regardless. It's not a case where they're welcome or not. I just think, as Mr. Givens pointed out, there's some issues about NOW and some things about them that are just rather difficult for a person like him to accept and myself, for that matter, and I'm not happy about them coming here. I wouldn't try to stop them from coming here. I certainly am not going to welcome them with open arms. I'm going to vote no.

Michelle Madoff:

It's a good thing you're not running for office.

The Chair:

I told them that when I was running for office too.

Michelle Madoff:

There's more women that vote sir.

The Chair:

Then the filthy mouthed pigs got on the phone and started calling me all kind of names.

Michelle Madoff:

There are also filthy mouthed men. Let's not discriminate against women. You married one. We don't discriminate women, ever.

The Chair:

I guess you're going to stand up for the one that's up for murder too. Is there something you'd like to say about her?

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. Robinson
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Stone
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. Woods
Mr. O'Malley

AYES 7 NOES 2

(MR. GIVENS AND MR. DEPASQUALE VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bill passed finally.

The Chair presents

Bill No. 3910 Communication from Richard S. Caliguiri, Mayor, City of Pittsburgh, appointing John J. Sciallo of 336 Gross Street, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15224, as a member of the City Planning Commission for a term to expire January 1988.

Which was read, received and filed.

The Chair presents

Bill No. 3911 Resolution approving the appointment of John J. Sciallo be and the same is hereby approved and confirmed as a member of the City Planning Commission for a term to expire January 1988.

Which was read.

Mr. Stone moved to hold for two weeks.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Robinson:

Correction on the minutes, on Page 1357 under my comments on the right hand side, there's a word which doesn't belong there. The sentence reads, I should mention that they have been in the food distribution business a long time, long before the current, the word should be crisis not prices, thank you.

Mr. Givens moved to approved the minutes of Monday, October 10, 1983.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Woods

Council adjourned.

Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. DePasquale
Mr. O'Malley	(Pres't)

The Meeting was opened by the recitation of the pledge of allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

PRESENTATIONS

Mr. Robinson:

I would like to ask three people if they would please come forward to receive this resolution and make some comments. First, Mr. William Neal, better known as Bill Neal, who is the founder of the Champions Association and it's Executive Director, Mr. Vince Lackner who is the Legal Consultant for the Champions Association and a young man who has done a lot of work with this organization and has contributed a lot of his time. A third gentleman who many of you may know, a man who is a champion of this City, Connie Hawkins who played here with the Pittsburgh Pipers, played with the Phoenix Suns, played with the Harlem Globetrotters, played with the Atlanta Hawks, and the way the Steelers played Sunday we may have to put him out there to play with the Steelers next week. But Connie has come to our City from Brooklyn, New York, and has been a real fine gentleman here in our town and someone I think we all can admire and our young people can look up to.

Certainly these three gentlemen would like to share with you some comments after I read this resolution and hopefully Council will see fit to enact it.

Mr. Robinson presents

Bill No. 3981 WHEREAS, for the past ten (10) years, the Champions Association Inc., has been providing education, recreational and social programs to members of the Pittsburgh Community and Tri-State area, with a special emphasis on youth; and

WHEREAS, during that time we have featured such national and internationally recognized programs as the Connie Hawkins Basketball League, the Ultimate Force of Master Jacquet Bazemore and the Champions Sport Show; and

WHEREAS, in our continuing effort to "Help others help themselves", we now set our objectives on another ten (10) years, and with your help we will be able to help others realize their full potential and discover that Ultimate Force that lies within all of us to do whatever we set our minds to do; and

WHEREAS, a special thanks goes out to Connie Hawkins, Willie Stargell, Jacquet Bazemore, Lisha Beasley, Kenny Durrett, Franco Harris, Robin Cole, Councilman Bill Robinson, Mayor Richard Caliguiri, Louise Brown, Cynthia King, Harvey Adams, Bob Pitts, Reverend Duane Darkins and Governor Dick Thornburg for their tremendous support over the years and to the many fine individuals that have served as staff and volunteers for the organization. Without their support, we would not be where we are today.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and Council of the City of Pittsburgh, on behalf of its citizen, does honor and recognize the Tenth Anniversary of the Champions Association, Incorporated, and its founder, Bill Neal.

Mr. Robinson moved to approve the resolution.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Robinson:

As I said before, these gentlemen represent the Champions Association.

Mr. Neal:

On behalf of the Champions Association, Inc., I would like to thank City Council and most especially Councilman Bill Robinson for the support you have given us over the last five years. Our ten year existence has been a very long and hard struggle but because of your support the last five have been a lot easier. We started back in 1974 with the Homewood Brushton YMCA, just a small basketball league, and today boast of one of the top five basketball leagues in the country. I should add that that basketball league is now operated by Betty Coleman who is the only woman in the country who operates a league of that size. She, along with the staff of four other women and two other men, are responsible for that on-going summer program. Jacquet Bazemore's martial arts exhibitions and demonstrations that go on throughout the City and different parts of the country have been a major force in our operation as well as our job placement, our youth internships throughout the summer, college placement and general assistance to youth and senior citizens.

So, for as much as I can say about the organization, as proud as I am of it, I will end by saying that we greatly appreciate your support and needless to say, we hope that the support continues on an even larger scale.

Mr. Lackner:

I just want to reiterate what Bill has said about the recognition you have given the organization through this proclamation and the financial support you have given us with your grants in the past. Since my office handles the legal matters and recently the financial accounting, which we do in great detail, I know that it would not be possible to run the league at all without this kind of support. Without the league we couldn't be providing the kind of community service to both the members of the community and the youngsters who come out and watch the games and mingle with all the players without the kind of support you've given us.

So, again, I am very, very grateful to you for making that available and we hope that it can continue in the future. Thank you.

Mr. Neal:

I'd like to give what I think is a proper introduction of Connie Hawkins. When we started this operation ten years ago, Connie was the person who lent us his name, so to speak. At that time, we needed to have someone's support, not only for local accomplishment but for national accomplishment as well. Connie had just retired from the Los Angeles Lakers and he was kind enough to lend us his name and because of his name we've been able to achieve a lot of things across the country. Because of his name we've also been able to attract people like Franco Harris and Willie Stargell to our operation. I can't say enough about what Connie has done for us, just by some of the phone calls he's made and some of the people that he's brought to town on our behalf he's been a mainstay in the operation and as he acts as Chairman of the Board of the operation I just want to say publicly that we want to thank him.

Mr. Hawkins:

As you know, to run an organization it takes capable people and able bodies to do the right things and I'm just glad that Bill Neal is running the league as well as he is and I hope he continues to run it for the rest of his natural life.

Mr. Neal:

I'd also like to introduce, if I can, a member of our organization, John Thomas, who handles the promotions in the operations and our fund raising. I'd also like to introduce my father. Without him I would not be here today.

Again, we thank you for your support. You all found a Connie Hawkins League tee shirt on the back of your chair and it's sponsored by Anheimer Busch, Budweiser locally, Frank B. Furher wholesale company. We gave the ladies the white shirts because they are the smaller sizes.

Mrs. Masloff:

I want to thank you for this small size.

Mr. Neal:

You're more than welcome.

Again, many thanks and we hope that we'll be around for many more years to come. Thank you.

The Chair:

Thank you gentlemen, and congratulations.

Mr. Givens presents

Bill No. 3982 WHEREAS, on October 31, 1983, the Bloomfield Citizens Council will sponsor its annual Halloween Parade; and

WHEREAS, this parade draws thousands of spectators and participants from the East End neighborhoods, making it the largest of its kind in the City of Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, under the motivation and leadership of current President John Giancola, the Bloomfield Citizens Council has maintained this tradition for over a decade; and

WHEREAS, past officer Janet Scullion has, through the years, been a vital part in the formation of this event.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Members of Pittsburgh City Council, hereby recognize and commend the Bloomfield Citizens Council and President John Giancola and past officer Janet Scullion for their hard work and devotion in the organization of their annual Halloween Parade and extend sincere gratitude to them for preserving this great tradition and thus enhancing and perpetuating community pride in our City.

Mr. Givens moved to approve the resolution.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Givens:

This is a great parade and it's one that has been going on for many, many years and has been something that has drawn the children prior to all the vindictiveness that has happened throughout this country and what some people do on Halloween. This tradition has been going on for many, many years and for that particular community they bring many bands and groups in from all over the City. It is a tradition and it's part of what our neighborhoods and our communities are all about. I've attended several of these over this past weekend in the West End and up in the Sheridan area, and the Morningside area. The one in the Stanton Heights area on Friday I had missed. But this is neighborhood involvement. This is what it's all about and it's something that our children remember, especially myself. I remember when I was a little kid doing our thing during Halloween day. Halloween is still a very important part of the traditions of our lives and our lifestyles in the City of Pittsburgh. And I have to say, comparing Pittsburgh to other areas of the country, we do a lot for our local children here. I remember one time here, some six or seven years ago, when Jim Lally and myself came into Council with a funnyface on.

The Chair:

Thank you and congratulations to Mr. Giancola and Janet Scullion.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, Mr. President. Point of order and direction. I have two bills that are being introduced as resolutions. They may be, at your discretion, resolutions from the floor but I am afraid that, as I have raised this issue once before, our Chairman of Finance will say it's not appropriate and that we'll address it at budget time. I want to be sure since we're approaching budget time that the bill goes in to address the members of the Personnel Appeals Board changing to $100 per diem. And then there's the police officer who saved someone from suicide and we would not reimburse him for his glasses.

I would like to have that motion before Council. I'm introducing it as a resolution. I think it shouldn't be necessary to get a policeman a pair of glasses by resolution but I want to be sure that I'm not overruled, as I frequently am, so if I submit it, it becomes the official business of the day.

The Chair:

I don't quite follow you. Do you want to submit it when you're called upon or what?

Michelle Madoff:

I'm just asking if you would like to take it as a floor resolution. We can do that.

The Chair:

Why don't we wait until we come to it. Okay?

Michelle Madoff:

If not, I'm just going to submit it as a regular resolution.

The Chair:

You can do it either way, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

What about the per diem on the Appeals Board? I think I'll leave that as a resolution for discussion because otherwise we both know what's going to happen.

Mr. Flaherty presented

No. 3916 Resolution authorizing the sale of property in the 19th Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, designated as Block 1 E, Lot 100 to Riverfront Properties, a partnership, for the sum of $15,000.00.

Which was read and referred to the Committee on Lands and Buildings.

Mr. Flaherty moved to suspend Rule 8 by providing for consideration of the bill only until or after the 9th calendar day following the meeting in which the bill was introduced so the bill will be on the agenda this Wednesday.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Also,

No. 3942 Resolution setting the wages of the Members of Pittsburgh's Personnel Appeals Board at One Hundred ($100.00) a day per diem beginning January 1, 1984.

Michelle Madoff:

Because of the dispute as to whether to do it as a floor resolution or to do it as a resolution, may I waive Rule 8 on the two bills? I don't want the policeman waiting for his glasses indefinitely and I want a decision on that Appeals Board. I move on both bill to waive Rule 8.

Mr. Flaherty:

I will second the one regarding the glasses of the policeman but only that bill.

The Chair:

Is there a second on the one in regards to the Appeals Board?

There's no second so therefore the resolution fails.

Michelle Madoff:

It doesn't fail. It comes in the regular meeting a week from Wednesday. It doesn't fail at all.

The Chair:

You said you want to enter it right now; you don't want to wait until Wednesday.

Michelle Madoff:

I took them separately. I took the bill separately on the glasses.

The Chair:

First of all, Michelle, you're going to be ruled out of order, whether it be Bob Stone or I, in regards to that second resolution because it's a budgetary matter. I know you say that you're not concerned with that and that you want to discuss it now. But at the same time, it's not to be discussed now; it's to be discussed at budget time. All we're talking about is a couple of weeks.

Michelle Madoff:

I want to be sure it's discussed at budget time.

The Chair:

It will be discussed.

Michelle Madoff:

We have a resolution and we decide that in the coming year we will fund something. We do it all the time and if we decided we're not going to fund something we do that all the time and it is not inappropriate, according to Robert's Rules or Robert Rade's Rules, to bring up a resolution that we will do something in the coming year and look at it in the budget.

Would you also see that the policeman is presented with an award for heroism for going in after someone who is suicidal? We'll give him the money for the glasses, hopefully, at the same time.

The Chair:

Okay.

Michelle Madoff:

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

The Chair:

There's one correction I'd like to make, Mr. Clerk. On 3843, I apparently voted aye and I meant to abstain for reasons previously given. Check that out please. That's the one on the extra payments to J-Jac, Exchange Way between Eighth Street and Ninth Street. Thank you.

Mr. Flaherty:

For the edification of our viewers and for those who were employed by Giant Eagle who appeared at the post agenda on Wednesday, I had promised to introduce a resolution today asking the URA to audit the UDAG grant loan to Giant Eagle for their warehouse. It is my understanding that the negotiations are going well between Giant Eagle and its employees. As all members of Council are probably aware, subsequent to Council's post agenda meeting, each of the parties agreed to negotiate. Now there is also a federal mediator conducting those negotiations.

So, taking all of that information into account and seeing that the negotiations are being conducted in private and are very sensitive and tenuous and also because I heard from Save Our Neighborhoods Action Coalition, they had also requested that I withhold, for the time being, my resolution.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Stone moved to approve the minutes of Monday, October 17, 1983.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. DePasquale
Mr. O'Malley	(Pres't)

The Meeting was opened by the recitation of the pledge of allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

PRESENTATIONS

Mr. Givens:

If I could have some of the following people come up who are in the audience, Mr. Pete Cochran and Mrs. Barbara Nee. Would you please come forward?

Mr. Givens presents

Bill No. 4005 WHEREAS, on November 4, 1983, the All-Ireland Athletic Club of Pittsburgh will celebrate its 50th Anniversary at the Irish Center of Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, as stated in the original constitution dated December 22, 1933, the main objective is to preserve the Irish culture which has been passed down through generations and to bring the Irish of Pittsburgh together in order to encourage sociability and friendship among them; and

WHEREAS, the All-Ireland Athletic Club is an Irish-American non-profit organization which promotes Irish music, Irish stepdancing, and Irish athletics in the Pittsburgh area.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Members of the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, hereby recognize and congratulate the All-Ireland Athletic Club of Pittsburgh on its 50th Anniversary; and acknowledges the great contributions of the All-Ireland Athletic Club to this City and its citizens.

Mr. Givens moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Givens:

I'd just like to say a few words. I'd like to mention that one of my first contacts, all of us coming from various ethnic backgrounds, even our parents, did not have the fire and the steel and the ethnic backgrounds when you get into the second and third generation. One past president of this particular Irish organization was that of Mr. John Lanahan who lived up the street from me. John was one who instilled in me great thoughts in the Irish community and brought me into the Irish people as many of them migrated to this country and go off the boat and came over here. I owe a lot of my particular feeling about my own ethnic background to this particular group. I wanted that to be so indicated.

I'd like Pete Cochran who is a past president of the Irish Athletic Club to come up and say a few words on behalf of the association.

Mr. Cochran:

On behalf of the All-Ireland Athletic Club, I'd like to thank City Council for this opportunity and for this resolution, for recognizing the All-Ireland Club in the City of Pittsburgh.

Again, we thank all the people who have come to our affairs in the past, not only Irish but every other nationality.

We thank the City of Pittsburgh and City Council for recognizing us here today. Thank you.

Mrs. Barbara Nee:

I'm very proud to be here today to receive this resolution. Thank you very much.

Mr. Givens:

Also in the audience out there is Steve Connelly. Steve is the present President of the organization. Also Mike Flaherty who I don't see here today.

Thank you very much and thank you, fellow Councilmembers.

The Chair:

I can't let this opportunity pass without saying that Mr. Pete Cochran who was just one of the honorees, is a long time friend and it's certainly a pleasure and an honor to see him here today. Congratulations to him and the All-Ireland Athletic Club. Pete and I, back in the old days, lifted a couple cups of tea together so we're very close friends.

Mr. Flaherty:

I have a resolution here welcoming the National Federation of the Blind of Pennsylvania to town on Saturday for their annual convention.

Mr. Flaherty presents

Bill No. 4004 WHEREAS, the National Federation of the Blind of Pennsylvania is the largest organization of blind people in the nation, comprising of more than 50,000 members nationwide; and

WHEREAS, their endeavors and dedication to the task of promoting the social and economic well being of blind people in our society has made great strides; and

WHEREAS, they are breaking through the barriers of discrimination by creating a positive image of blindness and aiding the blind in becoming first class citizens; and

WHEREAS, the National Federation of the Blind of Pennsylvania is holding their state convention in Pittsburgh.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Members of Pittsburgh City Council extend a warm welcome to the National Federation of the Blind of Pennsylvania; and let it be known that we stand by their side in their struggle to overcome the ignorance of discrimination.

Mr. Flaherty moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Flaherty:

I'm glad we didn't have any controversy on welcoming this group here. I would want to ask that Terry McManus, who is an old classmate of mine from Central Catholic, to come up here. Terry is the second Vice-President of the State Association and he's also the President of the Blind Association's Chapter here and he cares to say a few words.

Terry McManus:

Thank you, Councilman Flaherty and members and friends of City Council. I call you all friends because I feel like I know you all personally from watching you on the cable. It's a really great exposure.

I want to thank you all on behalf of our State President, Pat Commorodo, and our Board of Directors and members of the Greater Pittsburgh Chapter and I also want to thank you for giving us this opportunity to reach countless numbers of blind people in the Pittsburgh area who are not familiar with our organization.

I want to extend a warm invitation to everyone to come to our state convention which will be held at the Hvatt Hotel this weekend to find out a little bit about the Federation. Also, if any blind people are having problems with discrimination in the areas of employment, housing, purchase of insurance, or receiving public accommodations, contact us and we'll be glad to assist you.

Thank you all very much.

The Chair:

Terry, is your dad here today?

Terry McManus:

No, but he's probably watching it on TV.

The Chair:

I just want to say that Terry's dad and I also go back a long way. We were long time members of Central Catholic's Men's Club. Terry, at the time, was I think a freshman at Central Catholic High. It's a great honor to have him here today.

Terry McManus:

Thank you.

The Chair:

Although Michelle Madoff is not here to present the resolution, I understand the officer is here and apparently he can't wait around here all afternoon and I can understand why. So, we're going to present that resolution in regards to Police Office William G. Ford.

Michelle Madoff presents

Bill No. 4006 WHEREAS, on October 9, 1983, Pittsburgh Police Officer William G. Ford witnessed a man dropping 80 feet from the 62nd Street Bridge into the Allegheny River in an attempt to take his own life; and

WHEREAS, Officer Ford commandeered a boat to the scene and heroically leaped into the river to save the drowning man after the man refused to grab onto a life preserver and rope; and

WHEREAS, gallantly overcoming fear and apathy, Officer Ford risked his own life in his successful pursuit to save the life of a total stranger; and

WHEREAS, the City of Pittsburgh is proud to have on our police force a man of such great fortitude and courage.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mavor and the Members of Pittsburgh City Council, on behalf of the citizens of Pittsburgh, hereby recognize and commend Police Officer William G. Ford on his gallant display of courage in risking his own life to save the life of a drowning man.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this Council expresses gratitude to this brave man for exemplifying, through this heroic deed, the dignity and value of life.

Mr. Robinson moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Officer Ford:

Members of Council, ladies and gentlemen, thank you very much. It's an honor to be here and to be recognized like this. I don't feel it was anything real heroic; it's things that other officers do every day of their life and they will continue to do for this proud City. I'm proud to be a member of the City police force and a member of the City of Pittsburgh.

Thank you.

The Chair:

Again, congratulations, Officer Ford. When Michelle Madoff sees that picture she's going to kill both of us.

Michelle Madoff presents

WHEREAS, the number of child snatching crimes is steadily increasing throughout the State; and

WHEREAS, this horrendous crime against young people, especially those who are unable to defend themselves, can cause permanent psychological damage to these children; and

WHEREAS, considering the potential harm this crime inflicts, the present punishment is much too lenient; and

WHEREAS, stiffening the penalty for this crime can result in a reduction of occurrences; and

WHEREAS, the General Assembly of Pennsylvania has before it Senate Bill

No. 1083, which would make child snatching a felony.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the members of the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, hereby supports the measures set forth in Senate Bill 1083 making child snatching a felony instead of a misdemeanor and strongly urge the General Assembly to support and work for its passage.

Michelle, we already presented your resolution because we understood that the Officer had to leave. So, if you care to say a few words in regard to those resolution go ahead.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I had an emergency this morning.

I understand that we already made the award to Police Officer Ford and that's been taken care of and we're also passing the bill today so that that will be taken care of quickly.

On the other one, I guess I will find out what happened and why the people weren't here. They may not have been notified. It's a very traumatic time of year.

The Chair:

Okay, thank you.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, I'd like to say something about my remarks from the Municipal Record from Monday, October 31, 1983. I had voted incorrectly on Bill No. 3853. That bill was a resolution authorizing the professional study of Pittsburgh Department of Police and Fire and the Emergency Medical Service for having that professional service come in and look at them and their physical fitness program, some $12,000. For some reason, I did not catch that last week and I'd at least like my remarks to so indicate that I was not in favor of that bill. That was Bill 3853 of last week. I voted yes for it and I just want the record to reflect that I voted no for it today. I know I can't change my vote, that meeting is done and over, but I want the Municipal Record to so indicate that I voted no for Bill 3853.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't understand. Are you saying you're changing your vote or remaining as it was? Are you changing your vote to yes?

Mr. Givens:

I can't change my vote.

(MR. GIVENS REMARKS ON BILL NO. 3853 - 10/26/83)

Mr. Givens:

Well, my purpose of discussion is the fact that you know there are so many programs out there, and all you have to do is buy a book. I think the Administration's position would be if they want to introduce such an athletic program etc. I don't personally feel that we need a study in order to have a physical fitness program within the City of Pittsburgh. That is an Administrative prerogative. This Council can legislate it if we feel within our prerogative if we had that particular privilege to do so.

In talking to the policemen, etc., many of them already do what they want to do. It has been argued and discussed in this Council on past years that as long as a person can perform his duties, that that person can do with his body as he so desires, otherwise, if he is overweight a little bit, that is his problem as long as that condition does not keep him from performing his particular task.

To spend $12,000.00 to tell us that we need a particular program or do not need a particular program, I think is asinine.

I would like to make one comment, and you know you have to go back on experience and for 20 some years, I was in the position of where what you're asking for was a very vital thing. It was on a voluntary basis. Many studies have been conducted. Aerobics is something where there is a book you can pick up for $1.50. You can do it right in the firehouse, any place, and if a person wants to stay physically fit, there is nothing that says he won't have a heart attack sooner if he stays fit than if he is not. The injuries that are incurred do not mean a person is in shape or not in shape. We all have to appreciate that our young people, as well as our older people out there, they work, and they work very hard at their particular job. We have tried this within the U.S. Government, in the military services for some 20, 30 years. They have gone to a voluntary program. They give the people all the information they need. They don't even really have to provide any equipment if you use the normal aerobics or just go out and do your own exercise program. The aerobics is designed so that a person can use a handbook and know exactly what his own physical fitness, with age and weight, what exercise he can do. The worst thing you can do is force somebody to do physical exercise without medical supervision unless you have some type of a guide. That guide is on the market. I would say if you want to spend $12,000.00 to buy this particular guide and give it to our people and ask them to perform or use this as a guideline, I think we would go a lot further than to say $12,000.00 for a study.

I think all of us here have to appreciate that people who are under stressful jobs, including this Council, that you should get out and do that physical exercise. But you should do it under some type of a guideline. That has already been established. Twelve thousand dollars, in my estimation, is going to come back and tell us that we should administrate just such a program.

Mr. President, as I reiterated, and I don't want to belabor the point, but 20 some years I was under such a program. On a voluntary basis, on a non-voluntary basis, and with annual physicals and everything else. And what I'm trying to say is there are books on the shelf today. You don't need a $12,000.00 study. I can already tell you what a physical fitness exercise is all about and what it does accomplish.

I would indicate that if you want to buy, and the City distribute these to our police officers and our fire fighters and paramedics, or anybody, then they should certainly do so. But to ask for a study, it's very obvious if one takes care of their body, it's going to help them in times of physical injury. Your recuperation time, in many cases, is more rapid.

I could argue the fact of exercise versus nonexercise once a person gets over a certain age. Some doctors will tell you to do it, and others will tell you to do what you have to do but don't do anything that you shouldn't do. In other words, you should not do something that is going to cause your heart rate to go up to a certain point where you're going to have a heart attack.

Again, I feel that $12,000.00 is useless in a study in the fact that we have studied this issue in our society time and time again. Let's buy some of the aerobic books that are the best that anyone can come up with and distribute them to our workers and leave them do what they must do to keep their own bodies in the shape that they know they must be in in order to do the job that they are required to do. I'm voting no on the $12,000.00. I'm voting no with the idea that I still like physical fitness programs, but no on this appropriation.

Mr. Robinson presented

Bill No. 4000

Report of the Committee on Planning, Housing and Development for November 2, 1983 transmitting two ordinances and sundry resolutions to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 3447

An Ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance amending the Pittsburgh Code, Title Nine, Zoning, Article V, Regulations Applicable to 'GROUP LIVING FACILITIES', Chapter 993, Conditional Use Exceptions, Section 993.01(a)A-43, by requiring the sponsor to file semi-annually for recertification with the Bureau of Building Inspection and by requiring one representative on the Regulatory Board from the local community."

Which was read.

Mr. Woods:

On Bill No. 3447, after last Wednesday's meeting and taking into account Councilman Robinson's concern, Mr. Stone and Mr. O'Malley and a few other Councilmembers, I'd like to make a motion to amend this bill by deleting Item E and inserting a new Item E which reads: "Each group living facility shall have a five member Advisory Board which shall deal with community concerns and other areas that the sponsor of the group living facility shall decide to seek advice from the Advisory Board. Two of the Advisory Board members shall be appointed by a responsible local community organization or organizations or from residents from the immediate neighborhood. The Board shall meet quarterly and issue reports with recommendations to the sponsor of the group living facility to alleviate any community concerns. The sponsor shall, in its semi-annual report to the Bureau of Building Inspection, list concerns of the Advisory Board and how it responded to the Advisory Board's recommendations."

Mr. Stone seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Also,

Bill No. 3448

An Ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance amending the Pittsburgh Code, Title Nine, Zoning, Article I, Administration, Chapter 903, Definitions, Section 903.02(g), 'GROUP CARE FACILITY' by excluding persons nineteen (19) or more years of age, who are criminal offenders, serving a sentence; or persons who are under arrest and/or awaiting trial for felonies or violent crimes of any degree."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Woods, on Bills 3447 and 3448, are you including personal care boarding homes? Do they fall under this as well? Remember that we had practically passed that in Council until our good Republican friends in Oakland came in and twisted arms and we voted against that being an entrepreneurial type of business, a few little senior citizens living in the community which was a disgrace. Really a black mark on this Council.

What I want to know is, are these personal care boarding homes included in here?

Mr. Woods:

I pushed very hard myself for the personal care boarding homes. To my knowledge, it does include them also. All group living facilities.

Michelle Madoff:

I think in the coming year, 1984, we ought to take another look at that because I can't see where that's going to do any harm and if necessary, we might even write an amendment and say "non-profit".

Mr. Woods:

I agree with you but —

Michelle Madoff:

I think that really was a black mark on this Council. One that I'm deeply ashamed of. I can't imagine anyone not voting to keep senior citizens, and some of us are rapidly approaching that age, in the community where it will be less problem and not have to be supervised than some of the youngsters who are on prison release programs and so on.

Thank you.

Mr. O'Malley:

I think they're just upgrading the system, Michelle.

Why don't you check into it and find out what they're planning to do with it and why. I would imagine there's a central record kept at the hospitals or with the person's doctor or something.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, I'd like the Municipal Record, dated Monday, October 24, 1983, that's No. 41, back on page 1449, third paragraph, where it indicates that Michelle Madoff indicated that I voted for ATC which, if you can recall, was around the cable companies on a vote that had nothing to do with cable. But the fact is, and I want the record to so reflect, that I have never voted for ATC. When that vote was taken, there was only one company's name that appeared on the agenda and that was of Warner Cable and, of course, I was that one person who did not vote for Warner Cable. Where she comes in that I had voted for ATC indicates of the morality and the Guinness Book on something that ATC was doing some three or four years later, I have nothing to do with and the fact that when I put bills in to protect the morality of our cable that Michelle did not vote for that particular bill and that was mimicing the state's obscenity law.

So, I just want that correction on the Municipal Record. Mike, I don't know if you can put it in with this when you rewrite this at the end of the year or just insert it in today's Municipal Record. Whichever is most appropriate.

The Chair:

Thank you, Mr. Givens.

Mr. Givens:

May I say that that was taken during the vote which meant that I did not have the opportunity to respond to it because the vote had already been taken and I could not respond to it at that particular time.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, there were four companies recommended to us. We could have picked any one out of a hat and probably got a good company. My first preference would have been, as I stated before in the Post Gazette, which had the lowest rate on the lowest level. The Mayor was away, remember it was the big playoff and we had two days to vote. We were given only two names. We were given Warner and ATC. The Advisory Committee was fighting very, very heavily for ATC. I put names in an envelope as to how I thought the vote would go and I was very wrong. I thought ATC was going to take it. Warner took it. I was the third vote; there was a vote for Warner, a vote for ATC and a vote for Warner. That's the order and the sequence and if Mike would like to pull the record you will see that that's how the vote went.

Mr. Givens:

No. Pull the record.

The Chair:

I don't really think it matters how we voted three years ago or four years ago —

Michelle Madoff:

I think it was relevant to the statement that was made the other day. If we're going to talk about pornography, we're going to worry about companies that show spermathons.

Mr. Givens:

Michelle, if you want to worry about pornography, go back and check your voting record.

Michelle Madoff:

I have another item, Mr. President, instead of dealing with the nonsense that Mr. Givens gives out because it's a lot of nonsense. You're holier than thou and you're offensive.

I think the most important thing right now to be concerned with is that a great union leader has passed on. As you know, he had his sixth bypass. That's Lloyd McBride. I think it would be very appropriate if we had a moment of silence. He's going to be buried in St. Louis. As you know, my administrative assistant, Carmen Gunther's husband is Lloyd McBride's administrative assistant and they called me at 8:30 yesterday to borrow a car. They've been really on the go and they're really exhausted. Things are very difficult there and I just thought it would be respectful of this Council to honor his memory.

The Chair:

Could you all rise for a moment of silence for the late Lloyd McBride, please.

I don't think any of us can say enough about Mr. McBride and his great record. Tragically, he's taken from us at really a young age. It's going to be a blow to the steelworkers, especially in these troubled times.

Thank you.

Mr. Givens:

As far as Mr. McBride, I have great sympathy for his family. I've known many people to go through that operation and it's very trying.

Mike, I need a letter to go to, I think it's the Parking Authority or it could be that of the Treasury Department, City of Pittsburgh, in regards to parking meters being placed along the Penn Avenue corridor from 45th Street to Mathilda, north side of Penn Avenue. That's along the Allegheny and Saint Mary's Cemetery. I see the poles in there right now and that's why I ask that they stop what they're doing.

Mike, I need to have someone from your office possibly check the Municipal Records to find out who has the authority to put parking meters on the City streets and roads and does it have to come before this Council for any approval or disapproval and if not, why not? Here is an area that, along the cemetery, you know, this hospital has been zoned, as we know, with the parking permit around there where you cannot park; if you do, you're fined some $25 and people have told me about those fines. It's right but it's a new system and we're trying to break it in. I think it's right for St. Francis Hospital. We have parking at St. Francis, which is overtaxed if everyone would use it. Where in God's name are people who can't pay a dollar or two dollars for parking going to park adjacent to a hospital? This is one area along the Penn Avenue corridor where people could park. There were no homes there. It's a cemetery. I think some of the people from the hospital who work there, some people who come to visit patients there, park and walk, in many cases, I'm talking about a four to five block area. Almost a six or seven block area from the hospital they're putting parking meters up. There are no businesses there that would be hurt. The people who live adjacent to Penn Avenue on the southerly side have the parking zone permit in that particular area. Those businesses along there have yellow lines marked for their businesses for people to come and go and for their own vehicles to come and go. There's no reason to put parking meters along this area here other than to penalize those people who cannot even afford the cost of putting in a meter and walking seven blocks to visit somebody, probably one of their family members, in the hospital.

I ask that these meters stop being put in; Mike, that someone come before us from either the Parking Authority or the Treasurer's Office and explain what is happening and what is going on. If you would at least make a call today and tell them to stop until they can at least come in and brief Council.

Thank you.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President and members of Council, I've had some concerns over the last year about what type of development, mainly economic development, the City was going to be initiating in the Hill District. As Council will remember, some time ago there were some pretty extensive plans made to redevelop that area around the Civic Arena, to do some development up along Fifth Avenue and also to do some development along the Center Avenue corridor which, in fact, links our Downtown development to some things in the upper Hill.

I'm particularly concerned now, in as much as one of the major developments in that area, the Phoenix Hill Shopping Mall, is still closed. We do not have any time schedule as to when it will be open. We have no indication as to who the new developers are going to be. We have the Fifth Avenue High School still sitting vacant, abandoned, deteriorating, after almost a year and a half of it being turned over to a developer. And we have no major economic development in the Hill District itself.

Members of Council probably have received a book in the mail called the Hill District Plan and Development Guidelines which was prepared by Onque' Harai Associates. These consultants were hired by the Urban Redevelopment Authority and worked in conjunction with the Hill District Project Area Committee.

I'm terribly concerned, one, because of the statements I've already made, but also we're doing a lot of development on the Southside, we're doing a lot of development on the North Side. We're doing a lot of development in the Manchester area. But we're not doing any development in the Hill District. It would seem to me that if we are indeed concerned about developing the Downtown and surrounding areas, that we're going to have to have some development in the Hill. I think it would be instructive for this Council to get some sort of report from our Planning Commission and URA and that that report be prepared for us by the time that Planning and URA come before this Council to request 1984 budget appropriations. I do recognize that there are many reasons why developments do not move forward in a timely fashion, but it seems to me that over the last five or six years, we could not identify any major economic development activity in the Hill District. We could not identify any major economic development activity around the Civic Arena. I think that it's essential that we get some perspective as to where we need to be going and what we're going to be doing in 1984.

The people who live in the Hill District, I think, on several occasions have expressed their concern and interest to work with developers in that area and I think we ought to take advantage of that opportunity to do what we can as a City government to stimulate it. Millions of dollars have been spent preparing land, building houses and hiring consultants, but the actual revitalization of this area lies dormant and the shopping center is a setback.

I would appreciate if the City Clerk could send a communique to the Planning Department and to URA relative to putting together some sort of progress report and also an action report. Where are we going to be going in '84 in terms of developing the Hill District and that area surrounding the Civic Arena. We need some specifics. These guidelines and these proposed plans are fine; I think they're a step in the right direction. But we're going to have to take some aggressive action.

Also, if we could have by this Wednesday some update on the Fifth Avenue High School and the Phoenix Hill Shopping Mall. I know we're going to have a post agenda that's going to address this issue but I would hope that URA and Planning would bring us some specific information. When is the shopping center going to open? Who is going to operate it? When is that total mall complex going to be turned over to a developer and what other kind of development is going to occur there? When are we going to move forward developing the Fifth Avenue High School site? Who is going to develop it and what kind of commitment does the City have to make to move forward? I think those two things will give us some perspective on Wednesday as to where we are and, hopefully, by the time we come to budget considerations, Planning and URA will be in a better position to let us know what is going to happen in the Hill District.

Mr. Woods:

Bill already brought it up but I got an awful lot of calls on the Fifth Avenue High School and to my knowledge the City is paying to have it boarded up time and time again. They go over in there and clean. We know there's been a lot of problems with that school; young people going in there and drinking. In fact, they found a body in there recently.

Bill, did you say there was going to be a post this Wednesday.

Mr. Robinson:

It's my understanding that Mr. DePasquale has arranged a post agenda to deal with the Phoenix Hill Shopping Mall only.

Mr. Woods:

Then can we have one for the following Wednesday to deal specifically with the Fifth Avenue High School? A long, long time ago it should have been done. Somebody got a little deal here and the City keeps picking up the bill.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, I'd like to join in that for the reason that I think the Fifth Avenue site was given out on a rather conservative price, maybe not conservative but a cheap price, with the understanding that it was supposed to be developed.

I've heard that there's some plans in order but there has not been any action on it and I think that the request is in order.

Relative to the Phoenix Hill site, it's my understanding that they did, unfortunately, what they had to do in order to eliminate the debt obligations that were there and that was to foreclose. It was not on any perspective purchasers but rather, regretfully, what they had to do. It's my understanding that was done and they're trying to get it opened again. But I think the concern that Councilman Robinson makes about some expeditious action is in order and I think we ought to, likewise, press for its completion.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I need some clarification. I don't know whether we need it from the Legal Department; perhaps Mr. Stone, as Finance Chairman, could answer my question.

There's two parts. It begins with, do we have an arbitrator, have the contracts with the police, the fire, etc. gone to arbitration as yet? We're getting very close to D-Day.

Mr. Stone:

To my knowledge, they have not gone to arbitration yet; they are still in collective bargaining. As I was quoted, I am hopeful that, as I mentioned a year ago, that we had $14.3 million in salary and employee benefit increases and that I am hopeful that some of those increases, heretofore was, I think, about nine percent, is not in expectation in the year of 1984, so that we can maintain an effort and at the same time be fair with our employees. To my knowledge, there has been no breakdown yet in collective bargaining and arbitration follows a breakdown in that process.

Michelle Madoff:

At what point would they be going to arbitration? What happens if it isn't done by the end of the year? Do we just carry the budget into the following year?

Mr. Stone:

You would still carry in hopes that you would do that expeditiously. But I think what always happens is that they try to do that before the end of the year so that all contracts are closed. At least if they see they're deadlocked, they would then ask for arbitration to resolve the same.

Michelle Madoff:

Do you think that if they have to go to arbitration it will be done by the end of the year?

Mr. Stone:

That depends, Michelle.

Arbitration takes a little bit of time as well. I'm hopeful that there's going to be a collective understanding between the Administration and labor this year. We have some trying times and everybody ought to take that into consideration and, hopefully, come to a mutual understanding.

Michelle Madoff:

That was the first part of my question. The second part of my question is a statement and that is that it is my understanding that in both industry and in labor, I know personally of a number of labor leaders who have taken a 20 percent cut in salary over a three year period of time; I know that corporate executives have taken big cuts in salary, perhaps not large enough, and certainly employees are taking large cuts in salary. We have a dichotomy here in Council in that five members get $32,500 and four get $27,500, or maybe it's the other way around. When we get to vote on salary, there seems to be the feeling among this Council last year —

The Chair:

Excuse me, Michelle —

Michelle Madoff:

I'm trying to get some information.

The Chair:

Yes, but I'm wondering where you're going.

Michelle Madoff:

If you'd let me talk you'd find out where I'm going.

The Chair:

I think you're out of order. I don't think we should discuss Council's salaries or anybody else's at this time.

Michelle Madoff:

Why not?

The Chair:

I don't think we should.

Michelle Madoff:

What's the secret? You don't want the public to know what's going on?

The Chair:

There's no secret about it. It's going to be done openly like it always is.

Michelle Madoff:

I need some information before we get to vote.

The Chair:

This isn't the place to get that information. You'll get the information at the meetings.

Michelle Madoff:

It will be too late. It will be after the fact. The important thing that I'm trying to get at is, is there a possibility, Mr. Stone, of evening out all of the salaries at one level, whether it's $27,500 or $32,500, whatever it's going to be, and then the following year, opening up the Charter and going to a referendum to see whether in place of the large perceived grab by the public, because there is no increase each year on the cost of living, going to the concept that Councilman Flaherty originated which was whatever the cost of living would be. For example, you just made a statement that you're asking the police and the firemen to, perhaps, not go for nine percent. Maybe they'll go for five percent, maybe for three, maybe for four. I don't know what they're going to go for. I'm not arbitrating that contract. But certainly Council should not be going for more money than what the people working in the City and putting their lives on the line are going for in light of the fact that we are in a recession and in some cases a depression.

The Chair:

Michelle, first of all, we don't know what the arbitration is going to award —

Michelle Madoff:

But we can't wait until we go in the back room and vote.

The Chair:

We have no choice but to wait. That's when we'll vote; not now. You're out of order.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm always out of order when I talk about the pocketbook of this Council.

The Chair:

You know darn well you're out of order. You know it doesn't belong here at this Council meeting right now because we're going to discuss that for two full months coming a week or so from now.

Michelle Madoff:

When are we going to discuss it?

We're going to go in the back room for one hour before we vote. That's how it happens.

The Chair:

It's going to be done in the open, not in any back room. The Sunshine Law says that we're not allowed anymore. The bleeding hearts don't allow us any private meetings.

Michelle Madoff:

We always vote without the news media there too.

Would you care to answer my question, Mr. Stone?

Mr. Stone:

I'm following the Chair and the Chair tells me I can't.

Michelle Madoff:

Do you have any objections?

The Chair:

I feel that you're out of order.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't think that I'm out of order. We're on a time frame.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, when you're ready I have a motion relative to the next meeting.

The Chair:

I just want to add that tomorrow is Election Day and certain of our people are running and I want to wish them all luck. Obviously the editorial section of our newspaper don't love them but I feel the general public still does.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, I'd like to move to reschedule Wednesday's Finance meeting from 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

Don't we have the Legislators scheduled for a hearing at my request and at their request to discuss a lobbyist?

Mr. Perry:

Yes, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

Will we then continue to have our hearing with the Legislators with reference to getting a lobbyist into Harrisburg which they want and they also want someone to review legislation?

	(Pres't Pro tem)

The Meeting was opened by the recitation of the pledge of allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

The Chair, Pro tem:

Would Councilwoman Masloff and Councilman Robinson please escort the Mayor into Council Chambers?

I would now like to introduce to you Mayor Richard Caliguiri.

Mayor Caliguiri:

Thank you.

Today's presentation of the 1984 Budget marks the seventh time that I have had the opportunity to discuss with City Council and the people of Pittsburgh the overall financial status and well-being of the City.

In the last few years we have been working against the pressures of an unyielding economy which has continually challenged and threatened our economic survival.

Many large cities have found themselves in precarious financial straits including New York, Boston, Cleveland and Detroit; yet Pittsburgh has succeeded in avoiding the crises faced by other cities.

The fact that we have continued to manage the City's fiscal affairs without a deficit can be attributed to our willingness to make the difficult decisions required to maintain our financial integrity and economic vitality.

Two-Year Focus

In preparing budgets over the years, it has become increasingly apparent that the fiscal and administrative problems of city government have become so complex that it is no longer practical to examine such problems solely on a one-year basis. The decisions we make today will have an impact beyond a single year. To meet this changing trend, I instructed the Finance Department at the outset of this year to provide long-range financial projections on an ongoing basis.

So, you will find that as I review the contents of the 1984 budget, I am deviating from the past practice of concentrating only on the coming year and will also discuss the challenges confronting us in 1985.

The Past Two Years

To better understand the next two years, it is helpful to review some of the financial and administrative decisions and developments that have occurred over the past two years.

As you will recall, 1982 was a particularly difficult but eventful year for all of us. A tax increase was required to close a substantial revenue/expenditure gap that year.

It was also the year the City undertook the first phase of a reorganization in which . . . all housing and economic development activities were centralized into the Urban Redevelopment Authority;

. . . the Finance Department was created and an expanded Budget Office was relocated there;

. . . the City instituted curbside refuse collections;

. . . the Fire Department was reorganized through a squad system which enabled more firefighters to arrive at the scene of a fire more quickly.

Compared to 1982, the 1983 budget was expected to be less eventful with no reorganizations being undertaken and no tax increases required.

However, first glances can be deceiving; during 1983 the full effect of changes initiated in previous years was felt for the first time.

— Renaissance II continued its rapid pace in both the neighborhoods and the Downtown area at least partially due to the expanded activities, programs and assistance of the Urban Redevelopment Authority.

— As a result of the PGH-40 filing requirements, the City collected approximately $4 million for the 1982-1983 period.

— A thorough review of our past bond issues by the Finance Department enabled the City to refinance a portion of our debt resulting in savings in excess of $6 million over the next two years.

— The curbside refuse collection system permitted us to eliminate 15 routes representing an annual savings in excess of $1 million.

— An expanded Budget Office has enabled us to review budget requests more thoroughly and to assist in improving the operating efficiencies of the departments.

These improvements are at least partially responsible for the surplus that we achieved last year and that will again be realized in 1983.

In addition to these developments, 1983 will also be remembered for a number of major events including:

— the opening of the first section of the New Zoo with natural exhibits for lions, leopards, tigers, rhinoceros, and Asian and African waterfowl;

— the creation of a $1.7 million one-time Emergency Jobs Program which provided employment opportunities for some 170 unemployed City residents;

— the continued success of the Pittsburgh Clean City Committee campaign;

— the opening of One Oxford Centre while both the PPG corporate headquarters and One Mellon Bank Center neared completion;

— the receipt of an additional $7.1 million in Community Development funds through the Federal Emergency Jobs Bill which financed a variety of programs to expand employment opportunities, provide low interest business loan programs and increase our infrastructure repair program; and — the long awaited opening of Pittsburgh's streets which have been blocked by subway and building construction since January, 1982.

All of these events have marked 1983 as a year to remember.

The 1984 Budget

The budget before you today is similar to the one in 1982 in that it calls for the next phase of the major reorganization necessary to centralize and to improve upon the operating efficiency of City government. It also is a reflection of the 1982 budget in that these proposed changes will have far more than a one-year impact.

The 1984 budget is unlike the 1982 budget, however, in two critical areas.

First, this budget includes an increase of less than three percent over the previous year's operating expenditures which represents the smallest yearly increase in the last ten years.

Secondly, and most important to all of us, unlike the 1982 budget, the 1984 budget has been balanced without raising taxes.

It was absolutely necessary for us to avoid a tax increase in 1984 for several reasons.

City residents already are carrying a substantial tax burden. In addition, the School District has indicated it may be necessary to raise school taxes next year, making it more imperative for the City to avoid imposing a double tax increase on our taxpayers next year.

The unfair overload of taxes on City residents, to a degree, is a result of having to provide services to the entire metropolitan area. As the late Commonwealth Court Judge Harry Kramer wrote, "The people of this country must come to realize that in order to save the cities, which perform functions which make this country work, the cities cannot continue to provide services to nonresidents without some kind of compensation." Elaborating further on the types of services provided, Judge Kramer wrote, "It is sufficient to point to the provision of . . . fire and police protection, to the use of the streets, sewers, water, and other utilities; to the use of . . . hospitals, universities, colleges, museums, aviaries, libraries, zoo, and conservatory, none of which facilities pay taxes."

Nonresidents who work, shop and utilize City services and facilities enjoy all of the benefits associated with an urban area without sharing the responsibility of financing their costs. This is an established and documented fact. As I have repeatedly stated, it is time that suburban legislators cease their near-sighted and parochial posture on the matter of the non-resident municipal service tax.

How a Tax Increase Was Avoided

Our ability to hold the tax line can be attributed to three factors — a dramatic decrease in the rate of spending, budgeting the entire 1983 year-end balance, and this administration's continued aggressive policy toward collecting outstanding revenues.

1. Holding the Line on Spending

A widely publicized report by the Pennsylvania Economy League indicated that over the past six years the City's spending had increased at an annual rate in excess of 10%. The report recommended that the City reduce its overall growth in expenditures to 8% or less. We have more than met that challenge — the 1984 budget exceeds the 1983 budget by less than 3%. Yet despite the fact that we have held the line on spending for 1984, we will still provide the same high level of service next year that Pittsburghers have become accustomed to. It should also be pointed out that had this budget increased by the past year's rate of 10% the City would have been facing a revenue/expenditure gap of approximately $20 million.

The reduced growth in the operating budget was a result of many of the activities already mentioned — elimination of 15 refuse routes, refinancing of existing debt service, and a more intensive review of departmental spending.

In addition, in 1984 the City is asking its unions to settle for increased wages which are in line with the reduced rate of inflation that the nation has experienced over the past 12 months. It must be recognized that the City's full medical coverage benefit largely insulates its employees from medical cost increases which have been a driving force behind the current increase in the inflation rate.

It was reasonable to expect higher wage settlements when inflation was high and the economy was strong. However, in these difficult times of high unemployment, bankruptcies and union concessions, low wage settlements or even wage freezes are justifiable.

Furthermore, it is important for all government employees to realize that we cannot expect to place ourselves in a situation where we become better off than those for whom we work. It is simply not fair to expect settlements which exceed the past year's national inflation rate when to do so results in increasing taxes on the already overburdened taxpayer.

The City has set aside a reserve for unsettled labor agreements that is sufficient to finance a modest wage increase — one which is consistent with the national inflation rate.

I will also recommend to Council an increase for non-union employees after union settlements have been reached.

2. Budgeting the Year-End Balance

The spending controls first put into place in 1982 and utilized in 1983 have enabled us to end the year with an estimated ending balance of approximately $14 million. While this represents a decline of $6 million over last year's surplus, it still represents the type of healthy financial condition that we must portray to the rating agencies to maintain and perhaps even to improve our bond rating.

The estimated $14 million balance is being used to avoid increasing taxes in 1984. There is a popular misconception that the surplus represents "found" money and can be used to finance additional spending activities.

However, nothing can be further from the truth.

The fact of the matter is that we will end the year with $6 million less than when we started. In 1983 the beginning balance was $20 million while in 1984 it is projected to be $14.1 million.

Thus, our expenditures exceeded our revenues and unless we can reverse this trend a tax hike in the near future is unavoidable.

3. Revenue Enhancements

The City will continue to pursue with increased vigor the collection of all revenues which it is owed. The City has begun the process of comparing the PGH-40 earned income tax forms to the State Income Tax list. This will enable us to begin to collect these taxes from those City residents who filed a State tax form in 1982 and 1983 but did not file a City return or reported different earnings to the two taxing bodies.

The City has embarked on an aggressive parking enforcement program to insure that all parking fine revenues owned to the City are collected.

A Tax Receivable Section is being established in the Finance Department. Working in conjunction with the Law Department, this newly created section will insure that delinquent taxes are aggressively pursued and collected.

Together these revenue enhancement initiatives should result in increased revenues of at least $3.0 million in 1984.

Further Reorganizations

The reorganizations which took place in 1982 clearly have had a positive long-range impact on the City. As important and as dramatic as the 1982 reorganizations were, I believe that the proposed 1984 reorganizations will have an even greater impact on the future of this City.

Accordingly in 1984, I am proposing the following:

1. the establishment of an independent Water and Sewer Authority to undertake an ambitious capital improvements program;
2. the creation of a new Department of Engineering and Construction to centralize and modernize the capital construction activities currently split among four departments;
3. the elimination of the Department of Lands and Buildings and the transfer of its functions to other departments; and
4. the reorganization of the Supplies Department.

Let me explain to you specifically what these proposals encompass:

1. Water and Sewer Authority

Earlier this year, the City received a report from a consulting engineering firm which indicated that a massive $150 million capital improvement program was necessary over the next seven years in order to repair and modernize our water and sewer systems. Recognizing that these capital expenditures were well beyond our financial resources, we engaged Price Waterhouse to examine the feasibility of establishing an independent authority to operate these systems on a businesslike basis and to undertake the necessary improvements.

While the full report is not yet available, the preliminary results indicate that an independent authority can be created to undertake the necessary capital program. While there is not doubt that rates will need to increase to finance this capital program, it is only fair that the users of the systems should finance the improvements. Furthermore, it must be pointed out that City water customers have enjoyed rates far below those normally found in Allegheny County and throughout much of the nation.

It cannot be overemphasized that our abundant water resources represent a vital asset that most other major cities do not have. In order to maintain this long-range competitive advantage, we must make immediate improvements to the system. Many other cities, such as New York, are experiencing crises in their water systems brought on by years of neglect. We cannot allow that to occur here in Pittsburgh. Modernization and repair costs cannot be avoided - they can only be deferred. The responsible approach is to improve these facilities now before the costs escalate beyond our means.

We will be sending the Price Waterhouse report to Council within the next few weeks. The 1984 budget has been established assuming that the Water and Sewer Authority will be created on May 1, 1984. Thus the current Water Fund will exist for the first four months of next year. After that point, the Water Fund will be eliminated and the Water Department will become a part of the General Fund. All current employees will remain with the City and the Water and Sewer Authority will reimburse the City for the functions performed by the employees of the Water Department and those employees in Public Works who operate and maintain our sewer system. I am recommending that our current Water Department Director, Richard Cosentino, become the Executive Director of the new Water and Sewer Authority.

2. Department of Engineering and Construction

Effective January 1, I am proposing the creation of a new Department of Engineering and Construction which will centralize all engineering and capital construction functions in a single department. The new department will consolidate the activities which are currently performed independently in the Departments of Public Works, Water, Parks and Recreation, and Lands and Buildings.

By centralizing these activities under one department, we expect to avoid interdepartmental problems that have plagued us in the past and to streamline and modernize the entire capital construction program. It is my expectation that the new department will benefit the City's massive capital improvement program by ensuring that the major projects are completed on schedule and within budget.

I am proposing that Paul McDermott, who is currently the Assistant Director of Engineering in the Department of Public Works, be confirmed as the Director of the new Department of Engineering and Construction.

3. Department of Lands and Buildings

A separate Department of Lands and Buildings will no longer be necessary under the proposed reorganization. The real estate function of the department will be transferred to the Finance Department so that one department will now have total control of the acquisition, maintenance and disposition of City-owned property.

The engineering and capital activities will be transferred to the new Department of Engineering and Construction. The maintenance and custodial activities will be transferred to the Department of Supplies.

I am requesting that our current Director, Daryl Smith, be confirmed as the new Director of the City's Department of Water. Taking action on this request immediately will permit the current Director, Richard Cosentino, to work full time on the establishment of the Water Authority.

4. Department of Supplies

The Department of Supplies will be reorganized and renamed the Department of General Services. The tow pound and photo lab will be transferred to the Police Department where they logically belong. The maintenance and custodial functions of the Department of Lands and Buildings will be assumed by the new Department of General Services.

Each of these four reorganizations represents a major change to City government as we now recognize it. These changes are necessary if we are to continue making the kind of progress that we have made over the last 6½ years. Just as it took two years to recognize the full significance of the 1982 reorganization, the impact of the current reorganization will extend beyond 1984.

1985 Outlook

Early in 1983, the Finance Department presented me with its financial projections for 1984 and 1985. At that time we were projecting a $10 million gap in 1984 and a projected $25 million deficit for 1985.

By taking all of the administrative actions already described, we have eliminated the $10 million gap for 1984 and reduced the 1985 deficit to a projected $20 million.

Let me emphasize that this does not mean that we will be raising taxes by $20 million in 1985.

Instead, it presents us with the challenge of having a full year to do "whatever it takes" to control costs and improve revenues in order to reduce and possibly even eliminate the projected deficit.

The summary of the proposed 1984 operating budget and the projected 1985 revenue - expenditure gap is included in the submitted budget.

One major cause of our financial problems stems from the fact that there has been essentially no growth in the assessed values of real estate. In spite of the tremendous growth in property values over time, especially in the Downtown section, City-wide assessments have been increasing at an annual rate of less than 1%.

In an attempt to reverse this trend, I am instructing the Law Department in 1984 to challenge the assessment of any major building which is clearly underassessed. A study of major real estate transactions over the past two years in the Downtown area of the City revealed a gap of more than $100 million between selling prices and assessed market values. It is our expectation that an accurate reassessment of the properties in the Central Business District would result in increased revenues of at least $2 million for 1985.

A second area of concern is the frightening growth in the costs of providing employee fringe benefits, particularly those related to health care costs, which have doubled over the last three years. For this reason, I have instructed our Finance Department to undertake a study aimed at containing our fringe benefit costs.

A third area of concern is the debt service costs associated with our capital program. This administration is fully committed to the repair and replacement of our infrastructure, as evidenced by the proposed major increase in capital expenditures for our water and sewer systems and the magnitude of the capital program for roads and bridges over the past three years. However, in an effort to reduce the debt service costs associated with financing the capital program through the general fund, I will instruct the new Department of Engineering and Construction to establish a goal to reduce the level of the City's annual borrowing while continuing to finance all necessary improvement projects. Furthermore, it is my belief that by 1985, the improved efficiencies of this newly centralized Department will enable us to avoid costly overruns and schedule delays, which in the final analysis will result in savings to our taxpayers.

A fourth area where improvements must continue to occur is in the area of tax and revenue collection efforts. With our PGH-40 program and increased auditing capabilities, we have made significant progress in collecting revenues owed to the City. We must continue to enhance our revenue collections through modern cash management systems, increased auditing capabilities, systematic monitoring of all outstanding receivables and increased enforcement efforts against all delinquent taxpayers. Even more important that the additional revenue generated by these procedures is the fact that the failure to take a hard line in these areas results in having to increase taxes on the law abiding citizens to cover the lost revenues uncollected from tax evaders.

Finally, I am instructing the Budget Office to continue to work with all departments to improve efficiencies and to control costs to enable us to end 1984 with a surplus. The only way that this can be done is to spend less than what has been budgeted. Due to the fact that the 1984 budget is less than 3% larger than the 1983 budget, this will be no easy task. However, it must be done to give us any change of submitting next year's budget without a tax increase.

1984 Capital Program

With respect to the 1984 Capital Budget and the 1984-1989 Six Year Development Program we will continue to place a major emphasis on neighborhood improvements. As has been the case in the past, approximately 75% of the total capital program is targeted for projects and programs that directly benefit our neighborhoods.

Expenditures for housing programs continue to represent the largest single element of the capital program. Housing programs funded through this process include the Home Improvement Loan Program, the Rental Housing Improvement Program, the Low Interest Mortgage Program and the Neighborhood Reinvestment Program.

While the largest share of capital spending has been and will continue to be for neighborhood development, the unparalleled growth in the downtown area cannot be ignored or minimized. The private development efforts, which are in excess $2 billion in downtown construction, will result in 7 million square feet of new and rehabilitated office space, 500,000 square feet of commercial and retail space, construction of a new hotel and parking garages, an improved transit system of busways and a new subway, public park and public space improvements, and the reconstruction of nearly 50% of the downtown streets.

The City's commitment to the downtown portion of Renaissance II includes a $23 million allocation in the six-year program for Central Business District improvements. Projects include the reconstruction of Grant Street, Smithfield Street and Wood Street as well as the development of a comprehensive traffic signal coordination program.

Economic development efforts are not limited to the Golden Triangle. A combination of City, State and Federal Dollars will be used to support private sector economic development efforts over the next six years in the North Shore and Stadium area, Herr's Island, the Strip District and for a high-tech industrial and office facility on the former J & L property along Second Avenue.

In addition, the capital program provides for the rehabilitation and reconstruction of seven swimming pools and seven playgrounds; for the continued reconstruction of the Zoo and Phipps Conservatory; for the renovation of City fire, police and emergency medical services stations; for the purchase of new fire equipment; and for increased access to buildings for the handicapped.

Final Word

In presenting the 1984 Budget to you today, there are two essential messages that must be conveyed.

One is that Pittsburgh has come a long way since my first budget message.

Working together we have shown a willingness and an ability to make Pittsburgh a better place in which to live. Together we have increased our capital spending program and our commitment to maintain our infrastructure; we have reorganized City government to improve operations; we have reduced personnel levels where possible; and we have even raised taxes when it was unavoidable. We've made the tough decisions when we had to!

The other is that although we have, indeed, come a long way over the last seven years, we still have a long way to go if we are to keep the spirit of Renaissance II alive.

Each year will be a continual struggle to balance the budget and to improve management capabilities in order to reduce costs. I believe that the major changes proposed in the 1984 budget begin to take us down the road that we must travel together in order to keep Pittsburgh's financial house in order.

At this time, I am pleased to announce that I have been in close contact with the recently elected Mayor of Philadelphia. For the first time in many years, the Mayors of Pennsylvania's two largest cities have agreed to work closely together to solve common urban problems. For too long, these two great cities have been in opposition to each other.

The trust and friendship that we have developed will benefit not only Pittsburgh and Philadelphia but all urban areas within the State.

For as Ben Franklin so clearly phrased it on the eve of the Revolutionary War, "We must all hang together, or assuredly we shall all hang separately."

That is the challenge which confronts us as Pittsburghers and as Pennsylvanians. It is a challenge I will not shrink from. It is a challenge over which we must prevail.

That is my commitment to the people of Pittsburgh.

Richard Caliguiri
Mayor

Mr. Stone:

If I may, I would like to introduce the two Councilmen Elect, Mr. Steve Grabowski and Mr. Jack Wagner. I'd also like to introduce a man who has become our Councilman emeritus, Mr. Louis Mason.

PRESENTATIONS

Mr. Robinson:

Members of Council, it's a pleasure to be able to offer this resolution today on behalf of a young man who grew up in our City, here in Pittsburgh, and has international recognition now. The young man's name is Mr. John Wideman. He's an internationally reknown author and I think we should be duly proud of his work.

Unfortunately, Mr. Wideman is not going to be in the City until the 18th, which is this Friday. He will be here to speak at Community College, the Homewood/Brushton Branch, and is staying at his mother's, Mrs. Betty A. Wideman. Would she please come forward to accept this resolution?

I'd also like to recognize some of the other people who are here in the audience and who are part of the effort to honor Mr. Wideman. Mr. George E. Carter, who is the Director of the Homewood/Brushton Center of Community College of Allegheny County, Mr. Wayne Holt, who is the Director of New Options at Community College, Mr. Arthur Butler, the Assistant Director, Mr. Butler and I are fraternity brothers and it's good to see him here, Mr. James Allen, who is the President of the Student Government at the Homewood/Brushton Center of Community College, and Donna Woods, who is a member of student government there.

Also, there are two other distinguished Pittsburghers in our audience today, people who have worked very hard on behalf of this community, Mr. Walter Worthington, who is the Chairperson of the African Heritage Classroom Committee of the University of Pittsburgh and Mrs. Nancy Lee, who is a member of the African Heritage Classroom Committee.

We certainly welcome all of you here today.

Mr. Robinson presents

Bill No. 4042 WHEREAS, John Edgar Wideman was born in our Nation's capitol, Washington, District of Columbia and attended the Pittsburgh Public Schools, and graduated from Peabody High School; and

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Council of the City of Pittsburgh does recognize and honor the outstanding accomplishments of our "Native Son", John Edgar Wideman, and extends to him and his family our best wishes for future success.

Mr. Robinson moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Robinson:

I'd just like to mention two other things. One, this coming Friday, from 4:00 to 6:00, as I mentioned, Mr. Wideman will be at the Homewood/Brushton Branch of Community College on North Homewood Avenue. For those of you who would like to pay tribute to him and come out and here him speak, I think he would be duly honored.

We probably, in this City, have not had a person of his literary talent in a long, long time. He's an outstanding young man. I'm very proud to have grown up with him and been in this City when he was here.

Also, I failed to mention that Mr. Wideman taught at the University of Pennsylvania. The accomplishments that are listed in this resolution, I think, are outstanding. If you think on it for a long, long time, I think you will recognize that we have an intellectual giant in our midst and I think we ought to be very proud of him.

Mrs. Wideman:

I'd just like to say thank you, first from me and secondly from my son, John. He would say it much better but it comes from both our hearts. Thank you.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the bills?

And on the question, "Shall the bills pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. Robinson
Mr. Givens	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. Stone
Mr. O'Malley	(Pres't Pro tem)

AYES 7 NOES none

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bills passed finally.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

The Chair, Pro tem:

At this moment, if I may, I would like to caution everyone that we begin tomorrow with Grants and Donations on Budget '84. We will begin at 10:00. There is a list that you can get from the City Clerk of those who are already signed up to appear. I think all of you have a schedule by now; if you do not, you can also obtain that from the Clerk but you should have had it about a week ago.

In addition to that, I would be remiss if I didn't make a comment. I had the opportunity to be in San Francisco over this weekend and to ride the Bart System. I would just like to have this record reflect that that skybus which was originally intended for this community, we would have been riding it at the present time at the cost of $80 million. The present system that we have might be more defined technically as the LRT System but in my definition, it was an abortive skybus system. We are not in it yet; we will not be in it for another two years. Our cost at this time is $500 million. It's going to cost us four to five years of non-use, and some $420 million extra to be in the new LRT System.

I have nothing but praise for the Bart System. It is regretful that we don't have the same going at 90 miles an hour.

Mr. Givens:

I have a request to have Lou Gaetano, Ron Schmeiser, and George Charlton to discuss the installation of parking meters along the Penn Avenue Corridor between Mathilda and 45th Streets.

Mike, you had called them, Lou Gaetano had called them, and they're still putting them up. And they're all going to come down. If this Council has to introduce legislation as to where parking meters go in this City, I think we're going to have to do it. But right now it's between the Parking Authority and the Director of Public Works.

The Chair, Pro tem:

Mark those streets down and let me cover that at the Parking Authority meeting.

Mr. Givens:

I'd like to have a post agenda this Wednesday on it. Those guys are still doing it and I just can't believe it. The people out there don't want it and yet the City disregards what the people want.

Mr. Woods:

I'd like to clear up something. I made a statement last Monday when we passed the group home ordinance. Michelle Madoff asked me if that took in personal care boarding homes. I said that I assume it does. But it does not. It's just group homes. I want to clarify that.

Mr. Robinson:

I'd just like to mention to the members of Council in regard to the resolution that we passed for Mr. Wideman, that the African Heritage Classroom Committee, which is also sponsoring Mr. Wideman here in the City this weekend, will be hosting him for a lecture on Sunday, November 20th, at 2:00 p.m. in Bannet Hall, located on the corner of O'Hara and Zachary Streets. That's on the campus of the University of Pittsburgh and it begins at 2:00 p.m. Miss Nancy Lee is the campaign coordinator and Mr. Walter Worthington is the Chairman of the African Heritage Classroom Committee.

The Chair, Pro tem:

I would be remiss if I didn't mention at this time that our Council President, Mr. DePasquale, was on his way to this meeting and experienced some transportation problems.

Mr. Robinson moved to excuse Mr. DePasquale for absence from the meeting.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Woods

Council adjourned.

ONE-HUNDRED TWENTY-SECOND COUNCIL

EUGENE P. DePASQUALE President

PRESENT:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, could we please have a moment of silence for Fred Gaultieri who passed away this morning. Fred was a great labor leader and helpful to all, not just those in labor. He was really a wonderful man.

The Chair:

I'd just like to say that Fred Gaultieri was a long time friend of mine and Ben's and anybody who is in labor. He's going to be sorely missed.

Thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me. Those bills that were just read into the record, are they for the Budget process so that we open them up for discussion? I just want clarification.

The Chair:

Not at this time, no.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Stone, those bills that were just read in?

Mr. Stone:

They'll be coming up Wednesday.

Michelle Madoff:

No, I'm just saying it was just pro forma, that they were read in so that we can address them at a later date.

Thank you. I wanted to be sure I understood.

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

On Bill 4008, J-Jac Construction, I'd like to address the City Clerk. We have moved before this Council, repeatedly, that on all bills we don't get the XYZ or the Ace Company, we have the principles. In the future, I want to see a warrant in favor of J-Jac Construction Company principles who they are. Many times the principles own five and six companies. I want to see how business is going to be done, particularly since the Mayor has now formed a new commission, a new committee or a new department where we're going to have our engineers, architects, etc. on that department. I want to know how much stuff is going to go out for subcontracting and I want to see who gets the business. I think we all want to see that. It should be public information. I just used that one as an example. I don't care who it is. If it's not the owner's name, I want the principles on every bill. It was supplied to you a number of years ago. If it's too difficult to go back and check the record, which I think it is, ask the person supplying the bill to you to give you the principle which would make it easier for you because you don't have a crystal ball.

The Chair:

I'm abstaining on this bill for reasons previously given.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Givens	Mr. Robinson
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Stone

And there being two-thirds of the votes of Council in the affirmative, the bill passed finally.

Also,

Bill No. 4021

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution transferring the sum of $2,500.00 from Code Account 1102 Salaries and Wages, Regular and Temporary Employees Department of City Planning, to Code Account No. 1103, Miscellaneous Services."

Which was read.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, first I want to ask the City Clerk a question. Did you get any substitute account for Bill 4021?

Mr. Perry:

No.

Mr. Stone:

In that case, I move for 4021 to be recommitted.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

May I ask the reason?

Mr. Stone:

It's real simple. They don't want them touching these salary monies. They're to supply another account and they have not.

Michelle Madoff:

Okay.

Also,

Bill No. 4026

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution transferring $5,000.00 to Code Account No. 1042-1, Premium Pay, Information Systems Bureau of the Mayor's Office from Code Account No. 1043, Misc. Services."

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Which was read.

Also,

Bill No. 3993

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution approving a Conditional Use under Section 993.01(a)A-8 of the Pittsburgh Code, Title Nine, Zoning, Article V, Chapter 993 as amended, to Divine Providence Hospital for authorization to construct a two-story addition; a one-story receiving room extension and a one-story generator building on hospital property located at 1400 Arch Street, 22nd Ward."

If I may, ladies and gentlemen, these next three bills are of a rather sensitive nature and —

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, Mr. President.

The Chair:

Would you mind if I say something?

Michelle Madoff:

I just wanted to know if you wanted to finish the one bill and then go to the three which might take a long time.

The Chair:

What bill?

Michelle Madoff:

The one bill of mine. We might want to finish that and then go to the three bills. I have one bill in Water only.

The Chair:

Why would you want to come out of Committee to go to Water?

Michelle Madoff:

I just thought that because it might take a long time to deal with the others you might want to get this out of the way. It's a quickie.

The Chair:

No.

I just wanted to say that the following three bills, 4022, 4023 and 4025 are of a very sensitive nature. I realize a lot of you in the audience came in here today especially for those three bills but I want to plead with you, please, let's have no demonstration in regards to how these bills are voted. You're here in an orderly manner, keep orderly, and we'll try to conduct this business accordingly.

Thank you.

Also, with a NEGATIVE recommendation,

Bill No. 4022

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution approving a Conditional Use under Section 993.01(a)A(10) of the Pittsburgh Code, Title Nine, Zoning, Article V, Chapter 993 as amended, to the Alcoholic Recovery Center for an Institutional Facility for adult male recovering alcoholics located at 800, 814, 816 & 818 EAST OHIO STREET, 23rd Ward (DENIED BY THE PLANNING COMMISSION)."

Also, with a NEGATIVE recommendation,

Bill No. 4023

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution approving a Conditional Use under Section 993.01(a)A(44) of the Pittsburgh Code, Title Nine, Zoning, Article V, Chapter 993 as amended, to the Alcoholic Recovery Center for a Group Care Facility for adult male recovering alcoholics located at 420-22 TRIPOLI STREET, 23rd Ward (DENIED BY THE PLANNING COMMISSION)."

Which was read.

Also, with a NEGATIVE recommendation,

Bill No. 4025

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution approving a Conditional Use under Section 993.01(a)A(44) of the Pittsburgh Code, Title Nine, Zoning, Article V, Chapter 993 as amended, to the Alcoholic Recovery Center for a Group Care Facility for adult male recovering alcoholics located at 1216 MIDDLE STREET, 23rd Ward."

Which was read.

Mr. Givens:

Point of order. I think it's going to involve the City Solicitor. I'd like him up here for our counseling at this time before we get into discussion on these bills.

The Chair:

How did the City Solicitor get involved?

Mr. Givens:

Because we are talking about bills that are legal in nature and what we might do here might have to get a legal interpretation.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President and members of Council, on the bills that are presented today for our consideration, the particular bills in question, I'd just like to indicate that I have received a communication from the United Mental Health Incorporated from the President, Mr. Stephen C. Gordy. The reason I raised this issue before we vote and have any serious discussion on these bills is that I've indicated before that United Mental Health had worked very closely with the City Administration and this Council in putting together the original group home bill which is a model bill for the country. I have had correspondence with their task force on group homes in the past and they have been kind enough to suggest to us that they are willing to work along with ARC House, the Administration of ARC House, to try to resolve the problems that have occurred over the last couple of years, as well as requesting assistance from our Community Technical Assistance Center, which this Council funds.

I think these are two very positive efforts on United Mental Health's part and is another example of their sincere effort to help us in these difficult times with our group homes situation.

I would like to have a copy of this letter, the full letter, included in the record for today. I won't read the total letter but the two suggestions are included and I would hope that Council would see them as some attempt to resolve this problem.

(LETTER FROM UNITED MENTAL HEALTH INC.)

November 18, 1983

The Honorable William Russell Robinson
510 City-County Building
Pittsburgh, PA 15219

Dear Councilman Robinson:

We are sure that the spectacle of turning-out brain-damaged men and women into the City's streets is one which neither you, nor United Mental Health wants to see.

Because of this, we are writing to ask you to reconsider your vote, this morning, on ARC House's North Side facilities.

First, we want to reiterate our firm support for the legislative intent of the group home ordinance, and the City's efforts to bring group homes into compliance with the ordinance's mandates.

But our concern here (and we suspect that it is a concern shared by you also) is with the lives of those men and women now residing in ARC House facilities on the North Side.

We are aware that the City Planning Department has been attempting to work with ARC House in bringing its facilities into conformance with City zoning, fire and safety codes. We also understand that ARC House has not been able to cooperate as fully as possible because of financial constraints. (ARC House's per diem rate is $7.00 per day.)

With this in mind, we have approached ARC House Administration and have solicited from them a firm promise to cooperate with the City. In addition, we have strongly suggested that ARC House solicit the assistance of CTAC (Community Technical Assistance Corporation) for help with getting its affairs in order. We are also aware that ARC House is cooperating with ACT Housing of Pittsburgh in finding new quarters.

From these efforts will come a formal, deadline-delineated plan of action which will address Council's legitimate concerns about ARC House violation of City ordinance.

We hope that such a plan would help Council carry out its responsibility as well as be responsive to the neighborhood's concerns.

In the event, however, that you do not feel comfortable with this proposal, and do decide to vote in favor of denying ARC House occupancy permits for its

North Side facilities, we would ask that ARC House's administration be given adequate time to arrange for the transfer of its residents into other programs before it must close its North Side facilities.

It is important for you to know that ARC House residents are, for the most part, organically brain-damaged individuals who would have a difficult, if not impossible time, functioning on their own.

Chronic alcohol abuse has robbed them of much of their faculties, and in most instances, has made them dependent upon Social Security or General Assistance for support. If they are turned out on the street, they would lose not only the roof over their heads, but also, in the case of general assistance recipients, the food out of their mouths. They would be without shelter, and without any means to support themselves.

United Mental Health is prepared, in this instance, to pull together appropriate agency representatives to assist ARC House in a smooth transition for its clients.

We hope you will seriously consider both of these options before you cast your vote today. As we said earlier, we're certain that you do not want to throw helpless individuals out on the City's streets. We hope that our suggestions will be of some help in resolving the serious issues before you.

Sincerely,

Stephen C. Gordy
President
United Mental Health, Inc.

(END - LETTER FROM UNITED MENTAL HEALTH, INC.)

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, after Wednesday's vote in Committee on these three bills, I assume that most of my colleagues, especially Councilman Robinson, have talked about an extension. I have contacted, and Bill and I have discussed this thing all week up until today, I have contacted City Planning and the Bureau of Building Inspection for a 90-day grace period if these bills are passed today. That would include 30 days, once this bill was passed, that they could not accept any new tenants after 30 days and then 60 days to wind down.

The reason I am not asking, and I hope my colleagues do not ask, to put that in as an amendment to this bill because if we make it an amendment and they do not reach that 90 days, then we have a problem. If that 90-day period is not met at that time, then they can still negotiate for additional time.

I think that concerns all of us on Council and I think the people in the audience. I think that should alleviate some of the concerns we on Council have.

I'd like to add one more thing, if I may. These bills, since we're asking for the City Solicitor, have come from the Administration. They have been looked over by the City Solicitor. So, I don't see anything illegal about them and if they were, I'm sure he would have been here long before this telling us they were illegal.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'd just like to support Councilman Woods' position and also Councilman Robinson's position. To pick up on two small paragraphs from that letter from Mental Health Inc., it said, "Many of these people are dependent upon social security or general assistance for support. If they are turned out on the streets, they would lose not only the roof over their heads but also, in the case of general assistance recipients, the food out of their mouths and they would be without shelter and without any means to support themselves." I certainly don't think that's the intention of anybody on this Council.

Also, in support of the 90-days, they state here that the United Mental Health is prepared in this instance to pull together appropriate agencies to help the representatives and to assist ARC House in a smooth transition for its clients.

I'm wholeheartedly in support of Councilman Woods' amendment.

The Chair:

Did you make an amendment, Ben?

Mr. Woods:

No, no. I said that I did not want to make an amendment. I said that I have spoken to both departments. There is no amendment necessary. In fact, I'm against an amendment because if we made one, that would put more pressure on the ARC House and then they could not negotiate. It would become law. They would have to be out in that period of time. This way, I spoke to both departments and they said they would give them at least 90 days.

Mr. O'Malley:

This legislation, as it's written, says they have to be out in 30 days.

Mr. Woods:

But I've spoken to both departments and they are willing to help in this transition and give them the 90 days. It's not an amendment.

Mr. Givens:

Ben, that is my concern. The fact that these came up with a negative recommendation this past Wednesday and if we vote, you know, law is law is law. We're asking for a conditional use and many aspects on all of the care facility homes. I would make a motion, if we could, to hear from Mr. Chuck Cain who has been the Executive Director. I've heard from the neighborhoods, I've heard debate within the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, but from what I'm led to believe, there's 122 some people out there who are involved in this particular program, 99 of them here within the City of Pittsburgh, and there's others throughout the county.

Is 90 days going to be enough? I think the only person who can logically answer that would be Mr. Cain and, if there's no objection, I'd like for him to explain —

The Chair:

With the exception, Mr. Givens, is that you're opening this up to a public hearing.

Mr. Woods:

There is an objection, Mr. President. If one Councilman makes an objection, it's objected to. There was a public hearing and everyone had their chance to get up and speak.

The Chair:

If Council wants unanimously hear from Mr. Cain, it's quite proper. If they don't, -- There's one who is opposed and a couple more I guess. But it has to be unanimous.

Mr. Givens:

Okay. I'll abide by Council's rules. But the fact remains that if we vote on this by law, you know, this going back to the Planning Department and going back to other Departments, saying we'll give them 90 days of grace when in fact we are denying him these particular resolutions that are before us today. How can we deny on the one hand and on the other hand say we're going to give them 90 or even 120 days.

I think what we have to do here, Ben, and I'm just going by the law and maybe our Solicitor might be able to get up and give us some wisdom on this, I think if we say no today, if we give a negative vote, under the law this person has to be terminated. And when he's terminated, does he have fire protection? I know if I have a particular building and I do not meet the codes of the City of Pittsburgh, the fire underwriters will not insure me. The people who are insuring me for personal liability will not insure me either. So, where does Mr. Cain and his particular board and 17 years worth of hard work, where does it go if there's a tragedy that might happen among these several houses that he's occupying right now? The fact that you have denied him to come up here after 17 years of hard work, he's come to this point right now where in the letter from the United Mental Health they indicated that he has done a good job. He has tried to get some of these buildings. If you have not heard him in person, he has tried to get these buildings brought up to code. Financially, he could not do that. And the fact that we're denying him right now because of some problems down there, what happens to 99 some clients and residents that he has there who are in the audience right now and the many phone calls of compassion that all of us have received over the telephone these last few days when this final vote has come up?

I would like at this time, Mr. President, that we would have our Solicitor come up and advise this Council if we vote negative on this what it means and if we hold it for 90 or 180 days what it means.

Dante Pellegrini
City Solicitor:

I think the question is what happens if this bill was held for 90 days. Mr. Cain of the ARC House does not have an occupancy certificate and from the point of view as to enforcement action, I don't think it would make much difference. However, if it's a question of a 90-day extension or 120-day extension, we could do that administratively and work with them.

Mr. Woods:

Could I interrupt you for one moment, Dan? I think Dick misunderstood me. I am asking for denial of this legislation but I spoke to both departments and they are willing to work with the ARC House and its people to give a 90-day period in the transition. I didn't mean at all to hold this legislation for 90 days.

Mr. Givens:

If this organization wants to conform with the rules of the City of Pittsburgh, they can conform. Mental Health is saying --

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, let's hear Mr. Woods out.

Mr. Woods:

I am asking my colleagues to vote this legislation down. And then I am asking the Administration to work with ARC House in the transition period where they will shut down without hurting anybody and give them 90 days to do it instead of 30 days. That is what I am asking.

The Chair:

Ben, maybe I don't quite understand.

Mr. Woods:

A lot of people don't understand this.

The Chair:

You're saying that you're willing to give them the 90 days. What's the problem making an amendment and including it in the legislation, whether it passes or fails? If it does fail, the 90 days is in there.

Mr. Woods:

If we make it 90 days then what choice do they have? What do they have to negotiate with?

The Chair:

I don't follow you. If you're saying no, they have to get out, they not going to be able to negotiate anyway.

Mr. Woods:

I'm asking my colleagues to vote this legislation down, as is. Then the Administration, I am sure, the particular departments involved, will work with ARC House to work a solution out, to help them move.

Mr. Pellegrini:

You can't hold this bill for 90 days because it would die at the end of the year anyway because this Council ends in six weeks.

Mr. Givens:

Then in your infinite wisdom, what other suggestions can you make? Can we reintroduce it the first of the year?

Mr. Pellegrini:

What I'm saying is that the bill as written, if you vote in favor of it, that's a vote to grant a conditional use. If you vote against it, it's a vote to deny the conditional use.

Michelle Madoff:

Could we get clarification from Mr. Woods? I don't understand what he's saying to vote for it or against it. I don't understand his point.

The Chair:

Please Michelle. He's trying to explain something here.

Mr. Pellegrini:

The way the bill is written, if you vote in favor of the bill, you're voting to grant a conditional use to occupy the property. So, if you vote against the bill, the same way that you voted on Wednesday in the Committee session, you will vote to deny the conditional use.

Michelle Madoff:

Negative is a shut down.

Mr. Pellegrini:

It's in favor to grant the conditional use against the denial.

The other part of the bill where the problem with the ARC House is, is the building permit violations, which I understand are substantial. We would have no problem about working with ARC House for 90 days or even longer if there is substantial progress towards closing the properties down. Our major concern right now, I think from the Bureau of Building Inspection was the conditions of the property. But if we can alleviate those conditions, we can work towards a transition period even longer than 90 days as long as we know there's going to be an end. That's one thing that we always ask for, that we know that it will end at a certain point.

The Chair:

Mr. Solicitor, if I may. How would it effect the bill if we recommitted these bills for 90 days? We still could bring them up in the next 90 days and by that time they'll have been out.

Mr. Pellegrini:

No, because the bills die on the first Monday in January.

Michelle Madoff:

But it could be brought up next year.

Mr. Pellegrini:

The whole process would have to begin again.

Michelle Madoff:

With a public hearing again?

Mr. Pellegrini:

No, it would have to start at the Planning Commission and go all the way up. You see, the problem is that they have no occupancy permits at all now.

Michelle Madoff:

The more publicity they get the harder it is to rent space. So, we don't want to keep doing this over and over again.

Mr. Pellegrini:

What I'm saying is that you have to do it over again because these bills die at the end of the year. This Council ends the first Monday in January of '84.

Michelle Madoff:

Unless we vote it down now and then we just give them a gentlemen's agreement working with your department to get out. Is that correct?

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's correct.

Mr. Givens:

I just want to keep it in the same line of questioning that I started out with, that's all.

Primarily, Chuck Cain has been down there for 17 years. You know, for 16 years nobody has said a damn thing about ARC House and what good work they have done for the community, the several thousand people who have gone through there, the lives that he has saved himself. All I'm asking for and it's before the Council of the City of Pittsburgh -- Sure we had a public hearing, but you know, there's a human cry, there's human need out there right now that's saying, "Help". All of a sudden we get letters from the United Mental Health, we're getting calls from probably the Commissioners, the Administration, everybody wants to work to make sure that ARC House and the residents there, are taken care of in some form or another. What's to stop ARC House right from today with the attention that has been brought to it, the financial problems that he has ensued over the last several years by not being able to conform to the various codes that we want him to bring the buildings up to, the fire codes and the safety codes. What if now, if someone wants to help ARC House to improve those particular buildings and that they be zoned properly. These particular bills before us are denying that particular problem solving.

On the other hand, Mr. Chuck Cain indicated to me that he wants to move out into Ohio Township. Well, if he goes out into Ohio Township, that's fine. I think reasonable people will have to say that he cannot do that on a 90-day period. If it takes him 180 to one year, I think that's what you were alluding to, Mr. President, that that might be an alternative for him. He knows possibly that that door here is being closed. If that door would open up, a new page would be turned in the 17 years of debt that this person has personally done and the organization that he's built up right around himself, if he can change the conditions, you know, if you have talked to this individual, you would have to know the fact that he was denied the opportunity of coming up here and speaking before the Council, I know we had the public hearing, but the fact that if you heard his story and what he's doing down there, I don't think we'd be in such a hurry to want to vote these things. I would suggest to Councilman Ben Woods and to others that we hold this for the 90 days if need be and hold it for another 90, even if we have to bring it back up in the first of the year.

Michelle Madoff:

You can't. The Law Department just told you you cannot do that.

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, if I may. I'm in complete sympathy but I think what you're failing to realize is that they did not conform over a period of years. This leaves the City of Pittsburgh wide open for all the other people out there who aren't conforming. Are we to say to them we're going to give you 90, 120, 180 days? What you're saying is quite logical and morally --

Mr. Givens:

If this City is going to give them another 90 to 180 days, who is liable then? We're liable again.

I say we should hold these bills, we have the right to hold them if we want to. I feel the 90 days would be enough. If Mr. Cain would say 90 would be enough, 180 would be fine, great. I can't see conceivably how he can move 99 some residents out of a housing in Pittsburgh to anyplace unless he has a building underway and almost completed instruction. Does he have that? The answer is no, he doesn't.

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, it's within your prerogative to ask for a recommittal on those three bills.

Mr. Givens:

I'm pleading here. If we cut them out, it cuts him from the opportunity of reevaluating his situation under today's circumstances, not during the public hearing when nobody was really — I have great sympathy for the people in the neighborhoods and the neighborhood organizations. But at the same time —

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, that's all well and good and we understand what you're saying. But if you ask for a recommittal we might be able to settle this thing one way or the other. We may get the recommittal today.

Mr. Givens:

I just gave my statement. I'm not making any motions or anything at this time. I'd like to hear from my colleagues. I had the floor and now I'd like to hear from them.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Woods, would you give me some guidance please? Do I understand clearly that you want to stay with your original intent of the bills but have a gentlemen's agreement that you've talked to the various departments, the organization, ARC House, is on notice that they have to move because if they don't we'll be back again. But you don't want to eliminate the fact that they must move because if you do that, what you're saying is by putting 90 days on and they can't get out in 90 days, you need 120 or you need 93 days, we put them on the spot. Yet you don't want to write in a 90-day extension because they may not be able to do it and as our Solicitor said, since we're out of session in six weeks you have to start the process again. By starting the process again you draw more attention to the problem of a good group that has done commendable work and makes it that much more difficult for them to find a suitable place because people don't want them.

So, if I hear you right, let me repeat myself. You're saying vote to remove them from location. However, we will not enforce that motion under a gentlemen's agreement, giving them sufficient time, being 90, 120, 160 days, but the community will know that we mean what we say, that all groups must comply with the rule. Is that what you're trying to say?

Mr. Woods:

That's exactly right.

Michelle Madoff:

Did you say that I was exactly right? Would you say that again, Mr. Woods? I hear that so seldom.

Mr. Woods:

You're exactly right. But I would like to add one thing. Mr. Givens made a statement that the Administration initiated this. They did not. I went to the Administration asking if we could do this with this extension. I want that cleared up. I just wanted to correct you on that point. But you are absolutely right, Michelle.

Mr. Givens:

The Solicitor indicated that the houses are in violation now, they're in violation tomorrow. If we vote no against these three bills it's still going to be no. I just talked to Mr. Cain, I just talked to his attorney. When he was put against the lamppost and had no alternatives he indicated 90 days. There's no way that he can do it in 90 days, there's no way that he can do it in 180 days. Where are we going to be, where is this Council going to be, 180 from now if we start action on these particular people? If he's in noncompliance with the zoning laws then let's give him the time to do it. If we vote this down then I think it's indicating a negative vote on what Mr. Cain and ARC House stands for and what the people that he's been trying to treat out there for the past 17 years.

I think now, Ben, seriously, it has been brought to light. The people in the neighborhood and all good people when they get together can find solutions to problems very, very quickly when they're brought to light. I thank you in your indulgence over in the North Side bringing this fact to light to the Council. But the end of the other side is what happens to the 90 some people. There's no place for them to go. He's saying that to me right now. There is no place for them to go. We had hearings here just the other day when they told us there was going to be some 1500 people. Forget about the people that the ARC House serves. There's going to be 1500 people walking the streets, homeless people, hungry people. Over there with Ted Kennedy and when he was here on the hunger pitch, you're going to find out what's happening. Fred Gaultieri didn't die because there was nothing wrong with him, he died because of the great impact that was being put on him and his union and everything else. The stresses today are tremendous. There's a greater need today than ever before for what this man is trying to do out there. There is unemployment rate that is unattainable and unacceptable within Allegheny County and with the Ohio and the Mon Valley. What are we going to do with these people, when their families break up and their homes break up and the men and the women start walking the streets, including the children, because there's no agencies out there to take care of it. If you think it's funny, just wait until this winter comes about and we hear just one story through our local media that tells us there's a child, a woman or man who's died on the streets of Pittsburgh because there was no place for him to go. We do not have the room today to house anybody let alone through people out. Our citizens must be compassionate for another time until we can get some help for the ARC House. If we don't do that, there's no place for these people to go. Period.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, it's funny that Councilman Givens was talking in regards to Senator Kennedy. Maybe he was aware that this was on the agenda because I was just told by my aide that he's on the phone.

The Chair:

Senator Kennedy's on the phone?

Mr. Flaherty:

Yes. He's in town. I supported him a lot so I guess he's calling up his supporters.

But I was remiss because I was not at the public hearing in regard to the ARC House's situation nor was I at the Committee Meeting when we cast the vote on this. I know the newspapers reported as being unanimous. It was unanimous, perhaps, of the people who were in attendance.

But I have a question of Councilman Woods and it's concisely, what is the major community opposition to the ARC House?

Mr. Woods:

No cooperation at all. That's the main thing and I can give the instances if you'd like them and I can give you the people if you'd like them also. Like Mr. Givens gave Mr. Cain, I can name names, meetings that they've had, they've had them with Planning and if you want the names I'll give them to you and I'll give you the instances also. Do you need all that?

Mr. Flaherty:

No.

Mr. Woods:

No cooperation.

Mr. Flaherty:

Okay. I have a question for our Solicitor. Could Council approve a temporary conditional usage on this?

Mr. Pellegrini:

There's no such thing as a temporary conditional use. A conditional use you meet a certain set of criteria.

Mr. Flaherty:

Like a half year conditional use?

Mr. Pellegrini:

I don't think so.

Mr. Flaherty:

Why not?

Mr. Pellegrini:

What you're saying in effect is that a conditional use is a land use type of permit. And what you're saying is that there's a certain set of criteria set for us in the ordinance. I don't have the criteria right here before me. If you meet those criteria, you're entitled to a conditional use no matter what. If you don't meet the criteria, you're not entitled to it. It's a yes or no decision.

Mr. Flaherty:

Okay. But there is a possibility that Council could vote for a temporary conditional use and then if someone wanted to contest that they could take it to court or the Mayor could veto it. Correct?

Mr. Pellegrini:

The question is whether or not it's legal or not. I don't know for sure but I don't think it would be.

Mr. Flaherty:

Well then, there's the option of someone taking it to court or the Mayor could rely on your researching it if it is illegal and veto it.

Mr. Pellegrini:

The problem with a temporary conditional use is — let me be a little more specific — even if we could, and I'm not sure, I wasn't asked this question before as to whether or not there was that type of animal that exists. But the problem with it is more of one of building and fire codes because even if a conditional use was granted, that's only zoning approval. The other problem with this particular occupancy from what I understand, is just as substantial as the building and fire code violations.

So, even if you granted a temporary conditional use, the only way that that could come into effect would be if they made the repairs that would be necessary to get a certificate of occupancy. When you grant a conditional use, you're saying that they are allowed to go in under the zoning ordinance of the City of Pittsburgh. Then BBI has to certify that they come into the compliance with the terms set forth in the building and fire codes. If they don't come into compliance, no certificate of occupancy can be issued and therefore, they're not allowed to occupy the premises.

So, that's the other problem. So even if you granted the temporary conditional use and even if it were legal, then the occupancy would still be illegal.

Mr. Flaherty:

Or Council could approve this conditional use and then in a half a year we could come back and we could revoke this conditional use.

Mr. Pellegrini:

No.

Mr. Flaherty:

Why couldn't we?

Mr. Pellegrini:

You have no power to revoke a conditional use.

Mr. Flaherty:

Does the Planning Commission have the power?

Mr. Pellegrini:

No.

Mr. Flaherty:

What if these people were to abuse the stipulations that gained them the conditional use?

Mr. Pellegrini:

I'm speaking just in general about conditional uses. There's other requirements in the ordinance concerning certification of group homes and group living facilities. But a conditional use, a certificate of occupancy is considered a property right and it runs with the land and it really doesn't run with the owner of the property. So, when you grant a conditional use or the Zoning Board grants a special exception of the variance and it's unappealed and it's final, it's good forever. Now, in group homes and group living facilities and I have to look at the ordinance as to what they apply, there's that certification that's required every six months before the Planning Commission. I'm not sure if some of this would fall in that or not. There's three different applications. Some of it I think would and some of it wouldn't.

Mr. Flaherty:

Would Councilman Woods have any problem in holding this for a week until our Solicitor is able to research these problems and give us a more specific answer?

Mr. Woods:

Yes, I do have problems because that means we have to recommit it and go through the Wednesday meeting again and come back here. I think this issue has been kicked around long enough by all parties concerned. We all had our time to ask questions, we had a public hearing, we had a Committee Meeting. Many times I miss Committee Meetings or I miss public hearings and I have to suffer for it. I will not ask that this bill be recommitted. Anybody else can do that; that's your prerogative. But I do have a problem with recommitting this bill. I think the issue is now and we have to bite the bullet like we have many times. Remember that, Tom. We bite the bullet and we vote. I think that's what we're here for, to vote this issue up or down.

Mr. Flaherty:

Yes but I don't think we have explored all the avenues. Granted, there is questions of convenience that are being used here. Granted, it would be an inconvenience for Council to hold it for another week; it may take up 10 or 20 minutes of our time. It may be an inconvenience for Council to table this and then start the whole process over again next year. But I think we can be inconvenienced easier than the residents of ARC House can be. They are really under the gun. With us, it is a partial occupational inconvenience. With these people, it is more than an inconvenience. It is a drastic, impediment, a drastic impact on their very existence. So, I think we should look at what the balance is that we are talking about. I think there's serious questions as to if this Council can have a temporary conditional usage or if this Council can grant a conditional usage and sometime in the future revoke it. I think the Solicitor has even said he's speaking in very general terms and I think this is an issue that is worthy enough that we can hold it at least for a week until we are more equipped to debate the technical aspects of this issue.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. Chairman, if I may. If you feel so strongly, Tom, about recommitting it, I suggest that you make a motion to recommit.

Mr. Givens:

I'll make that motion because that's what I was trying to get to from the beginning. I wanted other people to express their desires but Tom, if you'd like to do it, I'll second the motion.

Mr. Flaherty:

I don't care who does it. I would just hope that it is enacted and I think that when we vote we should just take into consideration the impact that this vote will very possibly have on the residents of the ARC House.

Granted, there is neighborhood opposition. But I think Council, I think good public policy has to balance opposition and we have to decide what is more of a priority and who has more at risk in this issue.

So, I strongly urge my colleagues to give a reprieve of a week to the ARC House. I can't see how this is going to even inflame anymore than passions are inflamed as far as community opposition.

The Chair:

I just want to caution Council that if we get a request to recommit and it fails, we're going into the voting. So, if you have any more discussion, do it now before the recommittal motion.

Mr. Woods:

I understand Councilman Flaherty's position and I hope that he will understand mine. We have had a public hearing, we've had a Committee Meeting and everybody in this room, this entire room, knows this just didn't happen today, it just didn't happen last Wednesday; it has been going on since early August. Every time we have a hearing and then we come up for a final vote, and if we get a lot of people coming here and saying I'm against it, all of a sudden after the preliminary vote in Committee on Wednesday, we're going to recommit and recommit on every controversial bill, we'll be here forever. This is not something that just came up today or even last Wednesday. This has been going on since August and all of us know that. And I respect all of my colleagues and their right to ask for a recommitment. But every time we're going to have a bill like this it's going to be the same thing. We had a public hearing, we had a Committee Meeting, everyone had their chance to say something, so we get a lot of people in this audience and we're all going to want to recommit. That is not proper; it's not the way it's supposed to be done. That is my opinion and I respect your opinions. But I hope that my colleagues vote down the recommitment and also vote down this legislation.

Mr. Flaherty:

Instead of putting the burden on the ARC House which has already been stigmatized, let's view this issue realistically. We are not giving the ARC House anything. We're going to give them 90 days to be stigmatized, 90 days further. What community is going to accept the ARC House after they have been stigmatized as they have been here in the City and in the future. I think something has to be done; I think there has to be a resolve to the situation. But I think the burden should be put upon the shoulders that can carry the burden. And this City can carry the burden. It can carry the burden a lot more easier than the residents of the ARC House can carry that burden. I think there's two very legitimate questions that can be resolved by the Solicitor in a week and they are questions of a temporary conditional usage and the question of can a conditional usage be granted and that sometime in the future be revoked.

The Chair:

Mr. Flaherty, I'd have to say that you've made yourself rather clear and I think the Solicitor made himself rather clear.

Michelle Madoff:

No, he didn't. He wants to answer a question.

Mr. Givens:

Ben indicated there was a public hearing on this. I checked again with the Chief Clerk and there was no public hearing on these three bills that are before us today. There was no, repeat, no public hearing. Michelle has been saying that there probably was a post agenda where most of our important work is done on this Council and I have to agree with her. Ben, was this a post agenda possibly?

Mr. Woods:

No, Mr. Givens, I think that you got false information from Mr. Perry. There was a public hearing on the ARC House

Mr. Givens:

No, no. On these three bills before us.

Mr. Woods:

Let me finish. There was a public hearing on the ARC House. In fact, it came as a petition to Mr. DePasquale, our President, and then we included not only the ARC House but all group homes and it dealt with the persons itself. So don't say there was not a public hearing.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. Chief Clerk, I'll address my question to you. Was there, as in all bills that come before us, was there a public hearing on these three bills?

Mr. Perry:

On these three bills, no.

Mr. Givens:

Thank you.

Mr. Woods:

But was there a public hearing called for and did we not get a petition from the surrounding residents of the ARC House for a public hearing? Did we have that public hearing?

Mr. Perry:

Yes.

Mr. Woods:

Thank you.

Mr. Givens:

Hold it. There was not a public hearing.

Mr. Woods:

There was a public hearing.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, if I may. I think it would be wrong for this Council on the record to give an extension of time because it would get back to the point that was answered. Relative to Mr. Flaherty, can you give a temporary conditional use, in effect, if you say you can operate for 90 days, are you not in effect saying that you're okay for 90 days and after that you're over? I think that's the thrust of Councilman Woods' comment, doing it administratively and slow enforcement rather than the other way.

I've listened to a lot of embellishment here and it's almost like somebody is evil in this room. I pretty much see this Council almost in the role of a police officer. The law says you can't steal, somebody goes out and steals, the cop grabs him and you say to the cop, "You're wrong". It seems to me that what we have here is an ordinance that this Council passed and it is the law of this City that you can't violate it and you can't function, even if your intent is good, unless you comply with the law. And in this particular instance, we have had every group home and asked them to comply. Those who complied, complied because they had to and knew they had to do it. A few have not complied. Worse, in the instance we have before us, we have an instance in which the community was up in arms about what happened and the individual charged says, "I'm going to run whether you like it or not." Then we have our City officials come in and try to get some enforcement and are told, "I'm going to run whether you like it or not." And City Council in Committee last week indicated that they were not going to permit it and the answer in the newspaper was, "I'm going to run whether you like it or not." You have an open defiance at this particular time.

It would appear to me that the one who reacts and does the enforcement is not the one who is the evil person but rather the one in violation of it and I think we ought to understand that. But I think we're also into another crucial issue. Are we prepared to say at this time because from it can come the kind of result I'm about to give. If any home that is now handling and permitted group homes, permitted eight convicts, if they decide because its necessary so that no one is out in the street to make it 21, are we prepared to say we shouldn't throw them out right away? If someone has a drug and rehabilitation program and only eight occupants are permitted in that group home and they go to 35, are we prepared to say, "Well, we don't want you out in the street because you're doing what's right"? Are we permitted now to say that we want to change the whole program? Because if you're well-meaning, then in that case we'll give you time. What we're having here is now saying to everyone an invitation, go ahead violate and we'll give you time anytime you do it.

I think that is totally incorrect. The kind of idea that Mr. Woods has suggested here relative to this particular ordinance, they're in violation, they have been in violation. They have not been in violation since Wednesday; they've been in violation since they started and we ought to understand that. And to chastise this Council because they are only complying with the laws that they set forth with total advertisement to everything, ARC House cannot say they're not aware of what our ordinances are, particularly with the kind of defiance that's been there. I indicated to someone that what should be done with Mr. Cain is we ought to go to the local drugstore and buy a five inch piece of tape. Ordinarily you put it across someone's mouth but I think in his case you have to wrap it around ten times for fear it may get through that.

You can't constantly be defying everyone and expect that someone is going to give you the olive branch. There's no question we should take care of the people who are involved here. But under this kind of relationship where you have a defiance of the law which is going to lead to every group home in this community getting an open invitation to violate, it seems to me it's incorrect.

I want to go back and say, at the expense of being repetitive, this City of Pittsburgh and this City Council has been most understanding and reasonable relative to group homes. We probably have the best group home philosophy and program of any City in the country. But it can only function properly if it operates within the grounds where we are not unreasonable affecting those people around it. I think it's time we understand that in that legal aspect as well as trying to change and make the person who causes the problem all of a sudden a saint and the one who enforces the law the devil.

The Chair:

Mr. Stone, I wasn't as broad as you but I share your sentiments and said that earlier.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, if the courts of this land, if the Legislature, the Congress, if everybody went by black letter law, there wouldn't have been any progression in this country since Columbus found it back in 1492. The law gives latitude and latitude is the law and is always flexible to social policy. It's flexible. It bends and it lives with the times. The law of 1980 is not the same law as 1880. Alcoholism in 1980 and 1983 is a disease. It's a disease. It's not a crime and it's not something that people do strictly consciously. It's a disease. It's just like if there were cancer victims over in those homes and we were going to put them out on the streets. Or if there were polio victims. It's a medical disease in 1983 and a social policy consideration that we have to take into effect. If this government is not giving society the proper homes, the proper care, the proper condition for people who are diseased of no being of their own, then this society, this government, has to bend its laws a little. It can't have black letter law on one hand and on the other hand say, "We don't have anywhere to put you but if we go to hell we're going to stick by this law and you're going out on the streets." I think it's wrong. It's callously insensitive to equate diseased human beings who are suffering by alcoholism with people who break the law for personal gain.

The Chair:

There will be no more dialogue. We're ready for a recommittal.

Mr. Woods:

I want to say one thing.

The Chair:

This is it. This is the last comment on this.

Michelle Madoff:

No it isn't because you cut me off.

The Chair:

This is the last comment.

Michelle Madoff:

You cut me off in the middle of a sentence.

The Chair:

You talked 15 times.

Michelle Madoff:

I have not, Mr. DePasquale. Don't tell me no.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. Flaherty has very shrewdly turned this around that we're against alcoholics. We are not against alcoholics or anybody else, cancer victims. We are against the operation of this facility violating City law for a number of years and continuing to do that. That is the issue; not whether someone is an alcoholic, a cancer victim, a drug abuser or mentally retarded. Remember, that is the issue here that you're voting on, not what the disease is. It's the person who is running this facility and the group that's running it, not the people who are in it.

That was very, very shrewd and you got the big applause that you've been trying to get for the last hour and a half. Clap for him again.

The Chair:

I'll entertain a motion to recommit.

Mr. Givens moved to recommit Bill Nos. 4022, 4023 and 4025.

Mr. Flaherty seconded the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion on the recommittal. Mr. Dan Pellegrini, please. You tried to respond and you were not allowed to do so; there was something you wanted to say. May I ask the question? Will you know more in a week than you know now? Is it possible?

Mr. Pellegrini:

The question that was asked and the question I was asked to go to research was whether or not there was a revokable conditional use and whether or not Council can issue a temporary conditional use. My only knowledge of ARC House in these bills prior to today other than reviewing the format was a request by BRI to institute an equity action because they were concerned about the building and fire code violations. As I stated to Councilman Flaherty, no matter which way I come down on both of those questions, you still have those building and fire code violations which we have to be concerned with whether it's someone granted a six month or a year temporary use. I think those present substantial problems.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Pellegrini, let me rephrase it. According to Mr. Woods, what he is saying is that he is not being heartless, he doesn't want to throw the people out but he wants to abide by the code. And he's saying that there's gentlemen's agreement that has been reached with BRI, the Building Code Inspection, Mr. Imhoff, and with the Administration, that they will allow them to stay for 90, 100, 120 days but that they know that they are under the gun and they've got to get out — they might even get out in 30 days if they find a place — and that you're not going to enforce, like we don't enforce most laws in this City anyway. Is that correct? Is that essentially what you're saying? We're going to pass the law to move them but you're not going to enforce the law?

Mr. Pellegrini:

What we would do is work with them for 90, 120, as long as —

Michelle Madoff:

But you would not push them out in the street?

Mr. Pellegrini:

If we arrive at an agreement —

Michelle Madoff:

Answer the question. Yes or no.

Mr. Pellegrini:

No, we will not push them out in the street immediately. As I stated previously, the policy of the City has always been if we find someone in violation and it's very difficult for them to correct the violation and there's hardship involved, we give sufficient amount of time to abate the violation. However, we want an end point. We don't want to say we'll come back to you in three years and tell you when we're going to move. We want a definite end point.

Michelle Madoff:

How do you arrive at that end point? If we pass the bill as Ben has introduced it today, will you sit down in a private agreement with Mr. Cain and say, "Mr. Cain, there's gentlemen's agreement between the City and you and we are putting you on notice that while we withhold the enforcement for 90 or 120 or 6 months or whatever, you know that at that time you've had sufficient time. Will there be a private conference?"

Mr. Pellegrini:

We would even do it more formally than that. What we would say is, for instance, if they wanted April 1 to vacate the premises, what we would do is say you can vacate the premises on April 1 but there are these violations, you know, put up smoke detectors, get materials away from doors to at least make it reasonably safe. We have two responsibilities. We have one responsibility under the zoning ordinance to make sure it's in compliance with the master plan. The other responsibility that we have is the building and fire code

Michelle Madoff:

I understand. Have you spoken to Mr. Cain to see if they have any plans to immediately make it relatively safe? Have you spoken to him?

Mr. Pellegrini:

No, I have not.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Woods, have you done that?

Mr. Woods:

No, I have not.

The Chair:

Mr. Givens has already said that they can't do it within the period of 180 days.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Stone, do we have any money available in the 1984 budget that could help out this agency that obviously needs help and is doing some outstanding work? Even though you don't like Mr. Cain personally? I think the issue is beyond personalities. Is there any money available for non-specified local option?

The Chair:

Clerk call the roll on the recommittal.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. DePasquale, you are being rude.

The Chair:

We're voting Michelle Madoff.

Michelle Madoff:

You are being rude.

The Chair:

You're out of order.

Michelle Madoff:

Try to be a gentleman. It's very difficult but try.

The Chair:

Call the roll. If they don't vote, they don't vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

I support this and I ask members of Council to support this too. We're dealing with a helpless community. I would hope that we give them one week a latitude and even if we are violating City laws, that is not the issue. There's higher principle involved. The law isn't the end-all on this issue. This Council has a responsibility. If it does not have writing in the warmth of a house to put these people in, then I think it is unconscionable to wrap oneself in the law with the strong possibility, with any possibility of these people ending out on the street who are in dire need of professional care. I vote aye.

Mr. Givens:

I vote aye on the bill and I'd like to indicate to my fellow Councilmembers that Mr. Cain, for 17 years, without any help from this City, without any help from this County, with not one dollar from this state, has been able to manage and help save the souls and bodies and minds of many thousands of Pittsburghers and now we are here today, and if it wasn't for the Allegheny County Jail and some inmates being in certain group homes within the City of Pittsburgh, I would dare to say that this individual, if he wanted to stay in Pittsburgh, possibly could have gotten some money and some fundings. Not one dollar, not even, Mr. President, from the corporate community, did this one man by himself, receive one penny. All the monies that are used for this ARC House come from the individual recipients themselves. As as Tom Flaherty so eloquently testified here today, we have a human need out there and if one week is the callous of this Council, then I dare say that we need this one week and I ask if there's any way possible then, within one week, if we might be able to solve some technical difficulties or put it in some type of language that will give these people out here and I will dare say the ones that are most needed today cannot be here today. They are laying on the bed over there in the several some houses which happen to be within the North Side community. I ask that the North Side community, and as Michelle Madoff indicated, do we have money in this Council? Where are these people going to go? They are mostly 70 percent, 80 percent, Pittsburgh residents. That's why I vote one week or 90 days, whatever it might be.

Michelle Madoff:

I support Mr. Woods and his concept and Mr. Stone that we have to say no at some point. I think ARC House is on notice that they have to get out; I think they're well aware of that. I think it's unfortunate that with the good work they're doing they have not come to Council in previous years, first for financial aid, I think it would have been forthcoming. I think it would be callous on our part not to wait one week; it will make no difference to make that decision. But, I would like to put a rider on that. Unfortunately some of us, for whatever reasons, the flu or moving or not being here, recovering from the election, were not here to hear some of the arguments presented at the hearing on ARC House. I would like a post agenda, a report from Mr. Dan Pellegrini, of what the Administration is going to do so that we know these people will not be thrown in the streets, but on the other hand, the citizens living in the North Side will know that group homes can run rough-shod over the community without the responsibility to the community. So, I'm voting for a one-week delay.

Mrs. Masloff:

I don't believe the situation is going to change in one week. I go with Mr. Woods, I think he has a logical solution to the problem. I think we can turn them down and give them 90 days, at the end of 90 days look at the situation again. I vote no.

Mr. O'Malley:

I certainly understand Mr. Flaherty's compassion and what he feels for these people, but I feel that one week would only give false hope. I think Mr. Woods has been very gracious in being willing to extend an additional 90 days. I vote no.

Mr. Robinson:

On Wednesday, I asked Council to hold the bills in question for a week to address some of the concerns that have been raised here today. It was rather evident at that point that there was no interest in holding the bills; and therefore I acceded to Mr. Woods' wishes, that we move forward.

Subsequent to that, I have had an opportunity to talk to representatives of ARC House and to Mr. Woods about this issue and was more than prepared to offer an amendment to provide 90 days to ARC House. I discussed that with Mr. Woods and we came to an agreement that, rather than amend the bill, he would suggest 90 days. I think his suggestion is reasonable. I'm sorry that Council at this point is not ready to act upon it. I don't want to belabor the point, but I just want to say that out of my sense of concern for the group home issue, not just those persons who have to use those facilities, but those who live in the neighborhoods where they are, and the people who operate them. I have attempted throughout this process over the last couple of years to try and keep my eye on the issue. I think Mr. Stone put it very aptly, what he said, this City has model legislation and is in the forefront.

However, I think that it is imperative that we do what we can to give everyone an opportunity to find a reasonable solution. One week is not going to cause any problem. I think within a week's time perhaps we all can calm down a little bit, and that we have to understand that extraordinary times require ordinary people to do extraordinary things, and hopefully within a week we can do some extraordinary things. I vote aye for recommittal.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Michelle Madoff
Mr. Givens	Mr. Robinson

AYES 4	NOES 5
--------	--------

VOTING NO:

Mrs. Masloff	Mr. Woods
Mr. O'Malley	Mr. Depasquale
Mr. Stone	(Pres't)

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the motion was defeated.

The Chair:

The question called for on the bills. I want to caution Council one more time. To vote a positive recommendation, you vote aye, and to oppose you vote no. Aye for the bill, no against.

Mr. Flaherty:

I have another amendment on this, but I need some clarification first. It's my understanding that this Council has no binding guarantee that the ARC Homes will not be closed tomorrow. We don't have anything written. We do not have anything legal. We do not have anything legal that would keep the City from closing the ARC House within 90 days, going out, closing it tomorrow, or closing it in 30 days. We don't have anything written or legal there.

I think this is an issue that Council has created. I think we're all part of the—

The Chair:

Tom, if I may, you've said all that. Now, if you have an amendment, let's get the amendment, please. You're going to stir this thing all up again.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, can I interject one thing? Tom, can I please? By all rights, the City legally can shut ARC House down today. They could have done it six months ago; they could have done it a year ago and five years ago. So, if they didn't do it at that time, what makes you think these three pieces of legislation are going to make them do it tomorrow if they haven't done it in over five years since they've been fighting this thing? Why do you think they'd do it in 30 days, or 60, or whatever? Now, they have no right to be open as it is, and yet they're there. They could have done it six months ago, whenever they wanted to do it. Now, come on, let's be a little realistic. They have been compassionate. The City has been working with them.

Mr. Flaherty:

I don't agree. I don't think the City has been compassionate at all in this matter, and they're coming down on helpless people. Just like this Council voted to exempt Shadyside and Squirrel Hill where the powerful and the wealthy of this City live. You exempt them from boarding homes, but you dump on helpless people.

The Chair:

Tom, let's have the amendment, please?

Mr. Flaherty:

I'm offering an amendment, and it is going to stipulate that within 180 days, which would be a half year's time, 180 days, that ARC House will have to vacate the premises as long as the City has a working alternative plan to place the residents.

Mr. Givens:

On the amendment, I'll second for discussion, but I would like to add in, Tom, as long as a concerted effort is being made by the ARC House to improve the conditions as required by the three bills that are before us.

The Chair:

Roll call vote on the amendment.

Mr. Flaherty:

The amendment stipulates that the premises must be vacated by ARC House after 180 days on the condition that the City of Pittsburgh has immediately provided an alternative care facility.

Mr. Givens:

And I second that, and make this additional amendment. As long as—

Mr. Flaherty:

I will incorporate your amendment.

Mr. Givens:

Okay, as long as a concerted effort is being made by ARC House to come into compliance.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, I would ask my colleagues once again to vote that amendment down. We have many times in this Council discussed about the overburden on the City with group homes and other facilities.

The Chair:

Mr. Woods, I think the amendment was rather clear. You're explaining the amendment again and why we should vote against it. That is the prerogative of Council.

Mr. Woods:

I know.

The Chair:

Why don't we get on with the voting.

Mr. Woods:

I think that my colleagues have a right, or I would hope that they would like to listen to me for something that I have to say concerning not only ARC House, but group homes. Everybody here knows that we're overburdened with them. If we make this stipulation for the ARC House, are we then going to say that, all the other group facilities in the City, if we cannot make it work for them, that we will provide for them if the county doesn't pick them all up? They don't pick up their share. I think everybody here had better remember that when they vote for this one.

The Chair:

Does everybody have the amendment clear in their minds? Roll call vote on the amendment.

Mr. Flaherty:

I support this because if this Council is serious and just not paying lip service to end 90 days taking care of the residents of ARC House, which I think it is. It's lip service. It's just going to lessen the blow of throwing these people out in the street in the cold of winter come February or March. That's when 90 days are. If this Council's serious, they'll commit themselves. They will bite the bullet right now on this vote and commit themselves. Put the burden on themselves, not on the residents of ARC House.

Granted, as Councilman Woods says, there is an overburden of group facility homes in this City, and I agree with that, but I think this City has to continue to be overburdened if it's going to insist on throwing people out in the street. I would rather be overburdened. As far as getting the County to get on this issue, then Councilman Woods, this City Council, Mayor Caliguiri, it's time we go to Commissioner Foerster and the new County Commissioners, and it's time that ARC House starts lobbying, and it's time that the citizens of the City of Pittsburgh start lobbying the County to take their fair share. Put it on the County, put it on the City; don't put it on the unfortunates of this City.

Mr. Givens:

I vote aye, and I would like to emphasize that when you think, Ben, of many of the non-profit homes and group homes that we have in the City of Pittsburgh, many of them have boards. Those boards consist of many dignitaries and the influential people of the City. I submit to you and to this Council that the ARC House has one board member and that's Mr. Chuck Cain himself and what we have to do, as Tom was trying to explain, get up to the 1983 laws, which we are now underway within this Council and update his particular board of directors and get people on there that can get financing and get the help that is needed in order to help these people that he's been helping for the last 17 years. That's the reason, I vote aye for this.

Michelle Madoff:

I just conferred with Mr. Pellegrini. He tells me there will be a contractual or a letter, and that we are now a matter of record, I have talked to Mr. Pellegrini, it is now a matter of record, because it will be part of this transcript, which is Monday, which is printed, and he has stated three times that we will not enforce the law, we will not push these people out like we have not with other group homes. They will be on notice that they have to go, and I personally will support Mr. Woods, and I presume Mr. Woods will be back here in 90 days, saying, where is ARC House; are they on the way out? Are they on their way out? What is the progress status? Will we have a progress status of what is happening?

Mr. Woods:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

And furthermore, Mr. Stone at the budget hearings, Mr. Stone--

The Chair:

If we may, Michelle, why don't you vote?

Michelle Madoff:

One moment please.

The Chair:

You've made yourself clear.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Stone, Mr. Pellegrini, please. Mr. Stone, during budget hearings do you think we could see our way clear as humanitarians to try to find some money for this very worthy cause? To help solve the immediate problems of fire, smoke alarms, because if we don't we may have that on our conscience. Could you answer that?

Mr. Stone:

If that's the will of Council.

Michelle Madoff:

Pardon me.

The Chair:

He's going to try to find the money.

Michelle Madoff:

You're going to try to find some funds to temporarily solve the problems.

Mr. Stone:

If that's the will of Council.

The Chair:

Come on, Michelle, vote.

Michelle Madoff:

I am voting against the amendment.

Mrs. Masloff:

No, I go with Mr. Stone's original recommendation that we give them 90 days and then take another look at it in 90 days.

Mr. Robinson:

I don't think that we should in any way suggest that Mr. Pellegrini or anyone else in the City not enforce the law. I'm going to vote against the amendment, but I don't think anyone should get the impression that I'm encouraging Mr. Pellegrini, Building Inspection, or anyone else not to proceed. It's my understanding that the matter is now being litigated in the court, and the court in part will determine what the City does. If Mr.

Pellegrini feels that he and Mr. Imhoff should move and close the ARC Houses tomorrow, then do that. I vote no on the amendment.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty Mr. Givens

AYES 2 NOES 7

VOTING NO:

Michelle Madoff Mr. Stone
Mrs. Masloff Mr. Woods
Mr. O'Malley Mr. DePasquale
Mr. Robinson (Pres't)

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the motion was defeated.

The Chair:

Roll call vote on the bills themselves.

Mr. Givens:

Point of order.

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, we're beyond discussion.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, a point of order was brought up here.

The Chair:

What's the point—

Mr. Givens:

In fact, is this particular subject, the bills, the three bills that we have before us in the courts of the City of Pittsburgh or the Commonwealth?

Mr. Robinson:

The issue is.

The Chair:

The issue, not the bills; the issue.

Mr. Robinson:

The issue of ARC House.

The Chair:

The issue covering them.

Mr. Robinson:

Yes.

Mr. Givens:

Well, that's what I'm asking. Are we in the courts today?

The Chair:

Not on these three bills, okay?

Mr. Givens:

Has the attorney for ARC House—have you made petition to the courts?

The Chair:

Look, Mr. Givens, that's just an opinion of Mr. Robinson. It has no bearing on our vote here. There's no bearing whatsoever.

Mr. Givens:

If it's within the courts, Danny, can we even vote on this issue?

Mr. Pellegrini:

No, they're not in the court.

Mr. Givens:

They're not in court. Thank you.

Mr. Flaherty:

Point of information. Is an affirmative vote for the negative recommendation?

The Chair:

An affirmative vote is for the bill. A no vote is opposed to the bill. We had a preliminary negative vote. To vote for the bill, you vote aye. To vote against the bill, you vote no.

Michelle Madoff:

Aye closes it; is that correct?

The Chair:

Pardon me?

Michelle Madoff:

Aye closes it with a gentlemen's agreement.

Mr. Woods:

No, if you vote no on the bill, it means the bill dies.

The Chair:

Five ayes, it passes. Five noes, it fails. Roll call vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

I am supporting the three bills and the reason--

The Chair:

Mr. Flaherty, I've been corrected. The first two bills require seven votes to pass. The third bill, five will pass.

Michelle Madoff:

Are we going to take them separately?

The Chair:

I guess we better take them separately.

Mr. Woods:

You mean we're going to discuss each bill again.

Michelle Madoff:

You have to, because it's seven on one and five on the other to pass.

Mr. Givens:

Yes, each bill has to be voted on separately, Mr. President.

The Chair:

No, they really don't.

Mr. Givens:

Yes, they do. You have five votes on one and seven on the others.

Mr. Perry:

You can take them in a package.

Mr. Givens:

For point of order to Council, where the Planning Commission has indicated in their decree that has been denied by the Planning Commission, it requires seven votes, and on Bill 4025, five votes are required for passage or failure.

The Chair:

Clerk, call the roll.

Mr. Flaherty:

I am supporting the three bills 4022, 4023, 4025, and I know that it is a futile vote, but it's important to keep in mind I think for the public record, what we are voting on. We are not voting on Councilman Woods' stipulation as far as the 90 days, because this bill is not amended. This bill is simply either granting the conditional usage or denying the conditional usage. So a vote against this—there's no language in here about a 90-day extension. You're relying on the good will of people for that 90-day extension, and so, I'm voting for the proposal even though I'm completely aware and willing to take the brunt of North Side opposition on this issue or anyone else opposed. I think there's a higher principle involved; and I think it's wrong to play with the people this way as if they're a ping-pong ball going 90 days, going 180 days. Until this City can provide adequate care, I think this City has a paramount obligation to take care of people that are stricken by alcoholism.

The Chair:

Are you voting aye on three bills,

Mr. Flaherty?

Mr. Flaherty:

I'm voting aye.

Mr. Givens:

I'm voting aye on three bills and for the same reason and not to be repetitious, but I feel that ARC House needs the type of guidance that this Council and this Administration and the people of the North Side and as well as the community at large can, and the expertise that they need in order to bring them up to compliance. It's too bad that we couldn't have had that 180 days ago. I think all of our problems would have been solved, and I would have to forecast that within 180 days, I think our problems will be solved over there one way or the other, but for the three bills, I vote aye.

Michelle Madoff:

Because I'm accepting Dan Pellegrini's word, and because it's a matter of record that they will not be evicted, that there will be a gentlemen's agreement agreed with the Building Inspection and with the Administration, I will give them a chance to act in good faith. There will be reports, Mr. Perry, I want one every month, the next three reports given to this Council as to the progress being made through Mr. Woods. Is that all right with you, Mr. Woods?

Mr. Woods:

It's fine.

Michelle Madoff:

I will vote no, because I think we have to support the communities as well as ARC House, but I will also work with ARC House people. Mr. Cain, if a number of your people would like to work with me about raising some money, Mr. Stone has said he will look for some money. Let's not have it just verbiage. Let's see if we can get it.

Mr. Robinson:

I'm going to vote no on 4022 and 4023, I'm voting yes on 4025.

The Chair:

No on all three bills.

Bill No. 4022

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution approving a Conditional Use under Section 993.01(a)A(10) of the Pittsburgh Code, Title Nine, Zoning, Article V, Chapter 993 as amended, to the Alcoholic Recovery Center for an Institutional Facility for adult male recovering alcoholics located at 800, 814, 816 & 818 EAST OHIO STREET, 23rd Ward (DENIED BY THE PLANNING COMMISSION)."

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. Chairman, if I might. I have three matters I'd like to discuss with Council.

The first matter, I think, is of grave importance. That is the condition of the Lemington Center. Council is probably aware that that particular facility is having some financial difficulty at this point, to the tune of $300,000 which they need immediately to address their financial situation. I am requesting that our Finance Chairman, Mr. Stone, review our financial status here in the City to see if there is $300,000 that we could make available to the Lemington Center on some sort of temporary basis. Also, the City of Pittsburgh has invested in Lemington Center approximately $3 million, $500,000 that this Council made available through a Community Development Block Grant allocation and $2.5 million which we made available through an Urban Development Action Grant. I think that it is incumbent upon us to protect our investment. That's one of the reasons I've asked the Finance Chairman to please see if there's $300,000 that we might have available.

Mr. Stone:

I already called the Mayor's Office this morning on that very issue to see what we might do. We're going to have some problems in a way but we still have to try to address it. You are correct, we have a major investment in that building and it doesn't help anybody to close it down. But one of the problems is that you can go for capital improvement, you can't go for operating expense. That's a difficult one. But I was already on that at 9:00 this morning.

Mr. Robinson:

I appreciate that.

I'd like to have a meeting, a post agenda, I've already asked the City Clerk to set it up for next Wednesday, where we can have representatives of the Lemington Center, the Mayor's Office, Council, URA and particularly the UDAG people who have responsibility for watching our $3 million. I have some serious concerns as to whether or not our interests were protected and what rights we not have in the face of a possible default and new ownership. That's one issue and would the City Clerk be expeditious in setting it up. We would probably also need Mr. Pellegrini to give us some perspective on our legal obligations and rights in this regard.

I'd just like to say that the Lemington Center is the kind of project that we ought to work very carefully to preserve for a number of reasons and I'm sure that everyone here is sensitive to some of the issues surrounding that.

The second issue relates to the report that we got from the Supplies Department which was completed by Exico, Inc., the consultants who were attempting to work with Supplies and the Controller's Office on helping us to implement our minority business enterprise program. We have received phase one of the report; I think it was very well done and the recommendations, hopefully, will be implemented in a timely fashion. I think that this first phase will help us not only implement all the areas of minority business development but also Ordinance No. 28 and the Mayor's Executive Order No. 1 which deals specifically with minorities and women in terms of business opportunities in the City. Some of our authorities, Parking, Housing, URA, might find this document helpful.

I would like the City Clerk to contact Mr. Jacoby to find out when we will receive the reports on phase two and three. Hopefully those will be to us in a very timely fashion.

The last concern I have relates to the Convention Center Hotel and Office Complex. As Council is aware, legislation was introduced today to get that project moving. I'd like to have at the time we consider this bill in Committee, which I believe will be next Wednesday, a representative from the developers. I would like to have Mr. Ratner who was represented to us, this Council, as the person who is responsible to make this project go.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. Robinson, I would join in that. If you're not asking for him then I'd like to have him here. The only time that program moves is when the President is here.

Mr. Robinson:

Right. Mr. Ratner from Fourth City Development, representatives from URA and Planning. I'd like to have Mr. Brophy and Mr. Lurcott. Also, Mrs. Fitzgibbons who is head of our UDAG program at URA, and whoever is going to be coordinating the minority business and women's business enterprise aspect of this UDAG. They need to be here so that we can get some perspective as to what this plan is going to be, how they're going to implement it, and who is going to be responsible. We have had some problems in the past with administration of our UDAG, example being the Lemington Home situation. I want to make sure on this Convention Center Hotel and Office Complex that we have as much input as we need to have as a Council to make sure that this thing goes on schedule.

Thank you.

Mr. Robinson moved to approve the minutes of Monday, November 7, 1983.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion. Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Woods

Council adjourned.

Pittsburgh, PA
Monday, November 28, 1983

PRESENT:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Givens	Mr. Stone
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. DePasquale (Pres't)

ABSENT:

Mr. Robinson

The Meeting was opened by the recitation of the pledge of allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

PRESENTATIONS

Mr. Givens presents

Bill No. 4144 WHEREAS, a prayer week for the missing in action, killed in action, and disabled will be sponsored the week of November 28, 1983 through December 4, 1983 by the ex-prisoners of war Pittsburgh Chapter, the Steel Valley Air Force Association Chapter 225, the Steel Valley Disabled American Veterans Chapter 27, and the Polish War Veterans Post 41; and

WHEREAS, a Nationwide candlelight ceremony is planned for Sunday, December 4, 1983, by the League of Families for Missing in Action; and

WHEREAS, these men and women are among the many deserving of our special awareness and concern; and

WHEREAS, a prayer week is one way to express our collective appreciation for their service and sacrifice.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Members of the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, on behalf of the citizens of Pittsburgh, hereby designate the week of November 28, 1983 through December 4, 1983 as "Prayer Week", in the City of Pittsburgh for the missing in action, killed in action, and disabled.

Mr. Givens moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

The Chair:

Thank you, Mr. Givens. It's a very worthy cause.

The Chair presents

Bill No. 4145 WHEREAS, for over a century an institution known as The Lemington Home for the Aged (known now as The Lemington Center) has ardently provided care and service to the ill and elderly members of our society; and

WHEREAS, due to financial difficulties, the home is on the verge of closing, and plans to begin moving out its patients; and

WHEREAS, center directors expressed hope that local and federal governments will take measures to make funds available to the home to help prevent its closing.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Members of Pittsburgh City Council hereby urge the Administration of the City of Pittsburgh, along with the County of Allegheny, to appropriate funds to assist the financially troubled Lemington Center, and thus help assure continued operation of this worthwhile institution.

Mr. Stone moved to adopt the resolution.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

The Chair:

If I may, ladies and gentlemen, I know that the Lemington Home and the fear of the closing is very close to all of our hearts but myself especially. I remember trampling those woods with the people from the old Lemington Home who envisioned a new home which came about six or seven years later after many difficulties. And now to read or hear that the home is about to close because of lack of funds so soon after opening is so tragic that obviously something has to be done. Short of securing these funds illegally, I think that there must be some funds available someplace in the City of Pittsburgh to help these people. I read over the weekend that the County has already done something or will be doing something along with the State of Pennsylvania and I don't think the City should stand by and let them take all the burden. There must be some way, somehow that we can help these people and if the way can be found, I think we should do it.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, if I may, I'd like to make a couple comments. There's already been some meetings. I know I spoke to the Mayor the first day that this thing came out and it was generally the understanding that we'd look into it to see what we might do. But it should be point out at the outset that everyone was aware that they could not raise the kind of funds in that particular area to do what was necessary and that's why we gave it the kind of extra monies that were necessary.

We do have an investment there which we must protect and I'd just like to clear the record so far unless anyone has information contrary to what I have. It's my understanding that there is no accusation at this time of anyone absconding funds or doing anything contrary to law or contrary to specifications as required.

Secondly, there was a comment in the newspaper and it may be misinterpreted and it ought to be corrected for the record. That was that they had pretty much one staff member for every patient. It should be brought out that in order to qualify for state certification, they need that minimum of staff people and that's why the staff is that way. They lose their certification if they don't have those essential people who are there. It is true they did not get the volume that they had hoped to get. It is likewise true that there are some people there who could not pay. They had to go somewhere and in their efforts to do good work, financially it's causing the problem. One additional thing, they had to use some funds in the additional construction that was essential. But, nevertheless, so far it's just a matter of a project that needs a little assistance and I think at this point the City, in line with your resolution, is taking steps to do something along those lines.

The Chair:

Also, Mr. Stone, along with other homes for the aged, they lost out on a lot of Medicaid and obviously, just about every home in the area or in the state is going to be in trouble but especially the Lemington Home which was hanging by a shoestring anyway.

I don't know what can be done about those funds but at the same time, perhaps the City and County and the State can alleviate the financial problem and maybe even reimburse them for some of the Medicaid funds they lost.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I don't know whether Mr. Perry or Linda Johnson has informed you as yet, but I am personally making a request for a public hearing on the Mayor's proposal for a Water Authority and the League of Women Voters are gathering signatures; they are opposed to the same. I am not opposed, I am not for it; I am in the same position that the Advisory Board to the Cable Commission the City was, they said they did not have a fiscal advisor.

There are too many unknowns and too many variables. I am not an expert in bonding although I probably know more about it than anybody here because I've been studying it more than anybody else. I don't know whether going the bond route is the right way, I don't know whether we're including a sewer or not. I think that ought to be done very rapidly and we should not have a Water or Sewer Authority until we have the input of everybody possible with some expertise.

The Chair:

Michelle, I think we have such a busy financial schedule and budget schedule that I don't think you can get it in this year.

Michelle Madoff:

Then we're going to have to hold off on the Water Authority until after the year and we're going to have to have a public hearing because the League would like to put it on a referendum on the ballot. And since it's a nonbinding referendum, I still don't care if it goes on but we're not rushing into that until the lines have been --

The Chair:

It's right that you don't rush into it and if it's so important then do it after the first of the year.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, the lines have been deteriorating for 100 years and we've been keeping them together with spit and paste and I think before we decide on the direction we go so that it is not more costly to the taxpayers who are fleeing the City because they can't afford it to stay with the tax rates. I think we need to look at that very carefully because saying there will not be a tax increase is a misnomer because there will be an increase in water lines, in any event, whether we just raise rates or whether we go out on a bond issue.

So, I want to be sure that everybody knows that there is a request by the League and by Michelle Madoff to have a public hearing on that issue. I also want to know whether there will be sewers included.

On another matter which is indirectly related, as you know, the Mayor has created the Department, correct me if I'm wrong, of Engineering and Construction. After reviewing the budget and talking to some informed sources, it appears that many of the people in that budget, the salaries were put under the Capital Budget. The budget was to be printed and two days before the printing of the budget the Administration made the changes so that none of us had any input or would even have been aware of it. It takes a long time to review a budget; because of personal problems I still have not had a chance to review the entire budget.

It is illegal. We would all be subject, in my estimation and lawyers

I've consulted, to being sued if we were to vote to put salaries for routine repairs of water or sewer lines that fall under operating budget under the Capital Budget. The way this is designed presently, they are under the Capital Budget. I've just learned that there is a memo circulating to Department Heads. I think one Department Head, I don't know exactly who it is but I have an inkling though, said that he would not do that because it just can't be done legally and it is still up to the Administration to make those changes and take those people who are presently in the jobs working on routine work paid out of operating costs back in the operating budget.

I think this Council needs to be briefed and budget hearings, I can't think of a more appropriate time, and it should be at the first opportunity that we can meet with the Administration.

Mr. Albert or Mr. Buckley, are you familiar with any of the people assigned to your department under Capital Budget? Mr. Buckley, do you have any of those people assigned? Any of the names? Do Mr. Buckley and Mr. Albert know of any of the names and the jobs assigned under the Capital Budget?

Mr. Buckley:

We can attribute names to jobs.

Michelle Madoff:

You can attribute names to jobs? Alright. I think we need to have a clarification from the Administration because this Council votes on that and the liability will be ours and I do not plan to go to jail.

I'm asking that we have a hearing. I'd like an answer from Mr. Stone and clarification as soon as possible or how he plans to get that clarification.

Mr. Stone:

The President handles hearings.

Michelle Madoff:

How do you wish to handle a clarification on a budget matter.

Mr. Stone:

If it's budget we'll handle it as a budget item.

Michelle Madoff:

You're going to handle it in '84 when those budget jobs come up? Is that how you wish to handle it? It is in the budget presently. If you look at the budget, those jobs are presently in taking the Department of Engineering and Construction, the people who were in operating funds in putting them under capital funds. That is illegal. We cannot do that.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, I don't know what she's talking about at this point. But I do know that the budget has been printed now for some two weeks. There is an assigned time for which that department will be here and we'll have an opportunity to ask them all the questions. They'll be responding to us and then we can more clearly understand what is happening.

Michelle Madoff:

That is acceptable to me except that I've known about this since the day it happened because a number of Department Heads told me. As a matter of fact, the Department Heads stood up and applauded the Mayor the day that I apologized, and I apologize again for interrupting what is sort of a state of the union message and perhaps should have held a press conference afterwards. I was just so appalled because the Department Heads themselves did not know those changes were made. Of course, they are hired help and we are elected people.

I think at this point we just can't wait just until the time that we're going to review it with the departments and have clarification that the Administration is still going to insist on paying these people out of capital funds. I'm not going to be a party to it and I would hope that no other member of Council will be. The word has gotten back to the Administration that I have made these statements. I want to see the memo; I've not been privy to it. I understand the Finance Chairman is not privy to it. I think that should be cleared up and I'd like a copy of that memo, Mr. Perry. It essentially has gone to the Department Heads and I don't know what it says, that's what I'm trying to see, saying something about transferring the people back to their original jobs.

Sophie just asked a question. If we're going to put it back then we have no problem. That changes the whole face of the budget and the borrowing. It changes the whole face of what we have to do in taxes. It affects the whole budget.

Mr. Stone moved to excuse Mr. Robinson for absence from the meeting.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Stone moved to approve the minutes of Monday, November 14, 1983.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Woods

Council adjourned.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, the motion would be that I move that the swearing in ceremonies and the reorganization of Council be rescheduled for the first working day in January which is Tuesday, rather than Monday, a holiday, January 3, 1984 at 10:00 a.m.

The Chair:

Sir, the only thing I have to say in regards to that is that the Clerk and I have discussed it and obviously, it being a holiday, we weren't sure if we were committee by the Home Rule Charter to have it the first Monday in January or not.

Mr. Givens:

Danny, if you would come up please and let Council know what the legal problems are, if any.

Dante Pellegrini,
City Solicitor

On December 6, 1977, an identical question was asked of then Solicitor Mulvihill and the Law Department issued an opinion stating that there will be no legal objection if the meeting was transferred to the Tuesday after the first Monday.

The Chair:

If I may Council, the Chief Clerk and I discussed that and we felt that perhaps it could be moved to Tuesday and now we're told it can be but he said that most of them being sworn in wanted to have it on the Monday rather than the Tuesday.

Michelle Madoff:

We were told we had no choice.

Mr. O'Malley:

Call for a vote on it.

Michelle Madoff:

May I ask some questions before we call for a vote, Mr. President? May I have the floor?

The Chair:

I still think it's fair that Council have the prerogative to set that date.

Michelle Madoff:

Sure but may I ask a question?

The Chair:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

I was informed by the Clerk, and I don't know if it still stands, that if we're sworn in on the second, which is a Monday and a holiday, since there are no bills introduced we do not come in the rest of the week because there's nothing to vote on. If you do it on Tuesday morning, does Tuesday afternoon become Monday and do we come back on Wednesday?

Mr. Perry:

There's still no meeting that week.

Michelle Madoff:

Why?

Mr. Perry:

We won't have any bills. It's going to have to be the same.

Michelle Madoff:

I just want to know.

Mr. Stone:

We could also lose a day's wages.

The Chair:

Rather than have a discussion on it, if that's the choice of Council and there's a second, there's no problem and it's set for 10:00, January 3rd.

Michelle Madoff:

Do we lose a day's pay?

Mr. Pellegrini:

The two Councilmen who were elected and not yet Councilmen, would lose a day's pay.

Michelle Madoff:

Then they should have the option of saving when they want to be sworn in.

Mr. Pellegrini:

Just as a matter of information, there's no requirement that they be sworn in at the official session. They could be sworn in by —

Michelle Madoff:

You mean if I got caught in a plane in a storm and I had to get sworn in later, I would still be able to be sworn in later?

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, I was not aware of the money thing until talking to Danny right now. There are a few Councilmen who would be affected by that, Steve Grabowski and Jack Wagner. I have not made any communication but I think precedence has been set in previous years. You have to recall now that we're going to have to bring our working staff in here. It's a holiday and it's going to be a very difficult time trying to get people to come down here. I think it's a ceremony type of an affair where we want the people who have worked with us and most of them will not be in town on that particular day. So, only for that reason, I ask that it be moved.

The Chair:

Yes, it's going to be difficult with relatives and friends of the Councilpersons. Obviously, it being a legal holiday, they're not going to come down here and I can understand why.

As far as losing a day's pay, I'm just wondering if the swearing in isn't a formality whereas they obviously would become Councilpersons as of January 1 and to get paid from the start of the year you have to work at least one day to get the holiday.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, if I might. I was in this situation several years ago and lost a day's pay.

Michelle Madoff:

I'd claim it.

Mr. Robinson:

I can't; I agreed to have the date changed. I didn't work for the money so I wasn't entitled to it.

One way that perhaps this can be solved, and I had spoken about this to Mr. Pellegrini and, I believe, Mr. Mulvihill back in 1978, is for those members of Council who might lose a day's pay because of the shift in the ceremonies, they can officially be sworn in by a Justice of the Peace or someone else who is authorized. They will then technically be members of Council. But that also means that those persons they are replacing are no longer members of Council. A member of Council serves until such time that their duly elected successor is sworn in. So, I lost a day's wages and Mr. Lucchino got an extra day's wages. So, if anybody owes me any money, it's Mr. Lucchino because he got an extra day's wages.

The Chair:

Then the answer to it is to be sworn in by a J.P. on Monday, right?

Mr. Robinson:

Yes. As of the appointed time.

The Chair:

And then formally sworn in on Tuesday.

Mr. Robinson:

Right.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, I asked Mr. Pellegrini a question and he didn't have a chance to answer. He made a reference on his own but people were talking and I don't think we heard it.

If someone were caught in a plane, you know, because of a storm or something, and didn't get here in time, can they be sworn in later?

Mr. Pellegrini:

Of course.

Michelle Madoff:

Can I be sworn in by a Justice of the Peace in another City? I want to go to the game but I may not be able to go.

The Chair:

Your good friend Bob Stone had to miss one of the swearing ins because of a holy day and was sworn in later, if I'm correct. So, obviously if it's no fault of their own —

Michelle Madoff:

I wouldn't want to miss being with this Council for the next four years.

The Chair:

The swearing in is just a formality. We're going with Tuesday, January 3, 1984.

Also,

Bill No. 4068

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution transferring the sum of $4,300,000.00 from Water Fund to the General Fund of the City of Pittsburgh."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

On 4068, it's a bill transferring $4,300,000.00 from the Water Fund to the General Fund of the City of Pittsburgh.

Now, if you look down to the second from the end paragraph, is that a typo? You can't transfer $400,000 and agree to transfer $300,000.

Mr. Perry:

It's a typo.

Michelle Madoff:

There are more typos in this thing than I've ever seen. Who typed these things this week?

Mr. Perry:

One of my staff.

Michelle Madoff:

You don't want to mention names?

Mr. Perry:

No, I don't want to mention names.

Michelle Madoff:

Okay. I'm not a very good typist or speller. I figured I did it.

I would like some clarification. There was an answer given by the Director the other day saying this is money due to the General Fund under the Code, Section 4, Ordinance 54, amended, and so on. It should be paid at annual fair return as the City's investment. The question that I'm not sure on is how do we arrive at what a fair return is?

Mr. Stone:

You were one of the people who voted on it last year when we closed the budget.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Stone --

Mr. Stone:

That was part of the budget figure.

Michelle Madoff:

Just one moment. I've been voting on a lot of things and we've not had a fiscal advisor like all staffs have, like Congress, the Senate, the House, the Mayor. We're the only group that has no advisors going over the bills with us.

Mr. Stone:

The fiscal advisor can't help you if you vote on it and then later say you didn't.

Michelle Madoff:

I didn't say that I didn't vote on it. I said I questioned it last year and I'm questioning it again now. There are a lot of things I've done that I question because I took the advice of the Administration and their advisors.

Now, let us go a little step further. There was supposed to be a study given to us the first of December on what the rate increase would be on the proposed Water Authority that this Council did not vote on as yet, but that I've been told by Mr. Matter we sat in an office in the Mayor's study and that indeed we were informed there would be a Water Authority. If memory serves me well, and I believe, Mike, you have prepared for me and pulled the statements, that this Council said there would not be a Water Authority, merely a study to see what should be done with the water lines. We really didn't even need a $150,000 study with Green Engineer to tell us the lines were defunct; we already knew that. And then another study to say what our options were. When the Budget was prepared, we were informed that we were going to a Water Authority. This Council hasn't voted on that.

Mr. Givens:

We sure haven't.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you. I though maybe I was losing my marbles.

Now, because that study is not available to tell us what the rate increase could conceivably be, which indeed negates the concept that there was not going to be, even if we accepted the Mayor's Budget as it is, a rate increase. I don't know whether Mr. DePasquale knows that there is a petition already submitted to Mr. Perry from the League of Women Voters to schedule a hearing on a Water Authority and Sewer Authority.

I have been functioning based on information given from the Administration in previous years. I fought very diligently over the last year to get a fiscal advisor to look into some of these issues. It was a close vote, 4-5; we tried to take it to court. I hoping next year that we will get somebody.

I'm going to hold this bill one week. I want to go back and check with the Water Director as to how they arrived at this particular figure. First of all there's a typo to begin with; you can't transfer a figure that is incorrect. But I'd like to hold it one week and go back and see how we arrived at this particular amount being the fair market value.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

Mr. Stone:

I vote no for the reason that this has been set as it has always been set. At the close of the budget, this figure was put into the budget last year and now we are receiving the monies that we said that we would get from them and we ought to receive the money as soon as possible.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Mrs. Masloff
Mr. Givens	Mr. Robinson
Michelle Madoff

AYES 5 NOES 2

(MR. STONE AND MR. DEPASQUALE VOTING NO)

(MR. O'MALLEY ABSTAINING)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the motion was approved.

Also,

Bill No. 4108

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for an Agreement or Agreements with Gates, McDonald and Company for professional services in connection with the administration of the City of Pittsburgh's liabilities under the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Law."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

I wonder if the Finance Chairman could help me. On Bill 4108, somehow or other I must have missed this. What's the $22,000 going to Gates, McDonald? Don't we have a firm, I forget their name, —

Mr. Stone:

This is on a different, extraordinary thing. I don't have my notes here but on Wednesday they explained it.

Michelle Madoff:

I must have been out of the room when they explained it. Could somebody tell me what it is?

Mr. Stone:

Unemployment compensation as opposed to workmen's comp.

Michelle Madoff:

And we're hiring somebody to do that? We don't have anybody doing it now?

Mr. Stone:

Well, they need the services and that's why they're doing it.

Michelle Madoff:

For what?

Mr. Stone:

Unemployment compensation.

Michelle Madoff:

But what are they going to do for us? Does anybody know?

Mr. Stone:

For professional services in connection with the Administration.

Michelle Madoff:

We're voting $22,000. I'd like to know what it is or I'd like to hold it a week.

Mr. Stone:

We had the explanation on Wednesday.

Michelle Madoff:

But you don't remember it either. I'm asking you what it is.

Mr. Stone:

I don't remember but I was satisfied with it.

Michelle Madoff:

You don't remember but you were satisfied with it.

Mr. Stone:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

Does anybody remember it? I don't remember it and I don't remember hearing it.

Mr. Givens:

I do. I passed on the bill.

Michelle Madoff:

Do you remember what it was for?

Mr. Givens:

There were no questions. It's self-explanatory I believe.

Michelle Madoff:

All I know is that it's $22,000 to do something for Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation. I don't remember what it was. Do we have part of the record? Mike, would you know from the record what it was for?

Mr. Perry:

I don't have it in here.

Michelle Madoff:

Does anybody remember? Nobody remembers. I don't remember either.

Mr. Stone:

If it was something that I found offensive I'd be here opposing it.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm not saying that it's wrong or right. I'm asking what it is. I just want to know what it is. It's $22,000 to Gates, McDonald Company for professional services —

The Chair:

Who are they? Consultants?

Michelle Madoff:

I just don't know what it's for.

Mr. Stone:

Unemployment compensation.

The Chair:

There was no problem with it Wednesday.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, I'm going to abstain on that bill because I don't know what it's for.

Which was read.

Mr. Robinson:

On Council Bill 4081, I'd like to make a motion to recommit.

Mr. Stone seconded the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

What's it on, sir?

Mr. Robinson:

That's on the Grant Liberty Development Project.

Michelle Madoff:

You want to resubmit it?

Mr. Stone:

Wait a minute. I withdraw my second.

Mr. Flaherty:

I'll second for the purpose of discussion.

Mr. O'Malley:

Is there a reason why you're asking for the recommitment?

Mr. Robinson:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

Would you share that with us?

Mr. Robinson:

On 4081, there is an amendment in Section 2. We received a letter from Mr. Allen Ellett of the Fourth City Development Corporation which is the principle developer in this project alluding to some things that had been forwarded to Council. I assume that's what he meant. In reviewing the records, that information is not available and I want to recommit this bill until I can be assured that that information is available.

It was also my understanding in the letter, and I read that to Council, that Mr. Ellett welcomed an opportunity to share with Council some information. So certainly, if this bill is recommitted, then we can determine what it is he wants to share with us. It's my understanding that Fourth City Development, through its president, Mr. Albert Ratner, is taking primary responsibility for this project to move forward. Mr. Ratner was supposed to be here last week but was unable to be here. It seems to me that if we are asking him to take the responsibility, then we need to know if he's aware of whether or not all the information that we should have before we take final action is available to us.

The Chair:

What's the information pertaining to?

Mr. Robinson:

The information pertains to Section 2 of 4081. That information is not available. All the information is not available.

The Chair:

There's no information on the execution of a contract for disposition of land by and between the Urban Redevelopment?

Mr. Robinson:

The information that is not available is in reference to Ordinance No. 1 of 1981, Ordinance No. 10 of 1982, and Ordinance No. 46 of 1982.

Michelle Madoff:

Which refer to what, Bill?

Mr. Robinson:

That refers to our Minority Business Enterprise Program.

Michelle Madoff:

That's what I thought. And he has not guaranteed that he would honor that and you don't want to move on it until you know that.

Mr. Robinson:

No, it's not a question of him guaranteeing they will honor it. I don't think that's an issue. The issue is whether or not all the information that we should have on what the plan is is available. All I'm saving is the information that we received from Fourth City does not say that it's all there, my research does not indicate that it's all there. I'm not saying that it's not available, but we don't have it. We don't have it.

Mr. Stone:

But if you have that provision in it, it's supposed to be according to that. Where's the problem?

Mr. Robinson:

Well, I think the problem comes in that if you transfer — Put it this way. If Council would prefer to let the bill go forward and approve it, fine. But if we don't have that information, the title can't be transferred. I'm simply trying to expedite that matter. All I'm saying is that if Mr. Ellett or Mr. Ratner had been here last week, we would have been able to discuss the total project. It was my understanding that's why they were requested to be here.

Michelle Madoff:

Is he coming here Wednesday, Bill?

Mr. Robinson:

I have no idea. All I'm saying is that if Council would prefer to move forward and you feel that we can work it out later, I have no problems in letting it go forward.

Mrs. Masloff:

Didn't you tell us earlier that there was an urgency for it?

Mr. Robinson:

No, there's no urgency on this bill. We've been waiting three years.

Mrs. Masloff:

That's why I thought you said that we had to move on it because we waited so long.

Mr. Robinson:

No.

The Chair:

Are you going to withdraw your recommittal?

Mr. Robinson:

No.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion?

Mr. Flaherty:

I have a question for Councilman Robinson. Are you asking for a recommittal on the proposal? I'm somewhat confused, Bill, as to if you want a recommittal. I know it's on the floor now but after it got on the floor you said, "I'm not opposed to moving this bill."

Mr. Robinson:

My motion was to recommit. It was my understanding that the bill was seconded for recommittal so that we could have some discussion and some explanation. My position very succinctly is that we do not have verification for all the information that we need before we take final action. If Council feels secure that they have all the information that they need, I'll withdraw my request for recommittal. But, we still have to have that information, the City does, before there's transfer of title. I'm simply trying to expedite time. If members of Council feel they don't want to expedite time, fine. Let's go forward.

Mr. Givens:

Just one point for discussion. Bill brought up some fine points, I think, last Wednesday. I think it should be noted that's why I brought out the 60 day review. The only concern I have, Bill, is that this coming Thursday that the Urban Redevelopment Authority Board is going to be meeting. On that meeting will be some of the concerns that you have brought up not only this week, but the past weeks.

Michelle Madoff:

When are they meeting, Dick? I'm sorry.

Mr. Givens:

I'm having a total review as a board member of the Urban Redevelopment Authority on all of the primarily minority requirements in the City of Pittsburgh and that of the Federal Government and, if the state money is involved, the state monies. This review is to be on the agenda this coming Thursday in the Urban Redevelopment Authority. If for any reason, the Urban Redevelopment Authority is not in compliance, then I think this Council as well as the Urban must do something about it. However, I've been told verbally that they are in compliance, that this particular one is actually the City of Pittsburgh selling this land to the Grant Liberty Development Group. As a result, we will be getting $5,076,000.00 back into the Urban. But remember, as I said Wednesday, this money is for that purpose; to go out and acquire land that otherwise could not be acquired and to develop it. Had Urban not done this in years gone by, we would have the Convention Center sitting there, we'd have something in between and we wouldn't know what it would be and we would have the Penn Central Railway.

All this is the complexity of developing this part of the Golden Triangle. I caution anybody that when you attach amendments, etc., that what it's going to be used for is a good purpose and it's the purpose of this Council.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Robinson, you want a week to get some more information; you should have that. You have a second so could we call the vote?

Mrs. Masloff:

Is that what you want? A week, Bill?

Mr. Robinson:

If I might, just three points of explanation and hopefully Council will bear with me.

One, I think it is essential that we not confuse the worthiness of this project with the process and what is legal. I don't think there's anybody here who wants to violate process or the law. What I'm saying to you is that there are laws in the City of Pittsburgh which I believe we ought to uphold and we ought to support. Some of those laws relate to minority business development. What I'm suggesting to you is that this particular project, when it was originally proposed, had certain components in it. Those components are not the same today as they were three years ago. I've raised this question before. It seems to me we need to know exactly what it is we are getting and how we're going to get it. The Minority Business Enterprise Program is supposed to be a total part of this project and I assume that it is. But there are portions of that project that was originally proposed that do not now exist, specifically those aspects that establish funds to support minority business development and to make sure that minorities can indeed financially participate in the project. It seems to me that we need to find out why that money is not available and if it can be made available. We were told several months ago that the City was going to apply for $30 million in UDAG funds. We received $21 million. So, there's $9 million that we wanted that we didn't get which means that something probably is coming up short or something has to be readjusted.

I have had occasion to discuss this matter with Mr. Brophy and Mr. Lurcott. I asked to have Mr. Ratner here because Mr. Ratner represented himself to this Council as a person that we could address our concerns to. That's exactly what I did. I addressed my concerns to Mr. Ratner. When Mr. Ratner couldn't be here, Mr. Ellett sent a letter and I read the letter to this Council. All I'm saying is that Mr. Ellett's letter one, did not address all the concerns that I have, and I got the letter the day before we had the meeting, and two, I am not sure that Mr. Ellett is prepared to say that this project is in compliance with the City's MBE Program. I thought by holding it and sending it to Committee next Wednesday, that we could get that information. The record should reflect that I don't think there's anybody on this Council who has been more in favor of this project than myself. But I do think I have some sort of obligation as Chairman of Planning, Housing and Development to try to inform Council and to try to make sure that we proceed in such a fashion that we're fair to everybody. That's what I'm going to continue to try to do. If Council would prefer to let this bill go forward and have these matters resolved elsewhere, I will support that also. I'm not trying to do anything that this Council will not support.

The Chair:

We have a motion to recommit.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to —

The Chair:

Michelle, there's really no need for it.

Michelle Madoff:

Just a moment. There's motion to recommit and there's second. I would also like to ask my colleague if you would object to my including in that a legal opinion from the Law Department as to whether the City of Pittsburgh can invest say 20%, 10%, 5%, with City taxpayers' dollars, whether we legally are allowed to take a piece of the pie even though the money is funded by Urban. Other cities are doing that as a source of income. When they're developing major structures that are going to generate revenue —

Mr. Robinson:

My major objection is the same as it was Wednesday. I believe that the deal that is presently constructed is in the best interest of the City of Pittsburgh. I believe that if we were going to leverage for ownership in this project that we should have done it some time ago. It is not now fair to the developers in the twelfth hour to ask them to restructure the financing. Even though I believe what you're saying, even though I have advocated, and even though I have tried to get my colleagues on this Council to do exactly what you're talking about, this Council refused to do it. So, let's move on with this project, give these individuals an opportunity to build, and perhaps on the next project, Council will feel that we should leverage our position and perhaps have some ownership.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Robinson, I don't think you understood me.

The Chair:

Michelle, it wouldn't be legal for the City to commit that money. They've been doing a lot of illegal things over the years because they've been committing a certain --

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me. I agree with Councilman Robinson. We should do nothing to jeopardize the package. And if the people think, well, I'm going to lose five or twenty percent and maybe there isn't going to be enough profit in it, we're going to back out. But this gentleman hasn't been here yet, Mr. Ratner. Maybe if he's approached, he might say, "I have no objections to that." Would you mind our asking him? If he says no, it's no. Mr. Robinson, would you object to a question of that nature?

Mr. Robinson:

Again, be fair to the developers. I think that's essential here, that no one get the impression we're trying to be unfair to them. I think we all appreciate the fact they want to build in our City.

This issue has been raised with Mr. Ratner. It's been raised with the Urban Redevelopment Authority.

Michelle Madoff:

No, no. It has never been raised with the Urban Redevelopment Authority.

Mr. Robinson:

Yes, it has; the record will reflect it. We had him here and he and Mr. Robin, the Chairman of our Urban Redevelopment Authority, said emphatically that they would not change the financing formula to accommodate, one, minority business ownership, or two, ownership by the City of Pittsburgh. I insisted that they consider it and very respectfully they told me they would not. I dropped the matter.

Michelle Madoff:

When was this Bill? What month?

Mr. Robinson:

When we had the meeting on my bill to give them three months, up until September 30th, to get this UDAG, when we had that meeting. That's when they said it. A motion was made by Mr. DePasquale to give them until December 31, 1983. And Council approved that. We all voted on it the subsequent Monday. But they made it clear that they would not change their procedure around the financing to accommodate minority ownership, female ownership, or ownership by the City because they did not believe that they could work that deal given the time constraints.

Michelle Madoff:

Alright. Mr. Robinson, in lieu of that, I'll support your holding the bill. How long do you want to hold it?

Mr. Robinson:

Just until Wednesday.

Michelle Madoff:

May I have a letter go out to Mr. Robin of Urban Redevelopment, Mr. Brophy and the Law Department, asking whether in future developments we can structure them as such so that the City will have a piece of the action?

The Chair:

Roll call vote on the recommittal.

Mr. Flaherty:

I support Councilman Robinson's motion. I feel that it's imperative, in view of the fact that the plight of minority unemployment is worsening in this City while the plight of unemployment in general is decreasing. Also, it's important to keep in mind that I believe there's approximately a $21 million UDAG grant involved in this project. I think the least that this Council can commit itself is to make sure that there is a firm fulfillment to a social commitment that this Council and that the Mayor's Office had deemed a priority in this City. I don't believe that holding this up for a few days for the simple purpose to firm up that commitment is going to encroach or is going to hurt the project in the least.

Mr. Givens:

I vote aye and I think there should be no stone unturned to make sure that all the people in this City get what is justly right and due them under the law.

Michelle Madoff:

I wouldn't say that if I were you. I vote aye.

Mr. O'Malley:

I vote aye and I think Councilman Robinson, as Chairman of Planning, Housing and Development, certainly is entitled to that as Chairman. The project has been held up for three years already and if we were going to have laws on the books that are going to enable minorities to participate then I think we should see that those laws are enforced.

Mr. Robinson:

I'd just like to add one other thing. Council Bill 4082, which is companion legislation, speaks specifically to the cooperation agreement on this project between Urban and the City. I'm not asking to have that recommitted because I think we should go ahead and work out the details of the coop agreement because I'm sure that Mr. Ratner, Mr. Ellett and all other persons involved will get us this information. So, it's not an attempt to block the project whatsoever. I vote aye.

Mr. Stone:

In view of the amendment made Wednesday wherein we incorporate all the general provisions relative to minority representation right in the bill, it would appear to me that it's strong enough and I think we should have gone forward on it. I vote no.

The Chair:

I don't mean to prolong this but I'm curious. If UDAG approves, and obviously minority representation must be there for UDAG to commit their money, and if we're still being asked for further information, I'll go along with it for a week. I vote aye.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the bills?

And on the question, "Shall the bills pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty
Mr. Givens
Michelle Madoff
Mrs. Masloff

Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Robinson
Mr. DePasquale
(Pres't)

AYES 7

NOES none

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bills passed finally.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I need to know from the Law Department what the rules are when Council sends a letter to the Mayor and the Mayor decides not to answer the letter. It would seem to me that if Council passed a bill, and I would like to read two letters into the record for the record.

The first letter, they're both signed by Mr. Michael Perry, and they are sent to the Honorable Richard S. Caliguiri, Mayor of Pittsburgh, one is dated August 2, 1983.

"Dear Mayor,

This is to inform you that during Council meeting held Monday, August 1, 1983, Councilwoman Michelle Madoff moved with the approval of Council to have the parking stalls along the City County Building reassigned to Council along with the female department heads for the use of their vehicles.

The reason for this motion is to cut down the use of Council chauffeurs and make it easier for Council to reach their constituents in the City of Pittsburgh and also as a safety factor for the female Councilwomen and female department heads."

When I leave here at dark, I've had the cleaning people say to me, "I hope you don't mind me telling you, Mrs. Madoff" —

The Chair:

Michelle, if I may interrupt for a minute. We understand all of that. You started by saying that you wanted to know the Mayor's response or does he have to answer at all.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm not through. I have another one.

The Chair:

You asked the question as to whether he has to answer a letter or not. I don't think so but if you want to refer it to the Parliamentarian —

Michelle Madoff:

I want to pursue this to find out what other alternatives there are.

Then on September 20th, a letter went to the Mayor from Mr. Perry again saying:

"Enclosed is a copy of the letter I sent to you dated August 2, 1983, informing you of a motion presented by Councilwoman Michelle Madoff and approved by Council requesting you to reassign the parking stalls along the City County Building to Council along with the female department heads.

The Councilwoman requested that you respond to this letter. Your cooperation is appreciated."

Now, I want to go back and point out why it was a floor motion. As we all know, a floor motion is not binding. Is that correct?

The Chair:

Right.

Michelle Madoff:

However, if the Mayor does not respond, does that make it a binding motion?

Parliamentarian:

That's not a parliamentary question. If you want to address that to the Solicitor —

Michelle Madoff:

Well then, could we ask the Solicitor, or somebody, if the Mayor doesn't answer by saying, "I object", doesn't it become, in effect, law when there are six members of Council who voted for this bill?

I want to go back and tell you what happened. I parked on the side of the building because I've been staying here until after dark and why have people walk me to my car, you know it's getting dark earlier. I had planned that day to stay and I had on several other occasions stayed very late and when I do stay I get someone to walk me to my car.

On several other occasions when I parked, I never even got a ticket. So I assumed that the Mayor got the letters and had agreed to it. So, I go outside and my car is towed and I called the Police Department and I say, "Do you if you towed my car?" I didn't know if it was towed or stolen. They said, "Oh yes, we have your car." I said, "Who authorized the car to be towed?" "Mr. Jacoby." I called Mr. Jacoby and said, "Mr. Jacoby, did you authorize the towing of my car?" He said, "Yes, that's correct." I said, "Well, you were just authorizing the towing of cars that were obstructing on the street. You did not know that it was my car. Is that correct?" He said, "Oh yes, I knew it was your car." I said, "Mr. Jacoby, were you aware of the bill that was passed in Council at a vote of 6-2 with one member absent?" He said, "No, I wasn't aware." I said, "Why didn't you call me to tell me to move the car? If you had told me about it, I could have moved the car and I could have asked you to check with the Mayor to find out if indeed he had, by virtue of not responding, said yes indeed we are authorized now to park for safety factors and what have you. It was not just for myself. It was for any female department head." He said he didn't know about that. I said, "But you knew it was my car when you ordered it towed." He said, "Yes." I said, "Mr. Jacoby, you are on the same floor. You're one minute from my office. It would take one minute to call me or to stop in my office. Why didn't you do that?" He said, "Because I just decided to call the police." I said, "Mr. Jacoby, you never made that decision on your own." It was because I pointed out the day before in the paper, and I now have a record of it, of the numbers of jobs, and I want to give you a direct quote from our Director of Public Works, "It is almost impossible in many instances to segregate bond fund activities from operations Public Works."

I think it's very unfair that I wasn't given at least the courtesy. I am not going to fight parking illegally if the Mayor wants to subject me to harassment. That is his prerogative. However, I want to point out to this Council that my car was wedged and the car was pulled out with damage to the left front bumper. I also have a ticket for $35. I presume that the ticket, when I go to court, will be waived in lieu of the defective bumper. But very interestingly, when I picked up my car at the pound and drove the car home, as you know on Penn Avenue there are a lot of overhead bridges, I kept hearing this very weird sound. I thought there were cars going overhead. It turned out that my brakes, when brought back the next day to Baum Boulevard Dodge, were defective. Not only front but rear, and I have not only a $100 bill, $60 and $30 for the fine, whichever way, it's $100, but a $219 bill to repair my brakes. There is no way on this earth that I can prove that the brakes were damaged by the towing. I must tell you that my car has been living in the garage. It was in there the week before and I paid $106 and it would be surprising that they didn't notice this but they say they only look for things that people complain about and their story was that the reason I had this $200 bill to pay on my brakes is that if we had inspection twice a year instead of once a year, then I would have only had a $40 or $60 bill instead of a $200 because they would have caught the brakes going bad.

I think it's a sad day when a director of the Mayor's staff does to me what one reporter did to Councilman Flaherty. Every time an issue is raised, for example the Stadium, instead of responding to the issue of the Stadium, there's a personal onslaught made on the person. I wish I had thought of the smart comment about Michelle shot from the lip and the comment that I didn't even know what page my salary was on. I think it's a credit to me that I don't know what page my salary is on. But I do know what page the operating budget that was put in the Capital fund is on and we'll be discussing that tomorrow when we get to the Department Heads and I'm sure there will be other people sharing in that issue with me. But I think it was important to clarify the issue and if we're going to talk about rudeness, sometimes, and you've been a victim of losing your temper, Mr. DePasquale, because something just got to you and you just blew and then you say, "Gee, I wish I hadn't done that", and you've apologized. I have done the same thing and I've apologized. But I think it is rude, far greater rudeness to tell me, to have the guru, Mr. Matter, tell me that we have had, and this Council did indeed vote for a Water Authority when we did not, and I asked him when the Department Heads were notified that their engineers were going to be removed, and he said, "They were notified in time." I said, "My understanding is that they were notified just before the Mayor presented the Budget and it is my information also that the Budget was given to the printers and only two days before the budget was printed was this information of this new Department of Engineers and Construction created and that nobody should know about it or investigate it."

I did not accuse the Administration when I raised the issue originally. I merely invited the Department Heads and the Mayor and the Administration to come before this Council and explain if indeed there was an overlapping of Operating and Capital Budget because I felt that that would be fraudulent and I personally couldn't vote for it. That's something like what happened in North Strabane. I said I think it's time they come and I said it very low key. As a matter of fact, I probably was at half-time for Michelle Madoff and very politely asked that they come here. That was not a cause for abuse, a cause for having my car ticketed, a cause for the towing and a cause for $300 worth of damage.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, if I might add my comments, I think that if this Council does take unilateral action on anything that it should be so honored. I think a letter should go from you, Mr. President, to the Chief Magistrate expressing that this was Council's intent, that there was nothing that Michelle was doing that she thought, at the time, was not legal. I and everyone else in this particular room would have felt the same way. If Mr. Jacoby did not know that, it is sad. However, there are two parking places that you now occupy. The one then should be terminated and you should be given a parking space out front, if you feel that way and if you do in fact work here late at night and go out when there's nobody on the streets. That is a very isolated area. It's fairly well lit up until you get to the Manor Building and from the Manor Building underneath that bridge is a very open area.

The Chair:

In all fairness, those spaces should be for Council and the Mayor. The Department Heads should not share their spaces over Council. I've said that all along and I'll say it again. I won't be here next year but at the same time, Council deserves those spaces if anybody deserves them. We're in here voting on legislation that affects this whole City, the whole County of Allegheny. Certainly they should have preference over directors.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you, Mr. President. And it's a slap in the face that when six of us vote for something, that not even an answer or a response — forget me, what about the other five — to say, "No, we're not going to go along with it." And it is very rude for Mr. Jacoby not to have enough courtesy to pick up the phone and say, "Michelle, we don't have any space; I'm going to have your car towed. Will you please move it?" It could have been moved in five minutes.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, I'd just like to submit two reports, one from my trip to Detroit for the Economic Development and Leadership Conference on November 11, and the other trip I took to New Orleans for the 60th Annual Convention of the National League of Cities.

The Chair:

In other words, they weren't perks.

Mr. Robinson:

No sir.

The Chair:

Okay.

Mr. Robinson presented

Bill No. 4209

Which was read.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, if I might. On Bill 4081, Section 2 should include Mayor's Executive Order No. 1 of 1980. I think there may have been a typo or we might have missed that. But it should include Mayor's Executive Order No. 1 of 1980.

I make a motion to amend.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Stone:

Bill, don't you have that on the bottom of the page? Ordinance No. 1 of '81? Is that the one you're talking about?

Mr. Robinson:

No, Ordinance No. 1 of 1981 is not the same as the Mayor's Executive Order of 1980. I think that's where the confusion came in.

Also,

Which was read.

Mr. Robinson:

On Bill 4156 which is the bill on

Lemington Home, I want to share some information with Council that I think specifically relates to Mr. Stone's efforts. This is the bill that will allow the City to give some assist to Lemington Home. Mr. Stone and Mr. DePasquale and others have been working diligently in this area.

I have requested of Mr. Young, our CD Director, to give us some specifics as to how we were going to address this Lemington problem on a long term basis and specifically how we were going to protect our investment.

I'd just like to share with Council three things that are going to be done and then indicate how I think we should proceed. First of all, the Lemington management will submit a monthly report to URA, the Mayor's Office, and Pittsburgh City Council which will include a monthly financial statement, percent of occupancy and patient mix, and this was a problem that the state had with them, comments relative to the general operation of the facility with special emphasis given to problem areas that have been identified. Two, the Lemington management, within the next three months, will do the following: reorganize their Board of Directors, which I think will address some policy concerns; two, have an independent certified public accounting firm or a qualified management consulting firm prepare a report which includes the present financial status of the facility and develop a five year operational plan. A status report of the above item, number two, will be submitted to the URA, Mayor's Office and Pittsburgh City Council by April 30, 1984. Third, a representative of URA, the Mayor's Office and Pittsburgh City Council, Lemington Management and a board member will meet periodically to review the reports that are submitted.

I think that it would be appropriate for Council to attach this memo to the bill as a letter of conditions upon which we are advancing the $50,000 and a letter of condition for any additional assist that we might give through Urban.

Mr. Stone:

Since we don't know all the problems, I suggest that you submit but don't make it a condition. You may thwart the ability to carry it out.

Mr. Robinson:

Okay, then let us attach these monitoring requirements to the bill and alert Urban to the fact that it is Council's interest to see to it that all these monitoring requirements are met.

Mr. O'Malley:

Just one question, Mr. Stone. What you're saying is, don't make these the conditions of the grant?

Mr. Stone:

Yes because you don't know all the problems yet and you don't want to hold back the 50. What he's talking about is the future and what needs we have to take care of. It should not condition the 50 but I think you have to put that there, the lines of our thinking, so that they know in advance.

Mr. O'Malley:

In my opinion, it would seem to be that there has to be some conditions attached to the money because after reviewing what Lemington Home sent to me that I have to disagree with their accounting. I think some of their problems had to do with bad and poor management. I think the minimum condition that should be put on the $50,000 is an independent audit because the responsibility that this Council has is to the patients of that home, to the people in that community and not necessarily to the management or the Board of Directors. If we're going to continue to see that the people of the community have a place to go when they need the services of Lemington Home, and I think it's the responsibility of this Council to make sure that the best management that we could find possible is in charge of Lemington Home.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. O'Malley, I don't differ with your intent but the problem is this. Some of the things he's asked for in this letter are things that are to be done in the future. The $50,000 is a matched accounting that has to be done now. I think we have to get that and after talking to Commissioner Foerster, it's my understanding they're trying to obtain funds from a private fund whereby they would pay for the auditing firm to do the actual audit which we've asked for, which everybody, including management and everyone else involved, is in accord. They want to have it done. But to put this letter on, having some things that are going to be done in the future, before you give the 50, which you want to go now, is going to thwart that ability.

Mr. O'Malley:

That's not what I said.

Mr. Stone:

I'm not saying don't do what you're saying, I'm just saying —

Mr. O'Malley:

That's not what I said. All I said was, here's the $50,000 and we would like to have an audit performed. That's the only concern I have.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, to answer Councilman O'Malley's specific concerns about the audit being done, under the present arrangements with our UDAG staff at Urban, and they will be responsible for administering this additional $50,000, it is my understanding that we are on firm legal ground to request exactly what Councilman O'Malley has said. I have gotten every assurance from both our people in Planning and URA and from the people at Lemington Home that getting this audit is no problem whatsoever. If for no other reason, the $50,000 that we're giving and the $50,000 that the county is giving in no way are going to seriously address the situation there. And from a very practical standpoint, for them not to agree to have an audit would not be in their best interest.

I would ask Councilman O'Malley to at least give them an opportunity to address their immediate problem. We will have a monthly report and I can guarantee him that if they have to come back and his concerns are not addressed, I will be the first one to remind everyone that they have not met the requirements that we have put on them. But I think that from a very practical standpoint, they're going to address your concerns, Jim. I just ask that you allow them to get over this initial problem and I guarantee you that the rest of these things will be done.

The Chair:

Mr. Robinson, am I to assume that if the audit isn't performed we're not going to give them the $50,000? The only requirement is that they have to submit to the audit?

Mr. Robinson:

No. The $50,000 is going to be given to them to address some immediate concerns. In order for them to get additional help from the County, from the State and from the City, they must have this audit performed.

Mr. O'Malley:

The point is, everybody on this Council wants Lemington Home to succeed. My problem is that it has had some serious problems in the past and unless they correct those problems, everything that we're doing here is going to be futile.

The Chair:

Isn't the audit going to do this, Mr. O'Malley?

Mr. O'Malley:

That it will.

The Chair:

That's the purpose of the audit.

Mr. Stone:

The only problem is, it's like giving them a pint a blood for transfusion. If they don't get that one pint, don't worry about giving them anymore. They're dead. What they need is this thing now, they're overdue, to carry off the present needs of the people who are there and this overall thing. Everybody to my knowledge wants the audit. There's no question.

The only thing I'm saying now, so we completely understand it so it doesn't seem that what I'm saying is we don't want an audit, we definitely want an audit and an audit will be there. The only thing is, I don't think you should condition this money which they needed two months ago on an audit which is going to come in the future. That's the only mechanics of it that I want to caution.

Mr. O'Malley:

I have no problems with that.

The Chair:

Excuse me. Are we putting that in the form of an amendment?

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. Stone, perhaps you can help me on this. From a procedural standpoint, I want to make sure that this Council agrees that these three conditions be met.

Mr. Stone:

Let's add it to the bill and have the Clerk send out a copy of that letter to the Board of Directors indicating that Council would like this kind of information in the future.

Mr. Robinson:

Okay. I will make a motion to that effect.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

The Chair presents

Bill No. 4213 Communication from Mayor Richard S. Caliguiri, appointing Daryl H. Smith, effective January 1, 1984, be approved and confirmed as Director of the Department of Water.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also,

Bill No. 4214 Resolution that the appointment by the Mayor of Daryl H. Smith, effective January 1, 1984, be and the same is hereby approved and confirmed as Director of the Department of Water.

Which was read.

Mr. Stone moved for approval.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Mr. Stone:

I'm prepared to approve them but the question is whether Council would want to hold that until we resolve the budget thing.

The Chair:

Does anybody have any objection to passing on that today?

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. I have great objections. I think you have to take them separately. I just asked the Parliamentarian as to any ruling that he might know of and he talked with Mr.

Fein as to whether the Mayor has the authority to create a Department of Engineering and Construction without a public hearing and his information, to his knowledge, was that there is no such hearing required. So, that is a separate issue.

On the issue of appointing Mr. Daryl Smith as Director of the Department of Water, may I call your attention to the Home Rule Charter, the City of Pittsburgh Charter, which says, "Section 319 Legislation Requiring Prior Public Hearing, Section E. Creation of an authority or quasi public agency requires a public hearing." May I also take you down to "Section 320 A Citizen's Right To Be Heard, Item B. On any matter other than pending legislation providing they deliver a petition meeting all of the above requirements to the City Clerk, Council shall schedule the public hearing within a reasonable time after the petition is received by the City Clerk." We have a petition.

The Chair:

If I may, Michelle. You weren't here when I announced it. We're going to have a hearing on January 19th in regards to the Water Authority.

Michelle Madoff:

I am aware of that.

The Chair:

In regards to the appointment of Daryl Smith, he's being appointed to a standing department.

Michelle Madoff:

I wish to discuss that if you will bear with me and indulge me just a moment. I think that it is a terrible thing to put Mr. Daryl Smith's job on the line when indeed it's conceivable that the Water Department may not be an entity. How can we be asked, in good faith, how can we be railroaded or run over or whatever you want to say, and as to appoint somebody the head of a department with the understanding that a Water Authority is going to be created where Mr. Cosentino would therefore be heading the Water Department. It's an assumption. How can we be asked to vote on an assumption?

That brings us to another item, if I may finish. As you know, we go through the budget and presumably I like to think that even though some of us like myself stick our noses into other departments because we are interested in other issues, at least we know our own departments. I had a very eerie experience. Sitting at that table which is, I'm going to guess, about 12 feet long and 4 feet wide, in the middle of the table I had Mr. Cosentino, the Director of the Water Department, and at the end of the table I had Mr. Daryl Smith, the supposedly, what-if-he-is-appointed Director of the Water Department, and I had to ask my questions and I felt my head like a ping-pong ball because we were having a mirage discussion on what-ifs. How can I address what if it happens and Mr. Stone, Finance Chairman, stated, "Well, if it is, we have to be prepared." And the Mayor, I presume, is putting this into the agenda, the budget agenda, on the basis of what if.

I think that is highly presumptuous to bypass this Council. I hope the people watching are learning from this, that we have a very strong Mayor system and a very weak Council system. When many of us are out on the street and are accosted by the constituents and are told why don't you do something, I want them to understand how the game is played.

The Chair:

Michelle, it's really no different than the URA, the Housing Authority or the Alcosan Authority where you have Board and they make most of the decisions, but you also have a Director in the URA and Housing. You have an Executive Director for Alcosan.

Michelle Madoff:

But there is no Board, Sir. There is no Water Authority.

The Chair:

This is the function that Daryl Smith will carry out. He'll be the Director.

Michelle Madoff:

Are we firing Mr. Cosentino?

The Chair:

No, they made him Chairman of --

Michelle Madoff:

Then how can you have two directors of the same department?

The Chair:

He's Director of the Water Authority.

Michelle Madoff:

No, Mr. Cosentino is Director of the Water Authority.

The Chair:

You have directors serving on all of these Boards but they're not paid. This will be one Board where the man will be paid. How you get around it, I don't know. But at the same time, you don't eliminate the Water Department because you have an Authority.

Michelle Madoff:

But how can you appoint Mr. Daryl Smith to head the Water Department when Mr. Cosentino is head of the Water Department and when the Home Rule Charter clearly states that with the understanding that Mr. Cosentino will be going on to a Water Authority which the Mayor announced to us out of the blue and which I completely was so taken back that I spoke out of turn.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, I agree with what Councilwoman Michelle Madoff has said. In fact, I would even care to expand upon that. It seems that if we are also going to create a new department of engineering and construction, it would seem to me that that would also fall under the guideline of requiring a public hearing because we are talking about the increase in costs, we are talking about, for example, adding another director to the current number of directors. I feel that if we could have an opinion from the Solicitor's Office as to if we also would have to have a public hearing on that issue.

I think it's also important that Council not put the carriage in front of the horse. As Michelle Madoff has said, there has not been the creation of a water authority and though I think there's probably indication that this Council will approve a water authority, it has not yet. I think that we should owe more to Director Cosentino than to put him out on a leave of absence. As Ms. Madoff said, we cannot have two Directors of the Water Department in the interim.

So, I can't see any pressing reason why Council would have to act on these two appointments until Council has had the public hearing and has weighed the merits as to if we should have a water authority or not. If we do act on this, we are just putting more pressure on ourselves and infringing upon our own right to make as objective a decision as possible. It's going to be pretty hard to make an objective decision when we have already shifted around the heads of the various departments and we have one director out in limbo whose livelihood will depend upon the creation of a water authority.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, may I finish my thought.

Mr. Stone:

Call the question.

The Chair:

If I may, the question has been called for. There was a motion to approve —

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, I'm not finished. I have an important item relating to this issue. I think there's something you ought to know, Mr. President.

You do know that the Mayor said — and I spoke to him; I think the reporters wondered what we were doing huddling in the corner — I will tell you that one of the things that was said was that Mr. Cosentino is already busy working on establishing the Water Authority. Mr. Dave Matter, in his rebuttal to my request to have somebody come here before Council because I was concerned about the bond issue, informed me that we had already, in my meeting with him, passed on a water authority, had agreed to it. Mr. Perry, I asked you to draw from the records the minutes when this Council voted not to go for a water authority but to just see what we should be doing with the antiquated lines. Is that correct, sir? For the record, would you say that?

Mr. Perry:

That's correct.

Michelle Madoff:

So, when Mr. Matter said to me, rudely and then tells the reporters a lot of nonsense like what page my salary is on and that I didn't know that page — I think that's a credit to me that that's not my first concern — and makes it a personal vendetta instead of addressing the issue of the Water Authority and the issue of the Bond Council. It is a fact, Mr. President, that as we sit here this moment, Mr. Cosentino is already organizing a water authority for which we have not voted, and he's being paid for it. So, if Mr. Stone wishes to say let's hold this, I want everybody to know they're both being paid to do two different jobs for which we didn't vote on and which we voted against until we came up with that vote, until we decided if there should be a water authority and some of the concerns were patronage and featherbedding and bureaucracy.

The Chair:

Mr. Stone, do you care to change your motion?

Mr. Stone:

Call the question.

The Chair:

Mr. Stone does not change his motion. He calls for a vote individually first on the Water Department and Mr. Daryl Smith. Roll call vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

I am opposed for the time being due to what I had said earlier and I also feel that this Council should do everything it can, especially when there is not a valid reason for doing otherwise. It should do everything it can to protect its prerogative and to keep its respect on these matters.

Mr. Givens:

I have to vote no at this time and I have the same sentiment and feelings as the other two colleagues here that so expressed for the mere reason that we're putting the cart before the horse and to do that I think we're prejudging as to what this Council wants because the Water Authority has to be created and when that is created then there's an opening in the Water Department. To put someone in the Water Department before that other authority is created, I can't see how we can do it without these public hearings that are so necessary so that we do have public input. It has to be the concern of the public. If we go the authority route and when that public hearing comes up as to who is going to raise their water rates, it's not going to be this Council; it's going to be the Water Authority.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm voting no and may I add that we are to have a study the first week in December — maybe the reporters get it, they usually get it before Council does — what the study said and what the rates would be increasing water rates to the consumer. My understanding, I've heard from three different sources now, from the Director, the people working in the Water Department, that the rates are going to be doubled. I've heard from someone else, from the Mayor, he thinks it will be up twenty percent only in the last eight months of the year. And then I heard from somewhere else that in the first of the year we won't touch them at all because we want to sort of sneak this into the public and once we've got it, as you said Councilman Givens, once it's a private authority they can do what they want with it.

More important, we are the elected officials, we have not seen that study, and I think it is not proper to have our Mayor tell the public there will be no increase in taxes when indeed there may very well be one with the cost of increase in water. I think we ought to know the facts before we vote. All I'm asking for is what the Home Rule Charter calls for and the facts before we appoint someone to the job. I further ask that we do not pay double salaries. You cannot pay Mr. Smith for being head of the Water Department and Lands and Buildings and you cannot pay Mr. Cosentino to be head of a Water Authority which is not created yet, not approved by this Council and head of the Water Department.

Mr. O'Malley:

I vote aye because I think it's the Mayor's prerogative to appoint his own department heads.

Mr. Robinson:

In light of the President indicating that we're going to have a hearing on January 19, 1984 concerning the Water Authority, it seems to me it would be kind of premature to jeopardize either of the two gentlemen in question. I have no objection to either Mr. Cosentino being the head of the Water Authority, if that is the final decision. And certainly I have no objection to Mr. Smith moving over from Lands and Buildings to Water. I am concerned that both of the valuable individuals be allowed to stay on the City payroll until we do resolved the issue about a Water Authority. I think that is not only fair but I think it's the proper thing to do to provide for the continuity of services.

Having those reservations and anticipating that at the public hearing Council will not only be better informed but by that time we will have had an opportunity to review the appropriate documents, I'm going to have to vote no at this point.

The Chair:

Excuse me, before there's any further voting, I had a conversation with the Mayor this morning and I share the same concern with other Councilpeople in regards to somebody losing a couple of weeks' or months' pay. He assures me that neither of the parties will lose any pay until this issue is finally resolved.

Mr. Woods:

I vote aye for the same reason Councilman O'Malley voted aye. I believe it's up to the Mayor to appoint his directors. We are not here talking about the Water Authority at all. We are talking about the Water Department and we're talking about the Engineering Department. On this particular vote, the Water Department, I vote aye.

The Chair:

Apparently I have the deciding vote again. I stated earlier what the Mayor had told me earlier in the day. It satisfied me and I'm willing to vote aye for Mr. Smith.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mrs. Masloff
Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Stone

Mr. Woods
Mr. DePasquale
(Pres't)

AYES 5

NOES 4

VOTING NO:

Mr. Flaherty
Mr. Givens

Michelle Madoff
Mr. Robinson

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the motion was approved.

Also,

Bill No. 4215 Communication from Mayor Richard S. Caliguiri, appointing Paul J. McDermott, effective January 1, 1984, be approved and confirmed as Director of the Department of Engineering and Construction.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also,

Bill No. 4216 Resolution that the appointment by the Mayor of Paul J. McDermott, effective January 1, 1984, be and the same is hereby approved and confirmed as Director of the Department of Engineering and Construction.

Which was read.

Mr. Stone

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Mr. Flaherty:

Could we have the opinion that I had requested earlier from the Solicitor's Office as to if we need a public hearing and Council's approval to create a new department?

Mr. Stone:

No, we've done that many times, Tom.

Mr. Flaherty:

We have?

Mr. Stone:

Sure. We created the Housing Department. You can't create another authority but you can create another department.

Mr. Woods:

That's what Michelle Madoff just read a few minutes back from the Home Rule Charter. You have to have a hearing if you're creating another authority but not a department.

Mr. Flaherty:

So Council had no input when we did create the Housing Department?

Mr. Stone:

They have a right to set a committee then when we vote on the budget we're approving that structure.

Mr. Woods:

That's what happened when Paul

Brophy took over the Housing Department in the City.

Mr. Stone:

Before Brophy we had a Housing Department of the City of Pittsburgh. The feeling came out of Council input.

The Chair:

If I remember the discussion, Tom, I got involved in that very thing because we were told that there wouldn't be two pays; there would only be the one. Then they said that Mr. Brophy was coming on at thirty-five a year or whatever. I questioned the fact that we were paying Danny Pietragallo and Mr. Brophy was coming aboard and actually doing the same job and he was going to be paid also. But we had no hearing as far as the department being formed.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, I think we're getting ourselves into a legal situation here, at least on Paul McDermott's situation. I'm for an engineering section within the City of Pittsburgh. I think we went several different ways on this. But for us to approve somebody, this Council as a body hasn't approved that particular department.

The Chair:

We have no choice, Mr. Givens. We have the right to either approve or disapprove of the Director. As far as forming a department, it's the Mayor's prerogative. Council then has the prerogative of including it in the budget or not.

Mr. Givens:

Jeep, this Council hasn't voted on that particular department. We have not created that department. How can we vote on someone to run that department until we vote on it?

The Chair:

Because we don't create departments.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, we are voting on people for the 1984 budget. Until they're sworn in, they're not taking that job. The Mayor has the potential of backup. If we don't go to the Water Authority, there would have to be an opening in the budget for that particular purpose to revert back. It's not a big deal; it's a question of whether you want it or you don't.

Mr. Givens:

I think this Council is going to deliberate and make a final vote on the budget as we see it today. I think there's ample time after that particular final vote on Council, and even at that particular session, I think we could take up this matter at that particular time. We're saying yes, we're going to create it, and yet have all the arguments been made. As I have indicated, I am for the engineering department but I can't see how we can vote on it before this Council approves it. If you want to bring that matter up right now and put it on the floor for approval, fine. But I think that until we do that as a body, I personally cannot see how we can vote on it. I ask for a legal opinion from our Solicitor as to can we vote on something that is not created.

The Chair:

He's already given it.

Mr. Givens:

Personally I don't think we can do it. I don't think he has the answer. He is our Parliamentarian. I ask the Chief Clerk then to get a letter to us and I want it answered, Mike, regardless of how this vote goes.

The Chair:

Parliamentarian, would you come to the microphone, please.

Parliamentarian:

The question was raised whether or not, in the creation of a department, you need a public hearing. It is the Deputy Solicitor's opinion that you do not. That's the question that was addressed to Mrs. Madoff.

Michelle Madoff:

That's correct.

The Chair:

On the vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

I give it a half-hearted yes.

The Chair:

Mr. Flaherty changes his vote to yes.

Mr. Givens:

On the point of our Parliamentarian who is acting on behalf of the Solicitor, I vote aye and I would still like that opinion in writing.

Michelle Madoff:

Before I vote I would like to share with Council that I am very disappointed that the Administration did not share with this Council that indeed this was the direction that they would be going in the year '84. The budget was given to the printer without this information in it and two days before the budget was printed it was changed so that no one could get wind of it, including the media. I'm disappointed that three years ago this same concept was tried and didn't work. I'm also disappointed in speaking to department heads who were not notified that their people were going to be removed and put into this special department and who are really in more of a bind than we are. We three or four go down to defeat on a vote which is morally and ethically correct because we're outnumbered by sheer numbers; we don't have a fiscal advisor. But the department heads are really not elected; they're hired help. They have to smile and stand up and applaud even though they may personally feel that it is not the right way. I've heard a number of directors and I tell the reporters now that I am not going to share their names, divulge the sources, but they are very concerned that they are losing control over their particular engineers. However, I do know Mr. Paul McDermott personally and if they Mayor does, as we've heard from the Law Department, have the authority to create this department. I was one of the people influential in bringing him to the City; he worked for Kimball. He is a very competent person in his field and since we're just outnumbered and if we're going to have it, then I will vote for Mr. McDermott. I vote aye.

Mr. Robinson:

I'd just like to make three quick comments. I do think it is unfortunate that the Administration decided to make some major changes and did not feel it important enough to let Council know in advance so that we could share in what is obviously an important decision and one that I think affects all the departments that we have some responsibility for. The didn't, and that is the past. But Council also has a responsibility. Once we became aware of the major changes that the Administration was going to make and certainly the Mayor did sit down with all members of Council to inform us, we should have raised our serious concerns at that point and we should have insisted that another process be utilized. I don't think we forget the fact that the budget for the City of Pittsburgh is passed by this Council, not by the Administration. If we decide that a department should not be in the budget, we certainly have the legal authority to see that it's not there. But in the spirit of cooperation, budget time is one time when we should be working together particularly on a matter as important as this and particularly around the area of procedure. I think this situation creates a very bad precedent for the manner in which we reorganize government and while I respect the Mayor's prerogative to hire those people he thinks he needs and suggests those departments that he thinks will best carry out his mandate from the people, I think that we need to establish some procedures between Council and the Administration so that at least we can be moving in the same direction even though we might be moving at different paces.

I have no problems per se with Mr. McDermott. I have no way of knowing whether or not his heading up that department is going to help or hinder the City. I would think his professional credentials suggest that he is perhaps one of the most qualified people to do that job. In that regard, I am willing to give him an opportunity to do the job so I will vote aye for Mr. McDermott.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Which was read.

Mr. Woods moved to approve the motion.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the motion?

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

And there being two-thirds of the votes of Council in the affirmative, the motion was approved.

The Chair:

I might add that Mr. Bulls has served on that Board very admirably for six years. He's been a great asset to the Board and it's a pleasure to have him back.

Michelle Madoff:

Correction. Five and a half. I tried to get the job at the time.

Mr. Flaherty and Michelle Madoff present:

Bill No. 4218 WHEREAS, The City of Pittsburgh in the year 1980 increased it's note indebtedness by the amount of $15,750,000.00; in the year 1981 the City of Pittsburgh increased it's bonded indebtedness by the amount of $70,000,000.00; in the year 1982 the City of Pittsburgh increased it's bonded indebtedness by the amount of $59,000,000.00, and in the year of 1983 the City of Pittsburgh increased it's bonded indebtedness by the amount of $53,000,000.00; and

WHEREAS, it is a generally accepted practice in each increase of bonded indebtedness to include a statement or opinion by a learned counsel that all applicable Pennsylvania State Statutes and City of Pittsburgh

City ordinances are being complied with;
and

WHEREAS, such learned counsel has traditionally been compensated by a percentage amount of the increase in bonded indebtedness that is, the higher the amount the City of Pittsburgh incurs in bonded indebtedness, the higher the compensation for such learned counsel; and

WHEREAS, such learned counsel in the past has been selected solely at the discretion of the Mayor.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED by the Council of the City of Pittsburgh that it be the will of the Council that the Mayor, the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, and the City Controller each appoint an individual to a special commission to independently review the factors and the criteria that are used to select learned counsel for all future bond sales. In no event will the City increase its bonded indebtedness prior to the Report of the Special Commission. Further, the Special Commission is to advertise for and hold public hearings where the public hearings where the public will be invited to attend.

Mr. Flaherty moved to adopt the resolution.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Mr. Givens:

Discussion. Tom, the Council of the City of Pittsburgh has requirements for public hearing and bonded indebtedness. You're saying by your resolution here that there will be a special commission that will advertise for and hold public hearings. That is not in lieu of Council's public hearings?

Mr. Flaherty:

No.

Mr. Givens:

Okay. So, they will be reporting us like that of the, for example, Cable Advisory Commission.

Mr. Flaherty:

Exactly. Yes.

Mr. Givens:

They will submit a report to us?

Mr. Flaherty:

Yes. Hopefully the Commission will submit the guidelines that will be utilized for the selection of bond counsel or any other determining factors.

Mr. Givens:

Have you had a legal opinion on this? The Mayor before this was always, as a strong form of government, the person to pick this bond counsel.

Mr. Flaherty:

This is just the resolve of Council. It seems to me that we are simply making a suggestion to the Mayor and if he should agree then I suppose we could establish the Commission.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like permission to ask a question of the Finance Chairman. Mr. Stone, when we, the City, go out for a bond, is it a negotiable bond or is it bid?

Mr. Stone:

It's out on bid. You're selling bonds; it's out on bid. Notes have been negotiated —

Michelle Madoff:

Slow down; I'm sorry. What is negotiated?

Mr. Stone:

Some bond indebtedness. That's a part of the problem with this thing.

Michelle Madoff:

I didn't finish my question. You're telling me that when we say we're going out on a $70 million bond it goes out to all the bonding houses, everybody bids —

Mr. Stone:

It goes out to everybody. Yes. They all pay the same price.

Michelle Madoff:

No, that's not what I'm asking. Perhaps I'm not clear. My understanding, for example, is that Duquesne Light has gone out on a bond and instead of negotiating the bond, they've come in when they're ready to go out on the bond so that they don't have to do it early on, negotiating the price, have been able to go out and just have a competitive bid, who came in with the lowest price, and have saved millions of dollars and I have the gentleman available from that company willing to help us. The impression he left me with is that we negotiate; we do not go out on competitive bidding.

Mr. Stone:

All of the City bonds are on public sale.

Michelle Madoff:

Are they competitively bid? The company that gets it, the primary company, are they competitively bid?

Mr. Stone:

We have X number of dollars we want to borrow and you take all the Administrative costs and add it to it. It comes out to the total bond indebtedness to which you now go out and sell bonds to cover that amount. Anybody who wants to buy them can buy them.

Michelle Madoff:

I think I'm phrasing the question incorrectly. Supposing, for the sake of argument — and I'm just going to take a name out of a hat and the first one that comes to mind is Parker Hunter — and we sit down with Parker Hunter and we negotiate what rate. Do we sit down and negotiate with Babitt and Meyers? Or does it go to, I can't think of the other bonding houses, and say who is going to give us the lowest rate? Or is it negotiated and then goes out for bid? I'm a little confused on that.

Mr. Stone:

You're out in that market trying to get the lowest possible price you can for your bonds that are salable. You find out again, like I told you, what amount you're going to borrow, what your debt service is, what your administrative costs are. Then you go out in the market and sell those bonds at the best rate you can possibly get.

Michelle Madoff:

So then it is competitively bid?

Mr. Flaherty:

The bond counsel —

Michelle Madoff:

That's what I wondered. If the bond counsel and the underwriters are competitively bid. I want to know if this is all competitively bid. And is the bond itself competitively bid?

Mr. Flaherty:

The bond counsel is not competitively bid. It is strictly up to the discretion of the Mayor.

Michelle Madoff:

I just want to know if it is competitively bid —

Mr. Flaherty:

And what I am saying — Well, perhaps that is an area that the special commission could explore, as far as having the competitive process instilled into the selection of the bond counsel. I think it's imperative to point out, for example, in the resolution I referred to the four recent issues that have been monopolized by one firm. I think that the City should certainly explore the avenues of perhaps instilling some competition into the area of bond counsel. I think often times with competition comes cost efficiency. So, in regard to what you have said, Michelle, I think that that would certainly be within the realm of the Commission.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, my concern, and the question I was asking Mr. Stone, is that this gentleman who is in the bonding business out of Reed Smith just happened to be talking about Duquesne Light and pointed out to me that the first time they've ever done it this way was competitively and they saved millions of dollars. So, I'm really not sure whether ours is competitive bidding and whether, in the same sense, it may be competitive bidding in another sense. That's one area that I have not tried to educate myself as yet because I was not aware of it and I will try to look into it further. I'll probably speak to Mr. Schmeiser today and to other people to see if indeed our bonds are competitively bid, not negotiated.

Mr. Flaherty:

I was also going to add that it is not ever deemed as being healthy when you have a monopoly on anything. So, I think that this is certainly an area that should be researched. I think it's important to see what other cities are doing in the issue of awarding the bond counsel and perhaps it is an area that is in need of reform.

Michelle Madoff:

This leads us, Mr. President, to the issue that when we do go to vote on a bond, this Council is at a tremendous disadvantage. While we have superb accountants like Mr. Buckley and bookkeeping people who are assisting him, we do not have, in their own words, a fiscal advisor. We came very close last year on a 4-5 vote; we lost by one. Hopefully that can be corrected in the coming year. Mike, will you get that bill ready again so that sometime next year we'll reintroduce the same bill again. Only this time we'll give you our legal statement on it and our brief. Maybe the brief might help sway some open minds.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, a couple of comments if I may. Paragraph one is deceptively deceiving in the sense that we didn't go out and increase the total indebtedness by those sums of monies because each one of those bond issues in the wisdom of the market and in the wisdom of the Mayor and his advisors, in fairness to him, borrowed those monies at a time where the rate was better in order to cover as well some of the short term indebtedness which we had and had to pay. In none of those instances where they've listed there where they had total, with the exception of the first one, was it increased by that sum in that year, the indebtedness of the City of Pittsburgh. All of those were consolidations, some payoffs, some readjustments, kind of refinancing. In no instance did we have the total sum of monies that are involved there.

Secondly, the resolution attempts to thwart and restrict the Mayor's powers. It's a violation of the Charter as it is right now and any Charter change, even if you had it, would have to be done according to the prescribed amendment and then as well it may even be questionable under Act 62. But at any rate, this is a late effort and at this particular point I cannot see me voting for it. As far as our bond issue is concerned, you may not like it but they've been pretty good under the circumstances compared to anything that's around this country.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, if I might. I think the spirit of Councilman Flaherty's resolution is very positive. I think when we look at the potential for the future fiscal help of this City it is very wise to proceed on the assumption that no one person has all the answers or that no one group of experts can give us everything we need. On the other hand, I do think that we do have to be very careful that we do not restrict the ability of the Mayor to select those persons whose advice he feels confident in. And to that regard, I think we need to give some serious thought to continuing to allow the Mayor to have some prerogative in the area of selecting his own bond counsel; I whole-heartedly believe he ought to be able to do that. But also I think that it is important that the concept of a special commission not be taken lightly and that we understand that the resolution before us is not legislation but certainly carries with it an important tone because this Council is discussing it and is going to have to vote on it and that vote is going to be so recorded. Perhaps this Commission or some special commission can serve in some advisory capacity to indeed not only advise the Administration but advise this Council. There's no doubt in my mind that this Council probably needs to become a little more familiar with municipal financing for the benefit of the City. I am sure that the Administration, led by the Mayor, would agree with that, that we must, together, look to the fiscal health of the City.

I would be remiss if I did not indicate that I think our incoming Controller will and should have a significant role in where this City is going from a fiscal standpoint and I sort of feel that Councilman Flaherty's resolution suggests that he would like to have some positive input into that process and I think it's input that the Charter would support whole-heartedly. But I do think that the spirit of the resolution is such that we ought to take advantage of the opportunity to explore municipal finance in this City to the extent that this Council perhaps becomes a bit more involved and that we begin to seriously look at some financing options that perhaps we haven't looked at in the past.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, I accept Councilman Stone's criticisms in the first paragraph but regardless they do not have anything directly to do with the intent of the resolution. The intent of the resolution is in regard to the selection of bond counsel for the City. This resolution, in regard to what Councilmembers Stone and Robinson addressed in response, this resolution is inherently just an advisory resolution. We are asking the Mayor to consider the possibility of studying the issue. It's entirely up to the Mayor. The Mayor can ignore this; the Mayor can respond in any fashion that he cares to. So, I do not see it where Council is encroaching upon the powers of the Mayor. It is up to the Mayor to decide if Council will be encroaching upon the powers of the Mayor's Office.

Mr. Woods:

Call the question.

The Chair:

Question called for. Roll call vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

I would hope that all members of Council would support the resolution for the reasons that I said earlier; also because this is a city of thousands of lawfirms. I think it should certainly be the intent of the government to spread the opportunity for all. I think that when we keep in mind that one firm has received all of the bond counsel in the 1980's for this City, I think it's imperative for the reasons of cost efficiency and for inherent fairness that the City perhaps explore alternative ways of awarding bond counsel.

Mr. Givens:

If I can go back over my last eight years in this Council, there's been I think only two bond counsels; they shifted when the Mayor had come in. I've probably been the most outspoken person when it comes down to bond indebtedness, when we buy or when we sell, as they say, when we sell the bonds. I don't think it has anything to do with the bond counsel itself. I think they get a fair return for the efforts that they put into it. I've been pleased with what prices they've been able to get at the time that the City went out and sold the bonds.

So, I don't think that's our problem. I think our problem is inherent internally that when the City Administration goes out to sell those particular bonds at a time when the bond market is extremely high.

Tom, I like your idea; it is advisory in nature. However, I feel that it is infringing upon both that of the Mayor and that of Council. We can't sit here and we're asking for people who are learned in this particular area. We're going to get possibly three learned bonds people out there, each one of them are going to be looking at their own company and supporting what they feel possibly is their own concerns. As a result, I can't see where we're going to learn from that. I think it's the wisdom of this Council to decide how much bond fund money we need and when we need it and the appropriate time to go out. We approve the bond fund in December. When the Administration goes out in August and November of the next year, sometimes I wonder why they go out at the times they go out. I don't think we're going to, at this particular time, get the type of advice from this particular commission that is going to give me the decision making efforts that I must make and that is, how much bonds do we need and when do we need to go out there and buy those bonds.

So, for that reason and the fact that I just received this about an hour ago, I'm going to abstain on this particular vote.

Michelle Madoff:

I must say that this bill arrived, and we couldn't find out who had sponsored it and perusing the bill very quickly, I thought it addressed, for example, the $70 million that our good Finance Chairman neglected to mention went out at probably the highest bond rate the City has ever paid. What I was concerned with is the information that I have that perhaps we can bid the bonds at a lower rate. I wasn't so much concerned with the bond counsel simply because there are very few with expertise in the field who do bond counseling. I don't think that that is the big issue. The thing that I'm more concerned about is the fact that the City has an $800 million debt, we're going to a Water Authority, we're really virtually bankrupt, and how we issue our bonds when we issue them and issue them so that they get put in the bank drawing interest, even though it legal arbitrage, to balance our budget. I had looked at it from a different angle; I wasn't looking at it from the same angle you were and I would like to see another bill addressing the more serious aspect. I'm going to abstain on this one.

Mr. Stone:

I vote no for the following reasons. Anyone who knows the business knows that the debt is set by the Administration, not bond counsel. They only borrow what they need to carry out their capital improvements.

Secondly, to go out and bid bond counsel would border on asininity.

Thirdly, relative to the present bond counsel that we have, he is eminently qualified, he is not a political person; he is eminently qualified. That particular individual was our bond counsel when he was by himself. He was bond counsel when he was in a firm with his brother, I think, and that he's still the bond counsel with the new firm that he's now a part of. That's Ralph Lynch. I know of no lawyer in the City of Pittsburgh who knows the City of Pittsburgh's bond market and bond indebtedness and bond issues as does Ralph Lynch who has been handling our bond sales. He is eminently qualified.

The Chair:

My vote is immaterial but I honestly feel, and I've felt this way all along, that there's no problem in having a watchdog and if you have the President of Council or the Council as a whole and the Controller along with the City, I don't like the idea of putting it out to bid but I think three heads are better than one. Obviously I can't see any problem so I'll vote aye.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Michelle Madoff:

For the record, Mr. President. Mr. Ralph Lynch was probably one of the most knowledgeable. I have to agree with Mr. Stone.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

have offered up resolutions supporting The Grand Concourse, and I'd like to have them say a few words to us, as soon as I'm finished.

Mr. O'Malley presents

Bill No. 4237 WHEREAS, the Station Square Development is important to the City of Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, the City of Pittsburgh has invested substantial effort, money, and other resources toward the success of the Station Square Project; and

WHEREAS, the Grand Concourse Restaurant is a big attraction within Station Square; and

WHEREAS, a majority of the employee's of the Grand Concourse Restaurant have elected to be represented by a union for purposes of collective bargaining; and

WHEREAS, the Employer and the Union have negotiated for a long period of time without successfully concluding a collective bargaining agreement; and

WHEREAS, the Grand Concourse employee's have been on strike for many months now.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh strongly urge that the management of the Grand Concourse Restaurant make a good faith effort to negotiate with their striking employees.

Mr. O'Malley moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Givens seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

Good bill, Councilman O'Malley. I'm congratulating Councilman O'Malley.

Mr. O'Malley:

Thank you; thank you.

Ms. O'Brien:

I'd just like to say a few words relative to our strike. I don't know if you're familiar with what has happened in the past, but we were certified as a Local in 1981. That means that now we are beyond two years without a contract.

To say that we have been modest is to be modest, because we have been ultra-reasonable in our demands on this first contract. We have repeatedly shaved our demands, time after time in negotiations. It became very apparent that we were not dealing with a man, and I'll name him, Charles Muer of the Muer Corporation in Detroit.

We were not dealing with a man whose intent was to negotiate with his labor force here in Pittsburgh. We view this as a labor-busting tactic. It's evident and it was evident a long time ago that this man from Detroit — his intent was to break the union. It never was to sit down and to bargain with responsibility.

In the past six months there have been four incidences that the National Labor Relations Board has found cause to issue complaints. They are mostly with unfair labor practice relative to the Section 7 rights of employees. He has repeatedly threatened employees; threatened to fire them, etc. He has always wanted to deny us our right to engage in union activity; to choose a representative in the work place, etc., as regards to the Section 7 rights.

Now, I think this man has done enough here in Pittsburgh. In the heartland of labor and in the third largest corporate headquarters in the United States, this man has set us back 100 years in labor management relations. The only thing missing is maybe the company goons with clubs, but the scenario is still the same. His intent was to break our morale, to intimidate us, and to eventually break this local; and I think that we are significant in that we represent the service industry that we are constantly being told is going to be the thrust of labor in the 1980's. We're going from industrial to a service industry, and we represent the service industry.

All we asked in the beginning was the right to be represented. As I have said, the contract was modest. I'll be happy to furnish Council with a copy of the contract, or any of the contracts, as they went along in the two years past. I'll be happy to furnish you with any information relative to this strike.

Our resolve is the same that is always was. We want to be represented. It is our right, and our resolve is as strong as his, if not stronger. He forgot one thing when he started to break this strike, or use these tactics, and that was that we are Pittsburghers; and I think this strike also is very significant in that it is occurring in Station Square, this beautiful complex. He is invited to open a business here; he has made millions, virtually millions of dollars in Station Square; and he was invited to a stunning building, and there is not a visitor that comes to Pittsburgh that does not touch base at Station Square and the Grand Concourse.

I'm a waitress and I can tell you that I've waited on people from virtually all over the world; and this strike is becoming bitter, and giving the City a black-eye, and I think that your interest should now be accentuated and we should at least have some sort of intervention by the Council relative to our strike. We'd like to settle it; we want to go back to go work. Those people who chose to work are hurting probably worse than we are. I think that their choice to work maybe was the wrong one, and they now have seen that the company is lying to them, has threatened them. The entire complex has been hurt by this strike.

My purpose here is to ask your intervention in this terrible dispute. We want is settled. We want to go back to work and we want to work with this company to make this a good restaurant in a beautiful City.

Michelle Madoff:

I forgot your name, I'm sorry?

Ms. O'Brien:

Marjorie O'Brien.

Michelle Madoff:

Margie, I just want to share with you — you may call be Michelle, if I may call you Margie. I got a call from Lefty Scamasi — how many months ago? The strike was on maybe about three, four weeks — first of all, I got a call from Harry Guenther, and the message was, you cannot have your Sunday brunch, which I have almost every Sunday with my friends at the Grand Concourse. It's my favorite place on Sunday. I have not had brunch there since the strike started.

Ms. O'Brien:

Thank you. I've waited on you.

Michelle Madoff:

Lefty Scamasi called and asked whether I would do something, and I went down to find what the facts were for myself. I talked to the people picketing. I went in and talked to, I think a man by the name of Garcia.

Ms. O'Brien:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

Is that the labor negotiator?

Ms. O'Brien:

He's the Director of Operations.

Michelle Madoff:

Yes, but he's the one who they put in as their front man here, am I correct?

Ms. O'Brien:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

He's the one that spoke with me. He was the only who could do it. He does not live here; he's in and out of here.

Ms. O'Brien:

No, he's a Michigan resident.

Michelle Madoff:

Right, we talked and essentially, correct me if I'm wrong, there was a vote taken initially that you've won. You won the vote and they wanted to ignore the vote that you've won. Now, am I correct there were more people who wanted to go out on strike, or to — it wasn't to go out and strike; the issue was to have a union, to be a union shop.

Ms. O'Brien:

That was the representation election.

Michelle Madoff:

The vote was a majority to be a union shop and they did not honor your vote; is that correct?

Ms. O'Brien:

I don't think that was put to a vote.

Michelle Madoff:

It was a vote and you won it, because I went back and checked it.

Ms. O'Brien:

Are you talking about the representation election, the certification in 1981?

Michelle Madoff:

Right, and they wanted an open shop instead.

Ms. O'Brien:

Yes, in the beginning we initially wanted a union shop and then we—

Michelle Madoff:

And they wanted an open shop, but you had won on the issue initially; it was a close vote, but you had won on having a union shop?

Ms. O'Brien:

No, no ma'am. We went from a union shop, a closed shop is illegal, you can't have that— went from a union shop to a modified union shop, which would allow all the present employees to be union members—

Michelle Madoff:

But not new ones coming in.

Ms. O'Brien:

—to be a member or not to choose and for all new hires to become union members.

Michelle Madoff:

You didn't bend over backwards beyond the point of having a— you're willing to be flexible.

Ms. O'Brien:

Yes, we moderated each time we were in negotiations every time, and we even proposed an agency shop. We proposed anything that seemed to us workable, and we were met with this wall.

Michelle Madoff:

Let me tell you what I was met with. It might be some help to you, I don't know. I spoke to Mr. Garcia and told Mr. Garcia that I personally would not go, that I know most of my friends would be very embarrassed to go; this is a union, labor town, that most people would not cross the picket line, and I said you know, you may get some of the people back now, and you may be able to function, because right now times are very bad and people coming back, as you say, the people who have gone back may be sorry, but they went back, why, because they needed a job.

Ms. O'Brien:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

And maybe they'd go back under any conditions. I said the time will come; this City is expanding in the Renaissance area. There are many new restaurants proposed, and when times change, these people, when you need them most at a Christmas, or a holiday, or Thanksgiving, or New Year's, they just pay you back for what you're doing to them, twisting their arm to work, because they need money to put bread on the table for their children.

He agreed with me, but everybody shifted the burden. Nobody would take the responsibility of speaking, and they were very hardnosed, as you stated. They absolutely refused to negotiate with you, unless it's their way. They will not bend an iota. I did what I could; it's obvious, I certainly can't do it alone. I think coming to this Council is a very positive move, but I think just a note, Councilman O'Malley from this Council saying that we'd like them to end this strike— Carmen was with me, her husband, as you know, was Assistant to Lloyd McBride and is now still an Administrator with the United Steelworkers of America; and I've been involved personally when Mellon was unfair to Mesta, and I got the people at least back to work with some dignity. If they say everything was equitable and they still haven't got a decent contract —

Now, I think we have to go beyond — I think the first note should be from perhaps the President of this Council with your resolution, but the second note, the second if something is not done — there are dollars involved. There are substantive dollars, URA moneys that were loaned; and I think in future contracts there should be something put in that protects the citizens of this community. I don't know how it should be done but some kind of scale, safer safeguards for the workers, because I have never seen a union or an organization so determined not to listen to any reason and not even to have somebody speak for them. Everybody says someone else will speak. You may tell Mr. Garcia, if you see him, that the next time I see him, I'm going to trip him.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, if I may, Jim. About a year I put the same similar resolution in on the Grand Concourse and I think what many, many people do not know and what we have to do, especially union people, is educate the public, because what these businesses and companies are trying to do and big corporations is break the unions; and once you break unions, you break everybody. It isn't just the unions; it's the entire labor force. They're trying to bring everybody down to where there are just two kinds of people, rich and poor, and people have to be educated to this fact. It's just not union members when they do this. When they lower union member's wages or freeze his wages, then everybody hurts, and this is what the unions and all labor have to educate people to this fact; and it's happening in this City, it's spreading like wildfire breaking these unions. It is happening nationally, and it's about time we put a darn stop to it, and we got to start stopping it today.

Ms. O'Brien:

Thank you.

The Chair:

If I may make a comment or two as a former union President and a person that has in labor for 40 some years, we've had the same problem over there that every other labor union's ever had. The operators out at the -- what's the title they had out there at the airport, and everyone else. Nobody seems to observe those picket lines, and union people are going through those picket lines left and right. If unions observed those picket lines and the working force of the City of Pittsburgh didn't go through there, you'd have that fellow on his knees and no resolution counts or anyone else; and that's what's really got to start and I'm surprised that the Allegheny County Labor Council hasn't taken a stronger stand.

I believe they have taken a stand, but the point where their members that go through that line should be suspended. At least that's the way they should operate it, and that's the way I would operate it, but that's the sad-- I stood over there one day and watched them go through. A lot of people I knew who were in unions, they just went through like nobody was out there carrying picket signs and couldn't care less.

Ms. O'Brien:

It's pitting one group of employees against another, dividing them psychologically. Of course it works when a man has to choose between feeding his family and crossing the picket line; he's going to feed his family, he's going to put the principle aside.

Mr. Woods:

If you could get all the unions to agree to shut this City or this County down for one day, just one day where nobody works, they'll come to the table awful fast with you because when these other companies say, "Sit down and bargain with these people", you'll have a contract real fast. Go down to the Labor Council and tell them you want to shut this City or this County down just for one day and you'll get a contract.

The Chair:

I'm not talking about people who work there. I'm talking about people who go in there to eat. I'm talking about customers who are union people. They're the ones that should observe that picket line.

Mrs. Masloff:

How long have you been on strike?

Ms. O'Brien:

We've been on strike since August 12. We're going into five months now.

Mr. Stone, Lefty Scamasi would like to thank you for your help in your efforts to end this strike and we all thank you. On behalf of all of our strikers, we thank you and hope you continue to help us.

Mr. O'Malley:

To say this is not just symbolic, at 5:00 I'll be over at the Grand Concourse marching with the strikers. So, if anybody would like to join me, any of my colleagues, I'll be over there starting at 5:00.

Now I'd like to introduce Al Sparty who is a representative of the Dravo Corporation.

Mr. Sparty:

As Marge has very well stated here, we at Dravo have the same problem. I've been a negotiator down there approximately nine or ten years and we've never had the problem we have now.

I want to illustrate just one little thing that they're going after. We have what they call a co-insurance plan. That plan is what they call 80-20. In other words, if you had to stay in the hospital, the company will pay 80 percent and you'll pay 20 percent. As probably a lot of you persons know, if you have to stay in the hospital, usually sometimes it may be $10,000 to $20,000. Although they cap this with say $1,500, $1,500 out of any one person's pocket could bankrupt them right now. And if you have two, that would be $3,000. If you had this over several years, it could run up to maybe $3,000, $6,000, $7,000. Also, they project in the future they're going to raise this twenty percent a year. That's only one of our problems.

The other problem is when they have what they call combined classifications. That would approximately get rid of about 130, 140 more men. Lately they've threatened us. We're on strike there and they're telling us about a letter they sent out that if they do get work, right now they say they don't have any work, but they say if they do get work they're going to call us back by seniority. If we don't respond, they will find other ways of getting people in there. By that I imagine they're going to have scabs come in. If this isn't union busting that's going on all over the country, I don't know what it is.

I think I'm probably one of the oldest in here; I'm close to being a senior citizen, I've gone through the Depression, I've been with labor a long time. It was hard getting what we came up from and now we stand to lose everything. I wish you people could sympathize with us the way we are. I don't know what else we can do. We've been negotiating approximately ninety days down at Dravo and the only thing the company wants down there is their side of the story. They will not listen to our side of the story. We were willing to give a little bit but they don't want to give at all. In fact, they put a document out, I think its approximately 37 pages, that has wages and has a multitude of language changes. Also, we worked on an incentive system down there. Lately they've taken the incentive system out which is approximately I think to their benefit of between $6.5 million and $7 million a year that could save them.

I think that was concession enough. It would take me the better part of the day and the better part of the night to tell you all the other concessions that they want.

I thank you very much for listening.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'd just like to pick up at this time on what Councilman Woods said before I call the next speaker up here. I think what we're all saying is that it's time for all labor people in the City of Pittsburgh to join hands and to work together.

To address that, I'd like to ask Mike Lawrence who will speak for the Pittsburgh Solidarity Labor Movement.

Mr. Lawrence:

I'd first like to thank Councilman O'Malley for supporting us in our march last Wednesday of over 100 unions and unemployed committies and community groups, for introducing this resolution and supporting us. Thank you very much.

I'm going to be brief but I want to add a few points on the rest of our program of Pittsburgh Labor Solidarity, this grouping of 100 unions that has recently come together over the strikes in our City.

First of all, I want to question the scabs. Many of the unemployed, and I am one of them, are forced by economic circumstances to attempt to cross the picket line. Many of the people who are trying to do this aren't scabs at heart but they have families to feed. To that end, the main item on our agenda is for the City Council, Allegheny County, our local authorities, our local political representatives, to tax the local banks and corporations to fund a jobs program to prevent the unemployed from being forced across the picket line. Anybody who is not for a jobs program now, locally or nationally, is a scab. It's going to bust the unions in this country. We're calling on our local representatives to consider this. Discussions are going on now. We want Mellon, Equibank, PNB, and the local major corporations in this City taxed to fund a jobs program. We think that the City, these corporations and banks, owe that to us because we're the working class. All the wealth, the buildings out there, whatever you see, we built them. We feel this is our town and we want some response from local authorities, local banks and local corporations.

The second item is on injunctions. Mr. DePasquale spoke about injunctions and by the way, most of the union people around here have a hard time affording to go into the Grand Concourse except for maybe a cup of coffee. That's about all we can afford in there. Most of the people going through aren't union people, but there are some.

That's why we are also calling for the local authorities, City Council and County Commissioners to encourage all local judges, sheriffs, police force, whatever, not to call for any injunctions limiting the number of pickets. At Grand Concourse they can have two or three pickets up and they have to be five feet from the door. You can't stop anybody from going in if the local judiciary is going to enforce it. That's busting the union too. That's scabbing and we're going to stop that in this town. Over 100 unions came together last Wednesday, we had a powerful march here, we ended in the City County Building. Councilman O'Malley was good enough to come down and address us. I want to tell you, to the community and City authorities, that the labor movement in Pittsburgh is on the march again. And we are not going to have our unions busted.

Mr. O'Malley:

I think that just about says it all.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Givens presented

No. 4219 Resolution authorizing the issuance of warrants in favor of Sylvester Sell and Otis Wesley, Council Chauffeur-Clerks, in the amount of $500.00 each, for an aggregate amount of $1,000.00, for clothing allowance for the year 1983, chargeable to and payable from Code Account No. 1001-1, Misc. Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Perry, we vote again next Wednesday? I thought you were not having meetings next week. I'm a little confused.

Mr. Perry:

This is for this Wednesday coming.

Michelle Madoff:

When do we vote final vote? Monday?

Mr. Perry:

It will be Tuesday.

Michelle Madoff:

You mean it will be int##is way. We'll all be happy to chip in. I don't think that should be an expense to pay for.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the bills?

And on the question, "Shall the bills pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. Robinson
Mr. Givens	Mr. Stone
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. DePasquale
Mr. O'Malley	(Pres't)

AYES 9 NOES none

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bills passed finally.

Report of the Committee on Public Safety for December 14, 1983 transmitting one ordinance and one resolution to Council.

Bill No. 3946

An Ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance amending the Pittsburgh Code, Title Seven, Business Licensing, Article VII, Service Businesses, Chapter 763, Parking Lots, by adding additional safety requirements for the licensing and operation of open and enclosed parking lots." (AS AMENDED BY SUBSTITUTE)

Which was read.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, on Council Bill 3946, on December 16, 1983 I forwarded to all members of Council three documents relative to this bill with some proposed amendments that I think, hopefully, will clarify the intent of the bill and help Mrs. Madoff and others who want to provide parking lot safety.

First, I gave everyone a copy of Exhibit A which was a copy of the bill passed on December 14, 1983 in Committee. Exhibit B was a copy of Council Bill 3946 as amended showing deletions by words crossed out and that was the bill we passed last Wednesday. Exhibit C, which are the proposed amendments to Council Bill 3946, with the new wording underlined in three specific sections.

With the indulgence of Council, I will read the three proposed amendments.

Section 763.04F should read, "There shall be surveillance of all areas of all enclosed parking garages in which attendants do not park all of the vehicles for 16-1/2 hours a day to be decided by the operator. Surveillance of all areas shall be no less than once every thirty minutes as verified by detects, comparable equipment or a system by which the required surveillance rounds may be accurately recorded. This provision may be complied with by any alternative means so long as the City can be assured that there is a surveillance of all areas of the parking garage at least one time every thirty minutes and that there is a method for verifying that surveillance."

Michelle Madoff:

May I comment, Mr. President?

The Chair:

Wait a minute. We have an amendment on the floor.

Michelle Madoff:

No, it's not an amendment. It's already in here.

The Chair:

Do I have a second?

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

The Chair:

Now go ahead and discuss it.

Michelle Madoff:

Councilman Robinson, it's in the bill. The only difference is that instead of 16 hours you have from 10:00 to 1:30 and that was at the discretion of the garage owners. They asked for that time.

Mr. Robinson:

The first four and a half lines are not in the amended bill.

Michelle Madoff:

I was reading exactly what you had and all you said was 16 hours to be at their discretion. I'm saying the reason we didn't do it is they asked for the time from 10:00 a.m. to 1:30 a.m.

Mr. Robinson:

My concern is that all the garages are operating under different sets of conditions and it seems to me that as long as we can be assured that the surveillance is being conducted during the hours when they're doing the most of their business, that we should give them the flexibility to determine those hours. That's all.

Michelle Madoff:

I understand you and I agree with you and I'm telling you that these numbers did not come from Michelle Madoff; they came from the meetings that were held with the garage owners and with subsequent meetings with other garage owners and these are the hours they want. It seems that at 8, 9 o'clock people are going into garages because they're going to work and there are a lot of people around so they're not worried about that. They want to start at 10:00 when people are in alone and they want to go to 1:30 at night. That covers your 16 hours. I'm so glad that they're willing to cooperate that I would be willing to just leave it as it is. Everything else is as you said; we amended it to what you wanted.

Mr. Robinson:

My only point is, in looking at the practicality of the situation it's rather obvious that all the garages are not operating at the same time. I wasn't privileged to any meetings with the operators other than the ones that were here in Council and I'm certainly not disputing what you're saying. I'm just saying that it seems to me so that all the operators that will be affected will have an opportunity to effectively provide for surveillance, that we need to give them that flexibility. That's my only concern.

Michelle Madoff:

Councilman Robinson, this was the outgrow of the meeting with the cross section of the garage owners and after the meeting with other garage owners. This is the time that they picked; I did not pick it. They obviously feel these are the hours that they are in operation. I would like not to change the bill at all at this point. I've amended this bill so many times I feel like it's getting dressed and undressed.

Mr. O'Malley:

If I might, I'd like to support both of my colleagues. The hours of 10:00 a.m. to 1:30, some of the concerns that were surely made by some of the garage owners is that they want to keep the guards on longer than 1:30 at night because a lot of the garages downtown, people come out of the theaters, the shows, and have something to eat and they don't go into the garages until 2:00 or 3:00 in the morning.

Michelle Madoff:

They don't want to be there at 10:00 when I'm there and I'm frightened.

Mr. O'Malley:

Right. But I think what Councilman Robinson is saying is let them have 16 hours of a guard, some of them will run from 12:00 noon to 3:00 in the morning, some of them would want it from 10:00 in the morning to 12:00 midnight, but they want that flexibility

Michelle Madoff:

Alright and I would like to have it from 10:00 to 1:30 and if they're making money staying up later and they feel they want to have guards to protect their own liability then they'll keep the guards on a little bit longer. We're not talking about a substantive time from 1:30 to 2:30, it's an extra hour and I'd like to leave it just as it is. If they're having business they'll keep it open for an extra hour; they'll have a guard for the extra hour.

Do you understand what I'm saying, Councilman Robinson? I'd like not to change that.

Mr. Robinson:

All I'm saying is, I'm proposing the amendment; if Council will accept it, fine. If they don't, I have no problem.

Michelle Madoff:

And as my agent who did the research on this bill pointed out, the enforcement would be impossible.

Would you yield, Councilman Robinson, and not amend that?

Mr. Robinson:

No, I'm going to make the amendment. I'm going to submit it.

The Chair:

Mr. O'Malley's point was that the operators are willing to go beyond that so I don't really see the purpose of an amendment. I think Mr. Robinson is trying to help the operator to an extent there as to when they should operate. They're saying they'll operate even beyond.

Michelle Madoff:

I know but these women sitting here don't want to have to worry about going into that garage until noon and worrying. That's the whole purpose of this bill. All I'm saying is that for one extra hour they can keep a guard on if they want to.

With all due respect, Councilman Robinson, I'll support you but I don't think that's valid.

The Chair:

You're satisfied with it the way it is?

Michelle Madoff:

Just the way it is.

The Chair:

Alright. But there is an amendment on the floor and a second. Roll call vote.

Michelle Madoff:

Who seconded it?

Mr. Woods:

I did.

Mr. Flaherty:

I'm opposed to the amendment because I think the expense of providing safety for the women of this City to begin with is going to be a very small price. I can't see attempting to minimize that anymore. I think in consideration of the small cost, I think if anything, this Council should be moving more in the opposite direction to provide more security for our women.

This bill was watered down already in Committee; I don't think in the spirit of compromise that this Council owes anyone anymore as far as compromising. I feel that the bill is weak now and to water it down even more will make the safety aspects of it negligible.

Mr. Givens:

I'll abstain.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm opposed to the amendment.

Mrs. Masloff:

I'll abstain.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'm opposed to the amendment too. I think the sponsor of the bill should certainly have the right to make a decision like this here. I also go along with my colleagues but I think for the extra hour the garage owners could afford to pay the guard for that hour.

Mr. Robinson:

In view of the fact that it doesn't appear that Council is prepared to make any other adjustments, I'll withdraw the amendment.

The Chair:

We already started voting but we have a motion to withdraw the amendment. Do you withdraw your second, Mr. Woods?

Mr. Woods:

No. Continue to vote.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, if he's withdrawing the amendment —

Mr. Woods:

Alright, I'll withdraw it. We already started to vote though.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, it's withdrawn; there's no motion.

Mr. Stone:

He's withdrawing the motion, the second is withdrawn. Let's call the bill.

The Chair:

Roll call vote on the bill itself.

Mr. Flaherty:

I am wholeheartedly in support of the proposal and I want all of my remarks from Wednesday's Committee Meeting included in the record.

I would want to add one thing that I think from a fiscal perspective that it is important that the City, that the parking lot operators, give them a degree of protection because if it hasn't happened yet, I believe that it is certainly around the corner that there is going to be a negligence suit in the future when one of these rapes or murders occur.

I think it's very wise and certainly to go against this may be penny-wise and pound-foolish. I think it's very important that the City and the garage operators be in good standing when that suit may come.

Michelle Madoff:

A simple aye and I'd like my remarks brought forward.

Mr. O'Malley:

I vote aye and I'd like my remarks brought forward from Wednesday.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, if I may. On Bill 3946, relative to any differences of opinion on this bill, I think these remarks need to be made.

First of all, I don't think the issue is whether or not we should have safe garages or not. I believe that everybody is for safe garages. Before this piece of legislation was even introduced, it was my motion in the Parking Authority that started the vigorous campaign for raising the maintenance level of all of our garages in this City but from what I have seen so far there seems to be no statistics which seem to indicate that all garages uniformly have evidence of crime but conversely we don't even know which ones they were and if it's only a few then why should the majority suffer for those few. Why can't we then push enforcement on those who are at fault and not penalize those who are not at fault?

Legislation obviously must be review; not only this legislation but anything else. Any time that it affects anyone else, they are entitled to a hearing and to be heard, even if that legislation is well-meaning. The operators, as I viewed it, were not saying "No improvements". In fact, they offered some suggestions and some ideas and they, however, wanted to offer equal results for safety's sake by their methods and some need of compliance in an alternative way, because of the uniqueness of their particular garage, which in some instances was offering even better safety. They even wanted to give suggestions to show that they wanted to comply. But in my opinion, they were denied that opportunity to explain their side and whether we like what they say or not is unimportant. But a hearing that denies to them or anyone else who has a view contrary to ours is wrong. They were insulted, belittled, prejudiced, and even accused of being hired hands and rapists. This is not supported by the record. Some of them might have said things that even I might not have liked and to which I might have differed with; but they should have been able to say it and to say it in a climate equal in respect to those proponents of the bill. In my opinion, they were not granted a fair and impartial hearing and they were not given a hearing to its finality. In fact, if it weren't for the fact that I asked for a post agenda, some of the additional amendments would not have been in there because the sponsor of the bill included people and garages that were not intended to be included.

It is therefore with regret, but nevertheless, someone has to speak out for a fairness in hearing, and for that reason I abstain.

Michelle Madoff:

Why don't you vote one way or the other, Mr. Stone?

Mr. Woods:

I vote no and I'd like my remarks from last Wednesday brought forward.

The Chair:

I vote no on 3946. As I stated previously, the lack of enforcement of present regulations is the problem and not needed are more regulations. I would like my remarks carried over from the previous meeting and the reasons previously stated to be put in the record.

(COUNCIL'S REMARKS ON BILL NO.
3946 - 12/14/83)

Michelle Madoff:

I think everybody has before them the new bill with the second amendment. Now, I resent having someone say that I don't know what's in the bill. I have bent over backwards unlike most people on this Council who say, "Well, we had a hearing." We don't have to have a hearing, right Mr. Woods? And now we make up our minds.

I was approached by the Golden Triangle who organized a number of cross sections of garage owners and department store owners and asked if I would be willing to sit down and maybe compromise and we came up with a modification of the bill. Is Marvin Fein, our attorney, here? Will you join us at the table?

We left that meeting having come to a compromise subsequently determined, asked for a post agenda which turned out into really a hearing at which point we did not have a chance to have the same people who were present at the hearing, the victim or those who felt that they represented the victim. I think that was sort of unfair but again I listened and went back again and with the help of Marvin Fein who has really extended himself beyond and above the call of duty, he has really put in extra time to amend even though concerns and I think if you will take the time and I think the fastest way to go through this bill is to read it from beginning to end and I would like to ask Marvin to do that because I think it takes care of everybody's concerns about what ifs.

We have a section in here that says that there is a right for waiver and the only thing that's underlined is the amendment and if anybody has any problem with the bill I would like also to call to your attention that the President and Council members received a letter signed by Mr. Merrill Stabile. Mr. Merrill Stabile was very upset and contacted a number of Council members and particularly Golden Triangle saying that he was upset that he was not invited to this private meeting. Well, it turns out that he was absolutely invited to the meeting and chose not to attend it.

Mrs. Masloff:

That's not true.

Michelle Madoff:

It is true because Mr. Stabile's son, who has represented him and has been the spokesperson here, was approached and he now admits that he was approached to come to that meeting.

Now we have a letter and I don't know if the other members of Council ever received this letter from the William Penn Parking Garage is the heading and in this letter where they claim anything to correct the bill, he cites 763.04h against this clause mandates one specific way to secure garage which is appropriate in some locations but not in others and as I said, we have taken care of that in our bill. But in a garage such as Allegheny Center, where there are countless entrances due to the mall, we have roving guards and security cars to patrol the area; this has proved to be a success while being less costly and we have had no muggings or rapes. Well, even with that, we have gone back, my aide who does outstanding work, Carmen Gunther, and all of us we are going to be taking that up, I hope, at budget time, have limited staff, but with the limited staff that we have, she was able to do some research and I think all of you have copies of this. We have the incidents that have taken place using that particular garage, Allegheny Center Mall. We have going back to '78 in the garage, in '79, we have had and '80 and '81, they could only dig out to '81, they did not have the people to do the job.

Chairman:

I have a problem Michelle. The bill that you are giving now, is this the one we already introduced last week?

Michelle Madoff:

This is the amended bill. You have a copy of the up to date amended bill.

Chairman:

When was this amendment made? Today?

Michelle Madoff:

Yes. We incorporated all the things that everybody asked for.

Chairman:

Then I think we need a motion to amend the bill.

Michelle Madoff:

Fine, but I am not up to that as yet. I would like to point out some of the background. He states that he never had any rapes. He has had nine rapes of sodomy; he has had —

Mr. DePasquale:

Who has Michelle?

Michelle Madoff:

This is in the garage at Allegheny Center Mall which he claims he has had no problems.

Chairman:

Michelle, I need a motion from you relative to the proposed amendments so if I get that on the table --

Michelle Madoff:

I move that all previous bills be abandoned, if that's the correct word, substituted, no substitute is what we want to do. We delete the other bills and we substitute today's bill which has all the amendments because I have bent backwards, triple, sideways and over my head in cartwheels trying to accommodate everybody and I think we have the bare bones of a bill that would at least give some protection to women.

Mr. Depasquale:

I'll second the motion just for discussion.

Michelle Madoff:

Would you like to read the amendments, Mr. Fein, so you can explain why we amended them and how they came into being? Then we can hear from Mr. Woods.

Mr. Fein:

Since the bill was introduced, there was one set of amendments which I believe have already been voted on by this Council and subsequent to that time, there was a meeting which Michelle had mentioned with the Golden Triangle Association and there was also a public hearing last Wednesday, post agenda public hearing, at which other suggestions were made. All the amendments that you have before you come as a result of those two meetings. Let me go through them quickly and give you their genesis.

In 763.03b there is an amendment which basically excludes employee parking lots and business visitor parking lots from this bill and that's a result of --

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, Marvin, would you point out the underlined versus the not underlined?

Mr. Fein:

I think they can all see what's underlined and what's not underlined.

Michelle Madoff:

What it means, what the underlined means. They may not know.

Mr. Fein:

That's what I am explaining now. The underlined portion means we have an exclusion for business visitors and employee parking lots. That is a result of the suggestion from the person from Fisher Scientific and also Councilman Stone had asked about business visitor lots also.

In 763.03c we have changed the definition of consideration so that certain --

Chairman:

Before you leave that one, let me ask you a question. What difference does it make in a business of whether he pays or not?

Mr. Fein:

The difference is --

Chairman:

Safety wise I am talking about.

Mr. Fein:

It shouldn't make any difference safety wise, the difference being that we wanted to exclude lots, like a Giant Eagle lot from these provisions or any other kind of store that has three or four spaces next to its store.

Chairman:

If it's Giant Eagle, you have families there and if you are talking about the safety, is it not important because they don't pay for the lot?

Mr. Fein:

The reason being is there is a different burden on the company itself to provide safety for its business visitors than does a commercial lot. And they do have guards and they do provide for the safety and as far as I know, there hasn't been any incidents reported to at least Councilwoman Madoff about business visitor type lots.

Mr. O'Malley:

Marvin, if I might. On 763.03b, does that apply to just multiple level garages? Would it apply to St. Francis Hospital?

Mr. Fein:

Well, (b) applies to open lots. Provision (e) applies to enclosed lots. They are basically the same except for —

Mr. O'Malley:

St. Francis has an open lot that charges their employees a minimum to park there. Would they have to provide a security guard?

Mr. Fein:

No, they wouldn't, but when you go down to 763.03c, the amendment there, it specifically amends to exclude employee lots as we realized in talking to a Fisher Scientific person and to a lot of other people, that numerous other employers charge their employees for parking.

Mr. Woods:

But what Jim is saying, just pick St. Francis or Allegheny General Hospital parking lots.

Mr. Fein:

Those are open commercial lots and employees do happen to park there.

Mr. Woods:

So, that would not exclude and his question was St. Francis parking lot and you said it excluded it.

Mr. O'Malley:

Well, they have two parking lots; they have a multiple level parking lot and they have a flat parking lot in the back.

Mr. Woods:

The one in the back is excluded?

Mr. Fein:

The employee lot would be excluded, and the one that is open to the visitors would not be excluded.

Michelle Madoff:

They have guards walking the employees to the parking lots; they do have people walking them because I have been to that hospital and they asked me not to go to that parking lot because I have had an option to use it and they escorted me to the lot.

Mr. Woods:

It would take effect. I know many of their employees do park in the commercial lot that's on Penn Avenue.

Mr. Fein:

The commercial lot would be covered despite the fact that their employees park in there.

Mr. Woods:

So that's like at Allegheny General.

Chairman:

Marvin, question. In 763.03c, we are saying now that if I am an employer and I have a parking place for my employees and I charge them a fee, then I don't have to worry about their safety under this bill?

Mr. Fein:

No, you have to worry about their safety because —

Chairman:

For other reasons?

Mr. Fein:

Yes, you have other obligations.

Chairman:

Now watch what you did here in what the bill is doing. In the first one you said no fee was the criteria change.

Mr. Fein:

No fee for business visitors.

Chairman:

Now we are coming to 763.03 and we are saying that if you charge a fee and you have to be an employee then you are excluded but if you are a non-employee, then you are included?

Mr. Fein:

That's correct.

Chairman:

Both pay a fee and one doesn't have the safety factor? We want them both safe, but one doesn't have to provide —

Michelle Madoff:

If you would like to strengthen the bill, Mr. Stone, I would welcome that. We are trying to bend over backwards to accommodate the objections. What we found out was that, for example, Mr. Kossman, who is exempt because he parks his own cars, came in voluntarily and told us that occasionally somebody parks their own car. Therefore, he is no longer exempt. I mean I have heard of stupid things but that takes the cake. I think we are getting into that area. If you want to strengthen the bill and reword it, we would be happy to have you reword it.

Chairman:

You don't have any objections to me asking any questions?

Michelle Madoff:

I also don't have any objections to you rewording it.

Chairman:

You still don't have any objections to me making any suggestions, do you?

Michelle Madoff:

None at all.

Chairman:

You know, we went through this last Wednesday where you insulted people who gave a cultured view. Now, whether you like it or not they are entitled to their opinion.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't think I was insulting. When you abandoned the meeting I think everybody already spoke and that was part of your game plan, to diminish me and believe me, we are not going to allow it, but that's another story.

Chairman:

You are correct. I asked a question and I am just putting the question on the floor. Mr. Woods has the floor.

Mr. Woods:

In these open lots, you said something about a Giant Eagle lot. Sears out in East Liberty, will this bill cover that?

Mr. Fein:

No, it wouldn't. That's business visitors, not parking with pay.

Mr. Woods:

Yes, they pay to get in there.

Mr. Fein:

Sears in East Liberty?

Mr. Woods:

Yes.

Mr. Fein:

No, they don't.

Mr. Woods:

I'm sorry, I thought they did. But that would not include that?

Mr. Fein:

No, the only one I know where you would pay would be the Allegheny Mall.

Mr. Woods:

I have some questions for Mr. Coll on that one.

Michelle Madoff:

Can I finish this?

Mr. Woods:

Sure, I'm sorry.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Stone, do you have any other questions on that?

Chairman:

I can speak when I have to speak up.

Mr. Fein:

I would like to go back because I noticed that there is one provision that isn't underlined which is 763.01a(1) which is the first provision. We have excluded residential parking garages where 80 percent of the spaces are allotted to residents and this is with respect to Gateway Towers situation where occasionally non-tenants do park there.

Michelle Madoff:

And this came from the parking house representatives of the Greater Pittsburgh Parking Association. They were concerned about that and we tried to accommodate them.

Mr. Fein:

The next one will be 763.03e and again this is just making an exception for business visitors and employee lots that are enclosed to conform with that exception for the open lots. I would like to add that you will see the exclusion is only (f) through (l), I mean each of these are (e) through (l) and that's because those are the provisions that relate to safety. There were other provisions that are in this act which we are not amending which apply to entrances onto the street to keep the sidewalks clear. Those provisions will still be applicable to all kinds of lots in the City no matter who parks there.

763.04e is an amendment made to - it isn't underlined on your version - the last six words applicable to that particular open lot; that's because all of the enclosed lots provisions can't be made applicable to every open lot and therefore there is some flexibility as to which provisions something like the Mon Wharf or the Carnegie Museum lot it complies with. That came out of the testimony from the fellow from Carnegie Museum and Carnegie Institute when they testified.

Mr. O'Malley:

Will you repeat that please, Marvin?

Mr. Fein:

What happens is, if you have an open lot that can't be observed from the street, you then have to comply with the applicable provision to an enclosed lot. Obviously, all open lots can't comply with the provisions applicable to an enclosed lot and so there has to be a common sense approach and that is to only use an enclosed lot regulations that can be made applicable to that particular enclosed lot. One provision would be pertaining to all concrete and obviously if there are only curb guards, they are concrete and we can make them pay for their curb guards and things like that.

Mr. O'Malley:

I don't think it's necessary if you are getting the five candle lights anyhow and also paint the garage.

Michelle Madoff:

You can't get it without painting it. It doesn't work.

Mr. O'Malley:

That's not what I have been told.

Michelle Madoff:

We checked it with the experts and even the garage people admitted it and they agreed to it; they want three candles, we wanted ten and we compromised at five.

Mr. O'Malley:

What I am saying is, you are asking for both, the painting and the candles.

Michelle Madoff:

It will be far more costly for them to get the effect of the light without painting. You are right, they want to go to more light which is far more costly and they have to have light every two seconds. They will have to have continuous, a whole wall of light and it's prohibited. We would be absolutely unreasonable to ask for that. This is a new out having to do that. Their objection is having to put in that many lights. The painting will make up the difference, is that going to black when we try to light it. I had a diningroom that was black and brown and it gave more light than to say if it was white.

Mr. Fein:

Also going back, I just noticed that there is a typo on the top of page two, the third line where it says 763.03 (e) through (l), that should be 763.04 (e) through (l). Going down to 763.04 f, a lot of the garage owners, at least from the meeting that we had with the Golden Triangle Association, objected to the times in which there had to be surveillance; we changed it from all hours to from 10:00 in the morning through 1:00 a.m. in the morning.

They also objected to the use of verification, their security method by this detectsystem. We amended that to say or comparable equipment or system by which the required surveillance rounds may be accurately recorded. Mr. Stabile, when he was in here last week, objected to the inflexibility of this provision; there is a provision added that says this provision may be complied with by any alternative means so long as the City can be assured that there is surveillance of all areas of the parking garage at least one time every 30 minutes and there is a method for verifying that surveillance.

Mr. O'Malley:

Would I be correct in saying that if you have a guard walking through the parking garages you don't need surveillance cameras?

Michelle Madoff:

That's right. Either/or and also they suggested, which was very good, they suggested that we don't have the guards going say, 9, 8, 7, 6 in some kind of sequence so that somebody watching could get a fix on where the guards are going to be; the guards can go maybe 9 to 5 or maybe 5 to 3 so nobody anticipating some hanky panky would know at what point the guard might show up on the floor.

Mr. O'Malley:

I agree with that. Your research, Michelle, is there a reason for ten, having a guard at 10:00 in the morning? It would seem to me that most of the acts, mugging or rapes would occur after dusk.

Michelle Madoff:

The reason they — 10:00 in the morning has nothing to do with dusk, just the one at night.

Mr. O'Malley:

That's what I am saying. It would seem to me that most of the acts would happen at night.

Michelle Madoff:

At 10:00 in the morning they are all coming into work together. That's why they didn't need one. If we are all going together or in a group, there is safety in numbers so they figure they didn't have to do it at that time.

Mr. O'Malley:

It would seem that at this time of the year, it would happen about 5:00 or 6:00 at night so it would be good to put a guard on at 6:00 at night.

Michelle Madoff:

They are going to have it all day.

Mr. O'Malley:

What I am saying is, does your research show that there are just as many muggings in the afternoon as in the evening?

Michelle Madoff:

I think we can give you — we are having a problem because of the kind of thing we are reading in the paper that Council has already made up its mind —

Mr. O'Malley:

No, I don't think this Council has already made up its mind.

Michelle Madoff:

I just want to tell you, I didn't write the story and I presume the reporter interviewed the people. All I know is that we went to the Police Department and I think if you will bear with me, I will call upon my aide, Carmen, because she did most of the research and we do need research aides. Does anybody object to asking here?

Mr. O'Malley:

I don't.

Chairman:

I do.

Michelle Madoff:

I will try to answer your question for you. We had the police records pulled and they are a short staff and there is a time factor. Is that right Superintendent? You just can't go get the records, it takes some time to do it.

Superintendent Coll:

It's not filed in the manner in which you asked and that's a problem.

Michelle Madoff:

Right. And it's not in the computer yet. The best we could get for example on the Allegheny Center Mall which is one that we got a letter from Mr. Stabile saying he had no problems in; it's a crime recapped Allegheny Center Mall parking garage ends up with a total of armed robberies, January 1, 1983 to present, two; total strong arm robberies, January 1, 1983 to present, four; total purse snatch robberies, January 1, 1983 to present, one; total theft from auto, January 1, 1983 to present, 36. That's a total of 43.

Mr. Woods:

Can I ask a question?

Michelle Madoff:

And that's in 1983.

Mr. O'Malley:

I am not finished.

Michelle Madoff:

That's 1983 with 43 episodes.

Mr. O'Malley:

What I am saying is, I am leaning towards supporting your bill.

Michelle Madoff:

My answer to your question doing the research since my aide is out is yes, there is a lot during the day.

Mr. O'Malley:

I am leaning towards supporting your bill, but I am not sure I can support it in its entire context; I am not sure that they need a guard at 10:00 in the morning to 3:00 in the afternoon. I would say that they might need one after dark at 7:00 at night or at 11:00 at night.

Michelle Madoff:

This is when the episodes have taken place and they suggested the times. We wanted 24 hours but they said they could live with this.

Mr. O'Malley:

Let me ask a question. If you have a guard walking around the floors and they have to check on every floor every half hour, are you still requiring the escort? To me they should have either/or, either the guard or the escort.

Michelle Madoff:

I would entertain an amendment. I have personal feelings on the difference with the people that are concerned —

Mr. O'Malley:

Mr. Stabile told me they have no problem with the escort service.

Michelle Madoff:

The escort service has come about since they talked about the bill months ago. They have done it on their own.

Mr. O'Malley:

An escort with the guard walking around on the floors seems to be a duplication.

Michelle Madoff:

I am sort of inclined to agree with you. However, I must tell you how this came into being. It originated with people coming to me from Heinz Hall; senior citizens, elderly gentlemen, asking my date and me if we would mind walking them to the garage and well lit garages. Now that garage has posted a sign saying if you wish an escort, we will provide one.

Mr. O'Malley:

I think it's a duplication. That's one of the problems I am having with it. I think if we could amend the bill —

Michelle Madoff:

Let me just tell you where that came from. I was not married to that section any more than you are, but it was an option that a garage could offer. We provide and they have already done it alone before we even asked for it. They felt the need for it.

Mr. O'Malley:

For what?

Michelle Madoff:

To have an escort service.

Mr. O'Malley:

Then we don't need the security walking around every half hour.

Michelle Madoff:

Given a choice between an escort service and security, we will take the security every time.

Mr. O'Malley:

Can we give the garage the option of either/or?

Michelle Madoff:

There is no way they could provide escort service every time; there is no way they could ever do it. They would have to hire so many people that it would be impossible.

Mr. O'Malley:

They wouldn't provide it all the time, they would provide it upon request.

Michelle Madoff:

Then we are not giving protection to the people that need the protection, which is the gut of the bill. To summarize the gut of the bill, the two points that I would not personally yield on would be the lighting and the guards.

Mr. O'Malley:

Well, I would support the escort service or the guard.

Michelle Madoff:

I would waive the escort service but I would not waive the guard. If you wish to make an amendment to eliminate the --

Mr. O'Malley:

It's your bill.

Michelle Madoff:

I would entertain an amendment; I do wish to make an amendment to eliminate the escort service. I have the bill intact, but I would entertain that as an amendment.

Mr. O'Malley:

Fine.

Michelle Madoff:

We could do a vote on Council.

Mr. Woods:

I have a question.

Mr. O'Malley:

I would suggest an amendment that we eliminate the duplication and the additional expense to the garage owners here and I think that would make it easier for this bill to pass.

Michelle Madoff:

Do you want to get through the bill before you make an amendment?

Chairman:

Wait a while. Mr. O'Malley, are you finished?

Mr. O'Malley:

Yes, I am.

Chairman:

Mr. Woods has the floor.

Mr. Woods:

I suppose I should direct this to you, Bob; it came out of your office from Sgt. McNowski. There is some consistency here especially from Allegheny Center Mall and you totalled up to 43, but many of these incidents occurred in the mall and not in the garage and I think that your department is misleading this Council when you send documents like this and say it happened in Allegheny Mall and not in the garage; you have to break that apart and say that happened in the mall or it happened in the garage. Now I have it in front of me and it's from your office and that's not proper —

Superintendent Coll:

I am not familiar with what was asked; I am not familiar with the report.

Mr. Woods:

I want that verified. It was either in the mall or it's in the garage. Now you have the mall, somebody in your office has mall there.

Michelle Madoff:

It's separated on the next page.

Superintendent Coll:

They may have been asked a question. This is the fellow in charge of the sex assaults.

Mr. Woods:

I heard dates that were read and Michelle read them, 1978, 1979, 1980, 1981, that came off that sheet because there are no other dates on that sheet there.

Superintendent Coll:

I don't know what question was asked of the Sergeant.

Mr. Woods:

What we have to do here on this Council, somebody is going to have to come back with some proper statistics saying this happened in this garage at this time on this day, whether it be the Northside garage, whether it be in East Liberty, we need statistics, not a bunch of garble. And also when you name these incidents, 43 incidents that happen say over on the Northside, when you break that down, say how many happened maybe a mugging, rape or robbery or stolen car on maybe Ridge Avenue, California Avenue or Brighton Road, other than the parking lot, how many rapes, muggings, purse snatchings have we had in Market Square? Will we need some kind of statistics to compare one against the other?

Superintendent Coll:

Well, let's put it in perspective. Your point is well taken. Where there is isolated dark areas there are rapes and there are muggings that are not peculiar to malls or garages.

Mr. Woods:

Can I interject something? I understand that Market Square, and I don't know how PPG has been built, there is a very bad place for crime and correct me if I am wrong, it was so lit up it was like walking in daylight, but there was all of these incidents down there. Is that correct?

Superintendent Coll:

There are incidents, but I don't know, there are incidents everywhere.

Mr. Woods:

I am not saying these statistics are wrong or that any other statistics are wrong. I believe we have to have something to compare what happens in a parking garage, what happens out in the street. I need statistics to compare one against the other.

Superintendent Coll:

The problem we had with trying to gather statistics is most of the stuff is computerized and we have such little time on a computer that the only way it is programmed is by a sense-a-track versus address.

Mr. Woods:

Can you answer something? Am I wrong in this? Figure that there are 2,000 911 calls or something like that. How many do we get?

Superintendent Coll:

Probably 270,000.

Mr. Woods:

I realize some of them are fire and some are this. Out of that figure there, is there anyway to say how many of these 911 calls are crimes within parking garages?

Superintendent Coll:

Not without reviewing each and every report from the sense-a-track from where each garage is located. In other words, we would have to say at this garage and this sense-a-track and we have to get all reports from rapes and that sense-a-track and we have to review the reports and see where they happen. We do not have a program to pull out parking garages.

Mr. Woods:

Since somebody pulled these statistics out —

Superintendent Coll:

They got these and apparently she had called the head of the sex squad in the investigative branch and asked for reports on rapes at Allegheny Center. The listing is as following as each assault and rape occurred at Allegheny Center Mall, they list a garage, mall, mall, mall, mall, mall and garage.

Michelle Madoff:

If you turn the page, it's all garage, not mall.

Mr. Woods:

If it's all garage on the next page, how come it doesn't say the same thing?

Michelle Madoff:

It says Allegheny Center Mall Garage.

Mr. Woods:

How come there aren't dates, time and so forth like there are on the front page?

Michelle Madoff:

Because he didn't have the time.

Mr. Woods:

Well, I need that information. Could you get that information for me?

Superintendent Coll:

Well, it's very easy to get information on sex assaults because we keep separate statistics for that. Because of the sheer numbers of auto burglaries and auto thefts, that has been more time consuming; given a small comparatively relatively rapes towards burglaries numbers there are in the City of Pittsburgh, we can easily break down every address very shortly of all sex assaults, we have that separately.

Chairman:

By the garage, Bob?

Superintendent Coll:

Yes, by the garage. I can do that very easily. I could not do all crime by the garage.

Chairman:

One of the problems I have and some of these fellows suggesting alternatives. The problem is happening, as I recall, somebody from the Golden Triangle said they had 10 out of 200 garages being represented here and then came the other one, somebody had the alternative plan and there where the questions are, whether the alternative should be there? It seems to me as long as you satisfy the safety requirements it ought to be okay.

The next question is, are these happening as something would happen on the street if it's in a garage or are most of them happening in a certain garage? Do we have that kind of statistic?

Superintendent Coll:

Well, again, for the crime of rape, we would have those statistics. Because of the sheer numbers of auto thefts and incidents and burglary from auto, we would have to do quite a bit of research to get that figure. By large, the biggest crime in any garage is auto theft. And there are some that have more than others. When using dramatics and I think that is dramatic of rape as to point a problem, I can use that dramatic in a street downtown because the only difference is that's the garage and a building is considered by police as non-suppressful because we do not usually routinely patrol or can we see patrolling in those areas. But we do have rapes everywhere and they are easier because of the little numbers compared to theft to obtain where they happen. If you are asking me to have all crimes in garages, it would be a lot of work because of the way they are programmed for a computer and I would have to do it manually.

Michelle Madoff:

Since I am addressing this, may I ask you something? I think what you stated is correct and I think the statement you made just before you made your last statement, hits it on the head. You said because of the nature of garages, there is no way you can really have people constantly guarding. That's why we are asking garage owners to take that responsibility. Would you like your wife going into some of these garages where they had 43 episodes and so on, where they have a preponderance of indicents taking place in the garage? Do you want her going into those garages?

Superintendent Coll:

I don't want her going on some streets.

Michelle Madoff:

Right. But would you want her in garages where there are no guards? Would you like to answer that one?

Superintendent Coll:

I take a precaution.

Michelle Madoff:

I think Mr. Flaherty might give you an incident that just happened very close to him. You are begging the issue. You wouldn't want your wife in that garage.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, I have seen a recent article in the paper about how in the Golden Triangle the stores there are probably going to experience the greatest shopping boom that they have ever had on the spirit of Renaissance II, and it really disturbs me that garage owners, who are the recipients of a lot of the wealth created through the Renaissance II, come in here and try to kill this bill after they have had the opportunity to meet and after Councilwoman Michelle Madoff accepted their compromises.

It's important to keep in mind the garage owners aren't going to lose anything; they are going to pass any cost down on to the customers. Now what are we talking as far as cost? The Parking Authority statistics which weren't substantiated and which, depending on which set of statistics you refer to, aren't conclusive in the least. One statistic though that seems to be thrown around the most is that it would cost an average parker per day an increase of 47 cents a day which is negligible and which even seems high to me and which was not substantiated. So, if that's the strongest argument, 47 cents a day to an average person who parks in town to pay for the cost of painting and having an escort service or having some kind of telecommunication, I think in my own personal opinion that it's ridiculous and this Council has spent too much time on this issue.

We have talked earlier about statistics. Statistics don't have anything to do with it.

Chairman:

Tom, excuse me. We are talking about the amendment now.

Mr. Flaherty:

Okay, well, I am addressing what Councilman Woods was asking Superintendent Coll about. Quantitatively speaking, are we talking about do we want 43 break-ins or is it going to be 163 break-ins? I think the issue is, is this Council going to support an issue, a very important real issue for women and for men, but especially for women, when it's up against a special interest group that contributes money to Council members or —

Chairman:

I have no objections to that argument when we get to the bill but we are dealing only with the amendments now.

Mr. Flaherty:

Well, I will hold that then. I will hold it until we speak about the bill.

Chairman:

We are talking about the amendments now because that's the motion and there's a second. We are only talking about the amendments.

Mr. Fein:

We are down to 763.03e at the bottom of page two and there, based on the suggestion by numerous parking lot operators, we changed the painting requirements to white or a reflective color —

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, Marvin. That was originally —

Mr. Fein:

Originally it was a reflective color and it was then changed to white at the suggestion of the Golden Triangle Association. It is now changed back to white or a reflective color to give everyone an option.

Mr. O'Malley:

Michelle on this one here, the one we discussed before. If they have up to five candle lights then that's negligible and they don't have to be white?

Michelle Madoff:

Right. They can be purple, black if they want to. As a matter of fact, one of the garages that I am terrified of, which is the Smithfield Garage, I believe that's the street that faces one of the department stores, each floor there is a different guard, one of them is black and I am terrified of that garage.

Chairman:

Why does it have to be white? Can't it be light?

Michelle Madoff:

It says any reflective color.

Chairman:

It doesn't have to be reflective.

Mr. O'Malley:

It doesn't have to be anything but just the five candle lights.

Michelle Madoff:

That's right.

Chairman:

If it's reflective then it has to throw something back as opposed to the light staggering.

Mr. Fein:

I might offer a suggestion that might — It could be reworded so that it's white or reflective color so that the lighting in every part is five candles.

Chairman:

Why don't you put the word light after white?

Mr. O'Malley:

That's still now what we are saying. What we are saying is if they reach the five candle lights it can be any color.

Mr. Fein:

Right.

Michelle Madoff:

You asked me the question before and I am telling you again; the biggest objections that the garage owners had was the foot candles because in order to achieve the foot candle light of ten, they felt that would be a major cause that would be prohibitive to them. That's why we compromised at five; the darker the color the more foot candles. Why would you want to change the color to a darker color?

Mr. O'Malley:

That should be a decision they should make.

Michelle Madoff:

I think we are of a common sense and people of good faith and I think what we are trying to do, they suggested the color, not necessarily be white, but what if it's already yellow and blue, we don't care as long as it's light reflective.

Mr. O'Malley:

As long as it reaches the five candles?

Michelle Madoff:

That's right. We accommodated them anyway so you don't have to argue their point. They have already won that one.

Mr. Fein:

On the top of the third page, a very minor change. The word security personnel has been changed to garage personnel. I am not sure what the difference is but that was at the suggestion of the Golden Triangle Association. Again, the Golden Triangle Association suggested that the escort service be for all who requested such service.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me. That's very important. All who request it. Then it's not mandatory? Only those who request it?

Mr. Fein:

It's mandatory for the garage to have escort service. It's just not mandatory for a customer to use it.

Michelle Madoff:

Right. But what you will find is that it will not be an overwhelming financial burden is what I am saying. Most people don't request it because there are going to be guards and light and what have you. So, I think that's something —

Mr. Flaherty:

You can put either/or the escort service or the guards and I am not arguing their point. What I am trying to do is get the bill passed so that our garages are more secure. The only point I am arguing is my own, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

May I just clear something up on who requested services? That is something I haven't even thought of. They came up with something on their own.

Mr. O'Malley:

What's that.

Michelle Madoff:

Providing escort services for those who request it. They asked to put that in.

Mr. O'Malley:

I don't think they need that and security guards walking around.

Michelle Madoff:

But if they want to have it, I am not going to stop them from having it.

Mr. O'Malley:

Well then that should be a volunteer thing. Some garages told me that they have no problems with the escort service but it would be a double burden to have to provide an escort service and the guards at the same time.

Mr. Fein:

In (k) there is an amendment and the only reason it doesn't show is because the words were deleted but originally there was a requirement that there be emergency phones on all floors and that was deleted at the suggestion of the Golden Triangle Association because of vandalism problems.

Mrs. Masloff:

You mean in addition to all elevators there should be phones on all floors?

Mr. Fein:

It was originally that but that has been deleted from the bill.

Mr. O'Malley:

You mean (k) has been deleted?

Mr. Fein:

No, (k) is in there in its present form but what is deleted is the requirement that there be emergency phones on each floor. It is now a requirement that there be emergency phones on all elevators.

Mr. O'Malley:

There is another suggestion made by people that the phones in the elevators would be ripped out too and they can install alarms not only in the elevator, Michelle, but anywhere in the garage.

Michelle Madoff:

I think the next amendment takes care of all the objections that everybody has now.

Mr. Fein:

No, it doesn't but I think that Councilman O'Malley's suggestion deals only to (k) because —

Chairman:

K has a problem in the sense if it's wide open and not closed so where is the telephone?

Michelle Madoff:

I would have no objections and I think it's a good point to say telephones are a communication system —

Mr. O'Malley:

Or an alarm system.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't know about that. They can be ripped out. I see —

Mr. O'Malley:

If somebody is coming, you push a button and it sends off an alarm and if it does nothing else, it's going to scare them and they are going to run.

Michelle Madoff:

One of the problems that they are having is the kids play with them. Maybe they ought to have a microphone of some sort in it and maybe it can be an alternative method of communication.

Mr. O'Malley:

For example, we have a very difficult time keeping our 911 phones on telephone poles and it's not going to be any easier for the garages.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, according to our Superintendent, we have had very little problem with them now.

Superintendent Coll:

The problems have diminished.

Mr. O'Malley:

That's because we are not replacing them.

Superintendent Coll:

I think there are always problems originally —

Michelle Madoff:

Nothing is going to be perfect. We are only trying to improve the situation and I realize it's not going to be perfect but I amended the bill four times.

Mr. Fein:

The last one only relates to the time problems; certain operators have stated that their lots aren't open during the hours that this bill mandates and what we have said here is that any of those time provisions which is whether you have a security guard can be waived by the Licensing Officer as long as there is something showing they aren't open then and nobody is parking there then and we have another provide so during those hours there is a waiver granted, there has to be a sign posted warning people that there are not security guards or other personnel on duty. This specifically came up with the situation in Oakland with Carnegie Institute lot; it's left open after 6:00 and is used by patrons of bars and other establishments there. We didn't think it was fair to them to have to pay to have security guards so in that type of situation they would post a sign basically warning people they are parking at their own risk and it is not a parking lot that they are operating during those hours.

Mrs. Masloff:

Who would be the Licensing Officer? What department would be responsible for that?

Mr. Fein:

Lands and Buildings. The Building Inspectors.

Mr. Woods:

There is no Lands and Buildings anymore.

Superintendent Coll:

It will be the Fire Department.

Michelle Madoff:

In any event, to summarize if I may. —

Mr. Givens:

Are we still on the amendment here?

Michelle Madoff:

I am summarizing the amendments, yes.

Mr. Givens:

I have an amendment to offer. I don't know how to word this now, but when I brought it up a week ago when it was discussed and I have it in here to be a new Section 763.05 that the Board of BBI investigate each and every plot plan in accordance with Chapter 763 as amended for final enforcement on a case by case basis and that each parking lot owner can appeal to the Board of Code Review for variances of this chapter.

What I am trying to say here, and this is just words that I have just put down to be reviewed legally, but what I am trying to say here is, here was an enforcement code; we have specific items of lighting, phones, etc. But we have to appreciate that when we build a building and the building is 50 years old, that we don't come in there and say you have to put sprinkler systems throughout the building. It's just not cost effective.

I think that some place and each parking lot there is no standardization of our parking lots, be they a garage, be they an open lot, each one is independent and separate by itself and looking at it from a security standpoint, that's what I think we are really looking at here and these amendments to this particular chapter is that some place there has to be someone to go down and look at each one of these parking facilities on a case by case basis using common sense and logic as to what can be done to this in order to upgrade but not to the point where it becomes financially uneconomical for that person to do it or security wise because it's an old parking facility that it might be upgraded in four or five years completely; and that if an individual parking lot owner does not agree to this upgrading according to this particular code, be it by BBI Investigation on a case by case basis then they can go to this Board of Code Review, some 19 ladies and gentlemen who are qualified in all the building codes of the City of Pittsburgh; 19 members sit on this board with all the expertise I think we would need and both security, lighting, the mechanical, you name it, then sit on this board; this board was created for exactly this type of situation and has to be looked at on an individual basis and if we don't do that, I think the economic impact is going to be tremendous and you have to waive that. You have to say economics on one side and the security on the other side.

Michelle Madoff:

We did compromise.

Mr. Givens:

I can go through every building in downtown Pittsburgh and say for my safety I want fire alarms, I want this, I want sprinkler system and everything else, I can say that too. There has to be an agency and the agency is the Code Review to look at this on a case by case basis and give variances and I think here was a Citizens Board that is looking at the security of the people downtown and making variances on what we have in this particular chapter. Is that reasonable? I put that out on the floor.

Michelle Madoff:

No. I am going to tell you why it's not feasible. That's how the bill came into being. We took the bare minimum essentials which has now been attested to that it will now cost more than $.47 to park to provide just basic lighting —

Mr. Givens:

Per hour, per car or per day?

Michelle Madoff:

Per day and incorporate only minimum lighting, just enough lighting and to have a guard to be there and I would like to know whether you would like your wife and children in a garage that didn't have just that kind of protection?

Mr. Givens:

Well, you are getting very personal; what about me?

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Givens we are doing exactly

Mr. Givens:

— You don't want this Board of Code Review to look at it and give variances?

Michelle Madoff:

My understanding is the Board of Code Review would be looking at it anyway. There are people that want protection and as people called in on a talk show and said we realize that we can't have everything, but we would like to have the bare minimum and we are talking about $.47 per car, per day and I would like to think that not one member of this Council might be influenced by any contribution that they may have had in their vote, I would like to think that that is not a fact.

Mr. Givens:

Is there anybody else who has any other views on this Code Review otherwise what I am saying is that anyone —

Michelle Madoff:

— we have done exactly what you have asked.

Mr. Givens:

Excuse me Michelle, I have the floor now, that anyone that comes underneath this chapter, the amendments that are being addressed here today that there is some mechanism where they can go in appeal, that's all that I am saying. Mr. Fein, legally, can we do this?

Mr. Fein:

Well, every application for license has to be reviewed under law on an individual basis at the present time; that part really doesn't add anything to the application process, all these are the decision of the building inspector or the licensing officer which is appealable at the present time so that also really doesn't add anything to the present process.

What I think your language would do would be to add the concept of a variance being mandated by Council which I do think would weaken the bill to quite an extent, but at present, Council, if this is approved would be granting a variance in the F section by saying that alternative means are acceptable and approved by the license officer. As I read the bill, there will be no variance being granted by Council with respect to the painting with the five foot candles. I think your provision would add that type of variance provision in there and would change the substance of the bill as it currently reads as amended.

Chairman:

On the amendments if we have it, can I entertain a motion?

Michelle Madoff:

Move to approve.

Chairman:

Opposed? Now to the bill as amended.

Mr. O'Malley:

Can I make a suggestion to Ms. Madoff, I will support the bill with one more amendment Michelle; I think and we have talked about it before, the escort or the guard patrolling the garage, I think it's a duplication of services.

Michelle Madoff:

You are free to introduce that and have a vote of this Council.

Mr. O'Malley:

It's your bill.

Michelle Madoff:

I am not going to introduce anything that is going to weaken my bill, if you wanted it introduced, then you introduce it.

Mr. O'Malley:

I would like to make an amendment to give the garage owners an opportunity to either or --

Michelle Madoff:

-- No, it can't be either --

Mr. O'Malley:

-- They can either have an escort service or a roving guard.

Michelle Madoff:

The escort service is for everybody, not just those who ask for them, they would have to provide an escort service, that would be humanly impossible.

Mr. O'Malley:

Maybe only when they request one, because I won't request one, I am not going to have a guy walk me to my car.

Michelle Madoff:

That's not acceptable.

Mr. O'Malley:

I am quite sure Ben Woods is capable of getting in the car by himself.

Mr. Given:

Put your motion on the floor and we will vote it up or down.

Mr. O'Malley:

My motion is to give the garage owners the opportunity to either have the escort service or the surveillance of having guards walk around through the floors, whatever their choice is.

Michelle Madoff:

Then you have completely gutted the bill entirely; if you want to eliminate the --

Mr. Givens:

— I will second your motion for discussion.

Michelle Madoff:

If you wish to eliminate mandatory and they don't have mandatory guard services now and we have it in the bill that they must provide it for everybody and if you want to eliminate the walking of somebody who request escort service, I would except that.

Mr. O'Malley:

Eliminate the escort service?

Michelle Madoff:

Right, do not eliminate the guards roving on each floor.

Mr. O'Malley:

Well, that's why I asked you to make the amendments.

Mr. Givens:

Just cross out escort and put in guard.

Michelle Madoff:

You wish to eliminate the escort service from being mandatory?

Mr. O'Malley:

I make a motion to eliminate Section 763.04i which says all enclosed parking garages with three or more floors shall provide escort service for all customers who request such service.

Michelle Madoff:

Right, now that goes to a vote, anybody wish to second that motion?

Chairman:

It has already been seconded.

Michelle Madoff:

Who seconded it? Nobody seconded it.

Mr. Givens:

I seconded the original motion.

Mrs. Masloff:

Say that again.

Mr. O'Malley:

Eliminate the escort service since we are going to have the guards.

Mr. Fein:

Just to eliminate the I provision on page three.

Chairman:

Everything else will move up one.

Mr. Givens:

I will second that motion.

Mr. Flaherty:

I am opposed and I just want to say one thing.

Chairman:

One thing, can I give you the opportunity to do that when you vote?

Mr. Flaherty:

Fine.

Chairman:

Call the roll, Mike.

Mr. Givens:

Is this on Jim's amendment?

Mr. Flaherty:

I am opposed because I don't believe providing an escort service is going to be a significant cost at all. I believe that parking lot operators are making more than a living on our parking lots and I think if you negate an escort service then you are going to negate protecting women and I see this bill as serving a two fold purpose.

It's to have a guard to make sure that cars are not broken into and it is also to protect women who have been proven prev; we have had women murdered, we have had women raped, just in this past year, big articles in the paper on it. And so if we are talking about pennies, I think we are out of balance and I think the first concern of this Council should be for the safety of the women of this City and not a few pennies expense to garage owners.

Mr. Givens:

I vote aye.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to point out that this has been in the media for sometime and I am very disappointed that the Mayor's Commission on Women did not see fit to be here and testify on behalf of this bill or offer any suggestions. This is open to the public at large and certainly this is monies that came out of our budget, we voted for them and I think that is a disgrace.

As far as the issue, the amendment Mr. O'Malley, I respect your right to offer it, however, it has been my experience from using most garages almost daily and I am here speaking grabbing a substation or here going to get a tan or something because I have problem and I will tell you that very seldom as if someone asking for an escort so the amount of money is really so insignificant that I am voting against it and only because it is not a major issue.

Mrs. Masloff:

Are you saying Jim that in lieu of it if you have one or the other in the garage, you don't need —

Mr. O'Malley:

— What I am saying here is that if you have guards roving the facility, then you don't need the escort service.

Mrs. Masloff:

I vote aye.

Mr. O'Malley:

Don't address my colleagues as Michelle Madoff and Mr. Flaherty, that people really ask for escort service. Well, that's just my point, if they really ask for escort service, then it's unnecessary to pay someone to stand around and do nothing; and as for Mr. Flaherty here grandstanding on women being raped in garages, I think that's offensive to everybody at this table. What we are trying to do is promote a bill to encourage safety in our garages. Mr. Flaherty's either all or nothing attitude is a lot to be desired. I think the idea of having an escort service and guards roving the garage is a duplication of services and I think it is going to put an unnecessary financial burden on the garage owners which are going to be passed along to the customers. I vote aye.

Mr. Robinson:

Aye.

Mr. Woods:

We are saying that if I vote aye on this amendment, we do not have—we will have security guards, but we will not offer the escort service?

Mr. O'Malley:

Right and if I might —

Mr. Woods:

— I would rather have it reversed

Mr. O'Malley:

— The guards could also act as an escort service; after they make their rounds and they are downstairs and somebody wants to be escorted to their car, certainly the guard can escort them to their car.

Mr. Woods:

Aye.

Mr. DePasquale:

Aye.

Chairman:

Aye.

Mr. Perry:

Ayes 7, Noes 2.

Chairman:

Now on the bill as amended.

Michelle Madoff:

Move for approval.

Mr. DePasquale:

Second the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Chairman:

Now on the bill, have we covered enough that we can talk on the bill while voting?

Mr. O'Malley:

Roll call vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

I am in support of the bill and as I was saying earlier at the inappropriate time I think that this is an issue that primarily and directly effects women and this Council is on record in supporting legislation that enhances the status and addresses the problems of women in this City when it is not in conflict or when it is not the opposite of a special interest. And I consider the parking operators, parking owners special interest and I think they have ascertained their clout politically through political contributions and I think that is very important to keep in mind and I would hope that Council would have the higher concern of what the public good is and not be concerned with perhaps some other issues.

As I was saying when Councilman

Woods was asking some questions to Superintendent Coll in regards to statistics, I am not impressed one way or the other as far as statistics go because I think statistics can't be judged in a quantitative sense. What is the limit, is this Council going to condone 43 break-ins and rapes and not condone 48 or what? I mean its arbitrary to discuss statistics and I don't believe anyone on Council can say what that threshold limit would be to them.

It is also important to keep in mind that garages are not protected now, they aren't the same as City streets; City streets are patrolled by police officers. Garages are the largest outdoor accommodations that the City has and they should have very strict security or at least security comparable to what we have on the streets.

I find it ironic that a very close friend of mine on Monday evening was assaulted in Kaufman's garage on the third floor and I am sure it's on the police records and she was robbed of $700.00 worth of Christmas gifts. I think especially now perhaps those kind of criminals especially are on prowl, but I think that it's very important for the safety of women in the City for the safety of everyone that may have experienced a car break-in that Council pursued the higher ideal in this.

In closing I want to say that we have the Mayor's Commission for Women and they are addressing the security aspects of women and employment and educational enhancement. Well this is an issue that couldn't be anymore basic to protecting women and I am sure that the Commission for Women would be most supportive of this issue and I would think also that the Mayor's Office is most supportive of this issue.

Mr. Givens:

Aye.

Michelle Madoff:

Since the minute this vote is over we will probably adjourn and will not have a chance to say anything for the record. I will take this opportunity to say obviously I am for the bill because I sponsored the bill that this will not go away and we are coming to the end of the year and we did not have time to get to the people who were here at the original official we only meet one time as Mr. Woods would say hearing and if this bill does fail we will be back next year much more organized with a room full of every group and the women who are part of this bodies to protect themselves and we will get Senior Citizens groups with older people to be here and I will see personally that somehow or other I work out some kind of records with Superintendent Coll who I am sure is an honorable man and will supply those records on a daily basis and if I have to buy the space in the paper I will name the garage where the incident has taken place and leaflets passed out on the streets around the garage because I am going to be a fighter to see that those garages are safe.

And I would like to point out to the garage owners in the audience because this will get back to them that since this has been a major issue it has been vocalized, printed and if you go to court and you may have your insurance, but I think that common sense will dictate that knowing you could have been safer than what you were and you were, you are going to have more difficulty winning your cases and it would not be practical for you to encourage us and encourage this Council because we have gone to bare bones for security and you will be protecting your own invested interest to do what has to be done in the garages. I vote aye for the bill.

Mrs. Masloff:

Aye.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, for a minute, we also point out which did not come up today, that people say I don't use the garages on calls that came in on stations that asked me to talk on the bill because the garages are not safe, their husbands won't let them go or they won't go in groups. There will be more people using garages if there are roving guards and lighting and therefore there will be no losses on the money that you are going to have to spend to improve the garages, you will make it up because you will get more people.

Mrs. Masloff:

Aye.

Mr. O'Malley:

Aye, and I think the legislation primarily deals with the safety of — I support the bill, and I think it deals primarily with the safety of women. There are a number of other reasons to keep people coming downtown to shop and to keep people downtown after working hours to shop and I think it is imperative that the survival of downtown business economy that these people feel safe.

Two, I think by your amendment, you made a lot of unnecessary cost and I think the garage owners can live with the bill now and three, I think it's necessary to put the safety of the residents against the few additional cents it is going to cost the garage owners, and not to support this bill now because of the elimination of unnecessary cost is unconscionable in my mind.

Mr. Robinson:

Yes.

Mr. Woods:

No, and I am not supporting it because I feel it's not going to cost the garage owner of $.10, it is going to cost the people that use the garage and in using Mr. O'Malley's argument that it will bring people downtown to park, I think it is just the opposite; one of the reasons that everyone cries is because parking is so high and $.47 a day is not a lot of money when a lot of us, when you add it up, it cost $2.50 a week, $10.00 a day, $120.00 a year and myself, I have a little card and I park for nothing on Council, but there are many people who have to pay maybe $125.00 a month to rent spaces downtown and maybe they will raise it to $145.00 and they are the people who can't afford it and that's why I vote no.

Mr. DePasquale:

I only have one comment to make and it's my next door neighbor and she was robbed in front of my house the other day and we are being told time again this is a safe City and am I to demand a policeman for every street and every house in the City of Pittsburgh and I guess that's my only other alternative, I gave my reasons before as to why I am opposed and I still vote no.

Chairman:

Relative to the facts that are before us, let me just say these remarks, but anyone who cares to read the minutes of the Pittsburgh Parking Authority will know that I have been in the forefront of pressing the maintenance and updating of all parking garages in the City of Pittsburgh and right now there is an active motion relative to that matter and it has been there since I have been on the Parking Authority.

Secondly, relative to the matter before us, in our efforts sometimes to do things, we tend to make everybody else dirty or at least unconscionable when in fact, they are not. The problem of what is before us has not been proved and that is where part of our problem lies in the sense that there is number one, allegedly no one who has the kind of statistics which would back up the necessity of whether or not this should be a Council amendment or whether it needs police enforcement for a minute in which parking garages do these particular crimes take place or is it in every garage?

In those incidents where it does happen, is it one that seems like it seems to be one individual creating a statistic for all garages? From what I can gather and from my experience most garages or at least those under the Parking Authority have been attempting to comply and update and do those things which they think help their business because they need as a practical matter people to come into their garages.

Relative to this matter, if we knew whether or not if it's all garages or just a few of them, we could then concentrate our police or our Building Inspection to enforce some better standard of safety then we have.

Relative to the present bill, it tends to make and treat in my opinion somethings that are equal differently and some of the exclusions and it seems to me if safety is our pursuit then safety ought to apply whether you go to East Liberty and attend the Sears parking lot to shop or whether you attend the parking garage next door and go in there to shop; it seems to me that should not be treated differently; but I think the key and my major reason for what I am about to do is as follows:

No way in this Council can it ever make sense if we do not give everybody the opportunity that comes here to speak their mind; whether you like what they say or whether you don't in this country we are allowed to do that; it would appear to me that we would have gotten more sense out of the last Wednesday's meeting had we permitted those people to fully say what they were saying. I didn't see anyone in the parking group say they didn't want to do something; they wanted an opportunity to express but in some sense, they were offering an alternative and that offered opportunity still have public safety at which is the alleged intent relative to this particular bill.

It appears to me that in your efforts to help one group, you should at least not without control overly burden the other and I think the alternative that they were suggesting would have gotten us the same thing. No one can come to this meeting and not be treated in the sense that they have the right to speak their mind and if we don't give that right to them rather it be parking lot attendants, whether they be business people, whether they be residents, whether they be neighborhood groups, big, small or from our community or somebody elses community it's totally immaterial, they have when you have a public hearing an opportunity to be heard and it is my personal opinion in this particular instance, they have been denied the opportunity in a fair climate to express themselves. For that reason I abstain.

Mr. Perry:

Ayes 6, noes 2, 1 abstention.

Mr. Woods:

Move to adjourn the meeting.

Mr. DePasquale:

Second the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

(END OF COUNCIL'S REMARKS)

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, I'd like to have included in the record a letter I received from Congressman William J. Coyne concerning the general revenue sharing program for 1983.

(LETTER - CONGRESSMAN WILLIAN J. COYNE)

December 2, 1983

The Honorable Bill Robinson
City Council
510 City County Building

Pittsburgh, PA 15219

Dear Bill:

On November 17, 1983, both Houses of Congress took final action on the General Revenue Sharing Program.

As passed by Congress, the bill extends the General Revenue Sharing Program for three years, through September 30, 1986. Funding is set at $4.57 billion a year. The legislation also provides that a local government would not have its revenue sharing allocation cut for at least a year if the tax base of that unit of government declines by 20 percent or more because of a specific economic dislocation. Further, governments which receive $100,000 or more in general revenue sharing payments will be required to obtain an annual audit; those governments receiving from $25,000 to $100,000 will be required to obtain an audit once every three years.

At a time when local units of government are experiencing economic problems, I think that the Congress acted wisely in extending this legislation which is so important to our local governments.

Should you have any specific questions concerning this legislation, please do not hesitate to contact me.

With every best wish,

Sincerely,

William J. Coyne
Member of Congress

WJC/ccj

(END OF LETTER - CONGRESSMAN
WILLIAM J. COYNE)

Mr. Robinson moved to approve the minutes of Monday, December 5, 1983.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Woods

Council adjourned.

ONE-HUNDRED TWENTY-SECOND COUNCIL

EUGENE P. DePASQUALE President

PRESENT:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. Robinson
Mr. Givens	Mr. Stone
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. DePasquale
Mr. O'Malley	(Pres't)

The Meeting was opened by the recitation of the pledge of allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

The Chair:

I'm sorry I missed the previous meeting. I certainly did not intend to do that. It was one of the few meetings in 12 years I've been late for, and apparently my colleagues did not have the courtesy of waiting, so that's their problem. If we may continue with the business at hand.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, Mr. President, I just raised the issue of your telling me the meeting would be not at 1:30 but at 1:45 as you left because we were late. You're absolutely correct, and they voted on another issue of great importance to me in which I had no input on the vote.

PRESENTATIONS

Mr. Stone presents

Bill No. 4233 Resolution approving the collective bargaining agreement between Firefighters Local No. and the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Stone moved for adoption.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

What is the percentage of the pay raise, please?

Mr. O'Malley:

Four percent.

Michelle Madoff:

What was allocated in the budget; was it three point something? Has the Mayor allocated for all the negotiations of labor?

Mr. Stone:

That one I think is within the constraints that he set.

Michelle Madoff:

I just wanted to know whether the budget is going to cover it. There's no problem on that. The others have not come back yet; is that correct?

Mr. Stone:

That's correct.

BUDGET MESSAGE
OF THE
FINANCE CHAIRMAN

CITY COUNCIL
CITY OF PITTSBURGH

Mr. Stone:

A few years ago, we suggested that if we wanted to weather the fiscal waters of the next few years, our city was in need of some watching.

So far, we have been able to weather the storm, but again, we still need to exercise some caution in the years ahead.

As we cope with stormy fiscal periods, we will have some good news and as well as some "words of caution".

First - the good news!

Council, while increasing the Mayor's proposal by $2.25 million dollars will, again, provide a NO TAX increase, balanced budget, for 1984. The new budget figure for 1984 will be $265,969,743.

There will again, be no curtailment of city services to the citizens.

There will be some reorganization taking place to make City operations more efficient.

But, again, this good news must be tempered with words of caution!

Practically every North Eastern city has fiscal problems, not necessarily of their own making. Being the older Cities, time and wear have caught up to them all and a abit of recycling has become necessary at the worse time - during the fiscal constraints of the '80's.

But - Pittsburgh - is a "few cuts" above every other North East city. In spite of the problems of an aging city, the need to recycle, federal and state cutbacks, and a traumatic unemployment problem, Pittsburgh still manages to forge ahead on an even keel.

To a large extent, we have lost our steel industry. (J and L was once the city's largest employer). We have experienced lay-offs, increased termination of employment and their consequential drain on our city's economy.

This city has changed the composition of its job base. To a very large extent, we are no longer reliant on the steel industry. The city has and will make a transformation, from a heavy industrial base, to a more service based economy.

This city is aware of its limited tax base. It is equally aware of its present inability to get legislative relief.

Being fully aware of these constraints, the city has done more - to get more - from our present tax base.

We are still reaping the advantages of some of our innovative programs, which are the results of the continued good working relationship between the administration's Fiscal Department and the Finance Committee of this Council.

To cite a few examples:

1. The institution of the "lock box" system, wherein city funds are deposited on the very day of collection;
2. The institution of the landlord/tenant registration bill, - enabling the city to locate more non paying taxpayers;
3. The passage of tax filing legislation, - the mandatory income tax form PGH 40 to enforce tax collection;
4. The acceleration of the collection of withholding tax collections from larger employees, on a monthly, rather than a quarterly basis;
5. The investment and reinvestment of available funds on a daily, rather than on a "delayed" receipt basis, taking the best advantages of the maximum investment opportunities;
6. Intensified efforts to collect outstanding tax receivables particularly in the area of business tax;
7. Stepped up Treasurer sales of tax delinquent properties, designed to collect delinquencies faster.

All of these changes have added considerable revenues from the same tax base - without the need of additional taxation!

This has truly helped the city's fiscal position and stature!

We have not stopped here. In 1983, we have added more "teeth to the bite" of the innovations of recent years, to insure that no citizen pays over and above his/her fair share of taxes.

Taxpayers should not have to pick up the slack of the scofflaw - the non-paying taxpayer.

The new PGH 40 collection system aided by the State reporting system combined with addition of penalty clauses for failure to report - will encourage scofflaws to join the ranks of taxpayer.

From these efforts, $4 million was raised in this way in 1982 and 1983.

In addition to the PGH 40 programs, we are vigorously increasing efforts to collect delinquent payments on real estate taxes, as well as, traffic violations.

We shall continue these efforts to see that no citizen pays more than his or her share, because of someone else's neglect.

Speaking of neglect, let's turn to our water system.

This administration has brought our water problems to the forefront.

This disclosure, while perhaps not politically advantageous, nevertheless - is responsible!

The problem of our water system will not go away!

The Mayor is to be commended for his fortitude in proposing a Water Authority. The need to rebuild and finance our water and sewer lines is too great.

This problem is not of this Administration's making, it's been in the making - during many decades of neglect. Today we lose nearly one gallon of every 3 gallons of water produced, in our system and it will cost $188 million dollars to rebuild and rehabilitate our water system.

To face up to our water problem - will not be easy, but nevertheless - necessary.

The law provides that a public hearing be held before a water authority can be formed and a public hearing has been set for Thursday, January 19, 1984.

POLICE, FIRE AND MUNICIPAL RETIREES

No problem is more disheartening to this Council than the annual appearance of its City's retirees to Council's Chambers.

It is most demeaning to those individuals who have given a full and active work life to this city - in year's past.

We need not belabor the point that they are on fixed and low incomes. Each year the costs of bare necessities increase, but their income remains fixed and low.

Some receive less than Public Assistance recipients!

This year, as last year, hospitalization costs zoomed dramatically for the retirees.

The retiree - older and more likely to need the hospital services - can't do without hospitalization.

In recent years, increases, granted by this Council, did not even meet that year's increased hospitalization costs!

1984's increase of $36.00 per month for all retirees will go to pay the increase of the hospitalization - the full $36.00!

It's worth bearing in mind that while these retiree increases are needed and deserving, they will trigger in increase in the city's financial obligations.

Yearly increases, from this city, regretfully cannot become the norm!

The Mayor had protected the 1983 surplus to be $16 million dollars.

As Finance Chairman, we project that the surplus will be higher and have so reflected that, in our revenues.

It would be wrong not to work towards a surplus, but it would be equally wrong to be overjoyed and feel fiscally relieved over a one (1) year's surplus.

In year's past, in our Budget messages, we advised that the Budget process should be considered in a minimum of a two (2) year cycle.

This city has been reducing its expenditure and work force, without adversely affecting our maintenance of services. With future cuts becoming increasingly difficult and with costs going increasingly higher, surpluses must be generated (even by end of year curtailments if necessary) to meet the following year's expected basic need.

Such will be the case, as we end 1984 and project into 1985!

POLICE MANPOWER

Once again, this year in Budget deliberations, the Mayor and this Council had its "difference of opinion" relative to what is an adequate amount of police manpower.

This year, the problem is more acute. In spite of the fact that our present manpower level is 1284, the Mayor's Budget Proposal for 1984 contemplates no new trainees or hirees.

On the average, we annually lose between 30-50 police officers by retirement. Without any new recruits, our police manpower would be down another 30-50 officers.

1234-1254 police officers is not enough!

This Council was, therefore, again faced with a need to act!

Council has provided for the hiring of a class of 40 police officers by July of 1984, and an additional class by the last quarter of 1984.

Council has provided the ability and funding, but only the Mayor does the actual hiring.

We respectfully request the Mayor to hire the extra police!

As we said earlier, we must all be reminded that the tax base of the city has limitations.

As a "hub city", our city daily provides basic services to twice the number of people that normally live here.

And it provides facilities such as the 3 Rivers Stadium, the Zoo, and the Aviary, plus others — for the entire tri-state area.

And in addition it shoulders the responsibility for hospitals, universities and schools tax free. Their patients, and students are from the county and region, in equal, if not greater numbers, than those from the city, itself.

The State Legislature must act and must give this city — a fair shake — an opportunity to tax reasonably — only those, whom we service, no matter where they live!

The tax would be on the service, not the residence! If the city provides police, fire, EMS, refuse and other protections of people and property in the city, when they are here or have property here, why shouldn't they be taxed reasonably (even if less than city residents).

We don't expect or desire a non city resident to pay our share or carry any of our burdens.

We have carried — more than our load — too long. It's time Suburbanites, who work in the city — pay something more than a pultry $10.00. It's also time for Suburbanites who use city services or facilities, for free, to pay a portion of the expenses.

We, again, commend the Mayor on his continued efforts to pursue equity, in Harrisburg, and we welcome his alliance with Mayor Goode of Philadelphia, in this effort.

We need the State Legislature to give us the power to tax these non contributing Suburbanties.

In conclusion, we have, during our Budget deliberations discussed openly our strengths and our weaknesses.

But — it's time now, again — to "shift the sand in the strainer", and see the results.

It's become clearer that this city is meeting its problems head on, and addressing its needs - openly and responsibly.

While it has not been easy for us, as it has not been easy for other cities in the North East, we still remain a "few cuts" above - all the rest, because of our steadfast resolve to get on with solving our problems.

Again in 1984, this city - our city - the City of Pittsburgh - looks to the future with great anticipation.

I hereby recommend that the City Council of the City of Pittsburgh adopt - our 1984 NO TAX INCREASE BALANCED BUDGET, - and I urge the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh to accept our recommendations and revisions and to approve the 1984 Budget.

Respectively submitted,
December 27, 1983

ROBERT RADE STONE
Finance Chairman

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I realize we are at zero hours, that we must vote. I'd like to take two items that I feel very, very strongly about and ask Council to amend them, because we're voting final vote now; we can still change them.

My first item of concern is the Personnel Appeals Board. I have no objections to their getting $100 a day, per diem. The Mayor said $150 a day. I have never criticized the work of the board or the quality of the work. Nor the result or the effect of work that had been undertaken. What I do object to is payment for non hearings. I would object to $100 a day, per day, which would come to more than $20,000 a year if hearings were held daily. It is unconscionable, knowing there haven't been any hearings to speak of. We would vote a ghost salary to a phantom board.

It was Dr. Krauss and others contend the board can be put to greater use and more hearings held because of a need, which others say doesn't exist. Then $100 a day compensation is more than fair and equitable. As, I said before, that would come to better than $20,000 a year. Anything more is a political vote to a ward chairman. I urge my colleagues to go back and make that a form of motion to $100.00 a day, per diem, or if you want to stay at $150 a day, I'll accept that, but a per diem vote, which comes to more than $20,000 to $25,000 a year, if indeed they hold hearings every day.

I think we cannot allow this to stand. I make that as a motion. Does anyone want to second that?

The Chair:

Is there a second to the motion? There being no second, the motion fails. Your other motion, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

Secondly, due to budget procedures we were informed rather rapidly that in 1983 with new technology, we were all going to get a $53,000 computer terminal in our offices. In my office I have an Administrative Assistant who did tremendous work, for example on the garage bill, spent six months on it. Her name is Carmen Guenther. I have another young woman by the name of Linda who is not here at the moment; she gets $3,000 a year for coming in three days a week. We've never had anybody in Council and I certainly have never had the use of an independent, non political, bipartisan, fiscal advisor. I would have liked the salaries for our help to have stayed at $40,000. I was not here because as you told me, Mr. DePasquale, the meeting would be at 1:45. It was voted on at 1:30.

I would like, therefore, to present to this Council, that in light of that $53,000 thing assigned to us, in addition and above all the other moneys for a terminal — I have no objections to my aide going into the budget office and looking at that terminal, and I'm sure that some of my colleagues who've supported my bills and I've supported theirs would not object to my using their terminal for my own information. I hope these computers are not going to be used for our own elections for stocking information in word processors.

I would, therefore, like the allocation of that $53,000 over three years for me, I don't want it all. All I want is the difference of $5,000 a year. My $53,000 — if I take $15,000 of it, I would like the right to use that $15,000 for a fiscal advisor to my office. I want to go out and hire a graduate student with a degree in economics and municipal government on a part-time basis. I would need that much more than a terminal and a computer, because what good is it to have input if I don't know what to do with the input. I have a year of accounting. I'm probably the only person here at the moment other than Mr. Robinson who is — you do have a degree in economics; is that correct, Mr. Robinson?

Mr. Robinson:

No.

Michelle Madoff:

But you did study economics?

Mr. Robinson:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

That is correct. We're probably the two that have some formal training that I know of. There may be others that are out there training. You know there's an old expression, garbage in, garbage out. I want to know that the information that I'm being fed has some meaning and can be checked. I would like to ask this Council to permit those of us on Council who do not wish to have the $53,000 for a terminal to lower our figure. I have a small word processor, I use a little one — and be able to use the money, $5,000 that was cut out of the moneys for staffing to use for economic or staff that I feel is desperately needed, for a fiscal advisor and a fiscal analysis in my office. Would anybody second that motion?

Mr. Givens:

I'll second that motion for this reason and I think possibly maybe some Councilmembers can share this particular —

Michelle Madoff:

Right, and would you like to share that fiscal person with me? We need to hire them.

Mr. Woods:

It's only $53,000 total for all nine members.

Michelle Madoff:

That's what I wanted to get straightened out.

Mr. Stone:

It's designed to get the word processor, plus budget, plus your use as a typewriter as well.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, give me that again so that I am sure of it now.

Mr. Stone:

It includes everybody.

Michelle Madoff:

$53,000 is over three years. It gives us just a terminal; is that correct?

Mr. Stone:

It gives you a CRT key, which is going to give us budget information right off, which everybody seems to be saying up until now, at least, they wanted it, now this gives you the ability to have and at the same time, since you have the CRT, plus the typing mechanism, it also gives and that's why it was thought to be economically sound that you have the ability to use it as typewriter or a word processor at the same time. It's the same device.

Michelle Madoff:

I have no quarrel with that. Let me just break that down. You're saying if we break it down to each Councilperson, how much does that work out to?

Mr. Stone:

Divide nine into that year; it's $53,000.

Michelle Madoff:

Pardon me?

Mr. Stone:

By dividing $53,000 by nine in that year.

Michelle Madoff:

And that works out to?

Mr. O'Malley:

$5,800.

Michelle Madoff:

$5,800 over three years? That's all it is is $5,800 over three years.

Mr. Woods:

It's a one-shot deal.

Mr. Stone:

No, it's over a three-year period.

Michelle Madoff:

Wait, is it $5,800 each year or $5,800 —

Mr. Stone:

It's for a three year-period —

Michelle Madoff:

$5,800 over a three-year period, divided by three, then; is that correct, Mr. Stone?

Mr. Stone:

You divide the figure in the year is $53,000 divided by nine.

Mr. O'Malley:

Approximately $5,800.

Mr. Givens:

My point that I wanted to bring out

Michelle Madoff:

Wait, I'm not through, excuse me —

Mr. Givens:

I thought you were through, I'm sorry.

Michelle Madoff:

So, what you are saying is that approximately we're getting about $1,500 a year; is that correct, Mr. Woods, Mr. Stone?

Mr. Woods:

No. $5,800 a year for three years.

Michelle Madoff:

You said one thing; he said something else. Mr. Stone is now saying it's $5,800 a year for three years.

Mr. Stone:

I said that before.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm asking for the right to use my $5,800 not for a computer terminal, but to have a — we have a word processor, which is not very good, it's breaking down every other day, to get a better machine, which I could get anyway just by ordering it, and to have my aide and the woman that works for two extra days who is already learning the computer and to be able to put the difference of the money towards my fiscal advisor. In other words, what I'm saying is I'd like the right to use that three times roughly $5,800, that's what? $20,000? I'd like the right to use that to the best use of my office for the best use of my constituents as opposed to having to use it for a terminal printout. Why would it make any difference to the members of Council if I wish to use it in a more effective way for me so that I can be more functional in my office? Do you have any objections to that, Mr. Stone?

Mr. Stone:

If I thought we shouldn't have had it, I wouldn't have put it in the budget.

Michelle Madoff:

I didn't ask you whether you thought we should have it. It is your opinion you should have it. I'm saying would you mind if I use my allocation of those dollars for other uses in my office?

Mr. Stone:

That is provided for everybody. If they want to reject it, they can, but it's provided for that purpose. If they want to use, they can.

Michelle Madoff:

But if I don't want to use it for that, I can't use for anything else; is that correct?

Mr. Stone:

Well, I don't see that's in the budget.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, then I'm asking you, can I use it for anything else I wish to use it for, providing it is for the good of the City and for my office?

Mr. Stone:

It's all to be on a purchase order, which has price considerations tied to it because of the way it's being purchased.

Michelle Madoff:

In other words, my three times 58 is going towards the purchase of the equipment, is that what you're saying, and that there wouldn't be enough money to buy the equipment?

Mr. Stone:

You've asked me three times. I gave you the same answer. If you ask me ten more times, I'm going to tell you the same thing I gave you the first time.

Michelle Madoff:

The one question I just asked you, you did not answer. If I voted no on that and if there were enough votes on it to be able to alternate the dollars, then you wouldn't have enough money to buy the equipment; is that correct?

Mr. Stone:

The way they're buying it in bulk ends out being a price consideration. It ends out tying it all together as a result. They're all coming off of one terminal; it's all connected.

Mr. Givens:

Can I inject one food for thought right in here? We have $40,000 and looking at our own clerical aide assistance back there right now, they are now getting $19,840. To give them the normal four percent raise would put them close to probably $21,000; at the $40,000 that would then leave somewhere around $18,000 or $19,000 —

Michelle Madoff:

They voted down to $35,000.

Mr. Givens:

Oh, excuse me. That would then leave us with the $35,000, and what that person gets in increase for down lower than $14,000 for that person, that's going to come on board and be doing almost the same type of work as the word processing operator that makes $16,019 without the four percent pay raise.

My recommendation and suggestion would be that that new person that comes on board gets the same wages as the word processing operator, which would be $16,019 plus the four percent increase, and that way they would at least be equal to the people that are in this Council doing the same type of work; and I make that as a recommendation.

Mr. Stone:

I think we have two different motions, don't we?

Mr. Givens:

I make it as a motion, then.

The Chair:

Well, we have a motion by Michelle Madoff.

Michelle Madoff:

I assume my motion isn't going anywhere, because I presume I didn't get a second for it.

The Chair:

You did get a second. Mr. Givens

Mr. Givens:

I got a second, and I think you can take from that particular thing and have sharing of one of these units --

Michelle Madoff:

Yes, I would love to share one with someone.

Mr. Givens:

I would rather just have the unit itself and be able to hire somebody that's going to be able to do the work, otherwise, we're going to be looking at someone at $14,000 or less, and I don't think we're going to get anybody with that type of --

The Chair:

On Michelle Madoff's motion, the second, question called for.

Michelle Madoff:

Which motion, mine or Mr. Givens?

The Chair:

Yours.

Mr. Woods:

If you would buy only eight terminals or five or six, whatever you would buy, and the other ones say, well, here's $15,000 to spread over three years, the fourth year someone's going to come in here and say, I want a terminal now, I didn't have it, and nobody was allotted that money, and you're going to end with nine eventually. So you might as well just go and buy the nine right now and end that subject, because it's going to end up with nine next year or somewhere down the road, and someone's going to end up taking money and use it where they weren't supposed to use it, where it wasn't designed to be used in the beginning.

Michelle Madoff:

You're talking about somebody who's coming --

Mr. Givens:

That's what I'm saying, Ben, just the processors, but get people who can operate the processors. Michelle said one thing; it was good food for thought. I think if you're going to hire somebody, you have to hire somebody capable of running that particular machine. If not in our own budget we're giving these people, the word processor operators, they are now at $16,019, let's bring these people in at that same amount plus whatever the four percent increase, and they'll be a full-time City Council worker with the rights and benefits.

Mr. Stone:

That's why the $15,000 was there for that operator. I don't know what more you want from --

Mr. Givens:

Well, it was $20,000 for an operator. At one time it was cut back $5,000 at the session here, so that leaves $15,000 for that operator, plus you have increases for our existing researcher in there. That money has to come from someplace, unless that's going to be handled differently. I don't know, even then your $15,000 — you're still about $1,000 behind what we are now giving our word processors. You have to give us the tools to work with and when that cut come in — but I feel that the —

Mr. Stone:

Call the question, Mr. President.

Mr. Givens:

— but I feel that the $15,000 —

The Chair:

The question was called for a half an hour ago.

Mr. Givens:

Excuse me, wait a minute. Let me finish speaking. Now, a lot of people spoke here today. I've done very little speaking whatsoever. I'd please like to carry out my thought and, then I'll wrap it up if I'm too long. So, again, my motion is that we give that person that's coming aboard as our assistant the same amount of money as we give the word processing operator with all rights, fringe benefits, and etc., that that title will incur.

The Chair:

Now, can I call for a question of vote?

Mrs. Masloff:

What's the question?

The Chair:

The motion, Michelle Madoff's motion.

Mrs. Masloff:

What?

Mr. Stone:

She's pulling back —

Michelle Madoff:

I withdraw my motion.

The Chair:

You withdraw your motion. The second is withdrawn, okay.

Mr. Givens:

I make a motion to increase the salary about $1,000 per individual Council member to bring a person on board that's going to be doing the work that our existing staff is doing right now.

Michelle Madoff:

$35,000 back to $40,000.

The Chair:

Is there a second to Mr. Givens' motion?

Michelle Madoff:

I think we might need to understand it. Are you saying we'd go for $35,000 to $40,000 as we were?

Mr. Givens:

No. I'm saying we're going to go really from $35,000 to about $36,000, some amount, whatever the four percent is.

Michelle Madoff:

$37,000, I don't know. What are you asking for?

Mr. Givens:

I'm asking that the person that comes on board will get the same amount of money as in our budget, line item - word processing operator at $16,019, without the percentage entry; that's the motion.

The Chair:

Is there a second to the motion?

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

The Chair:

All in favor of the motion, roll call vote.

Mrs. Masloff:

No, I think you can get somebody for $15,000 or $14,000.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. DePasquale
Mr. Givens	(Pres't)
Michelle Madoff

AYES 4	NOES 5
--------	--------

VOTING NO:

Mrs. Masloff	Mr. Stone
Mr. O'Malley	Mr. Woods

Mr. Robinson

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the motion was defeated.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Mr. Stone presented

Bill No. 4234

Report of the Committee on Finance for December 27, 1983 transmitting sundry resolutions to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 4098

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution making appropriations to pay the expenses of conducting the public business of the City of Pittsburgh and for meeting the debt charges thereof for the year beginning January 1, 1984."

Which was read.

Also,

Bill No. 4099

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution fixing the number of officers and employees of all departments of the City of Pittsburgh and the rate of compensation thereof for the year beginning January 1, 1984."

Which was read.

Also,

Bill No. 4100

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution

Adopting and Approving the 1984 Capital Budget and the 1984 Community Development Block Grant Program."

Which was read.

Mr. Stone:

Call the original question, Mr. President.

The Chair:

On the original question all in favor aye, opposed no.

Mrs. Masloff:

What's the question?

Mr. Stone:

On the budget.

Mrs. Masloff:

On the total budget?

The Chair:

On the total budget. Do you have any discussion? Do you care to discuss anything on the budget?

Mr. Stone:

No, Mr. President, enough of that. Let's start the vote.

Mrs. Masloff:

I just want to say that I'm going to vote in favor of the budget, but I want my views and opposition to the Council salary increase to be recorded. As a responsible member of Council, I feel that it is imperative that this budget be passed in order to maintain City services and that the employees can be paid.

The Chair:

Well, to that respect, Mrs. Masloff, again I want to apologize for not being at the meeting. It was my fault I was late; the starting of the meeting was something else.

In regards to the Council salary pays, I've never seen such a furor raised in all the City of Pittsburgh in all my 12 years in Council, and I refer to newspaper, radio talk shows, TV, talk on the street, and what have you; and when I came into this Council hearing today, I had an open mind, I really did. I voted for $40,000 although I said I would vote for the majority, but I didn't think $40,000 was a proper amount. I thought it was much too high.

I've always felt that Council members should get the same pay, but it was Councilman Flaherty a couple of years ago that introduced a resolution, went to the ballot box and was defeated. I voted for that resolution because I couldn't see any other way of it being done fairly. Once we all get the same pay you all get the same pay then leave it up to an arbitration board or commission, however the electorate wants it done to set the salaries, based on cost of living or whatever.

I was inclined to say let's split the difference and give half of the raise and take half away, but the more and more I thought of it, and before I got here today, I was determined to say that I was going to vote for $32,500; and go and side along with Councilwoman Masloff. In all fairness, Sophie has never said a word to me about this pay raise and I've never said too much to her, because when I leave this room, I like to leave it right here. I hear enough out in the street just as you do and everyone else. Now, it's moot; I understand it was almost a unanimous vote, but I couldn't leave here with people under the impression that I was going to dog it. I just feel that that's too sizable a raise. I think $5,000 is well in order, and that's what I would have voted for.

Now, question called for on the budget itself.

Mr. Flaherty:

Aye, and I think that the vote that Council had to make on the pay raise was a fair vote. I think it was an inequitable system and I will say that until the cows come home, that Sophie Masloff's amendment was the most inequitable amendment that I have ever seen in my entire eight years in public office, because her group was already ahead in the money category, and if that freeze would have gone in, her group would have aggravated the situation even more and in 1985 would have gone once more ahead. So what she wanted to do was have it coming and going and totally freeze the other half of Council, and I think that's a wrong way to treat anyone.

The Chair:

Well, I have to disagree with you, Mr. Flaherty. I didn't believe that was Mrs. Masloff's intentions. Now, you're entitled to your rights; she's entitled to hers. She has her say and you had yours.

Michelle Madoff:

Before I cast my vote, I just want to say that this budget reflects deferring the day of atonement. Our kids are going to be confronted with the fact that the debt service on the City, not counting the new water and sewer authority, which no doubt will come into being, is already three quarters of a billion dollars. We're going to have a water and sewer authority, and I think Mr. Stone used the figure of $188 million.

Ever since I can recall having brought this very vocally to Council, that was when I introduced the $40 suburban tax which was on television with one of the — I think Channel 11 about five years ago. The Mayor talked about $40. He's gone to Harrisburg and he's testified. He's tried to make alliances with the political powers. It isn't going to happen that way. It has never happened that way. You can never get 102 votes from legislators. Voting themselves out of office, they run every two years; they run, they rest and they run; and they're not going to vote against a constituent.

In order to have a commuter tax, in order to have metropolitanism, which is what I favor, you're going to have to get the corporate leadership together and you're going to have to get them to make a commitment to encourage their employees who have jobs in the City to pay those taxes so that they don't have to have the burden of paying the deficits; because when I go out to speak now and I use the figures of $350 million for unfunded pensions, $40 million for workmen's compensation, $223 million for the borrowed debt on capital, there's $228 million fixed deficit, which is over three quarters of a billion dollars, people turn to me and say no, no, you don't mean City; you mean county. I say no, I don't; I mean City.

I think it's important that we don't deceive ourselves and believe our propaganda. When the Mayor gets up here — we have a pro forma. It's sort of a pageant where he's escorted in, he makes a statement, and he's escorted out; and there's no time or room for discussion, and the day and the morning of that hearing is not the time to do it. The fact remains that our children and their grandchildren, if they choose to stay in this City, will have such a burden that it will be unbelievable; and now with the school tax going up we'll see such an exodus to the suburbs that those of us who stay in the City are going to pick up the deficits.

Somehow or other in the coming year the priorities of this Council must be one, jobs, because jobs in turn will generate taxes, or else we'll do it through abatements or other innovative ways; and two, we've got to do something like — I wholeheartedly agree with my colleague Mr. Stone about police. You talked to — the story this weekend about North Side, they were going to try to bring people to live like most cities do in the downtown area. You won't bring them without police, without police protection, and so, in the real world, that isn't going to happen.

I think the third thing that we're going to have to do more than anything else, and I would hope that I can join with one of my colleagues whoever is willing, because that figure from $40,000 been cut $35,000, pool our resources and hire somebody who's really knowledgeable in fiscal expertise and economics and government, and really start to bring some sanity into the public sphere of knowledge. The public doesn't know, doesn't understand, doesn't comprehend that when we go to the Chamber of Commerce annual bash and the Mayor gets up and says we are one of the few north eastern cities in such great shape, we are not in great shape. We have 129 spokes feeding off the hub, and as long as that goes on, we can go down the tubes just like the Big Apple and other cities, and we are approaching that; and it is going to be a disaster if we see a mass exodus out of this City.

I can talk about my own personal experience of selling my home. I sold it to somebody from Washington. It was on the market for eight months. It was a magnificent home. I had to take almost a 75 percent lowering of price of what it would have been two years previously.

The Chair:

Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm winding up, Mr. President.

The Chair:

Michelle, it seems you've discussed all this before.

Michelle Madoff:

I know we've discussed it before, but I think it's important for the record that we have really played somewhat of a charade in that we really have not got across to the public the serious nature of the fiscal problems of this City; and I would hope the media, forgetting personalities, forgetting whether they like what somebody says or how they vote one day and vote the next day, we'll really do an in-depth study of the fiscal problems of the City and we'll start to educate the public so perhaps we can do something with the corporate leadership before it's too late.

With that in mind, we have no choice but to vote for the budget; so I vote aye.

Mrs. Masloff:

Aye, with my previous remarks recorded.

Mr. O'Malley:

Aye, and I'd like all my remarks from this afternoon brought forward.

(COUNCIL'S REMARKS FROM WEDNESDAY, 12/21/83)

Mr. Woods:

On 4099, Mr. Chairman, I would like to make a recommendation to reduce that figure from $40,000 to $35,000.

Chairman:

Okay. I have a motion to reduce the $20,000 to $15,000.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Mrs. Masloff:

Opposed.

Mr. O'Malley:

That's a reduction from $40,000 to $35,000.

Mrs. Masloff:

On 4099, that's all. Oh yes, Mr. President, in line with my personal feelings and with the views of the majority of the workers from this area, I would like to offer an amendment to Council's salary proposal and move that the salary increase in the five newly elected Councilmembers be amended to $5,000 instead of the $12,500. This would equalize all Councilmember's salary at $32,500 as parity with the Councilmembers.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Mr. Flaherty:

Wait, wait. I'm opposed and I want to state my reasons for opposition.

What that is doing is that would give parity in the sense that all members of Council would receive $32,500 but when you see that in the long run of things, you'll see the gross inequities in what this amendment will do.

Now, I have over here on the board — this is very important. You have to follow. What you have over here —

Chairman:

Hold on. I just want everybody to understand that we're conducting a meeting here today and everybody will conduct themselves accordingly.

Mr. Flaherty:

What you have over here on the board is the salary of Councilmembers from 1978 through 1983, and what the salaries were for each of the two groups. We are all aware that we are on staggered terms.

Now, prior to 1978, Council had a uniform salary. All members made the same amount. The reason why that was changed was the enactment of the City Home Rule Charter which said that a member of Council cannot receive a pay raise during their term of office. Well, since Councilmembers are on staggered terms, that's how we came with the staggered salary.

Now, prior to 1978, the salary was $20,000 a year. So, in 1978, the group that went out of the block first was group number one, which now consists of Councilwoman Masloff, Mr. Robinson, Mr. Stone, and Mr. Woods. They went from $22,500, the pay raise only going to them for the first two years, '78 and '79, and the members in group two were at $20,000 a year. So, then, in '80 it was this group's time to get a pay raise. This is going to show how stupid this system is. So, they went to $27,500 and this group still had two more years to remain on their salaries of $22,500. So, they stayed at $22,500. So then, when it came up two years ago, this group leaped frogged over again and made $32,500 for two years and they will continue to make $32,500 for '84 and '85. Okay. Now, what is wrong though, if you go to $32,500, what the problem is is that you have not had equity as the sponsor of the amendment has said. This group has made $5,000 more per Councilmember since the staggered system went into effect than this one. Granted, that's not much, but that isn't the way laws -- that shouldn't be the foundation for laws because it's just going to get worse as you go down the line. But what is more -- but in a sense means most with the inequity of the thing, is this group is going to get it coming -- there is no equity yet -- and going because what you're going to have is this group is going to be stuck at $32,500 for the next four years.

Chairman:

Hold on. I want everybody to understand that we are conducting a meeting. We will not have any outbursts. We're conducting a meeting.

Ma'am, we are conducting a meeting. This is not a public hearing. This is a meeting.

Mr. Flaherty:

Okay. So, this group -- since the Charter says you can't receive a raise during your term of office, this group which is Mr. DePasquale, Mr. Flaherty, Mr. Givens, Mr. O'Malley, and Mrs. Madoff, this group is going to be at $32,500 for the next four years because they can't get a raise during their term of office.

With this group, which is already ahead of this second group, is going to $32,500 and then in '86, they are up for a pay raise because they start a new term.

And so, we don't know what they are going to get but I'll guarantee you this, no way is this Council -- and anyone who tells you they aren't is not telling you the truth, I don't think.

You can't be naive on this issue. No way is this Council then up in '86 going to keep their salary at $32,500 because then they would be freezing in at $32,500 for four more years. You have to understand this system. And so, actually, you would be up to 1982 at $32,500. Now, you have to change the system.

Chairman:

Tom, please. You're talking to Council. Don't aggravate the problem.

Mr. Flaherty:

You're correct, Mr. Chairman.

And so, that's why I urge my Councilmembers to vote this down because it is the most inequitable system that you can have and it is putting five members of City Council at a dire disadvantage of what four other members are going to have. You have to have uniform pay. And this is why this is bad, and that's why Council put a referendum on the ballot two years ago, to get the uniform pay.

Now, this may look like a quick solution, but what you're going to do is we will have the public off our back for two years, but you're going to have to go through this in two more years, because in two more years in no way, I think, I think members of Council would agree -- Sophie, would you agree to keep your salary at $32,500?

Mrs. Masloff:

If I'm here in '86.

Mr. Flaherty:

What the issue was, Sophie, is when you were making $22,500 you took a $10,000 to bring you up to $32,500 and some of these people voted for that out of a sense of equity for this group. Is this not correct?

Mrs. Masloff:

Yes, but I was two years behind them, and it was wrong then, and it's wrong now. You can carve it in cement that if I'm here in '86 I will not vote for a raise.

Mr. Flaherty:

Wait a minute. We got a debate on this issue and we're going to get to the heart of the issue, and we're not going to be playing politics. You come up and you show me how you have equity when you have made $5,000 more than this group and when you're going to take it in the future.

Chairman:

Mr. Flaherty, I think you made your point. Mr. O'Malley.

Mr. O'Malley:

I want to pick up on Mr. Flaherty's point. Okay. I realize it's snowing outside but we are also getting a snow job inside too and I think everybody at this table ought to realize what is going on. As Mr. Flaherty said, two years ago, we voted for a $10,000 raise for Councilmembers. At that time, everybody, including Mrs. Masloff, voted for a $10,000 raise. Now, all of a sudden, she's coming up for re-election and she's interested in parity. Well, she should have been interested in parity two years ago.

Mrs. Masloff:

Conditions were different.

Mr. O'Malley:

Let me tell you exactly what the conditions were two years ago.

Michelle Madoff:

Worse than now.

Mr. O'Malley:

Two years ago, inflation was at 8.9 percent. The year before that, it was at 12.4 when you were discussing your raises. Inflation is down now to 33.7 percent, so conditions are a whole lot better now than they were back when we voted $10,000 for you. Let's put a little honesty and truth into this Council session.

Myself and Michelle Madoff, two days ago, voted against a raise for the Personal Appeals Board. That's a board that hasn't heard a hearing in 22 months. Mrs. Masloff voted for $8,700 a year for them and they might not have a hearing for two more years.

Michelle Madoff:

For her friend.

From the Audience:

Well, we don't need them.

Mr. O'Malley:

We don't need them. Myself and Michelle voted against them. So, let's put a little honesty on this table.

Chairman:

Mr. O'Malley, let's deal —

Mr. O'Malley:

No. If they want to play hardball, we'll play hardball.

Sorry to steal your —

Mr. Flaherty:

If I may close. All I want to say is this issue has created so much frustration and the frustration, there is no doubt about it, but what it is is it's the structure that is causing a lot of the frustration. It's the Home Rule Charter. You have to change the Home Rule Charter, or you're going to have this every two years and the only way you can change it is to bite the bullet now, and establish some kind of equity between these two groups without putting this group that is already behind further behind and then coming in at '86 — I can't see how anyone in personal good faith can do that and then come in in '86 and vote another pay raise for —

Mr. O'Malley:

Can I make a suggestion that Sophie withdraw her motion and we make another motion?

Mrs. Masloff:

No, I'm not withdrawing my motion.

Mr. Flaherty:

I think the facts speak for themselves, and if any members of Council can come up and change these facts, I want them to —

Chairman:

Tom, you proved your point. Mr. Givens.

Mr. Givens:

Back two years ago when we were looking at the Council as a body, all of us unanimously voted for that $32,500 pay raise which was an increase of some $10,000 for the four people on that board.

If we do not give a pay raise, and regardless of that I'm a recipient of that pay raise, this two years down stream, it means no difference to me and that some type of parity be given to our frustrations and our problems that we have before us. I think all of us again are going to go back to the drawing board, and I am going to recommend right here and now that we put a referendum on the agenda for this coming year that will be effective in the year 1985, for the fiscal year 1986 wherein all the Council people will come up at the same level at the same time. Now, how can you do that? There is only one basic way that I think you can do that, and that is to go at $37,500 for a period of two years and have a referendum before — that would then give parity to all the Councilpeople and will be earning the same amount of money, and that is the only reason I bring that motion forward, and it's not in a motion yet because we have one before us, but that is the only reason I bring that motion forward, and then in that two year period, we will be equal and hopefully that these citizens that are out here today will go back to that referendum question that will be proposed by all of us—not just by Dick Givens, but by a majority of this Council and propose it, adopt it, and put it on the ballot, and have the people vote on it, and then that way we will be—it will be much advantageous to the public because as we come up for election then you can review what we have done for the last four years, the last two years. I'm trying to bring parity, and as Tom indicated, inform the among our Council peers because to do otherwise causes friction I feel within this Council. I would hate to be—for example, for two members that cannot sit at this table and make judgment, but if they were carry overs, I wonder what their position would be on this. And see how the vote goes down. I think you'll find that the vote is going to go down—all we're looking for is just parity, and I think $37,500 for two years will bring it, and the people out there will have a right then to vote on this referendum and be effective come January 1986, we're all in the same barrel at the same time and from there on in you can see what is going to happen to us, and then if Council does anything over and above board, you have that right to shoot them down at the ballot box, and that's where it should be.

Mr. O'Malley:

If I might, Mr. Chairman, if we're talking about fairness and equity, and everybody at this Council table realizes that the system doesn't work, none of us like to sit here and put up with the abuse as elected officials that we have put up with today. I know it hurts me and everyone of my colleagues.

From the Audience:

You started it. Remember that.

Chairman:

Hold on here now. Hold on Jim. We will do nothing more until we get some quiet in this room.

Michelle Madoff:

Could we also get Mr. DePasquale in this room.

The Chair:

Hold on. There will be no discussion until we get some quiet in this room. Mr. O'Malley, you have the floor.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'm finished.

Michelle Madoff:

No matter what I say, I'm going to pay the price because you're not allowed to make a mistake and you're not allowed to be human. You're not allowed to say that I made a mistake and I change my mind.

I just had one of my aides call the Law Department, Marvin Fein, and he said that the salaries would not automatically increase from $27,500 to $32,500 unless—Council must vote to raise because December the 31st. I'm at $27,500, and so are four of my other colleagues, so in order to go from $27,500 to $32,500 we must vote. We can vote it keep it at $27,500 until 1987 because that is the term would expire of the people who would be frozen, and the other Council members, the other four, Council would lower the salaries for Sophie, Mr. Robinson, Mr. Woods and Mr. Stone's salary to $27,500.

The Law Department says that that couldn't take effect until January of '86. You can't change it. We want to vote them down under law, even if they agreed it cannot come down to 1986 unless we want to voluntarily donate that back to the City. So, that leaves me with a question. I would like to ask Sophie if she will accept an amendment to her motion to reduce her salary to $27,500.

Mrs. Masloff:

You said we couldn't do it.

Michelle Madoff:

We can do it, and we can donate the money back to the City. Do you want to do that, Sophie?

Chairman:

We have a motion. Let's get to the motion, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm asking Sophie if she is willing to go with $27,500, I'll go with $27,500. We'll donate the—

Mrs. Masloff:

What about my colleagues?

Michelle Madoff:

Well, you weren't concerned about your colleagues anyway.

Chairman:

Hold on.

Michelle Madoff:

You're concerned with your election, let's get down to it. You're concerned with Marty Krause, and getting $150 a day. Let's put this where it really is.

Chairman:

The motion is—and it's been seconded—to make the salary $32,500.

Michelle Madoff:

Are there any amendments on the floor to that?

Chairman:

Take the roll, Mike.

Mr. Flaherty:

I am un honorably opposed to this because of the inequity that is on that blackboard, and there is nobody that can change those figures and it is inequitable, but it's also the worst possible present to build for the future. You're going to continue to have this system. It's important to keep in mind. Council two years ago put a question on the ballot that would have geared their salaries to no more than what the average City employee made, and if that thing would have been passed by the public, then we would not be here now with the problem. It's very easy to political grandstand on this issue. But it's a tough issue, and sometimes the truth is hard to accept, but that's what this Government is supposed to be about. It's supposed to be about truth, and those facts are truth. And nobody can change those facts around and say that those facts are not truth, so in the spirit—the most basic spirit of truth, I urge my colleagues to vote for truth on this issue.

Chairman:

Your vote is?

Mr. Flaherty:

No.

Mr. Givens:

Just the same as Tom has indicated, and I don't care who is before this particular Council body, I voted two years ago, I voted to even out the score, and this right here will not even the score. I wouldn't do this to anybody let alone my fellow Council members. For that I vote no.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like an answer from Sophie if she would be gracious to give it.

Chairman:

Let's vote, Michelle.

Mrs. Masloff:

You accuse me of grandstanding, and you're grandstanding.

Michelle Madoff:

That's right, Sophie, because that's exactly what you're doing.

Mrs. Masloff:

I am not. I am not.

Chairman:

Hold on.

Mrs. Masloff:

I will take a cut to $27,500. I'll take it. I work for it. I'll take it because these are hard times, and we should cut everything. I will vote for my amendment for—

Michelle Madoff:

You cannot vote for both.

Mrs. Masloff:

My amendment before us.

Michelle Madoff:

You just said that you would take the $27,500.

Mrs. Masloff:

That's not what we're voting on.

Chairman:

Michelle, you're out of order.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'm going to vote no. In response to Sophie's amendment, the last two years, Mrs. Masloff has made $10,000 more than Michelle Madoff. Now, in the next two years—in my mind, I don't think that Bob Stone is worth $10,000 more than Jim O'Malley. If she thinks that is too much money, I would like this one gentleman's recommendation that we let her vote her access, let her give her access to the food bank.

Mr. Robinson:

Yes.

Mr. Woods:

No.

Chairman:

I'm voting no.

Mr. Perry:

Ayes, two; Noes, six.

Mr. O'Malley:

I would like to make a motion to equalize—that will equalize Council's salary at least in two years. I would like to make a motion that it be ruled back from $40,000 to $37,500.

Chairman:

Have I a second?

Mr. O'Malley:

And also I would like to make a motion and follow up on my motion in explaining that the four Council members who made $5,000 a year more than the rest of us in the past two years. In two years they will be up for reelection, equalize pays at that time at $37,000 and freeze them and hopefully the referendum will pass and this Council will receive no more than the same percentage that is given to all of the City employees.

Chairman:

I have a motion at $37,500, do I have a second?

Mr. Givens:

Second.

Chairman:

Take the roll, Mike.

Mr. Flaherty:

Aye, because it's fair and I don't care about a few people that are trying to demagogue this issue to death. There's the facts up there, and this is a good vote, and I'm voting aye.

Chairman:

Hold on a minute.

Mr. O'Malley:

Are you going to conduct the meeting?

Chairman:

I'm capable of conducting the meeting if everybody here will start behaving the way they do. If you grandstand with them, you're going to get that kind of a result. Don't try to put the blame on somebody else, when you're disrupting the thing yourself.

Mr. O'Malley:

Well, let's have the vote.

Chairman:

Hold on a minute. If we're going to conduct the meeting, then quit talking to somebody else. Talk to the Council members. And then you don't generate the kind of response you don't want to have.

Mr. Givens:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

No.

Mrs. Masloff:

No.

Mr. O'Malley:

Yes.

Mr. Robinson:

No.

Mr. Woods:

Yes.

Chairman:

Yes.

Mr. Perry:

Ayes, five; Noes, three.

Chairman:

Okay. It has been dropped to $37,500.

(END OF REMARKS)

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the bills?

And on the question, "Shall the bills pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. Robinson
Mr. Givens	Mr. Stone
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. DePasquale
Mr. O'Malley	(Pres't)

AYES 9 NOES none

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bills passed finally.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, while those papers are coming up, can I just end with something, if I may. I would be remiss if I didn't take this time to thank our budget staff of City Council. That's John Buckley and Pete Vaughn. I think they have done yeoman service, they've done an incredible job, and they put out more material this year than even before, showing the desire and intent of performing a good service for the City of Pittsburgh.

Equally, I'd like to thank the capital budget staff of Eddie Albert and Al D'Alessandro, who have been keeping our capital budget and community development projects in line and moving along without incident.

I'd like equally to thank our City Clerk, Mike Perry, and Linda Johnson, who have always been extremely cooperative relative to budget deliberations, and we just want them to know that we thank them for that effort.

I'd like as well to thank that corps of secretaries who are behind the scenes and our typists for their fine services.

I'd like to thank Paul Krall and the staff of the City Information Service Center for their patience, their understanding and the good service they've given us.

Equally to the Printing Department under the ever-dependable Bob Murphy, who, every year, is always cooperative and always patient and seems to understand and adjust his schedule to match that which we know, constraints of time, which we need.

I'd to thank the various directors and the heads of departments who this year were equally cooperative.

A special thanks to the Treasurer, Ron Schmeiser, Steve Schillo, and Jim Turner for their cooperation and their fine input into this budget and as well, their excellent cooperation and their forthright discussion with me and with my budget staff..

I'd like to thank the Mayor and all of his staff who have equally been cooperative in these deliberations.

And last but not least, I'd like to thank each and every member of Council who, by their participation, support and input, have contributed to shaping the 1984 Budget.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, if I may. I move to make Bill Nos. 4080, 4098, 4099, 4100, 4199 and 4233 effective January 1, 1984 and all other legislation effective December 31, 1983.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I wonder if the Finance Chairman will share with Council what the procedure will be if the other unions and binding arbitration do not come in on the budget figure that we've allocated. What will happen?

Mr. Stone:

If it's over and above we may have to open the budget.

Michelle Madoff:

And then we'd have to increase the budget, is that it?

Mr. Stone:

We'll have to do what we have to do.

Michelle Madoff:

When would we know this?

Mr. Stone:

When the union contracts come back.

Michelle Madoff:

I mean is there a deadline?

Mr. Stone:

Not to my knowledge. They're in arbitration now.

Michelle Madoff:

Is there a time frame set or is there no time frame?

Mr. Stone:

I'm not aware of their time frame although they're into arbitration proceedings.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, if I may. I would like to call to the attention of members of Council that this is the last day for our President, Mr. Eugene (Jeep) DePasquale. To say that he has been in this City and in this Council a legend in his time would be, in my opinion, an understatement.

He has taken great pride in the fact that, as a son of an Italian immigrant, that he was able to rise in this land of opportunity through the City ranks and eventually become on Council, but not only that, to ascend to the position of the presidency of this City Council.

President DePasquale has truly contributed to the City of Pittsburgh and while sometimes our circus atmosphere tends to take away from the good this Council does, nevertheless, it should not in any way diminish the contribution of our President these past six years. Never in the history of this City has there ever in any Council which passed such major, important and substantial legislation as has been passed in these six years.

Mr. President, you are leaving us today but you Sir can be extremely proud of your participation to the City of Pittsburgh. The City of Pittsburgh is better off because you didn't pass by but rather you meaningfully contributed.

On behalf of all of us in Council and on behalf of all the citizens of the City of Pittsburgh, permit me for all of them to say to you, thank you very, very much.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, if I may. I've known you for a number of years now; I've served with you for the last two and a half years. You've become a very good friend and I'm glad I had the opportunity to be your friend. I wish you good luck and God bless you, Jeep.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'd also like to say a few words. It's a sad day for the City and when I was fortunate enough to be elected, Jeep was one of the one's who took me under his wing and whenever I had any problems or I needed some advice, I was always welcome to go into his office to talk to him. For that, even though we disagree sometimes, we're still good friends and I'll always be grateful for him. I think Jeep has been an outstanding public servant and I think he's certainly given more to the City of Pittsburgh than he's taken from the City. I think it's been an honor on my part and a pleasure to serve as a Councilman with Jeep DePasquale. I look forward to serving with him on the board of Alcosan and to continue being his friend. I just wish him and his wife, Josephine, and his children all the best.

Mr. Woods:

Jeep, I'd just like to add one more thing. You see we're all wearing "Jeep" buttons.

Mr. Givens:

We had many good cartoons in the newspaper on that, Jeep, and much of the legislation that I had put forward and the real ones that meant something to me also meant something to you because of your positive vote on it. For that and the last eight years that we've both worked on this Council together, I thank you for all the input that you've had into this Council and I think all of us, to some degree or another, are going to miss some of your jovial joking around, even though I didn't hear all your comments and sometimes I'm better off not hearing them but reading them in the next day's paper. I think it gives a certain amount of lightheartedness to the serious work that we must do on this Council.

I thank you and I'm sure you're still going to be around this political arena for many years to come. On behalf of you and your family, in that semi-retirement that you might be going into right now, I wish you the best of luck and the best of health.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, I would just want to add that you and I in the past, Jeep, there have been time that we haven't agreed on things and sometimes they really became very raucous; I'm sure that in the future, if we were working as closely together, there would be times where we would not agree. But I would be remiss in saying that you have certainly been the lightning rod on this Council; you have certainly got us to attention. Often times we all were not in agreement but I don't believe the public would want that anyway.

I think you're a real pro; I think we had our fights in the past and I think the way you were able to shrug it off and still come back here on top of the world now. You certainly taught me a lot about life.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I think it's only appropriate that I should speak last since we're a team in the public's eye, despite all media hoopla. As a matter of fact, one of our former Councilman's wife was convinced that we had fought deliberately just to get elected, that it was planned, and that we were having a secret romance. Of course, you and I know that's true.

You know that I am very fond of you as a person. We've spoken privately many times. I personally am really sorry to see you go. I think it's going to be a lot tougher here on Council without you. I think you have a humanitarian touch about many things and I'm going to miss you. If you'd like, I'll have lunch with you sometime and I'm buying.

The Chair:

If I may, Members of Council, ladies and gentlemen, I tried to be an upstanding President and I tried to carry out my sworn duty. I've been a Councilperson for twelve years and one thing I never did was let my constituents down, just as you have done, in regards to taking their part in regards to certain legislation in seeing that the City of Pittsburgh move forward. I think no put it anymore eloquently or better than Councilman Stone. I don't mean the resolves or the roses he threw my way; I'm talking about the constructive legislation that this Council and other councils that I have served on and Mr. Stone has served on and I think we've done more probably than all the other councils combined in the history of the City of Pittsburgh.

I have only one regret. As Council President there were occasions where some of us, myself included, tended to forget that legislation was our prime job or our prime purpose and we strayed from that field on occasion but fortunately, in time, got back on the right track.

I want to say leaving here today is no pleasure; I did it voluntarily as you probably know. I just thought I'd want a change, to try something different. I'm not retiring, I'm just going away from politics for a time, perhaps for good, but at the same time I'm not going into what you would call complete retirement as you're probably quite aware of that by now.

I do want to say, and I mean this from the bottom of my heart, that never did I leave this Council Chamber and carry our business out in the street and never did I bum rap any of my colleagues and, to the best of my knowledge, none of them ever bum rapped me; I'm talking about on street corners or in department stores, or what have you. Most of you left it right here in this room and that's the way it should be. That's the way you should continue to behave. Act accordingly out on this floor and at that table but when you leave here, that's all forgotten. Get yourself a drink or something to eat and just forget that until the next day.

I leave here bearing no malice towards any of my Council colleagues and I mean that very, very sincerely. There's no reason to for that matter. We've had our fights, as Mr. Flaherty said. Hell, we wouldn't be human and we wouldn't be politicians if we didn't. Philosophically, he thought one way and on occasion I thought the other. The same goes for all the rest of Council in regards to my dealings with them. Most of the time I agreed with most members of Council; there were occasions I didn't. But that's the game, that's the way it should be played. If we all went one way all the time it would be a pretty boring world.

I repeat, I leave with no malice towards anyone; I have affection for all of you. I'm going to miss you, believe me, I am. It's going to be tough the first few months, I know that. I can see right now from what you've said that when I go into that room today it's going to be real rough. But I do want to thank all of you.

Mr. Stone moved to approve the minutes of Monday, December 12, 1983.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Stone

Council adjourned.

(MAYOR'S VETO)

December 30, 1983
President and Members
Pittsburgh City Council
Fifth Floor, City-County Building
Pittsburgh, PA 15219

Dear President and Members:

A review of the 1984 budget recently presented to me indicates that overall City Council has done an excellent job in preparing the City's spending plan for next year. The 1984 operating budget increase of only 3.7% represents a dramatic reduction in the 10% growth rate in costs which we have experienced in the past. Council was able to cut the growth rate in half while still providing the same high level of service to the public.

While I congratulate Council for their overall efforts in presenting this budget, I would be remiss in my duties if I did not point out several problems with the budget. The Home Rule Charter provides the Mayor with the opportunity to exercise a line item veto whenever the Mayor feels it is essential to do so. I am reluctantly choosing to exercise this option on the 1984 budget in several selected areas.

Again, let me emphasize that I believe that the overall budget is an excellent product. However, the line item vetoes I am making are necessary to ensure the long range financial integrity of the City and, equally as important, to demonstrate that City government is responsive to the needs and wishes of its citizens.

Pensions

I am reluctantly vetoing the pension increases presented in this budget in order to protect the integrity of the current pension system as well as the financial stability of the City. There is no doubt that some retirees are facing difficult times, but the City is simply not in a financial position to grant annual pension increases.

What many people fail to realize or refuse to recognize is that the cost of the proposed increase is far more than the $1.3 million added to the 1984 budget. The total cost of the increase over the life of the retirees exceeds $19 million. From an actuarial standpoint, the present value of this total cost which represents an increase in our unfunded liability is $10.3 million.

The single most serious financial problem facing this City is the accumulated unfunded pension liability associated with the pay-as-you-go pension systems which existed in this City prior to 1975 for municipal employees and prior to 1982 for police and fire employees. In order to avoid massive pension cost increases which would threaten the solvency of the entire pension system, the City, in 1982, embarked on an ambitious pension reform program which over a 20 year period ensures that all City employees are covered by pension programs which are acceptably funded.

The proposed pension increases threaten the structure of the entire pension reform program by adding an additional $10.3 million in unfunded liability to the existing system which is already woefully underfunded as a result of decades of neglect. Prior to the adoption of the 1982 pension reform program, the rating agencies continually pointed to our pension situation as an area of grave concern. The proposed pension increase would not only severely damage our attempts to improve our credit rating, it would also raise the possibility of having our credit rating lowered by the bond rating agencies. This could cost the City millions in increased debt services payments.

It must be pointed out that it is practically unheard of in the private sector to grant annual pension increases. In 1983, because of the low inflation rate and overall economic conditions, very few pension increases were granted in the Pittsburgh area by either private or public concerns. Furthermore, when pension increases are granted, it is far more equitable to devise a method by which those who have been retired the longest and, therefore, have been hit the hardest by the high inflation rates of the 1970's receive the largest increases. A review of the steelworkers situation verifies these facts. Under the steelworkers' contract ratified in 1983, no pension increases were granted. Under the prior contract ratified in 1980, the pension increases granted were financed by concessions granted by existing employees. In addition, the pension increases given were structured in such a way that those who had been retired the longest received the largest increase.

I am vetoing the proposed pension increase because it is more than the City can afford and it is not structured in a reasonable way. I am recommending that Council adopt a three tiered approach as shown below:

- 1) Those employees who retired prior to 1970 receive a monthly increase of $25
- 2) Those employees who retired between 1970 and 1980 receive a monthly increase of $15
- 3) Those employees who retired between January 1, 1980, and December 31, 1982, receive a monthly increase of $10

This approach will cost the City $615,660 in 1984 and the total cost during the lifetime of the retirees is $8.2 million. From an actuarial standpoint, the present value of this total cost, which represents an increase in our unfunded liability, is $4.5 million. By structuring the increase in this manner, we are trying to be as responsive as possible to the needs of our former employees without damaging the integrity of the pension system for our current employees.

City Council Salaries

As a result of a defect in the Home Rule Charter, City Council members, as well as the Mayor and City Controller, find themselves in the unenviable position of being able to receive a pay increase only once every four years. This practice has resulted in large pay increases every four years instead of moderate increases on an annual basis.

A recent referendum to reform this system was defeated by the public largely because they did not understand the issue they were voting on. Because of this misunderstanding by the public, once again City Council members are required to establish their own salaries.

While I am in agreement that a salary increase should be granted for the five Council members in 1984, I am not in agreement with the size of proposed increase. I am, therefore, vetoing the proposed increase of $10,000 and recommending a pay increase of $5,000 which would result in all Council members being paid the same salary of $32,500.

I am vetoing the proposed increase because I believe that during these difficult economic times a more modest increase is in order. Furthermore, the proposed increase would produce a repetition of the same problem that we currently have, namely Council members being paid at different rates. It must be recognized that during times of massive layoffs at U.S. Steel affecting 5,000 area employees and 15,000 people nationally combined with major concessions by Giant Eagle and Greyhound employees, public officials must be sensitive to the financial difficulties faced by their constituents. We must be responsive to the desires of our citizens and it is abundantly clear that the taxpayers of Pittsburgh are adamantly opposed to the proposed $10,000 increase.

I will introduce legislation in January to place a referendum on the ballot which would permit annual raises to all elected City officials—Mayor, Members of Council, and City Controller—in the same amount granted to all City employees. Once this issue is placed before the voters, I pledge that I will lead the campaign to convince the public that this action is in the best interests of the City. Lastly, I am recommending that the salaries of all elected public officials be frozen at the 1984 levels until the referendum is passed.

Personnel Appeals Board

I am vetoing the salary being granted to the City's Personnel Appeals Board because it is a clear waste of the taxpayers' money and an abuse of the public trust placed upon all elected officials. There is simply no justification for paying these members on a salary basis. In addition, the current method of budgeting members on a salary basis has resulted in the additional payment of benefits such as Blue Cross/Blue Shield, dental and vision plans, life insurance, and annual leave, at a total cost per member, including salary, of $10,814 per year. This compensation was paid the three Board members this year even though no appeals have been handled in 1983.

The Personnel Appeals Board has a limited mandate due to the personnel structure of the City of Pittsburgh. Only 230 employees from a total workforce in excess of 5,000 have the right to take disciplinary actions to the Board; these employees also have the option of appealing to the Civil Service Commission. Most City employees are unionized, which makes them ineligible to use the Board since they are covered by their respective grievance procedures.

Despite the fact that only seven appeals have been filed since 1978, the Board has continued to meet once a month, even when there has been no business to conduct. These seven appeals required a total of 12 sessions to hear and decide the cases. The last appeal, filed in September, 1981, was settled in March, 1982, after three hearing sessions by the Board.

Simply stated, no one should be paid to do nothing at the expense of the public.

This Board is in stark contrast to the City Planning Commission whose nine members provide a necessary and useful public service at no cost to the public. Members of the City Planning Commission meet every other week for a four hour session plus attend numerous public hearings on the six-year capital development plan and on UDAG applications. These individuals have business to conduct at every meeting which consumes hundreds of hours of their time—yet they serve their terms with no pay.

I propose that compensation for the Personnel Appeals Board be set so that if the members must meet to hear an appeal, they are paid at a rate of $150/day. If no appeals have been filed, there will be no cost to the public. I recommend that the budget allow for a total of 12 sessions for all three members at an annual cost of $5,400. By forgoing both salary and fringe benefit costs, the City will save $27,000.00 in 1984.

Uniforms for Council Chauffeurs

I am vetoing the $500 clothing allowance for Council's two chauffeurs because of the dangerous precedent it sets which could force the City to provide clothing for many other City employees. The City now provides uniforms, pursuant to collective bargaining agreements, in cases where it is important that the public recognize employees of the City in order to allow them to do their jobs effectively, such as refuse workers and water meter readers, and to members of our public safety departments, i.e., police, fire, paramedics, and school crossing guards, where uniforms are a necessary part of the services they perform for the public. This is not the case with City Council chauffeurs, however.

Perhaps there has been some misunderstanding. City Council's chauffeurs are not unionized employees represented and covered by the City's collective bargaining agreement with the Pittsburgh Joint Collective Bargaining Committee. And, even if they were, they would not be entitled to uniform allowances. City blue collar employees do not receive clothing allowances but rather are issued safety gear and protective clothing only when they are performing particular tasks that requires special clothing. They are not given money to purchase articles of personal clothing.

City Planning Positions

Three positions have been added to the City Planning Department. I am in agreement with the addition of only one of these three positions. I am recommending that Council retain the Senior Planner position added to the Community Development Section as this position will enhance our monitoring efforts with regard to minority business participation. I am vetoing the other added positions of Principal Planner and Enforcement Officer since they are not necessary and I will not fill these positions if they remain in the budget.

Meeting Expenses for Members of the Human Relations Commission

I am vetoing this item because it is inappropriate to provide meeting expenses for one Commission when no other City Board of Commission receives meeting expenses. While I recognize that the members of the Mayor's Commission on Human Relations provide an important service for the people of this community, I believe the same can be said of many other City Boards and Commissions, such as the City Planning Commission, Urban Redevelopment Authority, etc., whose members serve without compensation or expense allowances.

Building Maintenance Superintendent

I am vetoing the merit increase proposed for the Building Maintenance Superintendent in the Department of General Services. This position was evaluated in detail during the budget review process. The evaluation indicated that the position was adequately compensated. Furthermore, it must be the prerogative of the administration to recommend merit increases for employees in administrative departments, just as I believe it should be City Council's and the City Controller's prerogatives to recommend merit increases for employees within their respective agencies.

Administrator - Board of Adjustment

I am vetoing the $3,000 raise proposed for the Administrator for the Board of Adjustment, formerly entitled the Secretary-Engineer. A review of this position reveals that the current pay rate is adequate compensation for either the former title or for the proposed new title. As indicated above, since the Secretary-Engineer of the Board of Adjustment is an employee of an administrative department, it must be the prerogative of the administration to recommend a merit increase or change in title.

Grants and Donations

I am vetoing the line items for several organizations while recommending that the funding be placed, instead, in Code Account 1838 Miscellaneous Services, in the Department of Parks and Recreation. In these cases, services can be provided to the City for the funding granted, and the Parks Department is the appropriate agency to implement the programs under a contract for services. These organizations are: River City Brass Band, Brashear Association, Community Garden Program, and the Arsenal Board of Trade.

I am vetoing funding in the operating budget for the following organizations with the recommendation that they be allocated community development funds from the ULO allotment: Neighborhood Housing Services and Light of Life Rescue Mission.

I am vetoing the grants to the following organizations because the City is prohibited from providing such funds under Article IX, Section IX of the Pennsylvania Constitution: Center for Victims of Violent Crimes, Carrick High School Band, Police Softball Tournament, Institute of Technology and Society, Friendship Housing Ursuline Center, and Pittsburgh Firefighters Local No. 1 Softball Team.

In closing, I would like to once again emphasize that overall City Council has done an excellent job in preparing the City's spending plan for next year. I believe, however, that the changes proposed above improve an already good product. I urge each member of Council to adopt these changes. By working together, we can continue to insure the economic soundness of City government and also demonstrate that we, as public officials, are responsive to the needs and wishes of the citizens of Pittsburgh.

Very truly yours,

RICHARD S. CALIGUIRI
Mayor

(END OF VETO)

Read, received and filed.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, if I may. I would suggest so that we can move with some clarity as we proceed, that we take this in sections and unless anyone has any objections I'd suggest that.

Mr. O'Malley:

I have no objection but I have a question. What happens if this Council indeed does override one or two of the Mayor's vetoes?

Mr. Stone:

If you override, that would be exactly as it is in the budget. If you do not override, you would then have to go back and offer an alternative and the Mayor would then, as I see it, need to approve or disapprove on that one.

Mr. O'Malley:

But if we override the Mayor's veto then, in fact, it would become law?

Mr. Stone:

Yes.

Mr. O'Malley:

If we come up with a compromise, then we would have to send it back and wait for the Mayor to either approve or disapprove it.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, question. Is the Parliamentarian here? Thank you. And is anybody from the Mayor's Office here?

It's time we stopped acting as separate bodies and having to go back and see what he's going to say and they get a call at home. I think somebody ought to ask the Mayor to respectfully join us.

The Chair:

Michelle, the Mayor's presence isn't needed here. We have his veto and the issue is whether or override or sustain it. You have a Parliamentarian and that's all we need.

Michelle Madoff:

I'll accept the Parliamentarian as a representative of the Mayor then. Is that correct? You can, of course, make the decision for the Mayor whether we change anything.

My next question to the Parliamentarian, which was my first question, is can we open up the budget by a motion of Council? I'm asking the Parliamentarian. Can we open up the budget? I think Mr. O'Malley is going to address a very important item; he's done the research on it and I'll leave it with him. But fair is fair. I think this Council is tired of being scapegoats. Can we open up the budget and address some of the issues that the Mayor has been remiss at and laying it on us and not doing his own cutting.

Mr. Pellegrini
City Solicitor:

Council has five weeks to reconsider the budget by and under the terms of the Home Rule Charter.

Michelle Madoff:

Okay. But we could open it up today if we wanted to, if we wanted to amend. You can't amend without opening up the budget.

Mr. Pellegrini:

You can amend the budget today if you have a substitute resolution. The budget is not before you today, only the Mayor's veto. A separate bill would have to be introduced.

Michelle Madoff:

In other words, you don't open up the budget to have a compromise or an amendment? Suppose someone said we want to go to $25,000 on the salaries. Do you have to open up the budget to do that?

Mr. Pellegrini:

A separate resolution would be introduced with the new Council's salaries, it would be introduced today. It can be introduced if Council so desires.

Michelle Madoff:

You didn't answer my question; I'll try again. Supposing a member of this Council wants to change the $32,500 that the Mayor is proposing, to $25,000.

Mr. Pellegrini:

If you have the votes, Council can do that today.

Michelle Madoff:

But we don't have to open the budget to do that?

Mr. Pellegrini:

You're not opening the budget.

Michelle Madoff:

Isn't the budget closed?

Mr. Pellegrini:

For five weeks after the enactment of the budget, Council has the right to make changes in the budget.

Michelle Madoff:

Is that in the Home Rule Charter?

Mr. Pellegrini:

That is in the Home Rule Charter.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you. You've answered my question. Thank you very much.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. Chairman, if we vote to uphold the Mayor's veto on all items or any other item, then it is up to us to come up with another figure. His recommendation is not law. Is that correct?

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's correct. This recommendation is not law but it is also something that is --

Mr. Stone:

Indicative of his feelings.

Mr. Woods:

But, once we uphold his veto, then it's up to this body to come up with either that figure or any other figure.

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's correct.

The Chair:

Excuse me, if I may. I have a question to ask myself. I think you people raised a good point. Whether the veto is sustained or overridden today, in the future, the next five weeks, if Council would amend certain parts of the budget or make changes, then does the Mayor still have a vote on that?

Mr. Pellegrini:

He still have the vetoing powers.

The Chair:

Okay.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, Mr. President. There's one thing that we neglected to ask. I don't know whether the media was correct but they said that if we don't change that figure today, by law we will stay with our salaries as they are and they will be frozen as of tonight. Is that correct?

Mr. Pellegrini:

The only veto that has to be changed today if you want to put a substitute in the salary ordinance That's because of prohibition of raising diminishing salaries after they take office. So, it has to be done today.

Michelle Madoff:

That's the point I wanted to make perfectly clear to my colleagues. We can't open that issue in the next five weeks.

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's right.

Michelle Madoff:

That was the point I was getting at, Mr. President. Thank you for the time to clarify it.

Mr. Givens:

Danny, you have a folder there and you have many scenarios. Would you just go through and let this Council know what's in your brief case and what scenarios can develop here and what contingencies you have for Council if it does happen.

Mr. Pellegrini:

Most of the vetoes do not involve a change in — For instance, Council's salary adjustments would require a substitute bill. The other substitute bills we proposed, for instance, for Personnel and Appeals Board, would just require a change in the Code Account that the Mayor vetoed. Most of those would be non-controversial. We have prepared legislation that some of them were in accord with the Mayor's recommendation but we have someone standing by to prepare any compromise that the Mayor would decide.

Mr. Givens:

Danny, I asked you a specific question.

Mr. Pellegrini:

Do you want to know each alternative?

Mr. Givens:

Yes. I'd like to see what these alternatives are. I think that's your job and I think you should brief the Council on what alternatives we have here today.

Mr. Stone:

Hold on a minute, Mr. Givens. The reason he's prepared these things was at my request. I think what you're getting at is as follows. If we override the Mayor's veto, what's presently in the budget would stay. If you move to override the Mayor's veto and you don't have the required amount of votes, that means the Mayor's veto, in effect, is sustained. You then have an alternative to do nothing or substitute an alternative.

Taking for example, the salary increases. If you did nothing, the salaries for those five people would be $27,500. If you accepted the suggested recommendation from the Mayor to increase it by $5,000, it would end up being $32,500 and all Councilmembers would receive the same identical salary at $32,500. That's basically the kind of way it would work. You first find out whether you want to override it or not and if you're not able to then you take your alternative.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, Mr. President. That's what happened the other day. We were in the middle of voting on Councilwoman Masloff's $32,500 and I asked her whether she would go to $27,500 in light of her feeling these are such bad times. She said she would and we continued right on with the vote of $32,500.

I don't want to go with the vote of $32,500 and override the veto or sustain it until we have an alternative. That was my purpose in saying, do we have to open up the budget or can we open up the budget. That was one reason. Supposing I want to recommend $27,500 and we've already voted on $32,500 and as one, I can't go back to $27,500. You haven't given me an opportunity. That's item one. Or if I want to go to $47,500. Somebody else may want to do that.

Now, what about if we want to change some of the line items that the Mayor has put into the budget where he's given several dozen of his own people merit increases and we say if we're going to take a cut back let his people take a cut back. How do we balance this? How do we open that budget? Can we open it today?

Mr. Pellegrini:

You have five weeks from the end of the fiscal year.

Michelle Madoff:

I didn't ask you that. Can I open it today?

The Chair:

Yes, Michelle. He's answered that.

Michelle Madoff:

That's all I want. A yes or a no.

Mr. Pellegrini:

If you prepare a substitute resolution for introduction. The original Council bill is not before you today. It would require a new bill.

Michelle Madoff:

Couldn't I make a floor motion?

Mr. Pellegrini:

No.

Michelle Madoff:

Why?

Mr. Pellegrini:

Because it would require at least a week.

Michelle Madoff:

You've said that you're prepared today to make resolutions and alternative resolutions if we need it in a hurry, right? You've got people standing by.

Mr. Pellegrini:

If Council desires, I could prepare a resolution.

Michelle Madoff:

So, I could make a resolution to open up the budget today. Is that correct?

Mr. Pellegrini:

The resolution is not to open the budget. The resolution to make specific line item changes in the budget.

Michelle Madoff:

I understand that; I have all my capacities. I'm asking you if I would also like to, in addition to that, open the budget within the next five weeks making today part of that five weeks, can we do that?

Mr. Pellegrini:

Yes, you can.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you. I got my answer.
Thank you, Mr. Pellegrini.

The Chair:

At the risk of this continuing, and I don't want to muddy the waters, I have one legal question to ask and maybe it's completely out of order or out of line. The budget that's going to be passed today, or was passed, regardless of the Mayor's veto, two members took part in that budget that will not vote in '84. Is it legal for two members coming aboard to vote on a budget they had no part of and the two who are leaving are not allowed to vote?

Mr. Pellegrini:

It's legal for the two new members of Council to participate in the budget.

The Chair:

Okay. That's all I wanted to know.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, that's why I asked the question whether we could open the budget today. That was my purpose exactly.

The Chair:

I think we've got all our answers. If you haven't, please ask them now because we do want to get on with the meeting.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I make a motion before we vote on the veto that we open the budget.

The Chair:

Wait a minute. First of all, Michelle, the item on the floor now is to veto or not to veto. Then we'll get into the other part.

Michelle Madoff:

I still make a motion. I would like a second for discussion that we open the budget so we can change some of the Mayor's line items.

Mr. Givens seconded the motion.

The Chair:

I think your motion is completely out of order, Michelle.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, I believe there is already a motion on the floor when Mr. Perry read the veto.

The Chair:

That's what I said.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. Perry cannot make a motion; only this Council can make a motion.

Michelle Madoff:

And I have made a motion that we open up the budget and we have a second.

Mr. Stone:

I was in the process of trying to get some guidance from this Council. I'm prepared to make some motions that's in line with the veto. I was just asking whether or not Council wanted to take it one by one or in one big gulp.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to open the budget first of all. I have a motion on the floor to open the budget.

The Chair:

There's no second, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Givens seconded the motion.

The Chair:

Did you second Michelle's motion?

Mr. Givens:

Yes, I did, Jeep.

The Chair:

Alright now, we'll vote to reopen —

Mr. Stone:

Point of order, Mr. President, if I may. We are on the veto and the Chair gave me the floor and I am prepared to make the motion in line with whether Council wants to take it as one or break it down. I think the more sensible way to handle it is to have it by sections —

The Chair:

We'll have a roll call vote in regards to whether we're going to take it line item or in one piece.

Does everybody understand the question?

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, when we're talking about taking it in sections, are we talking about the line item? Each line item?

The Chair:

Yes.

Mr. Stone:

I think it's the most sensible way to handle it.

Mr. Flaherty:

I think it's the only way.

Mr. Stone:

In view of that then, the motions I'm about to make are not my personal desires but rather trying to get this in an orderly fashion procedurally.

The first motion deals with the Council's salary increase. I move to override the Mayor's vetoes in both the salary and appropriation resolutions of Code Account 1001, Salaries and Wages, Regular and Temporary Employees, and to reinstate Council's establishment of the salary of $37,500 for each of the five members to be sworn in next year. That's the original motion.

Mr. O'Malley:

Could I hear that motion one more time, please?

Mr. Stone:

This would be to override the Mayor motion —

The Chair:

To leave it at $37,500, Jim.

Mr. O'Malley:

Are you making the motion to override the Mayor's veto?

Mr. Stone:

I'm making a procedural motion. If you want to know what my recommendation is going to be after, I'll tell you that too. It's my belief, in view of where we are on December 31, 1983 that we should not override and we should accept the Mayor's recommendation of $32,500 and equal it out.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Mr. O'Malley:

If the Mayor, when he presented his veto to this Council, would have stated that members of this Council, or myself and four of my colleagues, are not worth a $10,000 raise, are not worth the 4-1/2 percent increase, then I would find that acceptable. If the Mayor would say that it was politically advantageous for him to veto the Council raise because of public opinion against him at the expense of myself and some of my colleagues, then I can accept that. But the reasons the Mayor stated in his presentation to Council, I personally find unacceptable. I'd like to make a few brief statements of why.

They Mayor's reference to Council pay raises, in conjunction with U.S. Steel layoffs, Giant Eagle and Greyhound, is one, uncalled for, and second, I call it a cheap shot at members of this Council.

Nobody knows better the insensitivity of U.S. Steel than David Roderick to the workers of U.S. Steel and to this community. Nobody has done more for the unemployed and the underprivileged in the City of Pittsburgh than members of this Council.

Councilman Woods works in distributing food to the unemployed at the food banks. Councilman Tom Flaherty and Dick Givens worked hard to save Nabisco Coalition and Giant Eagle. Myself, I've lobbied for our Legislators and our Congressmen to extend benefits for the unemployed. Bill Robinson, Bob Stone, Michelle Madoff, have all contributed what we can contribute to help resolve the problems, the economic problems that face us in the City of Pittsburgh. That statement that was made in reference to our pay raise and the unemployment was uncalled for.

Two, the economic times, as the Mayor stated in his presentation of the veto on the proposed increase because I believe that during these difficult economic times, a more modest increase is in order, my statistics show that the economy is in much better shape today than it was two years ago. According to statistics, inflation was at 8.6 percent two years ago; today it is at 3.4 percent for a decrease in inflation of 5.2 percent. There's only a .7/10 of a percent in unemployment between now and two years ago.

Two years ago the Mayor recommended a $10,000 increase for my colleagues on City Council. Mr. Woods, Mr. Stone, Mrs. Masloff and Mr. Robinson, that $10,000 raise two years ago was a 44 percent increase and was passed unanimously by this Council. Our $10,000 was predicated on what the Mayor recommended two years ago.

I'm also disappointed that the Mayor failed to disclose the real facts behind Council's increase. I felt that this was one way that the public would have a better understanding. Instead of criticizing five members of this Council, my feeling is that the five members of this Council have been setting an example for the rest of the City because we have not received a pay increase for four years. I think the taxpayers would be much better off if the rest of the City employees were to follow the example of this Council. And after today, we are not entitled to a pay increase for an additional four years or until 1988 only if we are re-elected. That $10,000 raise, Mr. DePasquale, breaks down to a 4-1/2 percent pay increase per year.

Another disappointing fact about the Mayor's statement is that the Mayor vetoed the 4-1/2 increase for members of this Council and at the same time he recommended merit increases for 57 of his employees. Those merit increases for 57 of the Mayor's employees comes to a total of $75,797.00. So, during these hard economic times, it's very difficult for me to understand why this Council cannot justify a 4-1/2 percent raise but the Mayor can recommend merit increases, these are not promotions and not title changes, these are merit increases for 57 of his own people.

To lay the blame for the difficult times on five members of this Council and their $10,000 pay raise is ridiculous and uncalled for but I'm going to compromise. If indeed we are in hard times, then I think all of us should share this burden equally. In the past two years, well the past four years, myself and my colleagues have not received a pay raise. — We'll take the last two years because we all want to be fair and we all want to share the burden equally. — The past two years the Mayor has made a $57,000 a year salary, $30,000 a year more than myself or four of my colleagues. The Department Heads have made $47,000 a year, or $20,000 a year more than myself and my colleagues for a total of $40,000 for the past two years. Even four members of this Council, Mr. Woods, Mr. Stone, Mr. Robinson and Mrs. Masloff, have made $5,000 a year more than I have or my colleagues Mr. Flaherty, Mr. Givens, Michelle Madoff, for a total of $10,000 more than we've made in the last two years.

So, what I want to know is, during these great economic hardships, where has this great outpouring of righteousness been for the past two years when the people who are against this pay raise have not uttered a single syllable about their own salaries, during these hard economic times.

I'm going to ask my colleagues who always prided themselves on being fair, during this motion to override the Mayor's veto, Mr. Woods, Mr. Stone, Mr. DePasquale, to remember three things. The three reasons why I urge you to override the Mayor's veto are 1) for the past four years, regular City employees have received a 24 percent increase and in the next four years it's more than likely that they'll receive an additional 20 percent for a total increase of 44 percent while this pay raise for City Council at best totals only 36 percent up to 1988, which is 8 percent less than the rest of the City employees are going to get.

The second reason is that $10,000 balances out to 4-1/2 percent a year. It is the same amount of increase for myself and my colleagues that the Mayor recommended two years ago for yourself and your colleagues.

Thirdly, while the Mayor has vetoed this raise for myself and my colleagues, he has granted a merit increase to 57 of his own people which I find totally unjust and uncalled for.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, if I may add to what my colleague has said, I think he did not include — correct me Councilman O'Malley — that not only would these people with merit raises get a cost of living increase and he has some very good arguments. I have been out on the speaking trail and I remind everybody that we have a huge debt, the City is virtually bankrupt, and to lay the problem on Council and make us the scapegoats is absolutely unconscionable when indeed the Mayor, the year before he ran for office, did not have any tax increase, he gets elected in November and in December we have an unprecedented tax increase of 20 percent and he raises his own department heads $10,000 for which I voted against.

I disagree with my colleague Councilman O'Malley only in that two wrongs don't make a right. I think that we should go back to setting an example; I would take $27,500, that's why I asked if we could open up the budget, stay at $27,500 and even though four of my colleagues have earned $5,000 over the last four years, if they're willing to go back and join us and set an example for the rest of the country that's fine.

I have a prepared statement that I would like to read very briefly. It's one paragraph. However, I believe the Administration can do no less. The Mayor must also retract the $10,000 salaries to department heads granted two years ago by at least $5,000 and lower his own salary by the same amount, $5,000. It's time the Administration stopped using Council as a sacrificial lamb and I challenge Mayor Caliguiri to put his money where his veto is. He's vetoing us, he wants us to set an example, he's saying it's bad times. There were more people put out of work when he raised the budget by 20 percent and gave his own staff $10,000 raises. Let him cut back on the department heads including Mr. Pellegrini, who is sitting there very seriously looking at us, by $5,000 and let him take a $5,000 cut himself and let us go back and set the same example.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, any time you evaluate anything in figures, it gets very, very touchy. I myself have been sitting on this Council for some eight years. Thus, to establish this particular budget in 1984 and to justify all raises, one must go back and we're looking for parity. I think that's what we're all here for, to be sure that everyone gets the like amount of money or something similar to that. It's interesting to note, to the public, to the news media here, that when I came on this Council the budget of the City of Pittsburgh, eight years ago, was $98 million. Today and for the 1984 budget, eight years later, it is $266 million.

Let's go back to 1976 when Dick Givens and a few others became Councilmen here. We were paid at $20,000 at that particular time. Note where the budget when now, from 1976 at $98 million to today of $266 million; that's about a three-fold or two and a half fold in our budget. Where did the Council go? From $20,000 to, take the Mayor's suggestion, to $32,000. That's about a one-third increase.

Let's look across the hall. In the last four years, this budget has gone rampant. There are people who are sitting in this Council who did not vote for that budget; Dick Givens was one of them, Michelle Madoff and Bill Robinson. We were the people that four years ago were saying that this budget was out of control. It was a snowball going down the hill. It was an avalanche and the Council was being swept up into it. That's what happened. These people who were in here last Tuesday, God bless them, they were absolutely right. It's too bad that they weren't here four years ago to scrutinize Council's increase and that of all other department heads. Okay, Dick Givens was at $20,000 a year. Taking all the pay raises that I have received up to date, and these are the statistics from our Finance Department, they're not mine, and they're done in good mathematical terms I hope, the increase of this Councilman has been 37.5 percent to this day. The increase of the Mayor up to this day has been 62.9 percent. The increase for my fellow Councilmembers has been 62.5 percent. The increase for the major departments has been 61 percent. The increase for the various other average employees like the painting supervisor, traffic supervisor, construction supervisor, 63.9 percent. That's what happened today. What this Council is trying to do is what the papers so describe very adamantly. We're trying to leap frog over our fellow Councilmen. That is the box that we have been put into. I don't think we're going to get out of that particular box.

If I look across the street to the County officials, I look at our County Commissioners $40,000 a year, I look at the Mayor making $57,000 a year, I look at our Council in a split issue, one making $27,500 and the other $32,500, I look at my fellow row officers making $30,000 a year, $32,000 hopefully by 1984. When I look at those comparisons, the Council is slipping further and further into the hole. The employees of the City of Pittsburgh and the employees of the County, the County has remained reasonable. This body has not remained reasonable. That's a startling fact that no one can change four years later, eight years later. We have put ourselves into a box. The solution that the Mayor gives at $32,500 will not get those five Councilpeople out of that particular box. There are 5,000 City employees; all of them have been justly compensated. If we vote to sustain the Mayor's veto and ask for the citizens to give the elected officials on a yearly basis a pay increase, you can forget about it. That means that the Councilpeople that are making $32,500 right now will be locked into that until the year 1989. 1989. For six years they will not receive an increase and naturally it will be at least four years before my particular group will receive any type of an increase.

For that reason and that reason alone, I cannot justify and what's happened if you look back, for example in 1980, under our department heads we had a three tier department head system. We lumped it all together. For example, some department heads in just one year went from $33,800 to $41,000.

I'll just recap. $20,000, $27,500 or even $32,000, whichever way you want to look at it, and the department heads from $29,000 up to $49,000. They made a $20,000 increase in these 8 years. This Council is just looking for parity. That parity will only give this Councilman something like a $17,000 increase. And this is the bottom line, I am, along with four other Councilpeople, locked in for four more years. The other group, each and every succeeding year, will have at least 5 percent increments. Jim O'Malley independently came out with the same type of synopsis. Here's the list that I asked and I gave to the media but they never put into the newspapers. There's 108 people on this making over $37,000, 1983 figures. Let me give you with just a 5 percent increase —

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, if I may. Dick, you've made your point; I think you've made it well.

Mr. Given:

I'm not going to read the whole thing. I'm just going to hit Council's budget. For example, the Budget Controller in 1987, just getting a 5 percent increase, will be making $45,000. The Chief Clerk, Mike Perry, will be making $48,000. The Mayor, just assuming a 5 percent increase and he's gotten more than a 5 percent increase, will be making $69,000. His Executive Secretary, Dave Matter, will be making $60,000 while these five Councilpeople sit here. And the other people might sit for 6 years. Just keep that in mind. The City Controller, he'll be sitting at $43,000. That didn't include what happened in this particular budget, he'll be right up around $50,000 to $60,000. His Deputy Controller will be up to $57,000. The Director of Finance will be almost at $61,000. The City Solicitor, Danny, will be at $57,000. Personnel and Civil Service Commission will be at $57,000. Other people, City Planning, $57,000.

This is what's happening in the real world. By the time four years rolls out, there won't be 108, there will probably be close to 500 people on this list. You tell me how this Council can sit here and say we'll go along with the Mayor's recommendation. That's all I have.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President and members of Council, just a few comments if I might. I think that the political consequences of our discussion of the salary issue and those other veto items in the Mayor's budget perhaps, at this point, are beyond our comprehension but I don't think we should minimize the potential for constituent reaction, not just to this pay raise issue but to the issue of the manner in which the Council is —

The Chair:

Mr. Robinson, I hate to interrupt you. If I may, those of you who are standing, will you please sit because there are people behind you that can't see.

Mr. Robinson:

I think we should be very mindful of the constituent pressure that has been raised, not only around the issue of the salary but the manner in which this Council and the Administration is addressing and has been addressing the fiscal condition of this City. There are some disagreements as to what our fiscal condition is but one thing is for sure; we are one of the few major cities in this country that is increasing its budget and its expenditures during a time of national recession. Governments across this country are reducing their budgets, reorganizing their services. We are doing the opposite. To some degree, the issue of our salaries is tied to the complex problem of how do we fiscally manage this City. The salaries are the most obvious indicator that something is wrong. In the face of severe economic times, we are continuing to increase salaries, not just for Council but we are continuing to increase salaries in the City of Pittsburgh and I have to say openly and honestly that I am not quite sure why. I am not quite sure why we are one of the few cities where we continue to increase services. We are not cutting taxes, we are increasing taxes. We're in no way, I think, trying to seriously deal with the fact that the economy is in a very bad shape and that we need to do some things to seriously address that and the salary issue is one that we're going to have to get under control soon.

Very specifically about the salaries. In 1978 when I came on this Council, I indicated that I thought we had a problem with increasing the salaries of the department heads. The record will reflect that. I indicated that I thought we had a problem with giving out merit raises, a couple with salary increases that seem to be excessive and the justification for those increases I personally did feel were adequate. I think we still have that same problem today.

In 1981 when the issue of salary increases was discussed, the record will reflect that I indicated that I did not think we should give out any merit increases. I also indicated that I thought we should not be raising the salaries of our department heads to a point that the difference between a department head and members of this Council was significant. In 1983 we have exactly that kind of situation. As many members of this Council, Councilman O'Malley and others, rightfully so believe that their compensation should indeed relate to the kind of time they put in effort and that certainly we should not sit here and approve raises for department heads and merit increases and then deny ourselves.

Again we have a dilemma that I think this Council has created by maybe not seriously looking at this whole issue of increasing people's salaries and then putting on top of that merit increases.

In 1981 when the Mayor proposed a $10,000 increase for each member of Council, an increase which I benefitted from, I suggested a higher raise. In fact, I suggested two higher raises. I suggested that Council's salaries be $37,000 starting in 1982. I forthrightly said because I believe that our salaries should be adjusted up to a level where we can live with it, all of us, all nine of us. That proposal was not supported. I think proposed $35,000 for the same reasons. That proposal was not supported. The Mayor at that time was going to get a $10,000 increase. That increase was put up $2,500 more. I objected to that strenuously. When I finally voted for the budget I said that I'm voting for this budget as a package but there are some very specific things in there I object to.

So, I'm still on record as looking for parity. I'm still on record as supporting higher salaries for members of this Council. But in 1983, the constituent pressure is too great and I'm willing to say it. The people who I think I represent have told me that they cannot understand why members of this Council need such a significant pay raise. And believe me, they are not ready to deal with the logical, mathematical explanations. The people I represent, they don't want to hear that. And they certainly don't want to hear it from me and I'm going to say right here in this Council that I am not willing to go against the overwhelming wishes of my constituents in the pay raise issue in 1983.

I'd just like to close by saying that I am in no way trying to grandstand, I am in no way trying to assure re-election in 1985. I think that people of this City are intelligent enough and bright enough to select those people to serve on this Council that they think will serve them best. If we can have any reminder of how fragile this situation is, ask all those people who thought they had it made, who are not here or who were here and are not here. In 1978, I raised this issue of these salaries and I have no objection to making $32,500 a year. But in 1981, I had no objection to making $37,000. But I said it in 1981 and not one member of this Council would support me, for whatever reasons, and I went along with their wishes for $32,500 and I said, and it's in the record, that I believe in parity, all of us should be making the exact same salary. I supported Councilman Flaherty's referendum 100 percent. The record will reflect that. But in 1983, with all due respect to my colleagues, I am not willing to go beyond $32,500 for your salaries.

The Chair:

Mr. Robinson, I don't want to get into a discussion with you but there's one thing I don't quite understand. You said that you were opposed to $32,500 yet you recommended $37,500. That I don't follow at all.

Mr. Robinson:

In 1981, the Mayor had proposed a $10,000 increase for four new members of Council. At that time, I indicated that I thought our salaries should be higher, that the salaries for the new incoming members Council, whoever they were, I said should be $37,000. No one would support that. I then recommended $35,000. No one would support that. The motion was then made by the Chair to accept the $32,500 figure; I voted to support that but with the reservations that I felt that we were doing ourselves an injustice and the incoming members of Council. Then I finally voted because I said, in the spirit of compromise, I would go along with the $32,500 figure.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, I believe that all speakers have addressed the concept of equity or fairness or parity in one way or the other. I think that there is the perception that equalizing the salaries at $32,500 is going to create equity and parity. On the surface, it seems that way but if one understands where we came from on this Council, you have a very blatant unfairness. As I said a few days ago when Council acted on this measure in Committee, Council had uniform salaries prior to the enactment of the Home Rule Charter which changed that by saying that members of Council cannot receive a raise during their term of office. Since Councilmembers are elected on staggered terms, that triggered what is now referred to as the leap frog system. In 1978, the first frog leaped and that was the group that consists of Councilmembers Robinson, Stone, Woods and Masloff. They leaped ahead and they started it rolling. Subsequently in the past six years, they have received more money totally than the other group which consists of our President, Councilman O'Malley, Councilwoman Madoff, Councilman Givens and myself. You will only have equity when you end with the group that was second in line. You will not have equity, in fact, you will create a greater disparity if you attempt to freeze the group or only give the increase to $32,500 with this group because what is going to happen, and I'll go on record as saying this and let any of my colleagues say that they dispute me on this issue, the first group that leaped is going to leap again in 1985. They're going to leap again. If any of them say that they're not going to leap again then we can poll them right now and go on public record that they're going to keep their salaries at $32,500. Sophie's one of them.

Mrs. Masloff:

Take my word for it. I'll stay at $32,500.

Mr. Flaherty:

Alright, that's commendable, Sophie. So, we have one member that is going to go on record saying that.

What you're going to have is one group that is going to get it coming and they're going to get it going. Nobody could dispute those facts that I put on the blackboard. Nobody from the audience, no one on this Council could dispute those facts. They were six figures under two classifications. A second-grader could understand them and if they were wrong a second-grader could see where they were wrong. But it's a very simple issue; it's an issue of equity and it's an issue of fairness.

Granted, this has to be balanced by the heat of the kitchen and to a certain degree, the economy and the grandstanding that goes on but what I say is that members of Council are a classification. They are a classification of workers and all classifications of workers are entitled to equitable pay. Members of City Council should be no different on this issue and to make them different is unfair. What startles me even more, and I mean it really startles me, is that our colleagues are going to do this to us. Our colleagues are going to be unfair to other colleagues on this issue.

There was a reform question that this Council put on the ballot close to two years ago, before the Administration took a stand on this issue, before the media took a stand on this issue. This Council was out front with an eminently fair question. I know some of the members on this Council who pushed for that question got lambasted and got blasted unjustly by certain aspects of the media because whenever you try to address the issue of salaries of public officials you have demagogues that will just gore the ox irrationally.

That's what it was. And Council's ox is going to get gored today, there's no doubt about it, because it's an easy deflection of what the real problems are. It's an easy reflection of what the real problem is, the lay-off of thousands of workers at U.S. Steel. That's because we can't do anything with that problem so rather than admit our incompetence we gore some weak ox. That's all it is.

What is going to happen is that the group on this Council that is first out of the block also wants to be the last ones home. They're going to leave the ones in the middle dangling. That is really wrong. That is really unfair. I don't care what the heat of that kitchen is, that's what public officials are for and that's what made great public officials. They could take the heat of the kitchen when they felt that they were arguing from a foundation of what is truth and what is fair. We wouldn't have the greatness in this country today if there weren't public officials that wouldn't stand up and wouldn't even risk political defeat. There have been many of them that have gone down the tubes and have lost elections because they were ahead of their time on issues.

Granted, this isn't an issue that is popular to start with, but it's an issue that does see that there is a lacking of fairness. Whenever there's an issue that lacks fairness, that should be the top priority of a public official, to correct that unfairness.

Now at our public hearing, these Chambers were clamoring. They wanted blood. But the thing is, it was irrational because we must have had 300 people here and not one of them knew what that referendum said two years ago. I would venture to say out of that ignorance there were probably a lot of people that voted against that referendum question and that's why we are experiencing the ripping effect of the government today, because of the ignorance on that question.

I ask my colleagues on Council to be fair, to take the heat of the kitchen. There's been more vote switching on this issue than any issue I have ever seen. I think four or five members of Council have gone back and forth on this issue. It's not because of the principle, it's because of heat. Stand up for principle.

Mr. Woods:

I have one more thing. I don't want to get into personalities or debates, but if we all look back at just the last four years when, Tom, you came on originally and Jim and a few other people, you made $27,500. The group that I'm in made $22,500 for two years. Then the group that I came into made $32,500. Five more thousand than you did. So, let's be honest. For the last four years, just for four years that you've been on Council, everything has equaled out, everyone has made the same amount of money for the last four years. That's all I'm speaking about. Prior to that, in '78, the group that I'm in made $2,500 more than the group you're in. So, that's $5,000 more. But if we just take from when you and Jim came on, the last four years, it's been equal. Would you not say that?

Mr. Flaherty:

I would say that, Ben, but —

The Chair:

Mr. Flaherty, let's not have a debate on it.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, I think we're conducting a very cultivated, civilized dialogue here. What I am saying —

The Chair:

Mr. Flaherty, if I may, I think we've all talked it to death, in all fairness. The issue is there, we know what we're going to do so let's vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

What I am saying, Ben, granted, you can take any year that suits you. I can say in the last two years that you have made $5,000 more than us. But what you have to say if you want to get to truth, you have to go to the source, you have to go to the root, you have to go to the beginning. That's where all truth comes from. Truth doesn't come in the middle and it doesn't come at the end. Truth comes at the beginning, Ben. And the beginning was 1978.

Mr. Woods:

Since 1978, what is the difference?

Mr. Flaherty:

The difference is $5,000.

Mr. Woods:

That's exactly right.

Mr. Flaherty:

Well, would you support a measure then to give equity along the lines of $5,000? What's going to happen, Ben, you know it —

The Chair:

We're arguing what came first, the chicken or the egg. Let's get on to the issue.

Mr. Flaherty:

Wait a minute. Ben, you were for this and now you're changing. I think you knew what truth was and I'm just saying, "Hey, there's been a lot of heat out there; let's stick by principle on this thing." This is right, Ben. You can't dispute that you're getting $5,000 more by group. And in 1985 you'll even aggravate that disparity more because your group is going to take another pay raise along with the Mayor and this group is going to be stuck again. Correct?

Mr. Woods:

No.

Mr. Flaherty:

Aren't you going to take a pay raise?

The Chair:

Members of Council, please. Ben, Tom, please let's get on with this. This could go on all day, Tom.

Michelle Madoff:

We have all day.

The Chair:

You have all day but you've made your point. Once you make your point there's no sense elaborating.

Mr. Woods:

All I'm saying is that you cannot say that you have not been dealt fairly because you've made the same amount of money for four years as Councilman Robinson has, as Sophie Masloff and as Bob Stone. The last four years you have made the same amount of money.

Mr. Flaherty:

I have been dealt fairly but there's a greater issue than myself. Councilman Givens hasn't been dealt fairly, Councilman DePasquale hasn't been dealt fairly and Councilwoman Michelle Madoff has not been dealt fairly with.

In closing, I want to get to the point. The members of Council that received the big pay raise two years ago, this group supported you, it was a unanimous vote. And now when it comes time to equalize, to give real equity, then we see the falling away. I don't think it's coincidental that the unified opposition to equity is with the group that received the increase two years ago. And as Councilman Robinson said, he supported $35,000, he supported $37,000. Well, Councilman Robinson was going to benefit from $35,000 and $37,000 and the other ones weren't. Honestly, I don't see what's so magnanimous about that. Just give the equity to the ones now who deserve the equity.

The Chair:

Question called for. If I may before we call the vote, just so there will be no confusion, your vote is aye to override the Mayor's veto, nay to sustain.

Clerk call the roll.

Mr. Woods:

Tom, before you vote, may I ask one thing? If we vote to sustain the Mayor's veto, when are we going to discuss these pay raises?

Mr. Stone:

I've already got a motion —

Mr. Flaherty:

How's that Ben?

Mr. Woods:

If we uphold his veto, then are we going to discuss the pay raises?

Mr. Flaherty:

No.

The Chair:

Yes. You can reopen the budget. You can make a resolution but I don't think you can discuss it here. If I follow the Parliamentary correctly we can't vote on a —

Mr. Stone:

After this is over, I have a motion if it's necessary.

Mr. Woods:

Wait a minute. Everybody has to understand this. If we uphold the veto, we are not automatically at $32,000 or at $27,000, whatever. Then it's up for discussion again in another offer, another resolution of pay raise.

Everyone here has to understand that.

The Chair:

The Parliamentary is nodding yes. That's good enough for the Chair and I think for the members of Council. May we continue with the vote, please?

Mr. Givens:

I vote aye and I think Bill made one statement that I would like to make a correction on. When he asked for that $37,000, I seconded that motion because of what was happening in government. When he went for $35,000, I also seconded that particular motion. Two years ago —

The Chair:

If I may, Mr. Givens, I understand what you're saying. We've talked it to death. Bite the bullet.

Mr. Givens:

I just wanted to make some corrections in my final vote. For the last four years, this Councilman has not voted in total for the increasing budgets that we've had in this Council. I have not voted for the increasing of these budgets because what is happening today was predicted four years ago by this Councilman. Thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

Before I give my vote, I'll be very brief, Mr. President. You know I resent the comments made that when one changes one's mind, one is being unfair and one is vacillating, and I've been accused of losing my credibility. To err is human. If you make a mistake, you say I'm sorry, I made a mistake. I gave my word that I would not raise the salary until the economics of this country turned around, and they may be turning around in other places like Houston, and down south, but Pittsburgh certainly hasn't had a turnaround.

If there's been any pressure on this Councilwoman, it has not come as much from the public as it has come from her own colleagues. I just want to go on record as saying that I am going to vote to override the Mayor's veto, not to support the $32,000, but to go for $27,500.

Mrs. Masloff:

I vote no to sustain the Mayor's veto.

Mr. O'Malley:

I vote aye, and I'd just to like remind my colleagues that there's no guarantee that the referendum is going to pass in two years. In all the times that I've worked here with Mr. DePasquale, Mr. Stone and Mr. Woods, they've always dealt with what they considered to be fairness. There's no guarantee that referendum should pass, and the time to equalize the pay is, as Mr. Flaherty said, two years from now, not today.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, Mr. President?

The Chair:

Please, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to change my vote, because I want to vote against the $32,000 and vote for $27,500. Whichever way that vote goes.

The Chair:

Are you voting aye or no, Michelle?

Michelle Madoff:

No.

Mr. O'Malley:

Why don't we ask Mr. Ferlo, which way Michelle votes? Mr. Ferlo, which way is Michelle voting?

Michelle Madoff:

If I want to vote for $27,500—excuse me, I'm asking the Parliamentarian.

The Chair:

You can only vote for the one issue.

Michelle Madoff:

The issue is do I vote—

Mr. Pellegrini:

You vote to override or not to override. You vote yes to override—

Michelle Madoff:

How many votes do we have now?

Mr. O'Malley:

We're not finished.

The Chair:

Michelle, you are completely out of order. How are you voting, aye or no?

Michelle Madoff:

I'll stay with my vote.

The Chair:

Which way are you voting?

Michelle Madoff:

I'm voting aye to override, because I'm going to go with $27,500.

The Chair:

Wait a minute, she's saying I'm voting aye at $27,500. She can't do that. You're either voting to override or sustain.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm overriding the Mayor's veto.

The Chair:

You're voting aye, continue.

Mr. Robinson:

No.

Mr. Stone:

No.

Mr. Woods:

I'm voting no, and I openly admit because it's public pressure.

The Chair:

I'm going to vote aye to override the Mayor's veto.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Givens	Mr. DePasquale
Michelle Madoff	(Pres't)

AYES 5 NOES 4

VOTING NO:

Mrs. Masloff	Mr. Stone
Mr. Robinson	Mr. Woods

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the veto was sustained.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Pellegrini, would it be in order in the next five weeks to introduce a resolution opening the budget to change it to $27,500?

Mr. Pellegrini:

You can't do that.

Michelle Madoff:

But we can't do that—

The Chair:

Mr. Stone has the floor.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, I'd like to introduce — and I'm giving a copy to every Councilmember — a resolution supplementing a resolution fixing the number and officers and employees of the City of Pittsburgh, providing for the appropriation of salaries for five Councilmembers whose terms of office begin the first day of January of '84.

In effect, what I'm doing is proposing a $5,000 increase, which would bring that $32,500 equal with the other Councilmen, but the technical language is what I've just read, and I think everybody has a copy, and I presented the City Clerk with the original. What that amounts to is a number of Council, it would be five members, the rate of pay $32,500, obviously, for 12 months of this year, the amount would be $162,500, and the adjusted total would be $450,006.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Mr. Flaherty:

Wait a minute. What are we doing?

The Chair:

$32,500—

Mr. Stone:

The abbreviated form is a $5,000 increase to make it $32,500. If you don't do this now, make a substitute motion, those Councilpersons would be stuck at $27,500. So what I'm trying to do is to increase it to make it equal with everybody else. Are we going to have another motion on this issue, or —

Mr. Stone:

I'm making a motion, Tom.

Michelle Madoff:

And I'm amending the motion. I'd like to amend the motion and make it $27,500. Sophie Masloff said that she was willing to accept—

The Chair:

Is there a second to the amendment? Second to the amendment without a speech, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

Sophie said that she was willing to support $27,500. Will you do that, Sophie?

The Chair:

If there is no second to the motion —

Michelle Madoff:

Sophie is seconding my motion.

The Chair:

Is there a second on the amendment?

Mrs. Masloff:

Wait a minute, wait a minute, I can only second one at a time.

Michelle Madoff:

Withdraw your last second. Withdraw your second, Sophie. You told me —

The Chair:

Sophie withdraws her second. Is there a second on the motion for $27,500? There being none, it fails. Roll call vote on the $32,500.

Mr. Flaherty:

Aye.

Mr. Givens:

I vote aye, but I think we're leaving a little bit off of that resolution, and I'd like to amend that resolution with my aye vote, that the Mayor introduce the legislation within the first weeks of January to have a referendum on the ballot this coming May wherein all the elected officials, all the elected officials will be on a yearly basis and not on a four-year basis as we presently are, which would be a change in the Charter. Would that be appropriate at this time? That is what the Mayor had in his recommendation to this Council, and I think it should be a part of the legislation, so if anything happens downstream, at least a couple Councilpeople might have some court action to come back and do something in the civil courts.

I ask for a motion, Mr. President.

Michelle Madoff:

You can't in the middle of a vote. We're in the middle of a vote, Mr. Givens.

Mr. Givens:

No, I want to amend the bloody --

The Chair:

You're voting on the one issue. When the issue's over --

Michelle Madoff:

I say bloody, you get up and walk out.

The Chair:

You can amend at the end of -- you're voting on the issue now. You can't amend an issue you are voting on. You had your chance for discussion.

Mr. Givens:

I am voting on an issue, and I want to amend that--

The Chair:

Once the voting starts, Mr. Givens, it must be completed. Then you can make your amendments.

Michelle Madoff:

I am going to -- while everybody's telling me how to vote from the audience, I am going to vote against the $32,500, because I think we should stay at $27,500. I agree with my colleagues who said that we represent the public, and the public has been heard loud and clear.

Mrs. Masloff:

Mr. Pellegrini, I want to ask you a question. Can the members of Council who are elected and not newly elected this year, can they vote to change their own salaries either up or down?

The Chair:

No. This has to be completed today, Sophie.

Mrs. Masloff:

I vote for $32,500.

Mr. O'Malley:

Aye.

Mr. Robinson:

Aye.

Mr. Stone:

Aye.

Mr. Woods:

Aye.

The Chair:

Aye.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty Mr. Robinson
Mr. Givens Mr. Stone
Mrs. Masloff Mr. Woods
Mr. O'Malley Mr. DePasquale
 (Pres't)

(MICHELLE MADOFF, VOTING NO)

AYES 8 NOES 1

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the motion was approved.

Mr. Stone:

The next item—

Mr. Givens:

Hold it, I had an amendment to add to that resolution.

Michelle Madoff:

You can't amend it, it's already passed.

Mr. Stone:

If I may, Dick, one's budgetary and the other is a matter that has to be done. The Mayor in his letter of December 30 indicated he'd be willing to do that, Council's already expressed their desire to do it, and I think we ought to get on with that, but one thing for sure that ought to be done is that thing on—

Mr. Givens:

What happens then, Robert, when the public out there says no? Then what happens?

The Chair:

Well, then, they're going to cut their own throats. I doubt if they'll say no to this issue, because it's cut and dry. I think the last time that someone said they weren't quite sure of it or didn't look at it close enough to really realize what they were voting on, they'll know in the future, and I presume that they will go along with the yearly increase cost of living or whatever.

Mr. Givens:

God bless them.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, if I may, relative now to Code Accounts 55, 56, 58 this is a matter of pension increases. The Mayor has vetoed those items and we have the opportunity to override or sustain. Presently they are at $36. The Mayor has indicated a recommendation wherein he has set certain classes of it, and changed portions of it.

As Finance Chairman, I would like to first tell you what I recommend, and then we'll go to the vote, if I may. It's my belief that we ought to sustain the Mayor's veto on the $36, and we ought to take a compromise figure of $25 across the board.

The Chair:

Excuse me, Mr. Stone. With one exception, Mr. Clerk, I think the proper procedure is that there has to be a motion to override; if there is no motion to override, then a motion to sustain.

Mr. Stone:

No, I'm going to explain it all, and then I'll come back to the technical —

The Chair:

I just wanted to be sure, Bob.

Mr. Stone:

No problem, so what I'm suggesting is that we sustain the Mayor's veto on the amount that is there, and the Mayor suggested some change of figures. I recommend that we then put a substitute bill in, which will give $25 across the board.

Now, the Mayor in his letter indicated otherwise and in the spirit of trying to work something out that gets fairness — I just was handed a letter from the Mayor that he would be inclined to go along with the $25 across the board for pensioners, but he wants it understood that it is his feelings that that should be a two-year agreement. I just was handed this matter in trying to work it out.

The Chair:

The only problem I have with it, Mr. Stone, is that you have a motion to sustain, and do I hear a second?

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

The Chair:

Now, it's proper for someone to amend that to $25 or whatever.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'd like to make a second motion to override the Mayor's veto.

Mr. Stone:

Wait a minute.

The Chair:

Mr. Stone still has the floor.

Mr. Stone:

If you'll let me finish, I think we can get it clear. I think we ought to vote the same way, either to override or sustain, okay, but I'm giving my recommendation which I think, based on the needs of the pensioners plus the problems of —

Michelle Madoff:

You're out of order, Mr. Stone. You're not to do that until it's open for discussion.

The Chair:

Michelle, it is open for discussion, and if an amendment is to be made for $25 — do you want to make that amendment, Bob, even though you mention —

Mr. Stone:

No, what I'm suggesting is —

Michelle Madoff:

The first issue is veto it; override or not to override. As Mr. Stone would say, as Finance Chairman, we take things in order. In order we either override or we do not override.

Mr. Stone:

If you'll permit me, I just want to make it clear for everybody what I'm suggesting here.

Michelle Madoff:

We can do that when we have discussion.

The Chair:

Michelle, please.

Mr. Stone:

The motion will have to be as —

Michelle Madoff:

Always, unless in Robert Rade's rules.

Mr. Stone:

The motion will still have to be to override or sustain, and I'm suggesting in the sense of compromise that it be sustained, and we take what I'm suggesting here as the compromise of $25 across the board.

I'm just trying to tell everybody where I'm going with the thing.

Mr. Flaherty:

A point of information, Mr. President.

The Chair:

Aye to override, no to sustain.

Michelle Madoff:

If it's good enough for the goose, it's good enough for the gander. If he can give you his recommendations now, I'll give mine. Excuse me, Mr. Stone just gave his recommendations out of sync, not waiting for his turn. I'd like to do the same thing.

The Chair:

Please, let's stop the crossfire. What's your recommendation, Michelle?

Michelle Madoff:

I yield to you, Councilman Flaherty.

Mr. Flaherty:

Thank you, Michelle. Mr. Stone, are you moving, then, that this Council override the Mayor, correct?

Mr. Stone:

I'm suggesting we do —

Mr. Flaherty:

Just on this vote. Not anything subsequently. We are to override the Mayor, that's what you are asking.

Mr. Stone:

The formal motion I'm making, okay, but I thought in fairness to everybody here, I would tell you where I'm going so you understand it.

Mr. Flaherty:

Well, that would be a subsequent motion, correct?

Mr. Stone:

Yes, but I think, Tom —

Mr. Flaherty:

I mean you can attach your recommendation to the veto —

Mr. Stone:

No.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Pellegrini says no.

Mr. Flaherty:

Well, why don't we just have the veto out of the way? Why don't we just move —

The Chair:

That's what I'm trying to do, Mr. Flaherty. I've been trying to do it for 15 minutes.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, if I may, please, and I think there's a little confusion here. Tom asked Mr. Stone is his motion to override the Mayor's veto.

The Chair:

Right.

Mr. Woods:

I believe that — he does not want to override. He wants to sustain the veto, and then we can discuss the —

The Chair:

He made the motion to override, because that's the proper motion, but —

Michelle Madoff:

According to Mr. Pellegrini, he doesn't —

Mr. Stone:

Let me procedurally, this is not what I'm going to vote, but I'm procedurally, I move to override.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

The Chair:

Aye to override the veto, no to sustain.

Michelle Madoff:

May we have discussion?

The Chair:

Why discuss it, Michelle?

Michelle Madoff:

Because Mr. Stone discussed it and I would like to discuss it.

Michelle Madoff:

All right, I will go with Mr. Flaherty. We'll do the proper procedure even though Mr. Stone did not. We will vote to override or not, and then I will make my recommendations.

The Chair:

Start the voting, please.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, if I may, I think we need one point clear. What has been indicated we must vote on, but I'm just saying this in front so everybody understands. I will not be voting for the override for the reason that I think we ought to sustain the Mayor's motion, and then my next motion will be that we give a $25 across the board increase.

The Chair:

I think you made that clear, Mr. Stone.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, Mr. President, may I get clarification from the Parliamentarian?

The Chair:

For what?

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Pellegrini, while Mr. Stone was talking was shaking his head, are you saying that's a correct or incorrect procedure?

Mr. Pellegrini:

I was just shaking my head.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't blame you.

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

Aye.

Mr. Givens:

This is to override, right?

The Chair:

Aye to override, no to sustain.

Mr. Givens:

I'm voting aye, and I'd to state my reasons why. We asked for a $36 a month for pensioners whose actual cost of hospitalization, Blue Shield, Blue Cross come up to exactly that particular figure this last year, and the debate when we were in committee as indicated to all of us, the figures were so presented and were verified that the total cost of hospitalization, Blue Shield, Blue Cross to any retiree across the country has doubled in three years.

The Mayor brings out in his points on the pension, if we give this $36 raise, that what it's going to do to the pension system, and that kind of bothers me just a little bit. I asked the Mayor, many, many years ago to correct the pension liability situation that we had. It took him about four years to do anything. With that he only increased it by $1 million, the old pension. That's the problem that we have on our debt service. The other thing is we are spending like wildfire in this particular City, going out for $50- and $90- million bond issues putting us in debt. We have $400 million pension liability. We almost have $400 million outstanding debt, money that we have borrowed. That is what's causing our rating to have dropped three different times in the eight years that I've been on this Council. That is what I've been fighting for. That's what I've been voting no on the budget.

It's very interesting he makes a comparison that this might cost the unfunded liability some $10.3 million. It was last December when the Mayor did want to go out for his $50 million bond issue that we gave him the authority to do so, and it's interesting to note that he didn't go out in the April and May timeframe when he should have. He went out in August.

Ladies and gentlemen, that cost the City of Pittsburgh taxpayers interest of $19 million long term. The same figure that the Mayor quotes in here, there will be a retiree, which will cause a $19 million deficit in the pension system. I find that really ironic that he makes such a boo-boo in his Administration, and then relates that to a $36-a-month pensioner increase. I find it ironic.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I'm going to ask you respectfully to bear with me while I read one paragraph and not interrupt me. Thank you.

This issue of the pensioners receiving $36 will not even cover the increase in their hospital costs. How callous of the Administration to have put the inability to obtain a commuter tax on the backs of the pensioners. From one who has spent hours with fiscal experts on the problems of the City deficit, the three-quarters-of-a-billion-dollar debt, which includes $350,000 of unfunded pensions — well, others have said to me, reporters have said to me, but aren't you saying to increase that debt — will not be resolved by putting the monkey on the backs of the pensioners. The answer to solving both the pension problem and Pittsburgh debt must come from metropolitan government, or alternatively an immediate wage tax from all suburbanites working in the City.

How, one may ask, can you achieve this? Let our Administration who has granted tax abatements, eminent domain benefits, and development loans and grants, which we have supported in the Council, call in their brownie points and ask the corporate leadership to inform their employees that one of the conditions of working for their City-based corporation is a requirement — you know, like you say I will commit to giving to United Fund — that we'll pay at least two percent to the City of Pittsburgh. The City of Pittsburgh residents pay three and five, six percent, and usually in the suburbs you pay one or one-and-a-half percent, but they would pay two percent wage tax to the City of Pittsburgh. This is not unprecedented since Warner Cable employees who live in the suburbs but work in the City do pay a wage tax, and that is going to be the only hope in generating revenue.

The only hope Pittsburgh has for fiscal survival is the corporate leadership route. Let's face, it we can never hope to get 102 legislative votes to increase the wage tax to a needed level. It just isn't going to happen; and for the Administration not to be able to go to the corporate leaders that he meets with every day, every week, and say, come on, Stan Williams, come on, head of Alcoa, come on, head of U.S. Steel or whatever, how about the next time you hire somebody saying, well, would you being willing to give two percent of your salary on a voluntary basis to the City?

They hire, they don't let them stay on or promote them within if they don't give to the United Fund. It's done subtly, but it's done. That's the only route that's going to be effective, unfortunately; and I don't think it's fair to say, well, you're Michelle, you're voting to increase the pension debt when you've been opposed to the pension debt. It's never going to be resolved unless we get some money from the suburbanites, who are feeding off the hub of this City. It just isn't going to happen, and I think to penalize the pensioners who are living on $300-some a month — would we want to have to live on that when we've given — many of them have been firemen, have gone in and saved lives in fires, and gone down dark alleys, and people are going to say this is demagoguery. How many of us would take that job for that kind of money? We wouldn't do it, and I think it's grossly unfair.

You talk about political pressure from the public, the public pressure, I think the Administration is — we want to talk about political games. Our guru has said you want to run for governor, Mr. Caliguiri, you better not raise that debt, because we have no way of paying it. My vote is obvious. My vote is to override the Mayor.

Mrs. Masloff:

To sustain.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'm going to vote to override the Mayor's veto, and I think certainly this Council has a responsibility to be fiscally responsible to the taxpayers, but in this case I think the cost is too high, the cost of medical benefits for some of our retirees. When a person has to choose between their medical benefits, Blue Cross and Blue Shield, food and gas, then indeed it is a high price that we must pay.

This problem has existed for four years that I've been on this Council, and I think unless something is done about it, it's going to exist for an additional 17 years. I'm voting to override the Mayor's veto with the hope that it will force the Administration and this Council and the unions to bring this problem to a conclusion so that this Council does not have to face it year after year after year, so that the pensioners do not have to come back and ask this Council for crumbs. I vote to override the Mayor's veto.

Mr. Robinson:

Sustain.

Mr. Stoner:

Mr. President, if I may, I think the record will reflect from the time I got onto this Council, I've been a leader on behalf of retirees, and the record, as I indicated, will so reflect. I don't think that we should be discussing whether or not the retirees are entitled to it or not entitled to it. I think that anyone who looks at their status has to appreciate that the need is there, but on the other hand, in December of 1983 going into 1984 we must understand that there's the fiscal well-being. In light of this particular City financially and in light of that, we have to strike a balance, and what I'm attempting to do in this sense with my recommendation and my vote is to have the possibility for the pensioners' problem to be addressed, and yet at the same time not to fiscally hurt the City.

This will cause a traumatic effect, as the Mayor had indicated with his recommendation, roughly $10 million. What everybody tends to overlook and I as Finance Chairman could not overlook is the fact that the present grant of $36 is $1.3 million, not for one year, but unfortunately for the rest of the lives of those individuals, and if they were to live roughly 15 years, you're talking about close to $18 million.

In line with that, trying to address their need which is obviously there, trying to address the responsibility of being fiscally responsible to the City of Pittsburgh and its taxpayers, that is the reason I must sustain, and as I indicated, I'll have a recommendation later for $25 across the board.

Mr. Woods:

I vote to sustain.

The Chair:

Aye to override the veto.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

AYES 5 NOES 4

VOTING NO:

Mrs. Masloff Mr. Stone
Mr. Robinson Mr. Woods

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the veto was sustained.

Michelle Madoff:

What does it stay at, as what the Mayor recommended on it the $25 or a sliding scale?

Mr. Stone:

Until I make this motion, there's no increase, and that's what I'm trying to correct now. He's wiped out the line item.

Mr. President, I think we can vote on this kind of a situation if we can, and I'll have the — do you have the rest of them, Danny? I would like to introduce a resolution, which I'll have for the City Clerk as soon as we correct some of the others.

Supplementing a resolution making appropriations to pay the expenses of conducting the public business by the addition of new line appropriating funds to the Policemen's Relief and Pension Fund, Firemen's Relief and Pension Fund, and Municipal Pension Fund - Old, and providing for increased benefits to certain retired City employees, Code Account 55, Police Relief and Pension Fund, Code Account 56, Firemen's Relief and Pension Fund, Code Account 58, Municipal Pension Fund - Old.

In my motion I'm making a motion that they receive $25 per retiree per month, and then the adjusted figures will be in the bill.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

A vote to amend the motion $36.

Mr. Flaherty seconded the motion.

The Chair:

I'm just wondering if we do that, in light of the fact that the veto was sustained. I don't think you can raise it, Michelle. You can lower it, but I doubt if you can raise it.

Michelle Madoff:

We voted to override and we have a new motion. You have a new motion on amending the motion. Either you have no motion or you have a motion.

The Chair:

Bear in mind what I tell you. I'm for your motion, but I don't know if we can legally do it.

Mr. Flaherty:

Why can't a member of Council amend a motion that's on the floor? I thought any motion was amendable.

The Chair:

Mr. Parliamentarian, we sustained the Mayor's veto on the $36 for the pensioners. There's been a motion given by Mr. Stone for a $25 increase a month for pensioners, fire, police, and municipal. It's been seconded; now there's an amendment from Michelle Madoff that will go to $36, the previous one that the Mayor vetoed. I said in light of that and I want to make it clear,

I'm in favor of the motion, but I don't think it's legal, because we've already had a veto on that amount.

Mr. Pellegrini:

It can be $35.

Michelle Madoff:

$35. I amend it to $35, I compromise.

The Chair:

$35, legally?

Mr. Flaherty seconded the motion.

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

I am supporting the motion for $35 a month.

Mr. Stone:

Tom, excuse me. Before we vote, can I make a valid point here that I think is important to the vote. I — and if you'll please pardon me, because I don't want to hurt anybody, and that's the reason I'm asking for this privilege at this time. The Mayor has indicated in his proposal that he will support what's in his letter, meaning converse is true, as well. If you do other than what he says he's going to veto it, and they are not going to get an increase unless we come back here after that and go for the $35.

Now, I have struck what I think is a compromise between the Mayor, and what I'm recommending here in the sense that these pensioners will stand a chance of getting at least the $25 across the table. I am fearful that if we attempt to do what we're doing now we may be playing Russian roulette with the pensioners' increases, and I strongly urge we not do that; and I would strongly urge that we leave the original motion so that they can get the $25 per pensioner per month. We should not send it back to the Mayor knowing he's going to override our veto and put them in jeopardy. That's not fair to them.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, I'd also like to add that two weeks ago prior to this issue coming up first in our budget deliberations, I met with a number of the leaders of the pensioners of all groups, and they were more than happy with this recommendation from Councilman Stone, because they were part of it working with him at $25, and then this thing got out of hand; and he's absolutely right, that's why these line items were vetoed to begin with, not because of the pay raises — let's everybody be honest here — it was because of the pension money. It blew the budget up a million three. That's why it was — I mean everyone can come up here and say in the papers Council gets $10,000. Looks good, the Mayor vetoes $10,000. The real purpose for these vetoes was this item right here. Believe me, that is it, and if you want to realize and know the truth, that's the reason for all these vetoes, not $25,000 a year, but salaries for Council.

Mr. Flaherty:

Well, why did he veto it?

Mr. Woods:

Because —

Mr. Flaherty:

Why didn't he just veto this one issue?

Mr. Woods:

Because it doesn't look good just going against retirees.

Michelle Madoff:

Because he's running for governor.

The Chair:

Michelle, please, let's not campaign today. Will you please, you've been asked if you would withdraw your motion.

Michelle Madoff:

I need clarification from the Parliamentarian. If I don't withdraw is — I stay with my resolution and it passes, they get the $35. If it fails, what happens then? How do they get the $35 or the $25 at least? Have they lost it?

The Chair:

The whole thing is getting a little crazy now. You have a motion on the floor for $25, a second. You amended that motion to $35. We're now voting. If it passes, to $35; if it fails, we go back to the original $25.

Michelle Madoff:

That's what I want to know, Mr. President.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, that's the exact point, I'm just trying to be careful. If it does pass is the danger. The Mayor's going to veto it, and you're now putting them back to nothing. At $25 it will be approved, at $36 or $35 it will not be approved. We are placing them all in jeopardy. The worst thing you can do is to let the $36 pass. Five votes may get it, but on an override, you still don't have it, and where you are is putting them in jeopardy.

Mr. Flaherty:

You have five weeks to deal with the Mayor's veto, because Mr. Pellegrini said earlier today that the only issue we had to deal conclusively with this year is the pay raises.

Mr. Stone:

Tom, I don't want to debate with you, I just want to tell you this much. I don't want to put the pensioners' money in jeopardy. Now, if you want to overrule my suggestion to you, you're free to do it, and let the chips fall where they may, and let the blame fall where it may.

The Chair:

In all fairness, Mr. Stone, earlier the Parliamentarian did say that the only issue that we had to decide and vote on it today was the salary increase for Council. The others could be re-opened —

Mr. Stone:

No, no, you can't. You can't open the budget without opening the whole budget. You can make technical changes in that sense after, but you cannot make substantive material changes after the first of the year.

Michelle Madoff:

That's not what the Parliamentarian said, Mr. Stone, two attorneys with different opinions, which is why Council needs its own attorney.

The Chair:

Mr. Pellegrini, will you give us an interpretation on the re-opening of that budget?

Mr. Givens:

This Council can open up that budget anytime they want to under an emergency situation.

The Chair:

Please, Mr. Givens.

Mr. Givens:

Well, I know the budget, I'd like to quote it.

Mr. Pellegrini:

Section 507 of the Home Rule Charter amendment of budget, Council may amend by resolution the operating budget within five weeks after the closing of the fiscal year, but not thereafter except with the approval of the Mayor. Now what happens here is that the whole Code Account including the present pension benefits will veto, so no payments could be made for pensions until it was resolved. So if this is a check to go out January 1, those could not go out.

Michelle Madoff:

So what we're doing is being blackmailed into short-changing the pensioners and going to $25, because we don't have any way of paying them. It's the old political shell game.

Mr. Flaherty:

Michelle, I wouldn't even address that.

The Chair:

Let's get the vote over with.

Mr. Givens:

I've been waiting in line I think Mr. Flaherty's finished. I looked at the Mayor's veto — you know the whole budget that come over to us — the only changes that were made in that budget is what the Mayor had vetoed. I submit to this Council it is not the Council's budget; it is the Mayor's budget, and Mr. Stone is the pawn of the Mayor, and that's the way it is, and that's the way it's going to be.

The Chair:

We have a motion on the floor to amend to $35. May we call the roll, please?

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me one moment. I withdraw my motion.

Mr. Flaherty:

I withdraw my second.

The Chair:

All right, now we will go back to the original motion of $25 a month. There's been a second. Question called for.

Mr. Flaherty:

I have a question. As Councilman Stone said earlier in his preface remarks the Mayor was maintaining, he would accept the $25 if that was for two years; is that correct?

Mr. Stone:

What he has indicated, he would not veto the budget on the $25, but as far as he personally is concerned, it's his interpretation, for him, at least that that's one raise in two years. So, in effect, he would not veto it this year, but if it came up, I assume he'd veto it next year.

Mr. Flaherty:

Well, that's his interpretation, which really doesn't mean anything in an official sense. I'm not saying that in a derogatory sense to the Mayor, but in a legal sense, it's non-existent.

The Chair:

I would presume that if we raise the pensioners $25 today in this year's budget, the figure, let's say, would go from $300 to $325. It would be the same next year, and the year after, and the year after. I don't see in the future anybody lowering that unless there's some drastic measure that has to be taken.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Chairman, may I ask you a question please? If we vote on $25 today — Councilman Flaherty and I just caucussed with the union representatives, and they're afraid that they'll get nothing, they don't want to take that gamble, and I understand where they're coming from.

Supposing we vote for the $25 today, but since we have five weeks to open the budget, can we then, so that they get paid starting the first of the year, then amend it within five weeks to $36. They get $25 the first month, and by the second month we've raised it to $35 across the board.

Mr. Pellegrini:

You can amend within the first five weeks —

Michelle Madoff:

You also have to what?

Mr. Pellegrini:

But amended revenue, as I understand, must be done within five weeks.

Michelle Madoff:

But what I'm saying to you right now is that they would still get paid the first month; is that correct? Okay, so if I go with $25 today, it does not close the option of our changing it within the first five weeks to $36. Thank you. I've rescinded my $35.

The Chair:

Call the roll, please.

Mr. Flaherty:

I support the $25. It's unfortunate that we cannot give more to our pensioners because of the threat that they will not receive anything. We always hear the balancing issue on this about the cost to the City, and I do not dispute the cost to the City, but we have a City that increased our annual subsidies on the stadium $1.8 million along with quite a few other things. As Councilman Givens said at the commencement of this meeting, the budget has increased an astronomical amount in the past six, seven years; and I feel that I can't agree with the priorities established when it comes to pension increases for all City officials, especially when you consider that, as we advance in time, a $25 increase does not have the significance today of a $25 increase six years ago, I'm talking about percentage wise; and we keep coming back with this pat staid figure of $25, and that ante has to be upped a little just like everyone else is getting their ante up through time, trying to keep within reasonable distance of an inflation that ravaged this country for the past three years.

Mr. Givens:

I vote aye for the $25 across the board, yet when I see, this two years ago that the Mayor had received a $17 pay raise. He wants to cut the pensioners, you know, from $36 a month down to $25 a month, and this Council sat here for two months and deliberated everything in this budget, and we sent it over to the Mayor, and he rejected every positive attitude; and the total amounts of money didn't add up to a little bit more than about $1.8, $1.9 million with a $266 million budget that he presented to this Council. Shame on the Mayor.

Michelle Madoff:

I remember, Mr. DePasquale, when I got here in '78, I was the only vote the Mayor had for a year, and that was Hate-the-Mayor year, and you led the pack. Aren't you thrilled we're going to be able to have lunch and kibitz. I'm going to reluctantly support the Mayor's veto, and I would like to -- where's the City Clerk? Well, you're the Assistant City Clerk, Linda, would you draw up a resolution to be presented the first week in January when we go back to business to open up the budget and to increase the pension to $35 for the $36 that was vetoed, we'll try for $35? Thank you.

Mrs. Masloff:

Aye.

Mr. O'Malley:

I vote aye, because in the past couple of days my conversations with the Mayor -- he was very adamant that if this Council passed anything but what he recommended and requested that he again was going to veto it; and I was going to take that chance with my pay raise and Council's pay raise, but I'm not willing to take that chance with our retirees. I think they need the money much more now than ever before because of the cost of medical benefits, and I'm not willing to gamble with their money. I vote aye.

Mr. Robinson:

I vote aye, and I'd like to have my comments brought forward from the Council meeting where we took a preliminary vote on the pension issue.

(MR. ROBINSON'S COMMENTS FROM BUDGET HEARING, 12/19/83)

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, I'd like Council to consider a couple of things. At our meeting which I believe was last Wednesday, our Finance Director, Mr. Schmeiser, in answering some questions that I had put to him, indicated that in 1984 we were going to have a pension study. It seems to me that your suggestion of $25 in 1984 is on target in terms of the pension study's potential implications. It's rather obvious that we cannot continue to raise the pensions every year without due consideration of the fact that there is a problem with our pension funds.

The new President of Council will serve on the Pension Board. There are two new members on that board and I think before we approve any finances for that study, one, Council ought to have its input and we ought to have some sort of pension committee and that we ought to make it rather clear that before we approve anything beyond 1984, that we must have a study, we must go over it, we must have some input into it and we must look to a long-range solution to the pension problem.

I think a lot of discussion today is well meaning, but the figures are such that we don't have all the information we need about our pension system and I don't think we know all the ramifications. I agree with you that it is unfair to our pensioners not to say to them that the financial burden on the City in 1985 would be substantial even if we took them up another $25. Even if we take them up $50 now, the problem is going to remain until the Pension Board, the Mayor, the Controller and this Council come together and address our pension situation and make some long-range recommendations that the City can live with and our pensioners can understand.

Unfortunately, we cannot make up all of the shortfall that they are experiencing even if we want to; we simply cannot do it. So, I would hope that this Council would consider insisting that the pension study be completed before we deliberate on the 1985 Budget and that the new President of Council selects some members of this Council to serve on a pension committee.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, relative now to the Personnel Appeals Board Salaries, procedurally I move to override the Mayor's veto and vote the salary and appropriation resolution, Code Account 1099, Salaries and Wages, Regular and Temporary Employees, Personnel and Civil Service Commission, and thereby reinstate the salaries in the amount of $8,710 plus fringe benefits for the members of the Personnel Appeals Board.

Michelle Madoff:

Can we take them separately, Mr. President?

The Chair:

If I may, Michelle, it's only the one issue, the Personnel Appeals Board. He's saying that he's recommending to override the Mayor's veto.

Mr. Givens seconded the motion.

The Chair:

Roll call vote on the Personnel Appeals Board. Aye to override and no to sustain.

Michelle Madoff:

This is on the Appeals Board only?

The Chair:

On the $8,710.

Michelle Madoff:

Can we have discussion on this? With reference to the Personnel Appeals Board, my position is to keep the board in place. I had asked the Mayor to change the budget to $100 per diem. In his infinite wisdom, he said $150 per diem. My contention is, that if we work five days a week at even $100 a day, you'll get better than $20,000 a year.

I have no quarrel with the work. I have no quarrel with the people. I have quarrel with no pay for no-shows. When I vote, I will vote to sustain the Mayor.

Mr. O'Malley:

I would just like to make a few comments in reference to what the Mayor said. On this point I agree with him. The paid members of this board get $10,814 a year for meetings that never come up, and it's my understanding that the Appeals Board has not had a hearing in the past 22 months. It's ridiculous.

In my mind I could not understand how my colleagues could go against a pay raise for Council members who work 40 hours a week, who are out on weekends, who are out in the evenings, but yet vote for $10,000 for a board that never meets. If this passes, the word hypocrite will have a new meaning in this City Council.

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

I'm voting to sustain. I'm voting no. I had supported this in the past, but since there was not support here for an equitable salary for all members of Council, I am not going to support this measure. I'm voting to sustain the Mayor because I would have thought if there would be salaries or an equitable salary for all members of Council, then I could have supported this. I see these two issues coupled together. I think they're both two politically charged issues, and if the one isn't accepted, then I don't think the other one should be accepted.

Mr. Givens:

I vote aye on it and for the same reasons that Tom's mentioned, only the reverse. I think everything that the Mayor put in this letter to us dated on the 30th of December is totally political.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm sustaining the Mayor because I thought of it before he did, and I must say I got it from another candidate running for office. It is not an original with the Mayor. He should have taken care of it a long time ago. You don't pay people that don't work. They're no-shows.

Mrs. Masloff:

I'm abstaining.

Mr. O'Malley:

No.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. Stone:

Aye. Comment, if I may. First of all, this is an appeal board in the Home Rule Charter, and it seems to me that if we want to eliminate an appeal board, we ought to do it by making an amendment to the Home Rule Charter; and not by not funding it properly, and that is the reason that I'm voting that way.

Mr. Woods:

The Chair:

Michelle Madoff:

It will be $100 a day. If they work five days, they get $20,000 a year.

Mr. Stone:

I'm not arguing with you, I'm just making a comment.

The Chair:

Mr. O'Malley brings up a good point. To eliminate the Appeals Board, obviously, according to the Home Rule Charter, we can't unless there's a referendum --

Mr. Stone:

Correct.

The Chair:

Michelle Madoff:

Per day.

The Chair:

Now, what's stopping these people from having three, four meetings a week?

Michelle Madoff:

Nothing.

The Chair:

If they have three, four meetings a week, they get paid $120 a day.

A day, that's right. Every day at five days a week.

Mr. Givens:

The Chair:

No, I believe they may receive hospitalization on this, and they don't receive pension and other benefits.

Mr. Givens:

We have to get people in there that are knowledgeable of the whole personnel system. The Director of Personnel is making $49,000 and that department is probably well over a couple of million dollars. We have an appeal process and we're asking to pay them $150 and not give them any fringe benefits. That is asinine; that's crazy.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm totally lost at this point. We are voting to have it at $150 a day per diem as opposed to my $100. I'll go with $150, aye.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Mr. Givens:

There is a procedural interpretation right here from our Solicitor. There was a resolution introduced into the Council of the City of Pittsburgh which I'm sure is still in there yet. Why is this coming before us on a budgetary matter?

Mr. Stone:

Because you have a line item on it and he vetoed it.

Mr. Givens:

Is the line item in this budget? You show me where it's a line item in this budget.

The Chair:

Dick, your resolution was for '83 that had to be paid. The Mayor's saying in the future he doesn't want them to get the $500. He can't override that $500 for '83. He can override the $500 in the future.

Mr. Givens:

Well, I want to see if there's a line item in there for clothing for chauffeurs. I don't think there is. That was a verbal agreement that was made between the union and this Council per our own Council staff discussion.

Mike does show me on page —

Mr. Stone:

Mr. Givens, it's on page 6, B-5.

Mr. Givens:

I just read that. I never saw it in the budget. It was not in the Mayor's budget is what I said, it was in our own Council budget.

Mr. Flaherty:

Aye.

Mr. Givens:

Aye.

Michelle Madoff:

I was told in this Council that that was binding arbitration under law and we had no say in it, because it was done with the Teamsters' Union, I believe, it's binding arbitration. That's not fact, and I vote to sustain the Mayor. I'd like a clothing allowance, too.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'm not even in favor of the entire system. I vote to sustain the Mayor's veto.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. Stone:

Mr. Woods:

The Chair:

Now, I do have the deciding vote, and I would like to make a comment before — I have to agree 100 percent with Mr. Givens, and there were other comments that were made. This was an item that was bargained for by the local Union 249, and this was something that was given to all the drivers of the City of Pittsburgh, and why our drivers should be excluded, I don't understand, so I certainly will go with aye to override the Mayor's veto.

Michelle Madoff:

Point of clarification. Are you telling me that every driver in the City — who else has drivers — gets a $500 clothing allowance?

The Chair:

Michelle, it was brought to my attention from someone in 249 that they got an agreement with the City to give drivers of the City of Pittsburgh a $500 clothing allowance. If they give it to other drivers, they're certainly entitled to it.

Michelle Madoff:

Where is it in writing to say that? When that happens, then we'll consider it. There is no --

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the veto was overridden.

That line item is out, period, so we just go to the next subject.

Per Diem Allowance for Human Relations Commission Members, I move procedurally now to override the Mayor's veto in an appropriation resolution of Code Account 1035, Miscellaneous Services, Supplies and Equipment, Human Relations Commission and to reinstate Council's authorization of a per diem allowance for Human Relations Commission members.

The Chair:

What is that, Bob?

Mr. Stone:

Let me explain. I think there's some confusion here, and it's best to sustain the Mayor on it and we'll straighten it out in the new year. What had happened, Councilman Robinson had a bill, was to pay a per diem to those -- what he intended to those people appointed by Council and the Mayor where they had some expense that they incur while they're serving the City voluntarily; and third, as I requested, he limited it, because we didn't know where it was going to go, and when it was --

The Chair:

You're talking about expenses for the appointed board members?

Mr. Stone:

What it needs is to be rerun so that it is constricted into what it's going to cover, so the best way procedurally to handle it is not to cover it here, and we'll handle it next year.

The Chair:

A procedural vote to override the veto.

Mr. Stone:

Right.

The Chair:

The Chair's impression, we should sustain.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Mr. Robinson:

Just one comment. Mr. Stone is correct in terms of my basic intent. Also, Council should be aware in the City Code the Human Relations Commission is the only board or commission which has authorization for its members to submit expense vouchers. To my knowledge and the six years that I've been on this Council, the Human Relations Commission is submitting its budget to Council and has never provided a line item for board members to be paid for expenses.

It seems to me if it's in the Code and there is authorization, that it's only fitting that we provide some moneys for that purpose. There is no other board or commission where that kind of provision is made, so when Mr. Stone indicated to me that there was some complication in providing for all boards and commissions in 1984, I indicated to him that I will be satisfied if we could do something for the Human Relations Commission inasmuch as it was identified in the City Code as being eligible.

So, I would like to still see something in there and to override the Mayor's veto in this regard.

The Chair:

If I may, in regard to discussion, your point is well taken, Mr. Robinson. I recall being on the Personnel Board of the Model Cities Program and the Equal Opportunities Act of the Poverty Program, but we had the same problems exactly 20 years ago where we had members who found it rather difficult to get to the meetings because they just didn't have the car fare; and we made some amendment or restitution that the ones we thought that should be paid were paid, and others that worked without being paid, myself included, because we certainly had a way of getting there, either by car or whatever, but we did compensate those who couldn't make the meetings otherwise, or it was a hardship on them, so I see no problem with overriding that veto.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President, if I might just for a point of clarification, I certainly don't want to jeopardize the effectiveness of the Human Relations Commission in this regard. Perhaps a better way to handle this is for us to sustain the Mayor's veto with the understanding that the City Solicitor will be working with Council to prepare a resolution at the first of the year that will clearly identify those areas where commission members can receive reimbursement for expenses; and I'm willing to make that compromise and allow the Mayor's veto to be sustained.

The Chair:

Well, you made the original resolution, right?

Mr. Stone:

It has nothing to do with those.

The Chair:

There's no putting anybody in jeopardy in regards to their job is there?

Mr. Stone:

Well, the Mayor vetoed this item. If we override, we have changed the title. Whether that creates a problem or not — he doesn't put the new title in then the old one is eliminated.

The Chair:

Apparently the people who are involved are willing to take that chance. Okay.

Mrs. Masloff:

Tell me again. What's wrong, Mr. Pellegrini?

I think it's a new position in the budget —

Mrs. Masloff:

You're just changing the title. It's the same person, though.

Mr. Pellegrini:

It's the same person.

Mr. Stone:

When you change the job there are certain requirements that are different. So, if he doesn't send the slip down for the new job and you don't have the old one, they're stuck in limbo, meaning they don't have a job.

Michelle Madoff:

I'd like clarification on that. Do I understand that if we vote to override the Mayor there's a possibility the job will be gone?

Mr. Stone:

Yes.

Mrs. Masloff:

That's so unfair.

The Chair:

I think I made it rather clear that whatever we're going to do, we want to do what's best for the party involved. Obviously, Virginia, you are the party involved. So, I think it's no more than right that if you care to say what we should do in this matter. I think we will follow your wishes and respect them. Nobody wants to put your job in jeopardy and at the same time everyone wants to see you get the pay increase. I'm not the Lord; I can't make a decision here. I don't know what's going to happen.

Mr. Stone:

May I suggest, Mr. President, that she talk to you so that we don't open up our forum here and then set a precedence.

The Chair:

What the woman's problem is, Bob, changing the title, does that make it a new job? I feel it does, too. I don't think that the Mayor will eliminate the job because we override him today but at the same time, I'm not the one to make the decision; I'm not affected anymore than you are.

Mr. Stone:

If you say she changed the title the old job is not there. If you don't change the title you have a problem on your increase.

The Chair:

It's not our prerogative to change the title; it's the Mayor's. As I said earlier, I don't think he'll eliminate your job but I can't say for sure and I don't want to be the one to deal with your fate.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, hold on. I don't mind her talking to you but I don't want to start a precedence where everybody can come off the street and start participating in this meeting.

Michelle Madoff:

You're not President yet, Mr. Stone.

Mr. Stone:

I'm doing you a favor as well if you'd just listen sometime instead of babbling all the time.

Michelle Madoff:

You are not the President; the President is speaking.

The Chair:

Virginia, I'm going to ask you one more time. What do you want us to do? Override the veto or sustain it?

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, may I make a statement please?

The Chair:

Mr. Givens, I've got to know one way or the other.

Mr. Givens:

I'd like to make a statement before she makes a statement and that is that we override the Mayor's veto and that this particular issue be taken up in the five week period of time that we have. I think we can do that, can we not, Danny?

Michelle Madoff:

No, she doesn't have a job anymore.

The Chair:

She'll have a job as of the first of the year and, as Mr. Givens said, then you'll have five weeks to play with it.

Michelle Madoff:

That's if we sustain the Mayor, not if we override him.

The Chair:

That's what we're saying. Sustain the Mayor.

I think the best would be to sustain and then take your action in the following five weeks.

Michelle Madoff:

There's a solution, Mr. President. Why don't we raise the existing job salary? Let's give an increase on the existing job.

The Chair:

That's not our prerogative. You should have done that at budget time. I think you did when you raised it $3,000.00.

Michelle Madoff:

If we have enough votes here, why can't we raise the salary on the existing job?

Mr. Pellegrini:

You have one item before you right now and that's to sustain or to override.

Michelle Madoff:

Supposing we sustain the Mayor and then we introduce a salary increase on the existing position in the next five weeks? I can do that, can I not?

Mr. Pellegrini:

You can't give her exactly the same salary.

Michelle Madoff:

We can lower it a dollar.

Mr. President, can I make a suggestion? I've just spoken to the individual involved and the request is that we sustain the Mayor's veto at this time.

Mr. Stone:

In their best interest as well, I would recommend that this be a sustained motion.

Michelle Madoff:

Wait just one minute. We're going to keep the salary? We're going to keep the raise?

The Chair:

Members of Council, if I may. If I recall, the party we're talking about received three increments and Council reduced that to one increment. There were a couple of other parties that were involved with three increments and Council gave them no increments. It was agreed on at the table and was passed and obviously was a budgetary item, but at the same time, I don't follow why we should sustain it now when we agreed at the table to allow that one increment.

Michelle Madoff:

We're not going to sustain it; we're going to override. The motion was to override, was it not, Mr. Stone?

The Chair:

No, the motion was to override but the recommendation from Mr. Stone is to sustain. We'd put the man's job in jeopardy.

Mr. Stone:

The motion is to override. My recommendation is that we not override in the best interest of that employee.

Michelle Madoff:

Would that job also be wiped out? Is there a title change on that?

Mr. Stone:

The same problem and I'm only trying not to hurt anybody.

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, in regard to that. I don't think that situation falls under the same classification as the previous situation. The previous one was a more significant incremental raise. I don't know how many steps exactly but it was a $3,000 raise and going from $24,000 to $27,000 is a significant raise and is much more likely to require a change in job title. The position we're talking about is approximately a $1,200 merit raise. It is not a raise that is going to move that person into another job classification. To move into another job classification, he would have had to receive the three increment raise that Council originally proposed. In the spirit of compromise, this Council came up, I think, with an extremely fair alternative and accepted only a one increment increase.

So, with those facts on the table, I think it's a bogus argument to say that this person's job may be in jeopardy because it's going to entail a title change. No way is this going to entail a title change; this is simply a ploy to keep this person from getting a merit raise that is legitimately due to the individual. He is the Superintendent of Maintenance of all City buildings, all City entities. He oversees a work force in excess of 60 people. He also has responsibility of all the City swimming pools to boot and I feel that true equity would have been to go with the original proposal of Council but I think since that was not the sentiment of Council, I think Council should stay with what they did last week.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, I recommended this. This does have a title change and I'm requesting all Councilpersons to vote against it so the Mayor's veto is sustained.

Mr. Robinson:

Mr. President and members of Council, it's rather obvious, I think, by the information that has been presented to Council that the staff of the Planning Commission and our Planning Department needs to be supplemented, not only by the information that was forwarded by the Administration but by the discussions we've had in Council. But being very realistic, I think if you read the last sentence of the Mayor's veto explanation, he indicates that he will not fill these positions if they remain in the budget. It probably does not do the Planning Department any good to have positions in the budget that are not going to be filled and certainly my purpose originally in supporting these positions was to enhance the Planning Department. While I believe the Mayor is in error in terms of saying that he doesn't believe these positions are necessary, it's inconsistent to put the positions in the budget at this point that the Mayor will not fill unless this Council is prepared to take the necessary actions and I don't believe Council is prepared to take the necessary actions.

So, it's no to override. Is that correct.

Mr. Stone:

The motion is to override. Vote no to that motion.

The Chair:

The recommendation is a no vote but the motion is to override.

Aye to override and no to sustain.

Roll call please.

Mr. Flaherty:

No.

Mr. Given:

No.

Michelle Madoff:

Mrs. Masloff:

Mr. O'Malley:

No.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. Woods

The Chair:

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

VOTING NO:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Given	Mr. Stone
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. DePasquale

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the veto was sustained.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, supplementing and amending a resolution entitled, Making appropriations to pay the expenses of conducting the public business of the City of Pittsburgh for meeting the debt charges thereof for the fiscal year beginning January 1, 1984, by amending Code Account 1838, Department of Parks and Recreation, by increasing the amount in the Miscellaneous Services to $240,600.

That's now just moving all of those items under B-20, the River City Brass Band, B-20, Brashear Association, B-20, Community Garden Program, and B-20, Arsenal Board of Trade. All we did was shift from one section to the other.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Givens:

Bob, I assume that the total amounts are that of —

Mr. Stone:

The same as it was before.

Mr. Givens:

Okay.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, relative to Neighborhood Housing Services and the Light of Life Rescue Mission, the Mayor vetoed those two items but he is not opposed to them. What he is saying is that they should come under ULO appropriations. So, what we would do here is not override the Mayor's veto and we'll pick them up under ULO in '84. That's the only step we'd have to take today.

I move to override the Mayor's vetoes of Code Accounts 91 and 92, Grants and Donations, to Neighborhood Housing Services and Light of Life Rescue Mission which the Mayor stated he would provide for out of ULO allotment and to reinstate Council's grants totaling $37,000 to those two organizations.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Mr. Stone:

The appropriate vote now is no and it will be picked up under ULO.

The Chair:

Mrs. Masloff	Mr. DePasquale (Pres't)

AYES none NOES 8

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the veto was sustained.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, relative to the following grants, the Mayor has vetoed those.

I move to override the Mayor's veto of Code Accounts 84, 85, 87, 88, 93, and 107, Grants and Donations, to the Police Softball Tournament, Center for Victims of Violent Crimes, Carrick High School Band, Institute of Technology and Society, Friendship Housing Ursuline Center and Pittsburgh Firefighters Local No. 1 Softball Team, which the Mayor stated are illegal under the Pennsylvania Constitution and reinstate grants totaling $91,000 to these Code Accounts.

He says they're illegal. The one on Ursuline, by the way, if you'll recall, we were talking about doing that under ULO anyhow. But that's the motion on the Mayor.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

The Chair:

Your recommendation is to sustain. Correct?

Mr. Stone:

I think you have no choice from what's being said.

Mr. Givens:

Discussion. I have not seen any Article IX, Section IX, of the Pennsylvania Constitution. Do we have a copy of that?

Mr. Pellegrini:

Not in the room.

Mr. Givens:

What I'm trying to say is that if these are in violation then there are many other appropriations that this Council has made over the years that are in violation and I think we should go back over and review each and every one of them. I think this is a slap in the face to those outfits that have come here before this Council. This article is just being imposed now. It seems like it's Victim of Violent Crime that was put up by Jim O'Malley, Carrick High School Band, Dick Givens, Police Softball, Jim O'Malley, Institute of Technology and Society, Friendship Housing and Ursuline Center, Dick Givens, Pittsburgh Firefighters Local No. 1, I think it was Jim O'Malley again.

This seems to me like it's a very political ploy that's only coming about because the Mayor is disgruntled over there and it's again a reflection on this total Council that honest people with honest intention come in with work that's going to be done, especially, I can speak for the Carrick High School Band, that is an extra curricular activity, it is not giving to the School Board, it is given directly to a group that is in an extra curricular activity. I can't see how we could be in violation of the Pennsylvania Constitution to do that.

In regards to the Friendship Housing Ursuline Center, it was for updating this particular facility. Now, we've updated how many facilities that are non-profit organizations. If we deny this organization right here then we have to go back and stop everything that we've done for the eight years that I've been on this Council.

The Chair:

Mr. Stone, can these not be put into another code account?

Mr. Stone:

If you'll recall, we talked about funding the Ursuline under ULO. It was kind of a back up kind of thing that we put it here. Let's make it real clear. The Mayor has indicated as far as he's concerned, that these items for '84 are in violation of the Pennsylvania Constitution.

The Chair:

Let's not dispute that. I think the recommendation should be to override because Council has passed that at that table.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, point of discussion. I would like clarification from Mr. Pellegrini and particularly from our Finance Chairman. Couldn't the Women's Center and Shelter, if everything else fails and if we lose the vote, the money come out of the Brashear Garden Club, paid out of Parks and Recreation? And couldn't the Women's Shelter come out of the Department of Police Protection Services?

Mr. Stone:

One, Michelle, is services as opposed to a grant.

Michelle Madoff:

Could we change it for services?

Mr. Stone:

You can't because they need it for their particular purpose which is the limitation.

Michelle Madoff:

What about Emergency Medical Services or Housing Emergency Shelter? Could it come out of that? Where can we find another place to get the money legally?

Mr. Stone:

That would be under ULO.

Michelle Madoff:

Could they come under ULO?

Mr. Stone:

The Friendship Housing, and I don't know what their particular full grant is

—

Michelle Madoff:

I'm talking about the Center for Victims of Violent Crimes at this point.

Mr. Stone:

If they're going to approve their building then that could come under ULO. If it's to help their operating capital, it does not qualify.

Michelle Madoff:

Which is it? It's operating capital.

Mrs. Masloff:

Isn't there anyplace that you can find any money for them?

Mr. Stone:

At this point you can't. I think we have to look at them again. I'm not abandoning ship; I'm just trying to see --

Michelle Madoff:

I've got a suggestion. Why don't they have a budget and their budget has to be for operating and for development or improving the building. All they do is shift their money that they're using for improving the building into services and we give them money which we're legally able to give them.

Mr. O'Malley:

They lease the building, Michelle.

Mr. Stone:

If they word the thing correctly they can accomplish indirectly what they can't do directly.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm just afraid of wiping it out now. If we don't override the Mayor's veto, they get nothing.

The Chair:

Can I make one recommendation? I think this is the last item and I would take a chance and override the veto.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you, Mr. President. Mr. Givens has raised an issue which I think is on firm legal grounds and I think this is a very strong argument. I'm sorry that Councilman Robinson is not in the room. He has repeatedly asked that Council have it's own legal counsel. I hope that with the new Council we will see that we get that because I think we wouldn't be sitting here at zero hour. Somebody would have checked to see if that was legal when the Mayor vetoed it. We would have had somebody available to us.

Mr. Woods:

Mr. President, many of these items are grants and donations this year that we had funded many of these during this past year under different departments and different code accounts. What I would suggest is that we try to do the same thing. Uphold the veto then when we go into the year when these different things come up, then we find the money for them. We did that this past year.

Michelle Madoff:

I think that's too scary. The Friendship Housing Ursuline Center comes out of Unspecified Local Options. The Police Softball could come out of employee benefits, could it not, Mr. Stone?

Mr. Woods:

It could probably come under Parks and Recreation.

Michelle Madoff:

Parks and Recreation. We could find the money there. But the Center for Victims of Violent Crimes is the one I'm very, very, very concerned about. I want to go with Mr. DePasquale on that; I want to override. Can we take them individually, please?

Mr. Flaherty:

Which one are we on?

Michelle Madoff:

We are on the Grants and Donations. Mr. Givens has stated that we have done this for years. Why are we singling these people out? The others we have money for. The one we don't have money for is —

Mr. Flaherty:

Michelle, I would like to know, if someone could just give us a semblance of meaning of Article IX, Section IX, of the Constitution.

Michelle Madoff:

It means what the Mayor wants it to mean. It's Alice in Wonderland.

Mr. Pellegrini:

Article IX, Section IX, says that no appropriations made for any private purpose accepts standards provided for by the General Assembly for specific groups. What we have been doing over the past years is Act 232 and you can make certain appropriations if they were within certain federal guidelines and that's where the problem is coming in. That's what you see before Council. We continue to make grants because they were standard at the time by Act 232.

Michelle Madoff:

When did that go into effect?

Mr. Pellegrini:

In '74 or '75.

Michelle Madoff:

We've been doing it under Act 232. Why can't we continue.

Mr. Pellegrini:

The Federal Guidelines, establish what we can give to certain individuals.

Michelle Madoff:

Did that change?

Mr. Pellegrini:

It changes about — It seems like every day but it changes almost yearly.

Michelle Madoff:

You mean this year it changed so we can't do it? Is that what you're saying?

Mr. Flaherty:

Why can the County give an appropriation to the Center for Victims of Violent Crimes?

Michelle Madoff:

That was my question. Thank you very much.

Mr. Pellegrini:

The County purposes —

Mr. Flaherty:

No, these are for Administrative costs, the same as this.

Mr. Pellegrini:

I don't know why.

Mr. Flaherty:

Okay. I think the County, for the past year, the County has been able to do it.

Mr. Pellegrini:

The County's regulations are slightly different because they have mental health money. We don't have any mental health money. The County does and they have more welfare type of funds, mental health, coming from the State and Federal Government.

Mr. Flaherty:

Then if we override the Mayor's veto, are you going to court then to say these people can't receive the appropriation because it's unconstitutional?

Mr. Pellegrini:

That's up to the Treasurer if he wants to draw the warrant.

Mr. Flaherty:

Okay. Well then I think the issue should be rightfully resolved in the courts because it's obvious this Council does not have the information to make a rational decision.

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I asked that you take them individually because the money can be found for everything except the Center for Victims of Violent Crimes. On that one, I would like to override. On the others, I will go with the Mayor because we're going to change it to Unspecified Local Options.

Mr. Stone:

Just indicate you vote that way. That's all.

Michelle Madoff:

Then may I take that one first of all, please, Mr. President, as a courtesy? On the Center for Victims of Violent Crimes, I would like to move to override the Mayor's veto.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

The Chair:

There's a motion and a second to amend it to vote strictly on the Center for Victims of Violent Crimes.

Roll call vote.

Mr. Givens:

This is all taken in context —

The Chair:

We understand, Mr. Givens. I think it was explained that this is the one that may definitely be in jeopardy and therefore wanted to be voted on separately.

Mr. Flaherty:

Aye.

Mr. Givens:

Aye.

Michelle Madoff:

Aye.

Mrs. Masloff:

Aye.

Mr. O'Malley:

Aye.

Mr. Robinson:

Aye.

Mr. Stone:

I hope we don't create a jeopardy.
I'm voting aye.

Mr. Woods:

Aye.

The Chair:

Aye.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agrecably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Flaherty	Mr. Robinson
Mr. Givens	Mr. Stone
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. DePasquale
Mr. O'Malley	(Pres't)

AYES 9

NOES none

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the veto was overridden.

The Chair:

Now, on the others, the motion is to override, the recommendation is to override.

Michelle Madoff:

Override and then we'll put it under Unspecified Local Options under another bill.

Mr. Flaherty:

Aye.

Mr. Givens:

I have one objection to that. We all already have a paper in our offices saying that the Friendship Housing Ursuline Center does not qualify under Unspecified Local Option. This is a grant, an outright grant from the City. I suggest this one, and the fact that the County has already submitted their thing, that we approve this particular line item on the Ursuline Center housing and that a legal opinion be given to us and if need be, be taken to the courts. If it has changed, I have to have proof that it has changed and I have to see that in writing. If we vote no on this, it is dead, dead, dead.

I vote aye to override.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Stone, I asked you a question. Was Mr. Givens correct when he said there's a letter saying it can't be specified under Local Options?

Mr. Stone:

I think there is a letter to that effect but again, how they word their request, if they have a need of improvement in their building, they specify that and that's what would qualify. You can't ask for money for operating capital under ULO.

Michelle Madoff:

I vote to sustain the veto. I vote no.

Okay. Mr. Stone, what do you recommend?

Mr. Stone:

At this point, you have no choice; he's not going to pay it. It's to vote no.

Mr. Givens:

I disagree with that. I think this thing is going to end up in our Solicitor's office. I think we're going to have to get an opinion on it. If we vote no on this thing right now, if we do not override the Mayor's veto by voting aye, then what it's going to mean is that the Carrick High School Band, the Police Softball Tournament, the Institute of Technology and Society, Friendship Housing Ursuline Center and the Pittsburgh Firefighter's Local No. 1 Softball Team will not get any appropriation. I am saying to vote aye for this, override the Mayor's veto, and let's look at it --

The Chair:

That was clarified about a half hour ago and the recommendation was to vote aye and take your risk with the legality of it.

You voted aye, Mr. Flaherty voted aye, Michelle voted no.

Mr. Givens:

These are outright grants; they're not under Unspecified Local Option. As a result, it comes out of the operating budget. Once we close this chapter today here, there's no going back and opening up a new appropriation.

Michelle Madoff:

I'll tell you, we're so confused at this point we don't know what we're voting on.

The Chair:

There should be no reason for confusion whatsoever. It was clarified a half hour ago. Now we're putting it back where it is confusing.

I'll say it one more time. You're voting aye to override, nay to sustain. If you override, there's the possibility the Mayor may challenge it on legal grounds. There's the possibility Council may win. There's the possibility, as Mr. Givens said, if you vote no it's dead, period.

My recommendation would be to vote aye and take your chances.

We'll go back and start the voting over again.

Mr. Flaherty:

Aye.

Mr. Givens:

Aye.

Michelle Madoff:

Aye.

Mrs. Masloff:

Aye.

Mr. O'Malley:

No. I think that's why we pay a Solicitor. I think if we're going to put out —

Michelle Madoff:

That's why the Mayor has a Solicitor.

Mr. Robinson:

No.

Mr. Stone:

No.

Mr. Woods:

I vote no because we funded many of these things. Through the year we can do the same thing out of Parks and Recreation and other various committees.

The Chair:

Aye.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

Mr. Flaherty:

Mr. President, I move to reconsider a previous vote.

The Chair:

Which vote is that?

Mr. Flaherty:

The one regarding the Administrator for the Board of Adjustment.

The Chair:

You want to change your vote?

Mr. Flaherty:

No. I move that Council reconsider the issue. I think we may have a solution to the problem.

Mrs. Masloff:

What is the solution?

Mr. Flaherty:

The solution is that we would not change the title of the individual from Secretary/Engineer to Administrator and that we would only give that person a one increment raise.

The Chair:

Your intentions are well taken, Mr. Flaherty, but I think it's completely out of order. We've already voted on the issue. I don't know how we can go back and vote over again. I think we have to have the resolution at some other time.

Mr. Flaherty:

Well, a majority of this Council can override the Solicitor. So, if that's the opinion of the Solicitor, I move to override the Solicitor to put this issue on the table.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

The Chair:

On Mr. Flaherty's motion to override the Solicitor —

Mr. Flaherty:

Wait a minute. The Solicitor hasn't said anything yet. Maybe we're a little premature.

Mr. Stone:

If he didn't say anything, how do you account for your motion?

Mr. Flaherty:

Then I move to reconsider the salary of the Secretary/Engineer for the Board of Adjustments.

Mr. Givens seconded the motion.

Mrs. Masloff:

Will the title go back to the old title?

Mr. Flaherty:

Yes. It's called Secretary/Engineer now and so it would not call for a title change. Therefore, we would not have the pitfall that Council was wary of earlier.

The Chair:

First of all, we want to get a ruling from the Parliamentarian before we go any further.

Mr. Pellegrini:

How did you vote?

The Chair:

Originally, we voted to sustain the Mayor.

Mr. Pellegrini:

What you're really voting on is the resolution concerning considering the resolution. The resolution setting a salary for the Secretary/Treasurer in the budget.

Mr. Stone:

Danny, the question right now is whether or not the subject comes back up for reconsideration. That's all. That's his motion now.

Mr. O'Malley:

The majority of Council decides that.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, may I help the cause for a minute? If I can get some assist here, maybe we can get it all resolved and we'll take a chance on this one in light of that.

I'd like to join in this resolution and restore the same position that was there before with a one increment increase. In that light, I would like for us to take a vocal vote to approve the reconsideration and I'm ready to join in this particular resolution.

The Chair:

Mr. Flaherty:

I move to restore the position of Secretary/Engineer and a one increment increase.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Mr. Pellegrini:

You have to amend the bill.

Mr. Stone:

That's what we meant, Danny.

Mr. President, a motion to amend the budget relative to the matter of appropriations and expenditures and to add in addition thereto the position relative to that subject as it existed in 1983 and to add to it a one increment increase.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

The Chair:

Roll call vote.

Mr. Flaherty:

Aye.

Mr. Givens:

Aye and I'd like to preface my remarks with the fact that when we were in Committee there was one person from the Department of Public Works that this same threat was issued and we turned that increment raise down in this Council. We approved two over here today.

Also, in the Department of Public Works, there are two worthy people that were also turned down. It's too bad that these people cannot be considered.

The Chair:

You can rectify that in the following month, Mr. Givens, but we can't restore it here today.

Mr. Givens:

I know that. I said it's too bad that they are facing a normal increase like everyone else when in fact they were recommended by their department heads.

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the motion was approved.

Mr. Stone:

Mr. President, in all of those bills, there is kind of a language that, in effect, says what I'm about to say but I want everybody to know it. In effect, what we're doing is authorizing the Finance Committee and the Budget Staff, authorizing and directing them to make the necessary budgetary line changes to carry out the intent of what we did today. In that light, is anybody opposed to that because it has to be done now?

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Stone:

I make a motion that the effective date on all bills passed today shall be January 1, 1984.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Stone:

I have a closing comment, then I'll move for adjournment.

Mr. President, relative to this year's budget, I would be remiss if we didn't point out the irony of how things sometimes happen. I listened to a radio broadcast in which there was almost about a 15 minute discussion. The closing comment was as follows: "And City Council did pass a $266 million, no tax increase balanced budget."

Somewhere we've lost our values is that ends out being the tail end of what has been happening in the last couple of months. I commend the Mayor for his comments and I'd like to read it if I may.

"A review of the 1984 budget recently presented to me indicates that overall City Council has done an excellent job in preparing the City's spending plan for the next year. The 1984 operating budget increase of only 3.7 percent represents a dramatic reduction in the 10 percent growth rate in costs which we have experienced in the past. Council was able to cut the growth rate in half while still providing the same high level of service to the public."

He then congratulates Council on their overall efforts in presenting this budget.

I just close with this comment. There's been a lot of discussion, a lot of issues that have been blown in proportions far in excess of perhaps their merit. But nevertheless, it boils down that this Council has provided, and I'd like it somewhere to be in headlines and not the tail end of an article, as an afterthought or over with the comics, and that is that this Council did pass a $266 million, no tax increase balanced budget for 1984 at no curtailment of services.

The Chair:

Would the Press that's here note that, please?

Michelle Madoff:

Before we move to adjourn, you know, it all looks rosy and beautiful that we passed this budget without an increase and there are those who are going to say that those of us who supported the pensioners are adding on to the debt service. I would like to share with my Councilmembers and the public that there's a committee being formed of the general public responsible action for metropolitan government. We are going to work very hard to work with the corporate leadership to see that somehow or other the suburbanites pay their fair share, we're looking at a 2 percent salary increase, and that will be private sector and hopefully corporation people — I've talked to some of the people representing department stores and some business people. I've talked to some of the people in the media, one of the radio people, and we're going to be talking further to see whether we can, on this Council, invite corporate leaders to come to this Council and have them share the responsibility.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Stone:

One last technical comment if I may.

I move that any increase as a result of the changes we made today, the excess monies will go into Code Account 42-1, Reserve for Unsettled Wages and Labor Contracts.

Mr. Robinson seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Stone

Council adjourned.
